all her household are clothed with scarlet.

(6) Her personal appearance

22 She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple.

(7) Her husband's respect

23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.

(8) Her industry

24 She maketh fine linen, and selleth it; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.

(9) Her character

25 Strength and honour are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.

(10) Her diligence and labour

27 She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.

(11) Her praise and godliness

28 Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.

29 Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised.

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates.

Summary of Proverbs

Date and place: With the exception of chapters 30-31 the proverbs were spoken by Solomon about 1,000 B.C. Chapters 1-24 were perhaps written by him in a book. Chapters 25-29 were Solomon's proverbs added to the first part of the book by Hezekiah about 730 B.C. The last 2 chapters were added at an unknown time

Author: Solomon wrote the first 29 chapters. They are the only proverbs in existence of 3,000 uttered by him (1 Ki. 4:32). He could not have borrowed much if any from men before him, as all uninspired ethical writers lived after his day. The last 2 chapters were spoken by an unknown man and a woman and who added them to the proverbs of Solomon is not known unless it was Hezekiah (Pr. 25:1)

Theme: Practical moral and spiritual truth in proverbial form for people of God (2 Tim. 3:15-17)

Statistics: 20th book of the Bible; 31 chapters; 915 verses; 15,043 words; 49 questions; 27 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 67 sins; 66 things about fools; 28 things about sluggards; 22 things about kings; 25 abominations; 215 commands; 120 promises; 27 blessings; 24 secrets of life; 17 "better" things; 560 proverbs a She opens her mouth and speaks wisdom. Kindness is the grace of her lips. She is wise and intelligent and highly cultured in mind and manners. She is graceful and even-tempered in all her ways (v 26). There are few managing women who are not lords over their husbands, tyrants over their servants, and haughty toward their neighbors. She is an excellent example of a meek and quiet spirit (1 Pet. 3:1-8) b She manages her household with economy and discretion. Her children behave well and none keep company with persons of unclean and immoral habits. She instructs her house in practical religion and industry and sets them an example of godliness, diligence in business, and untiring improvement of mind, soul, and body (v 27)

c Knowing that idleness leads to vice, she sees that everyone has his own work to perform, and his proper share in food, raiment, and other necessities befitting such a household in society (v 27)
d She sees to it that a good education comes next to divine experiences and leads her household to God and His ways. Her children are well trained and rise up to call her blessed (v 28-30) e She excells all other women in wifehood, mother-hood, religion, and industry (v 29-30)
f Grace of manner is deceitful and 94 Turn back from the Lord (Zeph. 1: 95 Slide back from God (Jer. 8:5) 6)

96 Refuse to return to God (Jer. 8:5)
97 Backslide many times (Jer. 14:7)
98 Backslide like an heifer (Hos. 4:16)
99 Go backward, not forward (Jer. 7:24)

All this indicates a man who once walked in the way of God but has now turned against Him; a man who fought the world, the flesh, and the devil and has retreated from battle and joined the enemy; a man who once belonged with saints, but is now removed from them; and a man who has been overcome by sin and Satan and is filled with his own ways (p. 284 of N. T.)

The tree of lives (18:4)

Heb. etschaiyim, tree of lives, because it produces constant and eternal life (v 4; 3:18; 11:30; 13:12; Gen. 2:9; 3:24; Rev. 2:7; 22:2, 14). In these passages a literal tree of life is meant 16 sources of life:

1 The tree of life (see above)

13 The promise of life (2 Tim. 1:1)
14 The hope of life (Tit. 3:7)
15 The grace of life (1 Pet. 3:7)
16 The water of life (Rev. 22:1; 22:17)

4 figurative trees of life:
1 Wisdom and understanding (Pr. 3:18)
2 Fruit of the righteous (Pr. 11:30)
3 Hope and desire fulfilled (Pr. 13:12)
4 A wholesome tongue (Pr. 15:4)

10 facts about scorners (19:25)

1 They delight in mocking (1:22)
2 They hate reproof (9:7-8; 13:1; 15:12)
3 Reject knowledge and wisdom (14:6)
4 Set wrong examples (19:25; 21:11)
5 Judgment prepared for them (19:29)
6 Are proud and haughty (21:24)
7 Cause contention and strife (22:10)
8 Are an abomination to God (24:9)
9 Seek to intimidate others (2 Ki. 19: 21; Neh. 2:19; Job 12:4; Mt. 9:24)
10 Deny Christ's coming (2 Pet. 3:3)

4 commands to sons (23:19)

1 Hear - 13 such commands in Proverbs (1:8; 4:1, 10; 5:7; 7:24; 8:6, 32-33; 19:20, 27; 22:17; 23:19, 22)
2 Be wise - commanded 4 times (6:6; 8:33; 23:19; 27:11)
3 Guide the heart in the right way (v 19, Cp. 2:17; 11:3)

8 Contrary to the gospel (Jas. 2)

7 reasons why they understand: (28:5)

1 Fear the Lord (1:7) 3:5)
2 Give heed to and obey truth (2:1-3 Seek the Lord (Mt. 6:33; 1 Cor. 1:30)
4 Are open to truth (Mt. 13:11-17)
5 Have the Holy Spirit (1 Jn. 2:20)
6 Are freed from darkness (Acts 26: 18)
7 Seek understanding (2:4-9; 4:7-9)

5 kinds of words (25:11-15)

1 Appropriate words: words that come naturally, that run smoothly upon wheels, that are not forced, and that are without design to hurt are like apples of gold upon carvings of silver (v 11)
2 Reproving words: words of a wise reprover to an obedient ear are like the most beautiful and cherished ornaments of fine gold to a refined and beautiful woman (v 12)
3 Refreshing words: words of a faithful messenger are as refreshing and satisfying as a drink cooled by the snow in the heat of the harvest labor (v 13)
4 Vain words: words of the boaster are as disappointing as clouds without rain (v 14)
5 Kind words: by words of kindness, understanding, and longsuffering a judge is persuaded, as easily as a soft answer overcomes obstinacy in others (v 15)

11 Prosperity (Eccl. 8:12; Isa. 33:6)
12 Humility (Isa. 2:10-21)

Fear of man

Fear of man is a great snare and it traps millions daily, but love for the praise of men is equally dangerous and is perhaps more subtle and deceiving. The Pharisees of the N.T. were the kind that loved the praise of men more than the praise of God (Jn. 12:43). It caused them to be bitterly opposed to Christ and the spirit of utter unselfishness that He manifested in all things. When one does anything to be seen of men or to receive the praise of men he has a full reward and will have none in the next life (Mt. 6:1-8, 16-21)

for man in the earth apart from God. It records the walk of man in his earthly pilgrimage to a better world and a better life. It begins with Israel in the wilderness taking account of themselves (Num. 1-8 with Ps. 90). It continues with proper order, and instructions for the future (Num. 9-14 with Ps. 91-94), rest anticipated (Num. 15-26 with Ps. 95-100), and the basis for entering into rest (Num. 27:38 with Ps. 101-106). It concludes with a benediction, one Amen, and one HallelujAH (106:48)

Book V, called the Deuteronomy book of 44 psalms (107-150). It concerns God and His Word, showing that all blessings of man (Book I), of Israel (Book II), of the sanctuary (Book III), and of the earth and all men (Book IV), are based upon obedience to the Word of God (Dt. 8:3). Disobedience brought man's sorrows, Israel's dispersion, the sanctuary's ruin, and earth's miseries; and it is only by obedience to God's Word that these curses will be removed. While the other books are distinguished by several divisions, this book is, like God's Word itself, a perfect whole. It is the only one of the 5 books with an even number of psalms

4 Divine titles that occur in each book:
(1) The Genesis book (1-41). Jehovah (Lord) 279 times and Elohim (God) 48 times, 9 times connected with Jehovah
(2) The Exodus book (42-72). Jehovah 37 times and Elohim 262 times, twice with Jehovah. El (the Almighty) occurs 14 times and JAH once. JAH is first used in the Hebrew in Ex. 15:2
(3) The Leviticus book (73-89). Jehovah 85 times and Elohim 93 times, 6 times with Jehovah. El occurs 5 times
(4) The Numbers book (90-106). Jehovah 126 times and Elohim 31 times, 10 times with Jehovah. El occurs 6 times
(5) The Deuteronomy book (107-150). Jehovah 292 times and Elohim 41 times, 4 times with Jehovah. JAH (an abbreviation of Jehovah) occurs 13 times in the Hebrew. El occurs 10 times and Eloah (the Living God) is found twice

5 The 150 psalms divided by subjects:
(1) 9 psalms of the righteous (1, 15, 84, 91, 92, 101, 112, 128, 131)

(10) 10 pilgrim psalms (121-123, 125, 127, 128, 130-131, 133, 134)
(11) 15 song of degrees or pilgrim psalms (120-134)
(12) 9 acrostic psalms (9, 10, 25, 34, 37, 111-112, 119, 145). All acrostics are not retained in the A.V.
(13) 8 royal psalms (8, 19-21, 24, 29, 61, 101)
(14) 8 psalms of complaint and lament (31, 41, 60, 74, 79, 102, 120, 137)
(15) 22 HallelujAH psalms (104-106, 110-114, 116-118, 134-135, 145-150)

7 Other divisions of psalms:
(1) 75 by David (3-32, 34-41, 51-65, 68-70, 72, 86, 101, 103, 108-110, 122, 124, 131, 133, 138-145). David elsewhere (Ps. 2:1 with Acts 4:25; Ps. 95:8 with Heb. 4:7)
(2) 12 by Asaph (50, 73-83)
(3) 10 for the sons of Korah (42, 44-49, 84, 85, 87)
(4) 1 by Heman (88)
(5) 2 by Solomon (72, 127)
(6) 1 by Moses (90). He wrote also Ps. 91 (note a, 91:1)
(7) 1 by Ethan (89)
(8) 17 anonymous, with merely descriptive titles (66, 67, 92, 98, 100, 102, 120, 121, 123, 125, 126, 128-130, 132, 134, 135)
(9) 33 "orphan" psalms without titles of any kind (1, 2, 10, 33, 43, 71, 91, 93-97, 99, 104-107, 111-119, 136, 137, 146-150)

8 26 beautitudes (1:1; 2:12; 32:1-2; 33:12; 34:8; 40:4; 41:1; 65:4; 84:4-5, 12; 89:15; 94:12; 106:3; 112:1; 119:1-2; 127:5; 128:1-2; 137:8-9; 144:15; 146:5)

9 Selah is found 71 times (see note h, 3:2)
10 Psalms is quoted 36 times in the N.T. and referred to 55 other times

11 The term To the chief musician is prefixed to 55 psalms, all Davidic except 66 and 67. It means to the Director of the Temple worship

12 The words employed in the psalm titles are explained in parentheses where found. The obsolete words are explained in the margins

a See The words of the preacher, p. 498
b Heb. kohĕleth, convener; to collect together; assemble, meaning one who assembles a congregation. The idea is that of being a public speaker in an assembly, hence the word preacher (v 1-2, 12; 7:27; 12:8-10). Found these 7 times in this one book and 4 times in the N. T. (Rom. 10:14; 1 Tim. 2:7; 2 Tim. 1:11; 2 Pet. 2:5). The word preach is used 3 times in the O. T. (Neh. 6:7; Isa. 61:1; Jonah 3:2), and 48 times in the N. T. of the words of gospel speakers (Mt. 4:17; 10:7, 27; 11:1; etc.). The word preached is found only once in the O. T. (Ps. 40:9), but 60 times in the N. T. Preaching is found once in the O. T. (Jonah 3:2) and 26 times in the N. T. c See 30 things considered vanity, p. 498
d Question 1, Next, v 10
e Life in the present society is based upon profit and loss. The profit, for the most part, according to Solomon in this book, is nothing but to eat, drink, be merry, and fulfil the lusts of the heart (2:1-3; 2:24-25; 3:22; 10:19; 11:9). The true program of righteousness is that a man should work to support his own house (1 Tim. 5:8), help others (Lk. 6:38; Col. 1:10; 1 Th. 4:11; 2 Th. 3:10-12; 2 Tim. 2:21; Tit. 3:1; Heb. 6:10), and share in the spreading of the gospel of Christ to the ends of the earth (Mt. 28:19-20; Mk. 16:15-20; Lk. 24:47-51; Acts 1:4-8) f 4 eternal transients:
1 Eternal generations (v 4)
2 Eternal circuits of the sun (v 5)
3 Eternal circuits of the winds (v 6)
4 Eternal circuits of the rivers (v 7)
g There will be eternal generations of natural people on the earth - people will be born throughout all etemity as originally planned by God when He created Adam and Eve. Human beings were to multiply their kind eternally. See Generations in Index h The earth is eternal, and so are the sun, moon, stars, winds, rivers, and all other parts of the material creations. God laid the foundation of the earth that it should not be removed forever (Ps. 104:5). See Eternal in Index i Heb. olam, time without mind; without any definite limits; eternal; everlasting; perpetual; eternity; for ever and ever. The word is used 7 times in this book (1:4, 10; 2:16; 3:11, 14; 9:6; 12:5) j The reason they are not full is that the waters come from them and return to them in constant outflow and inflow. The sun causes vapor to arise and fill the clouds, then they are sent down to the earth again to run in the rivers to the seas (v 7)
k It is impossible to comprehend all the labor that is required to carry on human society; the eyes and ears are never satisfied with the few things of such activity which they come in contact with; they want to see and hear more and more (v 8) l If this is understood as the repetition of the works of man - the activities necessary to carry on human life, then the passage is clear; but if we include everything else in the passage, then we distort the true meaning. Modern inventions, the radio, television, atomic bomb, etc. should be left out of the meaning altogether. The idea here is that Solomon, in all of his searching, found no human activity in his day that had not existed before, and so, he concluded that such activity would always be, in order to keep the human race going (v 9-10)
n This simply expresses the idea that the general activities of men in the past are not kept fresh in mind, and that this will always be the case (v 11). It does not mean that there are no records of the past whereby we may know what has been before our time
o The tense here is not meant to imply that Solomon had ceased being king in Jerusalem when this book was written, for he was king until his death (1 Kl. 11:41-43)
p See p. 669 for several such expressions in this book - of giving his heart to accomplish certain things

660 CHAPTER 1

I Introduction and theme (1:1-2)

THE[a] words of the [b]Preacher, the son of Dā'vid, king in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm.

2 Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities; [c]all is vanity.

II VANITY: man's works (1:3-11). 1 Man's works unprofitable

3 [d]What [e]profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?

2 Man's works transitory: four eternal transients

4 [f]One generation passeth away, and [g]another generation cometh: but [h]the earth abideth [i]for ever.

5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose.

6 The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

3 Man's works never satisfies

8 [j]All things are full of labour; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

4 Man's works repetitious

9 [k]The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.

10 [l]Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.

5 Man's works soon forgotten

11 [m]There is no remembrance of former things; neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come with those that shall come after.

III VANITIES: personal search of a backslidden preacher (81 personal pronouns, 1:12-2:26). 1 VANITY: all man's works 12 ¶ I the Preacher [n]was king over Is'ra-el in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm.

13 And I [o]gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven: this [p]sore travail hath [q]God given to the sons of man to be exercised therewith.

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

2 VANITY: wisdom, knowledge, madness and folly

15 [r]That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten more wisdom than all they that have been before me in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm: yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.

17 And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and [s]to know [t]madness and [u]folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.

18 For [v]in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

661 CHAPTER 2

3 VANITY: personal pleasures

I SAID[w] in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee [x]with mirth, therefore enjoy [y]pleasure: and, behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, [z]It is mad: and of mirth, [a]What doeth it?

3 I sought [b]in mine heart to give myself unto wine, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom; and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven all the days of their life.

4 VANITY: great works

4 [c]I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards:

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits:

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees:

5 VANITY: riches and glory

7 [d]I got me servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm before me:

8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men singers, and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.

9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jĕ-rụ'sā-lĕm: [e]also my wisdom remained with me.

a Solomon, the preacher, did not use the word Jehovah, the covenant-name of the God of Israel, in the book of Ecclesiastes at any one time, though he used the name God 40 times. This also indicates his backslidden state, for before this he repeatedly used the name Jehovah, and God, and other names as can be seen in 1 Ki. 1-11; 2 Chr. 1-9 where the name of God other than Elohim occurs 197 times, Jehovah 169 times compared to Elohim 75 times. This is no mere accident, for Solomon did not consider himself in covenant relationship with Elohim. This is more the name of God as Creator and Worker in relationship with His creatures. See 20 facts about God, p. 498
b Man finds it difficult to make his crooked ways of behavior straight without the help of God; but with His help it can and must be done in order to stand in the day of judgment (Isa. 40:4; 42:16; 45:2; 39:8; Lk. 3:5) c None but a sinner will give his heart to know madness and folly, so this is proof that Solomon was a backslider at this time (v 17)
d Heb. howlelah, from halal, to shine; to make a show; to boast; to be clamorously foolish; to rave; to celebrate; to show or display loss of self-control; to rave with self-conceit. Trans. madness (v 17; 2:12; 7:25; 9:3; 10:13)
e Heb. sikluwth, silliness. Trans. folly (v 17; 2:3, 12-13; 10:1) and foolishness (7:35; 10:13)
f This is true only when one gives himself over to madness and folly; his very foolishness, vain show, bragging, and self-display will bring him to grief and mortification of his pride. Men will reject and disdain him until he comes back to his senses (v 18)
g No godly man will say such things in his heart; and so, we have further proof here that the heart of Solomon was not right at this time (v 1) h Heb. simchah, glee; joy; mirth; pleasure (v 1-2; 7:4; 8:15; Gen. 31:27; Neh. 8:12; Ps. 137:3; Pr. 14:13). It refers to any festivity or pleasure that satisfies the lusts and passions of the flesh momentarily i Heb. towb. Trans. pleasure (v 1; Job 21:25) and merry (9:7; Judg. 16:25; 1 Sam. 25:36; 2 Sam. 13:28; 2 Chr. 7:10; Esther 1:10; Pr. 15:15)
j It is madness (as in 1:17)
k Question 3, Next, v 12
l One whose heart is right with God will not give himself to wine in abandonment and to lay hold on folly, as Solomon did (v 3). No godly man will even do it for an experiment, knowing it is contrary to God and His will. It seems that Solomon wanted to see if his wisdom would remain in the heart during a period of giving it over to sin. He found that it did remain; and such was the case for this reason: that wisdom and knowledge become a part of the human mentality whether acquired by study, experience, divine revelation, or impartation by the Holy Spirit (v 9)
m 6 great public and private works
1 Houses (v 4; 1 Kl. 6-7)
2 Vineyards (v 4)
3 Gardens (v 5)
4 Orchards. Lit. paradises, parks, pleasure grounds
5 All kinds of fruit trees
6 Many pools of water (v 6)

n 9fold evidence of riches and glory:
1 Many men servants (v 7)
2 Many maid servants
3 Many children of servants
4 Great possessions of large and small cattle - herds and flocks
5 Silver and gold (v 8)
6 Peculiar treasures of kings and the provinces
7 Many men singers
8 Many women singers
9 Musical instruments of all kinds
o Solomon did not lose his wisdom and knowledge which had been imparted to him as gifts through the Holy Spirit, because they became a part of his mental faculties as much as any other wisdom and knowledge acquired by learning or experience. Cp. 1 Cor. 13; 14:3, 12, 26, 32-38 a This is further proof of the backsliding of Solomon. He fulfilled every lust and satisfied every passion that his heart craved - whatever his eyes desired (v 10). Various passages make it clear that his life of abandonment to pleasure involved more than secular work as dealt with here (v 10-11)

8 sins of Solomon:
1 Gave his heart to know madness and folly (notes d-e, 1:17)
2 Gave his heart to mirth and pleasure (notes h-i, 1:17-21) ness (2:3)
3 Gave his heart to wine and drunkenness
4 Gave his heart to lay hold on folly (2:3)
5 Set his heart on riches, treasures, singing, music, and all that is connected with such a life (2:8)
6 Gave himself over to unbridled lusts and passions (2:10)
7 Applied his heart to know the wickedness of folly, and the foolishness of madness (7:25) (7:26)
8 Had bitter experiences with women
Besides the facts in this book, we have other information in 1 Ki. 11:1-10 showing that he went into idolatry and turned away from Jehovah altogether; and this led to many sins

b All unbridled lusts proved to be nothing but vanity when they were fulfilled (v 10-11). There was nothing that Solomon desired which he could not have; and there was nothing that he could have that he did not experience or possess; yet nothing satisfied him. Everything left him empty and feeling that all was vain. Thus it will always be with the man who turns from God after having known Him and been fully satisfied with His blessings (2 Pet. 2:20-22)

c The meaning of this verse is: I have fully examined everything known by science; I have experienced all the maddening pleasures of unbridled lusts; and I have fully enjoyed all mirth of folly. I have experienced these things to the utmost, more than any man before me; and no man after me will be able to exceed me in means and power of self-gratification (v 12)

e Then - after all the experiences of note c, above, Solomon came to certain conclusions (v 13-17)

f 3 discoveries of Solomon:
1 That there is no supreme good or lasting happiness in all the pursuits of science, no genuine satisfaction in unbridled lusts, no true joy to folly; and that wisdom excells folly as much as light excells darkness (v 13)
2 That the wise man's eyes are in his head and he weighs carefully the consequences of all he does, whereas the fool has no guide to his reason and no check on his passions as he blindly walks, groping in unbridled lusts (v 14)
3 That both the wise man and the fool die, and that there is no more remembrance of a wise man than a fool forever (v 15-16)

g Questions 5-6. Next, v 19

h 2 things Solomon hated: 17)
1 His life because all was vanity (v
2 All his labor because he would have to leave it to others not knowing whether they would be wise men or fools (v 18-19)

i Question 7. Next, v 22

j Not only did Solomon come to hate life and all his labor which he knew would be taken over by others, either wise men or fools, but he continued thinking on these things until he began to despair of laboring, merely to leave great works and riches to unworthy ones (v 20-21)

k Question 8. Next, v 25

l See 5 things that constitute personal vanity, p. 498

9 things that profits
1 Righteousness (Job 35:8)
2 All labor (Pr. 14:23)
3 God's teaching (Isa. 48:17)
4 Gospel preaching (1 Cor. 10:33)
5 Spiritual gifts (1 Cor. 12:1-7)
6 Godliness (1 Tim. 4:8)
7 The Word of God (2 Tim. 3:16-17)
8 Chastening (Heb. 12:10)
9 Grace (Heb. 13:9)

h God created all things perfect, even Lucifer (v 11; Ezek. 28:11-17)

6 VANITY: unbridled lusts

10 And [a]whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, [b]all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

7 VANITY: wisdom and folly

12 ¶ And [c]I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: [d]for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.

13 [e]Then I saw [f]that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 The wise man's eyes are in his head; but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me; [g]and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever; seeing that which now is in the days to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore [h]I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

8 VANITY: insecurity of works

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sun: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 [i]And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.

9 VANITY: unworthy inheritors

20 Therefore I went about to cause my heart to [j]despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.

10 VANITY: no personal profit from own labours

22 [k]For [l]what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun?

23 For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief; yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

11 VANITY: a sinner's life of hard labour ends only in judgment for his rebellion; his works are left to the righteous

24 ¶ There is [a]nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 [b]For who can eat, or who else can hasten hereunto, more than I?

26 For God [c]giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: [d]but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

IV Man's span of life (3:1-22). 1 Twenty-eightfold weary round of human life

TO every thing there is a [e]season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

2 A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

6 A time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

8 A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

2 The great question to the labouring man (cp. 1:3-11)

9 [f]What [g]profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?

3 Sixfold personal observation of life and death. (1) Man's labour and ignorance

10 I have seen the travail, which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.

11 [h]He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

a In a sense this is true - a man should live and be content with his own labor, do good to others and support the work of God (v 24). If, by drink, Solomon meant to use intoxicating beverages, then we cannot approve his advice

b Question 9. Next, 3:9

c 3 gifts of God to the righteous:
1 Wisdom (v 26)
2 Knowledge
3 Joy

d It was Solomon's opinion that the sinner had travail, only to heap up wealth which would be given to the righteous at his death; but this is not an unfailing rule. Many times a sinner leaves his goods to other sinners and sometimes a righteous man leaves his to other righteous persons (v 26)

e 28 seasons of life: a time or season to 1 Be born (v 2; Gen. 18:14; 21:2)
2 Die (v 2; Heb. 9:27)
3 Plant (v 2; Gen. 8:22; Mt. 15:13)
4 Pluck up (v 2)
5 Kill (v 3; Gen. 2:17)
6 Heal (v 3; Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 10:10; 14:12-13; 15:7; Jas. 5:14-16)
7 Break down (v 3)
8 Build up
9 Weep (v 4; Jas. 4:7-10)
10 Laugh (v 4; Ps. 2:4)
11 Mourn (v 4; Mt. 5:4; 9:15)
12 Dance (v 4; Ps. 149:3; 150:4)
13 Cast away stones (v 5)
14 Gather stones
15 Embrace
16 Refrain from embracing 17 Get, buy or acquire (v 6)
18 Lose or take a loss 1:14) 19 Keep things (v 6; Lk. 8:15; 2 Tim.
20 Cast away things (v 6; 11:1)
21 Rend, or tear (v 7)
22 Sew, or join together
23 Keep silence
24 Speak your mind
25 Love (v 8; 1 Cor. 13; 2 Pet. 1)
26 Hate, or make preference (v 8)
27 Make war (v 8; 2 Cor. 10:4-5; Eph. 6:10-18) 4:1-3) 28 Make peace (v 8; Rom. 5:1; Eph.

f Question 10. Next, v 21

g Profit and loss are familiar terms in human society, our whole economy being based upon such a system. This seems to be a great Bible subject also 14 such questions in Scripture:

1 What profit shall this birthright do to me? (Gen. 25:32)
2 What profit is it if we slay our brother? (Gen. 37:26)
3 What profit should we have, if we pray unto Him? (Job 21:15)
4 What profit shall I have, if I be cleansed from my sin? (Job 35:3)
5 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? (Ps. 30:9)
6 What profit hath a man of all his labor? (1:3)
7 What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth? (3:9)
8 What profit hath he that hath labored for the wind? (5:16)
9 What profit is it that we have kept His ordinances, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts? (Mal. 3:14)
10 For what shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? (Mk. 8:36)
11 What profit is there of circumcision? (Rom. 3:1)
12 What shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine? (1 Cor. 14:6)
13 What doth it profit brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? (Jas. 2:14)
14 What doth it profit? (if you do not give the poor what is needful, Jas. 2:16)

9 things that cannot profit:
1 Vain things (idols, 1 Sam. 12:21)
2 Wickedness (Pr. 10:2)
3 Riches in the day of wrath (Pr. 11:4)
4 Self-righteousness and works (Isa. 57:12)

a Them - God's works of v 11. Man should rejoice in the works of God and use them to do good all the days of his life (v 12)

b Eat and drink within the bounds of the law, not breaking the law of God thereby. Even over-eating or surfeiting is sin (Lk. 21:34) as well as drinking intoxicants. Drunkards shall not inherit the kingdom of God (1 Cor. 6:9-10; Gal. 5:21)

c This is true as far as the plan of God for mankind is concerned (v 14; Acts 15:18), but regarding free and intelligent acts of individuals, He changes according to their conformity or nonconformity to His eternal plan. The whole gospel program is based upon voluntary obedience to the Word of God; this brings salvation and blessings; but if disobedience is rendered, eternal damnation will be the result (Mk. 16:15-16; Jn. 3:16; 1 Tim. 2:4-5; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17). God is always adding blessings and rewards to those who obey, but taking away from those who disobey (Mt. 13:12; 2 Pet. 1:4-9)

e Solomon saw injustices in the place of judgment and had to acknowledge that sin was there. He concluded that it would take God, the righteous Judge, to give absolute justice (v 16-17; Mt. 16:27; Acts 17:31; 2 Cor. 10:9-10; Rev. 20:11-15)

f This judgment of both the righteous and the wicked is most fair and just. Why should the righteous not be judged? How could God give them reward or loss of reward if they were never judged for the good and bad things done in life? The popular theory that God will judge the righteous for their good deeds only, for the purpose of giving them reward, is false. Everybody, saints and sinners, are to be judged for the bad deeds committed in the body during a lifetime, as well as for the good things (Mt. 10:40-42; 16:27; Rom. 14:10; 2 Cor. 5:9-10). See Judgment in Index

g Are like beasts as far as having bodies that die and go back to dust is concerned (v 18). This is what Solomon referred to, as is clear in v 19-20; but it is also true that men can become bestial in lusts and conduct

h Man under the curse has no preeminence over the beasts as far as physical death is concerned, for he is under the penalty for sin; this is eternal death which naturally brings physical death. Man is appointed once to die and after this the judgment (Heb. 9:27). Beasts are not under the death penalty for sin; nevertheless they die and always will, for they were made subject to death like the flowers, trees, and vegetation. Even in the new earth they will die as sacrifices (Isa. 66:22-24; Ezek. 40-48, notes). They were created to be eaten and they will serve this purpose throughout eternity (1 Tim. 4:1-8). Man alone was created to live eternally in a natural body; but sin deprives him of that until death is destroyed and all sin brought to an end (1 Cor. 15:24-28). In the Millennium, natural man will not die unless one personally commits a death-penalty sin; then he will be executed (Isa. 65:20-25); but in the new earth none will ever die or commit a sin (Rev. 21:3-7; 22:3). Man will then fulfil the original purpose of multiplying and replenishing the earth under ideal conditions as would have been the case if man had not sinned. The fall of man did not do away with God's original plan; it only postponed it until the final restitution of all things. After that everything will continue on earth among men and animals as though the curse had never been. Natural man, not resurrected man will go from the tribulation into the Millennium and from the Millennium into the New Earth period to carry out God's program, as if man had never fallen. God did not create man to die, and if the human race had never sinned there would have been no death; all would have lived eternally as they will do after the curse is fully removed. Why should God want to destroy all natural life on the earth after being so patient to rid the earth of all rebellion during the Millennium (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10), and after purging man of all

(2) Blessings and opportunities

12 I know that there is no good in[a] them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that every man should[b] eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.

(3) Man's chief end in life

14 I know that, [c]whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.

15 That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God [d]requireth that which is past.

(4) Man's wickedness and judgment

16 ¶ And moreover I [e]saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there.

17 I said in mine heart, God shall judge [f]the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.

(5) Man dies like the beasts, but their spirits go to different places

18 I said in mine heart concerning the estate of the sons of men, that God might manifest them, and that they might see that they themselves [g]are beasts.

19 For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; so that a[h]man hath no preeminence above a beast: for all is vanity.

20 [i]All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again.

21 [j]Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?

(6) A backslider's conclusion. Cp. 5:18-20; 7:1-29, notes; 9:2-6; 11:9-10; 12:13-14

22 [k]Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion: for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

663 CHAPTER 4

V Vanities alternated with advice and instruction (4:1-5:20). 1 VANITY: oppressions by others and labours for others

SO I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter; and on the side of their oppressors there was power; but they had no comforter.

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive.

3 Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.

4 ¶ Again, I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

2 ADVICE: live in peace

5 The fool foldeth his hands together, and [l]eateth his own flesh.

6 [m]Better is an handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit.

3 VANITY: a miser's life

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun.

8 [n]There is one alone, and there is not a second; yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour; neither is his eye satisfied with riches; neither saith he, [o]For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good? This is also vanity, yea, it is a sore travail.

4 ADVICE: two are better than one; reasons

9 ¶ [p]Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up.

11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.

5 VANITY: no justice or pleasure in life

13 ¶ [q]Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished.

14 For out of prison he cometh to reign; whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.

15 I considered all the living which walk under the sun, with the second child that shall stand up in his stead.

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they also that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

664 CHAPTER 5

6 ADVICE: fourteenfold ada 5 things Solomon saw:

1 Tears of the oppressed (v 1)
2 The oppressors had power
3 The oppressed had no comforter
4 All travail of the sons of men (v 4)
5 Every right work for which a man is envied of his neighbor
Because of such oppressions, travail of the oppressed, and envy of neighbors, Solomon concluded that the dead are better off than the living, and not to have been born would be even better than being dead (v 2-3)

b The envious man of v 4 is a fool, as in v 5, destroying himself by his envy

c See 20 "better" things in Ecclesiastes, p. 672

d The miser's life is one of extreme loneliness and dissatisfaction in the midst of plenty. Solomon spoke of one having no child, being too miserly to support a family, and having no brother. Even if he had a brother he would be too miserly to recognize him. Thus, there was not a second - he was alone, and that because of his own choosing. Not being satisfied with accumulated riches and wanting more than he had made him vain and miserable (v 7-8)

e Questions 13-14. Next, 5:6

f 4 reasons why two are better than one:
1 Because they have more reward for their labor (v 9) (v 10)
2 One can lift the other up if he falls
3 Both can keep warm (v 11) 12)
4 They can prevail against another (v possibility of falling in the eternal future? Only resurrected human beings will be changed from a natural body to a spiritual body (1 Cor. 15:34-54; Phil. 3:20-21 with Lk. 24:39). Natural men, who will be alive when Christ comes to reign, will continue to live in their natural bodies, and become the subjects over whom the resurrected saints will reign (Rev. 5:10; 20:4-6). Only those who commit death-penalty sins in the Millennium (Isa. 65:20), and those who rebel with Satan at the end of the Millennium will be destroyed by fire (Rev. 20:7-10). Thus, the time will come when natural man will carry out God's original plan, a time when people will not be subject to death; but for the present, human beings have no preeminence over the animals in the matter of physical death and going back to dust (v 19-20; Gen. 3:19)

i All - men and beasts go into one place. This one place is explained here as all turning to dust again (v 20). It has no reference to the spiritual part of man or beasts, which does not return to dust, not having been made of dust to begin with (Gen. 2:7, 19; 3:19). "All are of the dust" then, refers to the body only. It is stated that the spirit of the beast goes downward to the earth, and the spirit of man goes upward (v 21). What the Bible says in this passage is as much as we know concerning the destiny of animals; but we have an abundance of plain statements concerning man - where they go at death, how long the righteous and the wicked remain in their respective places, when and why they come out to enter their resurrected bodies, and where they will go to spend eternity after the resurrection. See Hell, p. 619-622

k This is a natural man's conclusion, and in Solomon's case, a backslider's conclusion. He had drifted so far from Jehovah that he had become dark in his thinking regarding this matter (v 22). If he had only reflected on some of the things he knew about God - even things said about Him as recorded in this book, he surely would not have left the idea that no man knows what shall be after him (v 15-17). Solomon knew full well that God would bring every work of man into judgment and give justice to every person (12:14)

l Solomon concluded, as in 3:22, that there is some happiness in life if a man will rejoice in his own works; then, immediately he showed how this happiness could be cut off by oppressions (4:1-4), loneliness and miserly habits (4:7-8), injustices and poverty (4:13-16), and other vanities (5:10,13-15; 6:1-12)

a 10 commands of Solomon:
1 Keep your feet from sinning when you go to the house of God (v 1)
2 Be more ready to hear in God's house than to offer sacrifices of fools
3 Be not rash with your mouth (v 2)
4 Let your heart not be hasty to utter vows before God
5 Let your words be few and only necessary ones when speaking to God
6 When you make a vow to God be sure that you pay it (v 4-5)
7 Suffer not your mouth to cause your flesh to sin (v 6)
8 Do not say to the recording angel that your sin was only an error
9 Do not marvel at seeing the oppression of the poor (v 8) 10 Do not marvel at the perversion of justice and judgment in a province (v 8)

b Questions 15, Next, v 11

c Compare this statement with the one about dreams and a multitude of words in v 3 d This is literally true, and if all things produced by the earth were distributed to all men there would be plenty for all. It will not be until Christ comes that a true and unselfish economy will be established - one that is free from excessive profit to the comparatively few. The whole earth will then produce abundantly, more than now, and every man will have his own home and a sufficient income to take care of his needs (Isa. 2:2-4; 65:20-25; Mic. 4; Zech. 3:10)

e 2 more vanities (v 10):
1 Love of silver and gold
2 Love of abundant increase

g Here we have a contrast between the peace and contentment of the laboring man and the unrest of the rich man whose lust for an abundance robs him of sleep (v 12)

h These verses picture the kind of rich man who, through oppression and wrong dealings provokes his neighbors, enemies and others to hatred and vengeance until he loses his wealth, causing his son to be in want (v 13-14). He, himself will soon leave the world as naked as he came into it (v 15). What profit will he then have for his labor, toil, wrong-doing and oppression of others? It will be like laboring for the wind that soon passes (v 16). In all his days he eats and lives in darkness, then ends life in sorrow, wrath, and sickness (v 17)

God reigning in Zion (Isa. 52:7)

This last part of the verse about God reigning in Zion was not quoted by Paul in Rom. 10:15, for no gospel minister has ever made such an announcement. God has never yet reigned in Zion and will not until He sets up the kingdom and Christ reigns there in person (2:2-3; 9:8-7; 24:23; 32:1; Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). When that happens all men will be free to go to Jerusalem to see Christ; and all nations will be required to send representatives from year to year to worship there, and keep the feast of tabernacles (Zech. 14:16-21). After the 1,000-year reign of Christ to rid the earth of all rebellion (1 Cor. 15:24-28), both God and Christ will dwell among men on earth (Rev. 21-22)

Why God was pleased with the death of Christ (Isa. 53:10)

The only reason it pleased Jehovah to permit Him to be crucified was to bring about the redemption of the whole creation so that His eternal program could be carried out with man on earth (v 10). He could not have been pleased with the mutilation of His beloved Son because He punished men for this (Acts 2:22-24; 1 Th. 2:16). Both the Father and the Son volunteered to suffer such indignities for the salvation of men (Jn. 3:16; 10:18). Such a sacrifice on the part of God showed His divine perfection, justice, mercy, and boundless benevolence. The law was upheld, sin was judged, and a basis of pardon and eternal reconciliation was made possible vice on wisdom works, vows and justice

KEEP thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.

●2 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business; and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.

●4 When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed.

●5 Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.

●6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: [h]wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For [i]in the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God.

●8 [j] If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they.

9 [k]Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.

7 VANITY: love of money (1 Tim. 6:10)

10 [l]He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this is also vanity.

8 ADVICE: be satisfied with the fruit of your own labour

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and [m]what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 [n]The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

9 VANITY: riches saved by others are profitless

13 There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, [o]riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.

14 But those riches perish by evil travail: and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand.

15 As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.

16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and [p]what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow and wrath[q]with his sickness.

10 ADVICE: enjoy your own labour all the days of your life

18 ¶ Behold that which I have seen: [r]it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God.

20 For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

665 CHAPTER 6

VI Vanities and evils (6:1-12). 1 VANITY: no power to enjoy the many blessings of life

THERE is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men:

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

2 VANITY: raise a large family and then die a pauper

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have [s]no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he.

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.

5 Moreover he hath not seen the sun, nor known any thing: this hath more rest than the other.

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good: [t]do not all go to one place?

3 VANITY: desires and appetites are never satisfied

7 [u]All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor that knoweth to walk before the living?

9 ¶ Better is the sight of the

b The wicked oppressor generally comes to his end [1] much sorrow, reaping, and sickness, as pictured here (v 17)

c This advice is acceptable if the eating and drinking are of the proper things and kept within the bounds of God's law and the best for one's health. Anything beyond this becomes sinful and destructive to the body and soul; and if any man defiles even the body he will be destroyed by God (1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:19-20; 2 Cor. 7:1; Gal. 5:19-22; Col. 3:5-10). A man who will be temperate in enjoying the fruit of his labor and keep within proper bounds will have a pleasant life and experience the blessings and favor of God (v 19-20)

d If a rich man had no power to enjoy his blessings, and they were enjoyed by others in his place, the preacher considered this a curse, a vanity, and an evil disease (v 1-2)

e The conclusion of the preacher was that if a man lives to beget 100 children, continues in a long life, is not filled with good things, and has no burial in the end, an untimely birth would be better than that (v 3). He comes in with vanity, and departs in darkness so that even if he lives 2,000 years he has seen no good; he goes to the same place as others (as far as the body is concerned, v 6; 3:19-21)

f Having no burial was a great curse and dishonor (v 3)

g Questions 18-20, Next, v 11

h All labor is done for profit, the appetites and passions being the chief reasons for such toil; yet man is never satisfied. What advantage has the wise man or the poor man over the fool? (v 7-8)

Universal salvation (Isa. 52:10)

All nations will see the salvation of God in that they will see the complete redemption of Israel and multitudes of the Gentiles themselves. Knowledge of salvation will be as universal as the waters covering the sea (11:9). The results of salvation will be evidenced by changes in the animal kingdom, all kinds of beasts living together without harm (11:6-9; 65:20-25); deserts blossoming as a rose (35:1-10); universal health (33:24; 35:1-10); and so many other great changes throughout the earth that all nations will recognize that such deliverances are of God (v 10)

Babylon in latter days (Isa. 52:11)

The reference here is no doubt to God's people going out of Babylon, as this subject has been mentioned in several of these last chapters in Isaiah (43:14; 47:1; 48:14, 20). This refers to a latter-day coming out as predicted in Jer. 51:5-8; Rev. 18:4. In their flight they are not to touch unclean things or make haste (v 11-12). These are the only verses here that could have a partial fulfillment in the days of Ezra and Nehemiah - when priests took the vessels of the Lord back, and did not go out with haste (Ezra 1:1-11); but the final fulfillment remains to happen with the rest of this prophecy of 51:1-52:12

Great increase in numbers (Isa. 54:2)

Israel was advised to get ready for a great increase in numbers, for she would be restored to Palestine, her desolate cities would be inhabited, and she would even inherit the Gentiles and be a blessing to all the earth (v 2-3). Israel's shame, confusion, and widowhood will be a thing of the past, and forgotten, when this is fulfilled (v 4). God will restore and marry her again; and her troubles which caused God to divorce her will be no more (v 5-10). God will restore the nation and the city of Jerusalem, building them to be blessed eternally (v 10-14). Gentiles will try to destroy Israel, but they will be destroyed instead (v 15-17) a Heb. adam. The verse then refers to Adam as being named already and one who could not contend with God in the fall, for He was mightier than man (v 10)

b Questions 21-23, Next, 7:10
c See 20 "better" things, note below
d Sticks of all kinds were used as fuel for the fire. The crackling of thorns and other small sticks is here compared to the laughter of fools. As sticks are quickly burned up so the fool's laughter, being light and vain, is soon forgotten (v 6)
e A wise man in a high position who exercises oppression or receives a bribe is a fool; and he is soon destroyed by his illegal acts (v 7)
f Only a fool will entertain anger and keep it alive in his bosom until it incites him to take revenge; a wise man will cast anger out of his bosom as quickly as he would coals of fire (v 9)
g Questions 24-25, Next, v 16
h This is almost a universal question in every generation. Men are always seeking to excuse their own crimes and failures by using the present times as a scapegoat to lay the blame on. In former days the times were as trying, men were equally as wicked, and religion was as much spurned as now. God has been the same in all ages, so the present is really the best time for us to live and make things better (v 10)
i 12 blessings of wisdom:
1 It excells folly (2:13)
2 Does not allow one to be discouraged through questions regarding better former days (v 10)
3 It is good with an inheritance, for it helps one to know how to use what he has received to the best advantage for the future (v 11)
4 It enables man to make profit
5 Is a defence (v 12)
6 Gives life
7 Is better than strength (v 19; 9:16)
8 It proves all things (7:23)
9 Gives joy and boldness (8:1)
10 Delivers in war (9:15) 18)
11 It is better than weapons of war (9:
12 Is profitable to direct (10:10)
j This 2fold advice is good; and if heeded, it could serve to balance one between the extremes of adversity and prosperity in life. In prosperity one's joy should be self-controlled; in adversity one's behavior should be that of thoughtfulness, reflection, and consideration (v 13-14)

21 uses of "sore" in scripture (1:13)

1 Sore travail (Eccl. 1:13; 4:8)
2 Sore evil (Eccl. 5:13, 16)
3 Sore botch (Dt. 28:35)

6 Sore troubled (1 Sam. 28:21) 16)
7 Sore wounded (1 Sam. 31:3)
8 Sore battle (2 Sam. 2:17)
9 Sore famine (1 Kl. 18:2)
10 Sore boils (Job 2:7)
11 Sore displeasure (Pr. 2:5)
12 Sore vexed (Ps. 6:3, 10)
13 Sore broken (Ps. 38:8)
14 Sore pained (Ps. 55:4)

16 Sore thirst (Judg. 15:18)
17 Sore weeping (Judg. 21:2; Jer. 13:
18 Sore war (1 Sam. 14:52) 17)
19 Sore slaughter (Ezek. 21:10)
20 Sore destruction (Mic. 2:10)

20 "better" things in Ecclesiastes (4:6)

1 Enjoyment of own labor better than vexation over it (2:22-24; 5:15)
2 Enjoyment in own works better than to worry over the future (3:22)

4 To be unborn better than the sufferings of life (4:3) eyes than the wandering of the desire: this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.

4 VANITY: continual questionings concerning the good in life

10 That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is[a] man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he.

11 ¶[b]Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

666 CHAPTER 7

VII Advice and the better things of life (7:1-29). 1 Eight better things in life

A GOOD name is[c] better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth.

2 ¶ It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart.

3 Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.

5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools.

6 For as the crackling of thorns[d] under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a[e] wise man mad; and a gift destroyeth the heart.

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.

2 Sixfold advice: reasons

●9 Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: [f]for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.

●10 Say not thou, [g]What is the cause that [h]the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this.

11 ¶[i]Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.

12 For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.

●13 Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?

●14 [j]In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider: God also hath set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him.

3 Be not over righteous: reason

15 All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: [k]there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedness.

4 Be not over wicked: reason

●17 Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

5 Do not trust in might: reason

19 [n]Wisdom strengtheneth the wise men more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

20 For there is not a[o] just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not.

6 Be not over sensitive: reason

21 Also[p] take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee:

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.

7 Seven discoveries of a backslider

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdom: [q]I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me.

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, [r]who can find it out?

25 [s]I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness:

26 And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her.

27 Behold, this have I found, saith the preacher, counting one by one, to find out the account:

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found.

29 Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many [t]inventions.

667 CHAPTER 8

VIII Vanities alternated with advice and instruction (8:1-9:10). 1 ADVICE: wisdom in conduct before God and the king. Cp. 10:1-20; Pr. 1:7, 20-33

a 2 things seen by Solomon (v 15):
1 A just man perishing in his righteousness
2 A wicked man prolonging his life in wickedness
These facts would have been helpful to Job's 3 friends who constantly argued that the wicked pay for their sins in this life and a just man never reaps judgment as in the case of a wicked person
b 3fold advice of Solomon:
1 Be not righteous over much; that is, do not be self-righteous over much, lest you depend upon your goodness to save you and you become robbed of absolute dependence upon the grace of God (v 16). There could never be too much of the righteousness which is by grace through faith (Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 12:14-15)
2 Be not wise over much; that is, do not be self-conceited or wise in your own conceit, lest God bring you to an untimely death (v 16)
3 Be not over wicked; that is, do not be foolish and aggravate your sinfulness, lest God destroy you before your time (v 17). This does not advocate that anyone can be a little wicked, but that one must not add more sin to his life of ungodliness which is already condemned, for doing so could bring judgment before it would come otherwise - in due time
c Questions 26-27, Next, v 24
d Being wise is more powerful than 10 mighty men defending a city (v 19). This is illustrated in 9:13-18
e See Just and Justification in Index
f This means not to be over sensitive and over curious concerning what others are talking about, lest you hear something that will greatly affect you. Having said many things yourself that would hurt others, be patient and charitable toward everyone and you will avoid many hurtful things (v 21-22) g 7 discoveries of a backslider:
1 I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me (v 23)
2 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, is hard to find out (v 24)
3 I find this more bitter than death: the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands (v 26)
4 The one who pleases God will escape her
5 The sinner shall be taken by her
6 I have not found a woman, and only one man among 1,000 who is true and upright (v 28)
7 I have found that God made all men upright, but they have gone astray and sought out many inventions of wrong-doing (v 29)
h Question 28, Next, 8:1
i This is another proof of the backsliding of Solomon. No man who is godly and consecrated to God will apply his heart to know the wickedness of folly, foolishness, and madness (v 25)
j Devices, or ways of sinning (v 25-29)

7 A poor and wise child is better than an old and foolish king (4:13)
8 It is better not to vow than to vow and not fulfil it (5:5)
9 An untimely birth is better than an old man who has had 100 children, whose soul is not filled with good, and who has no burial (6:3)
10 Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire (6:9)
11 A good name is better than precious ointment (7:1)
12 Better is the day of death than the day of one's birth (7:1)
13 It is better to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting (7:2)
14 Sorrow is better than laughter (7:3)
15 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise than for a man to hear the song of fools (7:5)
16 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning (7:8)
17 The patient in spirit better than the proud in spirit (7:8)
18 A living dog is better than a dead lion (9:4-5)
19 Wisdom is better than strength (9:16) war (9:18)
20 Wisdom is better than weapons of

WHO is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? [a]a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.

2 I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.

●3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 [c]There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war; neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.

2 VANITY: oppression and sins

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: [d]there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.

3 ADVICE: sin will not pay in the final end

11 [e]Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.

12 ¶ [f]Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

13 [g]But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow; because he feareth not before God.

4 VANITY: unequal rewards

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; [h]that there be just men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity.

5 ADVICE: enjoy own labour

15 [i]Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.

6 VANITY: man's ceaseless work

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the [e]business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea farther; though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAPTER 9 668

7 ADVICE: be content to know that God knows more than man and that God is sovereign

FOR all this I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either [b]love or hatred by all that is before them.

8 VANITY: all things come alike to all and sin is inherent in man all the days of his life

2 [c]All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is [d]one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope: for a [a]living dog is better than a dead lion.

5 For the living know that they shall die: but [f]the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten.

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, [g]is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.

9 ADVICE: enjoy the many blessings God has bestowed

●7 ¶ [h]Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works.

●8 [i]Let thy garments be always white; and let thy head lack no ointment.

●9 [j]Live joyfully with the wife

a In his search for something to satisfy, Solomon considered the business that is done under the sun; and he learned that some men were so busy they had no time to sleep day or night. He concluded that all such ceaseless work merely for all that a man could use and enjoy in this life was vanity (v 16). He could find out about the work of man, but to search out the work of God that is done under the sun was not possible (v 17). Thus, man should rest content in the fact that God knows more than he does and that He is sovereign over all things both under and above the sun. All things concerning both the righteous and the wicked are In His hands (9:1)

b This could refer to the prosperity and adversity that God allows to come to all men alike. Nobody knows what is to befall him in life, unless of course, he is completely committed to God and follows His will in all things. Then he can know by the Scriptures the ways of God, can appropriate the benefits of the promises, and know the outcome of all the various wars and struggles of the human and spiritual realm

c In general this is true, but the one who becomes a special subject of God's providence is subject to His special graces and dealings. Many things will not come to such a person that befall the sinner in life (Ps. 34:9-10; 37:1-8; 84:11; 91:1-12; Mt. 7:7-11; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Lk. 11:1-13; 18:1-8; Jn. 14:12-14; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26). Leaving God out of life, as Solomon was doing at this time, one may conclude that all things come alike to all, that they are full of evil, and that madness is in people's heart until they die (v 2-3) d The one event that happens to all is death, as is clear here and in v 5, as well as in 3:19-21

e A dog was one of the most unclean and despicable creatures to the Jews; but even this kind of animal was better than a dead lion (v 4)

f This is true as far as the dead bodies are concerned. They do not know anything and they are not conscious in the least, for they came from dust and return to dust; but the souls and spirits of all men are immortal and continue in a full state of consciousness between death and the resurrection of their bodies. The bodies do not have reward at death and will not have until the resurrection; then rewards will be meted out to all - to the righteous before the Millennium (Rev. 20:4-6), and to the wicked after the Millennium (Rev. 20:11-15). The souls and spirits have some reward at death, being admitted to heaven if they are righteous, and to hell if they are wicked. See Where are the dead and Hell, p. 619-622

g It is true that all earthly love, hatred, and envy as known in the body, will perish when the body dies. The soul is the seat of the feelings, emotions, appetites, and passions; and the spirit is the seat of the intellect and will; so, when the soul and spirit leave the body at physical death, as seen in Jas. 2:26, these passions of the soul perish as far as the body is concerned. Neither do they have any more portion of things done under the sun (v 6). In the resurrection the bodies will again experience love, hatred, and other feelings and passions, for the souls and spirits will again be in their own resurrected bodies to abide eternally either in heaven or hell. For soul and spirit definitions, see Index

h Solomon's advice here was given in view of all men being sinners and given over to evil and madness of heart, and all dying the same as in v 2-3. The godly preacher will agree with the backsliden preacher in this matter only to the extent of lawful eating and drinking. The gospel condemns becoming drunk (1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21). Emphasizing earthly things bordering on and entering into the sinful ways of life is not good. The N. T. requires setting the affections on things above and not on things of the earth, for the true Christian is said to be dead and his life is hid with Christ in God (Col. 3:1-3). The grace of God teaches all men to deny ungodliness and worldly lusts and to live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world (Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 12:14). Emphasis should never be placed on eating, drinking, etc. as advised by Solomon here (v 7; 2:24; 3:13; 5:18; 8:15)

i In the East white garments are worn more than with us. The allusion to white garments is a beautiful figurative exhortation to perpetual purity of character and conduct (Rev. 7:13; 19:14)

j This advice is also sanctioned in the N. T. (1 Cor. 7:1-5) a This is always good advice - men should do their best at any task whether for God or man (v 10)

b There really is no work as we know it on earth, and no need of earthly devices, wisdom and knowledge to make plans, etc, in sheol, or hell. This does not say, nor does it mean that the souls and spirits of men in sheol are unconscious. All it could mean is that no earthly activity necessary to human life on earth is carried on in hell. See Hell in Index

c Heb. sheol, the place of departed spirits where they are fully conscious; not qeber, the grave or tomb (v 10). See Hell in Index

d 12 other discoveries of the preacher:
1 The race is not to the swift (v 11)
2 The battle is not to the strong
3 Bread is not only for the wise
4 Riches are not only to men of understanding
5 Labor is not only for men of skill
6 Man does not know the time of his death (v 12) 13-16)
7 Wisdom is better than strength (v
8 Poor people are not appreciated for great public deeds (v 15)
9 The wisdom and words of the poor are despised - not appreciated (v 16)
10 A wise man's words are rejected by fools (v 17)
11 Wisdom is better than weapons of war (v 18)
12 One sinner unbridled destroys much good e Literally: flies of death, or flies that produce death. The swarms of flies in the East could soon corrupt and destroy any ointment or food left uncovered. So a little folly can soon corrupt the reputation of a man known for wisdom and honor (v 1)

f Apothecary - a dealer in spices and perfumes (v 1; Ex. 30:25, 35; 37:29; 2 Chr. 16:14; Neh. 3:8)

g A wise man's sense of understanding is always in its place ready to aid him when needed, but that of a fool is missing when it is needed (v 2-3)

h The fool exposes his folly to everyone he meets (v 3)

i If a ruler becomes angry with you, do not leave your post; submit to him and pacify him to secure yourself (v 4)

3 classes of Babylonian scientists (Isa. 47:13):

1 Astrologers - dividers of the heavens for the purpose of prophecy and divination or to make a horoscope. Astrology professes to discover certain connections between the position and movements of the planets and events which occur on earth. This was practiced early by the Babylonians, Egyptians, Lyblans, Ethiopians, Indians, Abrabians, and Chinese. From the rising and setting of the planets, their orbits and color, they predicted storms, heat, rain, comets, eclipses, earthquakes and ordinary human affairs affecting both nations and individuals. To assist astrologers in making calculations from the planets the heavens were divided into 12 equal parts called houses; and the various things affecting man were placed therein - marriage, life, death, religion, etc. From the position of stars in these houses the calculations were made

2 Star-gazers - those who endeavored to tell the future by the relative position of the stars

3 Monthly prognosticators - those that gave knowledge of what might occur within the month by the various positions and shapes of the moon

4 outstanding facts (Isa. 48:1):

1 The house of Jacob is called by the name of Israel (v 1)

2 The Israel of Isaiah's day was made of the Jews from Judah out of the waters of Judah, meaning that Judah was the fountain of the nation of Israel (v 1). Those of the 10 tribes who went into idolatry and refused to come to Jerusalem to worship were cut off; and Judah and the many thousands who came from the 10 tribes made the nation of Israel that was still true to God and to David (v 1-2). See Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

3 Judah and all those from the other tribes with them went into sin and hywhom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun.

●10 [c]Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, [b]in the [c]grave, whither thou goest.

IX Wisdom and folly (9:11-10:20). 1 Wisdom unequally rewarded

11 ¶ I returned, and [d]saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but time and chance happeneth to them all.

12 For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare; so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.

2 Wisdom better than strength

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

14 There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man.

16 Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAPTER 10 669

3 Folly in high places

DEAD flies cause the ointment of the [f]apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour.

4 Wisdom known by conduct

3 Yea also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, [h]his wisdom faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool.

5 Wisdom better than power

4 [i]If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding pacifieth great offences.

6 Folly in high places

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

6 [c]Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place.

7 I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.

7 Wisdom better than labour

8 [b]He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.

10 [c]If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct.

8 Wise men and fools

11 [d]Surely the serpent will bite without enchantment; and a babbler is no better.

12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a [f]fool will swallow up himself.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.

14 A fool also is full of words: a man cannot tell what shall be; and [f]what shall be after him, who can tell him?

15 The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city.

9 Folly in high places

16 ¶ [f]Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning!

17 [k]Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18 ¶ [l]By much slothfulness the building decayeth; and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.

19 ¶ A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.

20 ¶ [j]Curse not the king, no not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

a 4 mistakes of despotic rulers:
1 Exalting some unworthy favorite of low origin to great dignity (v 6)
2 Degrading and demoting a noble and worthy person because of dislike
3 Causing servants to become exalted, riding upon horses (v 7) 4 Causing princes to walk like servants among the people

b 4 causes for accidents:
1 Digging a pit (v 8)
2 Breaking an hedge
3 Removing stones (v 9)
4 Cutting wood

c It is wise to keep tools in good shape if one wants to conserve strength and accomplish the task at hand (v 10)

d 3 contrasting statements:
1 A serpent and a babbler (v 11)
2 Words of the wise and fools (v 12)
3 Beginning and end of words of foolishness (v 13)

e 2 characteristics of fools:
1 Full of words (v 14) (v 15)
2 Inability and ignorance in business

f Question 33. Last one in Ecclesiastes

g 2fold woe upon a land (v 16):
1 When the king is a child
2 When princes eat in the morning (which was a sign of intemperance)

h 2fold blessing upon a land (v 17):
1 When the king is the son of a noble
2 When princes eat in due season for strength and not for drunkenness

i 5 things observed by Solomon:
1 A building decays through slothfulness (v 18)
2 The roof falls in through idleness
3 A feast is for laughter (v 19)
4 Wine makes one merry
5 Money is the answer for all things

j 2 things not to do (v 20):
1 Curse not a king in thought
2 Curse not a rich man in privacy

k This is universally taken as an expression meaning blessings will be returned to one who is generous and hospitable (v 1). In v 2 one is advised to give a portion of his bread to 7 or 8 (which is figurative of several or many), for no one knows when he will need bread from another for himself pocrisy like the 10 tribes did, and served God only outwardly (v 1)

4 Judah, regardless of their hypocrisy, continued to call themselves of the holy city, Jerusalem, and stay (depend) upon the God of Israel in times of trouble (v 2). This further indicates that the Judah-kingdom of Israel with Jerusalem as the capital, and Jehovah as their God, was the Israel of Isaiah's time. In fact, when these prophecies were uttered, there was no 10-tribe kingdom, for all had gone into captivity (2 Ki. 17)

12fold omnipotence and omniscience of God (Isa. 48:3):

1 I have declared the former things from the beginning (v 3, 5)
2 They went forth out of My mouth (v 3)
3 I showed them to you
4 I did them suddenly and they came to pass
5 I knew you were obstinate
6 I knew your neck was an iron sinew (v 4)
7 I knew your brow was brass
8 Before it came to pass I showed you (v 5)
9 I have showed you new and hidden things
10 These new things I have created now and not from the beginning (v 7)
11 I knew you would deal very treacherously (v 8)
12 I knew you were a transgressor from the womb

9fold rebellion of Judah (Isa. 48:4):

1 You are obstinate (v 4)
2 Stiffnecked
3 Mean and hard as brass
4 Worshippers of idols (v 5)
5 You trust in idols (v 6)
6 You are ignorant (v 6, 8)
7 You would not hear (v 8)
8 You are very treacherous
9 You are a transgressor from birth

a The purpose of this verse is perhaps to illustrate the certainty of blessing, for just as surely as nature is unfailing, so the man who casts his bread upon the waters will be blessed in due season(v 3)

b Unforseen events come from God, and the man who is always governed by the uncertain future will not start or finish his crop (v 4)

c Here again Solomon reminded us that one cannot know all the infinite works of nature, much less the works of God (v 5)

d The preacher returned to the idea of working and having something to give to them that are in need. If one does not sow seed in the proper time he cannot tell whether he will prosper or not; if he follows the laws of nature he can be blessed with prosperity under normal conditions; and this can be depended on (v 6)

e In these two verses the advice concerns keeping an appreciation in the heart, even in old age, for the things which God has sent to make men happy in life (v 7-8). Rejoice while there is life, for there will be many days of darkness when one might not be able to rejoice

f The warning given to young men here was that if one lives carefree, and walks after all the lusts of the heart and the sight of the eyes, he will have to give an account of this, for one is to be judged for everything done in life, whether it be good or bad. In view of this the youth were advised to remove the things that will cause eventual sorrow of heart, and to put away evil from the flesh so that there will be no pain and remorse in the time to come (v 9-10). In other words, Solomon's advice was: Do not give your life over to childhood and youth sins for they are all vanity; remember your Creator in the days of youth instead of living in sins that will damn the soul; use youth wisely before the evil days of old age come and the years in which you will have no pleasure in living (12:1)

g The evil days and years are the times of old age, affliction, and death - the days described in the following verses (v 1-7). They are called evil because of being the last days of testing on earth, a time in which inventory must be taken, life's values reconsidered, and final preparations made for eternity to come. This period is also called years in which man will find no pleasure. How many days or years they are, in particular, is not known in any case. The wise man will live with etemity's values in view and keep himself prepared in all that he says and does. Eternity is a long time and if one does not prepare himself to spend it with God and the redeemed in heaven, he will spend it with Satan and the damned in hell. All men will be duly judged for all things done in the body, whether good or bad (2 Cor. 5:9-10; Rev. 20:11-15). The gospel makes it plain that one must be born again, or converted to enter the kingdom of God (Mt. 18:3; Jn. 3:3-5); he must become a new creature and live that way until death to be saved (2 Cor. 5:17-18; Tit. 2:11-13; Heb. 12:14). The gospel was known to Abraham (Gal. 3:8), and to all Israel (Heb. 4:2). Even before Abraham and back to the time of Adam, men knew the faith life (Heb. 11), so no man in any age could be excused for not living right and walking in all the light he had (Rom. 2:12-16; 1 Jn. 1:7). Even the one who has not received the full light has received the light of right and wrong according to the conscience, and he will be judged accordingly

Heb. deleth, something swinging; door; gate; leaf; lid. The idea here is that the two doors or double gates of the streets running down to the Euphrates were open, so that the Medes and Persians could enter unhindered. Besides the immense brass gates there were walls running along the banks of the river to protect the city from an enemy coming into it by the channel of the river. Had those gates in the walls been closed the enemy would have been bottled up in the channel and easily destroyed. Only God could have foreseen such an event and brought about the fulfillment of His prediction, made 200 years before it happened earth.

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.

2 Advice to farmers

4 [b]He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap.

5 [c]As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all.

6 [d]In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

3 Advice to the youth.

(1) Profit by experiences of others

7 ¶ [e]Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun:

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness; for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.

(2) Live in view of coming judgment

9 ¶ [f]Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment.

●10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

671 CHAPTER 12

(3) Remember God: reasons

●REMEMBER now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while [g]the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them;

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:

(4) Remember death is certain: eighteenfold description of man's body and death

3 [a]In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of musick shall be brought low;

5 Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth [b]his long home, and the mourners go about the streets:

6 Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.

7 Then shall the dust return to the earth [c]as it was: and the spirit shall [d]return unto God who gave it.

(5) Take heed to the words of the wise

8 ¶ [e]Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity.

9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, [f]he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.

10 The preacher sought to find out acceptable words: and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.

11 The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from [g]one shepherd.

12 And further, [h]by these, my son, be admonished: [i]of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

(6) Conclusion of the whole matter

●13 ¶ [j]Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.

14 For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

a 10fold description of old-age and death:
1 When the keepers of the house (the arms of the body) shall tremble (v 3)
2 The house (the human body)
3 The strong men (the legs) shall bow themselves - be unable to hold the weight of the body
4 The grinders (the teeth) cease, because they are few 5 Those that look out of the windows (the eyes) be darkened - become blind
6 The doors (the mouth and ears) shall be shut - unable to speak and hear (v 4)
7 The sound of the grinding (the gums) is low - low sound of gums instead of teeth, in mastication
8 He shall rise up (awake up from sleep) at the sound of the bird, and when music is played
9 They shall be afraid of that which is high - fear to meet God (v 5)
10 Fears shall be in the way - being fearful of the journey through the valley of the shadow of death
11 The almond tree shall flourish - the gray hair flourish and then fall out like almonds from the tree
12 The grasshopper shall be a burden; that is, the least weight a burden to carry 13 The desire shall fail - the appetites and passions will subside, it being the time to die and for mourners to go about the streets
14 The silver cord (the spinal cord) be loosed (v 6)
15 The golden bowl (the head or skull) be broken
16 The pitcher (the heart) be broken at the fountain or the wheel (the heart as a pump) be broken at the cistern - the heart ceasing to pump the blood through the body to keep it alive
17 Then shall the dust (the body) return to the earth (it shall die) as it was (v 7; Gen. 3:19)
18 The spirit shall return to God who gave it (v 7; Gen. 2:7; Heb. 12:9)

b Man's long home will be his eternal place in heaven or hell, or on earth with the other redeemed after God moves His headquarters from heaven to earth (Rev. 21-22). See Heaven and Hell in Index

c This refers to the creation of Adam - when the first man was made of dust (Gen. 2:7)

d All souls and spirits are in the keeping of God. Those who have already left their bodies (Jas. 2:26) are either in hell awaiting the time of their resurrection (Isa. 14:9; Lk. 16:19-31), or in heaven awaiting the resurrection (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:21-24; Heb. 12:22-23; Rev. 6:9-11). God will have the final say as to their destiny (2 Cor. 5:9-10; Rev. 20:11-15)

e The preacher began the writing of his book with a similar statement - Vanity of vanities, . . all is vanity (v 8 with 1:2)

f 4fold work of the preacher:
1 Taught the people knowledge (v 9)
2 Gave good heed
3 Sought out and set many proverbs in order 10) 4 Sought to find acceptable words (v

g Nails were built into the walls which were of such soft material that they could not be driven in (v 11)

h The one Shepherd here is God - the one who inspired the words of truth (v 10-11; 2 Tim. 3:16-17)

i By these - the words of truth (v 10)

j 2 great facts in all generations: end 1 Of the making of books there is no
2 Much study is weariness of the flesh

k 3 important truths of Scripture:
1 The whole duty of man is to fear God (v 13)
2 To keep His commandments
3 To prepare for etemity, in view of the fact that every work of man will be brought into judgment, even every secret thing, whether it be good or bad (v 14; Mt. 16:27; 2 Cor. 5:9-10; Rev. 20:11-15)

Sure mercies of David (Isa. 55:3)

The sure mercies of David (v 3; 2 Chr. 6:42). This refers to the gracious promises and loving-kindnesses assured David in the Davidic covenant (2 Sam. 7), and confirmed by an oath of God to him (Ps. 89:3-4, 27:37; 132:11-18). This was partly fulfilled in the resurrection of Christ (Acts 13:34)

Summary of Ecclesiastes

Date and place: the book was written in Palestine about 1,000 B.C.

Author: Solomon (1:1, 12; 2:7-9; 12:9-10). His authorship was never questioned by Jews or Christians from earliest times, until recent years; proofs to the contrary though are totally lacking in authority. See Solomon in Index

Theme: the book records Solomon's reasonings under the sun while he was in a backslidden condition. See notes e, 1:3; a-i, 2:10-22; g-k, 3:18-22; g, 7:23. The word Ecclesiastes means The Preacher (1:1). It is taken from the Septuagint where the meaning is one who convenes or addresses an assembly

Purpose: to show the utter fallacy of things that earthly sins, pleasures, and pursuits are the chief end in life and the source of happiness; and to show the final conclusion of the whole of life - to fear God and keep His commandments if one would live forever with Him; that is, true religion is the chief thing in life and the only eternal rewarding thing of all

Statistics: 21st book of the Bible; 12 chapters; 222 verses; 5,584 words; 33 questions; 34 commands; no prophecy; 1 promise; and no message from God

SONG OF SOLOMON

A Figurative Love Story of Solomon and the Shulamite Girl whom he desired to make his Queen of Queens a See Song of Songs, p. 678

b The Song is introduced by the Shulamite who was brought into Solomon's tents, and who soliloquized about her shepherd lover (v 2-3). She implored him to come rescue her from Solomon (v 4), repelled the scorn of the court ladies (v 6), then implored him to tell her where she might find him (v 7). The court ladies gave ironical reply (v 8); and in the meantime Solomon came in, expressing his admiration of her (v 9-11)

c Him - shepherd lover of the Shulamite. All the pronouns in v 2-3 refer to him except one - me which refers to the Shulamite

d Draw me, the Shulamite who was still addressing the shepherd, imploring him to come for her and take her away from Solomon who had brought her into his tent compartments (v 4)

e I - the Shulamite who was still speaking but now addressing the daughters of Jerusalem. She told them that she was black (dark) because the sun had shined upon her. She had a deep shade of sun tan (v 5-6)

f The Shulamite told the daughters of Jerusalem about her mother and brothers who lived in Shunem and who supported themselves by farming and pasturage (v 6, 8). The brothers were evidently fond of her and took her under their special care, promising that her prudence and virtue would be greatly rewarded by them (8:8-14). Concerning her interest in the shepherd to whom she was later espoused, it seems her brothers had become angry at her for talking with him in the field. Being anxious to protect her name they had removed her from the flock and sent her into the vineyards to work (v 6; 2:15)

g She said this to show her feeling of disappointment at having to obey her brothers (v 6)

h During the heat of the day the shepherds would lead their flocks to a cool, shady place, then recline and rest until the shadows lengthened. The sheep would sleep or chew the cud while the shepherds passed the time away with story telling and some light employment such as plaiting mats

i Question 1, Next, 3:3

j The ironical answer of the court ladies was that, if the Shulamite did not know where her shepherd lover was, she should take her flock to the place where the shepherds' tents were (v 8)

k Solomon spoke and expressed his admiration for her by comparing her to the beautiful decorated horses of Pharaoh's chariots, saying her cheeks were lovely with rows of jewels and her neck with chains of gold, and promising to make her bead-rows of gold and points of silver (v 11). Eastern women wore a cord of gold around the head sometimes, a cord at the forehead with strings of precious stones of various kinds hanging down over the cheeks (v 10). Neck chains were made of gold or other metal with strings of pearls, corals, and precious stones. Some had gold half-moons attached (Isa. 3:18). Solomon's promise was to make ornaments of gold, silver, and jewels for the Shulamite which would take the place of the strung beads of her rustic attire

l The Shulamite spoke to her shepherd lover while Solomon was at his table. It seems the shepherd had come to see her at this time

4 things she said to her lover:

1 My spikenard sends forth a sweet smell (v 12)
2 A bundle of myrrh is my wellbeloved
3 He shall lie all night between my breasts (v 13)
4 He is as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi (v 14)

672 CHAPTER 1

I The Shulamite separated from her lover by Solomon and taken into the royal tents (1:1-11). 1 She soliloquizes about her beloved shepherd lover

THE [a]song of songs, which is Sŏl'o-mon's.

2 [b]Let [c]him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee.

4 [d]Draw me, we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.

2 The Shulamite answers the court-ladies who disdain her

5 [e]I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, as the tents of Kē'dăr, as the curtains of Sŏl'o-mon.

6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: [f]my mother's children were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards; [g]but mine own vineyard have I not kept.

3 She soliloquizes about her shepherd lover

7 Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at [h]noon: [i]for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

4 The court-ladies answer

8 ¶ [j]If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.

5 Solomon's admiration of her

9 [k]I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Phă'raōh's chariots.

10 Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.

11 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.

II The Shulamite and her shepherd lover together (1:12-2:6). 1 The Shulamite speaks 12 ¶ [l]While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.

13 A bundle of myrrh is my wellbeloved unto me; he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts.

14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of Ĕn-gĕ'dī.

2 The shepherd speaks

15 [c]Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes.

3 The Shulamite speaks

16 [b]Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

673 CHAPTER 2

I [c]AM the rose of Shâr'on, and the lily of the valleys.

4 The shepherd speaks

2 [d]As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.

5 The Shulamite speaks

3 [e]As the [f]apple tree among [g]the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

4 He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.

5 Stay me with [h]flagons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.

III Separated from her shepherd lover and back in the royal tents she tells the court-ladies of her love (2:7-3:5). 1 She charges them not to excite her love for Solomon until she herself desires it

●7 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake [i]my love, till he please.

2 She tells them of her first invitation to go out with her shepherd lover

8 ¶ [j]The [k]voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.

9 My beloved is like a roe or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shewing himself through the lattice.

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, [l]Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.

11 For, lo, the winter is past, the [m]rain is over and gone;

12 The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land;

13 The fig tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a a 3fold answer of shepherd to Shulamite:

1 You are fair (beautiful, v 15)
2 You are my love
3 You have eyes like a dove - innocent, meek, and loving. She called him a dove (2:14), and Solomon called her one (6:9)

b 3fold answer of Shulamite to shepherd:
1 You are fair (beautiful, v 16)
2 You are my beloved
3 You are pleasant (sweet and delightful)
4 Our bed is green (we recline on the grass in the open) (v 17)
5 The beams over our heads are cedar 6 Our rafters are the limbs of the fir tree
7 I am the rose of Sharon (2:1)
8 I am the lily of the valleys

c The Shulamite claimed to be a wild flower of the field - a flower growing in great profusion, thus disclaiming the shepherd's compliment (v 1)

d The shepherd answered the Shulamite by referring to the comparison she made of herself and declared that the lily excels the thorns among which it grows. In his thoughts she likewise excelled her companions (v 2)

e 10fold answer of Shulamite to shepherd:
1 He is like an apple tree among other trees of the wood (v 3)
2 I sat down under his shadow with delight
3 His fruit was sweet to my taste
4 He brought me to the banquet (v 4)
5 His banner over me was love
6 Stay me with flagons (grape-cakes, v 5)
7 Comfort me with apples
8 I am sick of love (6)
9 His left hand is under my head (v
10 His right hand embraces me

f Apple tree occurs 6 times in Scripture: 4 times in this book (v 3, 5; 7:8; 8:5), once in Proverbs (25:11), and once in Joel (1:12)

g These were the wild trees

h Heb. ashiyshah, something pressed together; cake of raisins or figs (v 5; 2 Sam. 6:19; 1 Chr. 16:3; Hos. 3:1)

i This should read "nor awake love," for the word my is in italics, having been added by the translators. The Shulamite warned the court ladies here not to wake up or try to stir up a love in her heart for Solomon that did not come of its own accord (v 7)

j Here the Shulamite told the court ladies of her first meeting with the shepherd and what he had said to her (v 8-14)

k 8fold description of the shepherd:
1 I heard his voice as he came leaping upon the mountains (v 8) 9)
2 He is like a roe or a young hart (v
3 He stood behind our wall looking forth at the windows
4 He showed himself through the lattice
5 He spoke to me (v 10-13)
6 My dove is in the cleft of the rock, in the secret place of the stairs
7 He has a sweet voice (v 14)
8 His countenance is comely (pleasing)

l 8fold call of the shepherd to Shulamite:
1 Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away (v 10)
2 The winter is past (v 11)
3 The rain is over and gone
4 The flowers appear on earth (v 12)
5 The time is come for the singing of birds
6 The voice of the turtle dove is heard in the land
7 The fig tree puts forth her green figs (v 13)
8 The vines with the tender grapes give forth a good smell
Note in the above, 6 signs of spring in Palestine are referred to (points 3-8)

m The first or early rains come about the end of October or beginning of November, and the latter rains come in March or the beginning of April a 2nd time said with very little variation (v 10, 13)

b See 30 things said of shepherd lover, p. 678
c In her absence from the shepherd the Shulamite consoled herself with the fact that they belonged to each other, and this her brothers could not control (v 16-17)
d The Shulamite requested the shepherd to meet her in the evening, and when he did not come (3:1), she feared something had befallen him on the way, so she went in search of him (3:2) and found him (3:3-4)
e Question 2, Next, v 6
f 3 things the Shulamite did (v 4):
1 Found the shepherd lover
2 Held him - would not let him go
3 Brought him into the chamber of her mother's house g Explained in note 1, 2:7
h Question 3, Next, 5:3
i The question here concerns the procession of Solomon's summer court, in the return from Shunem back to the city. These in the procession, dressed in their white robes which flowed in the breeze looked like pillars of smoke in the distance, and the scent in the wind was like myrrh and frankincense and various powders from the merchant (v 6). Preceding the time of this procession from Shunem, Solomon had met the Shulamite (6:6-12), and being impressed with the beauty of the damsel, he conducted her into his royal tent (1:2-4); and there, assisted by the court ladies (1:5-8), he endeavored with alluring flatteries to win her affections, but failed (1:6-11). Released from the king's presence while still in Shunem, the damsel sought an interview with her shepherd lover (1:12-2:6). Then, the king took her to the capital with him in great pomp, hoping to impress her with his dazzling glory amid surroundings of splendor (3:1-11). In this the king failed also, for while she was there the Shulamite told the shepherd, who had followed her to the capital (4:1-5), and who had obtained an interview with her, that she was anxious to leave the gaudy scene of Solomon's court for her own humble home (4:6). Upon hearing this the shepherd praised her faithfulness to him (4:7-16). Several of the court ladies were moved by their mutual love as evidenced in 6:1. Then Solomon, still determined to win her affections, if possible, watched for another favorable opportunity and with flatteries and allurements surpassing all that he had used before, he tried to persuade her (6:4-7:9). He promised to elevate her to the highest rank, above his queens and others, if she would comply with his wishes; but the Shulamite refused his offers on the grounds of being pledged to another (7:10-8:4). The king, convinced at last that he could not prevail, was obliged to dismiss her; so, with the shepherd, she returned to her own home (8:5-14). On the way they visited the tree under which they had first met, and there they renewed their vows to each other (8:5-7). On her arrival home the brothers of the Shulamite, according to their promise, rewarded her richly for her virtuous conduct (8:8-9)

6 lessons from this history:

The above facts should be recognized as the true history of the love triangle in the Song whether we see anything else in the book or not. After that, various lessons may be gained from the story as follows:

1 Not all young women can be won by flattery, outward show and the opportunity to obtain riches, and glory
2 Some value their virtue more than life itself and will not compromise for any worldly future
3 Some love truly from the heart and consecrate to make their companion and his children happy and contented in life
4 Some maintain a natural and unspoiled disposition regardless of their beauty and charm
5 Some never take advantage of their natural beauty to further sinful careers
6 Some live pure and upright in the face of all sweeping temptations and the severest of trials good smell. [a]Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.

14 ¶ O [b]my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.

3 Hindered by her brothers who give her work in the vineyards

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.

4 She tells how she waited for her lover to come back again in the evening

16 ¶[c]My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bē'thĕr.

674 CHAPTER 3

5 She tells of her search for her lover and how she inquired for him of the watchmen

[d]BY night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, [e]Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

6 She relates how she found him soon afterwards

4 It was but a little that I passed from them, [f]but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.

7 She again charges the court-ladies not to awake her love for Solomon till she please (cp. 2:7 and 8:4)

●5 [g]I charge you, O ye daughters of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

IV The Shulamite and her beloved shepherd lover together again (3:6-5:1). (Procession of Solomon's court back to Jerusalem).

1 The inhabitants of Jerusalem see the procession approaching: their remarks of the procession

6 ¶[h]Who is this [i]that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

7 Behold [a]his bed, which is Sŏl'o-mon's; threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Iş'ra-el.

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh because of fear in the night.

9 King Sŏl'o-mon made himself a [b]chariot of the wood of Lĕb'a-non.

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

●11 [c]Go forth, O ye [d]daughters of Zī'ŏn, and behold king Sŏl'omon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER 4 675

2 The beloved shepherd who has followed the court, comes to Jerusalem to rescue the Shulamite. He obtains an interview, and again expresses his delight in her. (Contrast his modesty with Solomon's flatteries of 6:4-10 and 7:1-9)

[a]BEHOLD, [f]thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thou hast doves' eyes within thy locks, thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gĭl'e-ăd.

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing; whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.

4 Thy neck is like the tower of Dā'vid builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.

5 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.

3 The Shulamite proposes to return, referring to 2:17

6 [g]Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

4 The beloved shepherd immediately offers assistance, emboldened by her beauty (vss. 7-11) and by her faithfulness (vs. 12-16)

7 [h]Thou art all fair, my love; there is no spot in thee.

●8 ¶ Come with me from Lĕb'a-non, my spouse, with me from Lĕb'a-non: look from the a The litter or sedan by which the king was carried in the procession back to his capital city, 60 of the most valiant men of all Israel surrounded him as his body guard (v 7-8) b This was the bed of v 7, really a litter or palanquin in which he sat or reclined, and which was carried by 4 men or more, in travel (Isa. 66:20). Some conveyances of this kind were carried by horses, mules, or camels. Ancient litters were of great magnificence, especially those belonging to royalty. Many were of richly carved woodwork, and ornamented with gold, silver, and precious stones, with canopy of silk, satin, or brocade, and ornamented with jewels

c The daughters of Zion were here commanded to go forth to meet and welcome their king back to the city (v 11) d The expression daughters of Zion is found in only 3 other places (Isa. 3:16-17; 4:4), and always in connection with reproof. Could it be that even here it suggests that the daughters were jealous of the Shulamite, a total stranger, who was being brought back by the king? See 8:6
e Here we have the words of the shepherd as he approached the Shulamite (v1-5)
f 34 things said by him of the Shulamite:
1 You are fair (beautiful, 1:15; 4:1)
2 You are my beloved (1:15)
3 You are pleasant (Heb. naiym, delightful, sweet, 1:15)
4 You have the eyes of a dove - innocent, meek, loving, 1:15)
5 As the lily among thorns, so are you among the daughters (2:2)
6 My love (2:2; 4:1)
7 Rise up, my love, my fair (beautiful) one, and come away (2:10, 13)
8 You have doves' eyes within your locks (4:1)
9 Your hair is as a flock of goats, that appear on mount Gilead (4:1)
10 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep that are shorn and washed (4:2)
11 None of them are missing; and they are like sheep that always bear (4:2) let (4:3)
12 Your lips are like a thread of scarlet (4:3)
13 Your speech is comely (4:3)
14 Your temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within your locks (4:3)
15 Your neck is like the tower of David, built for the armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men (4:4)
16 Your breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies (4:5)
17 You are fair (beautiful), my love; there is no spot in you (4:7)
18 Come with me, my spouse (4:8)
19 You have ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse (4:9)
20 You have ravished my heart with one of your eyes, with one chain of your neck (4:9)
21 How fair is your love, my sister, my spouse (4:10)
22 How much better is your love than wine (4:10)
23 The smell of your ointments is more than all spices (4:10)
24 Your lips, my spouse, drop as the honeycomb (4:11)
25 Honey and milk are under your tongue (4:11)
26 The smell of your garments is like the smell of Lebanon (4:11)
27 A garden disclosed is my sister, my spouse (4:12)
28 You are a spring shut up, a fountain sealed (4:12)
29 Your plants are an orchard of pomegranates with pleasant fruits of camphire, spikenard, saffron, calamus, cinnamon, trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, and all chief spices (4:13-14)
30 You are a fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon (4:15)
31 I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse (5:1)
32 I have gathered my myrrh with my spice (5:1)
33 I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey (5:1) milk 34 I have drunk my honey with my g The Shulamite agreed to return to her own country with the shepherd (4:6) h The shepherd lover accepted the offer of the Shulamite to return, promising her all the assistance he could give in freeing her from Solomon and taking her back home (v 7-15) a You have put new heart into me (v 9) b The shepherd spoke of the Shulamite as a garden shut up with bolts and bars, and a spring or a fountain locked up from all but himself (v 12) c A paradise, as in Eccl. 2:5, note d Note the 34 things the shepherd said of the Shulamite, as he tried to express his abundant and overflowing love (note f, 4:1)

e Here the Shulamite made it known to the shepherd that she welcomed all he had said like the north and south winds blowing in her garden (v 16)
f 14 things Shulamite said of herself:
1 I am black, but comely, as the tents of Kedar and the curtains of Solomon (1:5)
2 I am black because the sun has shined upon me (1:6)
3 My brothers made me keeper of the vineyards (1:6)
4 My own vineyard have they not kept (1:6)
5 I am the rose of Sharon (2:1)
6 I am the lily of the valleys (2:1)
7 I will get me up to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense (4:6)
8 Blow upon my garden, that the spices may flow out (4:16)
9 Let my beloved come into his garden and eat his pleasant fruits (4:16)
10 Tell him I am sick of love (5:8)
11 I am my beloved's (6:3; 7:10)
12 I am a wall: that is, I have kept my virtue (8:10)
13 My breasts are like towers (8:10)
14 I found favor in his eyes (8:10)
g This verse shows the shepherd's response to the Shulamite. He expressed himself as coming into his garden (into her life) and gathering the sweetness of it to the full (5:1) h The friends here could refer to the court ladies (v 1)
i When the shepherd and the Shulamite were apart, she had a dream of him in which the following took place:
1 He knocked at her door saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks drop of the dampness of night (v 2)
2 I have put off my coat and do not want to put it on again (meaning, I want to come in to you, v 3)
3 I have washed my feet, and I do not want to defile them again (meaning, I want to be welcomed by you)
4 He put his hand by the hole of the door to open it and my bowels yearned for him (v 4)
5 I rose up to open the door for my beloved, and my hands dropped sweet smelling myrrh upon the handles of the lock (v 5)
6 I opened to my beloved, but he had withdrawn his hand and was gone (v 6)
7 I fainted when he spoke
8 I sought him, but could not find him
9 I called him, but he gave me no answer
10 I wandered in the city after him and the watchmen found me and wounded me (v 7)
11 The keepers of the wall took away my veil and I was exposed to shame

Song of Songs (1:1):

Heb. Shir Hashshirim, Song of Songs, or the most excellent of songs (v 1). The Song was read annually at the Passover, as Ruth was read at Pentecost, Lamentations on the 9th of Ab (August), Ecclesiastes at the feast of tabernacles, and Esther at the feast of Purim. From the earliest times the Song of Solomon formed a part of the Hebrew Canon of Scriptures. It is a poem giving the story of Solomon and a Shulamite - a young woman whom he wanted to make his queen of queens, but who was already pledged to a shepherd of Shunem. Many interpretations of the book have been given - the literal, allegorical, spiritual, and typical. The literal has been followed in the headings of the text in this work. The allegorical embraces the idea that this story refers to Jehovah and Israel (the Jewish view), to the Virgin Mary (the Roman Catholic top of Am'a-na, from the top of Shē'nir and Hēr'mon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards.

9 Thou hast [c]ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lĕb'a-non.

12 [d]A garden inclosed is my sister, my spouse; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.

13 Thy plants are an [e]orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; camphire, with spikenard,

14 Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:

15 [d]A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lĕb'a-non.

5 The Shulamite declares that all she has is for his pleasure

16 ¶ [f]Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. [f]Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits.

CHAPTER 5 676

6 The beloved shepherd responds "I am coming"

I AM come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: [h]eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.●

V The Shulamite and her beloved apart (5:2-8:4).
1 Her colloquies with the court-ladies (5:2-6:3).
(1) The Shulamite tells the court-ladies a dream she once had about her beloved

2 ¶ [i]I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.

3 I have put off my coat; [j]how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him.

5 I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

6 I opened to my beloved; but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer.

7 The watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

●8 ¶ I charge you, O daughters of Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.

(2) The court-ladies astonished at her love, ask, "What is there in thy beloved more than another beloved?"

9 ¶ [k]What is thy beloved [l]more than another beloved, O [k]thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

(3) She describes him to them - "Such is my beloved"

10 [l]My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are bushy, and black as a raven.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and fitly set.

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh.

14 His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lĕb'a-non, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm.

CHAPTER 6 677

(4) The court-ladies wish to see such a man; and ask, "where is he, that we may seek him?"

WHITHER [m]is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

(5) The Shulamite evades their question suspecting their motives

2 [n]My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

3 I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

2 Her colloquies with Solomon (6:4-8:4). (1) Solomon comes forward with flata After telling her dream to the court ladies the Shulamite charged them that if they should see her shepherd lover they should tell him she was sick of love (v 8)

b Questions 6-7. Next, 6:1
c The court ladies being deeply impressed by the love she claimed to have for the shepherd, asked the Shulamite why she had charged them thus. Was her beloved any more than any other? (v 9) d 3 times the court ladies called the Shulamite the fairest (most beautiful and charming) among women (1:8; 5:9; 6:1) e The Shulamite again described the shepherd, stating why he was more wonderful than any other (v 10-16). See points 15-29, note b, 2:14 f Her description of him was so vivid and extraordinary that she stirred a great desire among the court ladies, called daughters of Jerusalem, to see him for themselves. They asked where he had gone so that they might seek him also (6:8-16; 6:1)
g Questions 8-9. Next, v 10
h The Shulamite answered the court ladies in an evasive manner, and then re-affirmed her love for the shepherd (v 2-3) view), and to Christ and the church (the Protestant view). The typical regards it as a type of Solomon's nuptials, or as a type of Christ and the Gentiles or the church. Such interpretations actually bring Jehovah and Christ to the level of a seducer and put words of coarse unrefined flattery on their lips. Furthermore, the number of speakers in the book forbids any interpretation giving only two the preeminence. There are 7 speakers in all:

1 The Shulamite shepherdess (v 2-7)
2 The daughters of Jerusalem (v 5)
3 Brothers of the Shulamite (v 6)
4 Companions of the shepherd lover
5 Solomon (v 9-11) (v 7)
6 Shepherd lover of the Shulamite (v
7 Inhabitants of Jerusalem (3:6-11) 15)
If Christ or the apostles had given us any leads to a spiritual, typical, or allegorical meaning to the book we could consider such interpretations; but the Song is not referred to in any sense in the N. T. For these reasons and the fact that God is not introduced by some of His names or referred to by any of His attributes and powers in the Song of Solomon, we can depend on it that the language of the poem is to be taken literally a 35 things Solomon said of the Shulamite:

1 I have compared you, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's chariots (1:9)
2 Your cheeks are comely with rows of jewels (1:10)
3 Your neck is comely with chains of gold (1:10)
4 You are beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah (6:4)
5 You are comely as Jerusalem (6:4)
6 You are awe-inspiring as an army with banners (6:4, 10)
7 Turn your eyes away, for they have overcome me (6:5)
8 Your hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead (6:5)
9 Your teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing (6:6)
10 Not one of your teeth is missing as there is not one barren sheep (6:6)
11 Your cheeks are like a piece of pomegranate within your locks (6:7)
12 You are more beautiful than the 60 queens, the 80 concubines, and virgins without number (6:8)
13 My dove, my undefiled is the choice one (v 9)
14 The daughters, queens, and concubines saw her and praised her (6:9)
15 You are bright as the morning (6:10)
16 You are as fair as the moon (6:10)
17 You are as clear as the sun (6:10)
18 Return, return, O Shulamite, that we may look upon your beauty (6:13)
19 You are as awe-inspiring as 2 armies (6:13)
20 Your feet are beautiful, O prince's daughter (7:1)
21 The joints of your thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman (7:1)
22 Your navel is like a round goblet, which does not want liquor (7:2)
23 Your belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies (7:2)
24 Your breasts are like 2 young roes that are twins (7:3) 4) 25 Your neck is as a tower of ivory (7:
26 Your eyes are like fishpools in Heshbon (7:4) non (7:4)
27 Your nose is as the tower of Lebanon (7:5)
28 Your head upon you is like Carmel (7:5) ple (7:5)
29 The hair of your head is like purple (7:5)
30 The ringlets of your hair captivate me (7:5)
31 You are fair (beautiful), pleasant (sweet, delightful, 7:6) 7) 32 Your stature is like a palm tree (7:
33 Your breasts are like clusters of grapes (7:7-8) ples (7:8)
34 The smell of your nose is like apples 35 The roof of your mouth is like the best wine that is easy to swallow (7:9)
b Majestic, awe-inspiring, as bannered armies (v 4) c Completely taken me (v 5)
d Behind the veil (v 7, Cp. 4:1-3)
e This indicates the time when Solomon had this experience - when he had only 60 of his 700 wives, and 80 of his 300 concubines (v 8-9; 1 Kl. 11:3)
f Such flattery from a king would have been enough to turn the heart of most women, but not the Shulamite (v 9)
g The women of Jerusalem, the 60 queens, and 80 concubines all saw her and had to acknowledge that she was indeed the most beautiful among women (v 9, Cp. 1:8; 5:9; 6:1)
h Question 10, Next, v 13
i See note b, above
j After Solomon had flattered her excessively, as in v 4-10, she merely replied that their meeting was simply by chance and not intentional on her part. She had gone down to the nut garden quite innocently, and with no design to meet him. She had come upon his chariots before she realized it or they never would have met (v 11-12) k Solomon continued with his excessive flatteries even after the Shulamite explained that their meeting was by chance, with no plans on her part (6:13-7:9). Here he begged her to return so that he and his servants could look upon her beauty (v 13)
l In this verse she is identified as a Shulamite, an inhabitant of Shunem. The changing of names thus, in the Bible, is common. Shulamite is found only here, twice; but Shunammite is found more often. Abishag, who became ●5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have [c]overcome me: thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gĭl'e-ăd.

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of pomegranate are thy temples [d]within thy locks.

8 There are [e]threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but[f]one; she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. [g]The daughters saw her, and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 ¶[h]Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, [i]and terrible as an army with banners?

(2) The Shulamite explains that her meeting with him was not intentional

11 [j]I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Ăm'mi-nā'dĭb.

(3) Solomon: "Return, return," as she seeks to go away. The Shulamite: "What is there to look at in me?" Solomon renews his flatteries to the Shulamite

HOW beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O [o]prince's daughter! the [p]joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies.

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory; thine eyes like the fishpools in Hĕsh'bŏn, by the gate of Bāth-răb'bim: thy nose is as the tower of Lĕb'a-non which looketh toward Dā-măs'cus.

5 Thine head upon thee is like Cĕr'mel, and the hair of thine head like [q]purple; the king is held in the [r]galleries.

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!

7 This thy [s]stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, [t]I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples;

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine for my beloved, that goeth down sweetly, causing the [u]lips of those that are asleep to speak.

(4) Shulamite rejects Solomon; asks lover to take her home; adjures ladies not to excite her feelings, as in 2:7

10 ¶[v]I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me.

●11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages.

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my [w]loves.

13 The [x]mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have [y]laid up for thee, O my beloved.

679 CHAPTER 8

OTHAT thou wert [a]as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! [b]when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, I should not be despised.

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.

3 His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.

●4 I charge you, O daughters of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, until he please.

VI The conclusion: the Shulamite restored. She returns home from Solomon with her lover, and is seen by her brothers approaching (8:5-14). 1 The companions of the shepherd see them approaching

5 [c]Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? [d]I raised thee up under the apple tree: there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee.

b Heb. rahat, to hollow out; a gutter; channel; trough; by resemblance ringlets of hair in parallel lines. The idea is that the king was captivated by her violet-black hair arranged in ringlets (v 5) c Upright and slender (v 7)
d Solomon's way of expressing a desire to embrace her (v 8)
e This indicates that Solomon dreamed about her after meeting her (v 9)
f Here the Shulamite interrupted the extravagant flattery of Solomon to declare that she belonged to the shepherd, and that his desire was toward her so that she could not give her affections to another (v 10)

g Loves, words of endearment (v 12, Cp. 1:2, 4; 4:10)
h Mandrakes - love-apples (v 13; Gen. 30:14-16, note)
i The Shulamite had laid up or reserved all her affection for the shepherd (v 13)
j By this she let Solomon know that her love for him as her king was like the feeling for a brother - simple, and pure love (v 1)

k She told Solomon that if he were her brother she would then embrace and kiss him, as a sister (v 2). Furthermore, she would lead him to her mother's house where he could drink wine and the juice of the pomegranate. Turning to the court ladies she charged them for the last time not to help Solomon in stirring up any love in her heart for him, until she desired it herself (v 4)
l Question 12, Next, v 8. The companions of the shepherd were the speakers here. They saw the Shulamite coming from Jerusalem through the wilderness leaning upon him (v 5) m In their return from Jerusalem the Shulamite and the shepherd went by the apple (orange, or citron) tree where they had first met and he had won her affections. There they pledged their love again. This was also her birthplace, it seems (v 5). Confinements in the open air are said to have been frequent, in ancient times. The tree must have been very near the home of the Shulamite and there again the memories of the past were recalled. The passage does not refer to Christ being born under an apple tree, as some erroneously claim n In this way the Shulamite and the shepherd pledged their love to each other again as at the first time (v 6)

o 5 facts about love and jealousy (v 6-7): 1 Love is as strong as death
2 Jealousy is as cruel as sheol, wherein there are coals of fire which have a most vehement flame
3 Many waters cannot quench love
4 Floods cannot drown it
5 Love cannot be bought p See Jealousy in Index
q Heb. sheol, the unseen world of departed conscious spirits; not geber, the grave or place of the dead bodies. See Hell in Index r Here we have proof that real coals of fire and a most vehement flame are in sheol (v 6). Many other passages speak of fire, torment, consciousness, and other realities in hell. See Hell in Index

David's last wife was called the Shunammite (1 Kl. 1:3, 15; 2:17, 21-22); and the benefactor of Elisha was called a Shunammite from Shunem (2 Kl. 4:8, 12, 25, 36). Shunem was a town in Issachar (Josh. 19:18; 1 Sam. 28:4; 2 Kl. 4:8-37)

m Question 11, Next, 8:5
n Previously Solomon spoke of her charm and beauty as being of majestic and awe-spiring as a bannered army (v 4, 10); now he compared her to 2 armies (v 13)
o Actually she was not a princess, but Solomon was willing to accept her as royalty if she would agree to become his queen of queens (v 1)
p See Solomon's flattery, p.680

a From v 6 we understand that jealousy is as cruel as sheol, but this does not do away with the fact that there is a literal hell with flames of fire in it. If so, we should have to say that, on the same basis there is no death, for the same verse declares that love is as strong as death. If death is real, then hell is real and neither can be denied. The fact remains that all 4 things are real - love, death, jealousy, hell! The passage simply tells us that love and death are both strong, and jealousy and hell are both cruel. In the zeal and execution of jealousy many cruel things have been done, but in the fire of hell men are punished for the ungodly deeds of cruelty

b Note the 4 things said about love - it is strong (v 6), quenchless, indestructive, and invaluable (v 7) c If a man would attempt to buy love he would be condemned by the one from whom he sought to buy it (v 7). This is true, of course, with normal people only. With abnormal and depraved men who will accept money and betray love, it can be bought

d Here the brothers of 1:6 spoke of their little sister before she grew into womanhood, at which time they had agreed to do everything in their power to keep her virtuous and bring her to maturity with all purity. Thus, when she would be spoken for, she could be worthy of becoming the wife of the man who desired her (v 8)

e Question 13. The last question in the Song of Solomon. It concerned what the brothers would do for their little sister in the day that she would be spoken for to become the wife of one of their tribesmen (v 8)

f This means that if she had been a wall, that is, if she had kept her virtue up to the time of her actual marriage, she would be greatly rewarded; but if she had been a door - if she had lost her virtue she would be punished according to the law which required the death penalty (v 9). Enclosing her with boards and cedars could refer to her coffin in burial

g The Shulamite declared that she had been a wall and not a door, that is, she had been successful in standing firm against all the evil seductions of Solomon (v 10) are coals of fire, [f]which hath a most vehement flame.

7 [b]Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: [c]if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.

3 The brothers confer as to their sister's dowry. "What shall we do with her? If she be a wall (i. e. virtuous) we will adorn her. If she be a door (accessible to any) we will shut her up."

8 ¶[d]We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: [e]what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 [f]If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will inclose her with boards of cedar.

4 The Shulamite: "I am a wall" (not a door). Solomon has many vineyards; I will keep my own

10 [g]I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in [h]his eyes as one that found favour.

11 [i]Sŏl'o-mon had a vineyard at Bā'al-hā'mon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a [c]thousand pieces of silver.

12 My vineyard, which is mine, is before me: thou, O Sŏl'o-mon, must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof [d]two hundred.

5 The beloved shepherd asks her to tell them the story

13 [e]Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.

6 The Shulamite owns him as her beloved. He is to hasten to her now and ever. No longer over the mountains which separated them (2:8, 17), for these have given place to the mountains of delight

14 ¶[f]Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

a In the eyes of her husband she was to be one that had obtained favor, because of having kept her virtue and saving herself for him (v 10)

b The Shulamite demanded the reward promised by her brothers, and gave her reasons. Solomon had many vineyards which he let out to keepers who rendered him his portion of the fruit as rental. This amounted to 1,000 pieces of silver for him and 200 for the keepers. In the Shulamite's case, she had kept her own vineyard and no part of her had been rendered as the property of any man (v 11-12)

c 1,000 pieces of silver, perhaps shekels, at 64¢ each would have the value of $640.00

d 200 pieces of silver at 64¢ each would have the value of $128.00. This was the portion for the keepers of Solomon's vineyards out of every 1200 pieces of silver made from the fruit

e The shepherd lover asked the Shulamite to tell the whole story of her adventure with Solomon and her time at court to her brothers and his companions so that he also could hear it (v 13). Perhaps he had heard it before, but wanted to listen with pride while she told of the outcome to others

f The Shulamite, acknowledging that she belonged to the shepherd, asked him to make haste and take her to himself. In this matter she wanted no delay, so asked that he be "like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices" (v 14)

Summary of Song of Solomon

Date and place: the book was written in Palestine about 1,000 B.C.
Author: Solomon, as claimed by the book itself (1:1, 5; 3:9-11; 8:11-12)
Theme: the literal story of the song concerns Solomon while he was visiting in the northern part of his kingdom. At Shunem he found a shepherdess with whose beauty and charm he was so captivated that he took her to Jerusalem, hoping to win her for his queen of queens. Having already been promised to a shepherd of her own community, she proved herself faithful to his love; she was finally married to him with the sanction of the king and her own family, as can be seen from the headings of the text
Purpose: Not to show an inter-relationship between Christ and the church by a writing of mystical meanings, but to teach certain lessons which inspire virtue, as in note i, 3:6
Statistics: 22nd book of the Bible; 8 chapters; 117 verses; 2,661 words; 13 questions; 14 commands; no prophecy; no promise; no distinct message from God

Solomon's flattery (7:1)

In these last words of flattery Solomon waxed bold and intimate in speaking of her:

1 Feet (v 1)
2 Joints of the thighs
3 Her navel, as being like a round goblet (v 2)
4 The belly, as being like an heap of wheat set about with lilies
5 The breasts like young roes that were twins (v 3)
6 Her neck, as being like a tower of ivory (v 4) (v 5)
7 Her eyes like fishpools of Heshbon
8 Her nose as the tower of Lebanon
9 Head like Carmel ringlets
10 Hair like purple, and as being in 11 Her complexion as fair (beautiful, 12 Stature like a palm tree (v 7) v 6)
13 Breasts like clusters of grapes
14 Perfume like apples (v 8) (v 9)
15 The roof of the mouth like wine

Olam - everlasting (Isa. 44:7)

Heb. olam, time out of mind; eternity; everlasting; always; perpetual; time without end. It is trans. ancient (v 7; Ps. 77:5; Pr. 22:28; Jer. 5:15; 18:15; Ezek. 36:2); forever 246 times (Gen. 3:22; 13:15; Ex. 3:15; etc.); perpetual (Gen. 9:12; Ex. 29:9; 31:16; Lev. 3:17; 24:9; 25:34; Ps. 78:66; Jer. 18:16; 23:40; 25:34; 49:13; 50:5; 51:39, 57; Ezek. 35:5, 9; 46:14; Hab. 3:6; Zeph. 2:9); always (Gen. 6:3; 1 Chr. 16:16; Jer. 20:17); of old (Gen. 6:4; Dt. 32:7; Josh. 24:2; 1 Sam. 27:8; Job 22:15; 30:2; Ps. 25:6; Eccl. 1:10; Isa. 46:9; 51:9; 57:11; 58:12; 61:4; 63:9, 11; Jer. 2:20; 6:16; 28:8; Lam. 3:6; Ezek. 25:15; 26:20; Amos 9:11; Mic. 7:14; Mal. 3:4); everlasting (Gen. 9:16; 17:7-8, 13, 19; 21:33; 48:4; 49:26; Ex. 40:15; Lev. 16:34; 24:8; Num. 25:13; Dt. 24:27; 2 Sam. 23:5; 1 Chr. 16:17; Ps. 24:7, 9; 41:13; 90:2; 93:2; 100:5; 103:17; 105:10; 106:48; 112:6; 119:142, 144; 139:24; 145:13; Pr. 8:23; 10:25; Isa. 24:5; 26:4; 33:14; 35:10; 40:28; 45:17; 51:11; 54:8; 55:3, 13; 56:5; 60:19-20; 61:7-8; 63:12, 16; Jer. 10:10; 20:11; 23:40; 31:3; 32:40; Ezek. 16:60; 37:26; Dan. 9:24; 12:2; Mic. 5:2; Hab. 3:6); for ever and ever (Ex. 15:18; 1 Chr. 29:10; Ps. 9:5; 10:16; 21:4; 45:17; 148:6; Dan. 12:3); at any time (Lev. 25:32); lasting (Dt. 35:15); never (2 Sam. 12:10; Ps. 30:6; 31:1); evermore (2 Sam. 22:15; 1 Chr. 17:14; Ps. 18:50; 37:27; 86:12; 89:28, 52; 92:8; 106:31; 133:3); alway (Job 7:16; Ps. 119:112); ever (Ps. 5:11); ever of old (Ps. 25:6); the world (Ps. 73:12; Eccl. 3:11); long (Eccl. 12:5); and eternal (Isa. 60:15)

11 everlasting things in Isaiah:

1 Father (9:6)
2 Strength (26:4)
3 Burnings (33:14)
4 Joy (35:10; 51:11)
5 God (40:28; 61:7)
6 Salvation (45:17)
7 Kindness (54:8)
8 Sign (55:13) 12)
9 Name (56:5; 63:
10 Light (60:19-20)
11 Covenant (24:5; 55:3; 61:8

4fold stupidity of idolaters (Isa. 44:9)

1 The makers of idols as well as the idols themselves are vanity (v 9)
2 Their delectable things (desirable images) shall not profit; and who but a senseless man will thus labor without profit?
3 Idolaters themselves bear witness of the stupidity of their own acts in making and trusting in gods that cannot see or know anything
4 Those who make idols and those who worship them are alike - stupid to accept such as gods when they are ashamed of them, realizing that they know nothing, see nothing, and are absolutely and completely unprofitable (v 9-11)

8 facts - stupidity of idolaters (Isa. 44:18):

1 They are willingly lacking in knowledge and understanding (v 18)
2 They have shut their own eyes that they cannot see (v 18; Mt. 13:14-15)
3 They have closed their own hearts that they might not understand (v 18; 6:9-11; Mt. 13:14-15)
4 They do not consider, in their hearts, their stupid acts (v 19)
5 They are so senseless they do not recognize that they have burned part of their god in the fire, baked bread upon the coals thereof, roasted flesh thereon, and then worshipped the residue, making it an abomination
6 The worship of idols feeds their souls no more than feeding on ashes would nourish their bodies (v 20)
7 Their deceived heart has turned them aside from God
8 They live a lie when they think that their idols can cleanse from sin

12 declarations of the existence of God (Isa. 44:6):

1 Thus saith the Lord (v 6). If He can thus speak He is a living God
2 I am the King of Israel
3 I am the Redeemer of Israel
4 I am the Lord of Hosts
5 I am the first and the last
6 Beside Me there is no God
7 He can command future events to happen as He wills them to be (v 7)
8 He can declare them with every degree of certainty
9 He can set them in order - arrange future events as to time and order
10 He can show things that shall come to pass
11 I have done all these things since I appointed Israel; and you are My witnesses to the fact that this is true (v 7-8)
12 There is no God beside Me (v 8)

No God beside Me (Isa. 44:6)

The contention that there is no other God beside the God of Israel is peculiar to Isaiah

7 uses of "beside Me" in Isaiah:

1 Beside Me there is no Saviour (43:11)
2 Beside Me there is no God (44:6)
3 Is there a God beside Me? yea, there is no God; I know not any (44:8)
4 There is no God beside Me (45:5)
5 There is none beside Me (45:6)
6 There is no God else beside Me (45:21)
7 There is none beside Me (45:21)

4 similar expressions elsewhere:

1 He is God; there is none else beside Him (Dt. 4:35). Cp. Dt. 32:39
2 There is none beside Thee (1 Sam. 2:2)
3 There is none like Thee, neither is there any God but Thee (2 Sam. 7:22; 1 Chr. 17:20)
4 There is no Saviour beside Me (Hos. 13:4)

Supernatural signs (Isa. 44:25):

Heb. owth, signal; flag; beacon; monument; omen; sign; token; evidence; miracle. The meaning here is signs that the diviners and soothsayers relied upon; the tricks and cunning sleight-of-hand performances which they used, to make it appear that there was a supernatural manifestation, or that their demonstrations were under divine influence (v 25; Job 21:29; Ps. 65:8; 135:9). The word trans. sign and signs occurs 61 times, and shows that even pagan religions depended upon (imitation) signs in their deceptions to attract converts. God has used the means of signs, wonders, miracles, and gifts of Spirit in all ages to attract them to Himself and confirm truth; so it is no marvel that Satan's agents seek to imitate this program

PART I: LOOKING TOWARD THE CAPTIVITIES (Chapters 1-39)

680 CHAPTER 1

I Sermons - Prophecies (Isa. 1:1-5:30). During the reign of Uzziah (2 Ki. 15:1-31). 1 Title, author, subject and historical background (2 Ki. 15-20; 2 Chr. 26-32)

1 THE [c]vision of [d]Ī-sā'iah the son of Ā'mŏz, which [e]he saw [f]concerning Jū'dah and Jē-ru-sā-lĕm [g]in the days of Uz-zī'ah, Jō'tham, Ā'hāz, and Hĕz-e-kī'ah, kings of Jū'dah.

2 God's case against Judah (Isa. 1:2-23. Cp. 41:12; 42:1; 48:1; Jer. 2:1; Hos. 4:1; 6:4; Amos 3:1; Mic. 6:1). (1) Judah's rebellion (cp. 30:1; 31:1; Jer. 25; Hos. 11; Mal. 3; Rom. 10-11)

2 [h]Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: [i]for the LORD hath spoken, [j]I have [k]nourished and brought up children, and [l]they have [m]rebelled against me.

(2) Judah's ignorance (cp. Rom. 10:1)

3 [n]The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but [o]Is'ra-el doth not know, my people doth not consider.

(3) Judah's seven sins

4 Ah [p]sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the [q]Holy One of Is'ra-el unto anger, they are [r]gone away backward.

(4) Threefold moral state (cp. Hos. 4:6; 9:8; Zeph. 3:1; Rom. 1:21-32)

5 [s]¶ Why should ye be stricken any more? [t]ye will revolt more and more: [u]the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.

(5) Judah's ruin and weakness (cp. Lam. 1:12; 2:9; 5:1; Acts 15:16)

7 Your [v]country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

8 And the daughter of Zī'ŏn is left [w]as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.

(6) A remnant saved (Jer. 15:11; 23:3; Ezek. 6:8; 14:22; Rom. 11:5)

9 [x]Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very [a]small remnant, we should have been as Sŏd'om, and we should have been like unto Gŏ-mŏr'rah.

(7) Twelvefold hypocrisy (cp. 48:1; 58:3; Amos 5:21; Matt. 6; 15:7; 16:3; 22:18; 23:1-33; Lk. 12:1)

10 ¶ [b]Hear the word of the LORD, ye [c]rulers of Sŏd'om; give ear unto [d]the law of our God, ye people of Gŏ-mŏr'rah.

11 [e]To [f]what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats.

12 When ye come to [g]appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain [h]oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; the new moons and [i]sabbaths, the calling [j]of assemblies, I [k]cannot away with; it is [l]iniquity, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your [m]new moons and your appointed feasts [n]my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me; I am [o]weary to bear them.

15 And when ye spread forth your [p]hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make [q]many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.

(8) God's ten demands (cp. Dt. 10:12; 11:18)

16 ¶ [r]Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil;

17 Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and [s]let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your [t]sins be as [u]scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

(9) Conditional blessings (cp. Lev. 26:40; Dt. 7:12; 28:1; 30:1; Jer. 17:24; 1 Jn. 1:7)

19 [v]If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:

20 [w]But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

(10) Tenfold state and cause (cp. 3:8; 42:23; 43:27; 59:9; Lam. 1:8; 4:13; Rom. 11)

21 ¶ How is the [x]faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment; righteousness lodged in it; but now murderers.

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water:

e He saw - by vision or mentally received a revelation from God (v 1) f The subject of Isaiah - not concerning the present church, Christians, the world, or the Gentiles, but Judah and Jerusalem which are repeatedly spoken of together in the book (1:1; 2:1; 3:1, 8; 5:4; 56:7). The church was not in existence at that time, so we must understand every message as primarily related to Judah and Jerusalem, or the Jews and their holy city. If we try to interpret the book in connection with anything else besides Judah and Jerusalem the result is confusion

h Isaiah begins like the Song of Moses (Dt. 32:1), and is a fitting sequel and commentary on this prophetical song i Heaven and earth are commanded to hear, for Jehovah, not Isaiah, has spoken. All celestial and terrestrial beings are called upon to witness to the Divine plea and sanction the justice of God in His case against Judah and Jerusalem (v 2-23). Cp. Dt. 30:19; Ps. 50:3-6; Mic. 6:1-2 s Question 1. Next, v 11. A question that has been a puzzler for ages. Why do men wilfully destroy themselves and endure the effects of sin when they could have the riches of God's grace in peace, material prosperity, physical health, and spiritual power? (v 18; 41:17-20; 55:1-13; 58:1-14; Jn. 3:16; 7:37-39; 10:10; 14:12-15; Acts 1:4-8)

u Verses 5-6 could be trans.: Upon what part of the body do you want to be smitten, for your constant rebellion has caused you already to be smitten upon every member of the body? The whole head is sick, the whole heart is diseased. From the soles of the feet to the top of the head there is not a sound part; but bruises, gashes, and raw, bleeding, dripping, rotten, foul, and gangrenous sores: they have not been cleaned, bandaged, or softened with oil. What a picture of the moral corruption of Judah!
v This was literally fulfilled about 175-180 years after this stern prediction. Many times hereafter the word desolate is used of the coming destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (v 7; 6:11; 62:4; Jer. 4:27; 6:8; 7:24; 9:11; 10:22; 12:11; 18:16; 19:8; 25:38; 26:9; 32:43; 33:10-12; 44:6; 46:9; 49:20; Ezek. 6:14; 15:8; 25:3). Babylon fulfilled this (Jer. 25), for the land was not made desolate until that kingdom defeated God's people

k See 14 things God not able to endure, p. 427
l Heb. aven, vanity. Not avon as in note p, v 4. Convocations, sabbaths, incense burning, and sacrifices are not sinful in themselves, but are vain and powerless to save the soul; they do not please God apart from a person's godly living (v 13) m Monthly feasts and new-moon and other rituals became hated of God, so He vowed to do away with them (v 13-14; Hos. 2:11). Christians are not under bondage to the sabbath and other things of the law because the law of Moses was abolished (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17). See law in Index n My soul - God has a personal soul, as well as a personal body and spirit; and He is capable of feelings, emotions, desires, and soul passions as other beings (v 14; 42:1; Lev. 26:11, 30; Heb. 10:38; note r, Jn. 4:24; 548)
o God becomes weary of trouble and other things in the same sense as we do (v 14; 7:13). The Heb. la'ah here means to tire; be disgusted; grieve; loathe; be weary. Not the same as yaga in 40:28, which means that God tires or becomes fatigued or exhausted by labor and toil p These hands were full of blood, so God could not regard them as being holy hands lifted up in prayer to Him (v 15; 1 Tim. 2:8)
q Though men should continue praying until they have an answer (Lk. 18:1-8), they are not heard for their many prayers or much praying (v 15; Mt. 6:5-8) s Let us settle the differences or put the matter right that is between us (v 18). Such reasoning as this - where both parties state their own case, will put an end to all other reasoning and questioning. The sinner will see his need and give himself to God then God will be just in cleansing him from all sin and making him His son t Heb. chata, to sin; miss the mark u The word scarlet here refers to a deep dye obtained from a small worm found on the leaves of an oak in Mediterranean countries. The Heb. shanah from which shanly (scarlet) is derived means double or duplicate; and the idea is that if one's sins have been doubledipped in the deep dye of scarlet color of the coccus worm they have a fixed permanency; but if he will confess his sins (which is pre-supposed here), they will become as white as snow. Though sins have become deep-dyed as the stain of a permanent color in wool, yet they will be removed as such coloring from the wool when it is restored to its original whiteness (v

6 Destroyed as a waste garden
7 The strong shall be consumed like tow (v 31)
8 Makers of idols to be the spark to this destruction
9 Idols and their makers to be destroyed by fire together
10 None shall quench the fire of judgment

m Heb. azab, to loosen; relinquish; fail; forsake; leave; refuse. No man could do this who had not known God at one time and who did not have Him to forsake; so this clearly refers to backsliders who reject Him to the point of being destroyed (v 28). Men are warned not to forsake God (Dt. 12:19; 14:27). The Lord predicted that His people would forsake Him and warned of the damnation that would follow if they did so (v 28; Dt. 31:16-17; 1 Chr. 28:9; 2 Chr. 15:2) n The trees resorted to in idolatrous worship (v 29-31; 57:5; 65:3; 66:17; 2 Ki. 16:4; 17:10; Ezek. 6:13). Note the alternation of oaks and gardens (v 29) to oak and garden (v 30). Many trees were cut off at the tops and left as totem poles, having idols carved on them. See Asherah, p. 106

t His temple or capital building, which is the Millennial temple described in Ezek. 40:4-47:12. See Ezek. 43:7

u God always has been a "mountaineer," dwelling on a mountain. The Holy City, the New Jerusalem itself is a mountain city (note e, Rev. 21:10). This Lord's house of v 2 is called the mountain of the Lord and the house of the God of Jacob, also Zion and Jerusalem (v 3). Cp. Ps. 24:3. See 18 facts about mountains, p. 628

v The highway of holiness of 11:16; 19:23; 35:8 refers to a literal one to be built from Egypt through Palestine and into Assyria, on which all nations will go up to the temple where Christ will be reigning over all kingdoms of the earth (9:6-7; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 14:1-5,9,16-21; Rev. 5:10; 11:15; 22:4-5)

THE word that I-şā'iah the son of Ā'mŏz saw concerning Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lĕm.
*2 [q]And it shall come to pass in the [r]last days, that the [s]mountain of the LORD'S [t]house shall be established in [u]the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it.
3 And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us [v]go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jā'cob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zi'ŏn shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jē-ru'sā-lĕm.
4 And he shall judge among

(2) Chastisement before blessing (2:5-4:1. Cp. Lev. 26; Dt. 4:26; 27:1-30:20; Rom. 11). A Chance to avoid chastening (Cp. Jer. 18:11; Hos. 10:12; Amos 5:4)

●5 [a]House of Jā'cob, [b]come ye, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.

B Refusal: eight national sins (cp. Jer. 11:8; 23:9; Hos. 4:1; Mic. 3:9)

*6 ¶ [c]Therefore thou [d]hast forsaken thy people the house of Jā'cob, [e]because they be [f]replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Phĭ-lĭs'- tĭnes, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.
7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures;
their land is also full of horses neither is there any end of their chariots:
8 Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made:
9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man hum-bleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

C The day of the Lord (2:17-21. Cp. Ps. 34:8; Jer. 46:10; Ezek. 13:5; 30:3; Joel 1:15-3:14; Amos 5:18; Oba. 15; Zeph. 1:7, 8, 18; 2:2-3; Zech. 14; Mal. 4:5; 1 Thess. 5:2; 2 Thess. 2:1-12). (a) Compulsive humbling

●10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty.
11 The lofty looks of man shall be [g]humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted [h]in that day.
12 For [i]the day of the LORD of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up;
and he shall be brought low:
13 And upon all the cedars of Lĕb'a-non, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bā'shan, 14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up, 15 And upon every high tower,
and upon every fenced wall, 16 And upon all [j]the ships of Tär'shish, and [k]upon all pleasant pictures.
17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: [l]and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

(b) Idolatry abolished

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

a This is a picture of universal peace, a contrast of universal war as in Joel 3:9-16, which will be fulfilled at the battle of Armageddon (Zech. 14; Rev. 16:13-16; 19:11-21)

b This will be eternally true, for in the last rebellion of Satan and man against God and Christ, at the end of the Millennium, there will not be the manufacture of weapons or any learning of the art of war. The rebels will be deceived by Satan to think that they can overthrow the government in one sudden surprising attack with whatever weapons they may have to fight with; but fire will come down from God and destroy every rebel - that will officially end all rebellion on earth (Rev. 20:7-10)

c House of Jacob is found 9 times in Isaiah (v 5-6; 8:17; 10:20; 14:1; 29:22; 46:3; 48:1; 58:1)

d Here Judah and Jerusalem were commanded again to come and walk in the light of the Lord to avoid chastening and destruction (v 5). God always makes such offers to those whom He warns of impending judgment; then if they persist in rebellion He has to fulfil His word and judge them. Cp. 1:16-18

e 4th prophecy in Isa. (2:6-21; v 6-9 fulfilled, v 10-21 unfulfilled). Next, 3:1. See p. 732

f God swore that if Israel forsook Him, He would forsake them, so here was the final act of God in keeping His word (v 6; Dt. 31:17; 1 Chr. 28:9; 2 Chr. 15:2. Cp. 2 Tim. 2:12)

g 7 national sins of Judah:
1 Being influenced by others from the east, they have joined them in alliances (v 6). These are soothsayers like the Philistines (v 6; note b, Lk. 12:29)
2 They have intermarried with other nations and produce many strange children (v 6. Cp. Neh. 13:23-24). The Sept. reads: "many strange children were born unto them"
3 They have multiplied riches and live to increase their treasures (v 7; 1 Ki. 10:26-29; 2 Chr. 1:15)
4 They have multiplied horses and chariots for war (v 7; Dt. 17:16-17; 2 Chr. 1:16-17)
5 Their land is full of idols and false gods (v 8; 1 Ki. 21:26; 2 Ki. 17:12; 21:11, 21; 23:24)
6 They worship the work of their own hands instead of Jehovah (v 8)
7 The common man and the great man alike bow down to these idols (v 9)

h Replenished or made full of influences, habits, and ways of life from the east and traffic with familiar spirits (v 6; note b, Lk. 12:29)

i These verses (10-21) picture compulsive humbling before God, while v 6-9 picture voluntary humbling before idols of all kinds. The time of such compulsive humbling is in the future day of the Lord (v 12), while the voluntary humbling has been in all generations past j Generally in the prophets, and always in scriptures mentioning the day of the Lord, such expressions as in that day and at that day refer to the time in which prophecies of this kind will be fulfilled (v 11, 12, 17, 20). In that day is used 50 times by Isaiah, compared to only 35 times by all the other 15 writing prophets.

k The day of the Lord is the day in which Christ will come to set up His kingdom in the world - the Millennium, when it will be the Lord's day to reign on earth and not man's day any longer (p. 226 of N.T.)

l To make the cedars, oaks, high mountains, hills, high towers, fenced walls, and ships of Tarshish figurative is without foundation. Such things will be destroyed several times in the tribulation, the last 7 years of this age that usher in the day of the Lord (Rev. 6:12-17; 8:7-11; 16:3, 8, 12, 17-21)

m Ships of Tarshish (Spain) were ocean-going vessels (v 16; 23:1-14; 60:9; 66:19; 2 Chr. 9:21; 20:36-37; Ps. 48:7; 72:10; Jer. 10:9; Ezek. 26:12, 25; 38:13; Jonah 1:3)

n This could refer to the art treasures of earth; it means desirable pictures or objects (v 16)

o This is repeated for emphasis (v 11, 17)

a If men will do this under the 6th seal nearly 7 years before the 2nd advent of Christ (Rev. 6:12-17), they will surely do it at the 2nd advent itself, for at that time there will be the greatest earthquake ever, the cities of the nations will fall, Babylon will be destroyed, Jerusalem will be divided into 3 parts, and the mount of Olives will be completely removed in a moment (v 19; Rev. 11:13; 16:17-21; 18: 1-24; Zech. 14:1-5)

b 2 reasons men will hide:
1 For fear of the Lord-what He will do to them when He comes. (Repeated for emphasis, v 10, 19)
2 For the glory of His majesty which will shake the whole earth terribly. (Also repeated for emphasis, v 10, 19)
This could refer to no other event than the literal visible coming of Christ and God, the Father in glory with all the holy angels and the armies of heaven on white horses (Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 16:27; 24:29-31; 25:31-46; 26:64; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 1:7; 11:15; 19:11-21)

c At the 2nd advent of Christ He will literally shake the earth. Repeated here for emphasis (v 19, 21). Pictures of this scene come to mind easily from the plain detailed descriptions of the event in many scriptures (v 19-21; 24: 18-20; Ezek. 38:17-23; Zech. 14:1-5; Lk. 21:25-28; Rev. 16:17-21). Compare this shaking of the earth with that of both the earth and the heavens 1,000 years later when they will be renovated by fire (Heb. 1:10-12; 12:25-28; 2 Pet. 3:10-13)

d In that day-the day of the Lord (v 20 with v 11, 12, 17)

e Men will be so panic stricken that their idols of silver and gold and all other valuables will be thrown away and they themselves will seek any kind of hiding place in order to get away, if possible, from the presence of God (v 20-21; Rev. 16:17-21)

f Moles-small animals that burrow in the ground, live in the dark and subsist on roots (v 20; Lev. 11:30)

g Bats-winged creatures that live in old ruins and caves, flying only at night (v 20; Lev. 11:19; Dt. 14:18). The idea here is that the most prized things will be thrown into obscure and despised places as worthless in the day when God will come with Christ to punish the world

h Here we have another command to avoid chastening before God sends judgment (v 22). The last such command was also contained in one small verse offering Israel escape from judgment by walking in the light (v 5), after which we have the long prophecy of immediate judgment (v 6-9), and future judgment in the day of the Lord (v 10-21). After this 2nd command there is a longer prophecy of immediate judgment (3:6-9), and future judgment in the day of the Lord (3:16-4:6). See note d, 2:5. All God asked here was that Judah cease from trusting in man (v 22); and because they would not do this they had to be judged (3: 1-15)

682 CHAPTER 3

E Immediate judgment: twentyfold ruin by Babylon

FOR, behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, doth take away from Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm and from Jū'dah the [k]stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The [l]mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.

4 And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand:

7 [m]In that day shall he swear, saying, I will not be an [n]healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: [o]make me not a ruler of the people.

F Fourfold cause of ruin (cp. 1:21, refs.)

8 For Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm [p]is ruined, and Jū'dah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

9 ¶ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sŏd'om, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.

G Six classes in Judah (3: 10-26). (a) Righteous: blessing

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

(b) Wicked: cursing

11 [q]Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.

(c) People: oppressed

12 ¶ As for my people, [r]children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, [s]they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The LORD standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people.

(d) Rulers: oppressors

14 The LORD will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15 [t]What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

(e) Daughters: judged

●16 ¶ Moreover the LORD saith, Because the daughters of Zī'ŏn are [u]haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:

17 [v]Therefore the Lord will smite with a [w]scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zī'ŏn, and the LORD will [x]discover their secret parts.

18 [y]In that day the Lord will take away the [z]bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon,

19 [1]The chains, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings, and nose jewels,

22 The changeable suits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the crisping pins,

23 The glasses, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the veils.

24 And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet smell there shall be [2]stink; and instead of a girdle a [3]rent; and instead of well set hair [4]baldness; and instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth; and [5]burning instead of beauty.

(f) Sons: slain in war

25 [a]Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war.

26 And her gates shall lament and mourn; and she being desolate shall [b]sit upon the ground.

CHAPTER 4 683

(3) The Millennium (cp. 2:1, refs.). A Men few: daughters humbled

AND [c]in that day [d]seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name, to take away our a This shows the extreme weakness and ruin of Judah in their sinful days. To say that women and children ruled is to express the idea of weak and inexperienced rulers. This could also refer to the influence of the harem and the females at court, or to the kings and princes of Judah being effeminate and destitute of vigor and manliness in ruling the people (v 12)

b This perhaps refers to the prophets and teachers of Judah who themselves were leading sinful lives, flattering the people, and promising them safety in their sins (v 12; 9:15; 28:7; Jer. 6:10; 8:10; 14:18; 23:11). For this erring from the right way the Lord promised to judge His people (v 13-15)

c Question 5, Next, 5:4

d 5 things God hates in women, p. 512

e 8 judgments upon women, p. 512

f Meaning to make bald by some scalp disease, doing away with the hair, a great source of pride to women. Nothing could be more humiliating than to become bald (v 17). This could also refer to shaving the head by victors in war, as done many times to slaves; this would be in harmony with the last verses (v 25-26) where it is predicted that the men would be slain in war. To take the hair by any means is to deprive the women of the glory given her for a covering (1 Cor. 11:15)

g This could refer to the scarcity of clothing or being literally striped of all clothes and suffering the shame and indignities that women slaves had to endure many times at the hands of their captors (v 17). Zechariah speaks of the women being ravished in the battle of Armageddon, and this could be the direct reference (Zech. 14:1-5)

h In that day here refers to the day of the Lord when this will be fulfilled, for in that day continues with a picture of the Millennium (4:1-6)

i Literally, finery of ornaments (v 18)

j See 22 kinds of ornaments, p. 474

k Instead of the sweet perfumes everybody considered necessary when going out in public there would be rottenness, a stench, and an offensive smell such as attends the decomposition of a diseased body (v 24)

l Instead of a beautiful girdle a rope, suggesting extreme poverty. The poor had nothing else to use in girding up their clothes (v 24)

m Instead of hair-the pride of women when curiously braided and adorned, there was to be no hair because of the scalp disease upon them (v 24)

n Heb. kiy, a brand or scar (v 24). This perhaps refers to the scars from long suffering they would have to endure if ravished in the war of Zech. 14:1-5, the beauty of women being marred by mistreatment from the soldiers under Antichrist

o This refers to the slaying of many men in Judah in the war when Jerusalem will be surrounded and half taken by Antichrist before Christ comes to deliver them (v 25-26; Zech. 14:1-5, 14; Rev. 19:11-21)

p Sitting upon the ground was a posture denoting great distress (v 26; Job 2:13; Ps. 137:1; Lam. 2:10; 3:28; Jer. 6:26; Mic. 1:10)

q And in that day-the day of the Lord, the 2nd advent of Christ and the Millennium when these things will be fulfilled (v 1-6)

r This expresses the scarcity of men after the tribulation and the battle of Armageddon (3:25-26; Zech. 13:8-14:5). There will not be enough men for all women to have husbands; nevertheless, there is no indication in Scripture that God will allow any to have many wives when Christ comes to reign

2 [a]In that day shall the [b]branch of the LORD be beautiful and glorious, and the [c]fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely for them that are [d]escaped of Iṣ'ra-el.

C People holy (Zech. 14: 16-21)

3 And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zi'ŏn, and he that remaineth in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, [e]shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm:

4 [f]When the Lord [g]shall have washed away the [h]filth of the daughters of Zi'ŏn, and shall have purged the blood of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm from the midst thereof [i]by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

D God's glory restored (cp. Ex. 40:34; 2 Chr. 7:1; Ezek. 10:18; 43:1-7)

5 And the LORD will [j]create upon every dwelling place of mount Zi'ŏn, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence.

6 And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain.

684 CHAPTER 5

6 Song of God's vineyard (5: 1-7. Cp. 27:2-11; Ps. 80:8-16; Jer. 2:21; Ezek. 15:1-8). (1) Sevenfold care (27:2-6)

NOW [k]will I sing to my well-beloved [l]a song of my beloved [m]touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill:

2 And he fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also made a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

(2) Inquiry of God (27:7)

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and [n]men of Jū'dah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 [o]What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?

(3) Answer: ninefold judgment (cp. 27:8; Jer. 4:8; 5: 13; 8:10; Mt. 21:43-46)

5 And now go to; [p]I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

(4) Application: sins of Judah (cp. Isa. 28; Jer. 2; Ezek. 16)

7 [q]For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is [r]the house of Iṣ'ra-el, and the men of Jū'dah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry.

7 Six woes on Judah (5:8-23. Cp. 28:1, 7; 29:1, 15; 30:1; 31:1; 33:1; Amos 5:18; 6:1; Hab. 2:9; Mt. 23:13-36; Lk. 11:39-54). (1) Woe for covetousness

8 ¶ Woe unto them that join house to house, [s]that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

9 In mine ears said the LORD of hosts, [t]Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant.

10 Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield [u]one bath, and the seed of an [v]homer shall yield an ephah.

(2) Woe for drunkenness

11 ¶ Woe unto them [w]that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!

12 And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the LORD, neither consider the operation of his hands.

13 [x]Therefore my people are gone into captivity, [y]because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

14 [z]Therefore [aa]hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: [bb]and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall [cc]descend into it.

15 And the [dd]mean man shall be brought down, and the [ee]mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the [ff]lofty shall be humbled:

16 But the LORD of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness.

17 Then shall the [gg]lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.

(3) Woe for iniquities

18 Woe unto them that [hh]draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope:

19 That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Iṣ'ra-el draw nigh and come,

a In that day - the Millennium (v 1-6) b Christ is the Branch of the Lord that shall be beautiful and glorious in the earth in the Millennium and New Earth periods forever (v 2; 9:6-7; 11:1; Jer. 23:5; 33:15; Zech. 3:8; 6:12; 14:1-9; Rev. 11:15) c The earth will be restored to normal fertility and productivity when Christ comes (v 2; 35:1-7; 58:11-12; Joel 2: 21-27)
d A remnant of Israel shall escape the future tribulation and battle of Armageddon (v 2-3; Zech. 13:8-14:14; Mt. 24:31; 25:31-46). The Israel here is none other than Judah and all the people of the 13 tribes in this kingdom, as is clear from 1:2; 2:1; 3:1, 8; 5:3, 7; etc.
e All the Jews left in Jerusalem after Armageddon will be converted; and they will be holy when Christ comes (v 3; 59:20-21; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 23: 37-39; Rom. 11:25-29)
f When - after the Lord has saved all the Jews in Jerusalem (v 3-4), and purged the city from all crime, the Lord will then create upon every dwelling in it a pillar of fire by night and a pillar of cloud by day, and do the other things predicted in v 5-6
g 2 things God will do (v 4):
1 Wash away the filth of the daughters of Zion
2 Purge the blood of Jerusalem
h The filth of the daughters of Zion is listed in 3:16-24 as being the pride, haughtiness, lasciviousness, and vulgar show of dress
i 2 means God uses to purge sin (v 4):
1 The spirit of judgment. This is what brings men low enough to turn to Him for mercy. It destroys the ungodly and refines the godly 2 The spirit of burning. This could only refer to God's wrath when He comes to punish the wicked at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 4; 1:25-31; 2:10-21; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mal. 2:2-3; Mt. 3: 11-12; 25:31-46)
j See 3 things God will create, p. 502
k 6th prophecy in Isa. (5:1-30, fulfilled). Next, 6:9. See p. 732
l In ch. 5 we have a complete prophecy not connected with the chapters before or after it, except in message. It is like ch. 1 in that it gives a detailed reproof of the Jews for their sins, and adds curse upon curse predicted to come upon them through the Babylonian invasion of Judah, which was fulfilled about 150 years afterward. It is a more forceful, severe, and varied prophecy than the one of ch. 1. Here Isaiah sings a song to Jehovah whom he calls my well-beloved, calling it a song of my beloved (Jehovah) concerning His vineyard which He has in a very fruitful place (v 1) m See Song and Songs in Index
n 8fold description of God's vineyard:
1 Jehovah has a vineyard in a very fruitful hill (v 1)
2 He fenced it (v 2)
3 Gathered out the stones from it
4 Planted it with the choicest vine
5 Built a tower in the midst of it
6 Made a winepress in it
7 Expected it to bring forth good grapes
8 It brought forth wild grapes
o 3 things God asked Judah to do:
1 To judge between Him and His vineyard and decide certain matters (v 3)
2 Tell Jehovah what He should have done that He had not done to make His vineyard produce good grapes (v 4) 3 Tell Him why it brought forth wild grapes when He had planted the choicest vine p Questions 6-7. Next, 6:8
q 8fold judgment on Jehovah's vineyard:
1 I will take away the hedge from it (v 5)
2 The vineyard shall be eaten up
3 I will break down the wall from round about it
4 The vineyard shall be trodden down
5 I will lay it waste (v 6)
6 I will not prune it or cultivate it
7 There shall come up briers and thorns
8 I will command the clouds that they do not rain upon it a Jehovah explained His own parable by stating that His vineyard was the house of Israel and His pleasant plant the men of Judah; and that He expected to harvest good grapes of justice and righteousness but instead the vine produced oppression and injustice until there was a great cry for mercy coming up to Him (v 7) b Here again we have the terms the house of Israel and the men of Judah used of the same people, Judah and Jerusalem, to whom Isaiah was sent to prophesy (1:1; 2:1; 3:1, 8, 16, 17; 4:3-6; 5:7). As seen on p. 389, multitudes of the 10 tribes were so completely destroyed in Isaiah's time (2 Ki. 17) that Judah was the only kingdom of Israel left. The Israel he mentions are the same people as Judah and have the same destiny in that all the 13 tribes will be gathered to become one nation again in Palestine under the Messiah at the 2nd advent (11:10-16; 66:19-21)

c 6 "woe's" in chapter 5:
1 Woe to the covetous (v 8)
2 Woe to the drunkards (v 11)
3 Woe to those that multiply sin (v 18-19)
4 Woe to those that have no sense of right and wrong because of depravity (v 20)
5 Woe to those who are proud and wise in their own eyes (v 21)
6 Woe to drunkards who justify the wicked and condemn the righteous (v 22-23) d An expression of covetousness. Coveting more fields until they would own them all so as to be great in the earth (v 8)
e 2 judgments in v 9-10:
1 Many houses, even the great and most beautiful ones, shall be desolate. Even though you multiply many houses and farms (as in v 8), they shall become desolate
2 There will be little yield to crops. 10 acres of vineyard will yield only 8 gallons and 3 pints. Seed sown will produce only 10 per cent of what was sown (v 10) f A bath was the same as an ephah - 1 bushel and 3 pints (or 8 gallons and 3 pints). See Ezek. 45:10-11
g An homer was 10 baths or 10 ephahs - about 10 1/2 bushels
h 4 sins of Judah:
1 Continually drinking wine and becoming inflamed thereby (v 11)
2 Revelling with music, wine and food - following the pattern of: Eat, drink, and be merry (v 12; Eccl. 8:15; Lk. 12:19)
3 Disregarding the work of Jehovah (v 12)
4 Having no consideration for His salvation and blessings (v 12. Cp. Col. 2:11)
i Because of these sins judgment will come to Judah and Jerusalem, and they will go into captivity. See other judgments predicted here (note k, 5:1) j This was another great cause for judgment - no knowledge (v 13)
k In view of so many going to hell that should go to heaven, the place was to be enlarged (v 14) - not enlarged as to actual dimensions but made bigger because of more people going there. Hell is already measureless, so it simply opens its mouth to the extra multitudes who normally should be saved and would be saved from such a place if they would obey God (v 14)

l Heb. sheol. See Hell in Index
m 4 things that inherit hell:
1 The glory of sinful men (v 8-10)
2 Great numbers of sinful men (v 13-14)
3 The pomp of sinful men (v 11-12)
4 All who rejoice in sin n Hell is beneath the earth, so men who are wicked descend into it (v 14; Num. 16:30-33; Ps. 63:9; 68:18; Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10; Ezek. 31:14-18; 32:24-27)
o The common man
p The peer, the great man of earth. See notes on 2:10-17
q The proud of the earth
r Meaning that human habitations would become pastures for animals (v 17)
s Who sin by the cart-load. The cart rope implies cart-load. Sin and iniquity abounded and multiplied until the whole became enormous. It was like a rope maker increasing the length of his rope so that there was no end to the increase of sins

[a] Note the boldness of sinners-inviting God to make speed and hasten His threatened judgment that they might see it; and to let His counsel come quickly that they might know it! This is the spirit of men who are totally abandoned to evil. Their conscience is seared, as with a hot iron, and they are hardened through the deceitfulness of sin to the point of no concern whatever (1 Tim. 4:1-2; Heb. 3:8, 12-14)

[b] The same class of hardened rebels as in note a, above, who have no sense or consciousness of right and wrong. Everything they feel like doing is right in their own eyes; they call evil just as good as good itself; darkness to them is as light itself; bitter is as sweet as sweet itself (v 20). In fact, they love darkness more than light (Jn. 3:18-12)

[c] Of all the deceived people, those who are wise in their own eyes, and think themselves to be something when they are nothing, are the worst (v 21; 1 Cor. 8:2; Gal. 6:3)

[d] This class of drunkards added new sins to their list. Instead of meting out justice to the people, as judges of Judah, they justified the wicked and condemned the righteous, for rewards (v 22-23)

[e] The destruction of Judah was to be like fire burning stubble and chaff, Judah being like rottenness and their blossom like dust to blow away in the day of punishment (v 24)

[f] 16 reasons for Judah's destruction, p. 502

[g] 16 judgments upon Judah, p. 502

[h] The bodies of Judah to be left in the streets of their cities and torn by wild beasts (v 25)

[i] Regardless of the terrible sufferings of Judah, God could not turn away His fierce anger unless the people repented and turned back to Him (v 25. Cp. 9:12, 17, 21; 10:4). See God's 5fold obligation (Lev. 26:14, 18, 21, 24, 28)

[j] In v 26-30 we have a picture of the invasion of Judah by foreign nations coming from afar. Babylon fulfilled this when Nebuchadnezzar conquered Judah and made the land completely desolate, removing the inhabitants from the land (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36; Jer. 25; Dan. 1)

[k] Lift up a banner for the nations to follow from afar (v 26). This means that Jehovah controls all nations and they would do His bidding to punish Judah

[l] In Syria and Palestine bee keepers would hiss and draw bees from their hives into the fields and back into the hives again (v 26; 7:18; 1 Ki. 9:8; Job 27:23; Jer. 19:8; 49:17; 50:13; Lam. 2:15-16; Ezek. 27:36; Zeph. 2:15; Zech. 10:8)

[m] See 18fold description of Babylonian invaders, p. 502

[n] They will be alert to duty

[o] Tightening the girdle was necessary with loose garments in order to work or fight (v 27)

[p] The shoes were tied on so there would be no stopping to re-adjust them, or any risk of losing them while in battle (v 27)

[q] All this pictures the swiftness of the armies of Babylon in war (v 28)

[r] The soldiers of Babylon, Assyria, and other nations were taught to enter into battle yelling and fighting like demons. Here their noise is stated to be like many lions roaring upon their prey, and the roaring of the sea (v 29-30)

That such is bodily healing is also clear in these passages. The prophecy was fulfilled with bodily healing. See Healing in Index

[z] Question 9, Next, 7:13

[a] Until 5 things be fulfilled (v 11-12):
1 Cities of Judah without inhabitants
2 Houses of Judah without inhabitants
3 The land (Palestine) utterly desolate of Jews
4 The Lord has removed Judah far away
5 There is a great apostasy in Judah
This had a double fulfillment-in the Babylonian captivity and the Roman (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36; Jer. 25; Lk. 20: 20-24)

[b] Forsaking of homes and country by reason of captivity among all nations (Lk. 21:20-24)

[c] that we may know it!

(4) Woe for apostasy

20 ¶ Woe unto them[a] that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!

(5) Woe for pride

21 Woe unto [c] them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

(6) Woe for injustice and drinking

22 Woe unto [d] them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink:

23 Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

8 Judah abandoned to judgment (cp. 28:1, 14; 29:1; Jer. 5:9, 29; Hos. 13:3; Mic. 2:3)

24 Therefore [e] as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: [f] because they have cast away the law of the LORD of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Is'ra-el.

25 Therefore is the anger of the LORD kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and [g] hath smitten them: and the hills did tremble, and [h] their carcases were torn in the midst of the streets. [i] For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

9 Immediate judgment: twentyfold ruin by Babylon (cp. Isa. 3:1-7)

26 ¶ And [j] he will [k] lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will [l] hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and, behold,[m] they shall come with speed swiftly:

27 None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall [n] slumber nor sleep; neither shall the [o] girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the [p] latchet of their shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels [q] like a whirlwind:

29 Their [r] roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it.

30 And in that day they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea: [s] and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

685 CHAPTER 6

II Isaiah's new vision and call (6:1-13. Cp. Job 42:5; Jer. 1; Ezek. 1; Dan. 10; Ex. 32; Rev. 1). 1 The vision (Jotham's reign)

IN the year that [a] king Uz-zi'ah died[b] I saw also the Lord[c] sitting upon a [d] throne, [e] high and lifted up, and his[f] train filled[g] the temple.

2 Above [h] it stood the [i] seraphims: each one had six wings; with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet and with twain he did fly.

3 And one[k] cried unto another, and said, [l] Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.

4 And the[m] posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was[n] filled with smoke.

2 Its effect

5 ¶ Then[o] said I, Woe is me! for I am[p] undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: [q] for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.

3 The transformation

6 Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, having [r] a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar:

7 And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips; and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged.

4 The voice from the temple

8 Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, [s] Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then [t] said I, Here am I; send me.

5 The new commission (cp. 1:1)

9 ¶ [u] And he said, [v] Go, and tell this people, [w] Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not. ■

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; [x] lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, [y] and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.

11 Then said I, Lord, [z] how long? And he answered, [a] Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate, 12 And the LORD have removed men far away, and there be a great [b] forsaking in the midst of the land.

13 ¶ But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teil tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

686 CHAPTER 7

III Invasions of Judah: history and prophecy (7:1-12:6). Reign of Ahaz (2 Ki. 16; 2 Chr. 28). 1 Invasion by

[a] Uzziah died 38 years before the destruction of the 10-tribe kingdom of Israel (v 1; 2 Ki. 17). Evidently the prophecies of chs. 1-5 were written before this, or during the reign of Uzziah, leaving only ch. 6 to be written during the reign of Jotham, chs. 7-12 during the reign of Ahaz, and chs. 13-66 during the reign of Hezekiah

[b] Contrast this corruptible, leprous, dying king (v 1; 2 Ki. 15:5) with the Incorruptible and Eternal King of Glory of v 1-5

[c] Isaw. Heb. ra'ah, to see clearly (v 5; 21:6-7). Isaiah was just one of many who actually saw God bodily. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

[d] See 6fold description of Jehovah, p. 502

[e] 7 facts about God's throne, p. 502

[f] High and exalted in the temple (v 1)

[g] Heb. shuwl, robe. Trans. train here; skirts (Jer. 13:22, 26; Lam. 1:9; Neh. 3:5); and hem (Ex. 28:33-34; 39:24-26). Here the long flowing robe seems to have filled the throne room of the temple. Orientals regarded long robes as indicative of grandeur and majesty

[h] What temple is referred to is not stated, but evidently it was Solomon's and the room was the holy of holies, for there is not the slightest reference to Isaiah going to heaven to see God in His own temple there, as John was taken to heaven to see God and which is referred to in Rev. 4-5. References to earth (v 3) and people of earth (v 9-12) indicate that the vision was on earth

[i] Above the throne on which God sat

[j] See Seraphims, p. 632

[k] This chanting goes on day and night. It seems that seraphims answer one another; then, they and the zoa answer one another (v 3; Rev. 4:6-8)

[l] Compare this chant with Rev. 4:8

[m] See Voice in Index

[n] This is the first time the smoke of the glory of God is referred to as filling the temple (v 4). See Rev. 15:8

[o] Note 5fold effect of the vision in v 5

[p] The essence of true conviction is a deep overwhelming concern over what I am, not what I have done or not done. What man is is more important than what he has done. Even God is more interested in His servants than what they do for Him. Holiness of life is more important than holiness of doctrine; and right doing is infinitely more important than talk about it

[q] Isaiah had the ancient superstitious feeling that if one saw God he would die, but here again we have an example proving that this is not so. Naturally, a man seeing the all-holy God would feel unclean, undone, and corrupt before His presence, but it carries no death sentence. See Gen. 32:30; Judg. 6:22-23; 13:22

[r] The live coal did not cleanse the prophet; it was merely a sign to him of assurance that the message he heard about his being cleansed was true. Genuine moral cleansing can only be accomplished by faith in the blood of Christ (Rom. 3:24-25; Heb. 9:22; 1 Pet. 1:18-23; 1 Jn. 1:7-9; Rev. 1:5)

[s] Question 8, Next, v 11

[t] Never did a man, nor could a man, answer the call of God more quickly than Isaiah

7 examples of men slow to obey:
1 Moses (Ex. 3-4) 5 Jonah (Jonah 1:1-2
2 Barak (Judg. 4-5) 17)
3 Gideon (Judg. 6) 6 Balaam (Num. 22)
4 Jeremiah (Jer. 1; 7 Peter (Jn. 21:15-4-10) 24; Acts 10:9-22)

[u] 7th prophecy in Isa. (6:9-13, fulfilled). Next, 7:3. See 10 predictions, p. 732

[v] This was not Isaiah's original commission, but his special call for this great dispensational prophecy, which is quoted 7 times in the N. T. of Jews in the days of Christ and the apostles (Mt. 13:14-15; Mk. 4:12; Lk. 8:10; Jn. 12:39-40; Acts. 28:26-27; Rom. 11:8)

[w] 3 things Judah did here (v 9-10)

[x] 3 reasons they did this (v 10)

[y] 3 blessings of right seeing and hearing:
1 Understanding with the heart (v 10)
2 Conversion to God and the gospel
3 Healing of the body
That conversion and healing of the body go hand in hand is clear here; and in Mt. 8:16-17; 9:1-8; 13:14-15; Jn. 10:10; Jas. 5:14-16; 1 Pet. 2:24.

a Chs. 7-12 were written during the reign of Ahaz. They contain many references to the 10-tribe kingdom being in league with Syria against Judah, and to the coming Assyrian invasion of both kingdoms of Israel, and end with prophecies of the Millennium. For the historical background of the reign of Ahaz see 2 Ki. 15:37-16:5

b Pekah's reign was the last prosperous one in the 10-tribe kingdom of Israel. It began 2 years before Uzziah died and continued to the 3rd year of the reign of Ahaz; so these events happened during the first years of the reign of Ahaz

c See 2 Ki. 16:5-6 d The house of David, for it was not to Ahaz only, but to David in particular that God gave the promise of protection (2 Sam. 7)

e The northern kingdom of the 10 tribes is called Ephraim here because that was the leading tribe (v 2); and for the same reasons Judah is distinguished among all the other tribes. This is why we have the terms Judah and Israel in some passages

f His (Ahaz's) heart and that of his people were moved like trees when shaken with the wind (v 2)

g 8th prophecy in Isa. (7:3-9, fulfilled). Next, v 10. See 3 predictions fulfilled, p. 732

h Shear-jashub, a remnant shall return. Son of Isaiah whose name was designed to confirm a prophecy (v 3; 10:21)

i A conduit-a pipe, or other conductor of water. The upper pool or pond is called Gihon. It lies in the basin forming the valley of Hinnom, about 700 yards from the Joppa gate on the west side of the city. The sides of the pool are built of hewn stones laid in cement, with steps at the corners. The bottom is level

The dimensions are:

Length from east to west	316 ft.
Breadth at west end	200 ft.
Breadth at east end	218 ft.
Depth at each end	18 ft.

Lower pool dimensions:

Length at middle section	592 ft.
Breadth at north end	245 ft.
Breadth at south end	275 ft.
Depth at north end	35 ft.
Depth at south end	42 ft.

j 4 commands to Ahaz (v 4):

1 Take heed	4 Neither be faint-hearted
2 Be quiet
3 Fear not

k 3 things not be be afraid of:
1 The fierce anger of Rezin, king of Syria (v 4)
2 The fierce anger of Pekah, king of Israel
3 The evil counsel of Syria and Ephraim against you in plotting your defeat to set a king in Jerusalem (v 5-6)

l In this figure of speech the kings of Syria and Ephraim are called tails of smoking firebrands, picturing harmlessness from these two. They were not tails set on fire to set everything else on fire which they contacted; they were only smoking tails and the harmless conclusion of what had been formidable enemies in the past (v 4). To predict their destruction by Assyria within 65 years was the purpose of this prophecy (v 7-9)

m That is, Rezin, king of Syria. Ephraim had fallen to a low, depraved state to co-operate with a foreign nation against their own race of the southern kingdom of Israel in an effort to put the king of Syria on Judah's throne n The 65 years were made up of:

13 years of the reign of Ahaz (2 Ki. 15:27; 16:3)
29 years or the reign of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 18:1-2)
23 years of the reign of Manasseh (2 Ki. 21:1)

o 9th prophecy in Isa. (7:10-25, fulfilled). Next, 8:1. See 12 predictions fulfilled, p. 732 p Ahaz was told by God to ask any kind of sign and He would give it to prove that Jehovah would protect him from the kings of Syria and Ephraim (v 11). He was so unbelieving that he said he would not ask a sign (v 12). He really wanted to seek help from Assyria and continue in idolatry (2 Ki. 16:7-9); and this is what God was weary about

q Question 10. Next, 8:19

Syria and Israel (7:1-16). (1) Confederacy of Syria and Israel against Judah (2 Ki. 15:37-16:6; 2 Chr. 28)

AND it came to pass[a] in the days of Ā'hāz the son of Jō'tham, the son of Ŭz-zī'ah, king of Jū'dah, that Rē'zin the king of Sȳr'ī-ā, and[b] Pē'kah the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah, king of Ĭs'ra-el, went up toward Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

2 And it was told[d] the house of Dā'vid, saying, Sȳr'ī-ā is confederate with[e] Ē'phrā-ĭm. And [f]his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.

(2) Divine interposition (7:3-16). A Fourfold exhortation

3 [g]Then said the LORD unto Ī-sā'iah, Go forth now to meet Ā'hāz, thou, and [h]Shĕ'ār-jā'shŭb thy son, at the end of the [i]conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field;

4 And say unto him, [j]Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither be fainthearted[k] for the two tails of these [l]smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rē'zin with Sȳr'ī-ā, and of the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah.

5 Because Sȳr'ī-ā, Ē'phrā'ĭm, and the son of Rĕm-a-lī'ah, have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Jū'dah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tā'be-al:

B Threefold conditional prophecy (2 Ki. 17:7-17:41)

7 Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.

8 For the head of Sȳr'ī-ā is Dā-măs'cus, and the head of Dā-măs'cus is Rē'zin; [m]and within threescore and five years shall Ē'phrā-ĭm be broken, that it be not a people.

9 And the head of Ē'phrā-ĭm is Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, and the head of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā is Rĕm-a-lī'ah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.

C Unlimited proposal to Ahaz

10 [o]Moreover the LORD spake again unto Ā'hāz, saying,

11 [p]Ask thee a sign of the LORD thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.

D False piety of Ahaz

12 But Ā'hāz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the LORD.

E God's prophetical rebuke: sign of the Virgin Birth (Mt. 1:18, refs.)

13 And he said, Hear ye now, O house of Dā'vid; Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign; Behold, [a]a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name [b]Im-măn'u-el.

15 [c]Butter and [d]honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.

2 Invasion of Judah by Assyria (7:17-25). (1) Invasion announced

17 ¶ The LORD [e]shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ē'phrā-ĭm [f]departed from Jū'dah; even the [g]king of Ās-sȳr'ī-ā.

(2) Fly-bee: overflowing army

18 And it shall come to pass [h]in that day, that the LORD [i]shall hiss for the [j]fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Ē'gўpt, and for the bee that is in the land of Ās-sȳr'ī-ā.

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes.

(3) Razor: clean destruction

20 [k]In the same day shall the Lord shave with a [l]razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Ās-sȳr'ī-ā, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.

(4) A remnant (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, [m]that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep;

22 And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

(5) Complete desolation (cp. 32:9; Jer. 14:1; 44:1, 20; Ezek. 12:19; Hos. 13:15; Mic. 3:12)

23 And it shall come to pass [n]in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briers and thorns.

24 With arrows and with bows shall men come thither; because all the land shall become briers and thorns.

25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the [o]mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattle.

CHAPTER 8 687

3 Invasion of Syria and Israel by Assyria (2 Ki. 16:7-17:41)

a See Virgin birth, p. 505

b See Immanuel, p. 505

c Butter, curdled milk (v 15; Job 20:17). This was the common way to use milk in the East

d Butter and honey were usual food for children. The infant was first nourished with honey, and then with milk. Hence, the prophecy about the child Isaiah had with him when he gave this message to Ahaz (v 3), that he would not be weaned or old enough to discern between good and evil before the 2 kings would be destroyed (v 15-16)

e Instead of being told to fear the trouble that was to come from Syria and Ephraim, Ahaz was warned of Assyria whom he was trusting in for deliverance (v 17). Rezin and Pekah did defeat Ahaz because of his continued sins. Multitudes of Jews were taken captive to Syria and 200,000 to Ephraim; besides this, 120,000 were killed in one day (2 Chr. 28:1-15). Edomites and Philistines had also invaded his country (2 Chr. 28:16-23). He had appealed for help from Assyria, but instead the king had become his enemy (2 Ki. 16:7-8; 2 Chr. 28:20). Later the Assyrains came against Judah in the days of Hezekiah and conquered the land, except Jerusalem (37:1-39:8; 2 Ki. 18-19). Assyria also took the 10 tribes captive (2 Ki. 17), and thus brought days of trouble such as never before in Israel, upon both Ephraim and Judah (v 17)

f The nation of Israel was divided into 2 kingdoms, 1009 B.C. (1 Ki. 12)

g See 10:5; 36:1-37:38; 2 Ki. 15:19-20; 16:7-17:41; 18:17-19:37

h In that day-not the Millennium here, but when Assyria and Egypt would invade Judah (v 18)

i See note 1, 5:26

j The invading Assyrian and Egyptian armies are compared to flies and bees in number, and the trouble, and destruction that such creatures cause. The fly referred to here is the dog-fly which is a little larger than the bee. The head is big, the upper jaw is sharp and has a pointed hair about 1/4 in. long attached to it. The lower jaw has two such hairs and when joined together they are as strong as a hog's bristle. Flies of this kind are a deadly plague in certain places and when their buzzing is heard cattle run wildly about suffering from fatigue, fright, and hunger. Even elephants, camels and other animals cannot withstand the terror of these creatures which puncture the skin with their pointed proboscis, causing the body to swell and break out with sores, and the beast to die. Bees are also troublesome creatures. The land spoken of as being filled with flies and bees illustrates the multitudes of foreigners who would destroy Judah (v 18-19)

k In the same day-when Judah would be invaded and the land destroyed by the armies of Assyria and Egypt, the destruction would be as clean as a man shaving with a razor (v 20)

l The Assyrian king is compared to a razor that is hired, referring to Ahaz hiring him to help destroy Syria and Ephraim. After this he turned on Judah and became a bigger scourge than the others would have been (v 20; 2 Ki. 16:7-8; 2 Chr. 28:21)

m In that day-when Assyria destroyed Israel there would be only a remnant left so that a cow and 2 sheep (figuratively speaking) would produce plenty for all the men left (v 21-22)

n In that day-when destruction would come to the land, there would be briers and thorns, because of the desolation in the land, in the place of thousands of vines and silver pieces paid as rent on vineyards (v 23). Hunters would search for the many wild animals which would occupy the former habitations of men (v 24). In all former cultivated and productive lands there was to be nothing left but pasturage for animals

o This tool was probably like our grub-ax, and was used in mountainous places where a plow could not be easily handled for turning the soil a 10th prophecy in Isa. (8:1-4, fulfilled). Next, v 5. 2 predictions fulfilled, p. 733

b See Second son of Isaiah, p. 733

c Here God spoke to Isaiah that he should prophesy and write it in a scroll that he was to have a son by the prophetess, his wife, and that he should name the child Maher-shalal-hash-baz as a sign to Israel (v 1-4). He did so and had the prophecy properly recorded before faithful witnesses who could affirm that the prophecy was given before he even went in to the prophetess, so that Judah might believe it was of God (v 2) d The longest name in the Bible text (v 3), but there is another equally as long in the title of Ps. 56

e This was fulfilled about 21 months from the giving of this prophecy - 9 months for the child to be born, and 12 months after its birth; or in the 3rd year of Ahaz (v 4; 2 KI. 16:7-18)

f 11th prophecy in Isa. (8:5-9:7; v 5-9:6a fulfilled; v 6b-7 unfulfilled). Next, 9:8 14 predictions fulfilled, p. 733

g Again - after the prophecy of 7:10

h The 10-tribe kingdom of Samaria referred to in v 4. They were confederate with king Rezin of Syria of Damascus (v 4, 6). The 10-tribe kingdom refused to trust in Judah, referred to as the waters of Shiloah that go softly; and rejoiced in Syria. Because of this it was predicted that the Assyrians from beyond the Euphrates would come and overflow their land like a flood (v 6-7). The king of Assyria would also invade the land of Judah (v 8). This was fulfilled the first time, or partially, about 3 years later when Assyria destroyed Rezin, king of Syria (2 KI. 16:5-18; 2 Chr. 28:20-25), then more completely fulfilled with Israel some 18 years afterward when the 10 tribes were taken captive (2 KI. 17). Some remained and were taken captive with Manasseh at the end of the 65 years of 7:8 (2 Chr. 30:1; 31:1; 33:11)

i The waters beneath Zion running from Gihon to the pool of Siloam. The waters here are figurative of Judah, as the waters of the river of v 7 are figurative of Assyria (v 6)

j Probably referring to the different companies or divisions of the Assyrian army that would overflow the land of both houses of Israel (v 8)

k Here we have the second time Immanuel - God with us - is used in Isaiah (7:14; 8:8). Cp. v 10, where it is trans. God is with us. The prophecy concerns the land of the Messiah, the land where He was to be born and where He will reign over all nations forever (v 8; 9:6-7; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 14; Rev. 11:15)

l The Heb. for associate here is ra'a and is trans. various ways - associate yourselves; make friendships; make confederacies; do your worst; tremble; know this; rage away; and other ways. The sense of the passage is that regardless of how the enemies of Judah shall join together and make alliances, such enemies shall be destroyed, for God is with us, and will protect Judah. It could read: Put forth your best effort, you nations; you shall be destroyed. Arm for the struggle; you shall be shattered. Form your plot; it shall not stand. Lay your plans; they shall not prevail; for God is with us (v 9-10)

m The prophet proceeded to explain why Judah should not fear. After saying, for God is with us, he told how the Lord commanded him not to walk in the way of this people, not to call out danger when they cried danger, and not to fear what the people feared; that is, not be afraid of Syria, Ephraim, or Assyria (v 11-12)

n The prophet continued by telling Israel whom to fear - not Syria, Ephraim, Assyria, or any other nation or combination of nations in a confederacy, but to sanctify (set apart, revere, and honor) the Lord of hosts, and let Him be their fear (v 13). This is referred to in 1 Pet. 3:15

o See 4fold result of Messiah's ministry, p. 733

p This proves that the Jews to whom Christ ministered were of all the tribes of Israel

MOREOVER the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Mā'hēr-shāl'al-hāsh'-bāz. ●e

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, U-rī'ah the priest, and Zĕch-a-rī'ah the son of Jĕ-bĕr-e-chi'ah.

●3 And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD to me, Call his name[d] Mā'-hēr-shāl'al-hāsh'-bāz.

4 For [e]before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Dā-mās'cus and the spoil of Sā-mā'rī-ā shall be taken away before the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā.

●5 ¶ [f]The LORD spake also unto me [g]again, saying,

●6 Forasmuch as [h]this people refuseth the [i]waters of Shī-lō'ah that go softly, and rejoice in Rē'zin and Rēm-a-lī'ah's son;

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-ā, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:

4 Judah also invaded (2 Chr. 28:16)

8 And he shall pass through Jū'dah; he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his [j]wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O [k]Im-măn'u-el.

5 Divine interposition (8:9-9:7). (1) False dependence (cp. 8:19, 21; 31:3; Jer. 17:5; Ezek. 17:15; Hos. 7:8; 1 Cor. 3:18)

9 [l]Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.

10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.

11 ¶ For the LORD spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, 12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.

(2) True dependence: twofold (cp. 8:19; 58:6; Jer. 17:5; Ezek. 11:14)

●13 [m]Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.

14 And [n]he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to [o]both the houses of Iş'ra-el, for a [p]gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jĕ-ry'sā-lĕm.

15 And [q]many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

●16 [r]Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.

17 And I will wait upon the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jā'cob, and [s]I will look for him.

(3) Signs of faithfulness (Zech. 6:14)

18 Behold, [t]I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for [u]signs and for wonders in Iş'ra-el from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zī'ŏn.

(4) False and true dependence

19 [v]And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that [w]peep, and that mutter: [x]should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?

20 [y]To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.

(5) Effect of false dependence

21 [z]And they shall pass through it, hardly [a]bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22 And they shall look unto the earth; and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish; and they shall be driven to darkness.

CHAPTER 9 — 688

(6) Israel's twofold hope (Isa. 9:1-7). A Redemption at Messiah's first advent (cp. 7:14; 40:1; 42:1; 49:1; 52:13; 61:1; Mic. 5:1; Zech. 9:9; Mal. 3:1; Mt. 1; Col. 2:14)

[b]NEVERTHELESS the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zĕb'u-lūn and the land of Năph'ta-lī, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jôr'dan, in Gă'lī-lee of the nations.

2 The people that walked in darkness [c]have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

3 [d]Thou hast multiplied the nation, and [e]not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.

4 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Mĭd'ī-an.

5 For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood; but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire.

d This also has a double fulfillment:
1 Isaiah and sons were signs and wonders to Israel (7:3, 15-16; 8:1-4, 18; 20:1-4)
2 The Messiah and His disciples were to be signs and wonders to the world (Mt. 12:39-40; 16:1-4; 24:30; Mk. 16:15-20; Lk. 2:12, 34; Jn. 12:32-33; 14:12-15; 20-30; Acts 2:22, 43; 4:30; 5:12; 8:13; 14:3; Rom. 15:19; 1 Cor. 14:22; 2 Cor. 12:12; Heb. 2:4)

g Questions 11-12. Next, 10:3. Should not the people seek to God for His revelation instead of seeking through the living to the dead? This makes it clear that so-called communications with the dead are not of God and should not be indulged in (v 19)

h The prophet's great call to all men to try everything by the revealed Word of God (v 20). Anything contrary to the written revelation of God is of demons and satanic spirits, and not of the Holy Spirit. The written Word of God is the true light; and those who want light and truth will follow it and reject all things to the contrary i They who live not in the light of God's Word will live and walk in spiritual darkness. They shall wander here and there through it (Immanuel's land, Palestine - the subject of this prophecy, v 8), hungry and oppressed by the judgments of God through other nations, fretting themselves in spite of their trust in demon spirits who promise them help; and they will curse the king and their God for their miseries (v 21). They shall look up to heaven and down to the earth for help and shall find none; they shall have trouble and spiritual darkness and anguish to the point of despair (v 22)

j Hardly bestead. This means that the people who look to evil spirits will be so confused and in such darkness that they will be beset with many troubles and suffer many hardships (v 21)

k Continuing, Isaiah pictures spiritual darkness of the land when Messiah comes, as less than when the land was first permitted of God to be judged by Syria under Benhadad in the reign of Baasha (1 Ki. 15:20), and the more grievous invasion by Hazael in Israel (2 KI. 10:32-33). When Messiah comes the people who walk in darkness shall see great light (v 1-2)

m Thou - Jehovah has increased the nation in numbers and in joy for deliverance from Assyria has been brought about by divine intervention as in the day of Gideon (v 4-5; 36:1-37:38; 2 KI. 18:1-19:37)

n The word not should not be here, for it is out of harmony with the rest of the verse which says that the people do rejoice. The true rendering of the verse is: You have multiplied the people, and increased the joy: they rejoice in the harvest and those who divide the spoils (v 3). The reason for this is the oppressor being defeated and driven out of the land (v 4-5)

d Son, not daughter, for man and not woman was given the responsibility of headship and source of the race, so it took a man to fulfil the responsibility of the redemption of the race-a man born of a woman and called the Seed of the woman (Gen. 3:14). Thus both man and woman played a part in redemption; but the Redeemer, Himself had to be a man born of a woman to fulfil prophecy and meet God's demands (v 6; 7:14; Gen. 3:15; Gal. 4:4)

l Another example of Jacob and Israel referring to the same people-all Jews. The prophecy is to Judah and even Ephraim (v 8-9, 11-12)

m In this verse we have the defiance of the people against the judgments of God, the people saying that the bricks are thrown down, but we will build with stronger material-large hewn stones and cedars that are stronger than sycomores. These grew abundantly in the low lands of Judea but were not considered very good building material compared to cedars (v 10; 1 Ki. 10:27; 2 Chr. 1:15; 9:27)

n Rezin was destroyed by his enemies under the Assyrians (v 11; 2 Ki. 16:5-18)

o The Israel referred to here was Judah, for Syrians and Philistines, as well as Ephraim who was confederate with Syria (7:1-9) invaded Judah (2 Chr. 28:5-8, 16-25)

Each time a series of punishments is mentioned, it ends with this statement. See note a, Dt. 28:8

6 Four sins and judgment (Isa. 9:8-10:4. Cp. Jer. 5:11; 9:8). (1) Judgment on Israel (9:8-17; 2 Ki. 16-17).

A Sin: self-confidence

8 ¶[k] The Lord sent a word into Já'cob, and it hath lighted[l] upon Ĭs'ra-el.

9 And all the people shall know, even Ē'phrā-ĭm and the inhabitant of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart,

10[m] The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.

B Judgment (cp. Isa. 5:24, refs.)

11 Therefore the LORD[n] shall set up the adversaries of Rē'zin against him, and join his enemies together;

12 The Sȳr'ĭ-anș before, and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes behind; and they shall devour[o] Ĭs'ra-el with open mouth. [p]For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

C Sin: impenitence

13 ¶[q] For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the LORD of hosts.

14 Therefore the LORD will cut off from Ĭs'ra-el head and tail, branch and rush, in one day.

15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.

16 For[r] the leaders of this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed.

D Judgment (cp. Isa. 5:24, refs.)

17 Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their[s] young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows: for every [t]one is an hypocrite and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

(2) Judgment on Judah (9:18-10:4; 2 Chr. 36). A Sin: lawlessness

18 ¶ For[a] wickedness burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briers and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.

B Judgment (cp. Isa. 5:24, refs.)

19 Through[b] the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the fuel of the fire: [c]no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm:

21 Mā-nās'seh, Ē'phrā-ĭm; and Ē'phrā-ĭm, Mā-nās'seh: and they together shall be against Jū'dah. [d]For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

689 CHAPTER 10

C Six sins of leaders

WOE unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievousness which they have prescribed;

2 To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!

D Judgment (cp. Isa. 5:24, refs.)

3 [e]And what will ye do in[f] the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 [g]Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For [h]all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

7 Assyria God's rod of chastening on Israel (10:5-34. Cp. Hos. 7:12-8:3; Amos 2:6-16; 3:11-15; 6:7-14; Mic. 1:6-7). (1) Assyrian commission (cp. 2 Ki. 18:13-19:37; Isa. 36-37)

★5 ¶ O[i] As-sȳr'ĭ-an, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.

6 I will send him against [j]an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a[m] charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.

(2) Assyrian overstepping (cp. 33:7; Nah. 1:9)

7 [n]Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few.

8 For he saith, [o]Are not my princes altogether kings?

a This verse clearly states that sin and wickedness are the cause of the destruction of Israel. Like a fire out of control it devours all things in the brier and thorn patches and in the thickets of the forest. They will send up great columns of smoke when they are burned (v 18)

b The wrath of God is like the fire that burns the thickets of v 18. It shall cause the land to be darkened. The people will be as fuel. No man shall spare his own brother in the terrible famine that shall sweep the land; and men will eat their own flesh, or offspring (v 19-20) c Manasseh and Ephraim devour each other; that is, brothers of kindred tribes destroy each other; and they both shall invade Judah. This was fulfilled when Pekah, king of Ephraim, defeated Ahaz and slew 120,000 Judahites in one day and carried 200,000 captive (v 21; 2 Chr. 28:6-15)

d For all this, or in spite of all this judgment on Judah and Ephraim the anger of God is not yet turned away and His hand is stretched out still, for sin continues to abound and chastening has failed to bring the people to repentance (v 21)

e See Woe because of 6 sins, p. 435

f Questions 13-15. Next, v 8

g The day of visitation in this case was the coming judgments of God upon both Ephraim and Judah for their sins. Judgment came to Judah by Syria and Ephraim (2 Chr. 28:5-15), by the Edomites and Philistines (2 Chr. 28:16-19), and later by the Assyrians (36:1-38:38; 2 Chr. 28:19-25). Judgment came to Ephraim within a few years, from Assyria (2 Ki. 16:9-18; 17:1-41)

h God will leave them and they shall bow low among the captive, and fall down slain (v 4)

i In face of all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still, because of the continued sins of v 1-2 (v 4)

j 13th prophecy in Isa. (10:5-34. v 5-19 fulfilled; v 20-34 unfulfilled). Next, 11:1. See 8 predictions fulfilled, p. 733 k The Assyrian mentioned here refers to the king of Assyria who was used as a rod of chastening on both houses of Israel in the days of Isaiah (v 5-19; 36:1-37:39; 2 Ki. 15:19-20; 16:7-18; 17:1-41; 18:13-19:27), and to the latter day Assyrian, the Antichrist, who will lead the nations at Armageddon (v 20-34; 14:25; Mic. 5:3-5; Rev. 19:11-21). It was an Assyrian that conquered Egypt and became the oppressor of Israel in the days of Moses (52:4; Ex. 1:8), and this is the reference in v 24

l This nation was Ephraim, or the 10-tribe kingdom to be destroyed, for Judah is mentioned in v 11-12 as being invaded but not destroyed by him (v 6; 2 Ki. 17)

m The Assyrian was charged by God to destroy Ephraim (v 6), and this was literally fulfilled as in 2 Ki. 17. He was not charged to destroy Judah, though he presumed to do so because of being so successful in defeating many other nations (v 7-11); but God had promised to defend Judah and did so (v 12-19; 37:36-38)

n I gave him a charge (v 6), but he is exalted and means to go beyond what I have charged him to do, so I will destroy him (v 7-19)

(3) Assyrian judgment (cp. 33:10; 37:36; Nah. 2:3)

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that[d] when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zī'ŏn and on Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ī-ā, and the glory of his high looks.

13 For he [e]saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man:

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth; and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.

15 [f]Shall the [e]ax boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up itself, as if it were no wood.

16 Therefore [f]shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his [g]fat ones leanness; and under his[h] glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the [i]light of Iş'ra-el shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day;

18 And shall [f]consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standardbearer fainteth.

19 [k]And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.

(4) The future Assyrian: Antichrist (cp. 14:25; Joel 1:15-2:11; Mic. 5:4-6; Zech. 11:15; 12:1; 2 Thess. 2; Rev. 13)

★20 ¶ And it shall come to pass [l]in that day, that the remnant of Iş'ra-el, and such as are escaped of [m]the house of Jā'cob, shall no more again[n] stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Iş'ra-el, in truth.

21 The [o]remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jā'cob, unto the mighty God.

22 For though thy people Iş'ra-el be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: [p]the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.

23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make a[q] consumption, even determined, in the midst of all the land.

24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that [r]dwellest in Zī'ŏn, be not afraid of the Ăs-sȳr'ī-an: he shall smite thee with a[s]rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, [d]after the manner of E'gȳpt.

25 For yet a[e] very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a [t]scourge for him according to the slaughter of Mĭd'ī-an at the rock of Ō'reb: and [s]as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of E'gȳpt.

27 And it shall come to pass [k]in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of [u]the anointing.

(5) Antichrist destruction (Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7-11; 2:8; Rev. 19:11-21)

31 Măd-mē'nah is removed; the inhabitants of Gē'bim gather themselves to flee.

32 As yet shall he remain [l]at Nŏb that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zī'ŏn, the hill of Jē-ru'sā-lĕm.

33 Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, [m]shall lop the [m]bough with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled.

The consumption decreed refers to the end of the age and the finish of all God's dealings with Israel in sin and rebellion, the end of all things that bring to completion the times of the Gentiles and restore Israel in eternal, overflowing righteousness (v 22; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 1:25-29). Cp. Dan. 9:27 where kolah is trans. consummation of this age. It could be trans. the full end decreed, for kolah is trans. full end (Jer. 4:27; 5:10, 18; 30:11; 46:28; Ezek. 11:13) and utter end (Nah. 1:8-9)

10 Predictions of many prophecies (Dan. 9:24)

Numerous things could be listed that end at this point. See Millennium in Index

b All prophecies center around the dealings of God with Israel dwelling in Zion. This one is no exception. God's people, Israel must dwell in Zion before it can be fulfilled; hence, a latter-day fulfillment is required (v 24)

c The word rod is used of chastening and of the tribulation in the future in particular, when Israel will be gathered back to her land and will undergo the greatest trouble the world has ever seen or ever will see (v 24; Ezek. 20:37; Dan. 12:1; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 6:1-19:21)

d The idea here is to destroy the remnant of Israel completely in the last days as Egypt sought to destroy the nation in the time of Moses (v 24; Zech. 12:1-14:21; Rev. 12:5-6, 14-17)

e When the tribulation does begin it will be but a very short while in duration (v 25; Dan. 12:1, 7; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12:6, 14)

f The Messiah will be God's scourge to destroy the future Antichrist (2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:11-21), as Gideon was God's scourge in the day of Midian (v 26; 9:4; Judg. 7:25). It is plainly stated in v 27 that the yoke would be destroyed because of the anointing (Messiah)

g As God supernaturally parted the waters of the Red Sea (Ex. 14), to preserve Israel, and destroyed Pharaoh in the midst of the sea, so He will supernaturally destroy the Antichrist and his armies (v 26; Ezek. 28:17-21; Zech. 14; Mt. 24:29-31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; 2:8-9; Rev. 19:11-21)

h In that day-the day of the Lord, the yoke and the burden Antichrist will have put upon Israel will be broken and destroyed because of the anointing (the Messiah, v 27; Ezek. 38:17-21; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7-10; 2:8; Judg. 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

i Heb. shemen. Trans. oil 175 times; olive tree 4 times; ointment 13 times; fatness once; anointing (v 27). It is used of anointing 15 times and of things being anointed 16 times. Since the reference here is to the destruction of Antichrist, and the Messiah will destroy him, He must be the anointing spoken of (2 Th. 2:8)

j He-the Assyrian king of the latter days (v 20-27; Mic. 5:3-5) will pass through all these places and occupy them with his huge armies of the nations which will be under him at Armageddon (v 28-32; Ezek. 38-39; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21). This passage makes sense only when left where it is in connection with the latter-day Assyrian king of v 20-27. To take it out of its place and force it to follow v 19 is to do injustice to Scripture

k An old English word for baggage, and here refers to the war supplies of Antichrist (v 28)

l Nob, a city of priests, was a few miles north of Jerusalem. It seems this will be the headquarters of Antichrist while he is seeking to take Jerusalem from the Jews (v 32; Zech. 14:1-5, 14; Lk. 21:20-24; Rev. 11:1-2) m In these verses (33-34) the armies of Antichrist are pictured as a duck forest because of there being so many with him, from the nations under him (Joel 3:14; Zech. 14:1-5; Rev. 19:19-21)

o 14th prophecy in Isa. (11:1-12:6. v 1-2 fulfilled; v 3-12:6 unfulfilled). Next, 13:1. See 14th prophecy, p. 733 p Heb. choter, a twig; a tender branch.

a For 9fold character of His reign, see points 1-9 of 42 predictions-unfulfilled, p. 739

b The Heb. word trans. understanding here is akin to ruach, wind; breath; to breathe out an odor, It denotes having delight in smelling or taking pleasure in anything (Ex. 30:38; Lev. 26:31; Amos 4:2). The R.V. renders it: His delight shall be in the fear of the Lord. The Sept.: He will be filled with the fear of God. The Peshitta: He shall shine forth in the reverence of the Lord

c 2 things the Messiah will not do:
1 Judge by eyesight (v 3) rumor
2 Reprove, administer judgment by d 2 things the Messiah will do:

1 Judge righteous judgment (v 4)
2 Administer impartial justice

e 2 judgments the Messiah will perform:
1 Smite the oppressors of earth with the rod of His mouth (v 4)
2 Slay the wicked one (Antichrist) with the breath of His lips (v 4; 2 Th. 2:8)

f 2 great qualities of the Messiah:
1 Righteousness (v 5; Heb. 1:9)
2 Faithfulness (v 5; Heb. 2:17; Rev. 1:5)

g For 9fold quality of His reign, see points 10-18 of 42 prediction-unfulfilled, p. 733

h 6 kinds of animals tamed by Messiah:

1 Wolves (v 6)	4 Bears (v 7)
2 Leopards	5 Asps (v 8)
3 Lions	6 Cockatrices

i This is often quoted of little children leading grown people to Christ, but it has nothing to do with this subject. It means they will play with and lead former wild animals around which have been tamed by the Messiah through divine power (v 6)

j See 10 proofs wild animals will be tamed, p. 435 k All animals that now eat meat will be changed to eat vegetation only (v 7; 65:25)

l Here we have sucking and weaned, or different size children, thus proving that children will be born during the reign of Christ forever (v 6; 59:20-21; 65:23; Zech. 8:4-5; Gen. 9:12)

m See note r, Mt. 3:7

n The cockatrice is a most deadly poisonous serpent whose bite is usually fatal in one hour (v 8; 14:29; 59:5; Jer. 8:17)

o 2 universal blessings (v 9):
1 No accidents and deaths
2 Knowledge of the Lord

p The Jews will again become the missionaries taking the Word of God from Jerusalem to all nations (v 9; 2:24; 52:7; Hab. 2:14; Zech. 8:23)

q See 7fold establishment of Messiah's reign, p. 435

r See notes p-r, 11:1

s The ensign refers to a standard or a banner around which the nations shall rally. The Messiah, Himself will be the rallying point of all nations. To Him they will come and in Him they will put their trust (v 10, 12; 30:17; 31:9. Cp. 49:22; 59:19; 62:10)

t See World blessed, p. 435

u In that day -when Christ comes to reign in Jerusalem over all nations, the Lord will undertake again the second time to gather all the tribes of Israel from all parts of the earth (v 11-12). See Future regathering of Israel, p. 444

k Wells of water was always an expressive figure in a hot country like Palestine and Egypt. The word wells in the plural here simply denotes that every person will have his own well of salvation springing up into everlasting life, as promised in this passage and in Jn. 4:14

l 6 things Jews will say in that day:
1 Praise the Lord (v 4)
2 Call upon His name
3 Declare His doings among the people
4 Make mention that His name is exalted
5 Sing unto the Lord; for He has done excellent things
6 Cry out and shout; for great is the Holy One of Israel in your midst

m God will be in the midst of the people in that day (v 6; 52:7; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 14:9)

(3) Ninefold character of His reign (cp. 32:1; 42:1; 61:3; 65:18; 66:18; Jer. 23:3; Mic. 4; Zech. 14; Rev. 20)

2 And [a]the Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD;

3 And shall make him of quick [b]understanding in the fear of the LORD: and he shall [c]not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears:

4 [d]But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and [e]he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And [f]righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

(4) Ninefold quality of His reign (cp. 2:1-4; 4:1-6; 61:3; 65:18; Zech. 14:16-21; Rev. 20)

6 [g]The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a [h]little child shall [i]lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall [j]lie down together: [k]and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the [l]sucking child shall play on the hole of the [m]asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the [n]cockatrice' den.

(5) Extent of His reign (cp. Ps. 72:8; Hab. 2:14; Mic. 4:1; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 14:9, 16-21; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

9 [o]They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, [p]as the waters cover the sea.

(6) Sevenfold establishment of His reign (11:10-16). A Peace and religion (cp. 2:1-4; 12:1, refs.; Mic. 4:3)

10 ¶ And [q]in that day there shall be a [r]root of Jĕs'se, which shall stand for an [s]ensign of the people; to it shall the [t]Gĕn'tiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.

B Regathering of Israel (cp. 14:1; 27:12; 43:5; 60:9; 66:20; Jer. 30:10; 31:8; 32:37; 33:7; 46:27; 50:4; Ezek. 16:53; 20:33-40; 34:11; 36:24; 37:11-19; 39:25; Hos. 2:14; 3:5; Amos 9:13; Mic. 4:6; 5:7; 7:11; Zech. 2:6; 3:18; 10:6, 9; Mal. 3:18; Mt. 24:31)

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall set his hand [u]again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă, and from E'gўpt, and from Păth'ros, and from Cŭsh, and from E'lăm, and from Shĭ'när, and from Hă'math, and from the islands of the sea.

12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and [a]shall assemble the [b]outcasts of Ĭs'ra-el, and gather together the dispersed of Jū'dah from [c]the four corners of the earth.

C National union of Judah and Israel (cp. Ezek. 37:15, 19; Zech. 10:6)

13 [d]The envy also of E'phrā-ĭm shall depart, and the adversaries of Jū'dah shall be cut off: E'phrā-ĭm shall not envy Jū'dah, and Jū'dah shall not vex E'phrā-ĭm.

D Full possession of the promised land (cp. Gen. 15:7, 18; 12:1; 13:14; Num. 34:1-12; Isa. 60:12; Ezek. 47:13-48:35)

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes toward the west; they shall spoil them of the east together: they shall lay their hand upon E'dom and Mō'ab; and the children of Ăm'mŏn shall obey them.

E Supernatural regathering of Israel (cp. Mt. 24:31; Isa. 11:11, refs.)

15 And the LORD [e]shall utterly destroy the tongue of the E-gўp'tian sea; and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dryshod.

16 [f]And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ă; like as it was to Ĭs'ra-el in the day that he came up out of the land of E'gўpt.

CHAPTER 12 691

(7) Fifteenfold Millennial worship (cp. 14:4; 25:1; 26:1; 27:2; 63:7; Ezek. 45:17; Zech. 14:16-21)

AND in that day thou shalt say, O LORD, [g]I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.

2 Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the [h]LORD [i]JĔ-HŌ'-VAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation.

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the [j]wells of salvation.

4 And in that day shall ye say, Praise the LORD, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.

6 Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zī'ŏn: for great is [k]the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el [l]in the midst of thee.

692 CHAPTER 13

IV Twelve burdens alter-

a Israel and Judah are spoken of here as being gathered together from all nations; and this is what will happen (v 12)

b Israel is called outcasts. The term is used several times with the word Israel, but not once is it mentioned in particular with Judah. In 56:8; Ps. 147:2 it speaks of the outcasts of Israel being gathered when God builds Jerusalem, proving that they are Jews. In 16:1-5 it is predicted that the outcasts of Israel will be in Palestine and then flee from the Antichrist into Moab for protection for the last 3 1/2 years of this age. All outcasts of Israel will be gathered one by one back to Jerusalem (27:12-13)

c See note m, Rev. 7:1

d 4 things that will unite all Israel:
1 Ephraim will be cleansed from envy and hatred of Judah (v 13). Jealousy of rival prowess began between them as in Judg. 8 and 12
2 Adversaries from Judah that are hostile to Ephraim will be cut off
3 Judah will not vex Ephraim
4 They will unite to defeat their ancient enemies, which often defeated them when they were weak through sin and division (v 14). Common enemies often bring about the union of rivals

e 2 miraculous works of God:
1 Making a dry path through the Egyptain sea as when Israel came out of Egypt (v 15; Ex. 14:21) -no doubt the Red Sea (v 16)
2 Making the river dry to prepare the way for the return of Israel (v 15). This no doubt refers to the drying up of the river Nile which flows into the Mediterranean in 7 streams. In like manner the Euphrates will be dried up preparing the way of the kings of the east in the time of the future tribulation; but that is not the reference here (Rev. 16:12). The subject is Egyptian waters which would be an obstacle in the return of Israel when the Messiah comes. The thought is that Israel will be gathered from all lands regardless of how many miracles it will take to gather them (v 11-16)

f This is to be taken literally. Not only v 16 speaks of a highway from Assyria, but 19:23 and 35:8 speak of one from Assyria through Palestine into Egypt, on which people will go up to Jerusalem

g And in that day -the Millennium after Israel is fully restored under their Messiah (11:11-16), the events of ch. 12 will be literally fulfilled

h 15fold Millennial worship:
1 I will praise You (v 1)
2 Though You are angry with me, Your anger is turned away
3 You do now comfort me
4 God is my salvation (v 2)
5 I will trust, and not be afraid
6 Jah Jehovah is my strength and song
7 Therefore with joy shall you draw waters out of the wells of salvation
8 Praise the Lord (v 4) (v 3)
9 Call upon His name
10 Declare His doings among the people
11 Make mention that His name is exalted
12 Sing unto the Lord (v 5)
13 He has done excellent things that are known in all the earth
14 Cry and shout, you Zionites
15 Great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of you (v 6)

i The Heb. for Lord is Yahh and trans. JAH (Ps. 68:4) and Lord (v 2; 26:4; 38:11; Ps. 102:18; 104:35; 105:1, 3, 4, 7, 19; 105:45; 106:1, 48; 111:1; 112:1; 113:1, 9; 115:17-18; 117:2; 118:3, 14, 17-19; 122:4; 135:1, 3-4, 21; 139:3; 146:1, 10; 147:1, 20; 148:1, 14; 149:1, 9; 150:1, 6). JAH is a contraction of JEHOVAH; it is the Lord most vehement. It is Jehovah in a special sense and relation as having already become our salvation (v 2)

j This is one of only 4 places where the Heb. Yehovah is retained in the text and spelled Jehovah (v 2; 26:4; Ex. 6:3; Ps. 83:18). It is recognized as the name of the Jewish national God and means the self-Existent or Eternal. It is trans. Lord 6,347 times. See compound names of Jehovah, p. 52

a See Burden of the Lord, p. 734
b Heb. massa, a burden as a material load (Ex. 23:5; Num. 4:15-49; Jer. 17:21-27), and an utterance of doom or responsibility (v 1; 14:28; 15:1; 17:1; 19:1; 21:1, 11, 13; 22:1, 25; 23:1; 30:6; Jer. 23:33-38; Ezek. 12:10; Hos. 8:10; Nah. 1:1; Hab. 1:1; Zech. 9:1; Mal. 1:1). It is also trans. prophecy (Pr. 30:1; 31:1) c See Babylon, p. 734
d 15th prophecy in Isa. (13:1-14:27. 13: 17-18 fulfilled; 13:1-16, 19 - 14:27 unfulfilled). Next, 14:28. See p. 734 e It was customary for a standard to be lifted up upon a high place so that men could see it and rally around it in mobilizing an army (v 2). The idea expressed here is of God gathering His forces to come to the earth to destroy Antichrist and take over the governments of this world. There could also be a double fulfillment in the calling of earthly nations together to fight at Armageddon (v 2-6)
f See Sanctified ones, p. 734
g See Joel 2:7-9; 2 Th. 1:7-10
h That execute My anger
i Only redeemed human beings and holy angels rejoice in God's highness, plainly indicating these sanctified and mighty ones to be the saints and angels who accompany Christ to earth (v 3; Zech. 14:5; Mt. 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:14)
j The same description as Joel 2:1-11 k This reveals that God will be personally leading these heavenly armies at Armageddon in the day of the Lord (v 4-6; Dan. 7:9-22; Joel 2:1-11; Zech. 14:1-5; Tit. 2:13)
l This could refer to far places of the earth, as in Mt. 24:31, but since other statements could not refer to earth it is better to understand this literally as meaning the army will come from heaven (v 5; Zech. 14:5; Mt. 24:29-30; 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
m This emphasizes the fact that the Lord is coming from heaven, so the army referred to here must be the army of heaven n This refers to the saints and angels that will come with the Lord from heaven with their weapons to destroy the whole land. What kind of weapons they will have is not fully revealed, but it is known that angels do kill with swords (Josh. 5:13; 1 Chr. 21:16). See other ways the armies of Antichrist will be killed (Ezek. 38:17-21; Zech. 14:12-14; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 11:11-21)
o The whole land refers to the destruction of much of the land of Palestine. The term is used of the destruction by Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 4:20, 27; 12:11; 25:11), and there could be a much greater one in the future battle of Armageddon (v 5) p Heb. yalal, to howl with a wailing tone. Used in this sense 35 times (v 6; 14:31; 15:2-3, 8; 16:7; 23:1, 6, 14; 52:5; 65:14; Jer. 4:8; 25:34, 36; 47:2; 48:20, 31, 39; 49:3; 51:8; Ezek. 21:12; 30:2; Hos. 7:14; Joel 1:5, 11, 13; Amos 8:3; Mic. 1:8; Zeph. 1:10-11; Zech. 11:2-3; Jas. 5:1) q The day of the Lord-the day of the 2nd advent and Millennium (p. 228 of N.T.)
r It will only be at hand at the 2nd advent of Christ, proving that this destruction of Babylon as Sodom and Gomorrah were overthrown, will be at that time (v 6, 9; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)
s See 10 things destroyed in the day of the Lord, p. 734
t 28fold judgment in the day of the Lord, p. 734 u This refers to redness of face because of shame for opposing God and good (v 8)
v See 34:4; Ezek. 32:7-8; Joel 2:2, 31; 3:15; Amos 8:9; Mt. 24:29-30 w Constellations. Only once in Scripture, but the Heb. kesyl is trans. Orion (Job 9:9; 38:31; Amos 5:8) x Arrogancy, 4 times in Scripture (v 11; 1 Sam. 2:3; Ps. 8:13; Jer. 48:29)
y Haughtiness, 5 times in Scripture (v 11, 17; 13:11; 16:6; Jer. 48:29)
z There will be such scarcity of men after this destruction that one will be more valuable than gold even wedges of gold; hence, precious because of scarcity (v 12)

nated with Israel's blessings (Isa. 13-23. Cp. Jer. 45-51; Ezek. 25-32; Amos 1-2; Zeph. 2; Nah. 1:1-3:19). 1 The burden of Babylon (13:1-14:27; 21:1; 47:1; Jer. 25:12; 50:1-51:64). (1) Immediate judgment by the Medes and Persians (Dan. 5)

THE [b]burden of [c]Bāb'ȳ-lon, which Ī-ṣā'ĭah the son of Ā'mŏz [d]did see. [s]

●2 [e]Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.

3 I have commanded my [f]sanctified ones, I have also called my [g]mighty ones for mine anger, even them [h]that rejoice in my highness.

4 The [i]noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: [k]the LORD of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.

5 They come from a far country, [l]from the end of heaven, even the LORD, and [m]the weapons of his indignation, to destroy [n]the whole land.

(2) Twenty-eightfold judgment in the day of the Lord (cp. 2:10, refs.)

●6 ¶ [p]Howl ye; for [q]the day of the LORD [r]is at hand; [t]it shall come [s]as a destruction from the Almighty.

7 Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt:

8 And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another; their [u]faces shall be as flames.

9 Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.

10 [v]For the stars of heaven and the [w]constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the [x]arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the [y]haughtiness of the terrible.

12 I will [z]make a man more precious than fine gold; even a man than the golden wedge of Ō'phĭr.

13 Therefore I will [a]shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And it shall be [b]as the chased roe, and [c]as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.

15 Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is [d]joined unto them shall fall by the sword.

16 Their children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.

(3) Immediate judgment by the Medes and Persians (Dan. 5)

●17 Behold, [b]I will stir up the Mēdes against them, which shall not regard silver; and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall [e]dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.

(4) Tenfold final desolation (Jer. 51:26; Rev. 14:8; 16:19; 18:2)

●19 ¶ And [f]Bāb'ȳ-lon, [g]the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chăl'dees' excellency, [h]shall be as when God overthrew Sŏd'om and Gō-mŏr'rah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Ă-rā'bĭ-an pitch tent there; neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

21 But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of [i]doleful creatures, and [k]owls shall dwell there, and [l]satyrs shall dance there.

22 And the wild beasts [m]of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and [n]dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is [o]near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

693 CHAPTER 14

(5) Millennium: Israel restored and exalted (cp. 2:1, refs.)

FOR the LORD [p]will have mercy on Jā'cob, and will yet choose Ĭs'ra-el, and set them in their own land: and the [q]strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jā'cob.

2 And [r]the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Ĭs'ra-el shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors.

3 And it shall come to pass [s]in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

(6) Future triumph song of Israel over Antichrist (14:4-23). A Babylon destroyed (13:19, refs.)

4 ¶ That thou shalt take up this [t]proverb against the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased!

a All who gather in companies for common defence will fall by the sword (v 15)
b See Medo-Persia, p. 734
c It seems very clear that after predicting children would be dashed to pieces in the day of the Lord (v 16), the prophet then predicted the same thing in the immediate invasion of Babylon by Medes
d See 10fold final destruction of Babylon, p. 734
e 4fold description of Babylon:
1 The glory of the kingdoms (v 19)
2 The beauty of the Chaldees' excellency
3 The golden city (14:4)
4 The lady of the kingdoms (47:5, 7)
f See Babylon destroyed, p. 734
g Heb. oach, a howler or lonesome creature. Found only here and refers to the yells of wild animals, not any particular kind (v 21)
h The Heb. could mean owls or ostriches. Both give doleful sounds at night; the ostrich gives a hideous noise and even groans as if in great agony (v 21)
i Satyrs were supposed to be half man and half goat with horns on the man's head, the body all hairy, and the feet and tail like those of a goat. Images of such were worshipped by Edomites (v 21; 34:14). The Heb. sa'ir is trans. hairy (Gen. 27:11, 23); devils (note d, Lev. 17:7); goats and kid of the goat 46 times (Lev. 16:5-27; Num. 7:16-82; etc.); and rough goat (Dan. 8:21). The word properly denotes that which is hairy or rough and here perhaps refers to any wild, rough, or shaggy animal that will inhabit this desolate place j Wild beasts of the coast lands, referring to the unknown and uninhabited regions in general (v 22)
k See note q, Ex. 7:9
l Same as day of the Lord is near, as in v 6, 9
m 3 acts of God for Israel (v 1):
1 He will have mercy on Jacob
2 He will yet choose Israel
3 He will set them in their own land n Many Gentiles will be converted to the God of Israel and will cleave to Israel and serve them (v 1) o The Gentiles will help bring Israel home to Palestine where they will possess the Gentiles in that land as servants and handmaids. Israelites will take those captive who once took them captive and will rule over their oppressors (v 2, 60:8-12; 66:19-21)
p In the day-the 2nd advent of Christ, the Millennium, and the New Earth forever-that the Lord shall give you (Israel) rest from all your sorrow, fear, and hard bondage you have endured among the Gentiles, then you shall sing a triumph song over the Antichrist, the future king of Babylon (v 3-4) q Heb. mashal, a taunt or triumph song (note a, Pr. 1:1). The Sept. reads, funeral song over the king of Babylon (the Antichrist, v 4). Since a future generation of Israel would not be taking up a triumph song against a king of the past who had not oppressed them, it seems clear that the whole passage pictures something in the future to be fulfilled in the Millennium

a Although this particularly refers to the 2nd advent when the day of the Lord begins (v 6, 9, 10, 14), the heavens will be affected at least 5 times during the future tribulation (note c, Rev. 6:12)
b The gazelle on the first alarm flees like an arrow, leaving the best mounted hunter and even the dogs far behind. Hunters have to resort to the falcon to help retard its flight so that the dogs can catch up c This refers to a scattered flock of sheep, one with no shepherd to collect or protect them. As they are very timid and defenceless, so the people of Babylon will become alarmed and scattered and afraid of everything in the day of the Lord (v 13-16)

LUCIFER CHRIST
EZEK. 28

a See The Antichrist, p. 735
b This is clearly a millennial passage, for at no time in the past since the fall of Adam has the earth been at rest as described here (v 7-8). Even the fir trees and the cedars of Lebanon join with the oppressed inhabitants of the earth in rejoicing at the fall of Antichrist (v 7-8) c Heb. sheol, not the grave, but the unseen world of departed spirits. See Hell, p. 620
d Sheol is under the earth-beneath (v 9-16; Pr. 15:24; Ezek. 31:14-18; 32:18-31); in the nether parts of the earth (Ezek. 31:14-18; 32:24); lower parts of the earth (Ps. 63:9; 68:18; Eph. 4:8-10); heart of the earth (Mt. 12:40); below the depth of the seas and the foundations of the mountains (Jonah 2:2-6); and too deep to dig into (Job 11:8; Amos 9:2)
e There is life and full consciousness in sheol among the departed of earth:
1 Those in sheol are moved to meet others as they arrive (v 9)
2 The dead (Heb. Rephaim, giants) are stirred up to meet new comers from the earth
3 Even all the chief ones of earth are stirred up to meet new comers
4 Sheol has raised up all the kings of the nations from their thrones and received them at death
5 Conversations are carried on in sheol (v 10-11; Lk. 16:19-31)
6 Sheol makes even the most mighty of earth weak and helpless (v 10)
7 Pomp, pride, and godless music are brought to nothing in sheol (v 11)
8 Worms make the bed and cover of those in sheol (v 11). Worms are spoken of in a figurative sense here of the never-dying consciousness of men in hell (note 1, Ps. 22:6). See Hell in Index

g See 6fold taunt of Antichrist, p. 735
h See 9 facts about Lucifer, p. 735
i Lucifer had already weakened the nations over whom he ruled before his actual invasion of heaven. The method he used was slander and turning them away from God in the heart; after that it was easy to lead them into open rebellion (v 12; Ezek. 28:11-19, notes)

m The planet heaven is located in the north part of the universe pointing from the earth (v 13; Job 26:7; Ps. 75:6) p With this verse we now come back to the human king of Babylon who was made the subject of a double reference with Lucifer in v 9-20. A man is the subject of v 9-11, 16-20, but an angel is referred to in v 12-15

q Question 25. Next, v 27
r Antichrist, the future king of Babylon, will shake many kingdoms:
1 He will get power over one (the Syrian) of the 10 kingdoms to be formed inside the Roman empire territory (Dan. 8:9, 23)
2 He will use this one kingdom to overthrow 3 others in 3 1/2 years (Dan. 7:8, 23-24)
3 The other 6 kingdoms of the 10 will submit to him without further war (Rev. 17:12-17)
4 He will use the 10 kingdoms to war with the countries north and east of the Roman empire region until he conquers them in the last 3 1/2 years of this age (Dan. 11:44-45)
5 He will then gather the nations in an effort to destroy Israel; but he will be defeated at the 2nd advent of Christ (Ezek. 38:39; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21)

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.

E Ninefold taunt of hell to Lucifer (Rev. 12:7-12; 20:1-10)

12 [g]How art thou [h]fallen from heaven, O Lu'cĭ-fĕr, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, [i]which didst weaken the nations!
13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my [j]throne above [k]the stars of God: I will sit also upon the [l]mount of the congregation, [m]in the sides of the north:
14 I will ascend [n]above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High.
15 [o]Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.

F Taunt of the living nations to the Antichrist (66:24; Rev. 14:9-12)

16 They that see [p]thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, [q]Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did [r]shake kingdoms;
17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners?
18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them, [s]lie in glory, every one in his own house.
19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden under feet.
20 Thou shalt [a]not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: [b]the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned.

G Tenfold desolation of literal Babylon (13:19, refs.)

22 For I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Bāb'ў-lon the name and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the LORD.
23 I will also make it a possession for the [d]bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the [e]besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

(7) God's sixfold oath to destroy Antichrist

24 ¶ The LORD of hosts [f]hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand:
25 That I will break the As-sўr'ĭ-an in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.
26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations.
27 For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and [g]who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

●28 In [h]the year that king A'hăz died was this burden.
●29 ¶ Rejoice not thou, whole Pāl-es-tī'nă, because the [i]rod of him that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.
30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and [j]he shall slay thy remnant.
●31 Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou, whole [k]Pāl-es-tī'nă, art dissolved: for there shall come from the north a smoke, and none shall be alone in his appointed times.
32 [l]What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zi'ŏn, and the poor of his people shall trust in it.

694 CHAPTER 15

3 Burden of Moab (15:1-16:14; Jer. 48:1; Ezek. 25:8; Amos 2:1; Zeph. 2:8). (1) Sudden desolation

1 THE [m]burden of [n]Mō'ab. Because in the night [o]Ar of Mō'ab is [p]laid waste, and brought to silence; because in a You (Antichrist) will not be buried and sleep in honor, as the kings (of v 18) because of your sins (v 20). Antichrist will be destroyed by Christ and will be cast into the lake of fire (v 29-30; Dan. 7:11; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21; 20:10). The whole thought of v 18-20 is that ordinary kings who die in battle, sleep or lie in honor in their own tombs, but Antichrist, who will not be buried in honor, will be cast out like the common dead

3 things Antichrist compared to:

1 An abominable branch (a scion that is despised, v 19)
2 Raiment of those that have been thrust through with a sword, and that are defiled and cast away. He shall not have the honor of a common burial
3 A carcase trodden under feet and not fit for burial because of sin (v 19-20)

b The posterity of the wicked will never be celebrated and honored (v 20) c See 10fold desolation of the city Babylon, p. 736 d Bittern. Heb. qippod, a bird with solitary habits, that frequents ruins and other desolate places. It has long legs and neck and stalks among the reeds feeding on fish. It has a deep, hoarse cry (v 22; 34:11; Zeph. 2:8) e Besom. Heb. mat'ate, a broom (v 23). Here it means that God will utterly destroy Babylon like sweeping with a broom f See 6fold oath of God to destroy Antichrist, p. 735
g Questions 26-27. Next, v 32
h 16th prophecy in Isa. (14:28-32, fulfilled). Next, 15:1. This is the second prophecy mentioning the death of a king (v 28; 6:1). 32 years had now gone by since the death of Uzziah, as in 6:1, for both Jotham and Ahaz reigned 16 years each (2 Kl. 15:32; 16:1-2). This prophecy has no connection with the preceeding one and should be separated from it by chapter divisions. It relates solely to Philistia and assures the Jews of nothing to fear from this source. The Philistines had been defeated by Uzziah over 30 years before (2 Kl. 15:1-7; 2 Chr. 26:1-6), so during the time of weakness and defeat of Ahaz by Syria and Ephraim, they made war on Judah and helped bring her low (2 Chr. 28:16-21). See 16th prophecy, p. 735 i The rod that smote Philistia was Uzziah, the grandfather of Ahaz (2 Kl. 15:1-7; 2 Chr. 26:16-21). During the more than 30 years since their defeat Philistia had been seeking vengeance, defeating Judah in particular during the reign of Ahaz. Now they were rejoicing over the death of all these kings of Judah who had caused them trouble. They considered them serpents; but the prophet warned them that out of the serpent's root should come forth a cockatrice that would punish them still further and destroy their nation (v 29; 2 Kl. 18:8-12)
j He-Hezekiah (2 Kl. 18:8-12)
k The word Palestine is now applied to the whole land of Canaan. Formerly the name applied to the land of Philistia; and it is from this name that we have derived the word Palestine. Originally, the land extended all along the Mediterranean from Gaza on the south to Lydda on the north. The Heb. Paleseth, trans. Palistia in Ps. 60:8; 87:4; 108:9 is here trans. Palestina (v 29, 31; Ex. 15:14) and Palestine (Joel 3:4). It literally means rolling; migratory; sojourners; strangers; foreigners. It fits in well with the seed of Abraham who were sojourners in a strange land (Gen. 12:10; 23:4; 35:27; Heb. 11:9) m 17th prophecy in Isa. (15:1-16:12, 15:1-9 and 16:6-12 fulfilled; 16:1-5 unfulfilled). Next, 16:13. See p. 735

n See Moab, p. 442
o Ar, the chief city of Moab, was located about 15 miles south of the river Arnon, the northern border of Moab (v 1; Num. 21:15, 28; Dt. 2:9, 18, 29)

n Nimrim, probably the Wady Nimrim at the south end of the Dead Sea (v 6; Jer. 48:34) o 3 proofs of desolation (v 6):
1 The hay is withered away
2 The grass faileth
3 There is no green thing
p The abundance of Moab in storehouses will be carried away to the brook of willows (v 7). The Sept. reads: I will bring the Arabs against that valley and they shall take it q This perhaps refers to the brook Zered, the boundary between Moab and Arabia (Dt. 2:13-14), indicating that Arabs helped destroy Moab r Eglaim, a city 8 miles south of Ar (v 8). Cp. Ezek. 47:10. Beer-elim, well of the princes. Unknown at the present s Perhaps the same as Dimonah (Josh. 15:22) and Dibon (note a, Num. 32:3). They were to be colored with the blood of the slain (v 9)
t Lions and wild animals were to help destroy the remnant of Moab (v 9) u Isaiah advised Moab to send the tribute lamb to their rulers in Judah unto mount Zion as Mesha had done (v 1; 2 Ki. 3:4). The advice was for Moab to be at peace with the Jews in the last days and welcome them into their land when they would flee from Antichrist at the breaking of his 7-year covenant with them and his entrance into Palestine to take over Jerusalem as his capital city (v 1; Ps. 60:6-12; Mt. 24:15-24; Rev. 12:6, 14; point 10, col. 1, p. 307 of N. T.)
v See Sela in Index
w As a bird cast out of her nest wanders about, so the daughters of Moab are to be disturbed at events when Antichrist suddenly takes over Palestine and the Jews are forced to flee. The Moabites will be much distressed, not knowing whether he will enter their country to take over. Many will leave their homes to welcome the fleeing Israelites and flee with them from a common enemy (v 2). Antichrist would no doubt continue his conquests and take over Moab if war tidings out of the north and east did not hinder him (Dan. 11:44). According to the predictions, Russia, Germany, and other countries north and east of the 10 kingdoms will suddenly declare war on Antichrist, and he will leave the Jews and Moab for the time being to go forth against these new enemies until he conquers them in the last 3 1/2 years of this age. He will then come back into Palestine to do what he formerly planned, only to be defeated. During the last days of this 3 1/2 years the Jews will have regained control of Jerusalem, and Antichrist will come against the city intending to destroy the Jews and Moab; but Christ will come suddenly from heaven with His armies when Jerusalem is only half taken and deliver them (Zech. 14:1-15; Rev. 19:11-21) x The outcasts here are the Jews who will flee from Judea into Moab when Antichrist breaks his covenant with them and enters Palestine to make Jerusalem his capital for the last 3 1/2 years of this age (v 3-4; Dan. 9:27; 11:40-45; Mt. 24:13-14; 2 Th. 2:3-4; Rev. 13). The word outcasts is used of Israel in 3 In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets, every one shall howl, weeping abundantly.

4 And [g]Hĕsh'bŏn shall cry, and Ē-le-ā'leh: their voice shall be heard even unto [h]Jā'hăz: therefore the armed soldiers of Mō'ab shall cry out; his life shall be grievous unto him.

5 [i]My heart shall cry out for Mō'ab; his fugitives shall flee unto [j]Zō'ar, [k]an heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of [l]Lu'hĭth with weeping shall they go it up; for in the [m]way of Hŏr-o-nā'im they shall raise up a cry of destruction.

6 For the waters of [n]Nim'rim shall be desolate: [o]for the hay is withered away, the grass faileth, there is no green thing.

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall [p]they carry away to the [q]brook of the willows.

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Mō'ab; the howling thereof unto [r]Eg'la-ĭm, and the howling thereof unto Bĕ'er-ē'lim.

9 For the waters of [s]Dī'mŏn shall be full of blood: for I will bring more upon Dī'mŏn, [t]lions upon him that escapeth of Mō'ab, and upon the remnant of the land.

2 For it shall be, that, [w]as a wandering bird cast out of the nest, so the daughters of Mō'ab shall be at the fords of Ar'nŏn.

●3 Take counsel, execute judgment; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday; [x]hide the outcasts; bewray not [y]him that wandereth.

●4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee, Mō'ab; be thou a covert to them from the face of [z]the spoiler: for the extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.

5 And in mercy shall [a]the throne be established: and [b]he shall sit upon it in truth in [c]the tabernacle of Dā'vid, [d]judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness.

(4) Lamentation for Moab (15:2)

★6 ¶ [e]We have heard of [f]the pride of Mō'ab; he is very proud: even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his wrath: but his [g]lies shall not be so.

7 Therefore shall Mō'ab howl for Mō'ab, every one shall howl: for the foundations [h]of Kir-hăr'e-sĕth shall ye mourn; surely they are stricken.

8 For the fields of [i]Hĕsh'bŏn languish, and the vine of [j]Sib'mah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof, they are come even unto Jā'zēr, they wandered through the wilderness: her branches are stretched out, they are gone over the sea.

9 ¶ Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jā'zēr the vine of Sib'mah: I will water thee with my tears, O Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ē-le-ā'leh: for the shouting for thy summer fruits and for thy harvest is fallen.

10 And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field: and in the [k]vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting: the treaders shall tread out no wine in their presses; I have made their vintage shouting to cease.

11 Wherefore [l]my bowels shall sound like an harp for Mō'ab, and mine inward parts for Kir-hā'resh.

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Mō'ab [m]is weary on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray; but he shall not prevail.

(5) Immediate destruction by Assyria (36:19-20; 2 Ki. 18:33)

14 But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, [p]Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Mō'ab shall be [q]contemned, with all that great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

1 [r]THE [s]burden of Dă-măs'cus. Behold, [t]Dă-măs'cus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

2 The cities of Ar'ŏ-ēr are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.

3 The fortress also shall cease from Ē'phrā-im, and the kingdom from Dă-măs'cus, and the remnant of Sȳr'ī-ā: they shall be as the glory of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 And in that day it shall come to pass, that the glory of Jā'cob [u]shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean.

5 And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears [v]with his arm; and it shall be as he that gathereth ears in [w]the valley of c Capital of Sihon (note a, Num. 19:26)

d Sibmah, perhaps Sumia, 3 miles west of Heshbon (v 8-9; Josh. 13:19; Jer. 48:32)
e These verses (8-10) picture the destruction of the vineyards and crops by the invader. In this case, it was the Assyrians within 3 years (v 13-14). It was the policy of some nations to destroy the vineyards and crops of countries they conquered. The singing and joy here was according to custom. Hebrews were especially joyful at the grape harvests; and the treading of grapes was usually done while there was music and singing with joyeous shouts (v 10; Judg. 9:27; Jer. 25:30; 48:33)
f The destruction of Moab was to be so severe that the prophet was moved with deep compassion, sorrow (v 11; 15:5), and weeping in such an uncontrollable way that he compared his inward feelings or bowels to the playing of an harp (v 11)
g The saddest picture of all is that of a people weary of life in destruction, praying and seeking help from dead, lifeless, and helpless idols (v 12). And to think that at one time, all men knew the living and true God; but they did not appreciate this knowledge, and therefore went into idolatry (Rom. 1:18-32)

i Since the prophecy of 15:1-16:12
j This is an example of a time-element prophecy - one limiting the time of fulfillment. One like this made it easy to determine whether the prophet was true or false. About 3 years after all this prophecy the Assyrians took the 10 tribes of Israel captive and defeated the Moabites and other nations, fulfilling 15:1-9; 16:6-14

2 The extortioner of men (Dan. 11:39)
3 The oppressor of Israel (14:3-4) a The throne of David over all Israel (v 5; 9:6-7; Hos. 3:4-5; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18)

b The Messiah, the one typified by the lamb of v 1 (Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15) c The tabernacle of David will be set up again after the church age (Acts 15:13-18)
d 3 offices of Messiah here (v 5):
1 Judging - giving justice to all men
2 Seeking judgment - anxious to do
3 Hasting righteousness - quick in equity e The immediate judgment upon Moab is again taken up in v 6-12, after the reference to Moab protecting Israel in the future tribulation period (v 1-5). Cp. the predictions of immediate judgment in 15:1-9 f 4 causes of judgment upon Moab:
1 Her pride - very proud (v 6)
2 Haughtiness - disdainful
3 Wrath - quick tempered when opposed
4 Lies - vain boastings

a The remnant of Syria and Ephraim was to be small after their destruction by the Assyrians. This is pictured under the figure of a few grapes left, and a few olives in the uppermost branches after the harvest (v 6) b This shows the desired effect on the remnant of men left after the Assyrian destruction of Syria and Ephraim. It would cause them to recognize that the judgment was just and sent by God. They would look to Him as their source of help instead of idol gods and superstitions (v 7-8) c 4 things men will not look to (v 8):

1 Their many altars to idols
2 Any man-made deity or shrine
3 Groves (Heb. Asherahs, groves, p. 106)
4 Images (Heb. chammān, sun-pillar or images by which the sun was worshipped, v 8; 21:9; 30:22; 41:29; 42:8, 17)

d In that day. This is one of the few places where this term does not apply to the Millennium. It refers to the day in which the Assyrians were to fulfil this prophecy by destroying Syria and Ephraim (v 9)

e The strong cities of both Syria and Ephraim were destroyed by the Assyrians, mainly because of the sins of Israel (v 9)

f 3 general sins causing judgment:
1 You have forgotten God (v 10)
2 Neglected salvation
3 Not been mindful that true help and protection come from God

g God and Christ were the great Rocks of Israel. See Rock in Index

h You will set out plants and hope for a good crop, but you will be disappointed because of the invader taking it; you will have grief and sorrow (v 10-11)

i Strange slips, choice plants from afar

j These verses (v 12-14) have a latter day fulfillment because:
1 The picture is of the gathering of many nations against Israel (v 12-13)
2 It will be at the time when God will rebuke them and fight for Israel (v 13). This could not be the time spoken of in previous verses when God sends judgment on Israel. This is more the judgment of God upon the many nations gathered against Israel, as pictured in Ezek. 38-39; Joel 3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19
3 The mighty armies of the nations will flee like chaff and rolling things before a whirlwind, as also predicted in 13:14
4 During the battle of Armageddon, on the day when Christ comes to earth, is the only time in the future when, as predicted, the night will be as light as day in order to provide time enough to destroy such great armies that will be gathered against Jerusalem and the Jews. The whole night will be like it was in Joshua's long day (Josh. 10:13-14). Zechariah plainly predicts that at evening time when it should be getting dark, as on ordinary days, it will become light (Zech. 14:1-8); and here it reveals how long this light will continue - a full night, for by morning the fleeing armies will be destroyed. Such will be the judgment or "portion of them that spoil us" - Israel (v 14)

m Woe, not Ho, as some would say. The word is used here of a judgment, not simply calling attention to something. It is one of many woes pronounced upon various nations in this section (13:1-23:18). If we changed woe to ho in 18:1 we could do it in other passages (5:8, 11, 18, 20, 21, 22; 10:1; 17:12; 28:1, 14; 30:1; 31:1; 33:1; 45:9-10), but it would not make sense in all of them, so we must accept woe as interpreted p None of these details could possibly describe the United States, as some would interpret Isa. 18. In fact, not one passage in Scripture mentions the United States in particular. This passage describes Ethiopia, as proved on p. 736, and to force another meaning into it is unscriptural and unwise

(3) Effect: turning to God

7 [b]At that day shall a man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Iṣ'ra-el.

8 And he shall[c] not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.

(4) Desolation - famine: reasons

9 [d]In that day shall [e]his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch, which they left because of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: and there shall be desolation.

(2) Judgment described

3 [q]All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when [r]he lifteth up an ensign on the mountains; and when [s]he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.

4 [t]For so the LORD said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling place like a clear heat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.

5 For [u]afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he [v]shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.

6 [w]They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.

(3) Future restoration

7 ¶ [x]In that time shall the present be brought unto the LORD of hosts of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto; a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zi'ŏn.

6 Burden of Egypt (19:1-25; 20:1-6; Jer. 46; Ezek. 29:1-32:32). (1) Immediate judgment (19:1-15). A Eightfold confusion

1 THE [a]burden of [b]Ē'ġўpt. [c]Behold the LORD [d]rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Ē'ġўpt: and the [e]idols of Ē'ġўpt shall be moved [f]at his presence, and the [g]heart of Ē'ġўpt shall melt in the midst of it.

2 And [h]I will set the Ē-ġўp'-tiăns against the Ē-ġўp'tiăns: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3 And [i]the spirit of Ē'ġўpt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4 And the Ē-ġўp'tiăns will I give over into the hand of [j]a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

B Tenfold desolation

5 And the [k]waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.

b He - Jehovah will lift up an ensign. The only one He predicts to lift up is the Messiah, Himself as the ensign or rallying point of all nations, which identifies this passage as yet unfulfilled (v 3; note s, 11:10). Many will not rally to Christ, but will first oppose Him, being led by Antichrist (v 3; Zech. 14; Rev. 16:13-16; 19:11-21)

h In that time - when Antichrist's armies are destroyed and the Millennium begins following Armageddon the Ethiopians will submit to God and bring a present to the Lord of hosts who will then be in mount Zion and Jerusalem establishing the kingdom of David over Israel and all other nations (v 7; 9:6-7; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

m Egypt, once an idolatrous country, will know Jehovah when Christ comes, and worship Him (v 18-25)

n If the presence of God is not visible and real in the earth, then Egypt will never know of it when this prophecy if fulfilled any more than in ordinary times; but if His presence is personal and visible as stated in 63:1-5; Dan. 7:13-14, 22; Zech. 14:1-21; Mt. 24:29-31; Tit. 2:13; Jude 14-15; Rev. 11:14; 19:11-21; 21:3-7, then the prophecy is clear

o This is just the opposite of what we call a stout heart. It means here that there will be no courage or will to resist further. Jesus described it as men's hearts failing them for fear (Lk. 21:26)

p When this civil war in Egypt will take place in connection with these last-day events is not stated; but it is clear that at Armageddon men will be so confused that they will turn on each other (Zech. 14:13-14). Since Egypt is next to Palestine where the many millions of men under Antichrist will be gathered, the battle could extend into Egypt. To associate this civil war with something in the past is out of harmony with a future fulfillment as is required here brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks,[a] shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

9 Moreover they that[c] work in fine flax, and they that weave networks, shall be confounded.

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.

C Eightfold cause

11 [d]Surely the princes of Zō'an are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Phá'raōh is become [e]brutish: how say ye unto Phá'raōh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are they? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and [f]let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed upon Ē'gўpt.

13 The princes of [h]Zō'an are become fools, the princes of [i]Nōph are deceived; they have also seduced Ē'gўpt, even they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.

14 The LORD hath [j]mingled a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Ē'gўpt to err in every work thereof, [k]as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

15 [l]Neither shall there be any work for Ē'gўpt, which [m]the head or tail, [n]branch or rush, may do.

(2) In the day of the Lord (19:16-25; Isa. 2:10, refs.).

A Weakness

16 [o]In that day shall Ē'gўpt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And [p]the land of Jū'dah shall be a terror unto Ē'gўpt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the LORD of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

C Millennial blessings

19 [r]In that day shall there be an [s]altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Ē'gўpt, and a[t]pillar at the border thereof to the LORD.

20 And it shall be for a [u]sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Ē'gўpt: for [v]they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a [w]saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them.

21 And the LORD [x]shall be known to Ē'gўpt, and the Ē-gўp'tiąns shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation; yea, [a]they shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and perform it.

22 And the LORD [b]shall smite Ē'gўpt: he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

D Traffic in peace

23 [c]In that day shall there be a highway out of Ē'gўpt to Ăs-sўr'ī-á, and the Ăs-sўr'ī-an shall come into Ē'gўpt, and the Ē-gўp'tian into Ăs-sўr'ī-á, and the Ē-gўp'tiąns shall serve with the Ăs-sўr'ī-ąns.

E Union of ancient enemies

24 [d]In that day shall Ĭs'ra-el be the third with Ē'gўpt and with Ăs-sўr'ī-á, even a blessing in the midst of the land:

7 Burden of Egypt and Ethiopia. (1) Sign of Isaiah

IN the year that[g] Tär'tan came unto Ăsh'dŏd, (when [h]Săr'gon the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-á sent him,) and fought against Ăsh'dŏd, and took it;

2 [i]At the same time spake the LORD by Ĭ-sā'iah the son of Ā'mōz, saying, [j]Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.■

(2) Prediction by Isaiah

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Ĭ-sā'iah hath walked naked and barefoot[k] three years for a sign and wonder upon Ē'gўpt and upon Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-á;

4 So shall the king of Ăs-sўr'ī-á lead away the Ē-gўp'tiąns prisoners, and the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-ąns captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Ē'gўpt.

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-á their expectation, and of Ē'gўpt their glory.

a There will be a curse on vegetation during this time but after that the desert shall blossom as a rose and waters shall spring forth in the wilderness (35:1-8)

b Egyptians consumed much fish which they got from the Nile, the canals and lakes. Angling was a favorite pastime; nets were also used. During this curse on the rivers and canals all fishing, commercial and sporting will naturally cease (v 5-8) c All industries will be brought to a standstill - flax, weaving, fisheries (v 9-10). This will be for a temporary period only - during the transition, when Christ will be taking over the governments of this world to judge the nations and restore the earth to a perfect state for the good of men in the Millenium and forever

g This is true wisdom and knowledge - to know the plan of God for the earth and for each nation in particular that is dealt with in prophecy (v 12; Acts 15:13-18; 2 Tim. 2:15; 3:16-17). With such a knowledge Egypt could have avoided her calamities, and thus it could be with any nation. Even individuals can avoid personal calamity in many respects by such knowledge

h Zoan, one of the oldest cities in the world, having been built 7 years after Hebron (Num. 13:22). A residence of the rulers of ancient Egypt and where Moses wrought his miracles (Ps. 78:12, 43; 30:4; Ezek. 30:14)

i Noph, another residence of the rulers of ancient Egypt. It had temples of Vulcan, Venus, and Osiris; and here Apis, the sacred ox was worshipped (v 13; Jer. 2:16; 44:1; 46:14, 19; Ezek. 30:13, 16). Perhaps the same as Memphis (Hos. 9:6)

j God will mix a perverse spirit in the midst of Egypt so that their counsels will be unwise and foolish and thus add to the calamities of Egypt instead of avoiding them (v 14)

k The whole nation will be reeling like drunken men - unsettled in their counsels as a drunkard who reels and vomits (v 14)

l No man will be able to give Egypt any degree of advice or security, either those in office or out of office; high or low; strong or weak, for all will be confounded (v 15)

m The head and tail are explained in 9:14-15 as the ancient and honorable, and the false prophets. This is a proverbial saying expressing the high and the low n This is another proverbial expression meaning the high and the low. The branch means the bough or top of the palm tree. The palm grew to a great height and was a fit symbol of those high in office and authority. The rush refers to the coarse, long-jointed reed growing in the marshes. It was a fit symbol of the base and low classes of society (v 15; 9:14-15)

o In that day - the time of the future tribulation and Millennium, Egypt shall be like weak and fearful women because of the visitation of God (v 16)

p The land of Judah, the Israel of the last days who will be gathered back from all nations, will be a terror to Egypt in the latter days when this prophecy is fulfilled. Even every individual will be afraid in himself, because of the plan of God being fulfilled (v 17)

q In that day - the Millennium, 5 cities shall speak the language of Canaan, that is, the Hebrew language (v 18). The word five could mean that number or an indefinite number. This indicates that Egyptians will turn to God and be converted and swear by Jehovah. One place will be called The city of destruction; and though it is not named otherwise, the time of fulfillment is clearly at the end of this age when Messiah will come and Egypt and Assyria will be blessed of God along with restored Israel (v 18-25) c In that day - the Millennium, a highway will be made from Egypt through Palestine to Assyria and these countries will form an alliance, trade with one another, and serve Jehovah together (v 23-25)

d In that day - the Millennium, Israel (Judah of v 17, proving no difference in the two terms) shall be a third nation with Egypt and Assyria, even a blessing in the land; and God will bless all three peoples (v 24-25)

e All three nations - Egypt, Assyria, and Israel will be converted to Jehovah. Egypt will be My people. The Assyrians will be the work of My hands (which is the equivalent to saying they will be converted, 2 Cor. 5:17-18; Eph. 2:10), and Israel will be My inheritance (v 25)

f The purpose of this chapter is to warn Israel not to depend upon Egypt and Ethiopia for assistance against the king of Assyria, but to trust in God as the only source of help. Assyria had already conquered Syria and Ephraim and had taken Philistia, so was now ready to come against Judah (2 Ki. 16:5-18:37)

k The 3 years here must be the same as those mentioned in 16:14. Within 3 years Moab, Egypt, and Ethiopia were to be destroyed (v 3)

o This refers to Babylon, v 1 p Babylon will be destroyed by a mighty army passing through like a whirlwind that leaves destruction everywhere

q Whirlwinds are spoken of as coming from the south (v 1; Job 37:9; Zech. 9:14), and the north (Ezek. 1:4)

r The army that destroyed Babylon came out of the desert and mountainous country of the Medes and Elamites or Persians (v 1-2) s Elam was the name of the country originally possessed by the Persians - so-called from Elam, son of Shem (Gen. 10:22). It was east of the river Euphrates and the Persian Gulf. It was one of the earliest powers (Gen. 14:1, 9). Shushan was its capital (Neh. 1:1; Esther 1:2-5; 2:3-8; 3:15; 4:8, 16; 8:14-15; 9:6-18; Dan. 8:2). Elam is mentioned in prophecy (v 2; 11:11; 22:6; Jer. 25:25; 49:34-39; Ezek. 32:34; Dan. 8:2)

t Besiege Babylon. Fulfilled (Dan. 5)

u Media was located north of Persia, east of the Euphrates, and south of the Caspian Sea and Armenia. It derived its name from Madai, son of Japheth (Gen. 10:2). It was long under the Assyrians until Cyrus the Great, about 556 B.C. who united Media and Persia, forming the Medo-Persian empire (Esther 1:3, 14, 18; 10:2; Dan. 6:8, 12, 15; 9:1). The Medes are mentioned in prophecy (v 2; 13:17; Jer. 25:25; 51:11, 28; Dan. 5:28-31; 8:20)

the Egyptians as proved in v 20

u A sign and a witness unto Jehovah, not as the Bible in stone unto men (v 20)

v This gives the reason for the building of the pillar or monument at the border of Egypt in the Millennium (v 20)

w The only Saviour and Great One that God will send in the coming deliverance of Egypt to fulfil v 20-25 will be the Lord Jesus Christ who will come with the armies of heaven to destroy Antichrist and set up a kingdom in the world forever (v 20; 63:1-6; Zech. 14:1-9; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

x When these things are fulfilled the Lord shall be known to the Egyptians and they shall offer sacrifices, oblations, and pay vows to Him (v 21-25). Since this has never happened in the past, the reference must be to something which is to be fulfilled in the future

a The prophet's travail, p. 737
b As the vision of these things passed by, the prophet saw such indescribable and great sufferings in Babylon that he was appalled thereby and pained with sympathetic feelings (v 3) c Heb. taah, to reel or stray; stagger; wander (v 4) d It seems that when the prophet saw, in the Spirit, the destruction of Babylon he experienced the deepest of sufferings for the people facing such calamities. Apparently, he put himself in the very place of those who were to suffer and had their feelings. The night of pleasure he referred to here was no doubt the night of the drunken feast of Belshazzar as in Dan. 5. Isaiah called it his pleasure because of representing himself in Babylon when the pleasure ceased and the city was taken; hence, he used the language of those who were actually there. In that night the hearts of the people panted; fearfulness took hold of them; and the night of pleasure was turned into fear after the table was spread and the banquet was set. Watchmen had been placed in the watchtower, and men ate and drank in apparent security; then suddenly, they had to fight, for the Medes and Persians had gained entrance t. the city. It was time for it to fall as predicted (v 3-5; Dan. 5)
e Many shields were made of several thicknesses of leather stretched over a metallic rim, and strengthened and ornamented with pieces of metal. An occasional rubbing with oil was necessary to prevent the leather from becoming dry and cracked, and to keep the metallic parts from being rusted. Such treatment was given in preparation for battle (v 5) f Here again the prophet represented himself as being in Babylon; that is, he seemed to be there in the vision; and the Lord commanded him to set a watchman in the tower to announce what was to come to pass. The watchman saw chariots (some render it cavalry two abreast) marching to the destruction of Babylon (v 6-7), horsemen and chariots approaching with rapidity, fierceness, and terror of a lion upon its prey; and a voice cried: Babylon is fallen, is fallen (v 8-9). The repetition of is fallen was for emphasis to denote certainty. See notes on Jer. 50-51
g Babylon was noted for its idolatry; it was perhaps the place where the worship of idols began. The principal god was Bel (46:1; Jer. 50:2; 51:44)
h The destruction of Babylon is compared to threshing wheat by treading it under foot in a threshingfloor (v 10; Jer. 51:33)

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pain: [c]pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: [b]I was bowed down at the hearing of it; I was dismayed at the seeing of it.

4 My heart [c]panted, [d]fearfulness affrighted me: the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me.

●5 Prepare the table, watch in the watchtower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and [e]anoint the shield.

(3) Fall (Jer. 51:11; Dan. 5)

●6 For thus hath the LORD /said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels; and he hearkened diligently with much heed:

8 And he cried, A lion: My lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward whole nights:

9 And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, Bȧb'ý-lon is fallen, is fallen; and all the [g]graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.

10 O my [h]threshing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el, have I declared unto you.

✱11 ¶ [i]The burden of Dụ'mah. He calleth to me out of Sē'ïr, Watchman, /what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?

12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will enquire, enquire ye: [k]return, come.

10 Burden of Arabia. (1) Invasion by Assyria (36:18-21)

✱13 ¶ [l]The burden upon [m]A-rā'-bī-ȧ. In the [n]forest in Ă-rā'bī-ȧ shall ye lodge, O ye [o]travelling companies of [p]Dĕd'a-nim.

15 For they fled from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.

(2) Time: result

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, [r]Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kē'dăr shall fail:

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of [s]Kē'dăr, shall be diminished: for the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el hath spoken it.

11 Burden of Jerusalem (22:1-25; Jer. 25:1-11; Amos 2:4-16). (1) Fourfold judgment

¶THE [c]burden [b]of [c]the valley of vision. [d]What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly [e]gone up to the housetops?

2 Thou that art full of stirs, a tumultuous city, a [f]joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, [g]nor dead in battle.

3 [h]All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.

(2) Lamentation for Jerusalem (24:16; Jer. 7:29; 9:17; Lam.; Ezek. 19:1; 26:15; 27:1, 28; 28:11; 32:1; Joel 1:8, 11, 13; Amos 5:1, 16; Mic. 1:8; 2:4)

4 [i]Therefore said I, Look away from me; I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord GOD of hosts in /the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.

(3) Invaders (Jer. 25:1-14)

6 And [k]Ē'lȧm bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and [l]Kir uncovered the shield.

7 And it shall come to pass, that thy choicest valleys shall be [m]full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.

(4) Vain defense preparations

8 ¶ And [n]he discovered the covering of Jŭ'dah, and [o]thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of Dā'vid, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.

10 And ye have numbered the houses of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.

(5) Sin: impenitence (9:13-16)

12 And [p]in that day did the Lord GOD of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth:

13 And behold joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: [q]let us eat and drink; for to morrow we shall die.

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the LORD of hosts, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

a 26th prophecy in Isa. (22:1-14, fulfilled). Next, v 15. See p. 737
b 4 main parts to the prophecy, p. 737 c Jerusalem was the valley of vision, so-called because this prophecy and many others came by visions seen in the valley near and inside the city. There is no doubt from v 9-10 but what Jerusalem is meant
d Question 35. Next, v 16
e The people were so alarmed about the invading armies outside the city that they fled to the housetops. This gives the true picture of an Oriental city in confusion. The flat roofs were used much as living quarters for the households, and especially as gathering places during any excitement, in the same way that we use our streets. From the roofs people could see more clearly what was happening down the roads or in the streets. The prophet represented the entire city as being on the housetops during this commotion (v 1-2)
f This indicates revelry in the city in spite of impending danger and death (v 2 with v 12-14)
g The ones slain were those who fled the city and were captured and killed, for those who remained in the city were saved by God destroying the Assyrian army (37:33-38)
h This verse expresses the idea that the people in Jerusalem were benumbed with fear to inactivity, being helpless against the great armies on the outside who demanded surrender (v 3; 36:1-22)
i These 2 verses express the overwhelming grief over the trouble that was to come to Judah (chs. 36-37)
j The second time Jerusalem is called the valley of vision (v 1, 5, 9-10) k This is Persia, and Kir of this verse is Media, indicating that the armies of the Medes and Persians were with Assyria in these invasions of Palestine and surrounding countries. It was not until nearly 200 years later that the Medes and Persians became independent of Assyria and Babylon, and so, at this time they were serving the Assyrians (v 6-7)
l Kir was a city in Media (v 6; 2 Ki. 16:9; Amos 1:5; 9:7). This was not Kir of Moab (15:1) m This indicates the greatness of the armies that were with the Assyrians and shows why the case of Judah seemed utterly hopeless-and such it was, without God (v 7; 37:36-38)
n He (the invader) discovered the covering of Judah; that is, he subjected Judah to all kinds of insults and reproach (v 8; 36:4-22)
o Thou (king of Judah) didst cast your eyes toward the armour in the house of the forest as the last resort, and as the only means of defence (v 8). You have seen also the breaches of the city of David, have sought to conserve the water supply, have torn down houses to fortify the walls, and have made certain preparations for defense, but you have not yet looked to God and trusted in Him to deliver you from the Assyrians (v 8-11). It was not until after the threats of Rabshakeh and the personal message from Isaiah that Hezekiah sought God and trusted in Him for help (36:4-37:38) p In that day -not the Millennium in this instance, but the time the Assyrians laid siege to Jerusalem (v 12; chs. 36-38). God called for repentance, fasting and prayer, but instead the people went into revelry and pleasure even in view of the short time they thought they would have on earth (v 12-14). God assured them that they would continue this way until death (v 14) q Paul quoted this passage in 1 Cor. 15:32 in connection with the resurrection. These people reasoned that since they were to die soon, at the hands of the Assyrians who were besieging their city, they might as well enjoy life while it lasted. This is the attitude of the ungodly who have no hope of a life to come. Among the Egyptians the brevity of life was emphasized by putting the image of Osiris in a coffin. This reminded them that one day they would be thus, and warned them to avoid evils that would shorten life. Here the idea of life being short only made men want to live in sinful pleasure as long as possible (v 12-14)

c Many tombs in the East were hewn out of solid rock, sometimes below the ground, but more often in the mountain sides. Some were large chambers with narrow cells on each side for the bodies of the dead, as many as 30 to 60 in some cases. Shebna had hewn a sepulchre for himself on high, that is, high in the mountain; but he was not to be put there. He was to go into captivity and be buried in a strange land (v 16-19)
d Shebna had sought to exalt himself by making a beautiful tomb so that he could be buried with the rich and royal in a prominent place; but God, by sending him into captivity, was to cover him, that is, bring him down to a humble and common place in life so that he would be as much ashamed in the end as he had planned to be proud. He was to have his face covered like those who mourn, or as a man's face is covered for execution (Esther 7:8)

2 Shebna's in Scripture:
1 A treasurer who was succeeded by Eliakim (22:15-25). Shebna means youthfulness
2 A scribe who served along with Eliakim (36:3, 11, 22; 37:2; 2 Ki. 18:18, 26, 37; 19:2)

e 10fold exaltation of Eliakim:

2 I will clothe him (v 21)
3 I will strengthen him
4 I will commit the government to him
5 He shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah
6 I will give him the key of David (v 22)
7 He shall have authority to open and shut and none shall hinder him
8 I will make him permanent (v 23)

2 A king of Judah (2 Ki. 23:34; 2 Chr. 36:4)
3 A priest after the exile (Neh. 12:41)
4 A Judahite in the line of Christ (Mt. 1:13; Lk. 3:30)

g Rulership of the treasury (v 15, 21)
h A father-counsellor, guide, as we would say "father of his country" (v 21)
i Oriental keys were large and often carried on the shoulder. The possession of a key was evidence of property or trust, an emblem of authority. Eastern merchants were often seen carrying keys on the shoulder. Cp. note r, Mt. 16:19; Rev. 1:18; 3:7; 9:1; 20:1
j It was the custom to build certain pegs into the house, to hang things on. Unlike temporary nails in plastered walls which can fall out in time, these were very permanent. On such pegs trophies, shields, swords, gold and silver vessels, changes of raiment, and other valuable things were hung, for show (v 23-24. Cp. Ezra 9:8)
k All that belonged to or preceeded from the family (v 24)

(6) Shebna removed from office

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shĕb'nā, which is over the house, and say, 16 [b]What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast [c]hewed thee out a sepulchre here, as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?

17 Behold, the Lord will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will surely [d]cover thee.

22 And [i]the key of the house of Dā'vid will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.

23 And I will fasten him [j]as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the [k]offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flagons.

(8) Shebna's security blasted

702 CHAPTER 23

12 Burden of Tyre (23:1-18; Jer. 47:4; Ezek. 27:1-28:24; Amos 1:9). (1) Howl: total desolation

THE burden of Tȳre. [m]Howl, ye [n]ships of [o]Tär'shish; for it is [p]laid waste, so that there is no house, [q]no entering in: from the land of [r]Chĭt'tim it is revealed to them.

2 [s]Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom [t]the merchants of Zī'dŏn, that pass over the sea, have [u]replenished.

3 And by [v]great waters the seed of [w]Sī'hôr, the harvest of the river, is her revenue; and she is a mart of nations.

4 [x]Be thou ashamed, O Zī'dŏn: for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.

5 As at the report concerning Ē'gўpt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tȳre.

(2) Howl: the destroyer

6 [y]Pass ye over to Tär'shish; howl, ye inhabitants of the isle.

7 [z]Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.

8 Who hath taken this counsel against Tȳre, the [a]crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?

9 The Lord of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.

10 [b]Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tär'shish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the Lord hath given a commandment against the merchant city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.

12 And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zī'dŏn: arise, pass over to Chĭt'tim; there also shalt thou have no rest.

13 Behold the land of [c]the Chăl-dē'ans; this people was not, till the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-an founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof; and [d]he brought it to ruin.

(3) Howl: time of desolation

14 Howl, ye ships of Tär'shish: for your strength is laid waste.

15 And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tȳre [e]shall be forgotten [f]seventy years, according to the days of [g]one king: [h]after the end of seventy years shall Tȳre sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass after [i]the end of seventy years, that the Lord will visit Tȳre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.

18 And [j]her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

V Tribulation and Millennium (24:1-27:13; 2:1; 4:1; 65:18). I The tribulation (24:1-22). (1) Land: fourfold desolation a This refers to some of the inhabitants of Tyre fleeing in ships upon hearing that Nebuchadnezzar was about to take the city. They took the wealth with them so he found nothing of value in the city when it was taken. This and the 13 years of siege so enraged him that he destroyed the place completely (v 6)

b Questions 38-39. Next, 27:4
c Tyre had started several colonies-Tarshish in Spain, they say, as well as Citium in Cyprus, Carthage in Africa, and others; so her merchants were true princes and honorable men in the earth (v 8)
d See 21 predictions-fulfilled, p. 737 for the details of the prophecy e This verse states the source of the destruction of Tyre-the Chaldeans or Babylonians (v 13). These were wild and barbarous peoples with no government until they became a part of Assyria. They were under the Assyrians for centuries, then rose to greatness and overthrew the Assyrian empire. The names Babylon and Chaldea are used interchangeably in Scripture (48:14, 20; Jer. 50:1; 51:24; Ezek. 12:13)
f The Babylonian or Chaldean brought Tyre to ruin (v 13)
g Shall cease to be a place of importance and commerce, and shall be unheard of in the far distant places where her ships used to be seen (v 15) h This was the 70 years Judah was to be in captivity (Jer. 25:9-14), the length of the Babylonian monarchy (v 15-17; Dan. 17:17; 8:20; 9:2). Nebuchadnezzar began his siege of Tyre in the first year of his reign and from then to the taking of Babylon by Darius and Cyrus was 70 years. At that time the nations which had been taken captive to Babylon were to be released. Jeremiah spoke of all these nations serving the king of Babylon. Some were conquered sooner than others, but all were to be set free at the end of the 70 years which were to be during the life of "him" (Nebuchadnezzar), and his son's son (Evil-Merodach), and his son's son (Belshazzar, Jer. 27:7; Dan. 5)
i One dynasty or succession of kings, as the word king means in Dan. 7:17
j After the 70 years Tyre will be restored and sing as an harlot (v 15-17) k The Lord will permit Tyre to be restored after the 70 years and she shall enjoy all her riches and glory as before. She shall be made rich again by her intercourse with all nations. Tyre was rebuilt on the Island and soon rivalled the former Tyre in glory and wealth. The new city was taken by Alexander the Great about 255 years after the former one had been destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar l This verse evidently looks forward to the last days when Tyre will be blessed under the Messiah in the Millennium the New Earth periods. Her commerce shall be holiness to the Lord; and her wealth shall not be treasured or hoarded to make men rich at the expense of the poor, but it will be used for them that dwell before the Lord, so that they can have sufficient food and clothing. This has never yet been fulfilled, so it must refer to the Millennium when there shall be HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD upon the bells of the horses and upon every pot and pan in Jerusalem (Zech. 14:1-5, 9, 16-21)

t Tyre was a colony of Zidon (v 2, 4)
u Replenished with merchandise and riches (v 2; Ezek. 27:6-23)
v Referring to the overflowing of the Nile. Tyre was the mart to which the productions of Egypt were taken (v 3) w Sihor is another name for the Nile river of Egypt (v 3; Josh. 13:3; Jer. 3:18) x Zidon (note v, Josh. 11:8)
y 4 things Zidon said (v 4):
1 I travail not
2 I do not bring forth children
3 I do not nourish young men
4 I do not bring up virgins
Zidon helped in the founding of Tyre and was considered Tyre's mother; but in the destruction of Tyre, Zidon was so weakened that she declared here that she would not found or start any other city

b The word for earth in v 1, 4-6 is the same one trans. land in v 3, 11, 13, and could be limited in these verses to the land of Judah (26:1) c 28 things to happen to Judah, p. 473
d 12 classes to be judged (v 2):
1 People 7 Buyer
2 Priest 8 Seller
3 Servant 9 Lender
4 Master 10 Borrower
5 Maid 11 Taker of usury
6 Mistress 12 Giver of usury
e 3 causes of judgment on Judah (v 5):
1 They have transgressed the laws
2 Changed the ordinance
3 Broken the everlasting covenant
f When all this happens to Judah there will be very few men left (v 6, 14-15); it will be like a few olives and grapes after the harvest (v 13)
g This (the remnant left) shall turn to God and sing praise and cry aloud from the sea coasts where they have fled to find refuge (v 14)
h Here is a command to the remnant to glorify God in the fires of tribulation, and to all who are in the coast-lands to glorify the name of the Lord (v 15)

n His ancients will consist of Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, David, O. T. worthies, the apostles, and others of N. T. times who will reign as kings and priests with Christ (2:2-4; 9:6-7; Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 34:24; 37:24-28; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Hos. 3:4-5; Zech. 14:9; Mt. 8:11-12; Lk. 1:32-33; 22:29-30; Rev. 5:10; 11:15; 20:4-6; 22:4-5)

o 2 things the prophet vowed to do (v 1):
1 I will exalt You
2 I will praise Your name

p 20 reasons for his vow to worship:
1 You have done wonderful things (v 1)
2 Your counsels of old are faithfulness and truth
3 You have made of a city an heap (v 2)
4 A defenced city a ruin
5 A palace of strangers to be no city
6 You have been a strength to the poor (v 4)
7 A strength to the needy in distress
8 A refuge from the storm
9 A shadow from the heat
10 You shall bring down the noise of strangers (v 5)
11 Make a feast in mount Zion for all people of all good things (v 6)
12 You will destroy in mount Zion the face of the covering cast over all people, and the veil of darkness spread over all nations (v 7)
13 Swallow up death in victory (v 8)
14 Wipe away tears from all faces
15 Wipe away the reproach of Your people
16 Save us (v 9)
17 Rest Your hand in mount Zion (v 10)
18 Tread down Moab
19 Spread forth Your hands and bring down their pride (v 11)
20 Lay fortresses of enemies down low

q 4fold destruction of Babylon (v 2):
1 You have made of a city a heap
2 A defenced city a ruin
3 A palace of strangers to be no city
4 It shall never be built
These statements, especially this last one, identify the ruined city as the future Babylon which will be destroyed under the 7th vial at the end of this age, Babylon is the only city that is definitely pictured in detail as to destruction in that day, and it is stated several times that it will never be built again after this final and complete destruction in the day of the Lord (v 2; 13:1-16, 19-22; 14:1-27; Jer. 50-51; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24). Therefore, because of the destruction of such a great and mighty city, strong nations and cities of terrible nations will fear God (v 3)

BEHOLD, [a]the LORD maketh the [b]earth [c]empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

(2) People: twelvefold judgment

2 And it shall be, [d]as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.

(3) Land: twofold judgment

3 The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word.

(4) People: threefold judgment

4 The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.

(5) Threefold cause: judgment

5 The [e]earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.

(6) Twentyfold curse

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.

9 They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.

10 The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

(7) Rejoicing: Jewish remnant (cp. 1:9, refs.)

13 ¶ [f]When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.

14 [g]They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the LORD, they shall cry aloud from the sea.

15 [h]Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the fires, even the name of the LORD God of Is'ra-el in the isles of the sea.

(8) Lamentation: the remnant of Israel

16 ¶ From the uttermost part of [a]the earth have we heard songs, even [g]glory to the righteous. But I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 [c]Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitants of the earth.

18 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and [d]he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: [e]for the windows from on high are open, and the [f]foundations of the earth do shake.

(9) Land: eightfold judgment

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it; and [g]it shall fall, and not rise again.

(10) Armageddon: Satan defeated (27:1; 63:1-5; Joel 3; Zech. 14; 2 Thess. 2; Ezek. 38-39; Rev. 19-20)

21 And it shall come to pass [h]in that day, that the LORD shall punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.

22 And [i]they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the [j]pit, and shall be shut up in the [k]prison, and [l]after many days shall they be visited.

2 Millennium (24:23-27:13. Cp. 20:1, refs.). (1) Reign of the Messiah

23 [m]Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zi'ŏn, and in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and before his [n]ancients gloriously.

CHAPTER 25 704

(2) Twentyfold millennial worship (12:1, refs.). A Blessings to God's people

O LORD, thou art my God; [o]I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; [p]for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.

B Judgment on enemies

2 For thou hast made of a city an heap; of a defenced city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city; [q]it shall never be built.

3 Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee.

C Blessings on God's people a Here is the first place in this ch. where the word earth seems to have the usual meaning instead of being limited to Palestine, as in v 1-15. The prophet seemed to hear songs of glory to the righteous from far distant lands. He represented himself as with the remnant in Palestine, and upon hearing these songs, cried about the treacherous dealers who had spoiled them (v 16). The mention of priest (v 2), Jewish laws and covenants (v 5), the city of Jerusalem (v 10-12), and the remnant (v 13-15) all indicate that the land of Judah is the reference in v 1-15, whereas such statements as those about songs from the uttermost part of the earth (v 16), the foundations of the earth shaking (v 18), and the angelic rulers and kings of the earth (v 21-22) indicate a broader meaning of the word earth in v 16, etc.

b Treacherous dealers refers to foreign nations and rulers that break covenants, particularly to the future Antichrist who will break his covenant with the Jews, drive them out of their land and rule from Jerusalem most of the last 3 1/2 years of this age (Dan. 9:27; Mt. 24:15-22; 2 Th. 2:1-8). The 10 kings of the last two world kingdoms before the 2nd advent of Christ will also deal treacherously with Israel (Dan. 7:23-24; Rev. 12:6-17; 13:1-18; 17:12-17)
c This simply expresses the idea that no place will be safe, and if danger is escaped at one place it will be faced in another place. The fear refers to the means of scaring animals into a net, a snare, or a pit prepared for them (v 17-18)
d Sometimes particularly powerful beasts would spring out of a pit and have to be caught again by a snare (v 18)
e This explains the supernatural source of the calamities coming upon men in the future days of the tribulation. They will come from heaven (Rev. 6:12-18:24; 19:1-10)
f See Foundations of the earth, p. 473
g Many places on the earth will no doubt be literally thrown down, as the mount of Olives (Zech. 14:4), the cities of the nations (Rev. 17:16-21), and other places which will never rise again
h In that day - the day of the battle of Armageddon and Millennium - Satan, fallen angels, and demons that are on high or now rule the air (Eph. 2:2), and the kings of the earth will be defeated (v 21; Zech. 14:1-5; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21; 20:1-10)
i Satan, fallen angels, and demons will be put into the bottomless pit for 1,000 years (Rev. 20:1-7) and the Antichrist and false prophet will be sent to the lake of fire (Rev. 19:20; 20:10). The kings of the earth will be sent to sheol like prisoners being gathered into a pit (v 22)
j See note j, Ps. 28:1
k Prison, not the grave. See Hell in Index
l After 1,000 years or 365,250 days, Satan and his spirit forces will be liberated from the bottomless pit to deceive the nations during a short season. They will then be cast into the lake of fire prepared for them (Mt. 25:41; Rev. 20:7-10). The beast and false prophet will remain in the lake of fire during the 1,000 years; they will still be there when Satan is put into that eternal hell. The second resurrection will take place at that time and sheol-hades will deliver up the dead who will be judged and cast into the lake of fire (Rev. 20:11-15) m Then - after the future tribulation, the battle of Armageddon, and the 2nd advent of Christ, the planets will become confounded and ashamed of their limited light in comparison with the glory of God shining over mount Zion and Jerusalem during the Millennium and New Earth forever when God and Christ will reign (v 23; 4:5-6; 60:19-20). In other parts of the earth, the light of the sun will be increased 7fold and that of the moon will be like the present light of the sun; and yet they will be ashamed (30:26). The glory of God will also shine forth in the New Jerusalem (Rev. 21:23-22:5)

a 4 things God has been to men (v 4):
1 Strength to the poor in poverty
2 Strength to the needy in distress
3 A refuge from the storm
4 A shadow from the heat
b God is all these 4 things to men who trust in Him whenever the terrible ones storm into the land like the blast. This kind of statement always refers to the quick invasion of a country (v 4; 37:7; 2 Ki. 19:7) c The noise of strangers, p. 476
d See Feasts of good things, p. 476
e See Salvation of Gentiles, p. 476
f This refers to wines which are kept a long time, having the dregs mixed with them, making them old and strong. They were refined by being strained through a cloth, separating the wine from the lees or dregs (v 6) g Fat things full of marrow is an expression denoting sumptuous entertainment and abundant provisions (Ps. 36:8; 63:5)
h Abolish; remove; take away
i Mount Zion (24:23)
j Covering the face indicated grief, sorrow, and misery. The idea here is the removal of all satanic darkness and power now covering the whole of the nations. The prince of the power of the air that works in all sons of sin will be removed from all hearts and minds; then men will, for the first time since Adam's innocence, be free from all satanic influences and demon powers. Satan is the ruler of the darkness of this world, and he and all his agents will be confined to the abyss during the 1,000 years of Rev. 20 (v 7; 24:21-22; Eph. 6:12; Rev. 12:7-12; 20:3) k Engulf; remove; abolish; cancel; and cause the ravages and triumph of death to cease (v 8). In the first resurrection, before the Millennium, all the righteous dead of all ages, including the godly from Abel to the end of the future tribulation, will be resurrected; and death will be done away as far as they are concerned, at that time (1 Cor. 15:23, 51-57; Phil. 3:20-21; 1 Th. 4:13-17; Rev. 20:4-6). Death will not be destroyed for sinners though, for they will continue to die during the Millennium. When the second resurrection takes place and all wicked men are given immortality of the body to be tormented day and night eternally, then death will be destroyed (1 Cor. 15:24-28, 35-45; Rev. 20:4-6, 11-15). Christ has already conquered death and He now holds the keys of death and hades (Heb. 3:14-15; Rev. 1:18); but death as an enemy will continue throughout the Millennium and exercise its power over sinners (65:20; 1 Cor. 15:24-28). After that period there will be no more death (Rev. 21:3-7; 22:3) l Wiping away the tears from the faces of the saints who have part in the first resurrection will take place before the Millennium (1 Th. 4:13-18; Rev. 7:9-17); but regarding the natural people who live through the Millennium as subjects of Christ and the resurrected saints, this will not take place until the end of the Millennium (Rev. 21:1-7)
m The reproach, contempt, shame, and defeat will be taken away from His people when Messiah comes to reign (v 8-9; 2:2-4; 35:1-8; 65:20-25)
n In that day -the Millennium it shall be said, This is our God whom we have waited for and He is here (v 9; 52:7; Ezek. 43:7)
o In this mountain -mount Zion (v 6, 7, 10; 24:23) p Hand of the Lord denotes His power, deliverance, and protection over His people (Ezra 7:6, 28; 8:18, 22, 31; Neh. 2:8; Acts 4:30; 11:21)
q Moab shall be completely defeated and serve Israel in the Millennium (v 10; 11:14; 16:1-5, notes)
r Jehovah will stretch forth His hands and prostrate His enemies, and bring down their pride, making all under subjection as easily as a swimmer makes his way through the water by stretching out his hands (v 11-12)

s In that day -the Millennium, Judah will sing this song of triumph (v 1-21)
t Jerusalem, which will be rebuilt completely, as described in Ezek. 48, notes.

4 For thou [a]hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, [b]when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.

D Judgment on enemies

5 Thou shalt bring down [c]the noise of strangers, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.

E Blessings to God's people

6 ¶ [d]And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make [e]unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of [f]wines on the lees, [g]of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.

F Judgment on enemies: Satan cast out and the curse removed 7 And he will [h]destroy in [i]this mountain the [j]face of the covering cast over all people, and the veil that is spread over all nations.

8 He will [k]swallow up death in victory; and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the [m]rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.

G Blessings to God's people

9 ¶ And it shall be said [n]in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.

H Judgment on enemies

10 For [o]in this mountain shall the [p]hand of the LORD rest, and Mō'ab shall be [q]trodden down under him, even as straw is trodden down for the dunghill.

11 And he shall [r]spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.

12 And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

CHAPTER 26 705

(3) A millennial song (12:1, refs.). A Salvation of the righteous

IN [s]that day shall this song be sung in the land of Jū'dah; We have a [t]strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

●2 [u]Open ye the gates, that [v]the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

▸3 Thou [w]wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.

▸4 [x]Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD [y]JĔ-HŌ'-VAH is [a]everlasting strength:●

B Punishment of the wicked

5 ¶ For he [b]bringeth down them that dwell on high; the lofty city, he layeth it low; he layeth it low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust.

6 The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

C The way of the righteous

7 The [c]way of the just is uprightness: thou, [d]most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

8 Yea, [e]in the way of thy judgments, O LORD, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early; for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

D The way of the wicked

10 [f]Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the LORD.

11 LORD, when thy hand is lifted up, [g]they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy at the people; yea, the [h]fire of thine enemies shall devour them.

E Prayer of the righteous

12 ¶ LORD, thou wilt [i]ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us.

13 O LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.

14 They are [k]dead, they shall not live; they are [l]deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15 Thou hast increased [m]the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified: thou hadst removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.

16 LORD, [n]in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.

17 [o]Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy sight, O LORD.

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, [p]we have as it were brought forth wind; we [q]have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; [r]neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.

F Resurrection of the just ●19 [s]Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body a Jehovah is the Rock of Ages; the Undefeatable One; the Eternal Strong One (v 4) b 4 acts of Jehovah:

1 He brings the proud down (v 5)
2 He lays the lofty city to the ground
3 He causes the poor and helpless to tread upon the mighty (v 6) 4 He weighs the path of the just (v 7) c The way of the just can be described with one word - uprightness (v 7)
d God is more upright than the upright (v 7)
e 7 things that constitute uprightness:
1 Walking in the way of God's judgments (v 8)
2 Waiting for the Lord to lead
3 Desiring the name of God
4 Remembering the Lord 9)
5 Desiring God with the whole soul (v
6 Seeking God early with the spirit
7 Learning righteousness by chastening (v 9; Heb. 12:5-13)
f 3 characteristics of the wicked (v 10):
1 He will not learn righteousness when favor is from him (v 10)
2 He will deal unjustly with neighbors
3 He will refuse to recognize God in all His merciful dealings with him
g This verse simply explains that although the wicked will not recognize all the goodness of God which is about him, he will yet be made to see and be ashamed that he did not see the hand of God sooner, and that he envied the righteous (v 11)
h The fire of God's vengeance shall devour His enemies (v 11)
i Arrange peace for those who keep their minds stayed on Jehovah (v 3, 12)
j The other lords were the oppressors of the past (v 13) k The kings and oppressors of v 13 are dead and will not be permitted to live again to oppress Israel (v 14)
l See Giants, p. 476
m Increased the nation of Judah and removed it to all the ends of the earth (v 15). This was uttered about 133 years before Judah was scattered by Nebuchadnezzar and 819 years before Rome led the people captive among all nations (Lk. 21:20-24)

n This predicts that Judah, while scattered among the nations, would seek God travailing like a woman (v 16-18; 66:7-8; Jer. 20:1-9; Dan. 12:1; Rev. 12)
o 5 facts about Judah's travail:
1 We have been in pain (v 17-18)
2 We have cried out in travail (v 17)
3 We have brought forth wind (v 18)
4 We have not wrought any deliverance in the earth
5 Gentiles have not been subdued p We have produced nothing in all our troubles among the nations (v 18)
q We have not converted the Gentiles or made God known to other nations (v 18)
r Neither have the Gentiles been subdued (v 18)
s The dead men of Israel will be resurrected; together with Isaiah they shall rise (v 19)

It will be made strong by God being the protector and defender through His means of salvation u There will be 12 gates in the walls of the rebuilt city of earthly Jerusalem, 3 on each side with the name of the 12 tribes of Israel on them (v 2; Ezek. 48:30-35). This will be a miniature of the heavenly city, the New Jerusalem of Rev. 21:9-27
v Israel will be the righteous nation, having been redeemed to the last man (66:7-8; Rom. 11:25-29; Jer. 31:34; 41:1, 8; Heb. 8:11)

w This is a promise for all men of all ages who meet the condition of keeping the mind stayed on God and who trust in Him at all times in all things and in all places (v 3; Ps. 91). It is just the opposite of 57:20-21

x Obedience to this command to the letter will produce the wonderful result of perfect peace of v 3
y One of 4 times the original word is retained - not translated (v 4; 12:2; Ex. 6:3; Ps. 83:18)

a Awake, continuing the doctrine of the resurrection of ordinary men and no resurrection for giants or Rephaim (v 14, 19; Dan. 12:2) See Giants, p. 476 b Dew is an emblem of that which revives and refreshes. Here it illustrates the reviving of the dead bodies of men (v 19) c Heb. naphal minney, cast out; cast away; cast from. It means that the earth will cast the Rephaim away from it, or not yield them up in resurrection. The Peshitta reads, "the land of the giants thou shalt overthrow;" Septuagint, "the land of the ungodly shall fall;" Young, "the land of Rephaim thou causest to fall" See Giants, p. 476
d This verse refers to the flight of the sun-clothed woman of Rev. 12 (national Israel) from Judah into the wilderness of Edom and Moab for protection from Antichrist until the little moment, or until the indignation (tribulation) be overpast (v 20; p. 307 of N. T.)

o I am not angry with My vineyard (Judah) any more (v 4; 5:1-7). The reason for this is that all the Jews will be gathered from all nations to make the 12-tribe kingdom of Israel in the Millennium and they will then be saved and blessed under the Messiah-being no more in rebellion and scattered among the nations (v 4; 2:2-4; 9:6-7; 11:10-12; 66:7-8; Jer. 30:31; Zech. 14; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29)
p Question 40. Next, v 7

q God challenges His enemies whom He likens to briers and thorns that would burn by the fury of God in battle (v 4) r Or, if the enemy does not want to be burned like briers and thorns in the fire, let him take hold of My strength and make peace with Me. If he will do this he will be blessed with Israel (v 5-6) s God will plant Judah and all Israel again like a vineyard being planted, and they shall blossom and bud again, and fulfil their calling of filling the whole world with fruit. All nations will be blessed by them (v 6; 5:1-7)
t Questions 41-42. Next, 28:9. The answer to these questions is that God did not destroy His people as He did their enemies who sought to destroy them. He punished them for their sins but He will redeem and restore them, whereas, He destroyed their enemies (v 7; 63:1-5; Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46) u In measure-measure enough to purge Israel. He has judged His people (v 8-9)

v This refers to the stroke of judgment of v 7, which was for correction and not total destruction. God would debate or curb the stroke, knowing how much to give His people; and He will control His judgments on them like He would the rough wind in the day of the tempestuous and violent east wind, so that full damage will not be made on them (v 8)
w The east wind was always violent and rough in Judea (v 8; Job 27:21)
x By this judgment upon His people the iniquity of Jacob will be purged; and the proof of such cleansing from sin will be when Israel is caused by God to throw down the stones of the altar and the groves (Asherahs, p. 106), and throw away the images (v 9)
y Babylon shall be destroyed and be a desolate wilderness - the habitation of animals (v 10; 13:19-22) shall they arise. [a]Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: [b]for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall [c]cast out the dead.

G Preservation of the just 20 ¶ [d]Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself as it were for a little moment, until the [e]indignation be overpast.

H Destruction of the unjust

21 [f]For, behold, the LORD cometh [g]out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose [h]her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

706 CHAPTER 27

(4) Armageddon: Satan defeated (24:21-22; Zech. 14; Joel 3; 2 Th. 2; Rev. 19-20)

IN [i]that day the LORD with his [j]sore and great and strong sword shall punish [k]leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the [l]dragon that is in the sea.

(5) A millennial song (12:1, refs.). A Sevenfold care (5:1-2)

2 [m]In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine.

3 [n]I the LORD do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4 [o]Fury is not in me: [p]who would [q]set the briers and thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.

5 [r]Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; and he shall make peace with me.

6 [s]He shall cause them that come of Jă'cob to take root: Ĭs'ra-el shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

B Inquiry of God (5:3-4)

7 ¶ [t]Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

C Answer: ninefold judgment (5:5)

8 [u]In measure, [v]when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it: he stayeth his rough wind in the day of [w]the east wind.

9 [x]By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jă'cob be purged; and this is all the fruit to take away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and images shall not stand up.

10 Yet the [y]defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken, and left like a wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off: the [a]women come, and set them on fire: [b]for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.

D Israel regathered (11:10-15)

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass in [c]that day, [d]that the LORD shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Ē'gўpt, and ye shall be gathered [e]one by one, O ye [f]children of Ĭs'ra-el.

13 And it shall come to pass in [g]that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Ăs-sўr'Ĭ-a, and the outcasts in the land of Ē'gўpt, and shall worship the LORD [h]in the holy mount at Jē-rų'să-lĕm.

CHAPTER 28 707

VI [i]Seven woes: tribulation and Millennium (28:1-35:10. Cp. 5:8, refs.). 1 Woe to Ephraim. (1) Sins and judgment (cp. 2 Ki. 17; Isa. 5:7, refs.)

WOE [j]to [k]the crown of pride, [l]to the drunkards of Ē'phră-ĭm, whose [m]glorious beauty is a fading flower, [n]which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are [o]overcome with wine!

2 Behold, the Lord hath [p]a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.

3 The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ē'phră-ĭm, shall be trodden under feet:

4 And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

(2) A remnant (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

5 ¶ [q]In that day shall the LORD of hosts be [r]for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people,

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate.

2 Woe to Judah. (1) Sins of Judah (cp. 5:7, refs.)

7 ¶ But [s]they also have [t]erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; the [u]priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

8 [v]For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.

9 ¶ [w]Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine?

a It was the custom for women and children to gather fuel, and therefore, natural for Isaiah to speak of women in such activity (v 11)
b 3 statements about Babylonians, p. 496
c In that day - the Millennium, Israel will be gathered one by one back to the promised land to make an eternal nation under their Messiah (v 12; 11:10-12; Jer. 31:32; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31). It must be remembered that all the Jews will not be gathered back to Palestine before the 2nd advent of Christ, but they will be completely gathered back after then (Mt. 24:31)
d This means that every obstruction in the final and complete regathering of Israel at the 2nd advent of Christ will be removed, including the drying up of the Euphrates and the Nile, as in note e, 11:15
e One by one, every one; not every other one, but every person of all the tribes of Israel will be gathered (v 12; 11:10-12; Ezek. 37)
f Children of Israel will be gathered; all these are Jews. See notes on Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367
g In that day - the Millennium, the great trumpet shall be blown, and they (the children of Israel - the Jews) will be gathered from all lands, from Assyria (the world empire of those times), Egypt, and other places (v 13; 11:10-12; Ezek. 37). This trumpet is the same as the one referred to in Mt. 24:31
h Christ will then be reigning on mount Zion (v 13; 2:2-4; Zech. 14)
i 7 woes of 28:1-33:1, p. 472
j 30th prophecy in Isa. (28:1-29, fulfilled). Next, 29:1. See p. 708 k The proud and haughty crown or the capital of Ephraim-Samaria (v 1) l 2 things cursed (v 1):
1 Woe to the crown of pride - Samaria
2 Woe to the drunkards of Ephraim - the 10-tribe or northern kingdom of Israel

m Samaria was built on a hill surrounded by a rich valley about 8 miles in diameter. Beyond the valley it was surrounded by higher hills which were cultivated in terraces, sown with grain, and planted with fig and olive trees. The valley, being also thus planted, made Samaria beautiful, as having a crown or wreath of flowers. The beauty of the city was to be destroyed, as a cut flower soon withers and fades away (v 1). This was fulfilled in the defeat and captivity of Ephraim to Assyria (2 Ki. 17)

n This refers to Samaria which rose out of the valley like a head, and on which mountain the drunkards or Ephraim lived in revelry and seeming security (v 1)
o A man's reason, conscience, moral feelings, and physical strength are all overcome or subdued by strong drink (v 1) p This refers to the king of Assyria who was to destroy Samaria and take the 10 tribes into captivity (2 Ki. 17). He was to come upon Ephraim and Samaria like a hail storm, a destroying storm (a cyclone), and like a mighty flood leaving the country barren as a fading flower when it is cut down, and like a piece of summer fruit when it is eaten up (v 2-4)

q See In that day, p. 472

r 4 things God was to be to Judah:
1 A crown of glory (v 5)
2 A diadem of beauty
3 A spirit of judgment (v 6)
4 Strength to the army
s Judah also (like Ephraim - v 1, 3) had given themselves over to strong drink (v 7)
t 7 sins of Judah through drink, p. 472 u The priests and prophets mentioned here were representative of the higher, religious, and ruling classes in Judah who had gone into sin. Having erred in truth, in judgment, and in the way of right, they were destined to be punished like Ephraim v This verse pictures the whole nation as being sinful and unclean, living in the filthiness of their own vomit of corruption (v 8) w Questions 43-44. Next, v 24

a See Scoffing, p. 504

b Heb. tsav, injunction; commandment; precept. From tsavah, enjoin; appoint; charge; set in order. Literally, mandate must be upon mandate, mandate upon mandate; line (Heb. qav, a rule; measuring cord) upon line (rule upon rule); here a little and there a little (v 10, 13)

c See Tongues, p. 504

d 2 personal benefits of tongues here:
1 This is the rest to the weary (v 12)
2 This is the refreshing to the weary (see note a, 1 Cor. 14:1)

e See Tongues predicted, p. 504

f See Stumbling of Judah, p. 506

g The message was to the drunkards of Judah and Ephraim; and through their rejection of the gospel, as foretold here, they themselves were to fall backward and stumble at the Messiah, the stumbling Stone, and live in darkness and be destroyed (Rom. 9:32-33; Lk. 21:20-24)

h Heb. shabar, to break off; break in pieces; be crushed. Judah and Ephraim were broken off because of unbelief in Christ and the gospel (Rom. 11:7-29). They were not broken by falling upon the Stone; they were crushed by the Stone falling upon them (Mt. 21:42-44; Lk. 20:18)

i Judah was snared and taken into captivity among all the other nations because of rejecting Christ (Mt. 23:37-39; Lk. 21:20-24; Rom. 11:25-29)

j God further rebuked the scornful men of Judah who ruled Jerusalem, warning them that their covenant with death and hell would not make them secure when the overflowing scourge passed through the land (v 14-15)

k The thought here is that Judah felt so secure concerning judgment it was as if they had made a covenant with death not to destroy them and with hell not to swallow or devour them (v 15). See Death and Hell in Index

l The overflowing scourge could refer to the Babylonians (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36; Jer. 25), or to the Romans in 70 A. D. after the rejection of the Stone of v 16 (Lk. 21:20-24); or, it could refer to both these destructions, for both did completely destroy Jerusalem and make the land empty, as predicted here (v 14-22)

m They trusted in lies and falsehoods and believed the opposite of what the prophets had told them; and therefore, they thought they were secure (v 15)

n See Prophecy of the Messiah, p. 738

o Zion is Jerusalem, never the church or a spiritual kingdom of God on earth (v 16; note q, 2 Sam. 5:7) p He that confides and trusts in the sure foundation is secure and will not make haste (v 16), or be ashamed (Rom. 9:33; 1 Pet. 2:6)

q I will judge Judah according to the strict rule of law, and require righteousness as straight as a plummet-the piece of metal on a string that makes a straight line of its own weight, as it hangs down (v 17)

r Judgment was to come upon Judah like a hail storm and a mighty flood overflowing whatever things were being trusted in (v 17)

s See note 1, v 15

t Whenever judgment began it would be continuous until its purpose was accomplished (v 19)

u Take you must refer to being taken captive, as in v 13

v The judgment will be so terrible that it will be a vexation even to hear the report of what has happened (v 19). This was particularly true in 70 A. D. when so many people were crucified that there was not room for another cross, and bodies were piled up outside the walls of Jerusalem in heaps (p. 84 of N. T.)

w The defence of Jerusalem would be so inadequate it would be like a man trying to warm himself in a bed that was too short, with a cover too narrow to wrap himself in (v 20)

x This indicates that the Lord will rise up in judgment as one rises to accomplish a particular work (v 21)

y See 2 Sam. 5:20-21; 1 Chr. 14:11

z This refers to David's victory over the Philistines (1 Chr. 14:16) them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.

10 For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little:

11 For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.

12 To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.

13 But the word of the LORD was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, and there a little; that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

(2) Judgment on Judah

14 Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zi'ŏn for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.

17 Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.

18 And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night: and it shall be a vexation only to understand the report.

20 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.

21 For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Pĕr'a-zim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gĭb'e-on, that he may do his work, his strange work; and bring to pass his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.

(3) Rebuke to mockers

23 Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principal wheat and the appointed barley and the rie in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.

27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corn is bruised; because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.

29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working.

CHAPTER 29 708

3 Woe to Jerusalem.
(1) Judgment on Judah

WOE to Ă'rĭ-el, to Ă'rĭ-el, the city where Dā'vid dwelt! add ye year to year; let them kill sacrifices.

2 Yet I will distress Ă'rĭ-el, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ă'rĭ-el.

3 And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

(2) Judgment on her enemies

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ă'rĭ-el, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8 It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zi'ŏn.

(3) Stupefaction and reason

9 Stay yourselves, and wonder; cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.

a Meaning he has harrowed the ground and broken up the clods, as in v 24

b Fitches were a vegetable something like the common pea. The Heb. word (used only here) denotes the fennel or dill whose seed was mixed with bread to give it flavor (v 25, 27). Not the same word found in Ezek. 4:9

c Cummin, a condiment used in sauces and soups for seasoning (v 25, 27; Mt. 23:23)

d Wheat, barley, and rye were common grains in Palestine (v 25)

e God has been the instructor of man in most activities of life. To what extent He taught man his skill in agriculture is not known, but it is here stated to be a fact (v 26. Cp. Gen. 6:14-16; Ex. 31:2-6)

f See Threshing grain, p. 503

g 31st prophecy in Isa. (29:1-24; v 9-16 fulfilled; v 1-8 and 17-24 unfulfilled). Next, 30:1. See p. 738

h Ariel, the lion of God-another name for Jerusalem where David dwelled (v 1-7)

i Let years go by and sacrifices be killed, yet this will not cancel the judgment that is determined upon Jerusalem (v 2)

j Jerusalem will yet be unto Me as Ariel, the lion of God (v 2) k This refers to the siege of Jerusalem at the battle of Armageddon when the city shall be taken, the houses rifled, the women ravished, and half the city captured (v 2-4; Zech. 14). That it has a latter day fulfillment is clear from the fact that the invaders would destroy by thunder, earthquake, great noise, storm, tempest, and devouring fire (v 5-6). This did not happen when Assyria invaded Judah and surrounded Jerusalem. At that time an angel killed 185,000 men with a sword, but not by these other means (36:1-37:38). Neither did these things happen when Babylon (2 Ki. 25) and Rome destroyed the city (Lk. 21:20-24). It is definitely stated in Ezek. 38:17-23 that the Lord will destroy Antichrist's armies at Armageddon with a great earthquake, pestilence, blood, overflowing rain, great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. In 2 Th. 1:7-10 flaming fire is mentioned as destroying the wicked at this time; and in Rev. 16:17-21 a great earthquake is referred to as destroying many at the same time. There is no time in history or in prophecy that v 5-6 has been or will be fulfilled other than at Armageddon

l At Armageddon and even 1, 260 days before this, Jerusalem will be taken over by Antichrist; and Israel will be brought low in the dust of defeat as predicted here (Dan. 9:27; Mt. 24:15-22; 2 Th. 2:1-4; Rev. 12:13)

e God used the illustration of a farmer who performs many acts to secure a harvest, to point out that He had dealt with Judah in many ways hoping to bring the people to righteousness and without success. He was now going to do this strange work on them; and this would be just as unfailing as a crop when the farmer obeys the law of nature (v 23-29)

c At this time Judah was so overcome with lethargy, spiritual sluggishness, inactivity, and stupidity regarding truth that even their prophets, rulers, and wise men were blind-so blind and lacking in spiritual perception that God's Word was a sealed book to them (v 11). They were as ignorant as the most unlearned (v 12). The cause of their blindness was hypocrisy, lip service, wilful sins, and hardness of heart (v 13; 6:9-12; Mt. 13:13-15; Rom. 11:8)
d Quoted in Mt. 15:7-9; Mk. 7:6

2 Honoring Him with the lips only 3 Removing the heart far from Him

l 6 blessings of the Millennium:
1 Lebanon (which was then perhaps uncultivated) shall be turned into a fruitful field (v 17; 35:1-2)
2 The fruitful field (the cultivated field) shall become more fruitful and as a forest (v 17; 35:1-3)
3 The deaf shall hear the words of the book (v 18; 35:5. Cp. v 10-12)
4 The blind shall see (v 18; 35:5; 42:16)
5 The meek shall have their joy increased in Jehovah (v 19; Ps. 37:11; Mt. 5:5)
6 The poor shall rejoice in the Lord 29:19) and be prosperous (Mic. 4:4) m And in that day-the Millennium, all will be healed (v 18; 33:24; 35:3-6) n 3 classes judged:
1 The terrible one (the Antichrist, that wicked one, v 20; 2 Th. 2:8)
2 The scorner is consumed (v 20)
3 The wicked are all cut off (v 20; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15)
o 3 things the wicked do to others:
1 Make men offend in word, or give false evidence (v 21)
2 Lay snares for the righteous and pervert judges
3 Turn the just aside for reward, and defraud men for a thing of nought

s Isaiah was told to write a permanent record of the stubbornness, rebellion, and sins of Judah (30:8)

t 7 sins of Judah:
1 They rebel against God (v 9)
2 They are liars
3 They refuse to hear the law of God
4 They say to the seers, See not (v 10)
5 To the prophets they say, Prophesy not right things to us; speak smooth things to us, prophesying deceits; get out of our way; turn aside out of our path; cause God to cease from among us (v 10-11)
6 They despise the Word of God (v 12)
7 They trust in oppression and perverseness, and depend upon it

10 For the LORD hath[a] poured out upon you the spirit of[b] deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the[c] prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed:

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord[d] said, Forasmuch as this people[e] draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men:

14 [f]Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: [g]for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

4 Woe to Lebanon. (1) Judgment

15 [h]Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, [i]Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely [j]your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay: for [k]shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

(2) Sixfold material restoration (29:17-19; 30:23; 35:1-8; 51:3; 61:4; Jer. 31:2; Ezek. 36:8-15, 30-38; Joel 2:18-27)

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and Lĕb'a-non [l]shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?

18 ¶ And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.

19 The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Is'ra-el.

(3) Sixfold reason

20 [m]For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:

21 That [o]make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.

(4) Sixfold spiritual restoration (30:18; 32:15; 42:16; 44:3, 22; 52:3; 59:16; 60:1; Jer. 33:6; Ezek. 16:60; 34:23; 36:25; Joel 2:28)

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, who [a]redeemed A'brăham, [p]concerning the house of Ja'cob, Ja'cob [c]shall not [q]now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they [r]shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Ja'cob, and shall fear the God of Is'ra-el.

24 They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine.

5 Woe to the Egyptian Party (cp. Isa. 31). (1) Threefold rebellion (31:1)

1 [s]WOE, to the [s]rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may [t]add sin to sin:

2 That walk to go down into E'gypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Phă'raōh, and to trust in the shadow of E'gypt!

(2) Fourfold disappointment

3 Therefore shall the strength of Phă'raōh be your [i]shame, and the trust in the shadow of E'gypt your confusion.

4 For his princes were at Zō'an, and his ambassadors came to [j]Hā'nēs.

5 [k]They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

(3) Jewish gifts of no avail

6 The [l]burden of the beasts of the [m]south: [n]into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come [o]the young and old lion, the [p]viper and [q]fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.

7 For the E-gyp'tians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried concerning this, [r]Their strength is to sit still.

(4) Eightfold rebellion

8 ¶ Now [u]go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever:

9 That [t]this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD:

10 Which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophesy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits:

•11 Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Is'ra-el to cease from before us.

a Abraham was redeemed by faith, the same as all other redeemed ones (v 22; Gen. 15:6; Rom. 4) b The prophecy here was from the God of Abraham to Jacob, predicting that in the Millennium he would enjoy the 6 blessings of v 22-24 c 6 blessings of Jacob in Millennium:
1 He will not be ashamed (v 22
2 His face will not wax pale
3 His descendants will sanctify God and His name, that is, set them apart in reverence (v 23)
4 They will fear the God of Israel
5 They will come to understanding (v 24)
6 The murmurers among them will learn doctrine
This has never been literally fulfilled with Israel as a nation, so it must refer to the time of the Messiah d Here Jacob is referred to as the ancestor of the Jewish people, looking down on all of them and noting their lives. Their conduct was not the kind that would make a father proud or cause him to brag on their righteousness and godliness. The history of his children had been one of shame; now the prediction was that he would be ashamed no more, neither would his face wax pale by seeing calamities upon them for their sins. He would look upon his vast household with pride; he would see the redeeming work of God in their lives; and they, in the Millennium, would sanctify God and His holy name, fear Him, and come to understand sound doctrine (v 22-24; note c, above)
e Here again we have the true meaning of the word sanctify as set apart, not to remove what is termed "the old man, roots and all," for there is no such thing as an "old man" in God or His name (v 23) f 32nd prophecy in Isa. (30:1-33; v 1-17 fulfilled; v 18-33 unfulfilled). Next, 31:1. See p. 738 g 7 sins of Judah (v 1-2):
1 They are rebellious
2 Do not counsel with Jehovah
3 Seek cover (protection) from man
4 Add sin to sin
5 Make alliances with foreigners without inquiring of God
6 Depend upon Egypt for help
7 Trust in the power of Egypt
h Sins do not stand alone. When one sin is committed it generally requires others to cover the first one and carry it out (v 1) i 6fold result of false trust in man:
1 Shame (v 3, 5) 4 Reproach
2 Confusion 5 In vain (v 7)
3 Unprofitable 6 To no purpose
j Hanes (v 4). Called Tahapanes (Jer. 2:16) and Tahpanhes (Jer. 43:7-9; 44:1; 46:14) k When Judah's ambassadors went into Egypt to meet the princes and form an alliance, they found them either unwilling to help or unable to give them aid. The effort proved to be one of shame, confusion, and reproach on them for even seeking such assistance rather than asking for the help of Jehovah (v 5) l The oracle of judgment on the caravan of Judah taking presents into Egypt to seek the help of Egyptians against the Babylonians (v 6)
m Egypt (v 5-7; Dan. 11:40-45)
n Egypt was a land of trouble and anguish when Nebuchadnezzar came against them, so they were powerless to help Judah (v 6; Jer. 25:9-29; 46:1-2)
o This expresses the idea that the messengers of Judah would face the dangers of lions, vipers, and flying serpents trying to get help from Egypt, but they would not take one step toward God to seek His help. They would carry riches to Egypt to pay for help instead of asking God who would give it without price. They would get no profit from Egypt, but God, Himself would be their profit if they would only turn to Him (v 6) p The viper was perhaps the well-known species of serpent common among the Arabs, being about 2 ft. long, as thick as the arm, and beautifully spotted with yellow, brown, and black. Such serpents have a wide mouth by which they draw in a large amount of air;

(5) Sevenfold judgment

12 Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Is'ra-el, [a]Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon:

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of the potters' vessel that is broken in pieces; he shall not spare: so that there shall [b]not be found in the bursting of it a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

(6) Promise of protection (31:4)

15 [c]For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Is'ra-el; In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not.

(7) Refusal: judgment

16 But ye said, No; for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee; and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

6 Millennium (cp. Isa. 2:1, refs.). (1) Tenfold spiritual blessing

*18 ¶[d]And therefore [e]will the LORD wait, [f]that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD [g]is a God of judgment: blessed are all they that wait for him.

19 For[h] the people shall dwell in Zi'ŏn at Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm: [i]thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; [j]when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.

20 And [k]though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers:

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

(2) Tenfold material blessing

23 [l]Then shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: [m]in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses [a]that ear the ground shall eat clean provender, which hath been [b]winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, [c]rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

26 Moreover the [d]light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, [e]in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.

(3) Fivefold method of judgment on Israel's enemies

27 ¶ Behold, [f]the name of the LORD cometh from far, [g]burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire:

28 And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, [h]to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be [i]a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err.

(4) Twofold effect on Israel

29 [j]Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the mighty One of Is'ra-el.

(5) Sevenfold method of judgment on Antichrist (Ezek. 38:17-21; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21)

30 And the LORD [k]shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones.

31 For through the voice of the LORD shall [l]the As-sўr'ĭ-an be beaten down, which smote with a rod.

32 And [m]in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, which the LORD shall lay upon him, it shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking will he fight with it.

33 [n]For Tō'phet is ordained of old; yea, for [o]the king it is prepared; [p]he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

CHAPTER 31 710

7 Woe to the Egyptian Party (cp. Isa. 30). (1) Sixfold rebellion (cp. 1:2, refs.)

WOE [q]to them [r]that go down to E'gўpt [r]for help; and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong;

a Because of the sins of v 8-12, especially those having to do with despising the Word of God by the prophet, and trusting in oppression and perverseness, their iniquity was to fall upon their own heads and destroy them like a crumbling wall breaking suddenly upon them and like a potter's vessel being completely broken by a great fall (v 12-14)

b There would not be one piece of the pottery left, not one large enough to carry coals on or take water from a pit. The ruin was to be complete; thus it would be with Judah when the Babylonians and Romans came to destroy them (v 13-14). This is further proof that the destruction referred to was not to be the Assyrian invasion of 36:1-37:38, but the ruin of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 25), and no doubt also the one by the Romans in 70 A.D. (Mt. 24:2; Lk. 21:20-23). No such complete destruction was made by the Assyrians as by both the Babylonians and the Romans

c Here God offered deliverance to Judah if they would only return to Him and rest and be saved; but they would not. They said that instead of trusting in God they would flee, so destruction was determined upon them (v 15-17). At both destructions-the one by Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 25:1-10) and the other by the Romans in 70 A.D.-people did flee from Jerusalem and were destroyed (Lk. 21:12-24)

d This section (v 18-33) has a Millennial fulfillment, as seen in 18 predictions-unfulfilled, p. 738, and note below

e The doctrine of Jehovah waiting on man is prominent throughout Scripture, not always expressed, but plainly implied. Here it is expressed that He waits for man and that He will wait for Judah to come to repentance, so He can fulfil with them the everlasting covenants made with their fathers; and then they shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem and weep no more (v 18-19). God would have fulfilled the covenants made with Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, David and others in the past if Israel had only obeyed and met the terms of the covenant, to fulfil righteousness so that He could bless them; but they refused while He waited. He has even waited over 1,928 years since Christ died and He will continue to wait until the 2nd advent of Christ to bless the Jews (v 18-33; 66:19-21; Zech. 12:10-14:21; Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29)

f God waits to be gracious and merciful to all who will turn to Him (v 18). Why can He not be gracious and merciful at any and all times? Because He must wait for man to repent and surrender to Him for His blessing. God will not force His grace and mercy on people, but will give them to anyone who meets His terms of repentance and faith toward Jesus Christ (Jn. 1:11-12; 3:16-18)

g Jehovah is a God of judgment, so He cannot bless men contrary to His Word; but He will bless them to the letter of the Word when they fulfil righteousness (v 18)

h The Jews, the people of Judah, including all the 13 tribes who will make up the Jewish nation under the Messiah. They shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem (v 19). This is proof again that Zion is a literal place in Jerusalem, and that it is not the church or some spiritual kingdom of God among men today

i This is another point of identity with the Millennium and the new earth eternally (v 19; 65:19; Rev. 21:3-7)

j God will always hear when men cry out to Him (v 19; Mt. 7:7-11; 1 Jn. 1:9)

k Though God has cursed, yet He will bless in the end when Messiah comes (v 20). Judah then shall walk in the right way and destroy all her idols (v 20-21)

l 10 material blessings in Millennium:
1 Rain (v 23-26) 7 Good food for stock
2 Good sowing
3 Increased bread 8 Plenty of water
4 Fat and plenty 9 Increased moonlight
5 Good stock
6 Large pastures 10 Increased sunlight

m In that day-the Millennium, when all these things will be fulfilled (v 23)

a That plow the ground (v 24)

b To winnow means to thresh the wheat or separate the kernels from the chaff by means of throwing the grains up with a shovel and letting the wind or fan blow the chaff away (v 24)

c This verse expresses the idea that there will be plenty of water in all places (v 25). Even the desert shall blossom as a rose (35:1-10)

d This will be literal, not spiritual. The night will be as light as our present day and the light of the day will be increased 7fold or be as the light of 7 days (v 26)

e In that day that God blesses Israel and sets them free from all curses of the past and the great tribulation calamity of the future Antichrist who will seek to destroy all Jews (v 26; Dan. 9:27; 12:1-7; Ezek. 38-39; Zech. 12:10-14:21; Mt. 24:15-31)

f The name of the Lord is sometimes put for the Lord, Himself. Here it speaks of the coming of Jehovah from heaven to destroy Antichrist and the kings of the earth for their tribulation upon His people, Jews and saints (v 27; 63:1-5; Ezek. 38-39; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19)

g 5fold method of judgment on enemies:
1 Burning with fierce anger (v 27)
2 Burden heavy (with burning wrath)
3 Lips full of indignation
4 Tongue as a devouring fire
5 Breath like an overflowing flood

h This could refer to the separation of the nations at the judgment of the nations (v 28; Mt. 25:31-46)

i Sometimes the captives were led into captivity by bridles, so this could refer to the half of Jerusalem that will go into captivity just before Armageddon (v 28; Zech. 14:1-5)

j Here we have the Millennial song of Israel after the deliverance at Armageddon when the captives will have been freed and all Israel gathered to the Lord at Jerusalem. It will be sung as they go up to Jerusalem to fulfil 2:2-4; 35:8-10 (v 29)

k 7fold method of judgment on enemies:
1 The Lord shall cause His glorious voice to be heard (v 30)
2 He will show the lighting down of His arm
3 Manifest indignation of His anger
5 Make a great scattering
6 Send a tempest
7 Rain great hailstones. See Ezek. 38:17-21; 3 Th. 1:7-10; 2:8; Jude 14-15; Rev. 16:17-21; 19:21

l The Assyrian is a title of Antichrist in certain scriptures (v 31; 10:24; 14:25; Mic. 5:5-6). See Antichrist in Index

m This means that in every place where the Lord permits the appointed rod and staff of Antichrist to pass, there will be music and rejoicing when He shall fight against the scourge to destroy it completely in battle (v 32)

n See Tophet, p. 487

o The Assyrian, the Antichrist of v 31 who is to be destroyed in Tophet (v 33; Zech. 14:1-15; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21). This king is the only one referred to in this prophecy. To bring Hezekiah or some other one into it would be adding to Scripture p He (Jehovah), who is the only one referred to in this prophecy as doing all the things predicted in v 30-33. To bring another into the picture would be out of harmony with the passage. The Lord is the one who created this valley and when He did so, He made it deep and large. He alone is the one who will kindle the great fire in Tophet when Antichrist and his army are destroyed

q 33rd prophecy in Isa. (31:1-9; v 1-3a fulfilled; v 3b-9 unfulfilled). Next, 32:1. See p. 738

r A certain group in Judah were always willing to trust in Egypt and run to the Egyptians for help in time of trouble; and Jehovah hated this. It caused the people to trust in and depend upon man instead of God. Here the Lord pronounced woe upon this Egyptian party (v 1) s 5fold rebellion of the Egyptian party:

1 Ignored Jehovah and depended on Egypt for help (v 1)
2 Depended on horses and trusted in their strength
3 Trusted in chariots
4 Trusted in their numbers
5 Trusted in horsemen

a 2 things Judah refused to do (v 1):
1 Look to God for help
2 Seek the Lord

b 5 facts about God (v 2):
1 He is wise-cannot be deceived
2 He will bring evil-as result of sin
3 He will not lie-call back His words
4 He will rise against the house of evil-doers
5 He will rise against all workers of iniquity

c 2 reasons trust in Egypt is vain:
1 They are men, not God
2 Their horses are flesh, not spirit. The idea is that God is God, and He is Spirit; therefore, He can do infinitely more than men and horses combined

d See Fall of Judah and Egypt, p. 487

e Jehovah (not General Allenby, as sometimes taught) will come down to earth and fight like a lion for Jerusalem (v 4)

f Come down Himself, not send an angel to do this (v 4; 63:1-5; Dan. 7:13-14, 22; Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-46; 2 Th. 1:7-10; 2:8; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

g See As birds fly, p. 487

h Here we have the invitational command for Judah to turn to God, whom all Israel had deeply revolted against (v 6). This will be obeyed at the very end of the tribulation when God pours out a spirit of grace and supplication upon the Jews at Jerusalem (66:6-7; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29). This will result in the cleansing of Israel from idols (v 7)

i See Fall of the Assyrian, p. 487

j See note j, 1 Sam. 14:20

k The Antichrist will flee to his place of refuge for fear, but he will not escape because of the brightness of Christ's glory. His flaming fire will reach the Antichrist and slay him (v 8-9; Dan. 7:11; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:20)

l His princes are the 10 kings that will rule the 10 kingdoms of his empire (v 9; Dan. 7:7-8, 23-24; Rev. 17:8-17)

m The ensign of Christ (v 9; 11:10-12) who will war with the 10 kings and Antichrist (Dan. 7:23-26; 8:25; Rev. 17:14)

n The fire refers to the perpetual flame on the altar of the Millennial temple that Christ will build and use as His capital building (v 9; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 6:12-13)

o The furnace refers to the baking oven (Ex. 7:28; Lev. 2:4; 7:9; 11:35). Here it no doubt refers to the one which the bread of worship will be baked in at the Millennial temple. Both the fire and the furnace picture Jehovah as having a home in Jerusalem; and this prophecy predicts His defence of it in destroying His enemies under Antichrist (v 9) p 34th prophecy in Isa. (32:1-20, unfulfilled). Next, 33:1. See p. 739

q This King is the Messiah who will come (at His 2nd advent) to reign in righteousness over Israel and all other nations forever (v 1; 2:1-4; 9:6-7; Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Zech. 14:9; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-20:10) 4:2

r See 11:4-5; Jer. 23:6; 33:15-16; Mal.

s Princes ruling in righteousness refers to the resurrected saints of all ages who will be kings and priests in the coming eternal kingdom on earth (v 1; Ps. 149:6-9; Dan. 7:18, 27; Zech. 14:5; 1 Cor. 6:1-3; 2 Tim. 2:12; Jude 14-15; Rev. 5:10; 12:5; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

7 In quiet resting places

8 My people will be blessed with security and prosperity (v 20) s These last two verses speak of the defeat and overthrow of enemies when Jerusalem is brought low at Armageddon (v 19; Zech. 14); the Jews will be delivered and made secure after this (v 20) but [c]they look not unto the Holy One of Iṣ'ra-el, neither seek the LORD!

(2) Five facts about God

2 Yet[b]he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.

(3) Trust in Egypt vain

*3 Now [c]the Ê-ğyp'tians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit. [d]When the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fail together.

(4) Promise of protection

4 For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me, [e]Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight for mount Zi'ŏn, and for the hill thereof.

5 [f]As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it.

●6 ¶ [g]Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Iṣ'ra-el have deeply revolted.

7 For in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.

8 ¶ [h]Then shall the Aṣ-sȳr'ī-an fall with the sword, not of a mighty man; and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: but he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall be [i]discomfited.

9 And [k]he shall pass over to his strong hold for fear, and [l]his princes shall be afraid of [m]the ensign, saith the LORD, [n]whose fire is in Zi'ŏn, and his [o]furnace in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

CHAPTER 32 711

8 Millennium (cp. Isa. 2:1, refs.). (1) Rulers (Dan. 7:14; Rev. 5:10; 20:4-6; Zech. 14:9)

[p]BEHOLD, [q]a [r]king shall reign in [r]righteousness, [s]and princes shall rule in judgment.

(2) Tenfold blessing

2 And a [t]man [u]shall be as [v]an hiding place from the wind, and a [w]covert from the tempest; [x]as rivers of water in a dry place, as the [y]shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

3 And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken.

4 The heart also of the [z]rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.

5 The [c]vile person shall be no more called [b]liberal, nor [c]the churl said to be bountiful.

(3) Classes of vs. 5 described

6 For the vile person [c]will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, [d]even when the needy speaketh right.

8 But the [b]liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand.

(4) Desolation of Judah

●9 ¶ [e]Rise up, ye women [f]that are at ease; hear my voice, ye careless daughters; give ear unto my speech.

10 [g]Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the [h]vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.

●11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins.

12 They shall [i]lament for the teats, for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.

13 Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city:

14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken; the multitude of the city shall be left; the forts and towers shall be for dens [j]for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks;

(5) Until: threefold blessing

15 [k]Until the spirit be poured upon us [l]from on high, and [m]the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.

(6) Then: eightfold restoration

16 [n]Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever.

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places;

19 [o]When it shall hail, coming down on the forest; and the city shall be low in a low place.

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

CHAPTER 33 712

9 Woe to Antichrist(30:31; 31:8). (1) Character and judgment

a Heb. nabal, a pampered stupid fellow; wicked; foolish; impious; vile (v 5-6)

b Heb. nabiyb, liberal in rule; honorable; open-hearted; generous; free; noble; princely

c Heb. kelay, niggardly; churl; miserly; stingy; avaricious (v 5) 5)

d Heb. showah, noble; wealthy; rich (v e 8 evil practices of the wicked:

1 Speaking villany (v 6)
2 Working iniquity in the heart
3 Practising hypocrisy
4 Uttering error (false doctrines) against the Lord
5 Making the soul of the hungry empty
6 Causing drink to be kept from those who are thirsty
7 Using evil means to take advantage of others (v 7) 8 Making wicked plans to destroy the poor and needy with lying words

f Heb. kelîy (note j, 1 Sam. 10:22)

g When the poor man's cause was just, the unprincipled men in power deprived him of his rights and plotted against him to enrich themselves (v 7)

h This evidently refers to the honorable, generous, nobel, benevolent, public-spirited men who devote themselves to the welfare of the country and fellowmen. When they rule the noble things they stand for will be established (v 8)

i 8 commands to women at ease:
1 Rise up (v 9)
2 Hear My voice
3 Give ear to My speech
4 Tremble (v 11)
5 Be troubled
6 Strip yourselves
7 Make yourselves bare
8 Gird sackcloth upon your loins

j 2 characteristics of women here:
1 At ease. Stated 2 times here (v 9, 11)
2 Careless. Stated 3 times here (v 9-11)

k For many days and years you will be troubled and the land will be made waste-until the Spirit be poured out from on high. Then, the wilderness shall be fruitful and Israel will be restored to their own land to remain forever (v 9-20). It has already been many days and years, so this prophecy and the one in Hos. 3:5-6 are being fulfilled now and will continue in fulfillment until the Messiah comes to complete them

l A large part of the wealth and blessing of Israel came from the vintage; so when this was destroyed there would naturally be great distress and poverty (v 10)

m This means that there will be lamentation for the barrenness of women as well as for the barrenness of the fields (v 12-14)

n Here is an instance where for ever denotes a long time, and not eternity, for it is defined as to limit in v 15-Until this period ends at the outpouring of the Spirit upon Israel and the restoration of their land. When the term is used without any limitation it denotes eternity, without exception

o Here the time element of the prophecy ends; the many days and years of v 10, and the for ever of v 14 end at this point-when the Spirit is poured out upon Israel and the land of Palestine is made fruitful in the Millennium (v 15-20; 35:1-10). The Spirit will be poured out upon Israel at the very end of the tribulation, that is, at the end of Daniel's 70th week (Dan. 9:27; Zech. 12:10-13:1) p From on high here refers to the same experience-the Spirit baptism and the enduement of power from on high, as in Lk. 24:49; Acts 1:1-8; Gal. 3:14. Cp. 44:3; 59:21; Zech. 12:10

q This is purely Millennial (v 15; 29:17; 35:1-7)

r Then-when the Spirit is poured out upon Israel from on high, and the land is fully restored to fruitfulness

8fold restoration and blessing:
1 Judgment will dwell in the wilderness
2 Righteousness will remain in the fruitful field (v 16)
3 The work of righteousness will be peace
4 The effect of righteousness will be quietness and assurance forever (v 17)
5 My people will dwell in a peaceable habitation (v 18)
6 In sure dwellings

a 35th prophecy in Isa. (33:1-24, unfulfilled). Next, 34:1. See p. 739

b Commentators usually associate this spoiler with the king of Assyria who was paid to help Judah, and who then turned on the kingdom to destroy the Jews; but the passage more particularly refers to the future Assyrian, the Antichrist (14:25; 30:31; 31:8; Mic. 5:5-6). He will make a 7-year covenant with the Jews, then break it in the middle of the 7 years and become the greatest spoiler of Israel in history or prophecy (Dan. 9:27; Mt. 24:15-22). He will deal treacherously with the Jews, and then, when it is time for him to cease, he will be dealt with likewise, and will be destroyed (v 1) c This is the prophetic prayer of the Jews, to be said in the tribulation when Antichrist betrays them and determines to exterminate the nation (v 2; Dan. 7:19-25; 8:20-25; 9:27; 11:40-45; 12:7; Rev. 13)

d 25:9; 26:8; 30:18; 42:4; 49:23; 51:5; 64:4

e Their arm means their strength (v 2)

f The time of trouble here is the time of Jacob's trouble (Jer. 30:7) and the time of trouble such as never has been or ever will be again-the great tribulation (Dan. 12:1; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 11:3-19:21)

g See Dan. 7:23-24; 8:20-25; 11:40-45

h Antichrist's armies will be destroyed and much spoil gathered (v 4; Zech. 14:14)

i The language of this prophecy is partly in the past tense, as if already fulfilled, but in such cases we should understand the statements in view of the time of their literal fulfillment (v 5; Dan. 9:24; Rom. 11:25-29)

j This refers to the time when wisdom and knowledge will actually stabilize the times in the government of the Messiah-when Zion will be filled with judgment and righteousness (v 5-6; 2:2-4; 11:9; 59:21)

k This verse predicts the utter uselessness of trying to make peace with the Antichrist who will be determined to destroy the nation (Dan. 7:19-25; 8:20-25; 9:27; 12:7; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12-13)

l These two verses picture the breaking of the covenant between Antichrist and Israel and the devastation of Palestine when this enemy enters the land to destroy the nation and make Jerusalem his capital (v 8-9; Dan. 7:19-25; 8:20-25; 9:27; 12:1, 7; Mt. 24:13-22; 2 Th. 2:3-4; Rev. 12-13)

m God's enemies are here spoken of as chaff and stubble being devoured by their own breath (v 11)

n 5 comparisons-God's enemies:
1 They are like chaff (v 11)
2 Like stubble
3 Their breath like devouring fire
4 They are like the burnings of lime
5 Like thorns cut up to be burned in the fire

o People far and near are commanded to hear and acknowledge God's acts and power (v 13)

p 2 classes of people to be punished:
1 Sinners of Zion (who are afraid, v 14)
2 Hypocrites-surprised with fear (of everlasting fire)

q Questions 53-54. Next, v 18. They concern, Who will be able to escape the wrath of God?

r Walks in right doing and for the best good of all (v 15)

God's wrath will be felt by all of them when their armies will be destroyed by Him (v 2; Joel 3; Zech. 14:1-5; Rev. 16:13-16; 19:11-21)

a All but a sixth part of the vast armies of the nations under Antichrist will be destroyed in one day (v 2; Joel 3; Ezek. 39:2; Zech. 14:1-15; Rev. 19:11-21)

b That is, they will be left unburied, for it will take Israel 7 months to bury such a vast multitude (v 3; Ezek. 39:11-16)

c See Ezek. 38:17-21; 39:17-21; Rev. 14

d This verse refers to the rolling together of the clouds and their moving on as if they had dissolved and passed away, and to the falling of meteors like leaves and figs-something like that under the 6th seal (Rev. 6:12-17, notes). Stars or meteors will fall also at the 2nd advent of Christ (Mt. 24:29-31; Rev. 16:17-21)

WOE [a] to [b] thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

(2) Prayer of Judah

2 [c] O LORD, be gracious unto us; [d] we have waited for thee: be thou [e] their arm every morning, our salvation also in [f] the time of trouble.

(3) Antichrist successes

3 At the noise of the tumult the people fled; [g] at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.

4 And your [h] spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpiller: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

(4) The God of Judah

5 The LORD is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: [i] he hath filled Zi'ŏn with judgment and righteousness.

6 And wisdom and knowledge shall be the [j] stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the LORD is his treasure.

(5) Antichrist overstepping (10:7)

7 Behold, [k] their valiant ones shall cry without: the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.

8 The highways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: [l] he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lĕb'a-non is ashamed and hewn down: Shâr'on is like a wilderness; and Bā'shăn and Cär'mel shake off their fruits.

(6) Antichrist judged (10:12)

10 Now will I rise, saith the LORD; now will I be exalted; now will I lift up myself.

11 Ye shall conceive [m] chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath, [n] as fire, shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.

10 Millennium (cp. Isa. 2:1, refs.). (1) Messiah reigning (4:2, refs.): character of the righteous

●13 ¶ [o] Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 The [p] sinners in Zi'ŏn are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. ¶ Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?

15 He that [r] walketh righteously, and [s] speaketh uprightly; he that [t] despiseth the gain of oppressions, that [u] shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that [v] stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and [w] shutteth his eyes from seeing evil;

16 [x] He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the [y] munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure.

17 [z] Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: [a] they shall behold the land that is very far off.

(2) Enemies not seen

18 [b] Thine heart shall meditate terror. [c] Where is the [d] scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 [e] Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive; of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.

(3) Israel's material restoration (Isa. 29:17, refs.)

●20 [f] Look upon Zi'ŏn, the city of our [g] solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm a quiet habitation, a [h] tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

21 But there the glorious LORD [i] will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go [j] no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.

22 For the LORD is [k] our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king; he will save us.

23 [l] Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a [m] great spoil divided; the [n] lame take the prey.

24 And the [o] inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

713 CHAPTER 34

11 Armageddon. (1) Nations mobilized (Joel 3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19)

COME [p] near, ye nations, [q] to hear; and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.●■

(2) Nations destroyed (Ezek. 39:17; Joel 3; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7; Jude 14; Rev. 14:14-20; 19:11-20:13)

2 For the indignation of the LORD is upon [r] all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath [s] utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.

3 Their slain also shall be [t] cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcases, and the mountains shall be [u] melted with their blood.

4 And [v] all the host of heaven

a 6 requirements to escape God's wrath, p. 487

b He despises deceit and abhors all filthy gain-that which comes from imposition, false dealing, and false weights and measures. He does not oppress the poor, take advantage of anyone for gain, or cruelly extort payment from anybody (v 15) c He does not make any deal or mete out justice with a view to getting reward. This literally means that he does not hold his hand out or shake it as a sign of expecting a bribe (v 15)

d He will not listen to any proposal to shed blood or to any scheme of violence, robbery, murder, or other hurtful thing (v 15)

e He does not desire to look upon any evil, or be found in places where sin is committed. He will not witness or hear any brawl and contention, or take part in them (v 15)

f It is no wonder that such a righteous man-one having the 6 characteristics of v 15-will dwell on high and be protected and blessed by Jehovah! (v 16)

g This could read: The strongholds of the rock shall be his lofty fortress. It no doubt refers to the rock-hewn city of Petra and Sela where Israel will have headquarters during the future tribulation when they flee from Judea for the last 3 1/2 years of this age. See The sun-clothed woman, p. 307 of N. T. and Sela-Petra in Index

h The eyes of the last generation of this age who will be alive on earth when the Messiah comes, will see Him (v 17)

i They shall be permitted to look at any part of thier land, even the most remote part, and see that it is freed from their enemies (v 17)

j The heart of the Jews in Judea, when the Messiah comes, will meditate terror, that is, think over all the terrors of the great tribulation which they have just come through (v 18) k Questions 55-57. Next, 36:4. The enemies of the Jews will be destroyed so suddenly that others will inquire, Where are they?

l 3 classes of enemy officers, p. 500

m After this destruction of the armies of the Antichrist Judah will never again see a foreign army fighting on their soil (v 19). Men will not war in the Millennium and the new earth (2:2-4; Rev. 21:3-7)

n Judah is invited to look upon Zion and Jerusalem under the Messiah as a place of worship, a quiet and peaceable city, and the tabernacle of God that will never be destroyed again (v 20)

o Solemnities, festival days and rituals of Israel (v 20; Ezek. 45:17; 46:11)

p Jerusalem is here pictured as a tabernable with posts and stakes holding up the tent wall, with not one stake ever being moved or any cord (holding up a wall post) being broken (v 20). This plainly illustrates the eternity of Jerusalem as the capital of the eternal kingdom of Messiah and David (2:2-4; 65:17-25; 1 Chr. 23:25; Zech. 14)

q Jehovah will make broad rivers and streams where no warship will ever come (v 21). This refers to the rivers that will flow out from under the Millennial sanctuary (Ezek. 47; Zech. 14:8). The river referred to in Ezek. 47 is to be over 3 miles wide, so it can rightly be called broad here

r No small galley ship or gallant warship will ply the waters of the rivers flowing from the Millennial sanctuary into the Mediterranean and Dead Sea (v 21)

s 3 things God will be to Judah, p. 500

t The enemy is pictured here like a helpless warship floundering in the water and becoming an easy prey to others

u The spoil at Armageddon will be in great abundance (v 23; Zech. 14:14)

a Heb. maqaq, to melt; flow; vanish; dissolve; pine away

b Parchment books were rolled on two sticks or cylinders-one for each end of the scroll. A scroll containing the Pentateuch, except Leviticus and part of Deuteronomy, in the library at Cambridge, England, is said to be 48 ft. long and 22 in. wide. Originally it must have been 90 ft. long. Consisting of 37 different goat skins dyed red, it contains 117 columns of writing 4 in. wide, each with about 40-50 lines. The Samaritan Pentateuch, one of the oldest MSS. we know of, consists of 23 skins, each having 5-6 columns 13 in. high and 7 1/2 in. wide with 70-72 lines. The entire scroll has 110 columns. Scrolls were generally encased in a protective cover on which the title was written. Such books are often referred to in Scripture by scroll (v 4; Rev. 6:14) or roll (8:1; Ezra 6:1-2; Jer. 36:2-32; Ezek. 2:9; 3:1-3; Zech. 5:1-2) c Stars or meteors (v 4; Mt. 24:29-31; Mk. 13:25; Rev. 6:12-17)

d Idumea (v 5-6; Ezek. 36:5; Mk. 3:8) or Edom (Gen. 36:43). It lay south of the Dead Sea. Bozrah or Bezer was a chief city in the north and Sela-Petra a chief one in the southern part. It seems that Idumea is singled out, like Babylon (13:19-22) to partake of God's wrath at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 5-8). It may be that part of Edom will betray Israel and co-operate with Antichirst in the tribulation. There would be no other reason for such judgment at this time that we know of, aside from their rejoicing over the calamities that had come to Israel (Ezek. 35:15; 36:5). This will evidently be one of the places where the armies of the Antichrist will be concentrated at the time of Armageddon (v 6-8). Sela-Petra, south of Bozrah is where Israel will be protected from Antichrist. See The sun-clothed woman, p. 307 of N.T.

e The sword of the Lord is spoken of as being filled with blood, which is figurative of great slaughter. The inhabitants of Idumea, especially Bozrah, are spoken of as being sacrificed like animals of old, when God comes with Christ at His 2nd advent to deliver Israel (v 6-8)

f See note c, Num. 24:8

g The day of the Lord beginning with the 2nd advent of Christ (v 8; 63:4; p. 226 of the N. T.)

h See Streams of pitch, p. 739

i This verse expresses the idea that Idumea will never have kings, princes, and nobles ruling the land as in ages past, for Israel will possess all the promised land in the days of the Messiah

j For information on the different creatures mentioned in v 11, 13-15 see notes on 13:19-22

k If one would do this today he would not find one prediction of God that had failed, among the things that should be already fulfilled. Thousands of verses and multiplied thousands of details have been fulfilled to the letter, which precludes all possibility of guess work on the part of the prophets. This assures us that the innumerable details of predictions to be fulfilled in the future will also come to pass to the letter. God assures us here that not one will fail (v 16)

6 The [e]sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bŏz'-rah, and a great slaughter in the land of I-dŭ-mē'ā.

(3) Land restored

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

(4) Highway of holiness (2:2-4; 11:16; 19:23)

8 And [f]an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called [g]The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: [h]the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there:

b 12 proofs these predictions literal:

1 The names of places-Lebanon, Carmel, Sharon, and Zion-prove them literal (v 2, 10)

2 Words like deserts, dry places, parched ground, and thirsty lands, referring to the earth, prove a literal meaning (v 1, 7)

3 The wilderness and deserts of the earth being made fruitful with plant life is further proof (v 1-2, 6-7)

4 The glory (great cedars) of Lebanon, the beauty of Carmel, the fertility of Sharon could only be understood in a literal sense (v 2)

5 Commands to strengthen weak hands, feeble knees, and fearful hearts could only be understood in connection with literal persons (3-4; Heb. 1:12-15)

6 The coming of God and Christ of v 5 is literal and visible as proved in Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-46; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Tit. 2:13; Jude 14-15; Rev. 1:7; 11:15; 19:11-21; 20:1-10; 21:3-7

7 The healing of all the infirm and sick as in v 5-6 could only be literal

8 Waters breaking out in the deserts could also only be literal (v 1-2, 7)

9 The highway of v 8-10 could only be a literal one as proved in 11:16; 19:23

10 Traffic on this highway proves a literal meaning (v 8-10), as well as the restriction of lions, ravenous beasts and unclean men from it

11 The fact that this will be a highway for the Jews to return to Zion on indicates a literal one (v 10)

12 The time of the fulfillment will be the Millennium, for none of these things are being accomplished today in some spiritual way of life, and this also indicates a literal meaning of every prediction (v 1-10). It does violence to the true and simple meaning of Scripture to say that such plain, literal statements have a spiritual, symbolic, or metaphysical meaning

c Lebanon was known for its great cedars; Carmel for its beauty; and Sharon for its fertility. They will be more blessed when the glory and the excellency of God are manifest (v 2) d These verses (3-6) command strength and courage in view of the coming of God with vengeance and recompence to save (v 4), heal the people (v 5-6), and restore normal conditions to the earth (v 1-2, 6-7)

e This again expresses the coming to earth of God the Father, at the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ (v 4; Dan. 7:9, 22; Zech. 14:5; Tit. 2:13)

f An highway will be built from Egypt through Palestine to Assyria and all people will traffic on it, going up to Jerusalem to worship the Lord and keep the feast of tabernacles (2:2-4; 11:16; 19:23-25; 66:19-21; Zech. 14:16-21)

g This term does not prove the highway to be a way of life or an experience of holiness as some would have us believe. It is so-called because of its being used by people going up to Jerusalem to worship God in spirit and in truth, and because of being limited to men who are redeemed (v 8-10)

h The wayfaring men (travellers), though fools, will not miss the way (v 8)

i This refers to the return of all Israel to their own land, fulfilling 11:10-12; 66:19-21; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31. Then, the ransomed and redeemed will continually traffic on this highway year after year to worship (2:2-4; Zech. 14:16-21)

j Sorrow (grief, regret) and sighing (disappointment) will always flee when one returns to God; then, instead of these there will be singing, joy and gladness (v 10)

k This chapter begins the historical interlude between the 2 main sections of prophecies of Isaiah-chs. 1-35 and 40-66. This section (36:1-39:8) records the history of the invasion of Judah by Sennacherib, king of Assyria (36:1-37:34), his defeat (37:36-38), the sickness and recovery of Hezekiah (38:1-22), and his folly (39:1-8). Cp. 2 Ki. 18:13-20:19

l This was 8 years after Samaria had been destroyed and the 10 tribes taken Shĕb'nā the scribe, and Jō'ah, Ā'saph's son, the recorder.

(2) Judah insulted (2 Ki. 18:17) A Message to Hezekiah

4 ¶ And Răb'sha-keh said unto them, Say ye now to Hĕz-e-ki'ah, Thus [c]saith the [b]great king, the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā. What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words) I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou [d]rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the [e]staff of this broken reed, on Ē'gўpt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt to all that trust in him.

7 But [f]if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hĕz-e-ki'ah hath taken away, and said to Jū'dah and to Jē-rų'să-lĕm, Ye shall worship before this altar?

8 [g]Now therefore give pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou [h]be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of [i]one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Ē'gўpt for chariots and for horsemen?

●10 And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? the [j]LORD said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

B Judah's answer (2 Ki. 18:26)

●11 ¶ Then said Ē-lī'a-kĭm and Shĕb'nā and Jō'ah unto Răb'sha-keh, [k]Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Sўr'ĭ-an language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the [l]Jewsh language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

C Message to the people

12 ¶ But Răb'sha-keh [m]said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may [n]eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

13 Then Răb'sha-keh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā.

●14 Thus saith the king, [o]Let not Hĕz-e-ki'ah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

●15 Neither let Hĕz-e-ki'ah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā.

●16 Hearken not to Hĕz-e-ki'ah: for thus saith the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern;

17 [p]Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

●18 Beware lest Hĕz-e-ki'ah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. [q]Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā?

19 Where are the gods of Hă'math and Ăr'phad? where are the gods of Sĕph-ar-vā'im? and have they delivered [r]Să-mā'rĭ-ā out of my hand?

20 Who are they among all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jē-rų'să-lĕm out of my hand?

●21 But [s]they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

(3) Hezekiah informed

22 ¶ Then came Ē-lī'a-kĭm, the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, that was over the household, and Shĕb'nā the scribe, and Jō'ah, the son of Ā'saph, the recorder, to Hĕz-e-ki'ah with their [t]clothes rent, and told him the words of Răb'sha-keh.

CHAPTER 37 716

(4) Effect on Hezekiah

AND it came to pass, when king Hĕz-e-ki'ah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went [a]into the house of the LORD.

2 And he [b]sent Ē-lī'a-kĭm, who was over the household, and Shĕb'nā the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Ī-să'iah the prophet the son of Ā'mŏz.

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hĕz-e-ki'ah, [c]This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

4 It [d]may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Răb'sha-keh, whom the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭá his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore [e]lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

(5) God assures victory

5 So the servants of king Hĕz-e-ki'ah came to Ī-să'iah.

●6 ¶ And Ī-să'iah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the LORD, [f]Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ā have blasphemed me. ■

7 Behold, I will send a [g]blast upon him, and he shall [h]hear a rumour, and [i]return to his own land; and [j]I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

(6) Further insults to God

a Questions 58-62. Next, v 12

b This was the customary title of the kings of the Assyrians and Persians

c Hezekiah had rebelled against the king of Assyria by refusing to pay the tribute imposed upon Judah in the days of Ahaz (2 Ki. 18:7). He had also trusted in Egypt for help against the Assyrians, but that country could not help him (v 6; 30:1-5; 31:1-3) d Egypt is here compared to a broken reed that can no longer be used as a staff or stave (v 6; Ezek. 29:6-7). As a reed would break if a man leaned heavily on it, so Egypt would be of no value if Judah leaned on the country's help

e 3 arrogant boasts of pagans here:
1 You have no strength to make war of yourself. If I gave you 2,000 horses you would not be able to put riders on them (v 5, 8)
2 Your trust in Egypt to help you against the Assyrians will be of no value. It will be like a man leaning on a weak reed that will break (v 6)
3 If you trust in the Lord your God, He will not help you, for He is the one who commanded us to come against you (v 7, 10). Is He not the one Hezekiah has rebelled against by taking away His altars? (v 6)

f This shows Rabshakeh's ignorance regarding the true worship of Jehovah and the fact that He was a living God instead of an idol. Hezekiah had removed the high places of idols, had destroyed idolatry in Judah to a great extent, and had re-established the true worship of Jehovah (2 Ki. 18:4-7; 2 Chr. 29:1-31:21); but the removal of these unlawful idols was taken by this pagan to mean the removal of the altars of Jehovah

g Renew your vows to the king of Assyria and pay tribute. Submit to him and live in peace until we remove you to another land as good as this one (v 8-12)

h Judah was be littled here and slandered by these pagans thus: If you submit I will give you 2,000 horses if you are able to supply that many riders. Why then do you continue to resist and put your trust in Egypt or in God? (v 8-10)

i Why do you resist such a great king who has great armies? I am only one of his captains (who could give you 2,000 horses if you had enough men to put on them); and I am but the least of the many captains of the king of Assyria. If you cannot oppose me, how do you expect to oppose the whole army of Assyria with many captains and companies like this? The word captain means a prefect, a governor of a province (1 Ki. 10:15; 2 Ki. 18:24; Esther 8:9; 9:3; Jer. 51:23)

j God did put it into the hearts of the Assyrians to overthrow certain countries, especially the 10-tribe kingdom of Israel (2 Ki. 17), and to chasten Judah (10:32-34), but He did not charge them to destroy Judah. Here they were overstepping their commission, and God was ready to defend Judah (37:6-7, 21-39)

k The ambassadors of Hezekiah pleaded with these pagans not to speak in the language of the Jews on the wall, lest they be weakened in their effort to resist Assyria (v 11). This plea was ignored; the pagans deliberately sought to weaken the will of the Jews to resist (v 12-21)

l See The word Jew, p. 739

m The language of Jews was Hebrew

n Questions 63-64. Next, v 18

o Isaiah was not responsible for the language here; he was simply the historian who wrote the truth of what was said by this pagan blasphemer regarding God and Judah. The blame is to be placed on the man who used this language, not on Isaiah who merely recorded it (v 12; 2 Ki. 18:28). The same attitude must be taken toward similar passages in the Bible (1 Sam. 25:22, 34; 1 Ki. 14:10; 16:11; 21:21; 2 Ki. 9:8). Customs, habits, and modes of expression of the various nations differ; and what may be indelicate in one nation may not be so in another. Instead of wording all such passages more delicately, the translators chose to retain the original expressions used p The appeal here was to the people on the walls of Jerusalem, to weaken their will to resist the Assyrians, the plea being that they should not let Hezekiah deceive them into thinking they would be delivered from the Assyrian army (v 14-15). The proposal was: Hear me and make an agreement with me by giving me a present; and you can come out to me and enjoy your own homes (v 16) until I come and take you away (v 16-17). No god of any nation has delivered people out of our hand, so who is Jehovah that He will be able to do so? (v 18-21)

a This plainly states the purpose of the Assyrians to take Judah captive into Assyria as they had already taken Ephraim (v 17; 2 Ki. 17)

b Questions 65-69. Next, 37:11

c Samaria, capital of the 10 tribes had already been taken captive (v 19; 2 Ki. 17)

d Here Jehovah was classed with the idol gods of other nations, and slandered, insulted, and estimated to be as powerless as man-made images (v 19-20). This is one of the reasons He took action against the Assyrians (37:6-7, 23-28)

e The Jews on the wall held their peace, being under the command of Hezekiah (v 21)

f It was the custom for clothes to be rent in mourning and sorrow. See Rending clothes, p. 28

g There is no better place to go, when one is in trouble, then to the house of God (v 1)

h Hezekiah first sent ambassadors of peace to the Assyrians, who insulted them; and they came back with rent clothes (36:3-4). Here he sent 2 men with the elders of the priests, in sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet. This he should have done first instead of last (v 2). Too often God is put last, in trouble or blessing. Men generally try everything else before they trust God for help i 4fold day of distress in Judah (v 3):

1 A day of trouble 3 Blasphemy
2 Of rebuke 4 Weakness

j This was the kind of faith Hezekiah had. It is the only kind many others have today. Anyone can declare it may be, but normal, divine faith declares it is done, or it will be done. In this case God had already planned to fight for Judah and deliver the city; so the accomplishment did not necessarily depend upon the faith of the people (v 5-6, 23-28)

k Hezekiah sent to Isaiah requesting prayer for the remnant of Israel (v 4). Whether the prophet made any particular prayer on this occasion is not stated, but He did make a prediction about the destruction of the Assyrian army (v 7)

l 38th prophecy in Isa. (37:6-7, fulfilled, v 36-38). Next, v 21. See p. 739

m God's message to Hezekiah was definite and to the point. He was assured that he did not need to be afraid of the words of Rabshakeh who had blasphemed God, Himself (v 6). He was further assured that the king of Assyria would not take Jerusalem; he would be supernaturally defeated; and he would return and die in his own land (v 7, 36-38)

n The blast was the sending of an angel from heaven, with a sword-an angel who killed 185,000 men of war in one night, thus causing the king of Assyria to give up plans for a siege of Jerusalem and to return to his own land where he was killed by his own sons (v 36-38)

o The rumor he heard perhaps, was that about king Tirhakah of Ethiopia marching to fight him (v 8-13)

p The return to his own land was after supernatural destruction of 185,000 of his army (v 36-38)

q God evidently put it into the hearts of two of his own sons and they killed him upon his return to Assyria (v 38)

a He-the king of Assyria, not Rabshakeh. When he heard about the king of Ethiopia coming to fight against him he quickly sent messengers again to Hezekiah, seeking to scare him into an immediate surrender so that he, himself could then depart for Assyria to escape war with the Ethiopians (v 9-13)

b This was another insult to Jehovah, accusing Him of deception (v 10). God had declared through Isaiah that Jerusalem would be spared and this had probably been reported to the king of Assyria (v 6-7, 10)

c Questions 70-72. Next, v 23

d This last message (v 9-13) was written in a letter and sent from the king of Assyria to Hezekiah. He read it, then spread the letter out before the Lord and prayed; God answered through Isaiah (v 15-35)

e 7fold prayer of Hezekiah:
1 He addressed the Lord of Hosts, the God of Israel, which was customary in those times (v 16). In the N. T. we are commanded to address God in the name of Jesus Christ (Mt. 16:17-18; Jn. 14; 12-15; 15:16; 16:23-26)
2 He recognized that God still dwelled between the cherubim (v 16). This was according to the covenant with Moses and all Israel about 940 years before this (Ex. 25:22)
3 He recognized that Jehovah was the only God on earth (v 16)
4 He acknowledged Him as creator of heaven and earth (v 16)
5 He requested God to hear and see what was written in the letter which was spread out before Him, that it reproached the living God (v 17)
6 He acknowledged the fact that many nations and their lands had been laid waste by the king of Assyria who had also destroyed the gods of these nations; now he was threatening Judah (v 18-19)
7 He concluded his prayer by appealing to Jehovah to save Judah from the hand of this mighty king so that all the nations of earth might know that He was the only true and living God (v 20)

f The house of the Lord was Solomon's temple which had been standing about 288 years (v 14)

g This refers to the 2 cherubim made of gold which were on the ends of the lid or covering of the ark of the covenant, between which God was supposed to dwell and commune with the children of Israel (v 16; Ex. 25:22)

h The kings of Assyria were ignorant of the fact that the God of Israel was not an idol like the gods of other nations. Had they known that He was a living God, perhaps they would not have acted in such a haughty manner. Thus God found it necessary to take action on certain occasions to prove to men on earth that He is alive and that He alone is sovereign over all (v 17; note h, Josh. 2:9)

i This much of the letter from the king was true (v 18-19), but it was no proof that Assyria could deal thus with Jehovah. It was time now that they, and all others, should learn the lesson again-that God, the God of Israel, is the only true and living God

j This should be the chief end of all praying and working for God. He made all things originally for His glory and planned that His goodness, mercy, and grace would be extended to all creations in the eternal supply of all, thus carrying out the creative purpose of everything to the highest good of being and of the universe. Many times God has done things to prove that He is God and that He, Himself is consecrated to the best and highest good of all k 39th prophecy in Isa. (37:21-35, fulfilled, v 36-38). Next, 38:1. See p. 739

l It would seem that God revealed to Isaiah that Hezekiah had prayed concerning the threatenings of the king of Assyria; so he was sent to re-assure Hezekiah that the former prediction (v 6-7) would come to pass, and to give further details of assurance-that the Assyrian king would never come against the city to besiege it or enter it, and that he would be destroyed (v 29-35)

and Judah (2 Ki. 18:27)

8 ¶ So Răb'sha-keh returned, and found the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă warring against Lĭb'nah: for he had heard that he was departed from La'chish.

9 And [a]he heard say concerning Tĭr'ha-kah king of Ē-thi-ō'pĭ-ă, He is come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying, [b]Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm shall not be given into the hand of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă have done to all lands by destroying them utterly; [c]and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gō'zan, and Hā'ran, and Rĕ'zeph, and the children of Ē'dĕn which were in Tĕ-lăs'sar?

13 Where is the king of Hā'math, and the king of Ăr'phad, and the king of the city of Sĕphar-vā'ĭm, Hē'nă, and Ĭ'vah?

(7) Hezekiah prays (2 Ki. 19:14)

14 [d] And Hĕz-e-kī'ah received the [d]letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hĕz-e-kī'ah went up[e]unto [f]the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.

15 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah prayed unto the LORD, saying,

16 O LORD of hosts, God of Ĭs'ra-el, that [g]dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb, which hath sent [h]to reproach the living God.

18 [i]Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă have laid waste all the nations, and their countries, 19 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth [j]may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only.

(8) God's answer (2 Ki. 19:20). A Rebuke to Sennacherib

21 ¶ [k]Then Ĭ-şā'ĭah the son of Ă'mŏz sent unto Hĕz-e-kī'ah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, [l]Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă:

22 This is the word which the LORD hath spoken [m]concerning him; The virgin, the daughter of Zī'ŏn, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm hath shaken her head at thee.

23 [n]Whom hast thou [o]reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lĕb'a-non; and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and the forest of his Cär'mel.

25 I have digged, and drunk water; and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.

26 [p]Hast thou not [q]heard long ago, how I have done it; and of ancient times, that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were [r]as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.

28 [s]But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

B Prophecy against Sennacherib

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my [t]hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

C Sign: prophecy to Hezekiah

30 And this shall be a sign unto [u]thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself; and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Jū'dah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward:

32 For out of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zī'ŏn: the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD.

35 For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant Dā'vid's sake.

(9) Assyrian destruction

36 Then the angel of the LORD

a Questions 73-74. Next, v 26

b It is God that you have reproached and blasphemed (v 23)

c Question 75. Next, 38:15

d These verses refer to the former prediction that God would use Assyria as a rod of chastening upon certain nations, and thereby make them successful in their conquests (v 26-27)

e The nations whom the Assyrians had conquered were victims of circumstances-like grass and green herbs blasted by the elements beyond their control (v 27)

f God knew the Assyrian power and had been using it to further His purpose among the nations. Now, seeing their haughtiness and pride, and their ignorance of Him who had made them successful, He determined to reverse His co-operation with them and punish them for overstepping their commission. He had not charged them to destroy Jerusalem, but only to chasten Judah to see if they would come back to Him as a nation. He now revealed His punishment for the pride and overstepping of the Assyrians (v 29-38)

g The reference here is to the custom of inserting a ring in the nose of an animal for the purpose of subduing and leading him. Human beings taken captive were also treated thus. A ring was put in the lower lip of prisoners; and it was customary to tie strings into the rings so that the king could hold them in his left hand while he put out the eyes of his captive, with a spear in his right hand (v 29; 2 Ki. 19:28; 25:7; Ezek. 19:4; 38:4). The idea here is figurative of the king of Assyria who would be forced back into his own country in retreat and shame without besieging Jerusalem as he had boasted he would do (v 29-38)

h God now addressed Hezekiah through the prophet, assuring him that:
1 Judah would soon be free from the Assyrians; they would eat from that which grew of itself for the rest of the year, and the next; in the third year they would sow and reap in peace (v 30)
2 The remnant of Judah would again take root downward and bear fruit upward (v 31)
3 There would be a remnant which would escape out of Jerusalem and out of Zion (v 32)
4 The king of Assyria would be completely driven out of the land of Judah without even besieging Jerusalem; and God would defend the city (v 33-35)

m 10fold message of God to Sennacherib:
1 Judah has laughed you to scorn, despised you, and shaken the head at you (v 22)
2 You have blasphemed Me, the Holy One of Israel (v 23)
3 You have sent messengers who have reproached Me and boasted of what you are going to do to My people (v 24-25)
4 I was the one who gave you and your fathers commission to destroy certain countries and lay them waste (v 26)
5 Your successes, of which you boast, were made possible by Me-because I did not protect these countries from you (v 27)
6 You have gone too far and you are now exalted because of your successes; you are not afraid to rage against Me (v 28)
7 Because of your rage against Me, and your tumult coming up to Me, I will turn you back to Assyria (v 29)
8 You will not come into this city or even besiege it (v 33)
9 You will retreat and return to Assyria by the way you came (v 34)
10 I will defend this city for My own sake and for the sake of David (v 35)
Verses 30-32 were personal to Hezekiah concerning Jerusalem, but the other verses (21-29, 33-35) concerned the king of Assyria (v 22, 33)

a An angel of the Lord went forth (from heaven) and smote 185,000 soldiers (on earth) in one night (v 36; 2 Ki. 19:35; 2 Chr. 32:21). Though it does not say so, a sword was probably used in this case, as in the slaying of 70,000 Israelites by an angel, recorded in 2 Sam. 24 (1 Chr. 21:16, 27). The captain of the Lord's host had a sword (Josh. 5:13-15), so it may be concluded that this angel had one also, and used it on this occasion of slaying 185,000

b The ones left alive arose early in the morning and found the others killed. The slain ones were the mighty men, the captains, and leaders of the army of Assyria; this made the king return home in shame (2 Chr. 32:21)

c This was after his mighty men, captains, and leaders had been killed by the angel of the Lord (v 36-37)

d Nisroch (meaning great eagle) was an eagle-headed human figure - the same as the god Asshur, the chief Assyrian god (v 38; 2 Ki. 19:37). The corresponding goddess was Asheera or Astarte. The eagle was worshipped by the ancient Persians and Arabs

e The reason his sons killed him is not known; but they fulfilled prophecy by this act (37:7). They fled to Armenia (v 38), and became the heads of two celebrated families (Josh. Ant. x, 1, 5)

f This implies that the sickness of Hezekiah was during the time of trouble with the Assyrians, when they were seeking his surrender (36:1-37:38). This seems clear also from the fact that he reigned 29 years and this invasion of Judah was in his 14th year (36:1), leaving the added 15 years of his life and reign to take place after this (2 Ki. 18:2)

g The cause of his sickness was a large boil or ulcer (note 1, v 21). The reason for any sickness at all was that his heart became lifted up (2 Chr. 32:24-26)

h 40th prophecy in Isa. (38:1, fulfilled, though postponed 15 years, v 1, 4-6). Next, v 5

i Then - when he had the sentence of death pronounced upon him he turned his face toward the wall and prayed (v 2), and wept sore (v 3)

j In this prayer he no doubt told the truth about his godliness, for he was one of only a few men among all the kings of Israel, from Saul to the captivity, who were somewhat godly (v 3; note a, 1 Ki. 11:6)

k 3 claims of Hezekiah (v 3):
1 I have walked before You in truth
2 I have walked before You with a perfect heart
3 I have done that which is good in Your sight

l Heb., wept a great weeping, or lamented grievously (v 3; 2 Ki. 20:3) m Then - when Hezekiah had prayed, wept aloud very grievously, humbled himself, and repented of his pride (v 4; 2 Chr. 32:24-26). The Lord sent Isaiah to him again to assure him that his prayer had been heard, that he would have 15 years added to his life, and that he would be delivered from the king of Assyria (v 4-8)

n 41st prophecy in Isa. (38:5-8, fulfilled, v 21-22; 39:1). Next, 39:5. See p. 739

o God called Himself The God of thy father David:
1 Because of David's resemblance to Him in doing all that was right (in the sight of the Lord; 2 Ki. 18:3-7)
2 Because David was a special servant of God (2 Sam. 7:5-29)
3 Because of the Davidic covenant (2 Sam. 7) p This is the only time God ever told a man how long he would live (v 5). Just why He specified the time and this much time is not known; nevertheless, the prophecy was fulfilled to the letter. Hezekiah died after a reign of 29 years (18:2). This promise of 15 more years was in the 14th year of his reign (36:1)

q 2 signs were given to Hezekiah:
1 That he would go up to the house of the Lord in 3 days (2 Ki. 20:5)
2 That the shadow on the sun dial would be brought backward 10 degrees (v 8; 2 Ki. 20:5-11). This is the only time-piece mentioned in Scripture, but there must have been some means of 37 ¶ So Sĕn-năch'e-rĭb king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă [c]departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nĭn'e-veh.

38 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of [d]Nĭs'rŏch his god, that Ă-drăm'me-lĕch and Shă-rē'zĕr [e]his sons smote him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ăr-mē'nĭ-ă: and Ē'ser-hăd'don his son reigned in his stead.

717 CHAPTER 38

2 Hezekiah's sickness and recovery (38:1-39:8; 2 Ki. 20). (1) Sickness and sentence

IN [f]those days was Hĕz-e-kī'ah [g]sick unto death. [h]And Ī-să'iah the prophet the son of Ă'mŏz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live. ■

(2) Prayer and repentance

2 [i]Then Hĕz-e-kī'ah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the LORD,

3 And said, [j]Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have [k]walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [l]wept sore.

(3) Answer and assurance

■4 [m]Then came the word of the LORD to Ī-să'iah, saying,

5 Go, [n]and say to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Thus saith the LORD, [o]the God of Dā'vid thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will [p]add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ă: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be a [q]sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken;

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the sun dial of Ă'hăz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

(4) Writing and testimony

9 ¶ The [r]writing of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:

10 I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the [s]grave: [t]I am deprived of the residue of my years.

11 I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD, in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine age is [u]departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining [a]sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

13 I [b]reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 [c]Like a[d]crane or a[e]swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a [f]dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppressed; undertake for me.

15 [g]What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16 O Lord, [h]by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.

17 Behold, [i]for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.

18 For the [j]grave cannot praise thee, death can not celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

19 [k]The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.

20 The LORD was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD.

(5) Hezekiah's fig poultice

●21 For Ī-să'iah had said, [l]Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.

22 Hĕz-e-kī'ah also had [m]said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

CHAPTER 39 718

(6) Hezekiah's folly

AT [n]that time Mĕ-rō'dăch-băl'a-dăn, king of Băb'ў-lon, sent letters and a present to Hĕz-e-kī'ah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

2 And Hĕz-e-kī'ah [o]was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hĕz-e-kī'ah shewed them not.

(7) Babylonian captivity foretold (Jer. 25:1-17)

3 ¶ Then came Ī-să'iah the prophet unto king Hĕz-e-kī'ah, and said unto him, [p]What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hĕz-e-kī'ah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Băb'ў-lon.

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And a Heb. cholly, malady; anxiety; calamity; disease; grief; sickness

b I am delivered up to death like prey to a lion; my bones will be broken and I will come to an end (v 13) c I chattered like a crane or a swallow; I mourned like a dove; my eyes failed me when I realized that I must die (v 14)

d The crane - a well-known bird with long legs which goes about the water, and makes a noise that is rather hoarse sounding, melancholy, and expressive of grief (v 14; Jer. 8:7)

e The swallow is well-known for its twittering - a bird of migration (v 14; Ps. 84:3; Pr. 26:2; Jer. 8:7)

f The dove is often mentioned in Scripture as a clean bird. Innocent in disposition and making no resistance to enemies, such birds are much attached to their mates; and when one dies or is absent the other laments in loneliness (v 14)

g Question 76. Next, v 22. This question expresses surprise at being healed and having such unexpected deliverance. God has spoken (of adding 15 years to my life) and He has also done it. I will go softly all the years to come, in the bitterness of my soul - that is, all my days I will remember the distress and bitter sorrows of my sickness, and my healing; and I will allow the remembrance to make me serious and full of gratitude (v 15)

h By these promises of God and their fulfillment that have been given me, do men live. I am alive by virtue of these things (v 16)

i Instead of peace I had bitterness until You loved me and delivered me from death. You have ceased to punish me for my sins; they are now forgiven and put behind Your back (v 17)

j Heb. sheol, the unseen world; the place of departed spirits, not the grave. See Hell in Index

k The sense of these verses (v 18-20) is that men who die cannot praise God on earth or hope for further truth; but the living are still on probation; they can praise God, know the truth, and be saved as he was blessed that day

l This poultice was not for healing, for God had already healed him and added 15 years to his life (v 5). I was merely for cleansing, and bringing corruption to the surface (v 21)

n At that time - after the healing of Hezekiah, Merodach-baladan, son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah. On the surface, the reason for this was that he had been sick and was now recovered; but in reality the purpose was to spy out the land (v 1-8)

o Hezekiah was glad and openly showed the spies all the riches of Judah (v 2). God took a different attitude toward the spies, from that of Hezekiah, and sent Isaiah the prophet to inquire of the king what they had seen - and to make a bold prediction of Babylon conquering Judah (v 3-8) telling the hours, even in the night, for different watches of 3 and 4 hours are referred to. The shadow being moved backward was a divine miracle which was instantaneous and satisfactory to Hezekiah (v 8). See notes on the sun dial, p. 415

v 12 statements about death, p. 450

Hĕz-e-kī'ah answered, [a]All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

5 Then said Ī-şā'iah to Hĕz-e-kī'ah, Hear the word of the LORD of hosts:■

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Bāb'ў-lon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.

7 And of [a]thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be [b]eunuchs in the palace of the king of Bāb'ў-lon.

8 Then said Hĕz-e-kī'ah to Ī-şā'iah, [c]Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

[a]PART II: LOOKING BEYOND CAPTIVITIES (Chs. 40-66)

719 CHAPTER 40

VIII Consolation in view of return from captivity (40:1-48:22). 1 First and second advents of the Messiah. (1) Comfort: no sins (Jer. 31:31-40; Rom. 11:26)

COMFORT [d]ye, [c]comfort ye my people, saith your God.

●2 Speak ye comfortably to Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, and [f]cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the LORD'S hand [g]double for all her sins.

(2) The voice (Mal. 3:1; Mt. 3): first and second advents

★3 ¶ The [h]voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, [i]Prepare ye the way of the [j]LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:

5 And the [k]glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

(3) The voice: God's Word; man's weakness

●6 The [l]voice said, Cry. And he said, [m]What shall I cry? [n]All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field:

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: because the spirit of the LORD bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.

(4) The second advent

●9 ¶ O [o]Zī'ŏn, that [p]bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain; O Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, that bringest [q]good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, [r]be not afraid; say unto the [s]cities of Jū'dah, [t]Behold your God!

10 Behold, the LORD GOD [u]will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and [v]his work before him.

11 He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.

12 ¶ [w]Who [x]hath [y]measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?

(2) Sevenfold omniscience. Cp. Rom. 8:27; 11:33

13 [z]Who hath directed the Spirit of the LORD, or being his counsellor hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?

(3) Fivefold comparison

15 Behold, [a]the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing.

16 And Lĕb'a-non is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and [b]vanity.

(4) Challenge: comparison

18 ¶ To whom [c]then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman [d]melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains.

20 He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image, that shall not be moved.

(5) Challenge: knowledge

21 Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood [e]from the foundations of the earth?

(6) Sevenfold comparison

22 It is [f]he that sitteth upon the [g]circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that [h]stretcheth out the heavens as a [i]curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:

23 That bringeth the princes

a Hezekiah played the part of a fool on this occasion by showing the spies from Babylon all the treasures of Judah (v 4) b 42nd prophecy in Isa. (39:5-7, fulfilled, 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36; Dan. 1). Next, 40:1. See p. 739 c Chs. 1-39 of Isaiah contain many predictions in view of the coming captivities to Babylon, but chs. 40-66 contain predictions which look altogether beyond the captivities. Of course, many prophecies in chs. 1-39 also look beyond the captivities, but no prophecy in chs. 40-66 merely looks forward to them. A few refer to deliverance from Babylon (44:26-45:4, 13; 46:1-2; 48:14-15) and a few, now fulfilled, refer to the 1st advent (40:3; 42:1-3, 6-7; 49:1-5; 50:2-11; 52:14; 53:1-12; 61:1-2), but otherwise every prophecy in this section is unfulfilled and has to do with the regathering of Israel in the last days, with the future tribulation, the 2nd advent, the Millennium, and the new earth d 43rd prophecy in Isa. (40:1-11; v 3-5 fulfilled; v 1-2, 6-11 unfulfilled). Next 41:1. See p. 739
e See Comfort, p. 489
f 3 things to cry to Jerusalem (v 2):
1 Her warfare is accomplished
2 Her iniquity is pardoned
3 She has received of Jehovah double for her sins
These things are spoken of as already accomplished, but all are yet to be fulfilled-at the 2nd advent of Christ 63:1-5; Zech. 12:10-14:21; Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29). Furthermore, these are national problems; the warfare, iniquity, and reaping for sins referred to concern Judah as well as Jerusalem. The city will be restored and all the people blessed and pardoned under the Messiah (v 1-2)
g Or in full (v 2; 61:7; Jer. 16:18)
h These verses (3-5) were definitely fulfilled in John the Baptist at the 1st advent of Christ (v 3-5; Mt. 3:3; Mk. 1:3; Lk. 3:4-6; Jn. 1:23). They might also have a further and more complete fulfillment in the ministry of Enoch and Elijah to herald the 2nd advent of Christ, or prepare the hearts of people to receive the Messiah (Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:3-11; Ezek. 20:35-36)
i This whole passage (v 3-5), except the last part of v 5 is quoted in Lk. 3:4-6 as being fulfilled with John the Baptist and the 1st advent of the Messiah. The statements about preparing the way of the Lord are used here figuratively, heralding the coming of the Messiah. It was the custom in the East to send a party of men before a king or a prince to prepare the way before him. They cleared the way of thorns, brambles, and bushes, made bridges, found fording places in the streams, and levelled the ground wherever necessary to make it normal for travel. To this the prophet alluded when he spoke of making a way for the Lord (v 3-6). This was never done literally for Christ, but the custom could be applied figuratively of the preparation of the people to receive Him. If it is ever to be fulfilled literally this will be in the Millennium when a literal highway will be made from Egypt to Assyria, through Palestine, as predicted in 11:16; 19:23-25; 35:8-10
j See Jehovah, p. 470
k The glory of the Lord was revealed by Jesus Christ and all flesh did see His mighty power that glorified God (v 5; Lk. 2:9; Jn. 1:14; 2:11; 11:4, 40; 12:41)
l This voice was not the one of v 3, but another which Isaiah heard in the vision-evidently the voice of God (v 6; 6:8-9). Isaiah answered the voice thus: What shall I cry? (v 6)
m Question 81. Next, v 12
n Quoted in 1 Pet. 1:24-25. This was the message the voice of the vision told him to cry-men are like grass which withers soon and is gone, but the Word of the Lord shall stand forever (v 6-8; Ps. 119:89-91; Mt. 5:18; 24:35; Mk. 13:31; Jn. 10:35; 12:34; 1 Pet. 1:25)
o The terms Zion, Jerusalem, and Judah in chs. 40-66 prove again that the Jews are the subject of the prophets and that they are the Israel that will fulfil the writings of the prophets (v 2, 9) a At the time of this prophecy Hezekiah had no sons; therefore, David's line and God's prophecy concerning his house were in danger of failing (2 Sam. 7). Manasseh was not born until the 3rd year of the 15 which were added to the king's life (2 Ki. 20:20-21:1); hence, a prophecy regarding sons before he even had one further guaranteed his extension of life (v 7)

e See 46 facts about God, p. 545
f This is perhaps hyperbole-a figure of speech wherein more is said than is literally meant. It could however, be literal in the sense of God measuring these things when He originally brought the materials to existence. Whether literal or figurative, this expresses the greatness of God in contrast with the lifelessness of the idols which Israel served at various times (v 12-19; Job 28:25; 30:4) k Since God is so great and powerful, what can He be likened to? What can He be compared to? Certainly not to a lifeless image made by man-an image of gold, silver, or wood, as pictured in v 19-20. Since He is such a Being as pictured in v 12-17, what kind of image could one make of Him that would give the truth?

l 2 kinds of images here:
1 Graven or molten images (v 19)
2 Carved or wooden images, covered with metal (v 20)

a Princes, judges, and all others who oppose the divine plan, regardless of their wealth and power, are no real hindrance to God. He can and does remove and make them as nothing and as vanity whenever they get in His way (v 23; Job 12:21; Ps. 2:10; 107:40) b Those who oppose God will be cut off; even their posterity will not continue on earth. Their names and families will become extinct and grow no more than a stump left in the earth (v 24; Neh. 1:14)

c Questions 91-94. Next, 41:2

d See note k, v 18

e God, here and in several other places, appealed to the heavens as proof of His existence, and perfection, and as a demonstration of His greatness and power (v 26; 42:5; 44:24; 45:18; 48:13; 51:6-16; Ps. 19:1-6; 97:6; 104:2; Zech. 12:1). This argument in becoming more impressive and stronger as men learn more about the heavens. See Solar system and Heaven in Index

f See Name and number of stars, p.640 Besides the stars there are many billions of other things in creation which God knows the name and number of (v 26; 45:18)

g No one thing in creation, that is run by natural laws, ever fails regarding its creative purpose, as stated here (v 26)

h Here the names Jacob and Israel are both used of Judah--the subject of this prophecy (v 9, 27; 1:2; 2:1)

i 3 names and titles of God (v 28):
1 The everlasting God (Elohim, Triune God)
2 The Lord (Jehovah, the Eternal)
3 The Creator (43:15; Eccl. 12:1; Rom. 1:25; 1 Pet. 4:19)

j 3 things man cannot do:
1 Exhaust God's power and cause Him to faint (v 28)
2 Make Him weary of doing things for His own people who love and submit to Him (v 30). He can only be wearied by sin and rebellion against His Word and will (43:23-24; Mal. 2:17)
3 Search out God's understanding (v 28; Job 11:7-9)

k This is one of the attributes of God that is exercised constantly toward those who are in need (v 29; Jas. 1:17)

l The most vigorous and powerful men may faint under strain, and utterly fail, but they that wait on the Lord shall:
1 Renew their strength (v 31)
2 Mount up with wings as eagles
3 Run and not be weary
4 Walk and not faint

m Heb. qavah, to bind together by twisting; to expect; gather together; look patiently for; wait for or upon (v 21; 49:23; 51:5; 59:9; 60:9; Ps. 25:3, 5, 21; 27:14; 37:9, 34; 40:1; 62:5; 69:6; 130:5; Pr. 20:22; Jer. 14:22; Lam. 3:25; Hos. 12:6). See Waiting on God in Index

n Heb. chalaph, to glide by or hasten away; pass on; spring up; change; alter; go forward; grow up; renew; sprout; strike through (v 31; 41:1)

o They mount up like eagles, not that they become young again. Eagles can mount up without becoming young again and this is all that is stated here

q God here spoke to the islands (coastal lands of Palestine, Egypt, Asia Minor, etc.) to be silent and come near to judgment, for Cyrus was coming from the east to overthrow them (v 1)

r The word righteous in connection with Cyrus simply refers to doing right in carrying out the will of God in punishing the enemies of Israel and allowing God's people to return to their own land. Cyrus, who came from the east, is definitely named in 44:28-45:6 and referred to in v 2, 25; 45:31; 46:11; 2 Chr. 36:22-23; Ezra 1:1-8; 3:7; 4:3, 5; 5:13-17; 6:3, 14; Dan. 1:21; 6:28; 10:1

to nothing; he [a]maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Yea, [b]they shall not be planted; yea, they shall not be sown: yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth: and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.

(7) Fivefold equality

25 [c]To whom then will ye liken me, [d]or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.

[e]26 [e]Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by [f]names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; [g]not one faileth.

(8) Challenge: knowledge

27 Why sayest thou, O Já'cob, and speakest, O [h]Ĭs'ra-el, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is passed over from my God?

28 ¶ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that [i]the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth [j]not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding.

(9) Sixfold omnipotence

30 Even the youths [l]shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:

▶31 But they that [m]wait upon the LORD shall [n]renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings [o]as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

(10) Fivefold call to Isles

[p]KEEP [q]silence before me, [r]O islands; and let the people renew their strength: let them come near; then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment. ■

(11) Ninefold prophecy of Cyrus (vs. 25; 44:28-45:6, 13; 46:11; Ezra 1)

2 Who raised up the [r]righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, [s]and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them, and passed safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

(12) God's omniscience

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the LORD, [t]the first, and with the last; [u]I am he.

(13) Union of the Isles against Cyrus

5 [v]The isles saw it, and feared; the [a]ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

●6 They helped every one his neighbour; and every one said to his brother, [b]Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

(14) Sevenfold call to Israel

8 [c]But thou, Ĭs'ra-el, [d]art my servant, Já'cob whom I have chosen, the seed of Á'brā-hăm my [e]friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant; I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt [g]not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

●13 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. ◂

●14 Fear not, thou [h]worm Já'cob, and ye [i]men of Ĭs'ra-el; I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy [j]redeemer, the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el. ◂

15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

▶17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Ĭs'ra-el will not forsake them.

▶18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.

▶19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together:

b Do not be afraid of the invasion of Cyrus. The encouragement here was to make new images for the temples and thus obtain the favor of the gods whom the people trusted to rescue them from Cyrus; so they fashioned idols and set them in their places that they should not be moved (v 6-7). This is another instance of sinners seeking to avert judgment by becoming religious. Such turning of pagans to idols to avert destruction only shows the futility of such trust

c After addressing the Gentiles, as in v 5-7, and showing the futility of trusting in idols to defend them from Cyrus, God addressed Israel or Jacob's seed--the Jews, calling attention to their background, their call of God, His choice of them to be His servant, and His many promises of blessing to them (v 8-20)

d 7fold call to Israel-the Jews:
1 You are My servant (v 8-9)
2 I have chosen Jacob (v 8)
3 You are the seed of Abraham, My friend
4 I have taken you from the ends of the earth (v 9; note a, above)
5 I have called you from the chief men of the earth
6 I have declared you to be My servant, My chosen people
7 I have not cast you away

e Heb. ahab, to have affection for. Trans. friend (v 8; Pr. 18:24; 27:6; Zech. 13:6); love (Lev. 19:18, 34); lover (1 Ki. 5:1; Ps. 88:18); and several other ways. Abraham was known as the friend or lover of God (v 8; 2 Chr. 20:7; Jas. 2:23). What greater honor could be given any man than that of the Almighty calling him His friend? Many times the descendants of God's friends were blessed for the sake of their relationship with such men. Israel is blessed because of Abraham's sake (v 8; Gen. 26:24), and David's sake (37:35; 1 Ki. 11:12-13, 32-34; 15:4; 2 Ki. 8:19; 19:34; 20:6). God has blessed other men for the sake of other friends of His (Gen. 39:5; Ex. 18:8; 2 Sam. 5:12; Mt. 24:22; 2 Cor. 4:5, 11; 12:10; Eph. 4:32)

i Judah or the many of the 13 tribes in the southern kingdom are here called men of Israel and Jacob. They are also called men of Judah (5:3, 7; Jer. 4:3-4; 11:2, 9; 17:25; 18:11; 32:32; 35:13; 36:31; 43:9; 44:27; Dan. 9:7). Both terms are used of the Jews in the N. T. (Acts 2:2, 5 with 2:14, 22; 3:12; 4:35, and Acts 13:5, 42-50 with 13:16; etc.). Bible writers all contradict the modern theory that all Israelites are not Jews. See Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

j 8 things Jehovah is to men:
1 Their God (v 10, 13)
2 Strength (v 10)
3 Helper (v 10, 13-14)
4 Upholder (v 10)
5 Redeemer (v 14)

2:7, note with Eph. 2:15; 4:13). The pronouns him (Dt. 32:10; Mic. 3:8; Jer. 31:10), his (Ps. 25:22), and her and she are all used of Israel as a nation or a unit of people (Rev. 12:1-5, 14). If singular pronouns are thus used of the church and Israel, each being made up of many individuals, the same can surely be true of the Divine Trinity of more than one individual or person. See p. 280 of N. T.

e Cyrus was the one raised up of God to fulfil His Word concerning the punishment of Babylon and the freeing of Israel (41:1-3, 25; 44:28-45:4, 13; Jer. 25; Dan. 1:21; 6:28; Ezra 1) f From the north seems to contradict from the east (41:2), but there is no discrepancy. Cyrus was from the east of Palestine where Isaiah made the prediction. What this verse says is that he would come upon the princes from the north; and this is what he did in conquering Babylon. He first conquered all of Asia Minor and then moved southward against Babylon, as recorded in history. He was born in Persia, east of Palestine but his conquest of Babylon was from the north g This no doubt means that Cyrus would acknowledge Jehovah as the true God and the source of his success (Ezra 1:2)
h Questions 97-98. Next, 42:19
i Here God claimed the making of a plan from eternity to eternity, and the making of predictions from the beginning, long before they came to pass, revealing to man what was to happen. This is what He challenged idols to do, as in v 21-24, in order to prove their divinity. Everyone knows that only a supernatural Being could do such things; and there are over 6 thousand verses of prophecy to confirm this fact j See 7 purposes of prediction, p. 771
k 47th prophecy in Isa. (41:27, fulfilled). Next, 42:1. See p. 740
l Here again we see that Zion and Jerusalem, or the Jews are the ones dealt with in Isaiah. There is no Israel other than these who will be blessed, for Jews are the whole of all the tribes. See Israel in Index

n The bearer of the good tidings from Jehovah, referring primarily to Isaiah himself, and secondarily to other prophets who brought such tidings (v 27; Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-2)

u God has a soul; this means He has feelings, passions, appetites, emotions, and desires, as all other intelligent beings have. If He has a soul, He also has a spirit, and a body in which His soul and spirit dwell (note r, Jn. 4:24). See God in Index v The word spirit here should be written with a capital letter because it refers to the Holy Spirit, the Third Person of the Divine Trinity and not to God's personal spirit. That it does refer to the Holy Spirit is clear from the fulfillment of the Spirit descending upon Christ at His baptism (Mt. 3:16-17; Lk. 3:16; Jn. 3:34; Acts 10:38). Not only was 42:1 fulfilled then, but also 11:1-2; 61:1-2 w Another proof of the Divine Trinity of separate and distinct persons, each with a personal body, soul and spirit:
1 My (the Lord God, v 1, 5, 7)
2 My spirit (the Holy Spirit, v 1)
3 Him (the Messiah, v 1-7). See The Trinity, p. 280 of N. T.

721 CHAPTER 42

3 Controversy: God and Israel (42:1-45:25). (1) Messiah's first advent: tenfold presentation

[1] BEHOLD [r]my [s]servant, whom I uphold; mine [t]elect, in whom my [u]soul delighteth; I have put my [v]spirit upon [w]him: he shall [x]bring forth judgment to the Gĕn'tiles.

2 [y]He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the [z]smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.

4 [a]He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall [a]wait for his law.

(2) Eightfold address to Messiah

*5 [b] Thus saith God the LORD, he that [b]created the [c]heavens, and [d]stretched them out; he that [c]spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth [f]breath unto the people upon it, and [g]spirit to them that walk therein:

6 I the LORD have called [h]thee in righteousness, and will [i]hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and [j]give thee for a covenant of the [k]people, for a [l]light of the Gĕn'tiles;

7 [m]To open the blind eyes, [n]to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.

(3) God's glory for Himself

8 I am the [o]LORD: that is my name: and my [p]glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

(4) Former things fulfilled

9 Behold, the [q]former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

(5) Give glory to God

*10 [r]Sing unto the LORD a [s]new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein; the isles, and the inhabitants thereof.

*11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Ke'där doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

*12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands.

(6) Messiah's second advent: A Twelvefold judgment

13 [t]The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall [u]stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall [v]cry, yea, roar; he shall prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman; I will destroy and devour at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.

B Eightfold restoration

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 ¶ They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

a All men must wait for His law until He comes to take over the kingdoms of this world (v 4; Zech. 14; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15). Then the law (civil law of the kingdom as well as religious law) will go forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem (2:2-4) m This was one of the marks of Messiahship (v 7; 61:1-2; Mt. 11:4-6; Lk. 4:16-21)

n This can be taken literally, for Christ descended first into the lower parts of the earth to liberate the righteous souls from paradise where they had been held captive by Satan against their will. Christ led them captive to heaven when He ascended on high (Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10; Heb. 2:14-15). See note d, 49:9

The Messiah would not quench the flickering, weak light and hope of Israel until He sent forth judgment unto victory (Mt. 12:20) a Failure and discouragement were foreign to the Messiah, and always will be. He will set judgment in the earth; Gentiles and Jews will trust in Him (Acts 15:13-18); His plan will be eventually realized; and His servants will reign with Him forever (Dan. 7:18, 26; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

q The word redeem properly means to ransom by means of a price, but here it refers to deliverance from bondage without a ransom price. Deliverance from Egyptian bondage is called redemption (Ex. 6:5; 15:13). Where a specific price is paid, the idea of redemption also includes deliverance from danger, oppression, and captivity. Thus, when God gave Egypt, Ethiopia, and Seba as a ransom for Israel it meant that His people were delivered from destruction, and these other countries were destroyed instead. The idea is that either Israel or these countries would perish; so God chose to save Israel and destroy them-they stood instead of Israel for a ransom. This applies more particularly to the future when Israel will be preserved from the Antichrist and these countries will be subdued and taken over by him (v 3-4; Ezek. 38:5-7; Dan. 11:40-45; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12:6, 14)
r Note the 10fold preservation of Israel in v 1-4 and the 10fold gathering of Israel in v 5-7. God is under oath to preserve and gather all the tribes of Israel back to Palestine (v 5-7, 11:10-12; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31)

(7) Eightfold ruin and weakness

●18 [a]Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see.
19 [b]Who is blind, but [c]my [d]servant? or deaf, as my [e]messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the LORD's servant?
20 [f]Seeing many things, but thou observest not; opening the ears, but he heareth not.
21 The LORD is [g]well pleased for his righteousness' sake; he will magnify the law, and make it honourable.
22 But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and [h]none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.

(8) Reasons for chastisement

23 [i]Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken and hear for the time to come?
24 Who gave Já'cob for a spoil, and Is'ra-el to the robbers? did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned? for [k]they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law.
25 [l]Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

(9) Tenfold preservation

BUT now [m]thus saith the LORD that [n]created thee, O [o]Já'cob, and he that formed thee, O Is'ra-el, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine.
2 When thou passest through the waters, [p]I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.
3 For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Is'ra-el, thy Saviour: I [q]gave E'gýpt for thy ransom, É-thi-ó'pi-á and Sé'bá for thee.
4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.

2 Bring forth the deaf that have ears
3 Let all the nations (Gentiles) be gathered together (v 9)
4 Let the people be assembled
The purpose of these commands for the gathering of both Jews and Gentiles was to assemble all people to hear the challenge of God, to witness His choice of making Israel His special people to fulfill His will in propagating the truth among all nations, and to demonstrate their power or lack of it to prophesy, so they might acknowledge that what God had predicted was the truth (v 8-12) c Who among the whole multitude of both Jews and Gentiles can declare and show things that are to happen? Let them demonstrate their prophetic powers so they can be justified in their claims that Jehovah is not the only one who has this power (v 9) d The Jews were Jehovah's witnesses and His servants whom He had chosen (v 10; 42:19). They were cut off from being the peculiar people of God when they rejected their Messiah; and now the Gentiles have this place as a people (Mt. 21:33-45; Rom. 11). The Jews will be received again at the 2nd advent of Christ; they will become witnesses of Jehovah again, and will literally evangelize the nations in the Millennium (2:2-4; 11:3-12; 52:7; Zech. 8:23; Rom. 11:25-29)

(17) Tenfold restoration

YET now [h]hear, O [i]Jā'cob my [j]servant; and Iṣ'ra-el, whom I have chosen:

●2 Thus saith the LORD [k]that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee; [l]Fear not, O Jā'cob, my servant; and thou, [m]Jĕs'u-rŭn, whom I have chosen.

(18) God and idols contrasted: A 12 declarations of God (cp. 40:12-41; 43:13-21)

■6 Thus saith the LORD [r]the King of Iṣ'ra-el, and his [s]redeemer the LORD of hosts; [t]I am the first, and I am the last; and [u]beside me there is no God.

7 [v]And who, [w]as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the [x]ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come, let them shew unto them.

●8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no God; [y]I know not any.

B Stupidity of idolaters

9 ¶They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their [b]delectable things shall not profit; and they are their own witnesses; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed.

10 [z]Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, [a]all his fellows shall be ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

C Twenty proofs of idol vanity

12 The [c]smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule; he marketh it out with a line; he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man; that it may remain in the house.

14 He hewed him down cedars, and taketh the [d]cypress and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warm himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread; yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it [e]a graven image, and falleth down thereto.

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god.

D Stupidity of idolaters

18 [f]They have not known nor understood: for he hath [g]shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh, and eaten it: and [h]shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?

20 He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a [i]lie in my right hand?

(19) Spiritual restoration (29:22, refs.)

▸21 [k] [l]Remember [k]these, O [i]Jā'cob and Iṣ'ra-el; for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Iṣ'ra-el, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.

22 I have blotted out, as a a Instead of serving Me in holiness and righteousness, and worshipping Me with sacrifices and offerings to atone for sin, you have served in your sins and burdened Me with your iniquities (v 24)

b After accusing them of serving Him in sin and wearying Him with their iniquities (v 24), God now assured them He would blot out their transgressions for His own sake and forget their sins (v 25). This presupposes a repentance on the part of the Jews; and since that will not be brought about until the 2nd advent of the Messiah this is a prediction to be fulfilled at that time (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29)

c The idea of blotting out sins is taken from the custom of keeping accounts and cancelling or blotting out the charge when the debt is paid. Thus God promised to cancel the sins of Israel and blot them all out. When this is done no punishment can be exacted for sins, and the people forgiven must be treated as pardoned friends (v 25)

d Sinners do not deserve forgiveness or any claim to such blessing. They deserve full punishment, but God undertakes, by free grace, the pardon of all sin (which is repented of), and the cancellation of punishment for rebellion. He can thus declare that "beside Me there is no Saviour" (v 11). If it is for God's sake that men are forgiven and they escape hell thereby, they owe their lives to Him to live for His glory, and not to live unto themselves. If men are to be pardoned on these grounds then they must come to God and to Him alone; they must come, not to justify themselves, but to confess their sins so that He can be glorified. Unless they come on His terms they can never be forgiven

e Here God urged Israel to remember Him as a partner in their long-standing relationship, to reason together with Him, and to produce all the arguments possible in their own defence to justify their own backslidings and continued rebellion. On His part He accused them of sin (v 24, 27), and for this they should be punished (v 28). On their part God urged them to bring up any reason, in self-defence, either to justify themselves in their actions or prove they were unjustly accused (v 26)

m Jesurun, the upright one (v 2). Called Jeshurun (note n, Dt. 32:15)

n The first half of this verse (v 3) could be literal, referring to the restoration of desert lands and waters springing forth in the wilderness, as predicted in 35:1-6; 41:17-20. The last half is definitely a reference to a spiritual outpouring. In the future tribulation period there will be a great outpouring of the Spirit (Acts 2:16-21; Zech. 12:10-13:1) as well as in the Millennium (v 3; 32:15)

o That children will be born in the Millennium and in all eternity in the new earth is clearly taught in Scripture (v 3; 9:6-7; 59:20-21; 65:20-26; Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Zech. 8:1-8; 14:16-21; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:4-10; etc.). There is no statement even hinting that children will not be born in all eternity. Everything points to the fact that God's original plan for the human race will continue then, in the restitution of all things, as if men had never fallen. See Generations in Index

10 He falls down to it, worships it, and prays to it, knowing that it cannot help him in the least (v 7-20)

d Cypress (v 14). Found only here

e This description is mainly of a graven image covered with metal, not solid metal, for it was carved out of a tree. The word molten (v 10) refers primarily to thin metal plating after the image was carved from wood. It is true that many images were of solid metal and others of hollow metal, but here the reference seems to be to one of wood covered with thin metal plates (v 10-20). Some of the hollow images were filled with clay, as seen in certain lands today

m This prophecy was fulfilled about 200 years after it was given-when Cyrus, king of Persia, made a decree that Jews could return to their own land and rebuild their city and temple (2 Chr. 36:22-23). n This refers to the turning of the river Euphrates out of its regular channel-flowing through Babylon-so that Cyrus could get into the city by the river bed and take it by surprise (Dan. 5). Cyrus turned the river into a large lake (40 sq. mi. area) which had already been made to carry off excessive waters of the Euphrates
o The reference here is to the many canals and artificial streams by which Babylon and the surrounding country were watered from the river Euphrates (v 27) p The first mention of Cyrus in Scripture, chronologically speaking. He was named by God over 150 years before he was born, or about 200 years before he made the decree to rebuild Jerusalem and the temple (v 28; 45:1; 2 Chr. 36:22-23; Ezra 1:1-8; 3:7; 4:3-5; 5:13-17; 6:3, 14; Dan. 1:21; 6:28; 10:1) q 6 things Cyrus was to do for Jehovah:
1 Be a shepherd of God's people (44:28)
2 Perform God's pleasure in liberating the Jews (44:28; 45:13)
3 Decree the rebuilding of Jerusalem
4 Decree the rebuilding of the temple of God at Jerusalem (44:28)
5 Subdue nations (45:1)
r Cyrus was to be God's shepherd in permitting the Jews to go back to their own land to restore their nation, and rebuild their temple and cities (44:28-45:1, 13) thick[a] cloud, thy transgressions, and, [b]as a cloud, thy sins: [c]return unto me; for I have redeemed thee.

23 [d]Sing, O ye heavens; for the LORD hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed JA'COB, and glorified himself in ISRA-EL.

(20) Sixteenfold material restoration (29:17, refs.)

24 Thus saith the LORD, [e]thy redeemer, and he [f]that formed thee from the womb, I am the LORD that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself;

25 [g]That [h]frustrateth the [f]tokens of the [f]liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish;

26 [g]That [i]confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith to JE-RU'SA-LEM, Thou shalt be inhabited; and to the cities of JU'DAH, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:

27 That saith to the deep, [j]Be dry, and I will dry up [k]thy rivers:

(21) Sixteenfold prophecy of Cyrus (21:1, refs.)

28 That saith of [l]CY'RUS, [m]He is my [f]shepherd, and shall perform [n]all my pleasure: even saying to JE-RU'SA-LEM, Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

724 CHAPTER 45

THUS saith the LORD to his [a]anointed, to CY'RUS, whose right hand I [o]have holden, to subdue [p]nations before him; and I will [o]loose the loins of kings, to open before him [q]the two leaved gates; and the gates shall not be shut;

2 [r]I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the [q]gates of brass, and cut in sunder the [q]bars of iron:

3 And I will give thee [b]the treasures of darkness, and hidden [c]riches of secret places, [d]that thou mayest know that I, the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of ISRA-EL.

(22) Reasons for helping Cyrus

4 For [e]JA'COB my servant's sake, and ISRA-EL [f]mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: [g]I have surnamed thee, though thou hast [h]not known me.

5 ¶ I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

6 [i]That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the LORD, and there is none else.

(23) God's twelvefold sovereignty (Rom. 9:14-24)

7 [g]I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.

8 [b]Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together; I the LORD have created it.

9 [k]Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. [l]Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

(24) God's omnipotence

11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of ISRA-EL, and his Maker, [m]Ask me of things to come concerning [n]my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.

12 [o]I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.

(25) Fivefold prophecy of Cyrus (41:1, refs.)

13 [p]I have raised [q]him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my [r]city, and he shall let go my captives, [s]not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.

(26) Restoration of Israel

14 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of E'GYPT, and merchandise of SE-BA'ANG, [t]men of stature, [u]shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee; in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, [v]Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God.

15 Verily thou art a God [w]that hidest thyself, O God of ISRA-EL, the Saviour.

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.

17 But ISRA-EL shall be saved in the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded [x]world without end.

(27) God the Creator and Savior

18 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it [y]not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD; and there is none else.

l Sabeans and Ethiopians were men of extra height. Herodotus says that they were the tallest among men. Solinus affirms that they were 12 ft. tall
m The conversion of Egyptians, Ethiopians, and other nations is foretold in many scriptures (v 14; 2:2-4; 19:19-22; 66:19-21; Ps. 67:4; 68:31; 72:10; Zech. 3:10; 8:23; 14:16-21)

z Predicting and mentioning the material which gates would be made of, 200 years before the prophecy was fulfilled, only magnifies the infinite power and knowledge of God. Herodotus tells us that the gates of the inner walls of Babylon leading to the river were of brass, and that there were 100 such gates in the outer walls. This would be 25 gates on each side of the city a The brass gates of Babylon were locked with bars of iron. Even great iron plates covered them in some places. God's help to Cyrus was recognized by him as well as by all pagans who saw the great success of his arms. Cyrus acknowledged that God had given him all the kingdoms of earth (Ezra 1:2) b It was the custom for conquerors to hide treasures taken in battle, and not to use them except in cases of necessity. In Babylon there were many spoils of war and great riches laid up by the kings who had plundered many nations-Egypt, Assyria, Judea, and many other countries (v 3; Jer. 50:13) c The gold and silver Cyrus took in his conquests, not counting the jewels, gold and silver vessels, and other precious things, amounted to $353,427,200.00, according to Pliny

d Again God called attention to the fact that only a Divine Being could foretell the name of the man who would fulfill this prophecy 200 years after it was predicted (v 3, 4) e Again, Jacob and Israel are used of Judah as representative of all the 13 tribes. They are all God's elect, not just a part of them d Since the prophecies of this section are mainly future, this statement regarding escape of the nations may also indicate a latter-day reference; it could refer to those who will escape the future tribulation judgments and the terrible destruction of the nations at Armageddon (Zech. 14:16-21)

e 2fold proof of Gentile ignorance (v 20):
1 They set up wood images as gods
2 They pray to them that cannot save f Isaiah was here commanded to make announcement to the Gentiles, and to bring them near so they could declare their strongest arguments regarding why they worshipped and trusted in lifeless gods that could not save. What god of theirs had been able to declare the future from ancient times? If none of their gods could do this, and Jehovah, the God of Israel, had done so, then it should be proof that He alone was the true God and Saviour (v 21)

v God again challenged comparison between Himself and idols (note i, above)
w 10fold vanity of idols:
1 Men take gold out of a bag (v 6)
2 Weigh silver in a balance
3 Hire a goldsmith
4 He makes a metal god
5 Men fall down and worship it
6 They bear it upon their shoulders and carry it (v 7)
7 They set it in its place
8 From its place it cannot move again of itself
9 Men cry to it and get no answer
10 They call upon it for deliverance from trouble but the deliverance never comes

Idolatry is associated with demons (Lev. 17:7; Dt. 32:17; 1 Chr. 11:15; Ps. 106:37; 1 Cor. 10:20-21). There will be a revival of it at the very end of this age, both in Babylon and Jerusalem (Rev. 9:20-21; 13:11-18; 14:9-11; 16:2, 13, 16)

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jā'cob, Seek ye me[a] in vain: I the LORD [b]speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.

(28) Nations blessed

●20 ¶Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, [d]ye that are escaped of the nations: they have [e]no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.
●21 [f]Tell ye, and bring them near; yea, let them take counsel together: [g]who hath declared this from [h]ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is [i]no God else beside me; [j]a just God and a [k]Saviour; there is none beside me.

25 In the LORD shall [q]all the seed of Iş'ra-el be justified, and shall glory.

725 CHAPTER 46

4 God and idols contrasted (46:1-13). (1) Powerlessness of idols

BĚL [r]boweth down, [s]Nē'bō stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaden; they are a burden to the weary beast.
2 They stoop, they bow down together; they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.

(2) Omnipotence of God

★3 ¶Hearken unto me, O house of Jā'cob, and all the remnant of the house of Iş'ra-el, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb:
▸4 And even to your old age I am he; and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; even I will carry, and will deliver you.

(3) Challenge to comparison. A Ten proofs of idol vanity

5 [t]"To [u]whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?
6 [v]They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith; and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.
7 They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

B Ten proofs of God's claim

●8 [a]Remember this, and [b]shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.
●9 [c]Remember the [d]former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me,
★10 [e]Declaring [f]the end from the beginning, and from [g]ancient times the [h]things that are not yet done, saying, [i]My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:
11 Calling a [j]ravenous bird from the [k]east, [l]the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.

(4) Restoration of Israel

★12 [m]"Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness:
13 I bring near my righteousness; it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zī'ŏn for Iş'ra-el my glory.

726 CHAPTER 47

5 Babylon's doom (Isa. 13:1, refs.). (1) Fourteenfold judgment

[n]COME [o]down, and [p]sit in the dust, O [q]virgin daughter of Băb'ў-lon, [r]sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chăl-dē'anş: for thou shalt [s]no more be called tender and delicate.
●2 [t]Take the millstones, and grind meal; [u]uncover thy locks, make [v]bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.
3 Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and [w]I will not meet thee as a man.
4 [x]As for our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Iş'ra-el.
●5 [y]Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chăl-dē'anş: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

(2) Fifteen causes of judgment

6 [z]I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: [a]thou didst shew them no mercy; upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.
7 [b] And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

j Cyrus is here called a ravenous bird. This was symbolic of a war-like king, his rapidity of conquest, and the devastation he would make among the nations (v 11. Cp. Ezek. 39:4). Several times warlike kings are called an eagle (Jer. 49:22; Ezek. 17:3) 11)

o Babylon is pictured here as a proud female, accustomed to luxury and ease, suddenly made poor and brought down to the lowest condition, being compelled to be a slave. Come down from the throne or from the seat of lordship over the nations and sit in the dust (an expression of humiliation and mourning; v 1; Josh. 8:6; Job 2:12; 10:9; Ps. 22:15) p Cities and nations are commonly spoken of under the figure of a woman (v 1; 1:8; 37:22; Jer. 31:21; Ezek. 16)
q See 12 commands of Babylon, p. 741 r 8 proofs of latter day fulfillment, p. 741 s These verses (2-3) picture the daughter of Babylon humbled from her place as a queen and a lady of luxury to the place of a slave girl grinding at the mill, humiliated in nakedness and shame. Grinding meal was often put upon slaves as punishment
t To uncover the locks means to remove the veil, uncover the face and hair, which would be a disgrace (v 2) u The idea here is that of lifting up the long train of the robe of the queen or daughter of Babylon in order to pass through the rivers going into slavery and captivity (v 2). Making the legs bare and exposing the thighs to pass through the streams, her nakedness would be uncovered and she would be ashamed (v 3); she would be exposed to public view as a common person
v The true idea here seems to be that Babylon will be allowed to stop or oppose the divine vengeance (v 3) w Isaiah acknowledged the true God of Israel right in the midst of the prediction of Babylon's destruction, as if to say: We have a Redeemer; but you have none (v 4) x Here Babylon is pictured as sitting in the silence of darkness in sorrow and humiliation instead of having the distinction of being The lady of kingdoms (v 5). Sitting in darkness was a sign of mourning

1 I was wroth with My people
2 I have polluted Mine inheritance
3 I have given them into the hand of Babylon to punish them

none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:

9 But these [a]two things shall come to thee [b]in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their [c]perfection [d]for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 ¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee; and thou hast [e]said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.

11 ¶ Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

(3) Challenge to save herself

●12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; [f]if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the [g]astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, [h]stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter; none shall save thee.

727 CHAPTER 48

6 Controversy: God and Israel (48:1-22; Isa. 1:2, refs.). (1) Israel's hypocrisy (cp. 1:10, refs.)

HEAR ye this, O [i]house of Já'cob, which are called by the name of Iş'ra-el, and are come forth out of the waters of Jú'dah, which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Iş'ra-el, but not in truth, nor in righteousness.●

2 For they call themselves of the [j]holy city, and [k]stay themselves upon the God of Iş'ra-el; The LORD of hosts is his name.

(2) God's twelvefold omnipotence: Israel's tenfold rebellion (cp. 1:2, refs.)

3 [l]I have declared the former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them; I did them suddenly, and they came to pass.

4 Because I knew [m]that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, [n]and thy brow brass;

5 [o]I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; [p]and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning; even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them.

8 Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb.

(3) God's forbearance

9 ¶ [q]For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.

10 [r]Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: for [s]how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another.

(4) God's appeal to Israel

●12 ¶ [t]Hearken unto me, O [u]Já'cob and Iş'ra-el, my called; [v]I am he; I am the first, I also am the last.

13 Mine hand also [w]hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.

●14 [x]All ye, assemble yourselves, and hear; [y]which among them hath declared these things? The LORD hath loved him: he [z]will do his pleasure on Bäb'ý-lon, and his arm shall be on the Chál-dé'anş.

15 I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

●16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; [aa]I have not spoken in secret from the beginning; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD, and his Spirit, hath sent me.

■17 Thus saith the LORD, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Iş'ra-el; I am the LORD thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

(5) God's regret: Israel's loss

18 [ab]O [ac]that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy [ad]peace been as a river, and thy [ae]righteousness as the waves of the sea:

19 Thy [af]seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the [ag]gravel a 2 things to happen to Babylon (v 9): 1 Loss of children

2 Widowhood
Here Babylon is pictured under the figure of a married woman with children, and being deprived of her husband and children, while in v 1 the city is pictured as a virgin (v 8-9)

b The suddenness of the judgment on Babylon indicates a latter-day fulfillment, when God, Himself will destroy her under the 7th vial at the 2nd advent of Christ. It was to be done in a moment in one day (v 9) and suddenly (v 11). This has never happened in any past capture of Babylon; it took many days in every case to take the city, and even then it was not destroyed as pictured here. In 13:19-22; Jer. 50:40; 51:8; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:8, 10, 17 there are many latter-day references to the sudden, complete, total, and eternal destruction of Babylon

c Not only was Babylon to be destroyed suddenly and in a moment, but the destruction was to be complete, full, perfect and entire (v 9) - something which has never yet come to pass, so it remains to be fulfilled in the future (Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)

d The multitude of sorceries and enchantments will be one of the greatest causes of the doom of Babylon in the day of the Lord (v 9, 12-13; Rev. 18:2, 23)

e 6 things said in the heart:
1 Babylon - None like me (v 10)
2 Lucifer - I will exalt myself to heaven and be like the most High (14:12-14)
3 God - I will not again curse the ground for man's sake, or kill all creatures as I have done (Gen. 8:21) 41)
4 Esau - I will kill my brother (Gen. 27:
5 Zion - Who has begotten all these? or, How is it that we are so blessed with children? (49:21)
6 The fool - I have much goods laid up for many years... eat, drink, and be merry (Lk. 12:17-19)

f This shows the mercy of God and His grace even to the corrupt cities of the heathen, if they will only profit by their mistakes and give heed to God's dealings with them (v 12). Nineveh profited for a long while by heeding the message of God (Jonah 3)

g See 3 classes of Babylonian scientists, p. 674

h The challenge here was for the wise men of Babylon to save it from the judgment that would come upon it (v 12-13). Judgment was to reach the wise men as well as the merchants, and none would be able to save the city; all would go to their own places and forsake Babylon (v 14-15)

i Israel was now accused of hypocrisy and commanded to hear God's case against them (v 1-22)

j See 4 outstanding facts, p. 674

k Jerusalem is called the holy city because of the temple, ark, and worship of the true God being centered there (v 2; 52:1; Neh. 11:1, 18; Dan. 9:94; Mt. 4:5; 27:53; Rev. 11:2). The heavenly Jerusalem is also called the holy city (Rev. 21:2; 22:19)

l Heb. camak, to prop; lean upon; take hold of; bear up; lie hard upon; rest in; stand fast (v 2; 26:3; Song 2:3). Regardless of their backslidings Israel would come back to God in times of trouble (Judg. 2:16-19)

s Your children would have been innumerable like the sand and pebbles of the vast oceans instead of a small remnant as at the present (v 19; Gen. 22:17; 32:12)

t Heb. me'ah, feminine word meaning intestines; belly; interior; abdomen; stomach; bowels; womb; and seat of generation. The idea no doubt is that the seed of Israel would be multiplied abundantly like the creatures in the seas (v 19). Even if it means pebbles or stones, as some translate it, the meaning is the same - innumerable offspring eternally

a See Stubbornness of Israel, p. 485

b Here again God claimed power of prophecy and revelation. He gave prophecies and revealed things to Israel long before they came to pass, so that they could not say such revelations came from their idols (v 5-8)

c Question 124. Next, v 11

d In v 9-11 we have God's declaration that, in spite of the hypocrisy and sinfulness of Israel, He would yet refine them for His own name's sake and for His praise, and that He would not give His glory to another e These verses (10-11) have a different sense as rendered in the various versions. Instead of being a prophecy concerning a future refinement, they seem to teach that God had already tried His people in the furnace of affliction, like silver being refined, but nothing good had come of it as yet. The Septuagint renders v 10 thus: "Behold I sold thee; but not with money; and I have rescued you out of the furnace of affliction." Berkeley: "Look, I have refined you, but without finding silver, and tried you in the furnace of affliction." Moffatt: "I purged you, nothing came of it, testing you in the furnace, all in vain." Peshitta: "Behold, I have refined you, but not with silver; I have purified you in the furnace of affliction." Fenton renders v 10-11 thus: "I refined, but not for silver, I in suffering's furnace tried, for My sake - My sake I do it, for is there no hope? And I give not My heart away"

f Question 125. Next, v 14

g See 10 commands to Judah, p. 485

h It is thought by some that when the term Judah and Israel is used it proves two separate peoples. On this basis, the term Jacob and Israel would also denote two peoples, but this is not the case. In both instances the two names refer to the same people - all of Jacob, named Israel when called of God (v 12; Gen. 32:28) k 61st prophecy in Isa. (48:14-15, fulfilled). Next, v 20. See p. 741

m Again, it is noticeable that part of this prophecy is in the future tense and part in the past; but in reality every detail pertained to the future, it being uttered about 200 years before its fulfillment (v 14-15; Ezra 1:1-6). God had already predicted the destruction of Babylon by Cyrus on several occasions before this, but here He spoke as if He had already loved Cyrus, called him, and brought him (v 14-15; 41:1-3, 25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13; 46:11)

n It seems there was a change in speakers here, and yet the speaker was a Divine person who had openly, and not secretly, spoken of the plan to raise up Cyrus, from the beginning. This appears to have been the Messiah whom God and His Spirit (the Holy Spirit) had sent. Here is a clear reference to the Divine Trinity of separate and distinct persons in the Elohim of Scripture - the Lord God (one person), the Holy Spirit (another person), and the Messiah (still another person) sent by the two - the Lord God and the Holy Spirit (v 16-17)

o See 5 lost blessings of Israel, p. 485

p This expresses the earnest desire of God - He prefers to have men blessed, and not cursed; He does not desire men to sin; He wants them to keep His laws; and he wants them to be saved instead of being punished eternally (v 18; Dt. 22:29; Ps. 81:13-16; Ezek. 18:23-32; Mt. 23:37; Lk. 19:12; Jn. 3:16-18; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17)

q Your peace - the things that bring peace, as wholeness, soundness, health, prosperity, holiness, and other good of every kind - would have been like a river flowing abundantly, even overflowing its banks (v 18)

r Your right-doing in all things would be as boundless and powerful as the waves of the sea constantly rolling to bless men (v 18)

c To encourage Jews of the future in their struggle with Antichrist, the last-day king of Babylon, the prophet cited the miraculous supply of God for Israel in the wilderness-days (v 21; Ex. 17:6; Num. 20:11) d The last section of 27 chs. of Isaiah (40-66) is divided into 3 parts of 9 chs. each; the first 2 parts of 9 chs. each are ended with the same statement of no peace for the wicked (48:22; 57:20-21); the last part is ended with a statement explaining why there will never be any peace to the wicked. They will be punished in eternal hell (66:22-24)

l The Messiah is called the servant of God in v 3, 5, 6, 7; 42:1; 50:10; 52:13; 53:11 m The Messiah is not only declared to be the servant of God to fulfil the predictions of v 1-12, but He is called Israel, meaning simply that He will prevail with God and man even in a deeper and more complete sense than Jacob did, as in Gen. 32:28
n God was glorified in Christ and will always be thus honored (v 3; 61:3; Mt. 9:8; 15:31; Mk. 2:12; Lk. 5:26; 7:16; 13:13; 17:15; 23:47; Jn. 13:31-32; 14:13; 15:8; 17:4; Acts 4:21; 11:18; 21:20; Gal. 1:24; 1 Pet. 4:11-14)

s Though Israel be not yet gathered is the true idea, for there is no doubt about the final gathering (v 5; 11:10-12; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:29-31)
t It did not, nor will it, take the gathering of Jacob for the Messiah to be glorious in the eyes of Jehovah. He is glorious and always will be, regardless of what happens to Israel (v 5). An only beloved Son would naturally be more important than the work He could perform. The same is true of other workers of God. He is more interested in their welfare and future than in any work they do for Him. God knows that if He can get the worker's heart and life the work will be as it should be u He would be rejected by Israel, but accepted and honored of God, with strength for all He would be called upon to suffer (v 5)
v The Chaldee makes this a question-Is it a small thing? The Sept. reads: "It is a great thing for thee to be called My servant to re-establish the tribes of Jacob." It could read: I will appoint You the Higher office of bringing salvation to the Gentile world, to be for salvation to the ends of the earth (v 6)

CHAPTER 49 728

IX Consolation in view of Messiah's first advent (49:1-57:21). 1 Messiah's call and ministry (49:1-50:11). (1) His call and qualification

LISTEN, [e]O isles, unto [f]me; and [g]hearken, ye people, from far; The LORD hath[h]called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.[i]

2 And he hath made my mouth [f]like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he [f]hid me, and made me [k]a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me;

3 And said unto me, [l]Thou art my servant,[m]O Ĭs'ra-el,[n]in whom I will be glorified.

(2) Messiah's humility

4 Then[o]I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment is with the LORD, and my work with my God.

(3) His sixfold mission

5 ¶ And now, saith the LORD that[p]formed me from the womb to[q]be his servant, to bring Jā'cob [r]again to him, [s]Though Ĭs'ra-el be not gathered, [t]yet shall I be[u]glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, It is a [v]light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jā'cob, and to restore the preserved of Ĭs'ra-el: [w]I will also give thee for a light to the Gĕn'tiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

(4) His humiliation and exaltation

7 Thus saith the LORD, the Redeemer of Ĭs'ra-el, [x]and his Holy One, to him whom [y]man despiseth, to him whom the nation [z]abhorreth, to a [a]servant of rulers, [b]Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, and the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el, and he shall choose thee.

(5) Messiah's eightfold help

8 Thus saith the LORD, [a]In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a [b]covenant of the people, [c]to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

(6) His tenfold ministry

9 [d]That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. [e]They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in[f]all high places.

10 They shall[g]not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for [h]he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.

11 And [i]I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted.

12 Behold, [j]these shall come from far: and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land [k]of Sī'nim.

(7) Restoration of Israel

13 ¶ [l]Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zī'ŏn said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 [m]Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold,[n]I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.

17 [o]Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doeth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart,[p]Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where had they been?

(8) Israel's enemies destroyed (Gen. 12:3; Matt. 25:31-46)

22 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand

a Quoted in 2 Cor. 6:2. As used here of the Messiah it does not mean personal salvation from sin, for He knew no sin; it refers to hearing and helping Him in the day that God would be gracious and provide salvation for all men. God would not only hear and help Him, but preserve and give Him to be the maker of a new covenant to the people, to establish the earth, and to restore and cause the waste places of earth to be inhabited (v 8) b Christ did make a new covenant when He abolished the old Mosaic contract (v 8; 42:6-7; Mt. 26:28; Heb. 8:6; 9:15), but it will not be made with Israel as a nation until the 2nd advent (61:8; Jer. 31:27-39; 32:37-44; Ezek. 37:11-28; Rom. 11:25-29; Heb. 10:16)
c To restore the earth and cause desolate places to be inhabited (v 8; 35:1-10) d The second time the loosing of prisoners is mentioned in Isaiah. It refers to the liberation of the righteous souls from sheol when Christ was resurrected and ascended to heaven (v 9; note n, 42:7). This seems confirmed by the fact that the reference to loosing prisoners is followed by statements referring to life after death, both here and where the passage is quoted (v 9-10 with Rev. 7:15-17) e These prisoners are spoken of as having the Messiah as their shepherd. He will:
1 Feed them in the ways-along the paths in which He leads them (v 9)
2 Give them pastures in high places
3 Satisfy them so that they will never hunger or thirst (v 10)
4 Protect them from the heat of the sun
5 Lead them all their days
6 Guide them to springs of living water (v 10; Rev. 7:15-17)
f The hills and mountains of Arabian deserts, Horeb, Sinai, and some other places in Palestine are utterly destitute of vegetation; so if the Messiah will lead His people like a shepherd to such places to feed in green pastures, it is proof that this refers to the Millennium when the desolate places will blossom like a rose (35:1-10)
g Quoted in Rev. 7:16, proving a future fulfillment under the Messiah (v 10)
h The Messiah that will have mercy on them will also shepherd them and guide them to living fountains of water (v 10; Rev. 7:15-17)
i This no doubt also refers to the Millennium when highways will be made from Egypt to Assyria through Palestine, and these countries will be blessed together (v 11; 11:16; 19:23-25)
j This verse pictures the regathering of Israel from all parts of the earth-from far, from north and west, and from Sinim (v 12; 11:10-12; 66:19-21; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 57; Mt. 24:31) k Sinim cannot be definitely identified, but it seems to be contrasted with the west and may refer to the country of the extreme east, showing that the Jews will be gathered from all directions (v 12; 11:10-12; Mt. 24:31). Many think it refers to China. It is said that the Arabians and other Asiatics called China Sin or Tchin. The Sept. renders it Persia; Moffatt, Syene; Berkeley, Syrene

n This is a figurative way of saying that God would never forget Zion and that her people would be in everlasting remembrance before Him (v 16). f The reference here is to the battle of Armageddon when God will deliver the captives taken by Antichrist (v 25; Zech. 14:1-5) and destroy the oppressors of Israel (v 26). This event is associated with the time when all flesh shall know that God is the mighty Saviour and Redeemer of Israel (v 23, 26). As yet, this has not been fulfilled, so it must be future

i Legal document recording the divorce
j Jehovah declared here that He would divorce Judah. This took place when the kingdom was taken into captivity, or shortly before, when God abandoned it to Babylon. The reason for the divorce was the people selling themselves to commit sin (v 1) k Here God pictured the hopelessness of Judah to be redeemed by man and made it clear that He alone could redeem, confirming it with what He had done by His power in the past (v 2-3) l In v 4-5 we have a reference to the personal training of the Messiah from childhood, by God through the Holy Spirit. He no doubt was filled with the Holy Spirit from birth, as John the Baptist was. He also had human teachers (Ps. 119:97-104). No less than 7 times the Messiah, while on earth, claimed to speak only what God had given Him to speak (Jn. 7:16; 8:28, 46, 47; 12:49; 14:10, 24; 17:8) m God opening the ear is one way of saying that He gave a revelation, as in the case of Samuel and others (22:14; 1 Sam. 9:15; Job 33:16; Ps. 40:6). When God spoke into the ears of the Messiah He was not rebellious; neither did He turn away from God (v 5). He was willing to do the will of God regardless of suffering (Ps. 40:6-8; Heb. 10:4-10) n In v 6 we have a reference to the sufferings of the Messiah at the time of His arrest and trial (v 6; Mt. 26:67; 27:26-30)

CHAPTER 50 729

(9) Israel divorced by God

THUS [g]saith the LORD, [h]Where is the [i]bill of your mother's divorcement, [j]whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

(10) Messiah's power to redeem

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there [k]none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.

(11) His qualifications

4 The Lord GOD hath given me the tongue of the learned, that [l]I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.

5 ¶ The Lord GOD [m]hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.

(12) His suffering and help

6 [n]I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 ¶ For the Lord GOD will help me; therefore shall I not be [o]confounded: therefore have [l]set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is near that [b]justifieth me; [c]who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up.

(13) His reception

●10 ¶ Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

730 CHAPTER 51

2[p]Six calls alternated with comfort (51:1-52:12. Cp. 5:8; 28:1). (1) Hearken: call to righteous

●HEARKEN [f]to me, [g]ye that follow after righteousness, ye that [h]seek the LORD: look unto the [i]rock whence ye are hewn, and to [j]the hole of the pit whence ye are digged. ■

●2 Look unto Á'brā-hăm your father, and unto Să'rah that bare you: for I [k]called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

(2) Comfort: Zion restored

3 For the LORD shall comfort [l]Zi'ŏn: he will [m]comfort all her waste places; and he will make her wilderness like Ē'dĕn, and her desert like the [n]garden of the LORD; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.

(3) Hearken: call to Israel

●4 ¶ Hearken unto me, [o]my people; and give ear unto me, O [p]my nation: for a [q]law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people.

(4) Comfort: eternal salvation

5 My [r]righteousness is near; my [s]salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the people; the [t]isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm [u]shall they trust.

6 [v]Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and [w]look upon the earth beneath: [x]for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.

(5) Hearken: call to right-a This means to be courageous, firm, and resolved to accomplish a certain thing in spite of all the scorn and hatred heaped upon Him (v 7. Cp. Ezek. 3:8). The Messiah was dedicated to one end in life-He came to die, not live. His death was not just an event that happened; He accomplished it; He stedfastly set His face like a flint to go to His death (Lk. 9:31, 51). He laid down His life (Jn. 10:15-18)

b God, who vindicates My character, approves of what I do, and declares Me innocent, is near Me (v 8)
c Questions 138-141. Next, 51:9
d These questions may be rendered thus: Who is he that accuses Me? Let him face Me in God's court of justice. Who dares to charge Me with crime? Let Him draw near and do so. Who is he that shall condemn Me? Jehovah is My advocate and will help Me, for My cause is right. My accusers shall wax old like a garment and be consumed by moths (v 8-9). The prophecy ends with an appeal by the Messiah for those who fear God and obey His servant to trust in the name of Jehovah and depend upon Him (v 10), for all enemies that kindle their own fires of accusation and judgment against the Messiah shall reap what they sow to their own sorrow (v 11) e 6 calls alternated with comfort:
1 Hearken-call to the righteous. Comfort-Zion restored (51:1-3)
2 Hearken-call to Israel. Comfort-eternal salvation (51:4-6)
3 Hearken-call to the righteous. Comfort-eternal justice (51:7-8)
4 Awake-call to God. Comfort-restoration (51:9-16)
5 Awake-call to Jerusalem. Comfort-enemies judged (51:17-23)
6 Awake-call to Zion. Comfort-restoration (52:1-12)

g 2 characteristics of the righteous:
1 They follow after righteousness (v 1)
2 They seek the Lord (v 1. Cp. note a, v 7)
h See Seek and Seeking in Index
i Abraham and Sarah are called the rock from which Israel was hewn (v 1-2) j The whole picture here is that of a rock being taken from a quarry. The idea is that the God who had made Israel a great people was able to restore and comfort them, and make of them a great people again. The God who had caused Abraham and Sarah to bring them into existence, through a miracle, could also cause them to flourish again as a great nation (v 1-2) k God called him when he was but one alone; and He increased him to be a great nation (v 2) l God promises to bless Zion, or Judah, and says nothing about Samaria and the 10-tribe kingdom; so if Judah is not representative of all Israel then the 10 tribes will have no part with the Israel of Isaiah. But since the godly of all the tribes came back to Judah, and since the 10 tribes went into complete apostasy and were destroyed, we have to accept the truth of the prophets that Zion, Jerusalem, Judah, and all Israel in Judah are the Israel to be blessed according to these prophecies. It is erroneous to hold that the Jews are only from one tribe-Judah; that they are cut off and have no part with the Israel of the prophets; that the 10 tribes only are the Israel of the future which will be blessed and that they will never be gathered back to the promised land to fulfil the original contracts with God m Not only will Zion, the city of David, and Jerusalem be comforted; all the waste places, of all the land ruled by Judah and the Messiah of the house of David, will be comforted and blossom as a rose, like the garden of Eden (v 3). One reading of these simple prophecies will show that such passages have never been fulfilled, and that they remain to be fulfilled in the Millennium under the Messiah (2:2-4; 9:6-7; 35:1-10)
n See Gen. 2:8-17; 13:10
o My people and My nation could only refer to Judah and all Israel in Judah, for the 10-tribe kingdom was totally destroyed and taken captive at this time (v 4; 52:4). To Judah God promised a law and a judgment that would a 2 experiences of the righteous:

1 They know righteousness (v 7)
2 They have God's law in the heart (v 7. Cp. note g, v 1) b 2 warnings to the righteous (v 7):
1 Not to fear reproach of men
2 Not to be afraid of their revilings
c 2 reasons not to fear man (v 8):
1 They are so weak and temporary compared to Jehovah whom men should fear. They soon pass away like garments eaten by worms and moths
2 Because, in contrast with perishable men, God's salvation and righteousness (right-doing) are eternal and will outlast the generations of men. Cp. Job 4:18-20 d Here the people were calling upon the Lord to awake and put on strength as in ancient days when He supernaturally intervened at the time Israel was in danger of extermination. They were so desperate that they made their request in the form of a command to God, as He had told them to do (45:11). Then, they asked questions concerning His identity with the miracles of the past in leading Israel out of Egypt (v 9-10); and concluded that since He was Deliverer in those days He would rescue them again, bring them back to Zion, and restore them as an eternal nation under their Messiah (v 11-16)
e The arm of the Lord is figurative of His power, as in many scriptures (v 5, 9; 40:10; 52:10; 53:1; 59:16; 62:8; 63:5, 12; Ex. 6:6; 15:16). To the people it had seemed to slumber for many years, so they now called upon it to awake

h Rahab is the poetic name of Egypt in v 9; Ps. 87:4; 89:10. The word used elsewhere in Scripture refers to Rahab the harlot of Jericho (Josh. 2:1-3; 6:17-25; Heb. 11:21; Jas. 2:25; cp. Mt. 1:5)

l Questions 144-145. Next, v 19
m A question hard to answer: Why is it so easy for man to trust in man and be afraid of him who is so weak and temporary, instead of trusting and fearing God who is all powerful and eternal? He has commanded man not to fear man or trust in his weakness; and He has promised to protect and bless everyone who will obey and trust Him (v 12-13) n 3 concerns of a prisoner (v 14):
1 That he may be liberated
2 That he die not in prison
3 That he does not starve while in prison
o See 55:10-11; 59:20-21
p This is definitely a prediction for the Millennium when Israel will become converted under the Messiah (v 16; 52:7; 59:20-21; 66:7-8; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29)
q Here Israel is pictured as having drunk the cup of the Lord's wrath to the full (v 17-20); but they will no longer drink of it because it will be given into the hands of their enemies that they may partake of it as punishment for overstepping their charge in chastening Israel (v 21-23)
r 12 cups in Scripture (note q, Mt. 20:22)
s Sucked all the liquid from the dregs and imbibed to the full (v 17)
t No son on earth to guide and help Israel, but there is one Son in heaven who was crucified for seeking to help them. He will be the only one in the future who can and will help them—when they repent and accept Him as their Saviour and Helper. This will be at the 2nd advent (v 18-20; 63:1-6; 59:29-31; Zech. 14; Mt. 23:37-39; 24:29-31; 25:31-46; Rom. 11:25-29; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Rev. 19:11-21). Israel will then be gathered and blessed under Him eternally (9:6-7; 11:10-12; 66:19-21; Ezek. 37; Zech. 14; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-45) u Questions 146-147. Next, 52:5
v These 4 terms are used repeatedly by God in predicting judgment and captivity upon Israel (v 19; Jer. 11:22; 14:12-18; 15:2; 16:4; 18:21; 21:7-9; 24:10; 27:8-13; 29:17-18; 32:24, 36; Ezek. 6:11-12)

●7 ¶ Hearken unto me, [a]ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; [b]fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

(6) Comfort: eternal justice

8 [c]For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

(7) Awake: call to God

●9 ¶ Awake, awake, [d]put on strength, O [e]arm of the LORD; awake, as in the [f]ancient days, in the generations of old. [g]Art thou not it that hath cut [h]Rā'hāb, and wounded the [i]dragon?

10 Art thou not it which [j]hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep; that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?

(8) Comfort: restoration

11 Therefore the [k]redeemed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zī'ŏn; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy; and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you: [l]who art thou, [m]that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass;

●13 And forgettest the LORD thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive [n]exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.

15 But I am the LORD thy God, that divided the sea, whose waves roared: The LORD of hosts is his name.

16 And I have [o]put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zī'ŏn, [p]Thou art my people.

(9) Awake: call to Jerusalem

●17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm, [q]which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the [r]cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and [s]wrung them out.

18 There is [t]none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19 These two things are come unto thee; [u]who shall be sorry for thee? [v]desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: [w]by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God.

(10) Comfort: enemies judged

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and [x]drunken, but not with wine:

■22 Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again:

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, [c]that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over.

731 CHAPTER 52

(11) Awake: call to Zion

AWAKE, awake; put on thy strength, O [d]Zī'ŏn; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm, [e]the [f]holy city: for henceforth there shall [g]no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

●2 Shake thyself from the dust; arise, and sit down, O Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm: loose thyself from [h]the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zī'ŏn.

(12) Comfort: restoration

▸3 For thus saith the LORD, Ye have [i]sold yourselves for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money.

▸4 For thus saith the Lord GOD, My people went down [j]aforetime into Ē'gўpt to sojourn there; and [k]the As-sўr'i-an oppressed them without cause.

▸5 Now therefore, [l]what have I here, saith the LORD, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the LORD; and [m]my name continually every day is blasphemed.

6 Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak: behold, it is I.

7 ¶ [n]How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that [o]bringeth [p]good tidings, that publisheth [q]peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth [r]salvation; [s]that saith unto Zī'ŏn, Thy God reigneth!

8 Thy [t]watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall [u]see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zī'ŏn.

●9 ¶ Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm.

10 The LORD hath made [v]bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and [w]all the ends of b Wrath on Judah and Jerusalem, p. 501 c This refers to the custom of Eastern conquerors, putting their feet on the necks of their captured enemies and treading them in the dust (Josh. 10:24; Ps. 18:40). Some would even use them as stepping stones in victory ceremonies, step on them in mounting chariots and horses, or ride over them while they were prostrate on the ground (v 23) d Zion and Jerusalem, the holy city, are the subjects here, not Samaria and the destroyed 10 tribes. They are to put off their garments of sackcloth, the ashes, and all signs of slavery and captivity, and prosperity (v 1-2) e 2 holy cities in Scripture:

1 Earthly Jerusalem (v 1; Dan. 9:24; Rev. 11:2)
2 Heavenly Jerusalem (Heb. 12:22; Rev. 21:2; 22:19)
f Earthly Jerusalem is called holy, because of being chosen and set apart as the location of divine worship (Zech. 14:16-21) and the sacred capital of the Messiah for all eternity (2:2-4; 62:7; 1 Chr. 23:25; Ps. 102:21; Jer. 3:17; Ezek. 43:7; 48:35)
g This proves a future fulfillment beyond doubt (v 1; 35:8-10; Zech. 14:16-21)
h The bands of the neck could only refer to the chains by which conquered people were led into captivity. They were chained together in long lines until they reached their destination where they were sent into slavery or otherwise disposed of (v 2) i You became captives without a price being paid for you, so you will be liberated without money being paid for you (v 3. Cp. 1 Pet. 1:18)

m Quoted in Rom. 2:24
n Quoted partially in Rom. 10:15 of ministers of the gospel; but the final and complete fulfillment awaits the Millennium when Jewish missionaries will go from Jerusalem to evangelize the world and tell all men that Christ is reigning in Zion (v 7; 2:2-4; 11:9; 66:19-21; Zech. 8:23; 14:16-21)
o 4 duties of Millennial evangelists:
1 Bring good tidings (v 7)
2 Publish peace
3 Publish salvation
4 Announce that God reigns in Zion p Good tidings-gospel (Rom. 14:15)
q There will be universal peace, when this is fulfilled - the first time since Adam (v 7; 2:2-4) r Tidings of good things - meaning all phases of the gospel of the N. T. and the fulfillment of many hundreds of prophecies regarding world changes in the Millennium (see Index)
s Salvation will be for all who will accept it, as now (v 7, 10; 49:6)
t God reigning in Zion, p. 671
u Watchmen who look for the enemy will rejoice with all Judah, for instead of enemies they will see the remnant of Israel returning to Jerusalem to make the Millennial nation under the Messiah (v 8; 11:10-12; 66:19-21; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:29-31)
v They shall see the Lord and all resurrected saints of all ages, as well as all men on earth, face to face, in that day (v 8-10). This has nothing to do with agreement of opinion; it refers to personal appearance (2:2-4; Zech. 13:6; 14:9; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31-46; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)
w An expression of manifesting His power to all nations (v 10). To make bare the arm is a term meaning preparation for active work, especially for war. Oriental custom permitted the arm to be made bare in an instant; the sleeve was so free that one hand passing up the arm would lay it bare at once. Cp. v 1; Ezek. 4:7
x Only a small part of mankind has seen the reality of God's salvation. Over a billion men on earth have yet to hear of the gospel, according to missionary reports. In the Millennium the earth, for the first time, will be filled with the knowledge of God as the waters cover the sea (v 10; 11:9)

the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

●11 ¶[b]Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD.◂

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor by flight: for the LORD will go before you; and the God of Is'ra-el will be your rereward.

3 Messiah's propitiatory work (52:13-53:12). (1) His threefold presentation ●13 ¶Behold, [d]my servant shall deal [e]prudently, he shall be [f]exalted and [g]extolled, and be [h]very high.

(2) His twofold suffering

14 As many were [i]astonied at thee; his [j]visage was so [k]marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:

(3) His twofold exaltation

15 So shall he [l]sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for [m]that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

732 CHAPTER 53

(4) His reception

[n]WHO [o]hath [p]believed [q]our [r]report? [s]and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?

(5) Thirty-sixfold suffering of the Messiah

2 For he shall grow up [t]before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: [u]he hath [v]no form nor [w]comeliness; and [x]when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

3 He is [y]despised and rejected of men; [z]a man of [a]sorrows, and acquainted with [b]grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him; he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

4 ¶ Surely he [c]hath [d]borne [e]our griefs, and [f]carried our [g]sorrows: yet [h]we did esteem him [i]stricken, [j]smitten of God, and [k]afflicted.

5 But he was [l]wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the [m]chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his [n]stripes we are [o]healed.

6 [p]All we like sheep have [q]gone astray; [r]we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath [s]laid on him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was [t]oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he [u]opened not his mouth: [v]he is brought as [w]a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was [x]taken from prison and from judgment: and [y]who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: [z]for the transgression of my people was he stricken.

9 And he made his [a]grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; [b]because he [c]had done [d]no violence, neither was any [e]deceit in his mouth.

10 ¶ Yet it [f]pleased the LORD to [g]bruise him; he hath put him to [h]grief: when [i]thou shalt make his [j]soul an [k]offering for sin, he shall [l]see his seed, he [m]shall prolong his days, and [n]the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in [o]his hand.

11 He shall see of the [p]travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: [q]by his knowledge shall my [r]righteous servant [s]justify many; for he shall [t]bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will [u]I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath [v]poured out his soul unto death: and he was [w]numbered with the transgressors; and he [x]bare the sin of many, and [y]made intercession for the transgressors.

733 CHAPTER 54

4 Seven exhortations alternated with reasons (54:1-56:8). (1) Sing: reasons

[z]SING, [a]O [b]barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: [c]for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

(2) Enlarge: reason

●2 [d]Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes;

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gĕn'tiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

(3) Fear not: reason

●4 Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded; for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.

5 For thy Maker [e]is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Is'ra-el; The God of the whole earth shall he be called.

6 For the LORD hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

▸7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee; but with great mercies will I [f]gather thee.

▸8 In a [g]little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment; but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy Redeemer.

▸9 For this is [h]as the waters of Nō'ah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Nō'ah should no more go over the s This has been the way of man ever since the fall. Each one pursues his own interests, makes his own plans, and seeks to gratify his own selfishness, regardless of the interest and good of the whole (v 6; Judg. 17:6; 21:25)

t Heb. paga, to cause to fall upon, or light upon (v 6; Ex. 5:3; 1 Sam. 22:17-18; 1 Ki. 2:29, 31). The idea is that the iniquities of men fell all at once upon Him and He bore them away. Jehovah caused the sins of the whole world to meet upon Him. He suffered the judgment for them all v An idiom meaning silence and submission (v 7; 1 Pet. 2:22-23). He did not complain or make any resistance, yet He had power to destroy His enemies with one word (Mt. 26:53). Cp. Jer. 11:19

c Quoted in 1 Pet. 2:22 d He was no rabble rouser or anarchist, and not injurious to any man (v 9). He sought to give life instead of taking it (Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38)
e He was accused of being a deceiver, and was treated as one, but He was always open and sincere in all of His words and deeds. No deceit was found in His mouth (1 Pet. 2:22). His enemies even acknowledged this (note i, Mt. 22:16)

o In His hand means by His rule and government all things will be restored to God and all enemies put down (v 10; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Rev. 11:15) p The travail of His soul was for the restoration of man and his dominion as before the fall (v 11; 1 Cor. 15:24-28)

r The Messiah is called righteous, because he did and always will do that which is perfectly right in all things commanded by God. It emphasizes His personal holiness (v 11; 1 Pet. 2:21-22)

g 2 little things here:
1 A small (little or short) moment, a very short time, which to man is a very long time - already over 2,500 years. From God's viewpoint of inhabiting eternity (57:15) and to whom 1,000 years are as a day (2 Pet. 3:8) this is but a very small period - like 2 or 3 days (v 7)
2 A little wrath, which has already destroyed multiplied millions of men and whole nations, has dispersed His chosen people to the uttermost parts of the earth (v 8). It is little in comparison to the wrath to come in the tribulation and eternal hell yet to be made manifest
h Just as God promised that He would never send another flood like the one in Noah's day (Gen. 8:20-22) so, after the future and second restoration of Israel as a nation in Palestine He will never be angry at her again or rebuke her (v 9)

1 Not to be wroth with her (v 9)
2 Not to rebuke her b See 2nd advent of Christ, p. 782
c See Rebuilding of Jerusalem, p. 781
d Heb. puwk, to paint; dye; especially, stibium or antimony for the eyes. The reference seems to be to material that will be used as cement in laying the building stones. Antimony was a black powder used by Oriental ladies to paint their eyelids and eyebrows to give them a more distinctive appearance e Sapphires - well-known gems distinguished for beauty and splendor. They are next to the diamond in hardness; the colors are blue, red, violet, green, white, and limpid (v 11)
f Heb. shemesh, to be brilliant; the sun; a notched battlement. Not the ordinary word trans. window or opening for light, but perhaps refers to battlements, pinnacles, or turrets on the walls of the city (v 12)
g Agates - a class of silicious, semi-pellucid gems of many varieties, consisting of quartz-cyrstal, flint, chalcedony, amethyst, jasper, and cornelian, variegated with dots, zones, filaments, and various figures. They are esteemed the least valuable of all the precious stones h There will be 3 gates on each side of the city (v 12; Ezek. 48:29-35)
i Carbuncles - beautiful gems of a deep red color, with a mixture of scarlet. When held up to the sun the gem loses its deep tint and is more like a burning coal. The word means a flaming, sparkling gem. The Heb. 'eqdach is found only here in Scripture, but another word, barekath is trans. carbuncle in Ex. 28:17; 39:10; Ezek. 28:13
j All the walls and foundations will be of precious stones (v 12) k This is millennial and eternal; it has never been fulfilled to this day. All will know God from the least to the greatest under the Messiah (v 13; 11:9; Jer. 6:13; 8:10; 31:34; 42:1, 8; Heb. 8:11)
l All Israel will be established in righteousness, will be far from Gentile oppression, will never fear, and will be free from terror (v 14). This will be fulfilled after the times of the Gentiles and the battle of Armageddon. The next verse predicts the gathering of the Gentiles against Israel, but not in the will of God this time (v 15)

w God has repeatedly spoken to the Jews about making an everlasting covenant with them (v 3; 42:6; 49:8; Jer. 31:31). This could not be the Mosaic covenant or any of the others already made with them; so it must refer to the new covenant to be made when the Messiah would come (42:6; 49:8; Mt. 26:28; Heb. 8:6)
x See Sure mercies of David, p. 675
y The name David here refers to Israel's famous king, not the Messiah (v 3). When he is resurrected many scriptures will be literally fulfilled concerning David, in the same sense that the 12 apostles will be resurrected and given 12 thrones under the Messiah (Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 34:23-24; 37:24-25; Hos. 3:5) earth; so have I sworn that I would[a] not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 [b]For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the LORD that hath mercy on thee.

(4) Be comforted: reason

11 ¶ O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, [c]I lay thy stones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with [c]sapphires.

12 And I will make thy [d]windows of [e]agates, and thy [f]gates of [g]carbuncles, and [f]all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And [f]all thy children shall be taught of the LORD; and great shall be the peace of thy children.

14 [h]In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression; for thou shalt not fear: and from terror; for it shall not come near thee.

15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake.

16 Behold,[i] I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy.

17 ¶ No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the [j]servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is of me, saith the LORD.

734 CHAPTER 55

(5) Come: reason

[k]HO, every one that thirsteth, [l]come ye to the [m]waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.◂ ■

2 [n]Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? [o]hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.◂

3 [p]Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, [q]and your soul shall live; and [r]I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even [s]the sure mercies of [t]Dā'-vid.◂

4 Behold, I have given him for a [u]witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.

5 Behold,[v] thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the [w]LORD [x]thy God, and for the Holy One of Is'ra-el; for [y]he hath glorified thee.

(6) Seek: reason

6 [z]Seek ye the [a]LORD [b]while he may be found, call ye upon him [c]while he is near:

7 [d]Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him [e]return unto the LORD, and [f]he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will [g]abundantly pardon.◂

8 ¶ For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD.

9 For [h]as the heavens are higher than the earth, [i]so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 [j]For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and [k]returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:

11 [l]So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 For ye shall [m]go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

735 CHAPTER 56

(7) Do justice: reason

[n]THUS [o]saith the LORD, [p]Keep ye judgment, and do justice: [q]for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.●

2 [r]Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it; that keepeth the sabbath [s]from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 ¶ Neither let the son of the stranger, that hath [t]joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a [u]dry tree.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the eunuchs [v]that [w]keep my sabbaths, and [x]choose the things that please me, and [y]take hold of my covenant;

5 Even unto them [z]will I give in [a]mine house and within my [b]walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them [c]an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant;

7 [d]Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their [e]burnt offerings and their q Sterile (v 3). This means that in the Millennial and eternal kingdom of God on earth they will be healed and become normal. If the deaf, blind, lame, and other infirm ones are to be healed by the Messiah when He comes, as in 33:24; 35:5-6, then sterility will also be cured and all men who live in the coming kingdom will be normal eternally r 7 acts that constituted righteousness:

1 Keeping the sabbaths (all sabbaths, not only the weekly one, v 4-6)
2 Choosing the things pleasing to God
3 Taking hold of His covenant
4 Joining to the Lord (v 6)
5 Serving Him
6 Loving the name of the Lord
7 Being His servant s The church has never been under obligation to keep any sabbath. Christians are free to keep any day (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17). The law was only for Israel, not for Gentiles or the church. See Law of Moses in Index

z This does not mean that every saved man in all eternity will move to Jerusalem and live in Palestine; that would cause other lands outside the promised land to be uninhabited. It simply means that God will permit men to go up to Jerusalem to worship (v 7; 2:2-4; Zech. 14:16-21)

n The burning lusts and passions, the adulterous acts with whores consecrated to idols in order to attract more devotees, the murder of children offered to Moloch and other gods, and the practice of every other vice and sin are what the prophet referred to here (v 5-11). See note n, 30:33 o 4 chief places of idolatry:
1 Under green trees -in shadowy groves
2 In the valleys (v 5)
3 In caves and caverns of the earth
4 On mountains (v 7) p Smooth stones taken from streams were used to make pillars and monuments. These were anointed; and sacrifices were offered upon them or by them (v 6; Gen. 28:18; Dt. 7:5; 12:3; 32:31, 37; Acts 19:35)
q This reveals the publicity and grossness of such idolatry. There was no effort to conceal the adulterous and idolatrous practices. Not only was this public and shameless (v 7), but also practiced in the homes. Even the furniture was designed and the daily habits revised to reveal the idolatry of the people in general (v 8)

12 I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works; for they shall not profit thee.

(4) Righteous: ten blessings

13 ¶ [q]When thou criest, [r]let thy companies deliver thee; but the wind shall carry them all away; vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain;

14 And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.

▶15 For thus saith [s]the high and lofty One [t]that inhabiteth eternity, whose [u]name is Holy; [v]I dwell [w]in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, [x]to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of [y]the contrite ones.

16 For [z]I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: [aa]for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.

▶18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners.

▶19 I create the [ab]fruit of the lips; [ac]Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the LORD; and [ad]I will heal him.

(5) Wicked: no peace

20 But the wicked are [ae]like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

737 CHAPTER 58

X Consolation in view of Messiah's second advent (58:1-66:24). 1 Israel's apostasy (58:1-59:15). (1) Fourfold self-righteousness

CRY [a]aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and [b]shew [c]my people their transgression, and the house of Ja'cob their [d]sins.■

2 Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice; they take delight in approaching to God.

a Questions 158-159. Next, 58:3. You have tried one alliance after another and exhausted all efforts to be happy through wealth, pleasure, and self. These seem to meet your every need. You have been satisfied with your life and not grieved or brought to a point of hopelessness. You have lied and lived in fear of man; you have forgotten Me; and your efforts will yet be in vain (v 10-12)
b I have held My peace for a long time and this has made you bold to sin and go further from Me, without fear of punishment (v 11). I will now declare your righteousness and works that they will not profit you (v 12). When you cry all your works, alliances, and trusts will fail you and the wind will carry them away (v 13) c 71st prophecy in Isa. (57:13-19, unfulfilled). Next, 59:16. See p. 744
d Let the many idols and companies of foreigners you have made alliances with deliver you (v 13)
e 14 facts about Jehovah, p. 783
f This means that He lived in all the eternity past -before the ages of time as we know them now (v 15; 2 Pet. 3) g Here God's true nature is put for His name (v 15). See p. 64
h 10 places where God dwells:
1 Now -in heaven (v 15; 1 Ki. 8:30, 39, 43, 49; Mt. 6:9; Jn. 17:1)
2 In the new earth when His capital city will be moved here -on earth (Rev. 21:3)
3 In the sanctuary among Israel (Ex. 15:17; 25:8; 29:45-46) 6:1)
4 In thick darkness (1 Ki. 8:12; 2 Chr. 6:1)
5 In great light (1 Tim. 6:16)
6 In Jerusalem (Ps. 135:21)
7 In Zion (Joel 3:17)
8 In Christ (Jn. 14:10)
9 In men (2 Cor. 6:16)
10 In believers (v 15; Jn. 14:23)
Some of these statements are to be taken literally, as in points 1-6; others are to be taken figuratively, as in the sense of union with (points 8-10). See note n, Lk. 22:3
i God dwells in heaven bodily, but dwells with all, in union and presence, who are contrite and humble in spirit (v 15; note n, Lk. 22:3). In the new earth God will dwell bodily on the earth and among men eternally (Rev. 21:3)
j The purpose of God in dwelling with men in union and presence is 2fold (v 15):
1 To revive the spirit of the humble
2 To revive the heart of contrite ones k See note k, Ps. 34:18
l See 78:38-39; Ps. 103:9-14
m God explained here that if He would contend with man in anger very long the human frame could not stand up to it -a person's powers would fail and his strength decay, his spirit sinking into destruction (v 16). For this reason God dealt lightly with Israel; He was wroth with him for his covetousness, smote him, and permitted him to go forward in the way of his own heart while He, Himself went into retirement (v 17). He now promised to heal Judah, lead him, and restore comforts to him and to those who were godly and mourned for the nation (v 18) n Words of praise to Jehovah are the fruit of the lips (v 19; Heb. 13:15)
o Here God proclaimed peace to the Gentiles who were far off, and to the Jews that were near (v 19; Acts 2:39; Eph. 2:17) p The second time here that God promised to heal the righteous of both Jews (those near), and Gentiles (those afar off, v 18-19), but not the wicked who are without any basis of peace and healing (v 20-21). The healing referred to is physical, not spiritual; if it were spiritual, the wicked only could be thus healed. See the word heal as used in Isaiah (6:10 with Mt. 13:13-15; and 19:22; 30:26; 53:6 with Mt. 8:16-17). There are no grounds for making the word healing refer to spiritual healing. The fact is that the word heal is used only one time of soul healing (Ps. 41:4); but many times it is used of physical healing. See Healing in Index q All classes of the wicked are like the troubled sea that cannot be still and constantly stirs up the mire and dirt of sin and corruption. They have no peace (v 20-21), no calmness of soul or spirit; their passions and appetites

b 10 things that do not constitute a fast:
1 Practices about which we complain (v 3)
2 Afflicting the soul to attract God (v 3-5)
3 Doing pleasures (v 3)
4 Exacting all labours
5 Contention and debates (v 4)
6 Smiting with the fist of wickedness
7 Making voice to be heard in public
8 Bowing the head like a bulrush to make an impression on others (v 5)
9 Spreading sackcloth as ashes under us
10 Having a sad countenance, disfiguring the face, and making a show to be seen of men (in fasting or any other practice, Mt. 6:16-18) c 23 things that constitute a true fast:
1 To loose the bands of wickedness (v 6)
2 Undo the heavy burdens
3 Let the oppressed go free
4 Break every yoke (v 6, 9)
5 Deal bread to the hungry (v 7)
6 Shelter the cast out
7 Cover the naked
8 Not covering up your own faults
9 To call upon and cry to God (v 9)
10 Cease accusing others
11 Stop speaking vanity
12 Having compassion on the hungry (v 10)
13 To satisfy the afflicted soul
14 Keep from desecrating sabbaths (v 13)
15 Abstain from doing own pleasure on sabbaths
16 Love and delight in sabbaths
17 Call the sabbaths holy to the Lord
18 Call the sabbaths honorable
19 Honor God in all things
20 Live an unselfish life
21 Live for God and not for own pleasure
22 Speak God's word, not your own 23 Abstain from food. See Fasting in Index
d Break, divide, and distribute bread to the hungry (v 7)
e Bread stands for all kinds of food (v 7)
f This could have a 2fold meaning:
1 Do not cover up your own faults and leave a better impression than that which is strictly true (v 7)
2 Do not shut your eyes from the needs of those who are of your own flesh and blood (v 7) g 20 blessings from a true fast:
1 Then (after doing the 8 things of v 6-7) you shall have light as day (v 8)
2 Your health will spring forth speedily
3 Your righteousness will go before you
4 God's glory will be your rear guard
5 Then you will call and receive answers to prayer (v 9)
6 You will cry and God will answer you
7 Then (after doing the 6 things of v 9-10) your light will rise in obscurity (v 10)
8 Your darkness will be as the noon day
9 The Lord will guide you continually
10 He will satisfy you in drought (v 11)
11 He will make your bones fat
12 You will be like a watered garden
13 You will be like an unfailing spring of water
14 Your waste places will be built (v 12)
15 You will raise up the foundations of many generations
16 You will be called, The repairer of the breach 17 You will be called, The restorer of paths to dwell in 18 Then (after doing the 9 things of v 13) you will delight yourself in the Lord (v 14)
19 I will cause you to ride upon the high places of the earth 20 I will feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father, for I have spoken it from My mouth h Your light will break forth like the beams of the sun on a clear morning i You will enjoy perfect health immediately
j Your righteousness will be manifest on every hand and God's glory will be your rear guard (v 8)
k Take away every burden from others, put down all accusing fingers, and quit all boasting (v 9)
l Let your compassion go out to others who are needy, and satisfy the afflicted soul that is in want (v 10)

(2) Tenfold hypocrisy (cp. 1:10, refs.)

3 ¶ Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye [b]shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?

(3) Twenty-threefold fast: twenty rewards (Mt. 6: 16-18)

●6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? [c]to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

●7 Is it not to [d]deal thy [e]bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou [f]hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

▸8 ¶ Then shall [h]thy light break forth as the morning, and [i]thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee: the glory of the LORD shall be thy rereward.

●9 Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou [k]take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity;◂

●10 And if thou [l]draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy [m]light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day:◂

▸11 And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and [n]satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

▸12 And they that shall be of thee shall build [o]the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

●13 ¶ If thou [p]turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on [q]my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

▸14 Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Ja'cob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 59 738

(4) Twenty five sins (cp. Isa. 1:4, refs.)

BEHOLD, the LORD'S [a]hand is not [b]shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:

2 But your iniquities [c]have separated between you and your God, and your sins [c]have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.

3 For [c]your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

5 They hatch cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

7 Their [f]feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.

(5) Thirtyfold state and cause

9 ¶ [g]Therefore [h]is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon day as in the night; we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us.

12 [i]For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them;

13 In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the LORD saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment.

a The only time this statement is found in Scripture. Since the arm is an emblem of power, shortness of the hand would signify diminished power, and length of the hand or arm, great power (v 1). In history, Artaxerxes Longimanus was called long-handed because of this great power-not because of peculiarity in body. In Egyptian sculpture all the rays of the sun have hands at the end, indicating the super-power or the sun. Cp. 50:2; Num. 11:23
b 2 things God cannot do because of sin:
1 Save when sin separates from Him (v 1)
2 Hear when sin separates from Him. He cannot or will not hear (Ps. 66:18), when sin comes between Him and man; and if He cannot hear, He cannot answer. This is the chief hindrance in the case of the righteous (Mt. 17:20; 12:22; Mk. 11:22-24)
c This is the only thing that separates from God and causes Him to turn His face away from men (v 2). Separation from Him is spiritual death in trespasses and sins (Eph. 2:1-15). The idea is that where sin is present a wall has been built between God and man so that there are no means of intercourse between them

The sabbath was very important to the Jews, and a great part of their law and religion centered around it; but to the church there are no such commands as in the law of Moses, concerning sabbaths, and for reasons God, Himself gave. See Sabbath in Index

f It is interesting to note that the nations of the world are at present divided into two camps, referred to as the West and the East
g This passage is often quoted by Christians as referring to their struggles with satanic powers, and such is permissible by way of application, but it will have a literal fulfillment in the day that Antichrist and all nations will sweep into Palestine in an effort to destroy the Jews and stop Christ from setting up His kingdom in Jerusalem. This is known as the battle of Armageddon (v 19-21; 63:1-6; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21)
h Half of Jerusalem will be taken by this flood of nations before Christ suddenly makes His appearance from heaven to defeat the Antichrist, becoming the standard that will be raised up against the enemy (Zech. 14:1-5, 14-16). This could also refer to the great victory in the preservation of Israel when the flood of Rev. 12:13-17 will be about to carry the nation away i God's standard and ensign which will save the people in that day, is Jesus Christ (note s, 11:10-12). To prove this the next 2 verses picture Christ as Israel's Redeemer coming from heaven to save the nation (v 20-21; Rom. 11:25-27)

2 Restoration of Israel (59:16-66:24). (1) Undertaken by Messiah

16 ¶ And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it sustained him.

17 For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.

(3) Sixty-fourfold restoration (60:1-22). A Gentile accession ARISE, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.

2 For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

3 And the Gĕn'tīleş shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

4 Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged; because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gĕn'tīleş shall come unto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Mĭd'i-an and Ē'phah; all they from Shĕ'bă shall come: they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall shew forth the praises of the LORD.

7 All the flocks of Kē'dăr shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nĕ-bā'ĭoth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

B Gentile ministry

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tär'shish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the LORD thy God, and to the Holy One of Iş'ra-el, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gĕn'tīleş, and that their kings may be brought.

C Gentile subjection

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The glory of Lĕb'a-non shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious.

D Gentile homage

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, The Zi'ŏn of the Holy One of Iş'ra-el.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gĕn'tīleş, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jă'cob.

E God's blessings

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.

g The gates of earthly Jerusalem will be kept open day and night, like those of the heavenly Jerusalem when it comes down to earth after the Millennium (v 11; Rev. 21:25). In Oriental cities the gates were shut when it became dark to keep out robbers. Travellers arriving late often had to spend the night outside, exposed to storms and violence. A city with gates never closing pictures peace, honesty and security
h All nations are to recognize Israel as the greatest eternal nation when Messiah comes; and if any should not do so they will be punished with destruction (v 12-13; Zech. 14:16-21)
i This is the millennial temple which will be built when Christ comes (Zech. 16:12-13), and which will be His eternal capital building (Ezek. 43:7)
j The feet of Christ will literally walk on earth and in this eternal capital building (v 13; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 14:4) k The enemies of Israel will become submissive to them in the Millennium and bow down before them and honor Jerusalem as the earth's capital (v 14; 2:2-4)
l See 18 names of Jerusalem, p. 260
m It is clear that all these predictions of Isa. 60 are future, as none have been literally fulfilled with Israel in the past, and certainly they are not being fulfilled at the present time n This is the same as eternal generations of natural people (v 15). See notes on perpetual generations, p. 8, 67
o This simply means that Israel will receive the riches of the Gentiles to help in the restoration of Jerusalem, and all of Palestine, and to carry on the universal missionary program of the Millennium (v 5-7, 16; 2:2-4; 52:7; Zech. 8:12) p 3 things Israel will know (v 16):
1 That Jehovah is their Saviour
2 That He is their Redeemer
3 That He is the mighty One of Jacob who wrought mighty miracles for them q This verse expresses the idea that in the Millennium there will be an abundance of gold, enough to be used where brass is now used. There will be enough silver to use where iron is generally used, enough brass to use where wood is used, and enough iron to use where stones are now used r The rulers of Israel will be officers of peace, and the tax collectors will be honest and righteous (v 17) s There will be no more violence, wasting, or destruction in all the land of Israel; there will be universal prosperity and peace. Even the very walls be called Salvation, and the gates Peace because of such perfect conditions (v 18)
t In v 19-20 the truth is revealed regarding the glory of God over Israel-it will outshine the light of the sun and moon; and since the light of the sun will be increased 7fold in all the earth, and the light of the moon be made equal to the present light of the sun (30:26), one can have some idea of how bright and light God's glory will be, in Israel universal government of the Messiah and the universal missionary and restoration programs among all peoples (v 5-7; 2:2-4; 52:7; 66:19-21). These will be free-will offerings to Jehovah (v 6-7)

a See True source of light, p. 745 b The sun and moon will not be noticed as rising and setting, in Jerusalem, due to the fact that God's glory will be the light of this city both day and night, and this will be brighter than the light of the sun and moon (v 20; 4:5-6) c Not only millennial light, but eternal light for Jerusalem (v 20; 4:5-6) d See Millennial health, p. 745
e This is the reason for no mourning among the Jews during the Millennium (v 20-21)
f See God's program eternal, p. 745 g The idea here is that of great increase in families and nations when no man will die in the Millennium except rebels who break the law during this period or take part with Satan in the revolt at the close of this age (65:20; Rev. 20:7-10). There will be no death at all in the new and eternal earth (1 Cor. 15:4-28; Rev. 21:3-7) p See Liberty, p. 797

q No doubt this refers to the liberation of the righteous souls from paradise beneath the earth who were held captive by the devil against their will (Heb. 2:14-15). Christ took them captive to heaven when He ascended on high (Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10; note d, 49:9)
r The present time is the age of the acceptable year of the Lord, as proved by the fact that Christ claimed this was fulfilled in Him (Lk. 4:16-18). Now is the accepted time and the day of salvation (2 Cor. 6:2) s This part was not quoted by Christ, as in Lk. 4:16-18, showing clearly how He rightly divided the Word of Truth (2 Tim. 2:15). There has already a period of 1900 years between the beginning of the acceptable year of the Lord and the future day of vengeance of God which will be the tribulation judgments of the seals, trumpets, vials, etc. of God's wrath as in Rev. 6-19. Cp. 59:17; 63:4. This is a clear case of the law of prophetic perspective. See Law in Index
t All who mourn will be comforted (v 2-3; Mt. 5:4), not only in Zion, but in any other place where men are burdened for the lost, for world conditions, for the kingdom of God to come on earth to rule as it rules in heaven, and for the deliverance of all creation (Mt. 6:10; Lk. 2:38; Rom. 8:17-25)
u To place, or set, as a permanent thing
v Heb. pe'er, embellishment; a fancy headdress; beautiful diadem; tiara; turban; bonnet; ornament. It means that all who mourn will be given a beautiful nuptial tiara instead of the ashes thrown on the head while mourning (v 3). It is trans. beauty (v 3); ornaments (v 10); bonnets (3:20; Ezek. 44:18); goodly bonnets (Ex. 39:28); tire of thine head (Ezek. 24:17, 23)
w Oil of joy denotes that which expresses joy and happiness. Oil was employed on occasions of festivity and gladness (Ps. 45:7), but was done away in time of public calamity or grief (v 3) x A garment expressing praise and gratitude instead of mourning and a spirit of heaviness, or a burdened spirit. The original word for spirit of heaviness usually means faint, feeble, weak. It is used of a lamp going out (42:3) and eyes becoming dim (1 Sam. 3:2). Here it refers to one who is depressed and faint (v 3)

CHAPTER 61 740

(4) Messiah's first advent: fivefold ministry

THE [h]Spirit [i]of the Lord GOD is [j]upon me; because the LORD hath [k]anointed me [l]to preach [m]good tidings unto [n]the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the [o]brokenhearted, to proclaim [p]liberty to the captives, and the opening of the [q]prison to them that are bound;

*2 To proclaim [r]the acceptable year of the LORD,

(5) Messiah's second advent: sixfold ministry and [s]the day of vengeance of our God; [t]to comfort all that mourn;

3 To [u]appoint unto them that mourn in Zī'ŏn, to give unto them [v]beauty for ashes, the [w]oil of joy for mourning, the [x]garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called [y]trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

(6) Fifty-fourfold restoration (61:4-62:12). A Building program

4 ¶ And they shall [z]build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

B Gentile servants

5 And [a]strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers.

C Religious leaders

6 But ye shall be [b]named the Priests of the LORD: men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall [c]eat [d]the riches of the Gĕn'tīleş, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.

D Exaltation and joy

7 ¶For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: [e]everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For [f]I the LORD love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And [a]their seed shall be known among the Gĕn'tīleş, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

10 [b]I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with [c]ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

11 For [d]as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAPTER 62 741

E Prayer incited

FOR Zī'ŏn's sake [e]will I not hold my peace, and for [f]Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm's sake [g]I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.

2 And the Gĕn'tīleş shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a [h]new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name.

3 Thou shalt also [i]be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.

4 Thou shalt [j]no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called [k]Hĕph'zī-bäh, and thy land [l]Beū'lah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

5 ¶ For [m]as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.

6 I have [n]set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, which shall never [o]hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the LORD, keep not silence.

7 And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm a praise in the earth.

F Restoration promised

8 The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured:

9 But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have brought it together shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.

a When this is fulfilled, Israel's seed will be known among the Gentiles, and all nations will acknowledge that they are the ones whom God has chosen and blessed (as well as cursed, when necessary) from Abraham's day to the Millennium (v 9) b This and v 1-2a have been fulfilled in the Messiah about 1900 years ago. That the reference is to the Messiah, Himself seems clear from the fact that He addressed Himself in the first person (v 1 with Lk. 4:16-18) as the Father did (in v 8). To make this refer to the prophet is not in harmony with facts. Being clothed with the garments of salvation is no proof that it could not refer to the Messiah; salvation simply means deliverance and this the Messiah had many times throughout His life besides a great deliverance from death, hell, and the grave c Heb. pe'er (note v, v 3). In Oriental weddings both the bride and the groom were adorned with jewelry of every kind. When too poor to own jewelry they borrowed from neighbors and friends so that a good showing might be made (Rev. 21:2) d A prediction that righteousness and praise will spring up among all the Gentiles like plants and buds springing up and growing in gardens and other places of earth (v 11; 11:4-5; 16:5; 32:1, 16-17; 45:8; 48:18; 51:5-8; 54:14; 56:1; 58:8; 59:17; 62:1-2). These passages in this one book predict a time when righteousness will be a common thing in all the earth e 75th prophecy in Isa. (62:1-12, unfulfilled). Next, 63:1. See p. 745
f It will be noted that Zion, Jerusalem, and Judah are the ones around which all prophecy revolves. London, Washington and Anglo-Saxons are not referred to in any prediction, so will not fulfill the many prophecies of the prophets as some think (v 1, 6-7, 11)
g God will never rest or be satisfied until Zion, Jerusalem, and Judah are saved, restored, and fulfilling righteousness. This God has obligated Himself to do (v 1). Such righteousness will be so outstanding that all Gentiles will see it, and all kings will experience the glory of God that is in Israel (v 2) m 2 comparisons of Judah and Jerusalem (v 5):

1 As a young man marries a virgin, so will the sons of Israel come back to and marry (be united with) the rest of Israel and their land Palestine
2 As a bridegroom rejoices over his bride, so God will rejoice over His eternal people and their land when they are eternally united

i In His descent to the earth at the 2nd advent Christ will appear over Edom where Israel is being protected from the Antichrist. He will continue to descend until His feet will touch the mount of Olives on the east of Jerusalem, in the area where the battle of Armageddon will be fought between Him and Antichrist. The description in v 1-6 is of the battle of Armageddon. See also Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21. The Israelites will see Him in His descent to Jerusalem and will cry: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord (Mt. 23:35-39). They will then pray the prayer of 63:15-64:12 by the Holy Spirit upon them (Zech. 12:10-13:1) and will all be converted on that day (66:7-8; Rom. 11:25-29)
j Edom, Moab, and Ammon will escape the Antichrist and be the place reserved by God for the protection of Israel 3 1/2 years (v 1; 16:1-5; Dan. 11:40-45; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12:6, 14, notes)
k The dyed garments are explained in v 2-3 as being colored from the blood of men at Armageddon, which is compared to a great winepress of God's wrath (v 2-3; Joel 3:13; Rev. 14:14-20; 19:15-21)
l Bozrah was one of the great cities of Edom and Moab. See Index
m This is the answer to the questions of this verse. The Messiah is the coming conqueror to fulfil this passage (v 1-6; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21)
n Joel 3:13; Rev. 14:14-20; 19:15
o No man of the people whom He is coming to save will be with Him as He descends from heaven; only the resurrected saints and the angels will come with Him (v 3; Zech. 14:5; Mt. 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21) p The day of vengeance here and in 34:8; 35:4; 59:17; 61:2; Jer. 51:6; 2 Th. 1:8 refers to the greatest destruction that earth has ever seen or ever will see. Multitudes will be destroyed in one day at Armageddon (v 1-6; Ezek. 38:39; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21). Such will be necessary in order for the year of My redeemed to come, as stated here-the year of the full restoration of Israel to God and their deliverance from their enemies (Rom. 11:25-29)
q This verse expresses the idea that there would be no man to bring deliverance to Judah, so Messiah could do it (v 5-6). See note d, 59:16 r In this section (v 7-14) the Messiah is predicted to mention the many past mercies of God to Israel, the people He will come to deliver from their enemies, in that day. In v 8-14 there is a brief history of Jehovah's past estimate of the people when He called Abraham (v 8; Gen. 18:19); of Jehovah identifying Himself with them in their afflictions in Egypt (v 9; Ex. 14:19; 23:20-21; 33:14); of Israel's rebellion against Him and vexing the Holy Spirit to the extent that God had to turn against them, be their enemy, and fight them, as recorded in the books of Judges, Samuel, Kings, and Chronicles (v 10); and of God remembering again His past mercies with Israel in the days of Moses when He made Himself a great name in the earth (v 11-14)
s Ex. 19:4; Dt. 1:31; 32:11
t The history of Israel is one of continued rebellion against God, from the time of the exodus to 70 A.D. when they were finally dispersed among the nations, where they are today. See Israel in Index u The Holy Spirit has been in the earth throughout all ages, carrying on His part in the plan of creation and redemption; so He did not come into the world for the first time at Pentecost, as some believe. See Holy Spirit in Index v Every one of the defeats of Israel came about because God would not fight for them, but permitted the enemy to destroy them. See Israel in Index
w Then-when they were scattered among the nations and in the last days, God would call to remembrance His covenants and deal with them again (Lev. 26:33-43; Dt. 30:1-10)

10 ¶ Go through, go through the gates; [a]prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the [b]highway; gather out the stones; lift up a [c]standard for the people.

11 Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zi'ŏn, Behold, [d]thy salvation cometh; behold, [e]his reward is with him, and his work before him.

12 And they shall [f]call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

742 CHAPTER 63

(7) Messiah's second advent

WHO [g]is [h]this that [i]cometh from [j]E'dom, with [k]dyed garments from [l]Bŏz'rah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? [m]I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat?

3 I have trodden the [n]winepress alone; and [o]of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury; and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For [p]the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.

5 [q]And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

(8) Praise for past blessings

7 ¶ I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Is'ra-el, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.

8 For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their Saviour.

9 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he [r]bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10 ¶ But [s]they rebelled, and vexed his [t]holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and [u]he fought against them.

11 [w]Then he remembered the days of old, Mŏ'ses, and his people, saying, [x]Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit within [y]him?

12 That [z]led them by the right hand of Mŏ'ses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them through the deep, [a]as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?

14 As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the LORD caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

(9) Fiftyfold prayer for deliverance (63:15-64:12. Cp. Zech. 12:10)

15 ¶ [b]Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained?

16 [c]Doubtless thou art our father, though A'brā-hăm be ignorant of us, and Is'ra-el acknowledge us not: thou, O LORD, art our father, our redeemer; thy name is from everlasting.

17 ¶ O LORD, [d]why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 [e]The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

19 [f]We are thine: thou never barest rule over them; they were not called by thy name.

743 CHAPTER 64

OH [g]that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might [h]flow down at thy presence,

2 As when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world [i]men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.

5 [j]Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth; for we have sinned: [k]in those is continuance, and we shall be saved.

6 But we are all as an [l]unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are [m]as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.

7 And there is none that calla This refers to God putting the Holy Spirit in Moses, and proves the Spirit was in men in all ages before Pentecost (v 11; Num. 11:17; Acts 3:21; 2 Pet. 1:21)

b See 15 acts of God, p. 850
c 2 comparisons regarding Israel:
1 They were led of God as surefooted as a horse (v 13)
2 As beasts relax and rest, so the Lord made Israel to rest (v 14)
d See 6 requests of Israel, p. 825
e This verse expresses faith that God was their Father, regardless of Abraham's and Israel's ignorance of them and lack of acknowledging them (v 16)
f This is all too often a part of prayer-accusing God of wrong-doing and blaming Him for the troubles of man (v 14). God never did cause any man to sin, to err from His ways, or harden his own heart. The true rendering is: Why have You permitted us to wander from Your ways, and our hearts to be hardened so that we do not have fear?
g This means that Israel had possessed the promised land but a little while, compared to the time it was possessed by their enemies (v 18)
h 9 things claimed by Israel, p. 820
i This part of the prayer beseeches God to rend the heavens miraculously, and come down to destroy His enemies as He did in days of old when He brought Israel out of Egypt and when He caused mount Sinai to be rent (v 1-3; Ex. 19:18)
j Mountains will be moved at the 2nd advent (Zech. 14:4; Rev. 16:17-20) k Quoted in 1 Cor. 2:9
l 8fold confession of Israel:
1 God is just and meets him that rejoices, works righteousness, and remembers the Lord in his ways (v 5)
2 God is wroth because we have sinned, and still continue in sin
3 We are all as an unclean thing (v 6)
4 All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags (note n, below)
5 We fade like a leaf, and our iniquities take us away like the wind
6 There is none that calls upon God's name, and stirs himself up to take hold of God (v 7)
7 God has hid His face from us and destroyed us because of sin 8 But now we turn to God who is our Father and will mold us like the potter does the clay (v 8) m If we continue in the ways of God we shall be saved (v 5). It could not mean that if they continued in sin they would be saved, for that is contrary to both the law and the gospel (Rom. 8:12-13; Gal. 5:19-21)
n Heb. tame, foul in a religious sense; defiled; infamous; polluted; unclean in a ceremonial and moral sense. It refers to anything regarded as polluted and abominable by the law of Moses (6:5; 35:8; Lev. 5:2; 7:19, 21; 11:4-8, 26, 28-31, 35, 47; 13:15, 45-56; 14:40-45; Dt. 14:7-19). The meaning here is: All of us are ceremonially and morally unclean and abominable before God; and all our righteousnesses (deeds, prayers, sacrifices, alms) are as filthy rags. The Heb. for filthy is ed, to set a period; the menstrual flux; the rags used by women in their monthly periods eth upon thy name, that[a]stirreth up himself to take[b]hold of thee: for thou hast[c]hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities.

8 But now, O LORD,[d]thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou [e]our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand.

9 ¶[f]Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10[g]Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zi'ŏn is a wilderness, Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm a desolation.

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned up with fire: and all our pleasant things are laid waste.

12[h]Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

744 CHAPTER 65

(10) God's prophetic answer (65:1-66:24). A Twentyfold review of Israel

I [a]AM [b]sought of [c]them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a [d]rebellious people, which walketh in [e]a way that was not good, after their own thoughts;

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face; that [f]sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense [g]upon altars of brick;

4 Which remain among [h]the graves, and [i]lodge in the [j]monuments, which [k]eat swine's flesh, and [l]broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

5 Which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me; [m]for I am holier than thou. These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.

6 Behold, [n]it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom.

B A seed promised

8 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, [o]As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not; for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all.

9 And I will bring forth [p]a seed out of Já'cob, and out of Jú'dah an [q]inheritor of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10 And [r]Shâr'on shall be a fold of flocks, and the [s]valley of Á'chôr a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.

C Rebels purged from Israel

11 ¶[t]But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number.

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; [u]when I spake, ye did not hear; but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed:

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by [v]another name:

16 That he[w]who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.

D New Heaven and New Earth (66:22-24; 2 Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21-22)

17 ¶ For, behold, [x]I create [y]new heavens and a new earth: and the former [z]shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

E Millennium (cp. 2:1, refs.)

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm a rejoicing, and her people a joy.

19 And I will rejoice in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be [a]no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall [b]die an hundred years old; but the [c]sinner [d]being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall [e]build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They [f]shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for [g]as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their [h]offspring with them.

24 And it shall come to pass,

a This was the place near Jericho where Achan was put to death (v 10; Josh. 7:24; 15:7; Hos. 2:15) a In this section (v 11-16) God again indicts the rebels in Israel who were consecrated to idols, furnishing them sacrifices and drink offerings (v 11 with v 4-7). They were to be destroyed (v 12); and their cursing was to be the opposite of the blessing of the godly (v 13-16)

b A similar passage is found in Pr. 1:24. Both scriptures give reasons for some being cut off without mercy

c The old name will be changed (v 15). Which particular name God refers to is not stated here. Some think the term Jew will be forgotten and not used when the Messiah comes, but that is not in harmony with Scripture (Zech. 8:23). This may refer to reputation-the bad name that has followed Israel for ages

d This verse predicts that men who invoke blessings on themselves and make vows will do so in the name of the God of truth. They will not seek blessings from false gods or idols, and will not make vows by them (v 16)

e Here God declares that He will create or bring into existence renewed heavens and a renewed earth which will be so wonderful that the present ones will be forgotten in the glory and blessing that will then be enjoyed on the earth by the eternal society (v 17)

f This term, new heavens and a new earth, is found only 4 times in Scripture, being used twice by Isaiah (66:1[i]; 66:22-24), once by Peter (2 Pet. 3:10-13), and once by John (in Rev. 21:1-22:5). Making the heavens and earth new will be accomplished at the close of the Millennium after all rebellion is put down on earth, all enemies are destroyed, and God has become all in all again, as before rebellion was started-first by Lucifer and later by Adam (Rom. 8:18-25; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; 2 Pet. 3:10-13; Rev. 21-22)

g See Great millennial and eternal changes, p. 831

h This means that human life will be prolonged so that men will live as long as trees (v 22) and for the entire 1,000 years if they do not commit a sin having the death penalty, an act which will require them to be executed (v 20; 11:2-5). Then, if they do not rebel with Satan at the end of the 1,000 years, if they have accepted Jesus Christ as their Saviour, and if they are born again and consecrated to eternal righteousness, they will continue to live eternally in the new earth (Mt. 25:46; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; 2:7; 3:11; Rev. 20:7-10; 22:2). A man in the 1,000 year reign of Christ will be considered an infant of years instead of an infant of days and no one will die unless he is executed for crime; nobody will fail to fill out his days of maturity and long life. Even sinners will live through the entire period if they will obey the civil laws and refrain from sins that carry the death penalty. A man will be considered a mere child at the age of 100 (v 20)

i Death will continue through the Millennium, p. 837

j Sinners enter the Millennium, p. 928

k Being 100, 200, 500, or 1,000 years of age he will be executed, if he commits a death-penalty sin during the Millennium (v 20; 11:3-5)

l This proves that ordinary natural life and living conditions on the earth will continue in the Millennium (v 21-25)

m All men will be prosperous and have their own homes and other property-the day of mortgages, credits, debts, and other bondages of the present economy will be a thing of the past (v 22-24; Mic. 4:4; Zech. 3:10)

n Just as trees live many hundreds of years, so men in the Millennium will live up to 1,000 years if they obey the laws. After that they can continue to live forever if they do not rebel with Satan at the end of this period (v 22; Mt. 25:46; Rev. 20:7-10). Trees are said to live even thousands of years. One in Mexico, 117 ft. around, is supposed to be over 5,000 years old; the same is true of the Boabab trees of Senegal-it is estimated that they too are more than 5,000 years old

o Children will be born forever (v 23). See Generations in Index a This proves that prayer will continue in the Millennium and the new earth period (v 24; 56:7)

b See notes g-n, 11:6-8
c The whole nature of the animals will have to be changed in order for this to be fulfilled, inasmuch as lions now are meat eaters (v 25)
d This refers to the perpetual curse upon the serpent (v 25; Gen. 3:14). All snakes will lose their poisonous fangs (11:8)

h Questions 183-184. Next, v 8
i 3 things God prefers to magnificient temple:
1 A poor (humble, down-trodden, oppressed, afflicted, subdued, pious, godly) man (v 2)
2 A contrite man-one with a broken, crushed, contrite spirit
3 A man who trembles at His Word
j This verse pictures the hatred of God toward the wicked hypocrites in their religious practices:
1 The wicked man who sacrifices an ox to God is as abominable as a murderer in His sight (v 3)
2 If he sacrifices a lamb it is as abominable as offering a dog
3 If he offers an oblation it is as abominable as offering swine's blood 4 If he burns incense it is as abominable as blessing an idol k 7 great sins of the wicked:
1 Live in hypocrisy-act religious while living in sin (v 3)
2 Choose their own ways
3 Delight in their abominations
4 Refuse to answer God's call (v 4)
5 Refuse to hear God's voice
6 Do evil in God's sight
7 Choose things that God hates
l After rebuking the hypocrisy of the wicked God addressed the righteous, promised they would be blessed in the end, and declared that He would recompense His enemies in due time (v 5-6) m These verses (7-9) predict the travail of Israel in the last days under Anti-christ

2 future travails of Israel:

1 The first travail of Israel will be when she brings forth the manchild-the 144,000 Jews of Rev. 7:1-8; 12:5-6, 14; 14:1-5; Dan. 12:1. See notes on these passages
2 The second travail will be for herself to be delivered from the Antichrist and the armies of the nations at the end of the future tribulation (v 7-9; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21). Before this experience she will travail for the manchild and bring him forth (v 7; Dan. 12:1; Rev. 12:5-6, 14; 14:1-5); then about 3 1/2 years later Israel will travail for herself, be delivered, and be born again in a day (v 8; Zech. 12:10-13:1, 9; 14:1-16; Rev. 19:11-21)

n The man child here is the same as in Rev. 12:5-the 144,000 saved Jews of the first 3 1/2 years of Daniel's 70th week. See the manchild, p. 307 of N. T. o Questions 185-190. Last questions in p The earth bringing forth in one day and the nation being born at once refer to the conversion by God of the remnant of Israel, the ones left in Palestine after the tribulation (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 24:15-22). At this time-the 2nd advent of Christ, 2/3 of Israel will have been destroyed (Zech. 13:19; Rom. 11:25-29)
q If Israel can be born in a day, when they travail in the future, then they could be born again before that time if they would only travail to be saved (v 8). These birth pangs of Israel are referred to here and in Dan. 12:1; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 24:8, 15-22; Rev. 12:1-6, 14
r Here God calls for all who love Jerusalem to rejoice with her because of her deliverance from Antichrist and full restoration under the Messiah (v 10-17; 63:1-5; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21) that before they call, [a]I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.

25 The [b]wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and [c]the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and [d]dust shall be the serpent's meat. [e]They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my [f]holy mountain, saith the LORD.

745 CHAPTER 66

F The righteous respected

THUS saith the LORD, [g]The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?

▸2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the LORD: but [h]to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.

G Rebels purged from Israel (Ezek. 20:38; Zech. 13:8-9)

3 [i]He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood; he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, [k]they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.

4 I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.

●5 ¶ [l]Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word; Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the LORD be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies.

H The seed delivered (65:8-10)

7 [m]Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of [n]a man child.

8 [o]Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall [p]the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born at once? for [q]as soon as Zi'ŏn travailed, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God.

●10 [r]Rejoice ye with Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:

11 That ye may [s]suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with [t]the abundance of her glory.

■12 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gĕn'tiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be borne upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and [u]the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies.

I Rebels purged from Israel (Ezek. 20:38; Zech. 13:8-9)

15 For, behold, the LORD will come [v]with fire, and with [w]his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

16 For by fire and [x]by his sword will the LORD plead with all flesh: and the [y]slain of the LORD shall be many.

17 [z]They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.

J Millennium (cp. 2:1, refs.)

18 For I know their works and their thoughts: [a]it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and [b]they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set [c]a sign [d]among them, and I will send those that escape [e]of them unto the nations, to Tär'shish, Pŭl, and Lŭd, that draw the bow, to Tu'bal, and Já'vän, to the isles afar off, [f]that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the Gĕn'tiles.

20 And [g]they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, saith the LORD, as the children of Is'ra-el bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.

21 And I will also take of them for priests and for Lĕ'vites, saith the LORD.

K New Heaven and Earth (65:17; 2 Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21-22)

22 For as the [h]new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, [i]shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to an-

a See note o, 60:16

c This refers to the battle of Armageddon when God will defend and deliver Jerusalem and destroy Israel's enemies (v 14; 63:1-5; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Rev. 19:11-21). This is proved from the fact that it will take place at the 2nd advent of Christ, when He comes with fire, and with His chariots like a whirlwind, to render His anger with fury, and His rebuke with flames of fire. For by fire and by His sword will the Lord plead with all flesh: and the slain of the Lord will be many (v 15-16; 63:1-5; Joel 2-3; Ezek. 38:17-21; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
d In flaming fire (v 15; Ezek. 38:1-21; 24:29-31; 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10) e His chariots will be the same as those which came for Elijah (2 Ki. 2:11) and appeared to protect Elisha (2 Ki. 6:17). Angels will accompany Christ to earth, and while some of the armies of heaven will ride horses (Rev. 19:14) others will use chariots (v 14; Ezek. 1; Zech. 6:1-8; Mt. 24:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10)
f Not only by fire, but by the sword will the Lord destroy multitudes at Armageddon (v 16; Joel 3:13; Rev. 19:11-21)
g All the vast armies of the nations under Antichrist at Armageddon, except a sixth part, will be destroyed (Ezek. 39:2). They are called many here and multitudes, multitudes in Joel 3:14 h Returning to the subject of Israel's sins again, God refers in particular to idolatry in the gardens with their asherah or totem-pole type of idol called a tree here (v 17). See Asherah, p. 106. Such centers of idolatry were in the midst of wooded places or sacred groves and high places. The idea here is that, in the future fulfillment of this, people will seek to be sanctified and ceremonially purified through swine and mouse sacrifices to idols-things which are both unclean and forbidden to be used as food or sacrifice (Lev. 11:7, 41-42)
i The last part of Isaiah is devoted to the Millennium (v 18-24) and the new heavens and the new earth (v 22-24). First, God speaks of gathering all nations to see His glory (v 18), of setting up a sign among them by sending Jewish missionaries to those who have not heard of His fame, or seen His glory (v 19); He speaks of the nations bringing the Israelites back from their midst, to Jerusalem (v 20), and of taking these Jews to be priests and Levites to minister in the millennial temple (v 21). Second, God finishes the book by speaking of the new heavens and the new earth which are to be eternal (v 22), of the eternal seed of Israel who will inhabit the new earth, of new moons and sabbaths when all flesh, Jews, and Gentiles will come to worship before Him (v 24), and of the opening (or openings) made on earth so that all men on the new earth will be able to see the result of God's wrath on sin (v 24)

j See Yearly pilgrimages, p. 829
k See note s, 11:10
l The sign or standard will be placed in Israel as a rallying place for all the Gentiles as well as Israelites (v 19; 11:10) m The Jews that escape the terrible tribulation judgments and the efforts of the Gentiles to exterminate them during the last days will be sent as world missionaries during the Millennium. They will go to all nations and declare the fame and glory of God to them (v 19; 11:9; 52:7; Zech. 13:9) n This proves that all people on earth will not see the visible coming of Christ to the earth. It will be local-at Jerusalem, and not seen from all parts of the globe. These people who are to be evangelized are men who "have not heard My fame, neither have seen My glory" (v 19). See note r, Rev. 1:7
o Again, God speaks of the Gentiles helping to gather Israel from all lands back to the promised land where they will become an eternal nation under their Messiah (v 20; 49:22; 60:8-12) p See note f, 65:17
q See 9 eternal things, p. 819

a This suggests worship on sabbaths or rest days in the new earth. See Sabbath in Index

b All nations will continue in the new earth; the people will have natural bodies and carry on the original program God planned for man-multiplying and replenishing the earth forever

2 classes of eternal men:

1 Natural men-subjects of the kingdom
2 Resurrected men-rulers of the kingdom

The natural men will be people who continue to live from the tribulation time into the Millennium and then into the new earth period-and their descendants. They will be the saints of Rev. 20:7-10; and they will multiply forever. See Generations in Index for notes on eternal generations of natural people. The resurrected men will be the ones who have been redeemed from all generations, from Adam to the Millennium, and who will have part in the first resurrection. They will be kings and priests or rulers of natural men on the earth forever (Dan. 8:18, 22, 27; 1 Cor. 6:2; Rev. 1:5; 5:10; 12:5; 20:4-6; 22:4-5). These will not multiply as will the natural peoples, but be as the angels who do not need to marry to keep their race alive (Mt. 22:30); they will live in the New Jerusalem forever (Jn. 14:1-3; Heb. 11:10-16; 12:22-23; 13:14; Rev. 21:9-10). The natural people will live on the earth outside this great city but will traffic in it (Rev. 21:24)

c All flesh-natural men on the earth will be permitted to look into eternal hell, at certain openings, and see the punishment of rebels forever as a perpetual warning against sin and transgression (v 24)

d The carcases here are the bodies of men in eternal hell which will never be destroyed-bodies that will have been resurrected to immortality or deathlessness so that they may be punished for deeds done in the body before death (v 24). These eternal bodies in hell are considered dead carcases because of being without the life of God given to the resurrected saints

Introduction to prophecy

Jews divided the O. T. into 3 parts:

1 The Law (Torah):
(1) Genesis-beginnings, Israel a family
(2) Exodus-Israel becoming a nation
(3) Leviticus-worship of Jehovah
(4) Numbers-Israel numbered; wanderings
(5) Deuteronomy - Israel instructed and regarded as in the land

2 The Prophets (Nebiim):
(1) Joshua-Israel under priests
(2) Judges-Israel under judges
(3) Samuel-Israel under kings
(4) Kings-decline and fall of kings
(5) Isaiah-predictions and sermons to Israel in view of captivities
(6) Jeremiah-messages during captivity in view of Israel's restoration
(7) Ezekiel-Israel forsaken and restored again under their Messiah
(8) Minor Prophets-Israel's sins, defeats, and final triumph

3 Psalms (Kethubim, writings):
(1) Psalms-Israel's song book
(2) Proverbs-Israel's wisdom
(3) Job-Israel's comfort book
(4) Canticles-Israel's song of love (Song of Solomon)
(5) Ruth-Israel's redemption story
(6) Lamentations-Israel's woes
(7) Ecclesiastes-Israel's vanity
(8) Esther-Israel's deliverance
(9) Daniel-Israel's future
(10) Ezra-Nehemiah-Israel resettled
(11) Chronicles-Israel's history

The 39 books of our O. T. were divided into 24 books by the Jews. Samuel, Kings, Chronicles, and Ezra-Nehemiah were one book each; and 12 Minor Prophets made only one book. Christ recognized this Jewish division of Scripture in His day as the Law, the Prophets, and the Psalms (Lk. 24:25, 27, 44). Jews attribute this arrangement of books to Ezra and the Great Synagogue of 120 men, including Daniel, other, and[c] from one sabbath to another, shall[b] all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.

Summary of Isaiah

Date and place: written in Palestine about 792-722 B.C. See p. 732

Author: Isaiah (1:1; 2:1; 7:3; 13:1; 20:2-3; 27:3-21; 28:1-21; 38:3-8)

Proof of authorship. (It is held by some modern critics that there were two Isaiahs - one who wrote chs. 1-39, and another who wrote chs. 40-66

10 proofs of one Isaiah and the unity of the book:

1 On the assumption that, because the messages of the two sections are different, there must have been two authors, one could also prove that the book of Ezekiel was written by two persons, chs. 1-39 by one and chs. 40-48 by another. Furthermore, the same could be said of the book of Romans. However, any such difference in subject matter does not prove disunity or more than one author

2 The undisputed place the unity of the book held for over 2600 years proves there is no ground for a divided authorship

3 Jewish historians, particularly Josephus, assert that Isaiah wrote both sections of the book. Josephus tells how Cyrus was moved to send the Jews back to rebuild their temple, from reading the prophecies of Isaiah regarding himself which had been written over 200 years before. These prophecies are in the last section of the book (41:2, 25; 44:28-45:5, 13; 46:11)

4 The Septuagint or any other ancient version does not mention a dual authorship of the book

5 No mention is made of a dual authorship in any Hebrew Bible or by any ancient Hebrew scholar

6 No Christian scholar from the earliest ages until recent years ever mentioned such dual authorship

7 Traditions from all sources are unanimous in favor of the unity of the book, and of one authorship

8 The literary style of the book differs widely from that of every other O. T. prophet; and it is the same in the two sections of the book

9 Over 300 words and expressions used in both portions of Isaiah are not used by other prophets of the post-exilic period; this proves beyond doubt that the book of Isaiah is a unity, and written by one author

10 Christ and the apostles believed and confirmed their faith in one Isaiah and in the unity of the book. In the N. T. there are 22 quotations and allusions to the first section of Isaiah, and 36 such quotations and allusions to the second section

The first section:

Remnant (1:9 with Rom. 9:29; and 10:22-23 with Rom. 9:27-28)
His glory (6:1-3 with Jn. 13:41)
Hardening (6:9-10 with Mt. 13:15; Jn. 12:39-44; Acts 28:25-27)
Emmanuel (7:14 with Mt. 1:21-23)
Sanctify (8:12-13 with 1 Pet. 3:15)
Stumbling (8:14 with Rom. 9:32-33)
Children (8:17-18 with Heb. 2:13)
Light (9:1-2 with Mt. 4:14-16)
Rod, mouth (11:4 with 2 Th. 2:8)
Root (11:10 with Rom. 15:12)
Babylon (21:8 with Rev. 14:8; 18:2)
Key (22:22 with Rev. 3:7)
Death (25:8 with 1 Cor. 15:54)
Tongues (28:11-12 with 1 Cor. 14:21)
Corner-stone (28:16 with Rom. 9:33; 1 Pet. 2:4-6)
Slumber (29:10 with Rom. 11:8)
Lip-service (29:13 with Mt. 15:7-9; Mk. 7:6-7)
Wisdom (29:14 with 1 Cor. 1:19)
Creature challenging Creator (29:16; 45:9 with Rom. 9:20)
Judgment (34:4, 10 with Rev. 6:13-14)
Hands, knees (35:3 with Heb. 12:12)

The second section:

Voice (40:3-5 with Mt. 3:3; Mk. 3:3)
Cry (40:6-8 with Jas. 1:10-11; 1 Pet. 1:24) 2:16) Mind (40:13 with Rom. 11:34; 1 Cor. First, last (41:4 with Rev. 1:8, 11, 17; 2:8; 21:6; 22:13)
Servant (42:1-4 with Mt. 12:17-21)
Knees (45:23; Rom. 14:11; Phil. 2:10)
Light (49:6 with Lk. 2:32; Acts 13:47)

The second section, cont.

Acceptable time (49:8 with 2 Cor. 6:2) 17) Hunger, thirst (49:10 with Rev. 7:16-
Feet (52:7 with Rom. 10:15)
Borne sicknesses (53:4 with Mt. 8:17)
Healed by stripes (53:5 with 1 Pet. 2:24)
Gone astray (53:6 with 1 Pet. 2:25)
Lamb slaughter (53:7 with Acts 8:32)
Lamb dumb (53:7 with Acts 8:32)
Opened not (53:7 with Acts 8:32)
Judgment taken (53:8 with Acts 8:33)
Generation (53:8 with Acts 8:33)
Cut off (53:8 with Acts 8:33)
No deceit (53:9 with 1 Pet. 2:22)
Numbered with (53:12 with Mt. 15:28; Lk. 22:37; Heb. 9:28)
Rejoice (54:1 with Gal. 4:27)
Children taught (54:13 with Jn. 6:45)
Mercies (55:3 with Acts 13:34)
Seed to (55:10 with 2 Cor. 9:10)
Prayer house (56:7 with Mt. 21:13)
Peace (57:19 with Eph. 2:17)
Breastplate (59:17 with Eph. 6:14-17; 1 Th. 5:8) 27) Deliver (59:20-21 with Rom. 11:26-
Preaching (61:1-2 with Lk. 4:17-19)
Winepress (63:3 with Rev. 19:13-15)
Mysteries (64:4 with 1 Cor. 2:9)
Finding God (65:1-2 with Rom. 10:20-31)
New heavens (65:17; 66:22-24 with 2 Pet 3:13; Rev. 21:1)
Throne (66:1-2 with Mt. 5:34-45; Acts 7:48-50)
Worm (66:24 with Mk. 9:44-48)

In the N. T. passages of these two lists it is verified 10 times that Isaiah wrote the first section (Mt. 4:14; 13:14; 15:7; Mk. 7:6; Jn. 12:39, 41; Acts 28:25; Rom. 9:27, 29; 15:12), and 11 times that he wrote the second section (Mt. 3:3; 8:17; 12:17; Lk. 3:4; 4:17; Jn. 1:23; 12:38; Acts 8:28, 30; Rom. 10:16, 20). Only 7 books of the N. T. have no quotation or allusion to Isaiah; so the greater part contributes toward establishing the genuineness and authority of the book, and its single authorship

Theme: Isaiah is a miniature of the Bible, having 66 chapters corresponding with the 66 books; 39 chapters in the first section dealing with law and judgment corresponding with the message of the 39 books of the O. T.; 27 chapters in the second section, corresponding with the 27 books of the N. T. both in number and message of comfort and salvation through Christ. The theme of the first section is one of coming judgment upon Israel, and captivity because of sin and apostasy; judgment on many Gentile nations; and the latter-day restoration of Israel under their Messiah. The theme of the last section is one of mercy, comfort, and eternal restoration under the Messiah

Purpose: to make God's message clear to Israel; to warn them of judgment for persisting in sin; and to reveal the final dealings of God with them in complete restoration under their Messiah forever (9:6-7; 11:10-12; 6:22-24)

Statistics: 23rd book of the Bible; 66 chapters; 1,292 verses; 37,044 words; 634 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 395 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 1,313 predictions; 449 fulfilled predictions; 864 unfulfilled predictions; 273 verses of history; 190 questions; 120 promises; 308 commands; 71 distinct messages from God (1:2; 2:1; 5:1; 6:9; 7:1, 10; 8:1, 5; 9:8; 10:5; 11:1; 13:1; 14:28; 15:1; 17:1; 18:1; 19:1; 20:2; 21:1; 22:1; 23:1; 24:1; 28:1; 29:1; 30:1; 31:1; 32:1; 33:1; 34:1; 35:1; 37:6, 21; 38:1, 4; 39:5; 40:1; 41:1; 42:1, 5; 43:1, 13; 44:6, 24; 45:1, 14, 18; 46:1; 47:1; 48:1, 17; 49:1, 7, 8; 50:1; 51:1, 22; 52:1, 13; 54:1; 55:1; 56:1; 57:1; 58:1; 59:1; 60:1; 61:1; 62:1; 63:1; 64:1; 65:1; 66:1, 12)

a This refers to all men of all ages who have died in sin and will be sent to eternal hell where their worm will not die and the fire will not be quenched (v 24; Mk. 9:43-49). It is clear here that the carcases and the worm are in a fire which shall never be quenched. They will be an abhorring to all the flesh living on the new earth. The purpose of this opening to hell will be to cause coming generations to abhor sin and its consequences. When natural men can actually see into eternal hell it will be a great warning to them to walk in the ways of God. Not only men of the new earth, but angels also, and all other beings will be able to look into this place and see how horrible the punishment of sin can be (Rev. 14:9-11). Horrifying as the thought may be, the view may be God's best method of keeping eternal generations in line with His laws and commandments as they progress in the new earth-in the eternity future

Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, Haggai, and Zechariah. Ezra could have finished the O. T. canon except Malachi and part of 1 Chr. 3 which deal with things after his day

The Prophets were divided into 2 groups: the former (point 2, above) and the latter (point 3, above; Zech. 1:4; 7:7, 12). Isaiah has held the first place and rank because of its length, dignity, value, and importance

The Heb. naba not only signifies to foretell events, but also to pray and make supplication; and nabi, the prophet, was not by office a declarer of future events, but primarily a preacher of righteousness for his day (Neh. 6:7; Hos. 12:10; Acts 3:21; 1 Pet. 1:10-12). He foresaw future events in the light of the righteousness or wickedness of the people to whom God made everlasting covenants. His main work was to urge men to live righteously and godly according to the law of Moses. His other work was to warn of events to come in view of the attitude of the people concerning the will of God, and to pray and make supplication for the people and for God to be merciful. The prophets' predictions of things to come were chiefly conditional and many of their prophecies were stated in conditional terms. The unconditional prophecies were the fixed plans of God concerning necessary events to bring the earth into complete submission to Himself again and do away with sin, rebellion, and enemies so His eternal program could finally be realized (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 21:22). Other events were flexible and based upon obedience or disobedience to God in the ordinary fulfillment of the general plan

In ancient times prophets were called seers (1 Sam. 9:9-11). The Heb. ra'ah means a seeing person; one who perceives mentally the purpose of God. He was also sometimes called chozeh, a beholder; one who has visions or supernatural revelations (24:11; 29:10; 30:10; 2 Kl. 17:12; 1 Chr. 21:9; 25:5; 29:29; 2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; Mic. 3:7). The Heb. charah is also trans. seer, and means to glow warm; blaze up in anger or zeal; burn; wax hot; be incensed; be wroth (2 Chr. 19:2; 29:25, 30; 35:15; Amos 7:12). This word suggests that the prophets saw mentally and in vision things that would make them angry; and in the heat of the Spirit that was upon them, they were borne along and moved to declare to Israel her sins (Mic. 3:8) and make the people obey God if at all possible. The same idea is given of Christ when He said: "The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up" (Ps. 69:9; Jn. 2:17). A like zeal was upon Jehu who was commanded to fulfil prophecy in executing God's wrath upon the house of Ahab and in destroying Baal worship in Israel (2 Kl. 10:17-31). Isaiah used the term, The zeal of the Lord of hosts (2 Kl. 19:31; Isa. 9:7; 37:32). Cp. Num. 25:13; Ps. 119:139; Isa. 59:17; 63:15; Ezek. 5:13; 2 Cor. 9:2; Tit. 2:13, Ezekiel went in the heat of his spirit (Ezek. 3:12-14)

A prophet was sometimes called the man of God. It was understood that such men always had an extraordinary commission, receiving their messages by direct inspiration and being moved upon and carried along by the Holy Spirit as a leaf is carried along with a strong wind (Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-2; 2 Tim. 3:16; 1 Pet. 1:10-12; 2 Pet. 3:21)

Heathen people copied the prophetic office in Israel and had their prophets, seers, augurs, priests, priestesses, and oracles - all pretending to be divinely inspired and truthful. Also, among Israel there were many who claimed inspiration and gave messages, but they were inspired by Satan, when there was a supernatural element present (9:15; 28:7; 6:13; 8:10; 14:18; 23:1-37; 28:1-17; Num. 12:6; Dt. 13:1-5; 1 Ki. 18:19; 22:6-28; 2 Ki. 10:19; 2 Chr. 18:4-10; Lam. 2:20; Mt. 24:24; Acts 13:6; 2 Pet. 2:1; 1 Jn. 4:1; Rev. 16:13-16; 19:20; 20:10)

Over 78 prophets and prophetesses:

1 Adam (Gen. 2:19, 23-24; 3:20). He is rightfully the head of the prophets as he is of the race; he could not have named the animals, and uttered statements he made about his wife except by inspiration (Acts 3:21)

2 Enoch (Gen. 5:21-24; Jude 14-15; Zech. 14:5; Rev. 11:3 -11)

3 Noah (Gen. 6:8-9:25; 1 Pet. 3:20-21)

4 Eber (Gen. 10:25). He foresaw the division of the earth into continents and named his own son Peleg in view of this

5 Abraham (Gen. 20:7). His prophecies (Gen. 12:1-3, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:2-8, 15-16, 19-21; 18:18-19; 21:12-13; 22:8, 17-18; 24:7, 40; Ex. 32:13)

6 Isaac (Gen. 26:3-4, 24; 27:28-29, 37, 39-40; Ex. 32:13)

7 Jacob (Gen. 28:3-4, 13-15; 31:3; 32:9, 12; 35:11-12; 48:4, 15-16, 19-22; 49:3-27; Ex. 32:13)

8 Joseph (Gen. 37:7-10; 40:12-13, 18-19; 41:26-32; 50:24-25)

9 Moses (Ex. 3:8, 12, 17-22; 4:8-9, 14-17, 21-23; 6:1-8; 7:3-5, 9, 15-19; 8:2-4, 10-11, 16, 20-23; 9:1-5, 8-9, 13-19, 29; 10:2-6, 29; 11:1, 4-9; 12:12-13, 23-27; 13:5, 19; 14:3-4, 13-18, 26; 15:13-18; 16:4-8, 12; 17:6, 14-16; 19:5-6, 9-13; 22:23-24; 23:20-33; 33:1-3, 14; 34:10-11, 24; Lev. 18:24-28; 26:3-45; Num. 10:9; 11:17-20, 23; 14:21-24, 28-35; 16:29-30; 17:5; 20:12, 24-26, 34; 33:55-56; Dt. 1:35-38; 2:24-25, 31; 3:2, 21-22, 27-28; 4:10, 21-22, 25-31; 6:10-12; 7:20-24; 8:3, 10-20; 9:3-6; 11:13-32; 12:1-32; 15:4-6; 17:14-20; 18:15, 18-19; 28:1-68; 29:17-28; 30:1-10, 15-20; 31:1-8, 16-23, 27-29; 32:19-32; 33:6-29; 34:4)

10 Aaron (Ex. 4:15). He was associated with Moses in many of the prophecies of point 9, above

11 Balaam (Num. 23:7-10, 18-24; 24:7-9, 17-24; 2 Pet. 2:16)

12 Joshua (Num. 27:18-23; Dt. 34:9). His prophecies (Josh. 1:2-11; 3:7-13; 6:2-5, 26; 8:1-2, 18; 10:8, 25; 11:6; 13:6; 14:9; 23:5-16)

13 Gideon (Judg. 6:14, 16; 7:7, 9-11, 13:15; 8:7, 9)

14 Jotham (Judg. 9:8-20)

15 A man of God (1 Sam. 2:27-36)

16 Samuel (1 Sam. 3:11-14; 9:16-20; 10:1-8; 12:14-17; 13:13-14). He is called a seer (1 Sam. 9:9-11, 18-19; 1 Chr. 9:22; 26:28; 29:29)

17 Saul (1 Sam. 19:24)

18 David (1 Sam. 23:11-12; 24:4; 26:10; 30:8; 2 Sam. 5:19, 23-24; 1 Ki. 2:4, 32-33, 45). Many of the psalms of David are prophetical. See Book of Psalms

19 Nathan (2 Sam. 7:10-16; 12:10-14; 1 Chr. 17:9-14)

20 Gad (1 Sam. 22:5). Called David's seer (2 Sam. 24:11; 1 Chr. 21:9; 29:29; 2 Chr. 29:25)

21 Zadok the seer (2 Sam. 15:27)

22 Heman the seer (1 Chr. 25:5; 35:15)

23 Iddo the seer (2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15)

24 Hanani the seer (2 Chr. 16:7-10;

25 Asaph the seer (2 Chr. 29:30)

26 Jeduthun the seer (2 Chr. 35:15)

27 Solomon (1 Ki. 3:5-14; 9:3-8; 11:11-13; 2 Chr. 1:7; 7:12-22)

28 Ahijah (1 Ki. 11:29-39; 14:1-18)

29 Shemaiah (1 Ki. 12:22-24)

30 A man of God (1 Ki. 13:1-10)

31 An old prophet (1 Ki. 13:11-29)

32 Jehu (1 Ki. 16:1-12; 2 Chr. 19:1-3)

33 Elijah (1 Ki. 17:1-2 Ki. 2:11; 2 Chr. 21:12; Zech. 14:14; Mal. 4:5-6; Rev. 11:3-11)

34 Elisha (1 Ki. 19:19-21; 2 Ki. 2:11-8:15; 13:14-21)

35 A prophet (1 Ki. 20:13-14, 22)

36 A man of God (1 Ki. 20:28)

37 A certain man (1 Ki. 20:35-43)

38 Micaiah (1 Ki. 22:7-28; 2 Chr. 18:12-27)

39 An unnamed prophet (2 Ki. 9:1-10)

40 Azariah (2 Chr. 15:1)

41 Jahaziel (2 Chr. 20:14-19)

42 Eliezer (2 Chr. 20:37)

43 Oded (2 Chr. 15:8)

44 A man of God (2 Chr. 25:7-9)

45 Igdallah (Jer. 35:4)

46 Urijah (Jer. 26:20-21)

16 O. T. writing prophets:

47 Isaiah (2 Ki. 20:1-14; 2 Chr. 26:22; 32:20, 32; Isa. 1:1-66:22)

48 Jeremiah (2 Chr. 36:12; Jer. 1:1-51:34; Lam. 1:1-5:22)

49 Ezekiel (Ezek. 1:1-48:35)

50 Daniel (Dan. 1:1-12-13)

51 Hosea (Hos. 1:1-14:9)

52 Joel (Joel 1:1-3:21)

53 Amos (Amos 1:1-9:15). Called a seer (Amos 7:12)

54 Obadiah (Oba. 1-21)

55 Jonah (2 Ki. 14:25; Jonah 1:1-4:11)

56 Micah (Mic. 1:1-7:20)

57 Nahum (Nah. 1:1-3:10)

58 Habakkuk (Hab. 1:1-3:19)

59 Zephaniah (Zeph. 1:1-3:20)

60 Haggai (Ezra 5:1; 6:14; Hag. 1:1-2:23)

61 Zechariah (Ezra 5:1; 6:14; Zech. 1:1-14:21; Mt. 23:35). There were two other prophets by this name (2 Chr. 24:20-21; 26:5)

62 Malachi (Mal. 1:1-4:6)

4 N. T. writing prophets:

63 Peter (Acts 2:16-21; 3:19-21; 1 Pet. 1:4-7, 13, 24-25; 4:5-6, 13; 2 Pet. 1:11, 19; 2:9, 12-13; 3:3-4, 10-13)

64 Paul (Acts 17:31; 27:10, 22-26, 31, 34; Rom. 8:17-25; 11:25-27; 14:10-11; 16:20; 1 Cor. 1:7-8; 3:11-15; 4:5-6; 6:9-10, 13-14; 11:26; 13:8-12; 15:21-28, 35-56; 2 Cor. 3:16-18; 4:14; 5:10; Gal. 5:21; 6:7-9; Eph. 1:10, 14, 21; 2:7; 3:11, 21; 4:12-13; 5:27; Phil. 1:6; 2:9-11; 3:20-21; Col. 3:4, 24-25; 1 Th. 1:10; 2:19; 3:13; 4:13-18; 5:1-10, 23-24; 2 Th. 1:7-10; 2:1-12; 1 Tim. 4:1-5; 6:14-15; 2 Tim. 2:11-13; 3:1-13; 4:1, 3, 8, 18; Tit. 2:13; Heb. 10:26-29; 12:25-29; 13:14)

65 James (Jas. 5:1-8)

66 John (1 Jn. 2:17-18, 28; 3:2; 4:17; Rev. 1:1-22:21)

Many refer to the writing prophets as being the ones from Isaiah to Malachi only; but this is erroneous because these men were not the only prophets who wrote a part of the Bible. Moses, Joshua, Samuel, David and others were also writing prophets. Actually, Moses and David were among the greatest. Moses wrote 475 verses of prophecy and David 386. This compares well with the 985 verses of prophecy by Isaiah, 845 by Jeremiah, and 886 by Ezekiel. On the other hand, Moses wrote 4, 392 more verses than Isaiah did, 4, 320 more than Jeremiah, and 4, 411 more than Ezekiel. David wrote 57 more verses than Isaiah did, 77 more than Ezekiel, and only 15 less than Jeremiah if we credit him with the psalms that bear his name, in addition to Ps. 119 which he wrote. No doubt many of the other psalms were written by him also. These facts indicate that both Moses and David wrote more verses of the Bible than the so-called major prophets. Solomon follows David in number of verses, having written 1, 254 if we give him credit for all of Proverbs, besides the Song of Solomon and Ecclesiastes. Regarding the N. T. John wrote 1, 415 verses in his 5 books; Luke wrote 2, 158 in his 2 books; and Paul wrote 2, 336 in his 14 books. Thus, there were other great writing prophets besides Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel

Other O. T. prophets and prophetesses:

67 Zacharias (Lk. 1:67-79)

68 Simeon (Lk. 1:25-35). He and Zacharias were before Christ 25)

69 The 70 elders of Israel (Num. 11:

70 Eldad and Medad (Num. 11:26)

71 14 prophetesses (p. 110) 18:4)

72 100 prophets hid by Obadiah (1 Ki.

76 Caiaphas (Jn. 11:50, 52)

77 Agabus (Acts 11:28; 21:10-11)

78 Ananias (Acts 9:15-16)

Besides the above there were others in the early church. See Acts 13:1; 1 Cor. 12:4-11; Eph. 4:11

Laws on interpretation of prophecy:

Assuming that God is desirous of speaking to man in mysteries, many believe erroneously that prophecy cannot be understood before it is fulfilled; and furthermore, that it is given in such lofty figures of speech with so many allusions to manners, customs, times, and places unknown to the average reader that it cannot be understood without special help. The regrettable thing is that, along with this concept of prophecy, some add further complications by overlooking simple facts which, if taken literally as written would make a clear understanding possible

10 rules to follow:

1 Forget the idea that God seeks to bewilder man or hide from him the very revelation He wished to give him; or that He desired to make it mysterious

2 Give the same meaning to the words of prophecy that you give to the words of history - the same meaning to those in the Bible that you give to words used by men otherwise. The belief that the language of the Bible has a different and mystical meaning, and cannot be understood in a literal sense, is wrong. For example, the word year is taken by some to mean a day and a day taken to mean a year. On this basis the 2, 300 days of Dan. 8:14 are taken to be 2, 300 years; the 1, 260 days of Rev. 11:3; 12:6 to be 1, 260 years; etc. But why would an intelligent God say years when He really meant days? We believe that He says only what He means. See The times of the Gentiles, p. 873 for other examples

3 Do not change the literal meaning of prophecy or any other scripture to a spiritual or symbolic meaning, such as making the earthquake of the 6th seal (Rev. 6:12-17) to be the breaking up of society, the darkening of the planets (Rev. 8:12) to be spiritual darkness, or the creatures out of the pit (Rev. 9) to be false religions

4 Do not seek to find hidden meanings in the words of Scripture, such as making the USA in Jer USAiem represent the United States

5 Believe that prophecy can be understood as it is without any changes or additions, and recognize it simply as a record beforehand of what is to happen sometime after its utterance. It is history in advance and should be understood as a future-historical record

6 Forget the idea that prophecy must be fulfilled before it can be understood. All true prophecy is as clear before its predictions take place as after their fulfillment

7 Do not interpret God's own interpretation of any symbol or prophecy, or change His meaning from that which is plainly and obviously clear. For examples of God interpreting His own symbols see Dan. 2:38-44; 7:17, 23-26; 8:20-23; 9:20-27; 11:2-45; 12:1-13; Rev. 1:20; 12:9; 13:18; 17:8-18

8 Give only one meaning to a passage, the plain literal meaning, unless it is made clear that a double meaning should be understood. There are two main laws regarding prophecy: the law of double reference (see Law in Index); and the law of prophetic perspective. The latter allows the giving of future events as if they were continuous and successive, when there may be thousands of years between them. This must be taken into consideration in such passages as Isa. 61:1-3, quoted in Lk. 4:17-20. Christ repeated only the portion of that prophecy which was fulfilled in His day

9 Recognize a prophet primarily as a preacher of righteousness, for this is the key to the interpretation of many prophecies. He was not only a foreteller but a forthteller - a speaker for God to rebuke, instruct, and correct, one speaking to men to edification, exhortation, and comfort even when there was no predictive element in his sermon (1 Cor. 14:3-4, 22, 23-26, 29-31). He had the powers of insight and foresight; the present was only a moment in the divine plan which was working toward the end of establishing the kingdom of God again on earth and cleansing the earth of all rebellion. The prophet was a teacher as well as a social reformer, statesman and herald of the future kingdom

10 One main thing to be aware of in all prophecy is the history of the writer - his times and the circumstances under which he spoke or wrote, the purpose of his predictions, the people to whom he wrote and the subject of his message. With these in mind and a knowledge of the manners, customs, idioms and expressions of the age and people he was associated with, there should be no misunderstanding about anything a prophet wrote

Law of compound probability

Each detail of a prophecy doubles the chances of the prediction not coming to pass. For instance, a prophecy with one detail has one chance in two of fulfillment - it will either be fulfilled or not fulfilled. A prediction with two details has one chance in four of coming to pass. This shows how impossible it would be for many of the lengthy prophecies of Scripture to be fulfilled apart from Divine power. The student may use the following table of progression to determine the chances of fulfillment of each prophecy, comparing the number of details with a like number in the first row of figures

Time of Isaiah's prophecy (Isa. 1:1):

In the days of 4 kings - Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah (v 1). Many things in the book will automatically clear up if we have an understanding of the historical background of these kings and the times of Isaiah. Their whole reign covered a period of 113 years. It was in the year that Uzziah, the first one, died that Isaiah saw the vision of ch. 6, so we can safely conclude that he was not a prophet very long before this. Estimates of his office run from 48-70 years. The kingdom of Israel had become great during the reigns of David and Solomon, but since then had become divided and weakened through civil wars and conflicts with other nations over a period of 240-250 years before Isaiah began his ministry. In about the 5th year of Hezekiah's reign the 10-tribe kingdom of Israel was destroyed and the people were taken captive to Assyria (2 Kl. 17; 1 Chr. 5:26; Amos 1:5). Very few references are made in Isaiah to this kingdom and then only regarding the time when they fought with Judah and Jerusalem, which are the subjects of the book of Isaiah (1:1; 2:1). For a more detailed history of these kings and the times of Isaiah read 2 Kl. 15-20; 2 Chr. 26-32

1st prophecy in Isa. (1:5-9):

6 predictions fulfilled:

1 You will revolt more and more (1:5)
2 Your country is desolate (1:7)
3 Your cities are burned with fire
4 Your land is devoured by strangers in your presence
5 You are left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and as a besieged city (1:8)
6 Only a small remnant is left (1:9)

2nd prophecy in Isa. (1:24-31):

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will ease Me of My adversaries (1:24)
2 I will avenge Me of My enemies
3 I will turn My hand upon you (Judah and Jerusalem, 1:25)
4 I will purely purge away your dross
5 I will take away all your tin (that which is not pure metal)
6 I will restore your judges as at the first when you came out of Egypt (1:26)
7 I will restore your counsellors as at the beginning (like Moses and Aaron)
8 After that you will be called the city of righteousness, the faithful city
9 Zion (Judah and Jerusalem, 1:1; 2:1) shall be redeemed with judgment (1:27)
10 Zion's converts will be righteous
11 The destruction of transgressors and sinners will be at the same time (1:28)
12 Those that forsake the Lord (all backsliders) shall be consumed
13 They (the transgressors, sinners, and backsliders) shall be ashamed of the oaks (gods made of wood) that they have desired instead of Me (1:29)
14 You (rebels in Judah) shall be confounded because of the gardens where you have worshipped your idols which you have chosen instead of Me
15 Your destruction will be as an oak that has died, fallen down, and been left to decay; and as a garden that has no water and is waste and desolate of life (1:30)
16 The strong among you shall be as tow (fiber of flax) and the maker of it (maker of an idol) as a spark; and both the idol and its maker shall burn together, and none shall quench them (1:31)

3rd prophecy in Isa. (2:2-4):

10 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 This will happen in the last days - the days of the Messiah, the Millennium, the day of the Lord (2:2; Mic. 4:1)
2 The mountain of the Lord's house shall be exalted above all hills and mountains; that is, exalted as the location of the Messiah's capital building above any other building or city, or any other hill or mountain (2:2)
3 All nations shall go up to honor and worship the Messiah in His temple (2:2; Mic. 4:1; Zech. 14:16-21)
4 Many people shall go and say, Come, let us go to Jerusalem to the temple of Jehovah where His Messiah reigns, He will teach us His ways, and we will walk in His paths (2:3; Mic. 4:2)
5 Out of Zion shall go forth the civil laws for the whole earth (2:3; Mic. 4:2)
6 The Word of God will go forth from Jerusalem, that is, the missionary program will go forth until the knowledge of the Lord will cover the earth as the water covers the sea (2:3; 11:9; 52:7; 66:19-21; Mic. 4:3)
7 He (the Messiah) shall judge among the nations (2:4; 11:1-10; Mic. 4:3)
8 He shall rebuke many people (2:4; 11:4-5; Zech. 14:9, 16-21)
9 They (all nations) shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks (2:4; Mic. 4:3)
10 Nation shall not lift upsword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more (2:4; Mic. 4:3)

4th prophecy in Isa. (2:6-21):

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 God will forsake His people, the house of Jacob, for their sins (2:6-9)
2 They will be taken captive by people from the east (2:9)
3 Palestine will be replenished with people from the east

12 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Men will enter into caves and dens of the earth for fear of God when Christ comes with power and glory to set up His kingdom (2:10, 19, 21; Mt. 24:29-31). This is not the same as the 6th seal of Rev. 6:12-17, which will be fulfilled several years earlier than the 2nd advent of Christ
2 The pride of man will be humbled (2:11, 17)
3 Jehovah alone will be exalted
4 The day of the Lord will be upon all who are proud and haughty; and they will be brought low (2:12)
5 Judgment will fall upon the cedars of Lebanon and the oaks of Bashan (2:13)
6 Judgment will fall upon the mountains and hills (2:14)
7 High towers and fenced walls will be judged (2:15)
8 Ships of the sea will be destroyed (2:16)
9 Pleasant (desirable) pictures will be destroyed
10 Idols will be utterly destroyed (2:18)
11 The Lord will personally come and shake the whole earth (2:19-21; Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24)
12 Men will be so fearful that they will cast away their idols and objects of worship to the moles and bats (2:20-21)

5th prophecy in Isa. (3:1-4:6):

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Famine upon Judah and Jerusalem (3:1)
2 Corrupt and inefficient government because of the captivity of the kings, princes, and capable men of Judah to Babylon (3:2-4, 12; 2 Kl. 24:14). From the death of Josiah to the Babylonian captivity the leaders of Judah were weak and wicked (2 Kl. 23:21-24:18)
3 Oppression of all Judah (3:5, 12)
4 All reverence for the aged and the honorable violated - dignity, age and honor not respected in this time of calamity (3:5)
5 The Jewish state so collapsed and the nation so ruined that no man wanted to be the ruler and take the responsibility for such ruin (3:6-7)
6 Jerusalem ruined and Judah fallen as a nation, because of the open sinfulness of the people (3:8-9; 2 Kl. 21:1-24:20; Jer. 23:10-11; Ezek. 16:20-29; 18:1-32)
7 The righteous ones protected and blessed during the fall of Judah and Jerusalem (3:10). Literally fulfilled (1:9; Jer. 29:11-18; Ezek. 9:1-6; Dan. 1:1-21)
8 Judgment upon the wicked during the fall of Judah and Jerusalem (3:11). Literally fulfilled (2 Kl. 25:7; Jer. 39:2-3; 39:5-8)
9 Judgment on the ancients (3:14)
10 Judgment on the princes

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Judgment on the daughters of Judah for their pride (3:16-17)
2 Destruction of the finery of their styles and customs (3:18-23)
3 Styles cursed instead of blessed (3:23)
4 Men slain in war (3:25)
5 Lamentation and mourning for the desolation of war (3:26)
6 Such scarcity of men after the future tribulation when 2/3 of the Jews are destroyed (Zech. 13:8-9) that there will be on the average, 7 women to a man and they will plead for husbands to take away their reproach (4:1)
7 The Branch of the Lord (the Messiah) will be honored and glorious (4:2; 11:1; Jer. 23:5; 33:15; Zech. 3:8; 6:12)
8 The fruit of the earth will be normal and perfect as before the curse (4:2; 35:1-7; 58:11-12; Joel 2:21-27)
9 A remnant of Israel shall escape the future tribulation and battle of Armageddon (4:2-3; Zech. 13:8-9; 14:14; Mt. 24:31; 25:31-46)
10 All the Jews left in Jerusalem after Armageddon will be converted and be holy (4:3; 59:20-21; Zech. 13:10-13:1; Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29)
11 The filth of the daughters of Judah shall be washed away by the spirit of judgment and the spirit of burning (4:4; Zech. 12:10-13:1, 8-9)
12 The blood of Jerusalem (crimes committed there) will be purged by the spirit of judgment and the spirit of burning (4:4; Jer. 30:6-7; Zech. 13:8-9; Mal. 3:2-3; Rom. 11:25-29)
13 Creation of a pillar of smoke by day and fire by night upon every dwelling in Jerusalem (4:5; Zech. 2:5. Cp. Ex. 13:21; 40:38)
14 Creation of a pillar of smoke by day and fire by night upon all the convocations of Israel at Jerusalem (4:5; Zech. 2:5. Cp. Ex. 13:21; 40:38)
15 A pavilion or covering will be created over all the people to protect them from excessive heat of the sun in the daytime; it will be for a place of refuge and a covering from storms and rain (4:6)

6th prophecy in Isaiah (Isa. 5:1):

24 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Complete destruction of Judah (5:1-7)
2 Woe to the covetous (5:8)
3 Many houses made completely desolate - without inhabitants (5:9)
4 Very small yield of crops (5:10)
5 Woe to drunkards (5:11-12)
6 Captivity of Judah (5:13. Cp. v 5-7; 2 Ki. 17 and 25)
7 Destruction to the honorable men of Judah (5:13)
8 Famine in Judah
9 The wicked of Judah consigned to hell (5:14)
10 The mean (common) man brought down and humbled (5:15)
11 The mighty man humbled
12 The proud and haughty humbled
13 Jehovah exalted because of His judgment on Judah (5:16)
14 God sanctified in righteousness
15 Human habitations made pastures for animals (5:17)
16 Strangers possessing the ruined places of the rich (5:17)
17 Woe to the Jews multiplying sin by the cart load (5:18-19)
18 Woe to the Jews having no sense of right and wrong because of sin (5:20)
19 Woe to the Jews that are proud and wise in their own eyes (5:21)
20 Woe to the Jews that are drunkards and justify the wicked and condemn the righteous (5:22-23)
21 Complete destruction to Judah because of rebellion against God's word (5:24-25)
22 Judgment upon Judah by the Gentiles from far off lands (5:26)
23 Their armies invincible like mighty lions invading the country (5:27-29)
24 Their destruction of the land and making it desolate (5:30)

All of this was fulfilled in the total destruction of Jerusalem and the captivity of Judah to Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36)

7th prophecy in Isaiah (6:9-13):

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Judah would hear, but refuse to understand (6:9; Mt. 13:14-15)
2 Judah would see, but not receive the truth (6:9; Mt. 13:14-15)
3 Judah's faculties would be misused in hearing and receiving the gospel (6:10; Mt. 13:14-15)
4 Judah would deliberately reject the gospel by hardening themselves against its claims in their lives (6:10; Mt. 13:14-15; Acts 7:51)
5 Judah would not be converted and healed because of rejection of Christ and His gospel (6:10; Mk. 6:1-6; Rom. 10:1-4)
6 Judah's rebellion would continue until their nation was destroyed and their country made utterly desolate (6:11). It was to remain desolate until the 2nd advent of Christ when they shall cry: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord (Mt. 23:37-39; Rom. 11:25-29; Zech. 12:10-14:21)
7 Judah's rebellion was to continue until they would have to be dispersed among the nations (6:12; Mt. 23:37-39; Lk. 21:20-24)
8 Judah's rebellion would end in a great forsaking (apostasy) in the midst of the land (Palestine, 6:12; Mt. 23:37-39)
9 In face of such destruction there would be a remnant which would return to the land. This was fulfilled under Ezra and Nehemiah - spoken of here as a tenth that shall return (6:13)
10 The remnant that would return was to be eaten (6:13). The Heb. ba'ar, trans. eaten here means to be consumed by fire or by eating; to kindle; put away; take away; burn; set on fire; waste. It could not mean that the remnant of the Jews would be eaten by cannibals, but that they would be consumed by the judgment of God as Judah had been, because of their sins. Yet, as a teil tree, and an oak which retain life in the roots when cut down, so the remnant would preserve life and instead of the race being extinguished it would spring to life again, grow and survive. This has been fulfilled to the letter and the remnant today is coming back to life; it will make the nucleus around which all the tribes of Israel will be gathered to become a great nation under the Messiah in the Millennium and New Earth (6:13; 9:6-7; 59:20-21; Hos. 3:4-5; Amos 9:9-15; Zech. 8:14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rom. 11:15)

8th prophecy in Isaiah (7:3-9):

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The confederacy shall not stand, and your defeat (that of Ahaz) will not come to pass by them (7:3-7)
2 Within 65 years Ephraim shall be broken and not be a people (7:8)
3 If you will not believe, you shall not be established (7:9)

9th prophecy in Isaiah (7:10-25):

12 predictions-fulfilled:

1 A virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and His name shall be called Immanuel (7:14)
2 Butter and honey shall He eat that He may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good (7:15)
3 Before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land shall be forsaken of both her kings (7:16)
4 The Lord shall bring upon you, your people, and your father's house, days that have not come from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah, even the king of Assyria (7:17)
5 Invasion from both Egypt and Assyria (7:18)
6 They shall come from Egypt and Assyria like bees and flies and settle in all places of your land (7:19)
7 The Lord will make a clean destruction in all the land (7:20)
8 There will be a remnant of people left in the land after the invasion (7:21-22)
9 Briers and thorns shall grow up where there were great vineyards (7:23)

10 The whole land will become a hunting ground for hunters (7:24)
11 The cultivated places will go out of cultivation and become a wilderness (7:25)
12 They shall be for pastures and wild animals

10th prophecy in Isaiah (8:1-4):

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 You will have a son by the prophetess whom you shall call Maher-shalal-hash-baz (8:1-3)
2 Before he shall have knowledge to say Father or Mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria (8:4)

Second son of Isaiah (8:1):

This prophecy is evidently a separate one from that of 7:10-25, but should be understood with it, as it deals with the second son of Isaiah (who was not yet born) being a sign to Israel like the first son as in 7:3, 15-16. The first child, Shear-jashub (meaning: a remnant shall return) was a sign to Judah that the nation was not to be totally destroyed, and that he would not be weaned or large enough to know good from evil before both kings of Syria and Ephraim would be killed. The second child, that was yet to be born after Isaiah gave the prophecy of 8:1-4, was to be named Maher-shalal-hash-baz, meaning that it would not be able to say Father or Mother before these 2 kings would be killed. The name means: haste to the spoil; that is, the spoils of both Syria and Ephraim were to be hastened or come quickly (v 1-4). Thus, both sons of Isaiah were signs and wonders to Israel (v 18)

11th prophecy in Isaiah (8:5-9:7):

14 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Invasion of Judah by Assyria (8:5-8)
2 Judgment upon Judah for alliances with, and dependence upon foreign nations (8:9)
3 Alliances with other nations will not stand (8:10-12)
4 The Messiah shall be for a sanctuary for the godly of Judah (8:13-14)
5 The Messiah will be a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence to many of both houses of Israel (8:13-14; Lk. 20:17; Rom. 9:32-33; 11:11; 1 Pet. 2:7-8); and they will be destroyed because of rejecting Him (8:15)
6 Those who have been consulting familiar spirits will wander through the land oppressed and made hungry by the judgments of God upon Judah, in spite of all the soothsayers and necromancers can do; and they will curse God and their king for their miseries (8:21)
7 They shall look up to heaven and down to the earth and find no relief from any source for the trouble and darkness of their lives (8:22)
8 Their miseries shall drive them into spiritual darkness and despair (8:22)
9 The gross spiritual darkness of the people of both houses of Israel, will not be total or permanent, like the terrible judgments of two other invasions (9:1)
10 The people will see great light in their spiritual darkness when the Messiah comes (9:2; Mt. 4:14-16)
11 The nations of Judah and Israel will be greatly multiplied in number and joy (9:3)
12 Judah and Israel both will be delivered from captivity as in the great deliverance in the days of Gideon (9:4-5)
13 Invasion after the return from captivity will not succeed (9:6)
14 The Messiah will be born in Judah

8 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The government of Judah and Israel shall be upon the shoulder of the Messiah (9:6)
2 The coming Messiah shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, the everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace (9:6)
3 His government and peace shall increase without end (9:7)
4 He shall rule upon the throne of David and over his kingdom forever
5 He shall order and establish the throne of David and his kingdom with judgment and with justice forever
6 The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform all this

4fold result of Messiah's ministry (8:14):

In this verse we have another direct prophecy of the coming Messiah and His ministry in Palestine (v 14; 20:17; Rom. 9:32-33; 11:11; 1 Pet. 2:7-8)

4fold result of Messiah's ministry:

1 He shall be a sanctuary to the godly (v 14). The Heb. mikdash is trans. sanctuary 64 times; santuaries 4 times; holy place 2 times; hallowed parts once; and chapel once. It must mean the same here as in all other passages - a place of refuge and of worship, not a snare or judgment as some believe. Could not the Messiah be a place of comfort, refuge, safety, salvation, and blessing, as described in the 91st Psalm and elsewhere?
2 A stone of stumbling to those who rebel against the Messiah (v 14; Lk. 20:17; Rom. 9:32; 11:11; 1 Pet. 2:8)
3 A rock of offence to those who rebel against the Messiah (v 14; Rom. 9:33; 1 Pet. 2:7-8)
4 A gin and a snare to rebels against the Messiah (v 14). The whole passage expresses the idea that Christ and His doctrines would be a blessing to the godly and an offence to stumble at for the ungodly of both houses of Israel

5 names of the Messiah (9:6):

1 Wonderful. Heb. peleh, a miracle; a marvelous thing; wonderful. Trans. wonders (Ex. 15:11; Ps. 77:11-15; 88:10-13; 89:5-6; Dan. 12:6); wonder (29:14); wonderful (v 6; 25:1; Ps. 119:129); wonderfully (Lam. 1:9); and marvelous things (Ps. 78:12)
2 Counsellor. Heb. ya'ats, advise; consult; to deliberate; guide. Trans. counsellor 24 times. This name expresses the idea that His is the Supreme Counsellor - the one who is qualified to give counsel and advice to all created beings
3 The mighty God. Heb. Gibbor, powerful; mighty; strong; champion; chief, and El, Almighty; the Strong One. It literally means the Mighty Almighty, or the conquering God. One of many places where the Messiah is called God (v 6; Jn. 1:1; 20:28; Rom. 9:5; 1 Tim. 3:16; Heb. 1:8; 1 Jn. 5:20)
4 The everlasting Father - the Father of eternity; the Planner of the ages; and Father of all time (Heb. 1:2). It does not mean that Jesus the Messiah is the one known as God, the Father, the first person of the Divine Trinity, for He is another person. See The Trinity, p. 280 of N. T.
5 The Prince of Peace - the Peaceful Prince. He shall promote and increase His government and peace without wars (v 6; 2:2-4)

5 eternal things (9:7):

1 The God-man (v 6)
2 His government (v 7)
3 Peace as a result of His reign
4 David's throne (v 7; 2 Sam. 7; Ps. 89:4; Lk. 1:32-33)
5 David's kingdom (v 7; 2 Sam. 7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15)

12th prophecy in Isaiah (9:8-10:4):

18 predictions-fulfilled:

1 All the people of Ephraim shall know this prophecy (9:8-10)
2 The enemies of Rezin, king of Syria, shall be allied against him (9:11)
3 The Syrians and Philistines shall devour Israel (9:12)
4 The Lord will cut off the leaders that cause Israel to sin (9:13-15)
5 The people also that err through their leaders will be destroyed (9:16)
6 Jehovah will cease to rejoice in the young men of Israel (9:17)
7 He shall not have mercy on the fatherless and widows because of sin (9:17)
8 The wickedness of Israel will cause them to be destroyed (9:18)
9 The wrath of Jehovah will cause the land to become darkened (9:19)
10 The people shall be the fuel of the fire of God's wrath
11 No man shall have compassion enough on his brother to spare him
12 There shall be such famine in the land that hunger shall not be satisfied from any source (9:20)
13 They shall eat their own flesh (offspring) (9:21)
14 There shall be civil war in Israel
15 Woe to those that decree unrighteous decrees and prescribe grief to others (10:1)
16 Woe to them that practice injustice and have respect of persons in judgment (10:2)
17 Desolation shall come upon them from afar and there will be no help (10:3)
18 I will forsake them and leave them to their own destruction (10:4)

13th prophecy in Isaiah (10:5-34):

8 predictions fulfilled:

1 I will send the Assyrain against an hypocritical nation (10:5-6)
2 I will give him charge against the people of My wrath to take spoil and tread them down like mire of the streets (10:6)
3 He has it in his heart to go beyond My charge and will think to destroy Judah and Jerusalem as he has destroyed many other nations (10:7-11)
4 After I use him to chasten Judah and Jerusalem I will punish him and humble him, for he thinks that it is by his own power that he has defeated so many nations (10:12-15)
5 Because of his pride and self-exaltion I will send judgment upon him until he is destroyed like a forest fire destroys the wood (10:16) (10:17)
6 He shall be destroyed in one day
7 His army will also be destroyed (v 18; 37:36-38)
8 The remnant of his army will be so small after this destruction that a child can count them (10:19)

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The remnant of Israel shall not trust the Assyrian anymore but shall depend upon Jehovah (10:20)
2 The remnant shall be gathered back to Palestine and return to God (10:21)
3 The end for the remnant shall be righteousness - they shall be saved (10:22)
4 There will be complete destruction of all the rest of the people as is determined (10:22-23)
5 The Assyrian shall smite Israel and oppress them as Egypt did (10:24)
6 The future tribulation will last only a short time (10:25)
7 My anger shall cease in the destruction of the Assyrian and his army
8 The Lord will destroy him according to the slaughter of Midian (10:26; Judg. 6-7)
9 His destruction will be as miraculous as the dividing of the Red Sea and as the plagues upon Egypt (10:26)
10 His burden that he has placed upon you will be destroyed because of the anointing (the Messiah, 10:27)
11 He will mobilize his great armies and come into Palestine and cover the land (10:28-31)
12 He shall remain at Nob and shake his hand against Jerusalem (10:32)
13 The Lord shall destroy him and all the exalted ones with him (10:33)
14 His armies shall also be destroyed like the thickets of the forest with iron (10:34)
15 Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one

14th prophecy in Isaiah (11:1-12:6):

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse (11:1)
2 A Branch shall grow out of his roots
3 The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon Him (11:2)
4 The Spirit of wisdom and understanding shall rest upon Him
5 The Spirit of counsel and might 6 The Spirit of knowledge
7 The Spirit of the fear of Jehovah

42 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The Holy Spirit shall make Him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord (11:3)
2 He shall not judge after the sight of His eyes
3 He shall not reprove after the hearing of His ears
4 He shall judge the poor with righteousness (11:4)
5 He shall reprove with equity for the meek of the earth
6 He shall smite the earth with the rod of His mouth
7 He shall slay the wicked with the breath of His lips
8 Righteousness shall be the girdle of His loins (11:5)
9 Faithfulness shall be the girdle of His reins
10 The wolf shall dwell with the lamb (11:6)
11 The leopard shall lie down with the kid
12 The calf and young lion and the fatling shall dwell together
13 A little child shall lead them
14 The cow and the bear shall feed together
15 Their young ones shall lie down together (11:7) ox 16 The lion shall eat straw like the 17 The sucking child shall play on the hole of an asp (11:8)
18 The weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice' den
19 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain (kingdom, 11:9)
20 The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea
21 In that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall be the standard of the people (11:10)
22 The Gentiles shall seek Him
23 His rest shall be glorious
24 In that day Jehovah shall gather Israel and Judah a second time from all nations (11:11-12)
25 The envy of Ephraim shall depart
26 The adversaries of Judah shall be cut off (11:13)
27 Ephraim shall not envy Judah
28 Judah shall not vex Ephraim
29 They (Ephraim and Judah) shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west (11:14)
30 They shall spoil them of the east
31 They shall rule Edom and Moab
32 The children of Ammon shall obey them
33 The Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea (11:15)
34 With a mighty wind shall He shake His hand over the river
35 He shall smite it in the 7 streams
36 Men shall walk through it dryshod
37 There shall be an highway for the remnant of Israel to return to Zion, as it was when they came out of Egypt (11:16)
38 In that day Israel will praise God for turning away His anger and giving comfort (12:1)
39 Jehovah will become the trust, strength, song, and salvation of Israel (12:3)
40 With joy they shall draw water out of the wells of salvation (12:3)
41 In that day Israel will preach and sing the name and works of Jehovah among men in all the earth (12:4-5)
42 The Holy One of Israel will be great in their midst (12:6)

In that day (10:20):

In that day - passing now to the time of the final fulfillment of the prophecy, in the day of the Lord, when the latter-day Assyrian king, the Antichrist, will seek to destroy all Judah and Jerusalem, but will be defeated and destroyed by Christ and His heavenly armies at His 2nd advent and the battle of Armageddon (v 20-34; Zech. 14:1-15; Rev. 19:19-21)

8 proofs of latter-day fulfillment:

1 The phrase in that day, as we have seen, generally refers to the day of the Lord (note, 2:11). It is clear here that it refers to a latter day fulfillment, for certain predictions of v 20-34 were not fulfilled in Isaiah's time
2 When this passage (v 20-34) is fulfilled Israel will no more trust in or depend upon the king of Assyria, but will rely wholly upon Jehovah (v 20). Israel will yet trust the future Assyrian king and make a 7-year covenant with him for protection and mutual assistance (Dan. 7:27; Mic. 5:3-6; Jn. 5:43); therefore, the prophecy is yet to be fulfilled
3 The remnant of Israel was to return to their own land (v 21-23). This has never been completely fulfilled and will not be until the end of this age and at the 2nd advent of Christ (11:10-16; 66:19-21; Jer. 31-32; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:29-31)
4 The remnant of Israel was to be converted by returning to God (v 21). This has never come to pass but it will happen at the 2nd advent of Christ (59:20-21; Ezek. 37; Zech. 12:10-13:1; 14:1-21; Rom. 11:25-29)

5 The consumption decreed refers to the destruction in the great tribulation when 2/3 of Israel will be destroyed and the population on earth greatly decreased due to the many plagues of the seals, trumpets, and vials during the last 7 years of this age (v 22-23; Zech. 13:8-9; Mt. 24:15-22)

6 The Assyrian will afflict Judah as the Assyrian king of Egypt who sought to destroy the nation (Ex. 1; 52:4); and since no Assyrian king did this while Israel dwelled in Zion before the captivities, then it must refer to the future day when they will again dwell in Zion (v 24)

7 This passage was to be fulfilled after God's indignation would cease and His anger would not destroy Israel again (v 25). Since the greatest tribulation and wrath of God upon Israel is yet future, the prophecy must refer to the future (Jer. 30:7; Dan. 9:27; Zech. 12:10-14:15; Rev. 12:6, 14; 13:1-18; 16:1-21)

8 The anointing (the Messiah) will break the Assyrain's yoke from off Israel; this has never been done as yet (v 27; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:6-10; 2:8-12; Rev. 19:11-21)

Burden of the Lord (13:1):

Chs. 13-66 were written during the reign of Hezekiah. Chs. 13-39 look forward to the captivities and chs. 40-66 to the restoration from captivity and to eternal restoration under the Messiah. As chs. 7-12 dealt with judgments upon Israel and Judah by Assyria, so chs. 13-23 deal with judgments upon various nations including Judah and Israel. In the main, this section deals with other nations in relation to their treatment of Israel

1 The burden of Babylon (13:1-14:27)
2 Of Philistia (14:28-32)
3 Of Moab (15:1-15:14)
4 Of Syria-Damascus (17:1-14)
5 Of Ethiopia or Abyssinia and the Egyptian Sudan (18:1-7)
6 Of Egypt (19:1-25)
7 Of Egypt and Ethiopia (20:1-6)
8 Of Babylon-the desert of the sea (21:1-10)
9 Of Dumah (21:11-12)
10 Of Arabia (21:13-17) 1-25)
11 Of Judah-the valley of vision (22:
12 Of Phoenicia or Tyre and Zidon (23:1-18)

15th prophecy in Isaiah (13:1):

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will stir up the Medes against them (Babylon, 13:17)
2 They shall not regard silver or delight in gold (13:17)
3 Their bows shall dash the young men to pieces (13:18)
4 They shall not have pity on pregnant women
5 They shall not spare children

40 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The 2nd coming of Christ with the saints and angels to destroy the armies of Antichrist, the future king of Babylon, in the day of the Lord (13:1-6)
2 The day of the Lord shall come as a destruction from God (13:7)
3 All men shall lose courage and be afraid in that day (13:7-8)
4 Pangs and sorrows shall take hold upon them, as a woman in travail (13:8)
5 They shall be amazed, ashamed, and confused (13:8)
6 The day of the Lord will come with a manifestation of the cruel wrath and anger of God to make the land desolate and destroy sinners out of it (13:9)
7 The sun, moon, stars, and constellations shall be darkened (13:10; Mt. 24:29-31)
8 The world will be punished for its evil ways (13:11)
9 The wicked will be punished for their iniquity
10 The arrogancy of the proud shall cease
11 The haughtiness of the terrible man will be brought low
12 A man who is saved from destruction in the day of the Lord shall be more valuable than fine gold (13:12)
13 The heavens shall shake and the earth shall be moved (13:13)
14 The armies of Antichrist shall be so confused that every man will flee for his life (13:14)
15 Those that are overtaken in flight shall be killed (13:15)
16 Their children shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes (13:16)
17 Their wives shall be ravished
18 Babylon shall be destroyed in the final destruction in the day of the Lord and will be no more like Sodom and Gomorrah (13:19)
19 It shall never be inhabited from the final destruction forever (13:20) 20 Arabians and shepherds will never roam there after that 21 Wild beasts of the desert shall lie there (13:21)
22 The houses of Babylon shall be full of wild creatures after that (13:21-22)
23 God will have mercy on Jacob and will yet choose Israel in that day (14:1)
24 God shall gather Israel and set them in their own land
25 Many strangers shall be joined to Israel in the day of their restoration
26 The Gentiles shall bring the Jews to their promised land (14:2; 11:11-16; 66:19-21)
27 Israel shall use the many strangers for servants and handmaids (14:2)
28 Israel shall capture their captors and rule their oppressors
29 The Lord will give Israel rest from her centuries of sorrow, fear, and hard bondage among the Gentiles (14:3)
30 In the day of Israel's restoration she shall sing a triumph song over the Antichrist, the future king of Babylon (14:3-23)
31 The Antichrist will be destroyed (14:4; 11:4; Dan. 7:11; 2 Th. 2:8)
32 Babylon will be no more (14:4-6; 19:19-22; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)
33 The whole earth will be blessed with rest, peace, and rejoicing when the Messiah reigns (14:7-8)
34 Hell will be moved to meet the Antichrist at his descent into it (14:9)
35 All the chief wicked dead in hell will taunt the Antichrist for being weak and defeated (14:9-11)
36 The chief wicked dead will also taunt Lucifer for his defeat and being cast into hell as they are (14:12-15)
37 The living nations and their rulers shall taunt Antichrist for his defeat and being cast into hell (14:16-20)
38 The children of Antichrist and the inhabitants will be destroyed (14:21-22)
39 Babylon itself shall be eternally destroyed, becoming desolate forever (14:23)
40 God's purpose to destroy Antichrist will be fully realized (14:24-27)

Babylon (13:1):

Babylon, called Sheshach (Jer. 25:25; 51:41) and Shinar (11:11; Gen. 11:1-9; 14:1-9; Dan. 1:2; Zech. 5:11) was one of the earliest and most celebrated cities of antiquity. Its hanging gardens were among the wonders of the ancient world. At the time of this prophecy Babylon was of little importance, but about 100 years later it reached its height under Nabopolassar and his son, Nebuchadnezzar who overthrew the Assyrian Empire which had ruled this part of the world so long. According to Herodotus the city was square in plan and measured 14 miles each side or 56 miles around-an area of 196 sq. miles. It had a broad water-filled moat around the outside and a wall which was over 800 ft. high and 87 ft. thick. According to Ctesias the city, which was on the Euphrates, was divided into two parts, the eastern and western, and was connected by a bridge 1,080 ft. long and 30 ft. wide. At each end of the bridge was a royal palace defended by 3 walls, the outer one being 7 miles around, the second one 4 1/2 miles around, and the inner wall being 2 1/2 miles around. The height of the middle one was 300 ft. and that of the towers on it 420 ft. The inner wall was higher than this and the outer wall somewhat lower. Streets ran from the outer walls east and west to the edge of the river and each was guarded by by brass gates set in walls which lined the river. The houses were 3 and 4 stories high. Babylon was started by Nimrod (Gen. 10:8-10); and as an empire it was the 3rd world power to oppress Israel in the times of the Gentiles (note c, Ps. 80:13; p. 311 of N. T.). See Babylon in Index

3 symbols of Babylon:

1 A great eagle (Ezek. 17)
2 The head of gold (Dan. 2:37-38)
3 A lion (Dan. 7:3-4)

Sanctified ones (13:3)

It has been held by many that these sanctified ones were the Medes of v 17, and this may be true as an immediate reference; but it would be best to understand this in connection with the saints coming with Christ as part of the armies of heaven to destroy the future king of Babylon, the Antichrist, for the whole two chapters, except v 17-18, have a future fulfillment. Furthermore, this is in perfect harmony with mighty ones of this verse, who could be understood as the angels coming with Christ and the resurrected saints as described in Joel 2:1-11; Zech. 14:1-5; Mt. 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21

3 proofs primary reference in 2nd advent:

1 The whole of these two chs. deals with the final destruction in the day of the Lord (v 6, 9), when Babylon is destroyed as Sodom and Gomorrah (13:19-22), when Israel is given final rest from sorrow and fear (14:1-4), and when Antichrist and Satan are defeated and sent to sheol and the abyss (14:9-27)
2 The only verses that are clear as to having an immediate fulfillment are v 17-18. All the others can be best understood with the latter day fulfillment of the destruction of Antichrist and his capital city, Babylon
3 Such statements as sanctified ones, those that rejoice in My highness (v 3), the Lord mustereth the host of the battle (v 4), statements of the sanctified and mighty ones coming from the end of heaven, even the Lord (v 5), and mention of the day of the Lord (v 6, 9), and the heavens being darkened (v 9-11 with Mt. 24:29-31) all confirm the fact of a latter day fulfillment and indicate that v 2-5 picture the heavenly saints and angels coming with Christ instead of describing the Medes overthrowing Babylon. Some of the above statements at least, could not possibly refer to the Medes and the overthrow of ancient Babylon as predicted in v 17-18; Dan. 5:24-31; 7:4-5; 8:3-4

10 things destroyed in the day of the Lord (13:6):

1 Much of Palestine (v 5-9)
2 Much of the world (v 11; Rev. 16:17-21)
3 Literal Babylon (v 19-22; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)
4 Antichrist (14:9-11; Dan. 7:11; 8:25; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:19-21)
5 Antichrist's armies (Ezek. 38:21-23; 39:2-24; Zech. 14:12-14; Rev. 19:11-21)
6 The power of Satan and all demons and fallen angels (14:12-17; 24:22; 25:7)
7 All beast-marked men (Rev. 14:9-11)
8 All goat nations (Mt. 25:31-46)
9 Cities of the nations (Rev. 16:17-21)
10 Jerusalem, being divided into 3 parts and 7,000 killed (Rev. 11:13; 16:19)

28fold judgment in the day of the Lord (13:6):

1 How!! for the day of the Lord is at hand (13:6)
2 It shall come as a destruction from the Almighty
3 All hands shall be faint (13:7)
4 All hearts shall melt
5 All men shall be afraid (13:8)
6 Pangs and sorrows shall take hold upon them as a woman in travail
7 They shall be amazed at each other
8 Their faces shall be as flames
9 The day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger (13:9)
10 The land will be made desolate
11 Sinners shall be destroyed out of it
12 The stars and constellations shall not give their light (13:10)
13 The sun shall be darkened
14 The moon shall not shine
15 The world will be punished for their evil and extreme wickedness before God to fulfill the prophecies (13:11; Joel 2:1-3:21; Zech. 14)
16 The wicked punished for their iniquity
17 The arrogancy of the proud will cease
18 The haughtiness of the terrible shall be made low
19 A man that is left shall be more precious than fine gold (13:12)
20 The heavens will shake (13:13)
21 The earth shall remove out of her place in the wrath of the Lord and in this day of His fierce anger
22 The earth shall be as a chased roe, and as a sheep no man takes up (13:14)
23 Every man shall turn to his own people, and flee to his own land
24 Everyone that is found shall be thrust through (13:15)
25 Every group that is joined together shall fall by the sword
26 Their children shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes (13:16)
27 Their houses shall be spoiled
28 Their wives shall be ravished

Medo-Persia (13:17):

These are the only two verses of the passage that have an immediate fulfillment concerning Babylon. Here we have the 5fold description of the Medes who conquered Babylon under Darius and Cyrus (21:2; 44:28; 45:1; Jer. 51:11; Dan. 5:25-31). What indicates an immediate fulfillment is that the invaders are named. Otherwise this would normally be understood as referring to the future day of the Lord, as the remaining part of chs. 13-14 does Media was a country east of Assyria, whose people came from Madai, son of Japheth (Gen. 10:2). It extended from Armenia on the north by the Caspian Sea and Persia on the south. It was one of the most fertile regions in Asia. Media was early conquered by Assyria who held sway over it for 520 years; but in the time of Tiglath-pileser and Shalmaneser during the reigns of Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, the Medes rebelled; and when the Assyrian army of Sennacherib was destroyed by the angel in the days of Hezekiah (37:38-39) they gained complete independence. Thus, at the time of Isaiah's prophecy of Medes overthrowing Babylon (v 17-18; 21:2) such a thing was fantastic and impossible, for Media was simply a province of Assyria, and Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar was yet to attain to its greatness. The Medes, after gaining independence from Assyria, conquered the Persians and all upper Asia, uniting them to their kingdom. By the help of Babylon they finally conquered Nineveh; and Assyria became a province of Media. Later, the Medo-Persia empire became the 4th great power in the times of the Gentiles to oppress Israel, the 2nd empire of the prophecies of Dan. 2:38-44; 7:4-5; 8:20-25; 11:1-5. See 8 mountain kingdoms and Israel, p. 311 of N. T.

3 symbols of Medo-Persia:

1 Breast and arms of silver (Dan. 2)
2 The bear (Dan. 7:5)
3 The ram (Dan. 8:3-4, 20)

10fold final destruction of Babylon (13:19):

1 Babylon will be finally overthrown like Sodom and Gomorrah-totally destroyed by God (v 19)
2 It shall never be inhabited again after the final destruction (v 20)
3 Arabians shall not pitch tent there
4 Shepherds shall not make fold there
5 Wild beasts shall lie there (v 21)
6 The houses of Babylon shall be full of doleful creatures
7 Owls shall dwell there
8 Satyrs shall dance there
9 Wild beasts of the islands shall cry in the deserted houses (v 22)
10 Dragons shall inhabit her good palaces

Babylon destroyed (13:19):

If Babylon is ever to be destroyed in the way that God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, that is, completely, this must be in the future, for such has not happened in the past (v 19; Jer. 50:40). This is one reason for associating the prophecy with the future destruction of Babylon, as described in Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24. See note r, Rev. 1:19 and Babylon in Index

9 points of similar destruction:

1 Destroyed for the same sins (Gen. 19:5; Lk. 17:28-29; Rev. 18:2-5)
2 Miraculous (v 6-16, 19; Jer. 50-40; 51:42, 64; Rev. 16:17-21; 18:8)
3 By fire (v 19; Gen. 19:24; Rev. 18:8)
4 By earthquake causing both to sink (Jer. 51:64; Rev. 16:17-21). It is said that ruins of Sodom and Gomorrah have now recently been discovered under the Dead Sea
5 All inhabitants destroyed (v 19-22; Gen. 19:24; Jer. 51:37; Lk. 17:29; Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24)
6 Destroyed in vengeance (v 5-16, 19-22; Jer. 50:28; Rev. 18:1-24; 19:2)
7 Suddenly (v 19; Gen. 19:24; Jer. 51:8; Rev. 18:8-10, 17, 19)
8 God's people commanded to come out in both instances so they would not be destroyed (Gen. 18:21-33; 19:15-24; Jer. 51:6, 45; Rev. 18:4)
9 Never to be rebuilt - to remain desolate and uninhabited forever (v 19-22; Gen. 19:24; Jer. 50:13, 23, 39-40; 51:26, 62; Rev. 18)

16th prophecy in Isaiah (14:28-32)

5 predictions - fulfilled:

1 Philistia not to rejoice because the rod or king of Judah (Uzziah) who smote them was dead, for out of the serpent's root shall come a cockatrice (referring to Hezekiah) and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent. (Uzziah and Judah were considered to be a serpent to Philistia). The thought is that Hezekiah, the son of Ahaz, the son of Uzziah, would be just as disastrous to them as the other kings of Judah (v 29). This was fulfilled by Hezekiah completely defeating the Philistines (2 Ki. 18:8-12)

2 The firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down safely. This refers to those parts of Judah, which were always exposed to Philistine invasions, being safe from them because Hezekiah would completely subdue the Philistines and make his country safe (v 30; 2 Ki. 18:8-12)

3 I will fill your root with famine, and he shall slay your remnant. This refers to the complete destruction of the power of Philistia (v 30; 2 Ki. 18:8-12)

4 Philistia should howl, for judgment shall come to them from Judah in the north (v 31; 2 Ki. 18:8-12)

5 It shall be declared (during the war between Philistia and Hezekiah of Judah) that God has founded Zion and Judah, and that He is the protector of the people who trust in Him (v 32)

17th prophecy in Isaiah (15:1-16:12)

24 predictions - fulfilled:

1 Ar (the capital of Moab) will be laid waste in one night and brought to silence (15:1)
2 Kir of Moab is laid waste and brought to silence in one night
3 He (Moab) will go up to the high places to weep (15:2)
4 Moab shall howl and cut off their beards and the hair of their heads in mourning
5 They shall mourn in sackcloth in the streets and on house tops (15:3)
6 Everyone in Moab shall howl and weep abundantly
7 Heshbon and other cities shall also cry and weep (15:4)
8 The soldiers of Moab shall be defeated and cry out, for their lives will be grievous to them because of judgment
9 My (Isaiah's) heart shall cry out for the calamity of Moab (15:5)
10 The fugitives of Moab shall flee to Zoar like a 3 year old heifer, because of the destruction fallen upon them
11 The waters of Nimrim shall dry up (15:6)
12 Crops shall fail in Moab
13 The surplus of past crops shall be carried away (15:7)
14 There will be howling in all the borders of Moab (15:8)
15 The blood of battle will color the waters of Dimon (15:9)
16 Wild animals shall take their toll of the remnant left in Moab (15:9)
17 The pride, haughtiness, wrath, and lies (boastings) of Moab shall be vain and impotent in the day of his destruction
18 One part of Moab shall mourn for another part (16:7)
19 Drought shall come upon the fields and vineyards (16:8)
20 The invaders shall destroy the most fruitful plants - or, become drunken on the fruits of the fertile lands from Moab to Heshbon and Jazer (16:8-9)
21 The joy of harvesters shall cease (16:10)
22 My (Isaiah's) bowels shall be moved with great compassion when I see the complete destruction and the suffering of Moab (16:11)
23 Moab will be weary of climbing to the high places to offer sacrifice and pray to gods that never hear (16:12)
24 Moab shall never prevail through such vain worship and trust

9 predictions - unfulfilled:

1 Moab will yet be at the fords of Arnon (the north border of Moab) to welcome Israel as she flees from Antichrist into the mountains of Edom and Moab - countries that escape him (16:2; point 10, col. 1, p. 307 of N. T.)
2 Moab will take counsel (or advice) and execute justice in protecting Israel from Antichrist who will be the common foe of both Israel and Moab in the tribulation days (16:3)
3 Moab will protect Israel from Antichrist like hiding something in the darkness of night
4 Moab will not betray the Israelites as they flee from Judea into the mountains (16:3; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12:6, 14)
5 Moab will permit Israel to dwell in her land during the last 3 1/2 years of this age and during the great tribulation - known as the time of Jacob's trouble (16:4; Jer. 30:1-9)
6 Moab will be a covering to Israel from the face of Antichrist the spoiler (16:4; Dan. 11:40-44)
7 Moab will protect Israel until the very end of this age, until the end of Antichrist, until the spoiler ceases to be, until the oppressors of Israel are consumed out of the land, and until the throne of David is established again under the Messiah (16:4-5)
8 The throne of David will be established in mercy again (9:6-7; 16:5; Jer. 30:1-9; Ezek. 34:23-24; 37:24-25; Hos. 3:4-5; Acts 15:13-18)
9 The Son of David, the Messiah, shall sit in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging, seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness among men in all the earth (16:5; 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18)

The Antichrist (14:6):

The Antichrist is particularly called the wicked (v 5; 11:4) and that wicked (2 Th. 2:8), because he is that man of sin who is to oppose God and all that is called God (2 Th. 2:3-4)

14 facts about Antichrist:

1 The king of Babylon (v 4)
2 The wicked (v 5; 11:4; 2 Th. 2:8)
3 Supreme power of rulers (v 5)
4 The destroyer of people (v 6)
5 Ruler of nations (v 6; Rev. 17:12-17)
6 Persecutor of saints (v 6; Rev. 13)
7 Oppressor of earth (v 16)
8 Conqueror of nations
9 Scourge of the earth (v 17, 20)
10 Destroyer of cities (v 17)
11 Unmerciful to captives
12 Betrayer and murderer of his own people (v 20)
13 The Assyrian (v 25; Mic. 5:1-6)
14 Oppressor of Israel (v 26)

6fold taunt of Antichrist (14:12):

Here we have a 9fold taunt by people in hell, of Lucifer (v 12-15), as we have had a 6fold taunt of Antichrist in v 9-11. The original fall of Lucifer (v 12-14), as well as his final casting down to hell itself (v 15), which is the end of all rebels against God, is the subject of this passage

1 Lucifer is the name of Satan, as is agreed by Bible scholars (v 12). Lucifer (Heb. Heylel), means brightness; morning star. From halal, to shine

2 Satan is the only one in Scripture referred to as having actually fallen from heaven (v 12; Lk. 10:18); and the only personal ruler that is yet to be cast out of heaven with fallen angels (Rev. 12:7-12). This identifies him as Lucifer of this passage

3 Satan is the only person other than Christ and angels who is called a morning star (v 12). Angels are so-called in Job 38:7; and Christ is called the the bright and morning star in Rev. 22:16; so whoever Lucifer is he could not be a mere man but a heavenly being

4 Lucifer actually ascended to heaven in an effort to exalt his throne above the stars of God and become like the most High. This no earthly man could do, for he would have no access to heaven apart from God (v 13-14)

5 This whole passage has no literal meaning if interpreted in connection with a man, but in the light of other plain passages about the fall of Satan it clearly refers to him (v 12-15; Ezek. 28:11-17; Mt. 25:41; Lk. 10:19; Eph. 6:10-18; Rev. 12:7-12)

6 This is another example of the law of double reference - two persons, one natural and the other supernatural, being involved in the same passage, as when Christ said to Peter, Get thee behind Me, Satan (Mt. 16:23), and the Lord said, I will put enmity between thee and the woman (Gen. 3:15). In this chapter we have the earthly king of Babylon addressed (v 4-11, 16-20) and the invisible king of Babylon also referred to in v 12-15. See notes on the law of double reference, p. 42

9 facts about Lucifer (14:12):

1 He was cast out of heaven (v 12; Lk. 10:18). If he fell from heaven, he must have been cast out, and if cast out he must have ascended to heaven in the first place to be cast out. There was some reason for him going there, and not staying there after he got there. It must have been a forced and bodily casting out, a departure because of superior power and forces

2 He was cut down to the ground (v 12; Lk. 10:18). This was the reason he did not remain in heaven. Heb. gada, to fell a tree; destroy anything; cut down; cut off; cut asunder. He was forcibly intercepted in his invasion of heaven, and was defeated and cast down as a tree being felled by the woodsman (9:10; 15:2; 22:25; 45:2). He was cut down to the ground; he found himself back on the earth he ascended from and which he ruled before his fall and invasion of heaven

3 He had already weakened the nations (v 12; Ezek. 28:11-17). This means that before his invasion of heaven he had weakened the nations of earth over whom he had ruled since the creation of the earth and its inhabitants. It was in a period before Adam's time

7 proofs Lucifer ruled men:

(1) They are called nations here. Heb. goy, trans. Gentiles, nation, nations, people, and heathen hundreds of times, and never trans. angels. The nations he ruled over and weakened then, must have been made up of men

(2) God told Adam to replenish the earth, not replenish heaven or some other planet (Gen. 1:28). He told Noah to do the same thing 1656 years later (Gen. 9:1). According to this, it is as reasonable to believe that the earth was plenished before Adam's time as it is to accept that it was plenished before Noah's. Furthermore, the command to replenish it meant to do so with their own kind - men; and this indicates the kind of inhabitants which the earth had in the first place. Adam and his race can only reproduce their own kind (Gen. 1:11; 6:20)

(3) Jeremiah confirms the fact that men, not angels, inhabited the earth before Adam, for in his description of the chaotic earth he says there was no man. In the time before Adam and chaos, men lived in cities and in fruitful places on earth like men of today, so they must have eaten food and been mortal as we are today. See notes on Jer. 4:23-26

(4) Ezekiel also confirms the fact that they were people (goy, as in point 1, above), and were ruled by kings. Both terms are used in Ezek. 28:11-19. See notes there

(5) Peter indicates that the pre-Adamites were mortal beings, for they could be drowned. The world (Gr. kosmos, social order) that then was (before Adam's day), being overflowed with water perished: But the heavens and the earth which are now (since the 6 days' work of Gen. 1:3-2:25)... are kept in store reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men... we look for new heavens and new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness (see notes on 2 Pet. 3:5-13)

(6) Moses confirms this further by revealing the fact of the flood which caused the pre-Adamites to be drowned (Gen. 1:2, notes)

(7) No statement regarding angels or spirit beings of any kind living on the earth can be found in Scripture. Angels of Satan are spoken of as stars of heaven, indicating that they were originally created to be God's subjects in heaven and not Lucifer's on earth (Rev. 12:1-12)

The only statement in Scripture that causes some to stumble over the idea of pre-Adamites being men is 1 Cor. 15:45 where it speaks of the first man Adam; but this could be understood by realizing that he was created the first of this present race of men. It should never be taken to mean that he was the first being who ever lived on the earth, for others, even nations made up of men-mortal beings capable of being drowned in a flood, operated in a social system before Adam and the flood of Lucifer's time

4 I will ascend into heaven (v 13). This is one of the things Lucifer said in his heart when planning to overthrow God in heaven. According to Col. 1:15-18, thrones, dominions, principalities, and powers, visible and invisible, were created in heaven and in earth, which shows the establishment of kingdoms in many places in the heavens, on other planets, besides the earth. Lucifer was given dominion of the earth and worked deceitfully to get other angelic rulers to follow him in his war against God. Not only did Lucifer's own earthly, mortal subjects rebel, but over 1/3 of God's angels, for there are that many still with Satan to be finally cast down to earth in the future tribulation (Rev. 12:1-12). The place of mobilization was the earth. How long they rebelled before the actual break with God is not known

5 I will exalt my throne above the stars of God (v 13). This statement not only proves that Lucifer's plan was to invade heaven, dethrone God, and become the supreme ruler of all creations, but it shows that he already was a ruler. If he had a throne he had a kingdom and he himself was a king; he had subjects to rule over and there must have been a location for the kingdom. Who were his subjects? The pre-Adamite men of point 3, above; and his kingdom was located on the earth, as seen in point 7, below

6 I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north (v 13). Lucifer was not satisfied to sit on his own throne, but wanted to sit also on God's throne to be worshipped as the Supreme Sovereign of all creations. This gives the location or direction of heaven - north of all creations, and reveals the fact that there is a congregation of saints or holy beings who gather for worship of God. In Ps. 75:6-7 it speaks of promotion coming, not from the east, west, or south, but from the Lord; so according to this also, the Lord and heaven are in the north

7 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds (v 14). This settles the matter regarding the location of Lucifer's kingdom, before Adam's time

3 things locate it:

(1) It had to be under the planet heaven, or Lucifer could not have determined in his heart to ascend into heaven (v 13)

(2) It had to be under the stars of God or he could not have determined to exalt his throne above them (v 13)

(3) It had to be under the clouds that surround the earth or he could not have determined to ascend above them (v 14). Though a kingdom could be located many places under heaven and under the stars, it could not be under the clouds of earth without being on earth. This should convince us that Lucifer had an earthly kingdom, not an heavenly one, and that his subjects were earthly, not heavenly. Furthermore, since angels and other spirit beings are not constituted like the beings created to live on the earth, we must conclude that they were not the earthly subjects of Lucifer's kingdom. The fact that angels of Satan are now confined to the heavenlies surrounding the earth is proof that they no longer are fit to reside in heaven; and the fact that they will be confined eternally in a hell beneath the earth (Mt. 25:41), proves that they sinned in connection with the earth and Lucifer's program of invading heaven from the earth

8 I will be like the most High (v 14). This was the central idea around which revolved all the sinful and rebellious activities of Lucifer. It is a noble trait to be desirous of being like God or imitating Him in His consecration to the highest good of all; but to transgress the laws of God and the central aim of such consecration, to become selfish and devoted to a life of self-gratification at the expense of the highest good of being and the universes, is the greatest of all crimes among free moral agents. Lucifer wanted to become like God at the expense of God and all who opposed him; and this was extreme sinfulness against God and nature. It was by this appeal to be like God that Eve was deceived (Gen. 3:5). Christ came to imitate God among men, and to set an example of true God-likeness, that of being like God in consecration to the good of all, not for the good of self-gratification. Thus He repeatedly declared the true nature of consecration and godliness. See Christ's union with the Father, p. 105 of N. T.

9 You shall be brought down to hell. This will be the final doom of Satan and all who follow him (v 15; Mt. 25:21; Rev. 20:10)

6fold oath of God to destroy Antichrist (14:24):

6fold oath of God to destroy Antichrist:

1 Surely I have thought it shall come to pass; I will fulfil it (v 24)

2 As I have purposed it shall stand

3 I will break the Assyrian in My land (Palestine). Antichrist is so-called in v 25; 10-24; 30-31; Mic. 5:1-8, because he will rule the territory of the old Assyrian empire. He is also called the king of Babylon (v 4), the prince that shall come, of the Roman empire (Dan. 9:26), that king of the north (Syria), because he will rule all these territories

4 I will break him upon My mountains and tread him under feet (My feet, v 25; 63:1-6)

5 Then his yoke shall depart from off them (Israel, v 25; 10:27; Jer. 30:8)

6 His burden shall depart from off their (Israel's) shoulders (v 25; 10:27). This is the purpose of God-to rid the whole earth of this oppressor that has stretched forth his hand upon many nations (v 26; Dan. 11:40-45; Rev. 19:11-21). No man can cancel this purpose of God (v 27)

10fold desolation of the city Babylon (14:21):

1 Prepare slaughter for the children because of the sins of parents (v 21)
2 That they might not rise or live
3 That they might not possess the land
4 That they might not continue to build cities on earth
5 I will rise up against them and cut off from Babylon the name (v 22)
6 I will cut off the remnant
7 I will cut off the son
8 I will cut off the nephew
9 I will also make it a possession for the bittern and pools of water (v 23)
10 I will sweep it with destruction

Wandering ones (16:3):

The wandering ones are the outcasts of Israel whom Moab is commanded to permit to enter their country to be protected from Antichrist. Moab, Edom, and Ammon are to escape him, according to Dan. 11:40-45; so these countries will be the place for Israelites to flee to for protection during the 1,260 days they are to be out of their land (Mt. 24:15-24; Rev. 12:6, 14).

In v 1 it seems that the daughters of Moab will also wander. They will, for a short time be disturbed by Antichrist's sudden capture of all Palestine, not knowing whether he will attempt to enter their country also. It will soon be known though that they will escape him because of new wars in the north and east (Dan. 11:44); so they will become settled again and welcome the wandering Jews who are fleeing from Palestine

16th prophecy in Isaiah (16:13-14):

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Within 3 years (v 14)
2 The glory of Moab shall be brought low
3 A great multitude shall be destroyed
4 A remnant shall be left; it will be very small and feeble

19th prophecy in Isaiah (17:1-14)

15 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Damascus will be destroyed (17:1)
2 It shall be a ruinous heap
3 The cities of Aroer will be forsaken (17:2)
4 They shall be shelters for flocks
5 There will not be enough men left to drive them away (17:3)
6 The fortress of Ephraim shall cease
7 The kingdom of Syria shall cease from Damascus
8 The remnant of Syria shall cease
9 They shall depart as the glory did from Israel
10 The glory of Jacob shall be made thin-diminished (17:4)
11 Jacob shall wax lean in body
12 The riches of Damascus will be taken away by the invaders like the harvesters gather the wheat, grapes, olives, and other crops (17:5)
13 Not much will be left-it will be like a few olives left on branches hard to reach (17:6)
14 Then few people who are left will recognize that the judgment is from God; and they will look to Him instead of idols (v 7-8)
15 Strong cities shall become desolate because of their alliance with Israel who is the object of God's wrath because of sin (v 9-10)

6 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Many nations shall be mobilized against Israel (17:12-13)
2 God shall rebuke them (17:13)
3 They shall flee afar off
4 They shall be chased as chaff that flies before the wind, and like a rolling thing carried about in a wind
5 They shall not flee and escape in the darkness of the night, for at evening time there shall be light as in the day, so that their destroyers will see to slay them (17:14; Zech. 14:5-7)
6 The night shall be as light as day and they will be destroyed by the time morning breaks (17:14; Zech. 14:1-7)

Defeat of Syria (Isa. 17:1):

The defeat of Rezin and the destruction of Damascus were fulfilled by the Assyrians (v 1; 7:1-25; 8:3-4; 2 Ki. 16:5-18)

7 great judgments by Assyria:

1 Damascus, the capital of Syria, will be destroyed (v 1)
2 The cities of Aroer shall be forsaken (v 2). There were 3 cities named Aroer. It could be that all are involved in this reference; or, it could mean cities around Aroer, in which case the reference would be to the one on the river Arnon which was within ancient Moab and later in Reuben, for the Assyrians did defeat this part of Israel when Moab was destroyed (2 Ki. 15:29-17:41)
3 The fortress of Ephraim shall cease (v 3). This means that the 10-tribe kingdom and Samaria would be destroyed also by Assyria, which was fulfilled 721 B.C. (2 Ki. 17). Ephraim was the usual name used by Isaiah in referring to the 10-tribe part of Israel (v 3; 7:2-9; 9:9; 11:13; 28:1-3)
4 Syria as a kingdom shall fall (v 3)

5 The glory of Jacob and Israel shall depart and there will be few in number left (v 3-11). The word glory here denotes dignity and power on which they relied and of which they boasted

6 The remnant of Syria will also be removed (v 3)

7 The glory of Jacob shall be made thin; that is, the power of Israel was to be diminished by the destruction of the northern kingdom, called Ephraim here (v 4)

20th prophecy in Isaiah (18:1-7):

6 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Woe to the land shadowing with wings, beyond the rivers of Ethiopia (18:1)
2 God will lift up an ensign among the nations; and they are commanded to see it (18:3)
3 He will blow a trumpet among the nations; and they are commanded to hear it
4 The Lord will take His rest and consider in His dwelling place; and the crops will not be harvested (18:4-5)
5 The crops will be left to the fowls and beasts of the earth to feed upon during the summer and winter (18:6)
6 In that time-the time of the fulfillment of this woe, a present shall be brought from this land to mount Zion to the Lord of hosts (18:7)

7 proofs this land is Ethiopia (18:1):

1 Shadowing with wings (v 1). Heb. for shadowing is tselatsal, trans. elsewhere the locust (Dt. 28:42); cymbals (2 Sam. 6:5; Ps. 150:5); and fish spears (Job 41:7). The Heb. for wings is kanaph, edge; extremity; wing; flap; pinnacle; overspreading. The term literally means whirring of wings and to what it refers is not clear

2 Which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia (v 1). To make this chapter a prophecy of the United States on the assumption that the wings refer to the eagle, the country's emblem, is to fall into the error of inventing foolish and fantastic theories to suit the imagination. The land referred to is definitely beyond, over against, or on the other side of the rivers of Ethiopia, which clearly identifies it as Ethiopia and the Egyptian Sudan. Regarding wings, it is known that Ethiopia is one of the homes of the dreaded tsetze fly. As to rivers it is located between the White Nile and the Blue Nile. Cp. Zeph. 3:10

3 That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes (v 2). This further locates the country in the vicinity of the Nile. The word sea in Scripture is used of various bodies of water, including the Nile (19:5) and the Euphrates (Jer. 51:36). That the Nile is referred to is clear from the fact that bulrushes or papyrus plants grew only on this river, and it was common for bulrush boats to be seen on it (v 2; Ex. 2:3. Cp. Ezek. 30:9). Sometimes bundles of the plant were bound together making a raft; sometimes the leaves were plaited basket-fashion and coated with tar (Ex. 2:3)

4 A nation scattered and peeled (v 2, 7). The Heb. for scattered is mashak, to stretch out; to prolong; to develop; to be tall. Peeled is from the Heb. marat, to make smooth or bright (1 Ki. 7:45; Ezek. 21:10-11). This could read tall and smooth, or tall and bronzed

5 A people terrible from their beginning (v 2, 7)

6 A nation meted out and trodden down (under foot)-or, more correctly trans. thus: a nation terrible in all its history as stretching lines over others marking them out for destruction (v 2, 7). This is the only idea in harmony with the other statements of this nation. The Berkeley reads: "a people dreaded near and far, that conquers and treads down." Moffatt: "A terror far and near, a sturdy race of conquerors." Fenton: "a terrible race in its past and its future, a disciplined dominant people." Young: "Unto a people fearful from its beginning and onwards, a nation meting out by line, and treading down." Rotherham: "Unto the people terrible from their beginning and onwards, a nation most mighty and subduing"

7 Whose land the rivers have spoiled (v 2, 7), that is, whose lands the rivers have washed away. This is particularly true of Ethiopia, the Egyptian Sudan and regions above the cataracts of the Nile. Branches of the Nile continually wash away the banks and deposit the dirt on the lands of the lower Egypt

Future defeat of Ethiopia (18:4):

Jehovah has made clear His purpose to punish the Ethiopians described in v 1-2, 7. These people will be making plans against God and Israel, and will be mobilized with other nations under Antichrist to fight in the battle of Armageddon. The Ethiopians will be at his steps (Dan. 11:40-45). It is revealed here that they will all be defeated, and the manner in which it will be done is shown. God will sit calmly while these preparations are being made-as the sun shines on the earth while the crops are growing, and the dew gently falls in the heat of harvest (v 4), but before their plans are completed, He will suddenly interfere and destroy them like one appearing before the harvest is ripe and cutting it down (v 5). God comforts Judah here by showing that when the nations are gathered to destroy them He will undertake for them and destroy their enemies (v 4-5). The bones of these enemies will remain unburied for months; and the fowls of the air and beasts of the field will feed upon them (v 6). All this proves a latter day fulfillment, for at no time in history has this literally been fulfilled. Such is not only definitely predicted here for the future but in many other prophecies it states that at Armageddon the Jews will be delivered from the Gentiles, including the Ethiopians, and that the many slain on the battlefield will make meat for the fowls and beasts of the field for 7 months and longer (v 4-6; Ezek. 39:1-24; Dan. 11:40-45; Mt. 24:28-31; Lk. 17:31-37; Rev. 19:11-21)

Egypt in Scripture (19:1):

The origin of the name Egypt is not known. Egyptus is said to have been an ancient king of this country in north Africa-a region made up mostly of a great valley through which the river Nile flows, having its source 4,160 miles south of the Mediterranean in the heart of Africa. Egypt proper begins about 600 miles south of the Mediterranean. The Nile divides itself about 50 miles south of the sea and parts into 7 streams; it is called the Delta or Lower Egypt where the river runs out into the sea. Egypt was the site of the first great civilization; and it was the first of 8 Gentile world powers oppressing Israel in the times of the Gentiles. It is symbolized by a crocodile in Scripture (51:9; Ezek. 29:3). Together with Assyria, it oppressed Israel before the time of Nebuchadnezzar and Daniel, in the very first of the times of the Gentiles. Some think that these times began with Nebuchadnezzar; but, since both Egypt and Assyria oppressed the Jews before Daniel's time we must include them also in the full length of such a period. Egypt oppressed Israel now and again for nearly 1,500 years before Daniel prophesied of 6 world powers to oppress them from his day forward. Egypt oppressed Israel during 80 years of the life of Moses, 10 years longer than Nebuchadnezzar did. Assyria oppressed Israel nearly 200 years (before Nebuchadnezzar) and was the kingdom to take the 10 tribes captive 139 years before Babylon took the 2 tribes. Would not these oppressions of Israel be as much a part of the times of the Gentiles as any since Nebuchadnezzar? There is no scripture limiting them to 2,520 years or saying they began with Nebuchadnezzar. Daniel did not see the whole length of the times of the Gentiles, only the period from his day forward. The Assyrians conquered Egypt after the death of Joseph and oppressed Israel (52:4), their king becoming the one that knew not Joseph (Ex. 1). Egypt was conquered by several other foreign powers, including Ethiopia, Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece and Rome, and helped to oppress Israel as a part of all these empires. See col. 2, p. 873; 311 of N. T. and seven times of Lev. 26

21st prophecy in Isaiah (19:1-25)

36 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Jehovah shall come into Egypt riding a swift cloud (19:1)
2 The idols of Egypt shall be moved

at his presence
3 The heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it (19:2)
4 There shall be civil war in Egypt
5 The spirit of Egypt shall fail (19:3)
6 I will destroy the counsel of Egypt
7 They shall seek guidance of idols, charmers, familiar spirits, and wizards
8 I will give them over into the hand of a cruel lord (the Antichrist, 19:4; Dan. 8:20-23; 11:40-45)
9 A fierce king shall rule them (19:4; Dan. 8:23-25)
10 The Nile river will be dried up from the sea (19:5; note e, 11:15)
11 They shall divert the rivers from their regular channels (19:6) up 12 The canals of Egypt shall be dried
13 The reeds, flags, papyrus reeds, and everything else sown by the canals shall wither, be driven away, and be no more (17:7)
14 All fishermen shall lament (19:8)
15 Flax workers and weavers shall be confounded (19:9) (19:10)
16 All irrigation shall come to an end
17 All fisheries shall close
18 Princes of Zoan shall become fools (19:11, 13)
19 The wise men shall become foolish
20 Not a wise man shall be found (19:12)
21 Princes of Noph will be deceived (19:13)
22 The leaders of Egypt shall seduce the people-lead them astray
23 A mingled and perverse spirit will be sent among the leaders who shall cause errors in all work (19:14-15)
24 Egypt shall live in fear like women because of the hand of the Lord upon them (19:16)
25 Judah shall be a terror to Egypt and every man will be afraid because of the purpose of God (19:17)
26 In that day shall 5 cities of Egypt speak the language of Canaan and swear to the Lord of hosts (19:18)
27 One city shall be called The city of destruction
28 There shall be an altar to the Lord in the midst of Egypt, and a pillar at the border for a sign and witness to the Lord (19:19-20)
29 They shall call upon the Lord because of their oppressors, and He shall send them a Saviour, and a Great One, and He shall deliver them (19:20)
30 Jehovah shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall sacrifice to Him in that day (19:21)
31 They shall make a vow unto Jehovah in that day and shall perform it
32 The Lord shall smite Egypt and heal it (19:22)
33 They shall return to the Lord and He will hear their prayers, and shall heal them
34 There shall be an highway out of Egypt to Assyria (19:23)
35 There will be an alliance between the nations; and both the Egyptians and Assyrians shall serve the Lord with Israel; and all will be a blessing on earth (19:23-24)
36 All these nations will become converted to Jehovah and He will bless them as one people in that day (19:24-25)

8fold cause of confusion (19:11):

1 The princes of Zoan are fools (v 11)
2 The counsel of the wise men is turned into foolishness
3 No genuine wise men left (v 11-12)
4 God's purpose is being fulfilled (v 12)
5 The princes are deceived (v 13)
6 They have seduced the people
7 A mingled and perverse spirit among the leaders (v 14)
8 The leaders have caused the people to err in all work, like a drunkard stumbling in his vomit

8fold salvation of Egypt (19:21):

1 They will become converted (v 18-22)
2 Build an altar (v 19)
3 Set up a pillar to commemorate their deliverance by God (v 19-20)
4 Cry to Jehovah for deliverance from their oppressors (v 20)
5 Offer sacrifices and oblations (v 21)
6 Vow and keep their vows (v 18, 21)
7 Pray and return to God for healing and they shall be healed (v 22)
8 Serve the Lord along with the Assyrians and Israelites (v 23-26)

10 acts of God in Egypt (19:22):

1 He will come into Egypt (v 1)
2 Set Egyptians against one another (v 2)
3 Turn them over to Antichrist (v 4)
4 Send national calamities (v 5-17)
5 Send a mixed spirit into Egypt (v 14)
6 Send a Saviour to deliver them (v 20)
7 Smite Egypt (v 22)
8 Heal them
9 Hear their prayers (v 23-25)
10 Bless Egypt with Assyria and Israel

22nd prophecy in Isaiah (20:2-6):

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 As Isaiah, a sign and wonder, walked naked (without his outer garment) and barefoot for 3 years in Israel, so the Assyrians shall lead both Egyptians and Ethiopians naked and barefoot into captivity (v 3-4)
2 Egypt will be ashamed of being led away captive in such nakedness (v 4)
3 Judah shall be afraid and ashamed of their trust in both Egypt and Ethiopia (v 5)
4 Judah shall say in that day that such is what we get for trusting in them-where shall we flee to for help to be delivered from the Assyrians? (v 6)

Isaiah a sign (20:2):

God made Isaiah a sign and a wonder to his people by his walking among them for 3 years naked and barefooted (v 2-3). He was not nude; he simply laid aside his peculiar prophetic garment, his outer robe, as Saul did (1 Sam. 19:24), and David who was naked but still had on a linen ephod (2 Sam. 6:14-21). These kings merely put off their royal robes, just as Peter put off his outer garment so that he could fish (Jn. 21:7). Isaiah's outer robe was evidently sackcloth of coarse goat hair, for the prophets wore rough clothing as their prophetic garments (1 Ki. 1:8; Mt. 3:4). False prophets were forbidden to wear rough garments to deceive (Zech. 13:4)

23rd prophecy in Isaiah (21:1-10):

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Destruction of Babylon would come from a desert and a terrible land like the whirlwind passing through from the south (21:1)
2 Judgment upon Babylon was to come from the Elamites and the Medes (21:2)
3 The destruction was to be so terrible that the prophet was filled with pains like a woman travailing. He was dismayed and filled with fear at seeing it (21:3-4)
4 The King of Babylon would make a feast, setting watchmen in the watchtower to make the people feel secure in their reveling; but while they were eating and drinking the attack would come (21:5). This was fulfilled exactly this way, as stated in Dan. 5
5 Babylon to fall by the coming invader (21:6-9)
6 All the graven images of Babylon to be destroyed (21:9)
7 Babylon to be trodden down like wheat in a threshing floor (21:10)

We have here a 2nd prophecy of the destruction of Babylon, which was not then a world power but was soon to rise to greatness by overthrowing the Assyrian empire and becoming the next or 3rd world empire to persecute Israel in the times of the Gentiles (p. 311 of N. T.). Here we have the immediate judgment upon Babylon by the Medes and Persians, while in the first prophecy the latter day destruction of Babylon was the main theme (13:1-14:27), the Medes being mentioned in only 2 verses (13:17-18)

The prophet's travail (21:3):

The prophet was so moved by the coming destruction of Babylon that, as he described himself, he had the feelings of a woman in travail 7fold description of self:

1 My loins are filled with pain (v 3)
2 Pangs have taken hold of me, as the pangs of a woman in travail
3 I was bowed down at hearing it
4 I was dismayed at seeing it
5 My heart panted (v 4)
6 Fearfulness affrighted me
7 My pleasure was turned into fear

24th prophecy in Isaiah (21:11-12)

This prophecy refers to Dumah a son of Ishmael (v 11; Gen. 25:14; 1 Chr. 1:30). Seir was the name of a mountain range in Edom, so that prophecy concerns Edom. Isaiah was the watchman (v 8, 11); and inquiry was made to him out of Edom, about the night which, no doubt, refers to calamity that had fallen upon the Jews as well as themselves. The prophet replied that daylight would soon come, and also another night, meaning another calamity. The night probably refers to the Invasion of the land of Judah by the great Assyrian people who were then conquering one nation after another, including Syria, Ephraim, Philistia, Moab, Edom and much of Judea. They were about to take Jerusalem, but this would soon pass like the night. There would be another morning and a day and then another night, which would be the coming Babylonian invasion of all these same nations, when they would be taken into captivity

25th prophecy in Isaiah (21:13-17):

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The inhabitants of Dedanim were to flee the invading Assyrians and be protected and fed by other Arabian tribes (v 13-15). This was one of the most outstanding of Arabian traits-hospitality
2 Within a year the other parts of Arabia would also suffer from the same invader (v 16-17)

26th prophecy in Isaiah (22:1-14):

16 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The inhabitants of Jerusalem will be alarmed at the approach of an invader-the Assyrians-and flee to the house-tops (22:1-2; 36:1-37:38)
2 They will live in revelry in spite of impending destruction (22:1-2)
3 The men who are slain will not die in battle, but will flee the city and be caught by the enemy and killed (22:2)
4 The rulers and military leaders, as well as those who have fled to the city for protection, and all the common people will be bound by the archers to remain therein (22:3)
5 My people will be spoiled until I will weep bitterly for them (22:4)
6 It will be a day of trouble, treading down in humiliation, a day of perplexity, of breaking down walls, and of crying to the mountains for help (22:5)
7 The Persians (Elam) and the Medes (Kir, a city of Media) shall be with the invaders (both Medes and Persians were under Assyria at that time), whose chariots will fill your valleys and set themselves in array against Jerusalem (22:6-7)
8 The invaders will expose Judah to every kind of reproach (22:8)
9 In that day you will depend upon the armour in the armoury made of the cedar of the forest
10 You will seek to repair the many breaches in the city of David (22:9)
11 You will seek to protect the waters of the city from getting into the hands of the invaders
12 You will number the houses of Jerusalem, break down those that are not needed, and use the material to fortify the walls of the city (22:10)
13 You will also make a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool, in order to retain as much water as possible in the city (22:11)
14 In all this preparation you will not look to or depend upon Jehovah for help and deliverance
15 In that day Jehovah will look for weeping, mourning, fasting, and prayer; but instead He will find abandonment of many to destruction and the giving of themselves over to pleasure in view of the short time they expect to live (22:13)
16 This iniquity of giving themselves over to pleasure will continue until death (22:14)

We should bear in mind that part of this prophecy is worded as if it had already happened when the prophet spoke it; but such wording must be understood in this way-that at the actual time of fulfillment the past-tense statements as in v 8-14, were true

4 main parts to the prophecy (22:1):

1 Consternation in Jerusalem in view of invasion by the Assyrians (v 1-3)
2 Grief at the true state of things in the city itself (v 4-8)
3 Preparations for the defense of the city (v 9-11)
4 Moral state of the inhabitants of the city in view of the vision

27th prophecy in Isaiah (22:15-25)

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Say to Shebna, the treasurer of the kingdom of Judah, the Lord will carry you away into captivity, and will cover you (make you ashamed, 22:15-17)
2 He will violently turn and toss you like a ball into a large country where you will die (22:18)
3 You will be brought down in disgrace
4 I will take your office from you and bring you down in shame (22:19)
5 Eliakim shall take your place as treasurer and he will be faithful to Me over the inhabitants of Jerusalem (22:20-21)
6 The authority of the house of David will I lay upon him and it will be recognized (22:22)
7 I will make him secure in his office and will bring honor to his father's house (22:23)
8 They shall give him all the glory of his father's house and entrust him with all treasures of Judah (22:24)
9 Shebna, who now seems secure as a nail fastened in a sure place, will be removed from office (22:25)
10 The responsibility that he has will be removed and given to Eliakim (22:24)

28th prophecy in Isaiah (23:1-18)

21 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Ships of Tarshish shall howl because Tyre will be laid waste (23:1)
2 Tyre's harbor shall be destroyed-no entrance
3 The report of the fall of Tyre will be brought from Chittim
4 Zidon also shall suffer at the fall of Tyre (23:4)
5 The fall of Tyre will be mourned in Egypt (23:4-5)
6 Others will go by ships to Tarshish (23:6)
7 Many will walk by land on their own feet, into captivity (23:7)
8 The pride of Tyre will be brought down (23:9)
9 The honorable men will be brought into contempt
10 Tyre will lose all her power and be made weak to resist (23:10)
11 The strongholds of Tyre will be destroyed (23:11)
12 The joy of Tyre will end (23:12)
13 Tyre will become oppressed
14 Refugees from Tyre will find no rest in Chittrim
15 Judgment of Tyre will come from the Chaldeans (23:13)
16 The strength of Tyre will be laid waste (23:14)
17 Tyre shall be forgotten and be waste for 70 years (23:15)
18 At the end of 70 years Tyre will sing as an harlot (23:15)
19 It will be hard to find anyone alive who remembers Tyre in her glory (23:16)
20 Tyre will be restored at the end of 70 years and will again return to her hire (23:17)
21 Tyre will again commit fornication with all nations

2 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord (23:18)
2 Her merchandise shall not be hoarded but shall be used for them that dwell before the Lord

29th prophecy in Isaiah (24:1-27:13)

These 4 chapters (24, 25, 26, and 27) predict events of the future tribulation and Millennium, and have no parallel in the O. T. except Zech. 9:1-14:21. A number of definite statements prove the latter day fulfillment of the whole section. These will be emphasized as we list the separate predictions. In some parts it is clear that the language is highly figurative; but following the chief and most fundamental interpretation of the Bible, we shall take literally all that can possibly be taken thus, and then obtain from the rest the literal truths conveyed by the figures of speech

52 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Jehovah will make the earth (land, the promised land, v 3) empty, waste, upside down; and scatter abroad the inhabitants (24:1, 3)
2 All classes will suffer (24:2)
3 The people of Judah shall be greatly punished (24:4. Cp. 26:1)
4 The land will be defiled because of the sins of Judah (24:5)
5 The curse will devour the land and its inhabitants until few are left (24:6)
6 Crops shall fail (24:7)
7 The happy people will be sad
8 Joyfulness will cease (24:8)
9 There will be such troubles until wine and song will be forgotten (24:9)
10 Strong drink will become hated by those who love it
11 Jerusalem will be broken down and people will be shut up in their homes (24:10) (24:11)
12 All pleasure will be abandoned
13 The city will be desolate (24:12)
14 The gates will be destroyed
15 There will be a small remnant of people left (24:13)
16 The remnant will sing of deliverance and shout from the sea (24:14-15)
17 The remnant shall bewail the calamity befallen them through treachery (24:16-18)
18 There will be many kinds of dangers and men may escape one kind but be destroyed by another (v 17-18)
19 There will be a great earthquake that will shake the whole land (24:18-20)
20 Sin in the land will be exceedingly great in that day (24:20)
21 Satan, the angels, demons, and kings of the earth will be defeated at Armageddon and punished (24:21)
22 Satan, angels, and demons will be gathered and confined to the bottomless pit for 1,000 years (24:22; Rev. 20:1-7)
23 After the 1,000 years they will be visited and loosed to deceive the nations again (24:22; Rev. 20:7-10)
24 In that day the planets will be confounded and ashamed to shine because the glory of the Lord will outshine them on earth, when He reigns in mount Zion, and before His saints gloriously (24:23)
25 After the battle of Armageddon and the defeat of the enemies of Judah the people will praise God and the other nations shall fear Him (25:1-4)
26 The enemies of Judah will be brought low (25:5)
27 In mount Zion the Lord will make a great feast to all nations who are left (25:6; Mt. 25:34)
28 God will destroy the covering in mount Zion and the veil of darkness spread over all nations (25:7; 24:21-22; Eph. 6:12; Rev. 12:7-12; 20:1-3)
29 He will swallow up death in victory (25:8)
30 He will wipe away all tears
31 He will take away the reproach of and the opposition of His people
32 Judah will rejoice in salvation in the day God comes to fulfill His word with them (25:9)
33 God's hand will rest upon mount Zion (25:7, 10; 24:23) 10)
34 Moab will be subject to Judah (25:
35 God will stretch forth His hands and lay the enemies of Judah prostrate and bring down their pride in everything He lays His hands upon (25:11)
36 God will destroy all fortresses of the enemies of Judah (25:12)
37 In that day Judah will sing this song to Jehovah (26:1-21)
38 The giants will never be resurrected from the dead (26:14)
39 Israel will pray in the dispersion (26:16-18)
40 The righteous dead of Judah will be resurrected with Isaiah in the first resurrection (26:19)
41 The living people of God in Judah will flee into the wilderness for protection from the Antichrist until the tribulation is over (26:20; 16:1-5; Ps. 60:8; Ezek. 20:33-44; Dan. 11:40-45; Mt. 24:15-22; Rev. 12:6, 14)
42 Christ will come (at the 2nd advent) to destroy the ungodly (26:21; 63:1-6; Zech. 14:1-5; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
43 In that day Satan will be defeated (at Armageddon) and punished in the bottomless pit (27:1; 24:21-22; 25:7; Rev. 20:1-10)
44 In that day Judah will sing a song of God's vineyard-how it has been protected by Jehovah (27:2-6. Cp. 5:1-7)
45 Israel, like a vineyard, will take root again and blossom and fill the world with fruit (27:6)
46 God will not punish and destroy Judah as He did their enemies (27:7)
47 By judgment the iniquity of Jacob shall be purged (27:8-9)
48 Babylon, where Judah was taken captive and lived, will be destroyed and left like a wilderness where animals will feed (27:10)
49 The limbs of the trees growing in desolate Babylon will be used as firewood (27:11)
50 God will yet have mercy on Judah and show them favor
51 In that day the river Euphrates and the river Nile shall be dried up (27:12-13; 11:15-16; 19:5-6)
52 Israel will be gathered one by one to worship God in Jerusalem (27:12-13; 11:10-14)

30th prophecy in Isaiah (28:1-29)

20 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Judgment will come to Ephraim and Samaria (28:1)
2 The glory of Ephraim will fade like a flower that is cut down (28:1)
3 God will send a strong conqueror against Ephraim and Samaria who, like a hail storm and a mighty flood of waters, will cast them down to earth (28:2)
4 Ephraim and Samaria will be trodden under foot (28:3)
5 Ephraim and Samaria will be completely destroyed like a fading flower and as a man eats up the first fruit of summer (28:4)
6 God will protect a remnant of Israel in the kingdom of Judah when Ephraim is completely destroyed (28:5)
7 God will be for a spirit of judgment to the judges of Judah, and a strength to them to repel the enemy in the gate (28:6)
8 The judges, prophets, and leaders of Judah are corrupted by strong drink so that they cannot give judgment or prophesy (28:7-8); therefore God will teach knowledge and doctrine to babes (28:9)
9 God will give His Word precept upon precept, line upon line; here a little and there a little; and yet men will stumble, be broken, snared, and taken (28:10-13)
10 With men of stammering lips and another tongue (tongues other than the native language) God will speak to Judah, and regardless of this, the rest and the refreshing to the weary, they will not hear (28:11-12)
11 Ephraim's destruction will be a warning of similar judgment to Judah and Jerusalem (28:14-22)
12 God will lay in Zion a foundation stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, and a sure foundation; and Judah will not be totally destroyed (28:16)
13 The false security and refuge of Judah shall be swept away, and their covenant with death and hell will be annulled and fall then the invader shall sweep through the land and tread them under foot (28:17-18)
14 When the judgment begins on Judah it will be continuous day by day without intermission until is has accomplished its purpose (28:19)
15 The judgment will be so terrible that even a report of it will fill the mind with horror (28:19)
16 The defence of Judah will be insufficient to protect them. Their trust in the promises of false prophets, false gods, or in Egypt will be inadequate, like trying to keep warm in a bed that is too narrow (28:20)
17 Jehovah will accomplish His purpose and His work, and punish Judah; nothing will stop this (28:21-22)
18 Jehovah will make a destruction of all Judah and Jerusalem (28:22)
19 Judgment on Judah will be just as sure as a crop when conditions are met and natural laws are in force (28:23-28)
20 Judgment will come from the Lord like crops come from Him when His laws are followed (28:29)

31st prophecy in Isaiah (29:1-24)

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Judah will be full of error and all classes will reel in darkness like a drunk man (29:9)
2 Jehovah will pour out upon Judah the spirit of blindness, stupidity, and ignorance of His revelation (29:10-12)
3 Judah will become a nation of hypocrites, offering God only lip service with the heart far from Him (29:13)
4 I will do a marvelous and wonderful work in Judah that shall defeat the wisdom of the wise and the understanding of the prudent (29:4)
5 Judah shall seek to hide their sinful ways from God by outward profession of righteousness (29:15-16)

12 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Woe will come to Jerusalem regardless of its many sacrifices to God (29:1)
2 I will distress Jerusalem and there shall be heaviness and sorrow in the city where David dwelt (29:1-2)
3 I will camp against the city round about, lay siege against it, and raise up forts against it (29:3)
4 Jerusalem will be brought down so low as to speak out of the dust and her voice will be as one who has a familiar spirit who peeps and mutters out of the ground (29:4; notes e-h, 8:19-20)
5 The multitude of strangers compassing the city shall be like fine dust and as chaff that passes away (29:5)
6 I will send thunder, and devouring fire to destroy the armies surrounding Jerusalem; and they shall pass away like a dream of the night (29:6-8)
7 Lebanon will be turned into a fruitful field, and it will become like a forest (29:17)
8 In that day-when Jerusalem is delivered, Lebanon becomes fruitful, and the Millennium begins, the deaf will hear, the blind will see, and the meek and poor will be blessed of God (29:18-19)
9 The terrible one (the Antichrist leader of all the armies surrounding Jerusalem) will be brought to nought; the scorner will be consumed, and the wicked will be cut off (29:20)
10 Those that seek to cause men to sin and rebel will be cut off (29:21)
11 Jacob (all Israel) will not then be ashamed or have paleness (29:22)
12 Israel will sanctify My name, and fear Me; all that have erred in spirit shall come to understanding; and all that have murmured shall learn doctrine (29:23-24)

Prophecy of the Messiah (28:16)

This prophecy is of the Messiah whom God was to send to them (Mt. 21:42-44)

10 symbols of the Messiah:

1 A foundation stone (v 16; Eph. 2:20)
2 A tried Stone (Mt. 21:42-44; Acts 4:11)
3 A precious corner Stone (1 Pet. 2:4-8)
4 A sure foundation (1 Cor. 3:11)
5 A smitten Rock (Ps. 78:16; Num. 20:8-11; 1 Cor. 10:4) 22)
6 Head Stone of the corner (Ps. 118:
7 Rejected Stone (Ps. 118:22; Acts 4:11) 33)
8 Stumbling Stone (8:14; Rom. 9:32-9 A living Stone (1 Pet. 2:4)
10 A Rock (Stone) of offence (8:14; 1 Pet. 2:8)

32nd prophecy in Isaiah (30:1-33)

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Woe to Judah because of sins and rebellion and because of trust in Egypt instead of Jehovah (30:1-2)
2 Help from Egypt against Babylon will fail and be a shame to them (30:3-5)
3 The gifts of Judah to Egypt in seeking an alliance with the Egyptians will be spent in vain (30:6-7)
4 Judah will not hearken to God, but will continue in rebellion (30:8-11)
5 Because of such rebellion Egypt will be no more protection to Judah than an old wall that is ready to fall and whose breaking down will come instantly and completely (30:12-14)
6 God will become their defender if they will only return to Him, rest in Him, and live in quiet confidence (30:15)
7 Judah will reject the offer of God to be their defender and they will flee, being overtaken by the Babylonians (30:16-17). This flight from the city of Jerusalem identifies the prophecy with the Babylonian destruction of the city (2 Ki. 25:1-10), not with the siege of the Assyrians, for at that time the people did not flee (36:1-37:38)

18 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The Lord will wait until He can bless Judah and fulfil His covenants with them (30:18)
2 The Lord will yet be exalted and have mercy on Judah, and all who will wait upon Him
3 Judah shall yet dwell in Zion at Jerusalem (30:19)
4 The people will weep no more
5 Jehovah will be gracious to Judah and will answer when He hears their cry
6 Though Jehovah has fed them with bread and water of adversity and affliction, yet they shall not be deceived anymore, for their true teachers will return and not hide themselves (30:20)
7 They will walk in the right way and not turn to the right or left (30:21)
8 They will defile the coverings of their graven images and cast them away as a menstrous cloth (30:22)
9 They will be blessed with all material blessings, plenty of rain, crops, food, stock, pastures, rivers, and other good things of life (30:23-25)
10 The light of the moon will be as the present light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be increased 7fold (30:26)
11 The breach made upon God's people and the stroke of their wound will be healed
12 Jehovah will come (from heaven) to destroy the enemies of Judah (30:27-28)
13 Judah will sing, keep holy solemnity, and be glad in heart in the day of deliverance (30:29)
14 Jehovah will destroy the armies of Antichrist with His mighty power, His indignation, and by flaming fire, tempest, and hailstones (30:30; Ezek. 38:17-21; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
15 Through the voice of Jehovah the Assyrian (the Antichrist, 14:25; 31:8; Mic. 5:5-6) will be destroyed (30:31; 11:4; Dan. 7:11; 2 Th. 2:8; Rev. 19:11-21)
16 Every place where the Assyrian (the Antichrist) plans to pass and destroy there will be music and singing because Jehovah will fight him and destroy him in battle (30:32)
17 The king will be put in Tophet which is prepared for him (30:33; Mt. 25:41; Rev. 19:20; 20:10)
18 The breath of the Lord will be like a stream of brimstone to kindle it (30:33)

33rd prophecy in Isaiah (31:1-9)

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Woe to them that trust in Egypt (31:1)
2 He (God) will bring evil (31:2)
3 He will not call back His words
4 He will rise up against the house of evildoers
5 He will rise up against the help of them that work evil

10 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Both those that help and those that are helped shall fall down together when the Lord stretches out His hand (31:3)
2 Jehovah shall come down (from heaven to earth) to fight for mount Zion like a lion without fear (31:4)
3 As birds flying the Lord will defend, deliver, and preserve Jerusalem (31:5)
4 In that day every man will cast away his idols of silver and gold (31:7)
5 Then shall the Assyrian (the Antichrist) fall by the sword (31:8)
6 He shall flee from the sword
7 His young men shall be discomfited
8 He shall pass over to his stronghold for fear (31:9)
9 His princes shall be afraid of the ensign of the Lord
10 The fire will then be in Zion, and His furnace in Jerusalem

34th prophecy in Isaiah (32:1-20):

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 A king will reign in righteousness
2 Princes will reign in judgment (32:1)
3 A man will be an hiding place from the wind, and a cover from tempest (32:2)
4 A man will be like rivers of water in a dry place, and the shadow of a great rock in a weary land
5 Eyes of men will not be dim (32:3)
6 Ears of men will hearken
7 Hearts of the hasty will understand knowledge and learn how to judge (32:4)
8 Tongues of stammerers will speak plainly
9 The vile (impious) will no more be called honorable (32:5)
10 The churl (niggardly, miserly) will no longer be nobleman
11 The vile (impious) will no longer talk impiously, work iniquity, practice hypocrisy, malign Jehovah, be unmerciful to the poor and needy (32:6-8)
12 There will be troubles upon both land and people until the Spirit is poured upon us (the Jews) from on high, the wilderness becomes a fruitful field, and the fruitful field becomes like a forest (32:9-15)
13 Then judgment and justice will dwell in the wilderness and righteousness in the fruitful field-universal justice (32:16)
14 Then the work of righteousness will be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance forever (32:17)
15 Then My people will dwell in a peaceable habitation, in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places (32:18)
16 Then the enemies of My people will be judged from above, and Jerusalem shall be brought down low (32:19. See notes on 32:19-20)

35th prophecy in Isaiah (33:1-24)

28 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Woe to the spoiler of My people. You will be spoiled and dealt with treacherously yourself (33:1)
2 Antichrist will defeat Judah (33:3)
3 The spoil shall be gathered like caterpillers (33:4; Zech. 14:1-5)
4 Jehovah will be exalted (33:5, 10)
5 He will fill Zion with judgment and righteousness (33:5)
6 Wisdom and knowledge will be the stability of the times and the strength of salvation (33:6)
7 Peace overtures to Antichrist will fail (33:7)
8 The covenant between the Jews and Antichrist will be broken (33:8; Dan. 9:27)
9 Antichrist will drive Israel from their land and make it desolate (33:8)
10 Travelling will cease in Judea
11 Antichrist will not regard any man
12 Palestine will mourn and languish
13 Lebanon will be defeated (33:9)
14 Sharon will become like a wilderness
15 Bashan and Carmel will become fruitless
16 Jehovah will lift up Himself and punish Antichrist's army (33:10-12)
17 The wrath of God will be so great that it will destroy the sinners in Zion, as it did the enemies of God, as in v 10-12 (33:14)
18 The righteous Jews will be the only ones to abide the wrath of God and be exalted (33:15-16)
19 The defence of the righteous will be the munitions of rocks (33:16; 16:1-5; 26:20; Ps. 60:8)
20 The righteous ones will be provided for-with bread and water (33:17)
21 They will behold the King in His beauty and see the remote parts of Palestine delivered from the Antichrist
22 The people of Jerusalem will meditate terror (33:18)
23 The enemies of Jerusalem will be destroyed so suddenly that it will be asked: Where are they? (33:18-19)
24 Jerusalem will be a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that will be eternal (33:20)
25 In Jerusalem the glorious Jehovah will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams where no warship will ever ply the waters (33:21)
26 Jehovah will be our Judge, Lawgiver, and King; and He will save us (33:22)
27 The enemy, like a helpless warship floundering in the sea, will be plundered and leave a great spoil (33:3-4, 23; Zech. 14:14)
28 The inhabitants of Jerusalem will never say again, I am sick: the people therein will be forgiven of their sins and be healed (33:24)

Judah has fulfilled a few details of this prophecy, but the complete fulfillment will take place in the latter days; the main theme concerns Judah and the Antichrist at that time

12 proofs of a future fulfillment:

1 The expression "we have waited for thee" has a particular end-time fulfillment as proved by similar expressions in Isaiah. Cp. 33:2 with 25:9; 26:8; 30:18; 42:4; 49:23; 51:5; 60:9; 64:4
2 The exaltation of Jehovah (33:5)
3 His filling Zion with judgment and righteousness has never yet come to pass (33:5)
4 Wisdom and knowledge being the stability of the times is something awaiting future fulfillment (33:6)
5 The broken covenant between Judah and the enemy (33:8 with Dan. 9:27) proves a latter day fulfillment
6 It will be only at the battle of Armageddon that men will be burned up as predicted (26:11; 29:6; 30:27-33; 33:11-12; 47:14; 66:15-16; Ezek. 38:17-21; Joel 2:3-5; 2 Th. 1:7-10), and at the end of the Millennium (Rev. 20:7-10)
7 The hiding place of Israel during the tribulation, referred to in v 16, proves a latter day fulfillment (v 16; 16:1-5; 26:20; Ps. 60:8; Rev. 12:6, 14)
8 The eyes of the generation referred to in this prophecy will see the Messiah and behold the land rid of its enemies (v 17)
9 Jerusalem has never yet become a quiet, eternal habitation as predicted in v 20
10 The rivers and streams of v 21 have not yet come to Palestine, as will be the case when the great rivers will flow from under the sanctuary into the Dead Sea and the Mediterranean, fulfilling Ezek. 47; Zech. 14:8
11 Jehovah has never become the Judge, Lawgiver, and King of the Jews on earth, fulfilling v 22; but He will be all of this at the 2nd advent of Christ (2:2-4; 9:6-7; Zech. 14:9; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)
12 The inhabitants of Jerusalem have not yet been made free from sickness and all have not become godly, as predicted in v 24

36th prophecy in Isaiah (34:1-17)

20 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Many nations will be mobilized at Armageddon (34:1; Ezek. 38-39; Joel 3; Zech. 14:1-5; Rev. 17:13-16; 19:19-21)
2 The armies of the nations will be destroyed by God's wrath (34:2; Ezek. 38-39; Joel 3; Zech. 14:1-15; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
3 Their slain will be cast out (remain unburied for months) because of the multitude to be buried (34:3). It will take 7 months to bury all the dead (Ezek. 39:11-16)
4 The stink from these dead bodies will be terrible (34:3; Joel 2:20)
5 Mountains will be filled with blood (34:3, 7; 49:26; 63:1-5; Ezek. 38:22; 39:17-21; Rev. 14:20)
6 The heavens will be changed (34:4; Mt. 24:29-31; Acts 2:16-21; Rev. 16:17-21)
7 Meteors will fall and great hailstones, like leaves from the vine and figs from the tree (34:4; Mt. 24:29-31; Rev. 16:17-21)
8 God's sword from heaven will be bathed in blood and fat in the land of Bozrah and Idumea (34:5-8; Ezek. 39:17-21; Rev. 14:13-20; 19:11-21)
9 The day of the Lord's vengeance and the year of recompences for Zion will come (34:8; Zech. 14)
10 Streams will be turned into pitch, and the dust into brimstone; and the land will become burning pitch (34:9)
11 The fire will not be quenched night or day, and the smoke will go up forever (34:10)
12 No man will go through this part of the land, and it will lie waste forever (34:10)
13 Wild animals will possess it and dwell there (34:11-15, 17)
14 God will judge this land with confusion and stones of emptiness (34:11)
15 There will be no kingdom there forever (34:12)
16 The palaces and fortresses will become depopulated and serve as homes for wild animals (34:13-15)
17 Not one of these predictions will fail (34:16)
18 All animals will have their mates; none will be without one 19 My Spirit will gather them and give them their lot in this desolate land (34:16-17) 17)
20 They will dwell there forever (34:

37th prophecy in Isaiah (35:1-10):

25 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The wilderness and solitary place will be glad for them (the blessings foretold in this prophecy, 35:1)
2 The desert will rejoice and blossom as a rose
3 The desert will blossom abundantly and rejoice with singing (35:2)
4 The glory of Lebanon will be given to the desert, that is, the desert will be as fertile as Lebanon (which produces such great cedars)
5 The desert will also be as beautiful as Carmal and as productive as Sharon
6 Lebanon, Carmel, Sharon, and the desert shall see the glory and excellency of God
7 God will come (not only Christ, but God, the Father) with vengeance (35:4)
8 He will come with recompence
9 He will come to save you
10 Then the eyes of the blind will be opened (35:5)
11 The ears of the deaf will be unstopped
12 Then the lame men will leap as an hart (35:6)
13 The tongue of the dumb will sing
14 Waters will break out in the wilderness and streams in the desert
15 The parched ground will become a pool of water (35:7)
16 The thirsty land will become springs of water
17 In the desert habitations of dragons there will be grass with reeds and rushes
18 An highway called The way of holiness will be built to the city of Jerusalem whereon men will go up to worship the Lord (35:8; 2:24; 11:16; 19:23; Zech. 14:16-20)
19 No unclean person will be allowed to walk on it (35:8)
20 Clean men, though fools and foreigners will walk thereon
21 It will be so plainly marked and traffic so regulated that no man will need to err or miss his way
22 No lion or other ravenous beast will be allowed on it (35:9)
23 The redeemed will walk thereon
24 The ransomed of Israel will return to Zion on this highway, and will sing and have everlasting joy upon their heads (35:10)
25 They will obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing will flee away

Streams of pitch (34:9):

Heb. nachlah, a winter torrent; a narrow valley; a mine shaft. Just what is referred to is not clear, for the word is used of literal streams, as well as the waters from the rock which Moses smote (Ps. 78:20), and the gushers of water that will spring forth in the desert in the Millennium (35:6). If figurative, it merely expresses God's wrath on sin and the armies of Antichrist at Armageddon. The language however, seems too detailed and descriptive to be considered figurative (v 9-17). It could therefore be understood as a certain place which will become desolate and burn eternally as described here- a place where wild beasts and birds will dwell on the edges of this desolate monument of wrath to men on earth, as in the case of Babylon (13:19-22). In 66:22-24 it speaks of men in the new earth looking into eternal hell, seeing those who are in eternal torment, so this place and Babylon could be two such openings on the earth where this will take place

38th prophecy in Isaiah (37:6-7)

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will send a blast upon him (v 7)
2 He will hear a rumor and return to his own land
3 I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land

39th prophecy in Isaiah (37:21-35)

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will put My hook in your nose, and My bridle in your lips, and will turn you back by the way which you came (v 29)
2 You (Israel) will eat that which groweth of itself, this year and the next, but in the third year you will sow, reap, plant vineyards, and eat their fruit (v 30)
3 The remnant that has escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward (v 31)
4 There will be a remnant which will escape out of Jerusalem and out of mount Zion (v 32)
5 The king of Assyria will not come into this city (Jerusalem), nor shoot an arrow into it, come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it (v 33)
6 By the way that he came from Assyria he will return and shall not come into this city (v 34)
7 I will defend this city and save it for My own sake, and for My servant David's sake (v 35)

The word Jew (36:11)

The word Jew began to be used about this time to denote the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob through the 12 sons of Jacob. It was never used before Isaiah's time; the first use was in the reign of Ahaz, the father of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 16:6). The next use is here when the request was made for the pagans not to speak in the Jews' language (v 11; 2 Ki. 18:26-28; 2 Chr. 32:18). The word was used only one other time in the historical books of Joshua, Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles (2 Ki. 25:25). Thus it was used only 5 times in the first 14 books of the Bible. It is used 8 times in Ezra (4:12, 23; 5:1, 5; 6:7-14); 11 times in Nehemiah (1:2; 2:16; 4:1-2, 12; 5:1, 8, 17; 6:6; 13:23-24); and 53 times in Esther (2:5-10:3). The term is used of Israel by the prophets-2 times in Isaiah (36:11-13); 10 times in Jeremiah (32:12; 34:9; 38:19; 40:11-15; 41:3; 52:28-30); 3 times by Daniel (3:8, 12; 5:13); and 1 time by Zechariah (8:23). In the N.T. the term is used 202 times of Israel, including the whole 13 tribes. See Jew in Index

41st prophecy in Isaiah (38:5-8)

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will add to your life 15 years (v 5)
2 I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of Assyria (v 6)
3 I will defend this city
4 This will be a sign to you that this is a true prophecy. I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down on the sun dial of Ahaz (v 7-8)

42nd prophecy in Isaiah (39:5):

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 All the treasures of Judah will be carried to Babylon (v 5-6; 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36; Dan. 5:2-3)
2 Your sons will be taken away and they will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon (v 7; Dan. 1)

43rd prophecy in Isaiah (40:1):

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 There will come a voice crying in the wilderness, saying: Prepare the way of the Lord, make a straight highway in the desert for God (fulfilled in the ministry of John the Baptist, 40:3-5; Mt. 3:2-3; Mk. 1:3; Lk. 3:4-5; Jn. 1:23)
2 The glory of the Lord shall be revealed (40:5; Jn. 1:14; 2:11; 11:4, 40; 17:22)
3 All flesh shall see it together (40:5; Lk. 1:69, 77; 2:30; 3:6). This and point 2, above very likely have a future fulfillment also

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Comfort My people; speak comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry to her, that her warfare is ended and her iniquity pardoned: for she has received of the Lord double for her sins (40:2)

2 Every valley will be exalted (40:4; Zech. 14:4)
3 Every mountain and hill will be made low
4 The crooked paths shall be made straight plain 5 The rough places shall be made
6 The glory of the Lord will be revealed (40:5; Mt. 16:27; 19:28; 24:30; 25:31)
7 All flesh shall see it together (40:5; Mt. 24:29-31; 25:31; 2 Th. 2:7-10; Rev. 1:7)
8 The Word of God will stand forever (40:8)
9 Zion and Jerusalem will bring good tidings, saying to the cities of Judah: Behold your God (40:9)
10 The Lord will come with strong hand
11 His arm will rule for Him
12 His reward is with Him
13 His work is before Him
14 He shall feed His flock like a shepherd (40:11)
15 He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom
16 He will gently lead those that are with young

44th prophecy in Isaiah (41:1-3)

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 God raised up the righteous man from the east (41:2)
2 Called him to his foot-to make him march swiftly
3 Made him conquer nations
4 Made him rule over kings
5 Gave nations to his sword
6 Made him pursue his enemies and pass safely even in strange places (41:3)

This prophecy is another one that reads as if fulfilled when the predictions were spoken as if the prophet lived in the very time of fulfillment. The vision of these things was so clear to him it seemed they were happening or had already happened at the time he prophesied

45th prophecy in Isa. (41:10-20)

24 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will strengthen you (41:10)
2 I will help you (41:10, 13, 14)
3 I will uphold you with the right hand of My righteousness (41:10)
4 Your enemies shall be ashamed and confounded (41:11)
5 They shall be as nothing (41:11-12)
6 They shall perish
7 You shall seek them, and not find them (41:12)
8 They shall be as a thing of nought
9 I will hold your right hand (41:13)
10 I will make you a new sharp threshing instrument with teeth (41:15)
11 You shall thresh the mountains
12 You shall beat them small 13 You shall make the hills as chaff
14 You shall fan them (41:16)
15 The wind shall carry them away
16 The whirlwind shall scatter them
17 You shall rejoice in the Lord
18 You shall glory in the Holy One 19 I will open rivers in high places (41:18)
20 I will open fountains in the valleys
21 I will make the wilderness a pool of water
22 I will make springs in dry places
23 I will plant cedars, shittah trees, myrtle, and olive trees in the wilderness (41:19)
24 I will set fir, pine, and box trees in the desert

46th prophecy in Isaiah (41:25)

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will raise up one who will come from the north (41:25)
2 From the rising of the sun shall he call upon My name
3 He will come upon princes as upon morter and as a potter treads the clay

47th prophecy in Isaiah (41:27)

Due to translation this verse is not as clear as it should be, not clear as to who the first refers to. The Septuagint reads, "I will first give notice to Zion;" Moffatt, "'Twas I who first sent word of it to Zion;" The Peshitta, "These things are the chief concern of Zion;" Berkeley, "I first said to Zion;" Rotherham, "He who is First can say to Zion;" Young, "First to Zion, Behold, behold them, and to Jerusalem one proclaiming glad tidings;" Fenton, "I first gave to Zion good news." The idea is that God was the first one to declare these things to Zion and Jerusalem; and revelation did not come from idols and their prophets. True prophecy came first and only through Jehovah and no one else

48th prophecy in Isaiah (42:1-7)

14 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will uphold My servant (42:1)
2 I will delight in My servant
3 I will put My Spirit upon Him
4 He will bring forth judgment to the Gentiles (42:1; Mt. 12:18)
5 He will not cry, nor lift up His voice, nor cause it to be heard in the street-in clamor, strife, or contention (42:2; Mt. 12:19)
6 A bruised reed He will not break, and the smoking flax He will not quench until He brings forth judgment unto truth and victory (v 3; Mt. 12:20)
7 I will call Him in righteousness (42:6)
8 I will hold His hand
9 I will keep Him
10 I will give Him to be a covenant of the people
11 I will give Him to be a light to the Gentiles (42:6; Lk. 2:32)
12 I will open the eyes of the blind through Him (42:7; Mt. 11:4-6; Lk. 4:18)
13 I will liberate men through Him (42:7; Lk. 4:18)
14 I will bring men out of darkness through Him (42:7; Mt. 4:16; Acts 26:18)

This section could be called the 14fold work of Messiah (v 1-7)

2 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 He shall not fail nor be discouraged till He has set judgment in the earth (42:4; Mt. 23:31-46; Rev. 11:15)
2 The isles (maritime countries) will wait for His law (42:4; 2:2-4; 11:9)

49th prophecy in Isaiah (42:10-17)

16 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 There will be great rejoicing and singing to God from all lands (42:10-12)
2 The Lord will go forth as a mighty man (42:13; 63:1-6; Joel 2; Zech. 14:1-9; Mt. 25:31; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-21)
3 He will stir up jealousy like a man of war (42:13; 63:1-6; Joel 2; Zech. 14)
4 He will sound the battle cry (42:13; Joel 2:11; Mt. 24:29-31)
5 He will prevail against His enemies (42:13; 63:1-6; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Mt. 25:31-46; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-21; 20:1-10)
6 He will cry like a travailing woman (42:14; Joel 2:11)
7 I will destroy and devour at once (42:14; 63:1-6; Ezek. 38:17-21; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14:1-15; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21)
8 I will make mountains and hills waste (42:15; Zech. 14:1-5; Rev. 6:12-17; 16:17-21)
9 I will dry up all their herbs (42:15; Rev. 8:7)
10 I will dry up the rivers (42:15; 11:15; 19:5-6; Rev. 16:12)
11 I will dry up pools (42:15)
12 I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not (42:16)
13 I will lead them in paths that they have not known 14 I will make darkness light before them
15 I will make crooked things straight
16 They shall be turned back and be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images (42:17; 1:29-31; 2:18-21)

50th prophecy in Isaiah (43:1-7):

6 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will redeem you (43:1)
2 When you pass through the waters I will be with you (43:2)
3 When you pass through the rivers they will not overflow you
4 When you walk through the fire you will not be burned, neither will the flame kindle upon you
5 I will give men for you, and people for your life (43:4)
6 I will bring your seed from the east, west, north, and south-from afar, from the ends of the earth (43:4-7)

51st prophecy in Isaiah (43:14-21)

6 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will punish all the nobles of Babylon and all the Chaldeans whose cry is in ships (43:14) 17)
2 They will be punished forever (43:
3 I will make a new thing-a way in the wilderness and waters in the desert (43:19; 35:1-7)
4 The beasts of the field will honor Me because of these waters (43:20)
5 I will give waters in the wilderness and rivers in the desert for My people to drink (43:20; 35:1-7; Ezek. 47; Zech. 14:8)
6 This people (the Jews) will show forth My praise (43:21)

52nd prophecy in Isaiah (44:1-5)

8 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will pour water upon him that is thirsty (44:3)
2 I will pour water upon the dry ground
3 I will pour My Spirit upon your seed
4 I will pour My blessing upon your offspring
5 Your offspring shall spring up like grass and willows by the water courses (44:4)
6 Profession of religion will become common-I am the Lord's (44:5)
7 It will be popular to acknowledge Jacob or the Jews
8 Many will call themselves Israelites and subscribe by hand of Jehovah

53rd prophecy in Isaiah (44:21-23)

4 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 You will be My servant, O Israel, and will not be forgotten by Me (44:21)
2 All your sins and transgressions I will blot out as a thick cloud (44:22)
3 Return to Me, for I will redeem you
4 The Lord will redeem Jacob and glorify Himself in Israel (44:23)

Again the prophet spoke as if these things were already accomplished, but in actual fulfillment they will come to pass at the 2nd advent of Christ. That is the time when all Israel will be saved (66:7-8; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29)

54th prophecy in Isaiah (44:26-45:4)

16 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Jerusalem will be inhabited (44:26)
2 The cities of Judah will be built
3 I will raise up the decayed places
4 I will dry up your rivers (44:27)
5 Cyrus will be My shepherd (44:28)
6 He will perform all My pleasure
7 He will command Jerusalem to be rebuilt and the temple foundation to be laid (44:28; Ezra 1:1-4)
8 He will be My anointed (45:1)
9 I will hold his right hand
10 He will subdue nations
11 He will loose the loins of kings
12 He will have the two leaved gates open before him
13 I will go before him and make the crooked places straight (45:2)
14 I will break the gates of brass (of Babylon) in pieces, and cut the bars of iron in sunder
15 I will give him the treasures of darkness, and the hidden riches of the secret places (of Babylon) that he may know that I, Jehovah, have called him by name, and that I am the God of Israel (45:3)
16 For the sake of My people I have called him by name to deliver Israel from captivity, though before this he will not know Me (45:4)

55th prophecy in Isaiah (45:8)

3 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 There will come righteousness from heaven like dew and rain from above (45:8; Ps. 85:11-12)
2 Salvation will abound among men as fruit from a fertile earth when dew and rain fall upon it (45:8)
3 Righteousness will spring up among men with the salvation that is so common throughout the earth

56th prophecy in Isaiah (45:13-17)

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will raise up a man in righteousness (Cyrus, 45:1-4, 13; 41:2-3; 44:28; 46:11; Ezra 1:1-6)
2 I will direct all his ways (45:13)
3 He will build Jerusalem
4 He will let the Jews go back from captivity to become a nation again
5 He will let them go back without price or reward-voluntarily

12 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The labor (wealth) of Egypt will be consecrated to the true God and true worship (45:14)
2 The merchandise (wealth) of the Ethiopians and Sabeans will be consecrated to the true God and true religion
3 These people will all be converted of God and be united with Israel in true worship
4 They will be thine-united with Israel under the Messiah
5 They will follow you (Israel), in the truth of God
6 They will come over to you (Israel) and fall down before you like captive slaves taken in chains to do service to you and God
7 They will make supplication unto you, that is, become worshippers and suppliants of the Messiah and Jerusalem
8 They will recognize that God is in you and that He is the only true God
9 The makers of idols will be ashamed together when they see the nothingness of their gods (45:16)
10 They will also be confounded and go into confusion
11 Israel will be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation (45:17)
12 They will never be ashamed and confounded, world without end

57th prophecy in Isaiah (45:23-25)

5 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Every knee will bow to God (45:23)
2 Every tongue will confess to God
3 God will be recognized as the source of righteousness and strength (45:24)
4 All that have opposed Him and His program will be ashamed
5 The whole house of Israel will be justified and glory in Jehovah (45:25)

58th prophecy in Isaiah (46:1-4)

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Bel (Abbreviation of Baal-Lord) will fall down (46:1, Cp. 1 Sam. 5:2-7)
2 Nebo will be humbled (46:1)
3 Idols (of Babylon) will be laid upon beasts and borne away in triumph
4 The wagons will be full and heavily laden with idols being taken into captivity
5 They will be burdens to weary beasts
6 They will not be able to deliver Babylon, but will be gone into captivity themselves (46:2)

4 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will be your God even to your old age (46:4)-speaking of the eternal nation of Israel
2 I will carry (protect) you even to your old age
3 I have made you, and will bear you
4 Even I will carry (protect), and deliver you

59th prophecy in Isaiah (46:10-13)

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 My counsel will stand (46:10)
2 My pleasure will be done
3 I will call a ravenous bird from the east (Cyrus, 46:11; 41:1-3, 25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13)
4 He will execute My counsel (46:11)
5 He will come from a far country
6 I will bring My spoken word to pass
7 I will do what I have purposed

4 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will bring My righteousness near (46:13)
2 It will not be far distant
3 My salvation will not tarry
4 I will place salvation in Zion for Israel (46:12; Rom. 11:25-29)

60th prophecy in Isaiah (47:1-15):

36 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The daughter of Babylon will sit in the dust in humiliation and defeat (47:1)
2 There will be no throne in Babylon
3 You will be called tender and delicate no more
4 You will be made naked (47:2-3)

5 Your shame will be seen (47:3)
6 I will take vengeance
7 I will not meet you as a man
8 You will sit in silence and darkness
9 You will be called The lady of kingdoms no more (47:5)
10 I will be wroth with My people (47:6)
11 I will pollute My inheritance
12 I will give them into your hand
13 You will not show mercy
14 You will even be unmerciful to the elders and put them under a heavy yoke
15 You will say, I will be a lady for ever (47:7)
16 You will not lay these things to heart and profit by them
17 You will not remember the latter end of your pride and arrogancy
18 You will give yourself over to pleasures (47:8)
19 You will become careless
20 You will say in your heart: I am, and there is none beside me; I will not be a widow or lose children (47:8, 10)
21 In one day you will become a widow and lose your children (47:9)
22 Your judgment will be complete (in perfection) because of the multitude of your sorceries and enchantments
23 You will trust in your own wickedness and say, None seeth me (47:10)
24 Your wisdom and knowledge will pervert you
25 Evil will come upon you (47:11)
26 You will not know from which place your judgment will come 27 Mischief will befall you and you will not be able to put it off
28 Your desolation will come upon you suddenly, which you will not know
29 There will be a possibility of being able to profit by your mistakes of trusting in enchantments and sorceries, but you will not do so because of your pride and arrogancy (47:12)
30 You will be wearied with the multitude of counsels, so let your astrologers, stargazers, and monthly prognosticators save you from destruction that will come upon you (47:13)
31 You will be as stubble burned in the fire (47:14)
32 Even your counsellors will burn
33 They shall not be able to deliver themselves, much less you
34 Your destruction will be so complete that there will not be one coal left to warm at, and no fire to sit before
35 This will be the end of those who labor to save you (47:15)
36 Even the merchants with whom you have labored from your youth will flee to their quarters and not be able to save you

7 things absolutely certain (46:10):

1 God's plan is eternal; and it has been declared in Scripture from eternity to eternity (v 10)
2 Prophecies that are unfulfilled will be fulfilled in due time
3 God's counsel will stand
4 God's will and pleasure will yet be done on earth as in heaven
5 God always finds a man who will do His will on earth (v 11), even if He has to raise one up (41:2, 25)
6 God's spoken word will not return to Him void (v 11; 55:11)
7 God's eternal purpose will be finally realized on earth (v 11; Eph. 3:9-11)

12 commands of Babylon (47:1):

1 Come down-get off the throne (v 1)
2 Sit in the dust
3 Sit on the ground
4 Take the millstones (v 2)
5 Grind meal
6 Uncover your locks
7 Make the leg bare
8 Uncover the thigh
9 Pass over the rivers
10 Sit silent (v 5)
11 Hear now (v 8)
12 Stand now with your enchantments (v 12)

8 proofs of latter day fulfillment (47:1):

1 Babylon will no more be called tender and delicate after this destruction, that is, be a place of riches and luxury (v 1). Since Babylon will be tender and delicate in the future when Antichrist reigns here (13:1-14:27; Zech. 5:8-11, notes; Rev. 18:1-24, notes) then this prophecy must refer to the final time when she can no more be described thus

2 The same argument applies to the term The lady of kingdoms (v 5). Since she is pictured as a lady dominating the kings of the earth, then her ladyship being no more must refer to her destruction under the 7th vial at the end of this age (Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24)

3 Babylon did not become a widow or lose all her children (v 9) when Cyrus took the city; the place continued to exist and be inhabited many centuries after this; but in the future and final destruction all the people will be killed and the whole city demolished (Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24)

4 The judgment of Babylon was not perfect or complete when Cyrus overthrew the city (v 9, 14), but it will be in the future destruction (13:19-22; Jer. 50:39-40; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)

5 Judgment upon future Babylon will be so sudden and complete that the people of the city will not know the source of it (v 11); and so, since they did know of the capture by the Medes and Persians this must refer to the future (Dan. 5:25-28)

6 Judgment of Babylon was to be suddenly (v 11). Since this was not the case when Cyrus took the city, and the same term is used of the future destruction under the 7th vial, at the end of this age, the prophecy must refer to the future (Jer. 51:8; Rev. 18:10, 17, 19)

7 Babylon will be burned with fire (v 14). Since this did not happen when Cyrus took the city, and since it will be destroyed this way at the end of this age, the prophecy must refer to the future (Jer. 50:40; Rev. 18:8)

8 Merchants were not mentioned as being destroyed under Cyrus, but they are mentioned in particular as fleeing from future Babylon (v 15; Rev. 18:15-20)

61st prophecy in Isaiah (48:14-15)

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Jehovah will love him (Cyrus, 48:14; 41:1-3, 25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13; 46:11)
2 He will do his pleasure on Babylon (48:14)
3 His arm will be on the Chaldeans
4 I will call him (48:15)
5 I will bring him
6 I will make his way prosperous

62nd prophecy in Isaiah (48:20):

5 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Go forth of Babylon (48:20; Jer. 51:6; Rev. 18:4) 51:6)
2 Flee from the Chaldeans (48:20; Jer.
3 Declare it (redemption from Babylon) with a voice of singing (48:20)
4 Tell it and utter it even to the end of the earth
5 Say you: The Lord has redeemed His servant Jacob

These are prophetic commands in view of a latter-day struggle between Israel and Babylon, as is clear from the fact that when Cyrus took Babylon, Israel did not flee from the Chaldeans; they did not sing of redemption to the end of the earth; and Jacob was not redeemed then as they will be at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 20; Zech. 12:10-13:1, 9; Rom. 11:25-29)

63rd prophecy in Isaiah (49:1-26)

19 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The Lord has called Me from the womb (49:1; 7:14; 9:6-7; Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 1:35; Jn. 1:14)
2 He has made mention of My name from the bowels of My mother (49:1; Mt. 1:21)
3 He has made My mouth like a sharp sword (49:2; Rev. 1:16; 2:12; 19:15)
4 He has hid Me in the shadow of His hand (49:2; 51:16)
5 He has made Me a sharp, polished shaft (arrow, 49:2)
6 He has hid Me in His quiver
7 He called Me His servant (49:3; 42:1-4, 6-7; 52:13; 53:11; Mt. 12:18)
8 He has called My name Israel (for the same reason it was given to Jacob, 49:3; Gen. 32:28)
9 I will be glorified in Him (49:3; 61:3; Jn. 13:31-32; 14:13; 17:4)
10 It appears that My work has been in vain, but God is judge of this and My work is with Him (49:4)
11 He formed Me from the womb to be His servant to bring Israel back to Him (49:5; 42:1-6; 53:1-12; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Mt. 23:37; Rom. 11:26-29)
12 Even if Israel be not yet gathered, I shall still be glorious in His eyes (49:5)
13 My God shall be My strength
14 I will also make You the light to the Gentiles to be for salvation to the ends of the earth (49:6, 22; 11:10; 42:1, 6; 60:3, 5; 62:2; 66:12, 19; Mt. 21:18-21; Acts 4:27; Rom. 1:16; 15:9-27; Eph. 3:6)
15 Thus saith the Lord...to Him whom man despises, whom the nation (Israel) abhors, a servant of rulers, He (God the Father) will choose You (the Messiah, 49:7)
16 I (God the Father) have heard You (the Messiah) in an acceptable time (49:8)
17 I have helped You in the day of salvation
18 That You may loose prisoners (49:9)
19 That those in darkness may come to the light again-show themselves

36 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Kings will see Him and arise (49:7)
2 Princes also will worship Him
3 I will preserve You (49:8)
4 I will give You for a covenant of the people
5 To establish the earth
6 To restore the desolate places of the earth (49:8; 35:1-10)
7 They will feed in the ways and their pastures will be in high places (49:9)
8 They will not hunger or thirst
9 The heat of the sun will not smite them anymore (49:10)
10 He (the Messiah) will lead them by the springs of water (49:10; Rev. 7:17)
11 I (God the Father) will make all My mountains passable (49:11) 11) 12 My highways will be exalted (49:
13 I will gather My people Israel from afar, from all parts of the earth (49:12; 11:10-12; Jer. 30:31; Ezek. 37)
14 I will comfort My people and have mercy upon the afflicted (49:13)
15 I will not forget My people (49:14-16) 17)
16 Your children will make haste (49:
17 Your destroyers will go forth from you
18 All Israel will gather together and come back to Zion (v 14, 16)
19 They will come back and fit into Zion like a garment and an ornament (49:18)
20 You (Zion, v 14) will bind them (the regathered Israelites) on you as a bride does her garments and ornaments
21 Your waste and desolate places and destroyed lands will be too small for the many inhabitants of Israel that will be gathered (49:19)
22 Your enemies that swallowed you up will be far away
23 Your children will say, The place is too small for us to dwell in (49:20)
24 Then you will say in your heart, Who has begotten all these? (49:21)
25 I (God) will lift up My hand to the Gentiles, and help bring Israel back to Zion (49:22)
26 Kings and queens will be your nursing fathers and mothers (49:23)
27 They will bow down and humble themselves before you
28 You will know that I am Jehovah
29 They will not be ashamed that wait for My coming 30 The captives of the mighty will be delivered (49:24-25)
31 The prey of the terrible will be taken from them
32 I will fight with them that fight with you (49:25)
33 I will save your children
34 I will punish them that oppress you (49:26)
35 They will reap what they have sown
36 All flesh will know that I the Lord am your Saviour and Redeemer

Fulfilled by Messiah (49:1)

The Messiah, the only one that could fulfil v 1-12

8 proofs Messiah referred to:

1 Of all the theories regarding who this refers to-the church, Israel, Isaiah, or Messiah - the acceptable one pertains to the Messiah, for He is the only one who could fulfil the prediction about being called and named from the womb (v 1; Mt. 1:21; Lk. 1:21)
2 None of the statements in v 2-4 could be made of the church, Israel as a nation, or of Isaiah; so they must refer to the Messiah
3 The work of this servant-to bring Jacob to God again, raise up the tribes of Israel, restore the preserved of Israel, to be a light to the Gentiles, and salvation to the ends of the earth-could never be that of anyone but the Messiah (v 5-6)
4 The statements of God's Holy One, whom men would despise and Israel would abhor, could only refer to the Messiah (v 7)
5 God's choice of the person referred to was to cause kings and princes to worship Him-and this could only be the Messiah
6 The Messiah was the only person who could be for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, and cause the waste places of the earth to be restored and inhabited, as in v 8
7 The Messiah is the only one from Isaiah's time until now who could loose prisoners and those sitting in darkness so that they would never hunger or thirst again, who could keep them from the elements, and lead them as a shepherd, as predicted in v 9-12
8 The Messiah is the one that will regather Israel, as predicted in v 5-6, 12 (Mt. 24:29-31). Since Isaiah or any other prophet never did or ever will fulfil all these things, since the church or Israel never will fulfil them, and since the Messiah will do so, then we must understand Him to be the one predicted in v 1-12

6 commands to the people (49:1):

1 Listen, O isles (maritime countries, v 1)
2 Hearken, you people from afar
3 Sing, O heavens (v 13)
4 Be joyful, O earth
5 Break forth into singing, O mountains
6 Lift up your eyes around about (v 18)

Work of the Messiah (49:4):

I (Messiah) said to Myself (or thought) that My work seemed of little success-being so hated of men and despised by My own people (v 7; 53:1-12; Mt. 21:33-45; 23:34-39; Jn. 1:11; Acts 2:23); yet the results are with God and in His hands (v 4). He had perfect confidence in God as to the final outcome of His work-He never became discouraged or despondent. Committing Himself to God, He did not attempt to avenge wrongs. He left His name, reputation, plans, and work with God. The verse teaches that the most faithful self-denial and holy living may, for a time, seem unfruitful-through no fault of the worker, but because of conditions on earth. Those who labor must learn to do as Christ did-commit themselves and their work to God, and toil on in faith

12fold work of the Messiah (49:5):

1 To be the servant of God (v 3, 5)
2 To bring Israel back to God (v 5)
3 Raise up the tribes of Israel (v 6)
4 Restore the preserved of Israel
5 Be for a light to the Gentiles
6 Be salvation to all the earth
7 Be for a covenant of people (v 8)
8 Establish the earth
9 Restore the waste places of the earth and cause their habitation
10 Loose prisoners (v 9)
11 Free men from darkness
12 Guide men (v 10)

Heaven and earth sing (49:13)

The heavens, earth, and mountains were commanded to sing and rejoice because the Lord had returned to His people, gathered them, comforted them, and would have mercy on them (v 13). This could not refer to the past, but to the days of the Messiah when Palestine will be blessed with fertility and be overcrowded with generations to come (v 14-26). Zion, not the 10 tribes, complained that God had forsaken and forgotten them, but they were assured by Jehovah that such was as impossible as a normal woman forsaking her sucking child. Even if it were possible, He would not forget Zion (v 14-15), for, as He said, "I have graven you upon the palms of My hands: your walls are continually before Me" (v 16). After giving this assurance God predicted final and eternal restoration (v 17-26)

64th prophecy in Isaiah (50:1-11)

15 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Judah will be put away (50:1)
2 No man will be able to help in the day when Judah is being put away (50:2)
3 The Messiah alone has power to redeem and deliver (50:2-3)
4 God has given Me (Messiah) the tongue of the learned that I may know how to help the weary (50:4)
5 He wakens Me morning by morning to hear as the learned
6 He has opened My ear, and I was not rebellious, neither did I turn away (50:5)
7 I gave My back to the smiters, and My cheeks to them that plucked out the hair (50:6)
8 I hid not My face from shame and spitting
9 The Lord will help Me (50:7, 9)
10 I will not be confounded (50:7)
11 I have set My face like a flint
12 I know I will not be ashamed
13 He is near that justifies Me, so who will dare contend with Me? (50:8)
14 Those that condemn Me will be destroyed (50:9)
15 Those who do not fear the Lord or obey His servant, who walk in darkness and in the light of their own fire, will regret it (50:10-11)

Again, the whole prophecy, like many others in Isaiah, is written mainly in the past tense, but it was not fulfilled until many years later. The divorce between God and Judah took place about 133 years after these predictions, whereas the events concerning the Messiah took place over 700 years later

65th prophecy in Isaiah (51:1-52:12)

35 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The Lord will comfort Zion (51:3)
2 He will comfort all her waste places
3 He will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord
4 Joy, gladness, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody will be found therein
5 A law will proceed from Me (51:4)
6 I will make judgment to rest for a light of the people
7 My righteousness is near (51:5)
8 My salvation is gone forth
9 My arms will judge the people
10 The isles will wait upon Me
11 They shall trust on My arm
12 The heavens will vanish like smoke (51:6)
13 The earth will wax old as a garment
14 Men that dwell in it will die in like manner
15 My salvation will be forever
16 My righteousness will not be abolished
17 The wicked will be consumed like a moth eaten garment and like wool that is eaten by worms; but My righteousness and salvation will continue in all generations (51:7-8)
18 The Redeemed shall return, and come with singing to Zion (51:11)
19 Everlasting joy will be upon them
20 They will have joy and gladness
21 Sorrow and crying will flee away
22 I will comfort you (51:12)
23 The fury of the oppressor will be no more (51:13)
24 I have put My words in your mouth (51:16; 59:20-21)
25 I have covered you in the shadow of My hand that I may say to Zion: You are My people (51:16)
26 I have taken the cup of trembling out of your hand, even the dregs of the cup of My fury; and you will no more drink of it (51:21-22)
27 I will put it into the hands of your enemies, for them to drink of it (51:23)
28 Henceforth the uncircumcised and the unclean will never come into Jerusalem (52:1)
29 The captivity of Israel will be over and the people will return to Jerusalem and Zion (52:2-6)
30 My people will know My name in that day and understand that I have spoken to them (52:6)
31 Missionaries will go upon the mountains bringing good tidings and publishing peace and salvation; and they will say to Zion: Your God reigns! (52:7)
32 Your watchmen will sing together and see eye to eye when the Lord will bring you back to Zion (52:8)
33 The waste places (their inhabitants) will break forth into singing because of the comfort and redemption of Jerusalem (52:9)
34 Jehovah will make bare His holy arm before the eyes of all nations, and all the ends of the earth will see the salvation of God (52:10)
35 You will not go out with haste, for Jehovah will go before you and be your rear guard (52:11-12)

22 commands in this prophecy (51:6):

1 Hearken to Me (51:1)
2 Look unto the rock
3 Look unto Abraham and Sarah (51:2)
4 Hearken unto Me (51:4)
5 Give ear unto Me
6 Lift up your eyes to heaven (51:6)
7 Look upon the earth beneath
8 Hearken unto Me (51:7)
9 Fear not the reproach of men
10 Neither be afraid of their revilings
11 Awake, awake, put on strength (51:9)
12 Awake, awake, stand up (51:17)
13 Awake, awake, put on strength (52:1)
14 Put on your beautiful garments
15 Shake yourself from the dust (52:2)
16 Arise, and sit down
17 Loose yourself from your bands
18 Break forth into joy and sing (52:9)
19 Depart, go out from thence (52:11)
20 Touch no unclean thing
21 Go out of the midst of her 22 Be clean

THE HEART OF THE BIBLE!

66th prophecy in Isa. (52:13-53:12)

32 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Many were astonished at such horrible sufferings of the Messiah (52:14)
2 His visage was marred more than that of any other man, and His form more than the sons of men
3 In His childhood He grew up as a tender plant, and as a root out of dry ground (53:2)
4 In His sufferings He had no beauty of form and no external glory to attract men to Himself
5 He was despised and rejected of men (53:3)
6 He was a man of sufferings and fully acquainted with sickness and pain
7 Men hid (or turned) their faces from Him in disgust when they saw His agonies
8 He was despised, and we put no value upon His sufferings
9 The sicknesses and pains He bore during His sufferings were our very own; yet in view of this we regarded Him as suffering justly, smitten by divine judgment, and afflicted for His own sins (53:4)
10 He was slain for our transgressions (because we had sinned); He was crushed for our iniquities; the punishment (chastisement) that secured our peace fell upon Him; and with His stripes (blows, wounds, bruises) we are healed (He brought us healing, 53:5)
11 The Lord laid upon Him the iniquity (guilt, sins) of all (53:6)
12 He was maltreated and afflicted, yet He would not open His mouth to complain (53:7)
13 He was as silent and submissive in all His sufferings as a lamb brought to the slaughter, and as a sheep before the shearers
14 He was taken from prison (Heb. otser, oppression, as in Ps. 107:39), and from judgment (justice); and who can describe the wickedness of His generation? (53:8)
15 He was cut off (violently torn away and slain) from the land of the living 16 He was slain for the transgressions that the covenant-people should have been slain for 17 He was buried in a grave with felons and criminals (53:9)
18 He was placed in a rich man's tomb and associated with them in His death
19 Although He had done no violence, and no deceit was found in His mouth, it pleased Jehovah to bruise Him for the sake of saving others (53:10)
20 He (Jehovah) put Him to grief (Heb. chalah, make sick; diseased; weak; afflicted; painful)
21 Jehovah made His soul an offering for sin
22 Messiah would have many followers as a result of His sufferings
23 He would prolong His days (live eternally even though He died)
24 The pleasure of the Lord would prosper in His hand
25 He would see the results of His sufferings and be satisfied (53:11)
26 By His knowledge God's righteous servant would make many righteous, for He would bear their iniquities (become sin for them that they might be made the righteousness of God in Him, 53:11; 2 Cor. 5:14-21)
27 Jehovah was to divide Him a portion (or class Him) among the great (53:12)
28 Messiah would divide the spoils of the strong 29 He poured out His soul unto death
30 He was numbered with transgressors
31 He bore the sin of many 32 He made intercession for the transgressors

5 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 My servant will deal prudently (52:13)
2 He will be exalted and extolled, and be very high 15)
3 He will sprinkle many nations (52:
4 Kings will shut their mouths at Him
5 That which had not been told them they will see, and that which they had not heard, they will consider

Prudent; defined (52:13)

Heb. sakal, to be circumspect and intelligent; considerate; expert; prosperous; to deal prudently; be skilful; have good success; have wisdom; behave self; guide wittingly (v 13). It is trans. behaved wisely (1 Sam. 18:5; Ps. 101:2); prosper (Dt. 29:9; Josh. 1:7; 1 Kl. 2:3); good success (Josh. 1:8); deal prudently (52:13); and understand (Dan. 9:25)

Exaltation planned (52:13)

In God's plan, this always follows humiliation, suffering, obedience, and conformity to the chief end in life - the highest good of all (Mt. 23:12; Lk. 14:11; 18:14; Phil. 2:5-11; Heb. 5:8-9). The Heb. ruwm means to rise to a high place; to be lifted up to a high position

Messiah astonied (52:14)

Heb. shamem, to stun; grow numb; stupify; be shocked; make amazed; be astonished; wonder. Trans. astonied (v 14; Ezra 9:3-4; Job 17:8; 18:20; Ezek. 4:17); astonishment (2 Chr. 7:21); wondered (59:16; 63:5); amazed (Ezek. 32:10); and astonished (Lev. 26:32; 1 Kl. 9:8; Job 21:5; Jer. 2:12; 4:9; 18:16; 19:8; 49:17; 50:13; Ezek. 3:15; 26:16; 27:35; 28:19; Dan. 8:27)

Jehovah's servant (52:13)

Jehovah's servant, not the servant of Satan, man, or sin. This servant is not Israel, the church, or the prophet himself, but the Messiah who was predicted in 7:14; 9:6-7; 42:1; 52:13; 53:11; 65:8. His exaltation is first introduced as this is the eternal aspect of the Messiah (52:13, 15); and then His humiliation is dealt with in detail as this is the immediate step to His exaltation (52:14; 53:1-12). The chapter should have started at 52:13, for it begins the detailed description of the Messiah in suffering and exaltation. This is the most important section of the O. T. and could be called the heart of the O. T. No other portion of the Bible, of like size, gives the reasons for the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ. No other part of the Bible has created more controversy between the friends and foes of Christianity

7 facts about the prophecy:

1 The literal description of the sufferings of Christ should settle all controversy with Jews; it proves that their ideas about Christ are wrong. It is a matter of history that Jews interpreted the prophecy in connection with the Messiah until they were pressed to apply it to Jesus of Nazareth; then they were compelled to adopt some other interpretation. Many began to hold that there were two Messiahs - one a suffering Messiah, the other a glorious conqueror. It is true that the O. T. pictures the Messiah as God and man, king and subject, prince and commoner, master and servant, priest and sacrifice, rich and poor, exalted and abased, and eternal yet subject to death; but all this refers to one Messiah only - Jesus of Nazareth. Some have maintained Messiah came in the person of Hezekiah; others, in modern days claimed that He has been here a good while, but will not manifest Himself because of the sins of the Jews. Anything seems acceptable with those who wish to do away with the literal fulfillment of the prophecy in Jesus Christ

2 It was written about 780 years before the sufferings of Jesus Christ; this should settle all controversy with infidels. The description is so particular and minute as to life, work, character, and death of Christ that it could not possibly be guesswork or accidental, but the fulfillment of a divine prearranged plan. As to the passage being a forgery, Jews never would have forged it because the predictions are strictly contrary to all their prevailing ideas of the Messiah. They were looking for a great and glorious prince, a conqueror; and this was one of their reasons for rejecting Christ. He was of obscure origin and led a despised life. Christains would not have forged such a prophecy; Jews guarded their own Scriptures and no sect could have corrupted the passage. Furthermore, no Jewish writer has ever pretended that it was not a true prophecy by Isaiah or that it has been changed in any way by Christians to suit their program

3 The fulfillment could not have been the work of an impostor claiming to fulfil the ancient prophecy to promote his designs, for a large portion of the circumstances did not depend upon the one predicted, but grew out of the feelings and purposes of others seeking to frustrate divine plans. It would be impossible for an impostor to create in his life, in every detail, the exact coincidences regarding his experiences, work, character, and death as put forth in the prophecy

4 No human being or beings, even those in league with satanic powers could have shaped the course of events connected with the fulfillment of the prophecy. According to the law of compound probability the 36 separate details of note u, v 2 would have only one chance in 68, 719, 476, 736 of fulfillment. See Law of compound probability, p. 731

5 The passage is quoted in the N. T. several times, as if from a well-known prophecy accepted by all Israel (Mt. 8:17; Jn. 12:38; Acts 8:28-36; Rom. 10:16; 1 Pet. 2:21-25)

6 The prophecy itself proves that it refers to an individual, not a nation or group of people, for singular personal pronouns are used throughout. His visage being marred more than that of other men; His form; His personal work with men; His being called a man, being rejected, despised, smitten, wounded, and His death; His mouth, grave, the offering of His soul for sin; and many other details could only refer to an individual - the Messiah

7 The 3fold division of the prophecy:
(1) An epitome of the prophecy (52:13-15). Here Jehovah describes Messiah's humiliation and exaltation showing that, as a result of His humiliation to redeem, the nations of earth and their kings would regard Him with profound reverence
(2) Reception of the prophecy (53:1)
(3) The 36fold sufferings of the Messiah:
A His appearance during His sufferings (53:2-3)
B Object of His sufferings (53:4-6)
C Manner of His sufferings (53:7-8)
D End of His sufferings (53:9a)
E Purpose of His sufferings (53:9b-10a)
F Reward for His sufferings (53:10b-12a) (53:12b)
G Associates in His sufferings

Messiah disfigured (52:14)

Heb. mishchath, to disfigure. Trans. marred (v 14); corruption (Lev. 22:25). The idea is that in His sufferings the Messiah was so bruised, beaten, marred, disfigured, striped, mutilated, injured, spit upon, and torn that His outward appearance was awful to behold. He suffered so much that even the most wicked of hardhearted men shuddered with shock at such treatment heaped upon Him by enemies. He became so disfigured and destitute of His natural beauty and handsomeness that men were stricken with amazement, disgust, and heart-sickness at what they saw. The more perfect His body the more marred He seemed in suffering

Sprinkling many nations (52:15)

Heb. nazah, to spurt; sprinkle in expiation. The reference would be to the custom of sprinkling guests at feasts with perfumed water from a silver sprinkler. It has nothing to do with sprinkling of water in baptism, but to the symbolic sprinkling of blood, as in Ex. 29:21; Lev. 4:6, 17; 5:9; 14:7, 16, 27, 51; 16:14-15, 19; etc. It is used only once of the water of purification (Num. 8:7). Many nations will be blessed with salvation and their kings will be dumb with astonishment because of their admiration and veneration of Him (v 15)

2 reasons all should believe (53:1):

1 The report itself. God has spoken by the mouths of the prophets since the world began (Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-3; 1 Pet. 1:10-12). God, Himself began the long list of prophecies of the coming Redeemer by promising that the Seed of the Woman would crush the serpent's head and restore man's dominion (Gen. 3:15-16). Abraham and Isaac spoke of Him coming through their seed (Gen. 12:1-3; 15:4-6; 17:4-8, 19-21; 21:12; 26:4). Jacob said He would come from Judah (Gen. 49:10). Moses predicted Him as a prophet like himself (Dt. 18:15-19). David referred to Him as coming from his seed (2 Sam. 7). Isaiah said He would be born of a virgin in Judah of the house of David (7:14; 9:6-7), and pictured His rejection and sufferings (52:13-53:12). Others also made reports of His coming, so Israel had no excuse for their unbelief when He did come

2 Miracles confirming the report. The report was not only predicted and then literally fulfilled in Jesus of Nazareth, but there were also miracles confirming to Israel the fact that He was the true Messiah sent of God (11:1-2; 42:1-6; 61:1-2; Mt. 11:1-6; Lk. 4:16-18; Acts 2:22; 10:38). The arm of the Lord is figurative of His power, which Isaiah predicted would be revealed along with the report (Jn. 5:20, 36; 10:25-38; 12:38-40; 14:10-12; 15:24)

Messiah growing up (53:2)

Before Jehovah the Messiah was to grow up like a tender plant (a sprout or tender shoot growing out of a decayed stock or stump of a tree that was apparently dead, v 2). This refers to His infancy, a sucking child, already predicted by the prophet (v 2; 7:14; 9:6-7; 11:1-2). Fulfilled in Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 2:1-52

36fold suffering of Messiah (53:2)

1 Visage marred more than that of any other man (52:14)
2 Form marred more than any other
3 Suffered unbelief of men (53:1)
4 Suffered human limitations (53:2)
5 Had no form (beauty)
6 Had no comeliness (glory)
7 Men had no desire for Him
8 He was despised of men (53:9)
9 Rejected by men
10 Suffered many sorrows
11 Was acquainted with grief (sickness)
12 Men hid their faces from Him
13 He was not esteemed by men
14 He bore griefs (sicknesses) of others (53:4)
15 He carried sorrows (pains) of men
16 Men counted Him stricken
17 Smitten of God
18 Afflicted by God
19 He was wounded for our sins (53:5)
20 Bruised for our iniquities
21 Chastised for our peace
22 Striped for our healing
23 He suffered over the going astray of His own creation (53:6)
24 Suffered over seeing all men going their own way in selfishness
25 Bore sins of all men (53:6, 10-12)
26 Suffered oppression by men (53:7)
27 He was afflicted by men
28 Arrested by men (53:8)
29 Justice was taken from Him
30 He lived among wicked men
31 Was violently taken away by men
32 Was stricken for sins of men
33 Bruised by men (53:10)
34 He took sicknesses of men
35 Travailed in soul (53:11)
36 Was classed with criminals (53:12)

Messiah's lack of beauty (53:2)

This was true when men saw Him in His sufferings, but if they could see Him now in His exalted glory they would desire Him (v 2 with Phil. 2:9-11). Even when they saw Him in His life before His sufferings such could not have been true except in the case of enemies, filled with satanic hatred. Christ was no doubt the most handsome and attractive man who ever lived; but the sufferings described here would cause anyone to think there was no beauty about Him. The following description of Him, supposed to have been written during His life on earth before His sufferings, is probably spurious, but it certainly is a wonderful word picture of a wonderful man:

"There lives at this time in Judea a man of singular virtue, whose name is Jesus Christ, whom the barbarians esteem as a prophet, but his followers love and adore him as the offspring of the immortal God. He calls back the dead from the grave and heals all sorts of diseases with a word or touch. He is a tall man, well shaped, and of an amiable and reverend aspect; his hair of a color that can hardly be matched, falling in graceful curls, waving about and very agreeably couching upon his shoulders, parted on the crown of the head, running like a stream to the front after the fashion of the Nazarites; his forehead high, large and imposing; his cheeks without spot or wrinkle, beautiful with a lovely red; his nose and mouth formed with exquisite symmetry; his beard of the color of new wine suitable to his hair, reaching below his chin and parted in the middle like a fork; his eyes bright blue, clear, and serene, look innocent, dignified, manly, and mature. In proportion of body most perfect and captivating; his arms and hands delectable to behold. He rebukes with majesty, counsels with mildness; his whole address, whether in word or deed, being eloquent and grave. No man has seen him laugh, yet his manners are exceedingly pleasant, but he has wept frequently in the presence of men. He is temperate, modest, and wise. A man for his extraordinary beauty and divine perfections, surpassing the children of men in every sense"

Man of sorrows (53:3)

He was a man of sorrows, because He carried our sorrows (v 3-4). He personally had no sin, sickness, pain, or suffering on account of His own self and sins; but we have these in abundance, and since He came into the world to carry them for us He had to become identified with us in our sufferings by taking them upon Himself and bearing them unto death so that we might be free from them. Therefore, sorrow became a characteristic of His life during His sufferings in particular. He no doubt had sorrows from the time His sensitive, pure, sinless, and untainted life began to contact the sins, depravities, corruptions, sicknesses, diseases, and pains of others

Grief: defined (53:3)

Heb. cholly, malady. Trans. grief (v 3); griefs (v 4); disease (2 Ki. 1:2; 8:28-29; 2 Chr. 16:12; 21:18; Job 30:18; Ps. 38:7; Eccl. 6:2); sick (1:5); sickness (38:9, 12; Dt. 7:15; 28:61; 1 Ki. 17:17; 2 Ki. 13:14; 2 Chr. 21:15, 19; Ps. 41:3; Eccl. 5:17); sicknesses (Dt. 28:59). The words grief and griefs in v 3-4 should have been trans. sickness as the Heb. word is trans. elsewhere and recognized by many versions as in point 3, below. Christ was not only acquainted with diseases and sicknesses in the sense of being able to discern and diagnose them, and by being familiar with them in others, but He actually bore them in His own body while hanging on the cross and becoming a substitute for others, as in note on 10 proofs, below

10 proofs Christ bore sin and sickness (53:4):

1 It is so stated in v 4-5: Surely (Heb. aken, surely; firmly; certainly) He hath borne our griefs (sicknesses and diseases, as in the note above), and carried our sorrows... He was wounded (pierced, slain bodily) for our transgressions... bruised for our iniquities ... with His stripes we are healed

2 The quotation and fulfillment of this prophecy in Mt. 8:16-17 prove that the bearing of sicknesses and infirmities was physical, not spiritual healing. Physical healing is mentioned hundreds of times in covenant, promise, prophecy, and experience in Scripture, whereas healing of the soul is mentioned only one time in Ps. 41:4. See Healing in Index

3 Many versions confirm this plain truth of v 3-5, 10 and state that both sin and sickness were borne by Christ in His sufferings, and that physical healing and forgiveness of sins were both provided for in the atonement of Christ. Berkeley: "acquainted with sickness... Surely He has borne our sickness... pierced for our transgressions... bruised for our iniquities... with His stripes we are healed;" Septuagint: "This man beareth away our sins... by His stripes we are healed;" Peshitta: "He was slain for our sins... with His wounds we are healed;" Moffatt: "A man of pain, who knew what sickness was... ours was the pain He bore... He was wounded because we had sinned, 'twas our misdeeds that crushed Him... the blows that fell to Him have brought us healing;" Fenton: "He was convicted because of our crimes, and punished because of our vices; and by His stripes we were healed ... yet the Lord pleased to depress Him with pain;" Young: "A man of pains, and acquainted with sickness... Surely our sicknesses He hath borne, and our pains He hath carried them... by His bruise there is healing for us... He hath made Him sick;" Rotherham: "Man of pains, and familiar with sickness... Surely our sicknesses He carried, and as for our pains He bare the burden of them... He was pierced for transgressions that were ours, was crushed for iniquities that were ours... the chastisement of our well-being was upon Him. And by His stripes there is healing for us... He laid on Him sickness"

4 According to the Heb. as in versions quoted above, v 10 plainly says that He (Jehovah) hath made Him sick ... depressed Him with pain... laid on Him sickness; this was in addition to His soul being made an offering for sin. He was made sick for men as He was made sin for them. The idea is that He became the sick offering as well as the sin offering for man. Naturally, He never committed personal sin, neither was guile found in His mouth (1 Pet. 2:21-22). He never committed robbery, adultery, blasphemy, or any other sin; and yet it is stated in 2 Cor. 5:21 that He was made sin for us that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him. Likewise, He did not personally experience all the sicknesses and diseases, but He became sick in the sense of becoming an offering for sickness. He made atonement for sin and all its effects. Both sin and sickness were a part of the one curse, and both became a part of the one redemption. Christ atoned for and made provision for sickness to be healed, as well as for sin to be forgiven

5 God does nothing to remove sin, sickness, and every other part of the curse, apart from the redemptive work of Christ. Even the future restoration of the earth, the creatures on earth, and the whole human family, including their bodies, souls, and spirits, will be done through redemption (Rom. 8:18-25). How could redemption be apart from atonement, and how could it be complete without provision for the body as well as the soul? If the whole creation will be delivered from the bondage of corruption it is bound to be by blood, and will include both body and soul

6 God has made covenants to heal the body as well as to save the soul (Ex. 15:26; 23:25; Lev. 26; Dt. 28; Mt. 8:28). Promises and prophecies were made also to this end; and God sent Jesus Christ to fulfil these and demonstrate the provisions for man by healing the body and saving the soul (Mt. 8:16-17; 9:5-6; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38). Christ sent the early disciples out to carry on such work (Mt. 10; 28:20; Mk. 16:15-20; Lk. 10; 24:49; Acts 1:1-2, 8; 1 Cor. 12:1-11; Heb. 2:3-4)

7 God has declared that healing will accompany conversion if the gospel is taught properly and men receive and act on the truth (6:9-13; Job 33:14-29; Ps. 103:3; Mt. 9:5-8; 13:14-17; Acts 28:24-28; Jas. 5:14-16)

8 Peter confirmed the doctrine of Isaiah in stating that Christ bore the sins of all men in His body on the cross, and that by His stripes we are healed (1 Pet. 2:24). See Healing in Index

9 In typology, atonement is associated with healing in many scriptures. Whole chapters are devoted to making atonement for sins and sicknesses and even for the minutest touch of uncleanness, that of merely touching dead bodies, graves, issue of blood in childbirth, leprosy, etc. (Lev. 12:7-8; 14:1-57; 15:1-33). Why all these detailed instructions in connection with atonement for cleansing from sin and sickness in typology if there is no connection between atonement and healing of disease in Christ who fulfilled the types?

10 In many cases of healing recorded in both testaments, prayer and atonement were fully recognized as God's method of dealing with sin and sickness. Note the necessity of atonement and proper confession of sin in the various healings (Ex. 32; Num. 11:1-3; 12:1-16; 16:46-50; 21:1-9 with Jn. 3:14; 2 Sam. 24; Mt. 8:1-4, 16-17). Many died of sickness in Corinth because they did not recognize and appropriate healing through the broken body and shed blood of Christ (1 Cor. 11:27-34). Christ, Himself recognized atonement in connection with healing (Mt. 8:1-4)

Borne: defined (53:4)

Heb. nasa, to lift; bear; carry away; cast away; ease; erase; take away. The idea is that of one person taking the burden of another and placing it on himself, as carrying an infant; or, as the flood lifted up the ark (v 4; Ps. 103:12; Mt. 8:16-17; 1 Jn. 3:5). If Christ bore our griefs (sicknesses, the note above), then they were taken away in the same sense sins are taken away, or borne, as in v 11. This was not only done for people who lived during the few years of Christ's ministry on earth, but it was accomplished for all men of all ages. If sickness was borne only for these few, then sins were likewise borne only for these few, and others are lost, are subject to sickness, and have no remedy for either

Carried: defined (53:4)

Heb. cabal, to carry; bear. Trans. carried (v 4); bear (v 11; Gen. 49:15; 2 Chr. 2:2); and burden (Eccl. 12:5). The idea in all these passages is that the full load is borne by the one carrying it so that all others might be free of it. The meaning is that Christ bore all our sicknesses and pains, so that we do not need to have them; and if we do have them it is because we have not unloaded them on Him, by faith. There is no need for us to bear them if He bore them. If God had not intended for His people to be free from such then He would not have laid them upon Christ to bear for us (v 3-4, 6, 8, 11). One can be rid of his sicknesses as well as his sins upon the same basis of prayer and faith in the atonement. We must believe in the provision to experience the benefits. All the promises of Scripture and all benefits of the gospel are for believers, not unbelievers. The law of God is: he that believeth will be blessed, and he that believeth not will not be blessed (Mk. 1:15; 16:15-20; Jn. 7:27-39; 14:12-15; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:5-9). In all things the rule is: According to your faith so be it unto you (Mt. 8:13; 9:29)

Messiah's reception (53:4)

The idea here is that those who rejected the Messiah sinned the greatest by condemning Him to death, turning their faces from the very sufferings they caused, and supposing that He was suffering on account of His own sins and crimes, and that God was meting out proper justice to Him in striking, smiting, and afflicting Him (v 4). In this they erred, for it was not His own sins, sicknesses, pains, and sorrows that He bore, but ours. It was not for His own crimes that God suffered Him to be stricken, smitten, and afflicted, but for those of all others. Being so judged of God did not prove that He was a sinner and deserved what He suffered, but that we were the greatest of sinners and deserved punishment. It only demonstrated the love of God when He freely gave Christ to be a substitute for such sufferings; and it further proved love on Christ's part when He showed Himself willing to become such a substitute. We deserved what He suffered, but He was the one who bore such penalties for sin

Messiah stricken (53:4)

Heb. naga, to touch; lay the hand upon; strike violently; bring down; smite with a plague (v 4; Dt. 21:4). Trans. touch with various endings, 92 times

2 bodily references in making atonement (53:5):

1 Wound. Heb. chalal, to wound; bore; slay; pierce (v 5; 51:9; Ps. 109:22). This refers to piercing the hands, feet, and side

2 Bruise. Heb. daka, to crumble; beat to pieces; break; bruise; crush; destroy; smite (v 5, 10; 3:15; Job 19:2; Ps. 72:4; 94:5). This refers to the stripes by scourging, cuts by thorns, and other bodily sufferings; and proves this was part of the work of atonement by which blood was shed. It was by this particular phase of punishment that bodily healing was provided for all alike (v 5; 1 Pet. 2:24)

Messiah's healing power (53:5)

Heb. rapha, to mend; cure; heal; repair; make whole (v 5; 6:10). It has no reference to spiritual healing whatsoever. There are at least 14 Heb. and Gr. words found in scores of passages which plainly teach bodily soundness, healing, health, preservation, salvation, and deliverance. Sometimes one of these words is used in the same passage of both body and soul, and thus proves that it is not limited to the spiritual part of man. See p. 632; Bible plagues, p. 317 of N.T.

14 Heb. and Gr. words that refer to bodily healing:

1 The Heb. rapha is trans. cure (Jer. 33:6); make whole (Job 5:18); heal (19:22; 57:18-19; Num. 12:13; Dt. 32:39; 2 Ki. 20:5, 8; 6:2; Jer. 17:14; 30:17; Hos. 6:1; Zech. 1:16); healed (6:10; 53:4; Gen. 20:17; Ex. 21:19; Lev. 13:18, 37; 14:3, 48; Dt. 28:27, 35; 1 Sam. 6:3; 8:29; 9:15; 2 Chr. 22:6, 30:20; Ps. 30:2; 107:20; Jer. 17:14; Ezek. 34:4; Hos. 7:1; 11:3); healeth (20:26; Ex. 15:26; Ps. 103:3; 147:3); thoroughly healed (Ex. 21:19); and physician (Gen. 50:2; 2 Chr. 16:12; Job 13:4; Jer. 8:22)

2 The Heb. marpay is trans. healing (Jer. 14:19; Mal. 4:2); health (Pr. 4:22; 12:18; 13:17; 16:24; Jer. 8:15); cure (Jer. 33:6); remedy (2 Chr. 26:16; Pr. 6:15; 29:1); sound in health (Pr. 14:30); and wholesome (Pr. 15:4)

3 The Heb. yeshuwah is trans. health (Ps. 42:11; 43:5; 67:2); deliverance (Ps. 18:50; 44:4); and salvation (Ps. 91:16). The entire 91st Psalm teaches perfect healing and health physically; so the salvation of v 16 includes the body as well as the soul

4 The Heb. arubah means restoration to sound health (58:8; Jer. 8:22; 30:17; 33:6)

5 The Heb. chabash means healer (3:6); and to bind up or heal (30:26; 61:1; Ezek. 34:16; Hos. 6:1; Job 5:18; Ps. 147:3) 3:8)

6 The Heb. rifooth means health (Pr.

7 The Gr. therapeuo is trans. heal (Mt. 8:7; 10:1, 8; 12:10; Mk. 3:2, 15; Lk. 4:23; 6:7; 10:9; 14:3); healed (Mt. 4:23-24; 8:16, 17; 9:35; 12:15, 22; 14:14; 15:20; 19:2; 21:14; Mk. 1:34; 3:10; 6:5, 13; Lk. 4:40; 5:15; 6:18; 8:43; 9:6-11; 13:14; 14:4; Acts 4:14; 5:16; 8:7; 28:9); cure (Mt. 17:16; Lk. 9:1); and cured (Lk. 7:21; Jn. 5:10)

8 The Gr. iama means healing or repairing (1 Cor. 12:9, 28, 30)

9 The Gr. iaomai is trans. heal (Mt. 13:15; Lk. 4:18; 5:17; 9:2; Jn. 4:47; 12:40); healed (Mt. 8:8, 13; Mk. 5:29; Lk. 6:17, 19; 7:7; 8:2, 47; 17:15; 22:51; Jn. 5:13; Acts 3:11; 28:8; Heb. 12:13; Jas. 5:16; 1 Pet. 2:24); healing (Acts 10:38); whole (Mt. 15:28; Acts 9:24)

10 The Gr. iasis means healing and cure (Lk. 13:32; Acts 4:22, 30; 28:27)

11 The Gr. buglano means sound health (3 Jn. 2)

12 The Gr. hugies means healthy, sound and whole (Mt. 12:13; 15:31; Mk. 3:5; 5:34; Lk. 5:31)

13 The Gr. sodzo means to save, deliver, protect, heal, preserve, and make whole. It is used 86 times in reference to saving the soul, but in the following passages it refers to saving the body and healing it of sickness: Mt. 9:21-22; Mk. 5:23, 34; 6:56; 10:52; Lk. 8:36, 48; 8:50; 17:19; Acts 4:9; 14:9

14 The Gr. dia-sodzo means to save and to heal thoroughly, make perfectly whole, and is used of the body being healed (Mt. 14:35; Lk. 7:3)

16 He that blesses himself in the earth will bless himself in God (65:16)
17 He that swears in the earth will swear by God
18 Former troubles will be forgotten, and hid from My eyes
19 I create new heavens and a new earth (65:17)
20 The former will not be remembered, nor come into mind
21 I will create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy (65:18)
22 I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in My people (65:19)
23 The voice of weeping or crying will be heard in Jerusalem no more 24 There will be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days (65:20)
25 A child will die an hundred years old (human life will be so long that a person will be a child at the age of 100)
26 A sinner being an hundred years old will be accursed
27 They will build houses, and inhabit them (65:21)
28 They will plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them
29 They will not build, and another inhabit (65:22)
30 They will not plant, and another eat
31 As the days of a tree so will the days of My people be 32 My elect will long enjoy the work of their hands
33 They will not labor in vain (65:23)
34 They will not bring forth for trouble
35 They will be the seed of the blessed of the Lord and their children with them
36 Before they call I will answer (65:24)
37 While they are yet speaking I will hear 38 The wolf and the lamb will feed together (65:25)
39 The lion will eat straw like the bullock
40 Dust will be the serpent's meat
41 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain (66:5)
42 The Lord will vindicate His people
43 He will recompense His enemies (66:6)
44 Before she (Israel) travails she will bring forth; before her pain comes she will be delivered of a man child (66:7)
45 A nation will be born at once when Zion travails (66:8)
46 Jerusalem will be restored and be like a flowing stream
47 I will extend peace to her like a river (66:12)
48 The glory of the Gentiles will be like a flowing stream
49 Israel will be prosperous
50 Israel will be comforted (66:13)
51 Your heart will rejoice when this will be fulfilled (66:14)
52 The hand of the Lord will be known toward His servants
53 His indignation will be known toward His enemies 15) 54 The Lord will come with fire (66:
55 He will come like a whirlwind
56 He will render His anger with fury, and His rebuke with flames of fire
57 By fire and sword the Lord will plead with all flesh, and the slain of the Lord will be many (66:16)
58 All rebels will be consumed together (66:17; Zech. 13:9)
59 All nations will be gathered to see My glory (66:18)
60 I will set up a sign among them and will send the Jews to them who have not heard My fame or seen My glory, and they will declare My glory to the Gentiles (66:19)
61 Gentiles will bring all your brethren to Jerusalem for an offering to the Lord out of all nations (66:20)
62 I will take of them for priests and Levites to serve Me (66:21)
63 The new heavens and the new earth which I will make shall remain before Me eternally (66:22)
64 Israel will continue eternally
65 From one new moon to another, and one sabbath to another all flesh (on the new earth) will come and worship before Me (66:23)
66 All men (in the new earth) will go and look upon the carcases of the men who have sinned against Me (66:24)
67 Their worm will never die
68 Their fire will never be quenched
69 They will be an abhorring to all men who will live on the earth forever

True source of light (Isa. 60:19)

The idea here is not that there will not be any sun and moon, but simply that they will not be the source of light for the earthly Jerusalem (v 19-20; 4:5-6). There will be a need for the sun and moon eternally in other parts of the earth (30:26). The same idea is true concerning the New Jerusalem when it comes down to the new earth - the inhabitants will have no need of the sun and moon to light that city, for God's glory will be the light of it (Rev. 21:23). The sun and moon will always be needed for the earth, but not in these 2 cities - the earthly and heavenly Jerusalems

Millennial health (Isa. 60:20)

The sins, sicknesses, diseases, calamities, wars, and other aspects of the curse that cause mourning will be past for Israel and all other nations when Christ reigns eternally on earth. For Israel all this will stop in the Millennium because they will all turn to God and be saved, as explained in v 21; but among Gentiles there could be individual mourning over death to rebels who break the laws during this time (65:20). In the new earth, however, all this will be done away for all peoples (Rev. 21:3-7; 22:3)

God's program eternal (Isa. 60:21)

In the Millennium Israel will, for the first time, inherit all the land originally promised them forever (v 21; Gen. 17:8). Such passages as this prove that God's program for man on earth is eternal, not for a period of 7,000 years only. The fall of man did not do away with God's original purpose; it merely postponed that purpose until the final restitution of all things during the Millennium; and after that natural man ruled by resurrected man will continue God's original program as if man had never sinned. This is the sum and total of the purpose of God in the dispensational tests of Scripture - to bring man back to the place where he was before the fall, after having purged him of all possibility of future failures, and to set him in the new earth to carry on where the race left off when man fell (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; 2:7; 3:11; Rev. 21-22)

10 reasons Messiah anointed (Isa. 61:1):

1 To preach good tidings to the meek
2 Bind up the brokenhearted
3 Proclaim liberty to the captives
4 Open the prison to them that are bound
5 Proclaim the acceptable year of God God 6 Proclaim the day of vengeance of 7 Comfort all that mourn
8 Appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, and give beauty for ashes
9 Give oil of joy for mourning
10 Give them a garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness

10 things Judah will be (Isa. 62:3):

1 Righteous (v 1)
2 Saved
3 Full of glory (v 2)
4 Called by a new name
5 A crown of glory in Jehovah's hand
6 A royal diadem in God's hand
7 Called Hephzibah (v 4)
8 Called Beulah
9 A praise in the earth (v 7)
10 Called The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord, Sought out, A city not forsaken (v 12) a Words-prophecies of Jeremiah. Word in the singular and plural is used 182 times in this book compared to 45 times in Isaiah; 79 times in Ezekiel; and 74 times in all the 12 minor prophets. It is used 858 times in the rest of the Bible, and nearly always of the Word of God as received by men or declared by them in preaching and teaching

b See Jeremiah, p. 785

c One of 6 men named Hilkiah: a priest of Anathoth in Benjamin (v 1). He was of the line of Ithamar (1 Chr. 24:1-19) and not the high priest of the line of Eleazar (1 Chr. 6:1-13)

d 4 prophets were of the priests:
1 Jeremiah (v 1) 3 Ezekiel (1:3)
2 Nathan (1 Kl. 4:5) 4 Zechariah (1:1)

e Anathoth, 3 miles northeast of Jerusalem (1:1; 11:21-23; 29:27; 32:7-9; Josh. 21:18; 1 Kl. 2:26; 1 Chr. 6:60; 7:8; Ezra 2:23; Neh. 7:27; 10:19; 11:32)

f This expression is found mostly in Jeremiah and Ezekiel. The writers of these books were priests and they used the term about 76 times

g 5 kings under whom Jeremiah prophesied:
1 Josiah (31 years, 2 Ki. 22:1)
2 Jehoahaz (3 months, 2 Ki. 23:31-33)
3 Jehoiakim (11 years, 2 Ki. 23:36)
4 Jehoiachin (3 months, 2 Ki. 24:6-16)
5 Zedekiah (11 years, 2 Ki. 24:18)

h From the 13th year of Josiah's reign to the captivity of Zedekiah was 40 years. The prophet lived on during the captivity. He began to prophesy the year after Josiah's reformation (2 Chr. 34:3) and about 66 years after Isaiah i The month Jerusalem was destroyed (52:12; 2 Kl. 25:3-8). After this Jeremiah continued to prophesy (40:1; 42:7; 43:1-44:30)

j 1st prophecy in Jer. (1:4-12, fulfilled). Next, v 13. See p. 785

k The sense in which God forms men in the womb is by being the author of nature and the creator of the law of reproduction whereby all creatures and things in nature reproduce themselves. In a few special cases it seems that God has exercised a more particular control, as in the birth of Jeremiah, Josiah, and Cyrus (v 5; 1 Ki. 13:2; Isa. 44:28-45:1)

l I knew (approved) you and sanctified you (set you apart), and ordained (commissioned) you before you were born (v 5) m 6 men set apart to God from birth:

1 Samson (Judg. 13:2-25)
2 Samuel (1 Sam. 1:17-19, 27:28)
3 Jeremiah (1:5-10)
4 John the Baptist (Lk. 1:15-17)
5 Jesus Christ (Mt. 1:18-25)
6 Paul (Gal. 1:15-16)

n To sanctify here, as elsewhere, means to set apart from a profane to a sacred use. It has no reference to cleansing from sin, for Jeremiah did not and could not have experienced salvation from sin at this time (v 5)

o Cp. Ex. 4:10; Isa. 6:5

p This means a young man-one of any age ranging from that of a teenager to 25 or 30 years old (v 6)

r This was proved to him later (19:14-20:18; 32:1-25; 37:1-38:28)

s Cp. Isa. 6:6-7; Ezek. 2:8-9; Dan. 10:16

z A staff for striking, made from an almond tree, as in 46:17; Gen. 30:37-41. Like the early morning cocks among birds, an almond tree is one of the earliest to show life in the spring. Here it symbolizes a watchman, a vigilant officer looking for the invasion of Judah by Babylon, as in the next verses (v 13-16). The idea is that God would hasten the invasion (v 12)

746 CHAPTER 1

I Jeremiah's commission (1:1-19). 1 Title, author, and historical background (2 Ki. 22-25; 2 Chr. 34-36)

THE [a]words of [b]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, [c]of the priests that were in [d]An'a-thōth in the land of Bĕn'ja-mĭn:

2 To whom [f]the word of the LORD came [g]in the days of Jō-sī'ah the son of A'mon king of Jū'dah, in the [h]thirteenth year of his reign.

3 It came also in the days of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, unto the carrying away of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm captive [i]in the fifth month.

2 Jeremiah's first commission

4 Then [f]the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Before [k]I formed thee in the belly [l]I knew thee; and [m]before thou camest forth out of the womb I [n]sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, [o]I cannot speak: for I am a [p]child.

7 ¶ But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 [q]Be not afraid of their faces: for I am [r]with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and [s]touched my mouth. And the LORD said unto me, Behold, [t]I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have [u]this day [v]set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, [w]to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, [x]to build, and to plant.

3 Sign of the almond rod: signification; speedy fulfillment

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jĕr-e-mī'ah, [y]what seest thou? And I said, I see a [z]rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

4 Sign of the seething pot: signification; Babylonian invasion

13 [a]And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, [b]What seest thou? And I said, [c]I see a seething pot; and the face thereof is toward the north.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north an [d]evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD; and they shall come, and they [e]shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of [f]Jū'dah.

16 And I will utter my judgments against them [g]touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

5 Jeremiah's second commission

17 ¶ Thou therefore [h]gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

18 For, behold, [i]I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls [j]against the whole land, against the kings of Jū'dah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee; [k]but they shall not prevail against thee; for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

747 CHAPTER 2

II God's case against Judah (2:1-10:25. Cp. Isa. 1:2, refs.). 1 First message to Judah (2:1-3:5). (1) Sevenfold virginity

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came to me, [a]saying,

2 [b]Go and cry in the ears of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, saying, Thus saith the LORD; [c]I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Is'ra-el was holiness unto the LORD, and the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

(2) Judah's ten sins (Isa. 1:4)

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jā'cob, [d]and all the families of the house of Is'ra-el.

5 ¶ Thus [e]saith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, [f]that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of E'gypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a Fulfilled literally as in 39:3

b As in the book of Isaiah, Judah is the subject of the prophecy, not Samaria or the 10 tribes, for they had gone into captivity about 93 years before Jeremiah prophesied (v 15). Jeremiah used the term Judah 184 times, 71 times more than all the other prophets from Isaiah to Malachi. Thus Jews are the main subject of the book. The same Jews are called Israel 128 times. Zion is used 32 times and Jerusalem 115 while Samaria is used only 3 times, which shows that the 10 tribes are not the subject of this writing

c God always makes the reasons for His judgments clear, in time for men to avoid them if they will listen (v 16)

4 reasons for judgment here:
1 Wickedness
2 Forsaking God
3 Burning incense to other gods
4 Worshipping the works of their own hands

d 5 commands in Jeremiah's commission:
1 Say not, I am a child (v 7)
2 Be not afraid of their faces (v 8)
3 Gird up your loins, and arise (v 17)
4 Speak to them all I command you 5 Be not dismayed at their faces

e 3 symbols of Jeremiah (v 18):
1 A defenced city
2 An iron pillar
3 Brazen walls

f 5fold subject of Jeremiah's prophecy:
1 Against the whole land (v 18)
2 Against the kings of Judah
3 Against the princes of Judah
4 Against the priests
5 Against the people of the land

g 3fold promise to Jeremiah (v 19):
1 They will not prevail against you
2 I am with you
3 I will deliver you

h 3rd prophecy in Jer. (2:1-3, fulfilled). Next, v 9. This begins the first long message of 2:1-35, to Judah

2 predictions-fulfilled:
1 All that devour will offend (2:3) 2 Evil will come upon them

i 5 commands in Jer. 2:
1 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem (2:2)
2 Hear you the word of the Lord (2:4)
3 Be astonished (2:12)
4 Be horribly afraid
5 Be very desolate

j 5 things God remembers about Israel:
1 I remember the kindness of your youth (v 2)
2 The love of your espousals
3 When you went after Me in the wilderness, in a land not sown
4 Israel was holiness unto the Lord (v 3)
5 The first fruits of his increase k All the families of Israel, not 10 tribes only are meant here (v 4). They are also called house of Jacob (v 4) and Judah (v 28). There were many thousands of all the 13 tribes in Judah and this is why they could be referred to as all the families of Israel. The 10-tribe kingdom had been totally destroyed about 93 years before this and was not counted in these prophecies

l Questions 3-4. Next, v 8

m 10 sins of Judah:
1 Gone far from Me (v 5)
2 Walked after vanity
3 Become vain
4 Do not inquire after Me (v 6)
5 Defiled the land (v 7)
6 Made God's heritage an abomination (v 8)
7 Priests did not inquire after the Lord
8 The pastors transgressed
9 The prophets prophesied by Baal
10 Walked after unprofitable things

b Question 2. Next, 2:5

c Here the invasion of Judah by Babylon is pictured under the symbol of a great seething pot with the face toward the north, implying that the invasion would come from that direction (v 13-14). Babylon was on the east, but the usual route was around the desert and then down from the north into Palestine

d A calamity or judgment

a Referring to the terrible wilderness through which Israel travelled when coming out of the land of Egypt (v 6; Num. 14:25-35; Dt. 1:19; 2:7) b A garden-land in contrast to the wilderness of the previous verse. Palestine was a wonderful land of plenty - the glory of all lands (v 7; Ezek. 20:6, 15) c Israel made the glory of all lands to be defiled and barren because of sin. This was in fulfillment of prophecy (v 7; Lev. 26; Dt. 28) d 3 classes responsible for apostasy (v 8):
1 The priests - the ones responsible for teaching and propagating the law of God and promoting the religious life of Israel
2 The pastors - the civil rulers who were the shepherds of the flock
3 The prophets - the preachers of righteousness who were to rebuke, correct, and instruct the people in times of failure of the priests and civil rulers, and who were the immediate spokesmen for God in giving His revelation and making His will known to the people and their leaders

j This was the sin of Rom. 1:21-28
k 2 great evils in Judah (v 13):
1 Forsaken the fountain of living waters
2 Made cisterns that can hold no water
The dryness of the summer months in Palestine and the absence of large rivers, together with the scarcity of springs in many places, made it necessary to collect water from the rains into cisterns. It was a custom from the earliest times to store up water during the rainy season. The cisterns were either dug in the earth or cut out of the soft limestone. Sometimes a shaft was sunk, like a well, with the bottom widened in the shape of a jug. Excavations of this sort were combinations of cisterns and wells, retaining the water from rainfalls as well as that which drained through the limestone. Several other kinds of cisterns were made also, some open at the top, and entered by steps. Jerusalem was abundantly supplied with water by means of cisterns; and during the long and terrible sieges did not suffer for lack of a supply. Water from cisterns is never fresh and pure as that from a living fountain; and at any time a cistern is likely to break and leak, as referred to here. See 2 Ki. 18:31; Isa. 36:16

m 5th prophecy in Jer. (2:14-19, fulfilled). Next, v 26
6 predictions - fulfilled:
1 The young lions (Assyria and Babylon) roared upon him, and yelled (2:15-16)
2 They made his land waste (2:15)
3 His cities are burned and without inhabitants
4 The children of Egypt have broken the crown of his head (2:16-18)
5 Your own wickedness will correct you (2:19)
6 Your backslidings will reprove you
The prophet spoke of future events in the past and present tenses; but it was nearly 40 years before Assyria and Babylon overthrew Judah and Jerusalem, as predicted here (v 14-19)
n A symbol of Assyria and Babylon (v 15; 50:17-18; Dan. 7:4)
o Egypt fulfilled this verse about 18 years after Jeremiah began his prophesying (v 16; 2 Ki. 23:29-37). Thus, this is proved to be prophetic, as well as v 15 which refers to events brought to pass about 40 years later, and not to the captivity of the 10 tribes of Assyria around 93 years before this a [a]land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into [b]a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye [c]defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The [d]priests said not, [e]Where is the LORD? and [f]they that handle the law knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Bā'al, and walked after things that do not profit.

(3) God's pleading in view of: A Changing her gods

[g]9 ¶ [g]Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass over [h]the isles of Chit'tim, and see; and send unto Kē'dār, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 [i]Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people [i]have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

B Committing two evils

[j]12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed [k]two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

C The coming captivity

[l]14 ¶ [l]Is Iṣ'ra-el a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he spoiled?

15 [m]The [n]young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant.

16 Also the [o]children of Nōph and Tā-hăp'a-nēṣ have broken the crown of thy head.

17 [p]Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do in the way of Ē'gypt, to drink the waters of Si'hôr? or what hast thou to do in the way of Aṣ-sŷr'ī-a, to drink the waters of the river?

D Her general sins (cp. Isa. 5:7, refs.)

19 Thine own wickedness shall [q]correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

E His past dealings

20 ¶ For of [r]old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, [s]I will not transgress; when [t]upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had planted thee [u]a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how [v]then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

F Her hopelessness

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, [w]yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.

23 [x]How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Bā'al-Im? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: [y]thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways;

24 A wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; [z]in her month they shall find her.

25 [a]Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

G Her idolatry

[b]26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is [c]the house of Iṣ'ra-el ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets.

27 [d]Saying to a [e]stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

28 [f]But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? [f]let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Jū'dah.

(4) Israel's question: answer. Judah's sixteen sins

29 [g]Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye [h]all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.

30 [i]In vain have I smitten your children; [j]they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O [k]generation, see ye the word of the LORD. [l]Have [m]I been a wilderness unto Iṣ'ra-el? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, We are lords; we will come no more unto thee?

a See 19:8; 24:3, 7
b Idolatry and adultery were common in such places of pagan worship (v 20) c God often pictures Israel as a vine or a tree growing in the earth (v 21; Dt. 32:32; Judg. 9:12-13; Ps. 80:8, 14; Isa. 5:1-7; Ezek. 15:2-6; 17:6-8; Hos. 10:1; Rom. 11)
d Question 13. Next, v 23
e No soap or nitre (an alkaline salt used like soap) can wash away sins (v 22); it takes the blood of Jesus Christ (Mt. 26:28; Heb. 9:22; 1 Jn. 1:7; Rev. 1:5)
f Questions 14-15. Next, v 28
g You are as a swift camel rushing into sin and like a wild ass yielding to your reckless nature (v 23-24)
h In the mating season
i Here God advises Israel not to run barefoot and with a parched throat like a shameless adulteress running after strangers (v 25)
j The house of Israel is found 20 times in the book of Jeremiah (v 4, 26; 3:18, 20; 5:11, 15; 9:26; 10:1; 11:10, 17; 13:11; 18:6; 23:8; 31:26, 31, 33; 33:14, 17; 48:13). The term the house of Judah is used only 9 times (3:18; 5:11; 11:10, 17; 12:14; 13:11; 31:27, 31; 36:3), but Judah and men of Judah are used many more times than Israel in the book. Even when the house of Israel and the house of Judah are used together it is generally to express the idea that the whole house of Israel was in Judah, or speak of both houses being gathered back to Palestine in the latter days as one nation again, as can be seen in the above passages k 6th prophecy in Jer. (2:26-27, fulfilled). Next, v 35. Many times after this prophecy they served idols and called upon God to deliver them in time of trouble. Furthermore, they did this many times before that, as recorded in Judges, Kings, and Chronicles l The stock and stone here refer to idol gods to whom Israel attributed their blessings and even their origin (v 27; Isa. 44:19). The word stock is used in a different sense in 10:8, and has no reference to an idol, but more to produce or fruit of religion
m Question 16. Next, v 29
n Here God tells Judah in no uncertain terms that, since they served stocks and stones as gods, they should call upon them in the time of trouble instead of coming back to Him when their gods prove powerless to do anything for them. They had many gods, according to the number of their cities, so this should be sufficient help without Him (v 28)
o Question 17. Next, v 31
p See Sins of Judah, p. 829
q God's method of chastening Israel had proved to be in vain, so He had to take more drastic measures (v 30)
r God rebuked them through the prophets, but they were so apostate as to hate and kill the very men who sought to help them and who were the salt of the nation. Not only were they ruthless in killing the prophets, but like a lion they had no concern over what they killed (v 30) s You people of this particular generation
t Questions 18-22. Next, v 36
u The idea here is: Had God been so repulsive that they could not stand Him? Had He been so terrible in His dealings with them that they were forced to rebel and hate Him, or swear that they would not have any more dealings with Him? (v 31)
v The meaning here is that God should be as wonderful to them as ornaments to a maid and attire to a bride (v 32)
w Why do you use every kind of scheme to gain alliances with idolatrous nations? (v 33)

p Questions 10-12. Next, v 21
q 4 facts about backsliding (v 19):
1 It brings correction
2 Brings reproof
3 Is an evil thing
4 Is bitter to reap
r It was about 1,034 years from the exodus

a They trained wicked men in their own wickedness and thus continued sin and rebellion against God (v 34)
b A term for murder and crimes
c These refer to the bloody skirts which were figurative of murder of the poor innocents of v 34
d Not only were they murderers, but liars in claiming they were innocent. They thought thereby to turn the anger of God away, but this very plea of innocence caused Him to deal with them all the more severely (v 35) e 7th prophecy in Jer. (2:35-37, unfulfilled). Next, 3:14

5 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will plead with you (2:35)
2 You will be ashamed of Egypt as you were of Assyria (2:36)
3 You will go forth from him (2:37)
4 Your hands will be upon your head
5 You will not prosper in those you have confided in

f Question 23. Next, 3:1
g This refers to the different political parties in Judah going about from one power to another, seeking security against their enemies. One went to Egypt for help; and yet no help came from Assyria nor would any come in the future from Egypt who would put them to shame (v 36). Egypt defeated Judah, king Josiah was killed, and the people became oppressed (2 Ki. 23:28-37)
h Egypt, that is, you will be disappointed with your trust in Egypt and go from them (v 37) i Hands upon the head was a sign of mourning and weeping or an expression of grief. This grief was to be brought about by Egypt rejecting the Jews-they would suffer disappointment in all they trusted in, other than Jehovah (v 37; 2 Sam. 13:19; 15:32)
j Questions 24-25. Next, v 4. Such returning to divorced companions was forbidden by the law of Moses (Dt. 24:1-4). In the N. T. we have no such restriction k See note p, 2:29
l God is still doing all He can here to get the Jews to return to Him again. This is His whole plea in these early chapters of Jeremiah. Later the plea was turned into judgment with no mercy (25:1-38)
m In other words: Show Me one place where you have not committed sin; you have sat in the ways waiting for your lovers and those whom you have committed sin with; you have defiled the whole land with your whoredoms (v 2) n The Arabian became a proverb in the East, always being eager for plunder as Judah was for idolatry (v 2) o Withholding rain has long been a method used by God to punish sin and bring Israel back to Himself (v 3; Dt. 11:17; 28:24; 1 Ki. 8:35; 17:1-14). Even in the Millennium this will be His method of punishment for those who will not come to Jerusalem to keep the feast of tabernacles (Zech. 14:16-21)
p Questions 26-29. Next, v 19
q God explains here why He had refused to protect them as His children, why He was angry, and why He was permitting judgments to come upon them. The reason was that they had done and were still doing all the evil that they would whenever they could (v 5)
r In addition to the previous message of 2:1-3:5, this one was given to warn them of sin and its consequences (3:6-6:30) s At what time in the reign of Josiah this message was given is not stated, but Jeremiah's prophesying began in the 13th year of his reign (1:2). Jeremiah was asked this question about the past sins of the northern kingdom-sins which caused the kingdom to be destroyed about 93 years before this. God explained how they had sinned in the same way that Judah was now sinning (v 6), how He had invited them to come back to Him after such sinning, and how they had refused to repent, being destroyed as a nation because of their rebellion (v 7-8). Judah had been a witness to all of this but instead of profiting by their destruction, went into the same sins and also refused to repent (v 8-11) wicked[a] ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy[b] skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all[c] these.
✱35 Yet thou[d] sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.
36 [e]Why[f] gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? [g]thou also shalt be ashamed of Ĕ'ğўpt, as thou wast ashamed of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ą.
37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from[h] him, and thine[i] hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAPTER 3 748

THEY say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, [j]shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? [k]but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; [l]yet return again to me, saith the LORD.
●2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou[m] hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as[n] the Ă-rā'bĭ-an in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness.
3 Therefore the showers have been [o]withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou hadst a whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.
4 [p]Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?
5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? [q]Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.

2 Second message to Judah (3:6-6:30). (1) Threefold failure

✱6 ¶ The LORD said [r]also unto me [s]in the days of Jō-sī'ah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Ĭs'ra-el hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.
7 And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me. But she returned not. And her treacherous [t]sister Jū'dah saw it.
8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Ĭs'ra-el committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Jū'dah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.
9 And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, [u]and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.
10 And yet for all this her treacherous sister Jū'dah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, [v]but feignedly, saith the LORD.
11 And the LORD said unto me, The [a]backsliding Ĭs'ra-el hath justified herself more than treacherous Jū'dah.

(2) Call: reason - God's mercy; condition - only repent

●12 ¶ [b]Go and proclaim these words toward [c]the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Ĭs'ra-el, saith the LORD; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.◂
13 Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.

(3) Call: reason - marriage; fourteen blessings

✱14 [d]Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; [e]for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you [f]to Zĭ'ŏn:
15 And I will give you [g]pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.
16 And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say [h]no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more.
17 [i]At that time they shall call Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm the throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.
18 [j]In those days the house of Jū'dah shall walk with the house of Ĭs'ra-el, [k]and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.
19 But I said, [l]How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father; and shalt not turn away from me.
20 ¶ Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Ĭs'ra-el, saith the LORD.
21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Ĭs'ra-el: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

(4) Call: future confession

●22 Return, ye backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings. [m]Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God.◂

a In comparison Judah was even more sinful than Samaria which had been destroyed because of sin (2 Ki. 17). Jeremiah now warned Judah that she could expect the same punishment if she persisted in the way she was going b Here God offered to restore to Zion (not to Samaria as a separate kingdom) all the Israelites who had gone into captivity to Assyria if they would only repent and return to the Lord (v 12-13) c The north where 10 tribes were settled by Assyria during the captivities (2 Ki. 17). God's anger would not continue forever if they would acknowledge their sin (v 13-15). This would also refer to the northern kingdom of Israel even though it had ceased to exist about 93 years before this time d 8th prophecy in Jer. (3:14-25, unfulfilled). Next, 4:1. See p. 788
e Here is the nearest statement to this that is the often quoted-I am married to the backslider. This confirms that God considered Himself married to His covenant people, Israel, having promised to bring them back to Himself again (v 14-15; 30:1-31:40; Ezek. 37; Hos. 1:2; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29). As to backsliders in the church today, God will forgive and welcome them back to Himself when they repent, as much as He would receive Israel in any age, for He has promised to forgive all sins (Mt. 12:31-32) and will forgive if they are confessed (1 Jn. 1:9). See The New Birth, p. 207 of N. T.
f Zion will be the central place of the gathering of all Israel in the future, not Samaria or some other place (v 14; Isa. 59:20-21; Rom. 11:25-29)
g See Shepherds of Israel, p. 788
h The ark will never be a symbol of God's personal presence among Israelites of the future, for He, Himself will be among them forever (Ezek. 34:7; Zech. 14:9; Rev. 11:15; 21:3-6; 22:4-5)
i At that time Jerusalem will be the capital of the Lord, and all nations will come there to worship Him (v 17; Isa. 2:2-4; Zech. 14:16-21)
j In those days both houses of Israel will be one nation again in Palestine (v 18; 30:1-31:34; Ezek. 37; Isa. 12:10-12, notes) k God's great concern now is bringing Israel back to repentance so He can fulfil the everlasting covenants with them and give them the land as originally promised (v 19). This will be accomplished through the future tribulation; horrible sufferings and near extermination will bring Israel to repentance at last (30:1-9; Zech. 13:9; Rev. 12:6, 14, notes)
l Question 30. Next, 4:14
m The future confession of sins and return of Israel to God (v 22; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29)

t The two kingdoms of Israel are pictured under the symbol of two sisters. Their characters are plainly described. Samaria was apostate and had forsaken the true worship of Jehovah altogether (1 Ki. 12:25-13:34). Judah maintained the outward form of worship only; in the heart, in practice, and in desire she was set upon all the orgies of the heathen worship (v 6-11). Judah did not profit by the experience of destruction of Samaria, but defiled her own land by her whoredoms with idols (v 8-9) u The only way Judah could commit adultery with stocks and stones was to partake of sex orgies practiced by the worshippers of such idols. All false gods had their own priests who maintained women consecrated as servants of these idols, tempting men to become converts to idolatry through the sex practices connected with such worship (v 9)
v Pretended to turn to God with the heart, but in reality even exceeded Samaria (v 10-11) a Israel was to learn in the future, as they had evidently discovered many times in the past, the salvation or deliverance for the nation does not come by idols and related sex orgies practiced upon the mountains and hills, but from the God of Israel (v 23). These idolatrous practices, referred to as vain in v 23 are spoken of as a shame in v 24-25. The disobedience of all generations, in such vain and shameful worship from the earliest times, ruined the nations. The worship of Jehovah by animal sacrifices led to no excess, but the idol worship of the people involving eating, drinking, and revelling wasted both health and material substance (v 24). The mention of sons and daughters here suggests human sacrifices to Idols, as plainly stated elsewhere (v 26; 32:35; Lev. 18:21; 20:2-5; 2 Ki. 23:10)

b This reveals the utter despair of the people in their helplessness and condemnation because of sins practiced in idol worship. They were ready to throw themselves down upon the ground in shame and confusion for their sins (v 25) c 9th prophecy in Jer. (4:1-31, fulfilled). Next, 5:6. See p. 786

d The word Israel here and in many hundreds of other passages refers to all the tribes and not to 10 tribes only (v 1)

e 7 commands to return:
1 Return again unto Me (3:1)
2 Return, backsliding Israel (3:2)
3 Return, backsliding children (3:22)
4 Return unto Me (4:1) (18:11)
5 Return every one from his evil way
6 Return unto Me with your whole heart (24:7)
7 Return now every one, amend your ways (35:15)
Note the rejection of these commands (5:3; 8:5; 15:7)

f 2 conditions to avoid captivity:
1 If you will return (v 1)
2 If you will put away your abominations out of My sight

g 2 blessings if Israel would return:
1 Then you will not remove (v 1)
2 Then you will swear that the Lord liveth, in truth, judgment and righteousness; and nations will be blessed in Him and His glory (v 2)

h These men of Judah are referred to as Israel in v 1

i 10 commands to Judah:
1 Break up your fallow ground (v 3)
2 Sow not among the thorns (v 3)
3 Circumcise yourselves to the Lord
4 Take away the foreskins of your heart
5 Declare in Judah; publish in Jerusalem; and say, Blow the trumpets (v 5)
6 Cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves
7 Set up a standard toward Zion (v 6)
8 Retire to defenced cities, stay not outside (v 14)
9 Wash your heart from wickedness
10 Make mention to the nations; publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give their voice against the cities of Judah (v 16)

j This expression, Break up your fallow ground is found twice (v 3; Hos. 10:12). Fallow ground means idle, uncultivated, unproductive, untilled ground. Not only were the Jews commanded to break up the fallow ground of their hearts, but to take away the thorns growing therein so as to be ready to receive the Word of God and produce righteousness instead of sin. The command was: Do not sow seeds of repentance in unfit soil; prepare the ground properly before sowing them; regard repentance as a serious matter requiring forethought and anxious labor k This is the second time God gave the command to circumcise the heart (v 4; Dt. 10:16). It means to remove all stubbornness in the nature against God, stop all opposition to him, and be not stiffnecked anymore (Dt. 10:16)

l This is the second time the men of Judah and Jerusalem are addressed here, the purpose being to emphasize the Jews as the class dealt with the ones

23 Truly in [a]vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Is'ra-el.
24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.
25 [b]We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

CHAPTER 4 749

(5) Seven conditions of return

4 [c]IF thou wilt return, O Is'ra-el, saith the LORD, [c]return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, [f]then [e]shalt thou not remove.◂
2 And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.
●3 ¶ For thus saith the LORD to the [l]men of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, [j]Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.
●4 [k]Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, [l]ye men of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lĕm: lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

(6) Alarm: fourteenfold reason

●5 Declare ye in [m]Jū'dah, and publish in Jē-ru'sā-lĕm; and say, [n]Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.
●6 Set up the standard toward Zī'ŏn: retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.
7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and [o]the destroyer of the Gĕn'tīles is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

(7) Call: reason; nine judgments (cp. Isa. 5:5, refs.)

8 [p]For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.
9 And it shall come to pass [q]at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the [r]king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.
10 [s]Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.
11 [a]At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse, 12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.
13 Behold, [b]he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.

(8) Call: ten reasons

●14 O Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, [c]wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. [d]How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?
15 For a voice declareth from Dān, and publisheth affliction from mount E'phrā-im.
●16 Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish [e]against Jē-ru'sā-lĕm, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Jū'dah.
17 As keepers of a field, are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD.
18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because [f]it reacheth unto thine heart.

(9) Alarm: fourteenfold reason

19 ¶ [g]My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.
20 Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.
21 [h]How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?
22 For my people [i]is foolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

(10) Eight fold chaos of the original earth (Gen. 1:2; Isa. 14:12-14; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

23 [j]I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was without form, and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.
24 I [k]beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.
25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.
26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

a At that time - when the invasion of Judah would take place (v 5-7). It is pictured here under the figure of a dry wind, a full wind from the wilderness, not to fan or to cleanse, but to bring judgment and destruction. Thus immediately after the outburst of opposition to God's message through him (v 10), the prophet returned to the delivery of His message of judgment (v 11-13)

b He (Nebuchadnezzar, the destroyer of the Gentiles of v 7) will come up as storm clouds. His chariots will be like a whirlwind, and his horses swifter than eagles to bring woe upon Judah (v 13) c This was the second time God commanded Judah to wash themselves of their wickedness. By doing this they could be saved (v 14; Isa. 1:16)

d Question 31. Next, v 21

e The judgment determined was against Jerusalem and Judah, because of sin. The instrument of chastening was to be Babylon coming down from the north (v 1;13-14; 3:12, 18; 4:6-7, 16-18)

f Judah was corrupt and wicked in the heart, and past return to God without special effort on their part (v 17-18)

g Jeremiah burst out this time with great distress and heart pain for the calamity that was to come upon Judah (v 19-22)

h Question 32. Next, v 30 22):

i 6 reasons for judgment upon Judah (v
1 My people are foolish
2 They have not known (acknowledged) Me
3 They are sottish (stupid) children
4 They have no understanding
5 They are wise to do evil
6 They have no knowledge to do good

j 8fold chaos of the original earth:
1 It was without form and void (desolate and empty; v 23)
2 The heavens gave no light on it
3 The mountains trembled (v 24)
4 The hills moved lightly
5 There was no man (v 25)
6 All the birds were fled
7 The fruitful places were a wilderness
8 The cities were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by His fierce anger (v 26)

k See 5 proofs this was the original earth, p. 796

who would have God's fury come upon them to the full if they did not obey (v 3-4) m The continual repetition of Judah and Jerusalem in the books of the prophets is clear proof that the Israel of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel and other books did include this tribe - Judah. See notes on the Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

n All this language expresses alarm in view of impending war - Blow the trumpet; cry; gather together; assemble; go into the defenced cities; set up a standard; retire to the cities; stay not outside; the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way to make the land desolate (v 5-6)

o The destroyer of the Gentiles was Nebuchadnezzar who conquered many nations, took the Jews captive, and founded the Babylonian empire of Dan. 2:37-38; 7:4. See Index

p This fasting and lamenting was because Israel refused to return to God and His anger was continued upon them (v 8; 5:3; 8:5; 15:7; 23:14)

q At that day - when Nebuchadnezzar would conquer Judah these things would be fulfilled (v 9-13; 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36)

r 5 classes to perish in the war:
1 The king (v 9)
2 The princes
3 The priests
4 The prophets
5 The people (v 10-11, 22)

s Jeremiah, bursting out in disapproval of Jehovah's intentions on Judah and Jerusalem, accused God of deception (v 10). He, like many today, looked at the promises and not the conditions which had to be met first if the benefits were to be received. God promised peace on the condition that the people would return to Him (v 1, 4)

(11) Sixfold application of the chaotic earth to Judah's immediate judgment by Babylon

27 For thus hath the LORD said, [c]The whole land shall be desolate; yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, [d]I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 [e]The whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 [d]And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? [f]Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair; thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zi'ŏn, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAPTER 5 750

(12) Ten sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

[g]RUN ye to and fro through the streets of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any [h]that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth; and I will pardon it.

2 And though they say, The LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely.

3 [i]O LORD, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the [j]great men, and will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

(13) Threefold figurative judgment (cp. Isa. 7:18-20)

*6 [k]Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and [k]a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are [l]increased.

(14) Five sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

7 ¶ [m]How shall I pardon thee for this? [n]thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.

8 They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

(15) Partial judgment: not like the total desolation of the original earth (4:27; Gen. 1:2; 2 Pet. 3:5-8)

*9 [o]Shall [p]I not [q]visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be [r]avenged on such a nation as this?

*10 ¶ Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make [s]not a full end: take away her battlements; for [t]they are not the LORD'S.

(16) Five sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

11 For the house of Iş'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah [u]have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.

12 They have [v]belied the LORD, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine:

(17) Ninefold partial judgment (Isa. 5:5, refs.)

*13 [w]And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, [x]I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a [y]nation upon you from far, O [z]house of Iş'ra-el, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an [a]ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 [b]Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the LORD, [c]I will not make a full end with you.

19 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, [d]Wherefore doeth the LORD our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like a 6fold application of chaotic earth:

1 The whole land of Palestine will become desolate, yet I will not make a full end as I did of the social system on earth before Adam's time (in the chaos of Gen. 1:2). The comparison here (v 27) is that God would make the land of Judah desolate and empty as He had made the once-inhabitated original earth desolate and empty through the chaos of Gen. 1:2, but He would not make a full end of the land as in the curse of the pre-Adamite world
2 The whole earth will mourn (v 28)
3 The heavens will be black, but there will not be total darkness as in Gen. 1:2 when the sun, moon, and stars withheld their light from the earth. Here they are to be darkened only for the moment, as night. This will happen 5 times in the future (note c, Rev. 6:12)
4 The cities will be made desolate by a flight from an invader (v 29), whereas the cities of the pre-Adamite world were all broken down by God and His fierce anger (v 26)
5 People will merely flee from the cities of Judah (v 29), whereas in the pre-Adamite world all were destroyed (v 25-26)
6 People will be left mourning over the destruction of Judah (v 30-31), whereas there was no man left to mourn, in the destruction of the pre-Adamite cities (v 25-26)

b This reveals the end of God's mercy and spurned offers of repentance. He was now determined and would not repent or turn from it (v 28)

c This was literally fulfilled (v 29; 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36)

d Question 33. Next, 5:3

e Israel is here pictured under the figure of a woman trying to make herself beautiful, clothing herself with crimson, decking herself with ornaments of gold, and enlarging the appearance of the eyes (with antimony, 2 Ki. 9:20), to appeal to her lovers, but to no avail. They would despise her and seek her life (v 30); and she would bewail and cry out in pain like a woman in travail with her first baby (v 31)

f Jeremiah was told to run through the whole city of Jerusalem to see if he could find one man who was just and sought the truth; he would be pardoned (v 1)

g See 10 sins of Judah, p. 821

h Question 34. Next, v 7

i Men who read and interpret the Scripture, and learn from them the nature of the judgments of God although they, themselves have also broken the law and burst the bonds (v 5). This leaves the people destitute of help from prophets and priests who should know the law and respect it

j 10th prophecy in Jer. (5:6, fulfilled). Next, v 9. Here we have a 3fold figurative judgment of a lion, an evening wolf, and a leopard devouring the people because of their weaknesses brought about through sin (v 6). The idea is that the people, instead of being powerful and victorious over their enemies as over wild beasts, would become so helpless that even the beasts of the field would have mastery over them, as well as their enemies pictured thereby. These animals were figurative of the character of the Babylonians who would judge Judah

k A wolf of the evenings literally means a wolf of the deserts (v 6)

p Babylon was one of the most ancient nations on earth, having been founded about 100 years after the flood (Gen. 10:9-11)

q Here, in v 16-17 is a description of the result of the invasion of Judah by Babylon. The invader would destroy the people, the harvest, bread, flocks, herds, vines, and fig trees, and impoverish the fenced cities of the Jews

r The third time that God emphasized the fact that He would not make a full end of Judah (v 10, 18; 4:27)

s Question 38. Next, v 22

a Not only can one have backslidings, but these can increase until apostasy comes and the person is past faith in God and truth. This is stated in Scripture, and we have many examples of it, as on p. 284 of N. T.

b Question 35. Next, v 9

c See 5 sins of Judah, p. 822

d 11th prophecy in Jer. (5:9-10, fulfilled). Next, v 13
4 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will visit for these things (5:9)
2 I will be avenged on this nation
3 I will send destruction, but will not make a full end (5:10) 4 Her battlements will be taken away

e Questions 36-37. Next, v 19. See the same wording in v 29

f God would be untrue to His word if He did not visit for these sins, for He said repeatedly that He would do so. The same is clearly stated in the N. T. (Mk. 7:19-22; Rom. 1:18-32; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21)

g God did take vengeance on Judah for these sins (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36)

h The second time God said that He would not make a full end of Judah as He did the pre-Adamite social system (v 10; 4:26-27)

i God became so weary of admonishing Judah that He finally disowned them, counting them as not being the Lord's (v 10)

j 4 sins of Judah and Israel:
1 They have dealt very treacherously against Me (v 11)
2 They belied (acted deceitfully against) the Lord (v 12)
3 They said: It is not He; that is, Jehovah has not spoken by the prophets 4 They denied His word saying that evil would not come upon them and that they would not see the sword and famine

k Belie means to give a false representation of something; contradict

l 12th prophecy in Jer. (5:13-19, fulfilled). Next, v 29
16 predictions-fulfilled:
1 The false prophets will be discovered-it will be known that their word is not true (5:13)
2 I will make your words fire (5:14)
3 The people will be like wood, and your fire of words will devour them
4 I will bring a nation upon you from afar (5:15)
5 It will be a mighty nation
6 It will be an ancient nation
7 It will be one whose language you do not know; you will not be able to understand what they say
8 Their arrows will devour like an open sepulchre (5:16)
9 They will eat up your harvest and your bread which your sons and daughters should eat (5:17)
10 They will eat up your flocks and herds figs 11 They will eat up your grapes and 12 They will impoverish your fenced cities wherein you trust, with the sword 13 I will not make a full end of you (5:18. Cp. v 10; 4:27)
14 You will inquire of the Lord regarding why He has done all this (5:19)
15 The answer will be: Because you have forsaken Me, and served strange gods in your own land
16 You will serve strangers in a land that is not yours

m This verse must refer to the false prophets being like the wind, and having no authority. Some translate this whirlwind with the idea of confusion (v 13). In contrast with these false prophets and their words of confusion, the word of Jeremiah was to be made like fire that would devour the people, who were compared to wood (v 14). See 12 symbols of the Word of God, note p, Heb. 4:12

n The Babylonians fulfilled this (2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36)

o This again confirms the fact that Judah was considered the house of Israel after the destruction of the 10-tribe kingdom, for it was against Judah that the Babylonians came, Judah is mentioned in this chapter along with Jerusalem as the subject of the prophecy (v 1, 20)

as [a]ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, [b]so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

(18) Twenty sins of Judah (Jer. 5:1)

●20 [c]Declare this in the house of Já'cob, and publish it in Jú'dah, saying,

●21 Hear now this, O [d]foolish people, and without understanding; which have [e]eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not:

●22 [f]Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: [g]will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof [h]toss themselves, yet [i]can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

23 But this people hath a [j]revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in his season: [k]he reserveth unto us the [l]appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 ¶ Your iniquities [m]have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found [n]wicked men: they lay wait, as he that setteth snares; they set a trap, they catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen [o]fat, they shine: yea, they [p]overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

(19) Judgment assured

★29 [q]Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 ¶ [r]A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land;

31 The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and [s]my people love to have it so: [t]and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAPTER 6 751

(20) Alarm: eightfold reason

★O [a]YE children of Bĕn'ja-mín, gather yourselves to flee out of the midst of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and blow the trumpet in Tĕ-kō'á, and set up a sign of fire in Bĕth-hăc'çe-rĕm: for evil appeareth [b]out of the north, and great destruction.

2 I have [c]likened the daughter of Zí'ŏn to a comely and delicate woman.

3 The [d]shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place.

●4 Prepare ye war against her; arise, and [e]let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

●5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

●6 ¶ For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, [f]Hew ye down trees, and cast a mount against Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm: [g]this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.

7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she [h]casteth out her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her; before me continually is [i]grief and wounds.

●8 [j]Be thou instructed, O Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, lest my [k]soul depart from thee; lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

●9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [l]They shall throughly glean the remnant of Ĭs'ra-el as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.

(21) [m]Eight sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

10 [n]To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their [o]ear is uncircumcised, and they [p]cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto [q]them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore [r]I am [s]full of the fury of the LORD; I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon [t]the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And [u]their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have [v]healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace.

15 [w]Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

●16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye [x]shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.◂

●17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

(22) Twelvefold judgment

a Being accused of forsaking God indicates that these were once His people but now disowned because of turning away from Him. In this state anyone, a nation or an individual, Jew or Gentile, forfeits all rights to the benefits promised the obedient. See p. 284 of N. T. and Backsliding in Index
b Because they had forsaken God and served idols they were to go into captivity and serve strangers in a strange land (v 19)

h The sea, in its indomitable energy against all resistence, dashing to pieces the works of man who endeavors to restrain its fury and power, if a true picture of the restlessness of wicked men. As indicated here God has imposed laws upon the sea which it has to obey. He keeps it in its appointed place by a belt of sand instead of iron barriers. It is said that resistance of sand is enormous; a wave which would break a strong ship and rend rocks falls powerless upon the sand (v 22; Isa. 57:20)
i The oceans, the mightiest of God's works, cannot prevail or break God's laws because they are not endowed with a free will. Man, though bodily impotent can prevail against and break His laws because of free moral agency-being created with powers and attributes to act as he pleases (v 22-23)
j A revolting and rebellious heart is like the sea-restless and dashing, and resisting God's love and power (v 23; Isa. 57:20-21)
k 4 great works of God:
1 Makes the seas to obey and stay within their own bounds (v 22)
2 Gives rain in due season (v 24)
3 Reserves unto man the appointed weeks of harvest
4 Metes out justice to rebels (v 29)

d 4 things God rejects (v 20):
1 Incense from Sheba in south Arabia
2 Sweet cane from a far country
3 Burnt offerings of all kinds
4 Sacrifices-sweet savour offerings
The reason God rejected rituals, sabbaths, new moons, and other forms of outward worship, as here and in Isa. 1:13-14; 58:1-5 was that these were substituted for personal holiness and morality. Cp. 1 Sam. 15:22; Isa. 1:13-20; Mic. 6:6-8. They were such a source of trust for justification that God predicted to do away with all of them (Hos. 2:11); and He did so by making the new covenant. See 85 contrasts, p. 201 of N.T.

l Bellows were used in the East by workers in metal, to fan the fires that did the melting. They consisted of a leather bag in a wooden frame with a mouthpiece of reed tipped with metal. The operator stood with a bellows under each foot and a string in each hand, which was attached to the instrument. When the bag became exhausted of the air by the pressure of the foot he lifted it up by the string so that it could draw in the air again. By the bellows the refiner refined the metal, but Judah was not refined and separated from the wicked that were in her (v 29)

1 First message (2:1-3:5)
2 Second message (3:6-6:30)
3 Third message (7:1-10:25)
q These Judahites are called My people Israel and the house of Israel in this same message (v 2; 9:26; 10:1)
r This title occurs 32 times in Jeremiah (7:3, 21; 9:15; 16:9; 19:3, 15; 25:27; 27:4, 21; 28:2, 14; 29:4, 8, 21, 25; 31:23; 32:14-15; 35:13, 18-19; 39:16; 42:15, 18; 43:10; 44:2, 11, 25; 46:25; 48:1; 50:18; 51:33)

●18 ¶ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.
●19 Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but [r]rejected it.
20 [c]To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Shĕ'bā, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are [d]not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.
21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.
22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people [e]cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.
23 They shall lay hold on bow and [f]spear; they are [g]cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zī'ŏn.
24 [h]We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.
●25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.
●26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, [i]and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for [j]the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

(23) Jeremiah's third commission (1:4-10, 17-19; 11:1-6)

27 I have set [k]thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.
28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters.
29 The [l]bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire; the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away.
30 [m]Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

CHAPTER 7 752

3 Third message to Judah (7:1-10:25). (1) Seven conditions of blessing (Isa. 1:16, refs.)

[p]THE [q]word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,
●2 [n]Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, [r]Hear the word of the LORD, all ye [o]of Jū'dah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD.
●3 Thus saith [r]the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, Amend your ways and your doings, [a]and I will cause you to dwell in this place.◂
4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, are these.
5 For if ye throughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye throughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour;
6 If ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:
▸7 Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, [b]for ever and ever.

(2) Eight sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

8 ¶ Behold, [c]ye trust in [d]lying words, that cannot profit.
9 [e]Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Bā'al, and walk after other gods whom ye know not;
10 And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and [f]say, We are delivered to do all these abominations?
11 Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD.
●12 But [g]go ye now unto my place which was in Shī'lōh, where I set my name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Ĭs'ra-el.

(3) Twofold judgment

✱13 [h]And now, [i]because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and [j]I spake unto you, rising [k]up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not;
14 Therefore will I do unto this house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shī'lōh.
15 And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even [l]the whole seed of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm.

(4) Judah's idolatry

●16 [m]Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: for I will not hear thee.
17 ¶ [n]Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Jū'dah and [o]in the streets of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm?
18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to [p]make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.
19 Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD: do they

a This is another conditional prophecy, and it will be fulfilled only in the Millennium because that will be the first time they will ever meet the conditions as required

7 conditions of fulfillment:

1 Amend your ways and your doings (v 3)
2 Trust not in lying words (v 4)
3 If you thoroughly amend your ways and doings (v 5)
4 If you thoroughly execute judgment
5 If you do not oppress strangers, orphans, and widows (v 6)
6 If you do not shed innocent blood
7 Neither walk after other gods to your hurt (v 7). Then will I give you this land which I gave to your fathers (v 3, 7) b The land of Canaan was given to Abraham and his seed as an everlasting possession (v 7; Gen. 17:18). They will inherit it forever when the above conditions are met under the Messiah

c See 22 sins of Judah, p. 759
d The lying words they trusted in were unprofitable; according to v 4 they were claims that by maintaining the temple worship they would be protected from all evil
e Questions 47-48, Next, v 17
f Jeremiah accused the Jews of going to the temple to get cleansing from sin, then saying (every time the temple service was over); We are delivered from past sins and are now ready to start sinning all over again (v 10) g God gave them an example of how He judges for continued and repeated sins. He urged them to go to Shiloh where the tabernacle was at first and see the total destruction of the place because of sin (v 12). This destruction took place in the days of Eli and Samuel (1 Sam. 4:11, 17, 22). Shiloh was to Israel during the judges what Jerusalem was to them during the kings
h 16th prophecy in Jer. (7:13-15, fulfilled). Next, v 20

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will do to this temple of Solomon, what I have done to Shiloh (v 14; 1 Sam. 4)
2 I will cast you (Judah) out of My sight, as I have done the 10-tribe kingdom of Ephraim (v 15; 2 Ki. 17)

i See sins in note c, above, for which God destroyed the temple and permitted Judah to be taken to Babylon (v 13)
j God sent prophets to Israel from the first to give them His message; but they could not hear and obey, so went into apostasy and destruction (v 13-15) k This and a similar expression are found 11 times in Jeremiah (v 13, 25; 11:7; 25:3-4; 26:5; 29:19; 32:33; 35:14-15; 44:4). It occurs elsewhere only in 2 Chr. 36:15
l This term is used for the whole 10-tribe kingdom which had been destroyed about 93 years before this m Therefore-in view of their abandonment to destruction without any remedy-God commanded Jeremiah not to do 3 things:
1 Not to pray for Judah (v 16)
2 Not to lift up a cry (or prayer) for them
3 Not to make intercession for them. In 14:7-9 we have an intercessory prayer offered by Jeremiah, but it was not answered n Questions 49-51, Next, 8:4
o Sin and idolatry were committed right in the streets of Jerusalem by all members of a family (v 17-18) p Cakes were made of honey, fine flour, and other ingredients and shaped like the moon to which they were offered. Phoenicians called the moon Ashtoreth or Astarte, the wife of Baal or Molech, who was called the king of heaven. The male and female pair of deities symbolized the generative powers of nature; hence, the introduction of prostitution in connection with such worship. The Babylonians worshipped the goddess as Mylitta (generative). The moon became the symbol of female productiveness, and all women converts were supposed to submit to immorality in this worship, at least one time a 17th prophecy in Jer. (7:20, fulfilled). Next, v 27

2 predictions fulfilled:
1 Therefore (in view of the fact that My people have provoked Me continually by their sins), My anger will be poured out upon this place, upon man, beast, trees, and the fruit of the ground (7:20)
2 I will burn and not be quenched
b The idea here is that they would increase their sacrifices and add burnt offerings to peace offerings which they ate, but all would be in vain as long as they rejected obedience to God and His law. The offerers ate part of the offerings and part was used in rituals, indicating that both God and man partook of the same sacrifice, thus becoming reconciled and being made friends (v 21)
c I did not speak to your fathers first about burnt offerings when I brought them out of Egypt; but I commanded them: Obey My voice and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; walk in all the ways that I have commanded you, and it will be well with you. But they would not listen or obey; they walked in the counsels and imaginations of their evil hearts, going backward instead of forward (v 22-24). This was the case, for we see from Ex. 13-19 that, in all the journey from Egypt to Sinai nothing was said about burnt offerings; but much was said about obeying God (Ex. 15:26; 16:4; 19:5-8) d One of the shortest summaries of the history of Israel in Scripture - went backward, not forward. In these 4 words many centuries of human experiences can be found; the general trend was backward instead of forward until the patience of God ran out and the nation was finally abandoned to captivity and dispersion among the nations, where they are today (Lk. 24:20-24). See Backsliding and Israel in Index
e God's accusation was that from the day Israel had come out of Egypt unto this day - the time of Jeremiah - they had gone backward, not forward (v 25)
f The prophets were the means of God in the period of Israel's backslidings to bring them back to Himself if they would obey (v 25). In fact, before this, from the beginning of rebellion in the human race God sent prophets (Acts 3:21). See list of prophets, p. 731. This expression, rising up early is found 11 times in Jeremiah (v 13, 25; 11:7; 25:3-4; 26:5; 29:19; 32:33; 35:14-15; 44:4). The term early in the morning is found 13 times in Scripture; and there are other terms using the word early. Bible characters were early risers. See Early in Index g 7fold effect of God's dealings:
1 They hearkened not to God (v 26)
2 Did not incline the ear to hear
3 Hardened their neck
4 Did worse than their fathers
5 Refused to answer God's call (v 27)
6 Refused to obey (v 28)
7 Refused even to be corrected
h This implies that each generation became worse than the preceding one, so that God had to take action and judge them often for the purpose of correction and hindering the downward trend, temporarily. They seemed bent on sliding back. Finally, in 616 B.C. God permitted them to go into captivity; and then, in 70 A.D., after trying them again as a nation for 500 years, He permitted them to be dispersed throughout the earth, where they have been for about 1900 years i 18th prophecy in Jer. (7:27, fulfilled). Next, v 32
2 predictions fulfilled:
1 They will not hearken to you (7:27)
2 They will not answer you
j God knew that Israel would not hearken to Jeremiah when He sent the prophet; and He also knew that they would not answer His call through this servant, but He purposed in His patience to give them every possible opportunity to be saved (v 27) k Truth is perished and cut off from the mouth of Israel because they will not obey and follow it (v 28). This can only be brought about by personal acts; no man can cut off truth from another who consecrated to obey it not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

(5) Fivefold judgment

*20 aTherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

(6) Tenfold exhortation

●21 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el; bPut your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 For cI spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of E'gypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices:

●23 But this thing I commanded them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.◂

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and dwent backward, and not forward.

25 eSince the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of E'gypt unto this day fI have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them:

26 Yet gthey hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck: they didhworse than their fathers.

*27 iTherefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but ithey will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them; but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth correction: ktruth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

(7) Lamentation: reason

●29 ¶ lCut off thine hair, O Je-ru'sa-lem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Ju'dah have done evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high places of To'phet, which is in the valley of the son of Hin'nom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

(8) Eighteenfold judgment

*32 ¶ Therefore, mbehold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called To'phet, nor the valley of the son of Hin'nom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in aTo'phet, btill there be no place.

33 And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Ju'dah, and from the cstreets of Je-ru'sa-lem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

753 CHAPTER 8

dAT that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Ju'dah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem, out of their graves:

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have eloved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And fdeath shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain ofthis evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

(9) Twelve sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4):

4 ¶ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus hsaith the LORD; iShall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people o Je-ru'sa-lem jslidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fastkdeceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: mno man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, nas the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, othe stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the LORD.

8 pHow do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the qscribes is in vain.

9 The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what wisdom is in them?

(10) Ninefold judgment (cp.

a See Tophet, p. 487, 758
b So many people were to be killed in Tophet that there would be no room left for more bodies (v 32)
c See Oriental marriages, p. 758
d At that time, when Nebuchadnezzar destroyed Jerusalem, not only would the living be killed and left in Tophet until there was no more room for bodies (v 32), but the Babylonians would also ransack the graves of the kings, princes, and wealthy people of Judah, leaving their bones out in the open fields to be spread before the sun, moon, and various other planets which they had worshipped (v 2) e 5fold degree of worship of the planets:
1 They loved them (v 2)
2 Served them
3 Walked after them
4 Sought after them
5 Worshipped them
Had Israel only loved, served, walked after, sought after, and worshipped Jehovah they would have been blessed forever. Their failure in this is what the great controversy between Him and His people was about; and it was the reason for their destruction and becoming as dung on the face of the earth (v 1-2)
f The people left in the land as well as those who went into captivity despaired and preferred death to life because of their miseries (v 3)
g The whole Jewish race are here called this evil family, because of their perpetual backslidings (v 3, 5) h The argument here is that when men fall to the ground they get up again, and when they lose their way they do not persist in getting lost further; they turn around and seek their way back home. Israel would therefore be doing the normal thing if she quit doing what was causing her ruin (v 4-9)
i Questions 52-57. Next, v 12
j The same idea as turn away and return in v 4. The rendering should be turn away with a perpetual turning. The reasons for staying turned away from God is given - they hold fast to deceit and refuse to turn back to Jehovah (v 5) k Deceit here refers to idolatry; in this men worship that which is false l Why do they refuse? Because of a feeling of dislike, because Satan deceives the whole world and they lie in wickedness (1 Jn. 5:19; Rev. 12:9)
m See 22 sins of Judah, p. 795 n Not only did they sin, but they rushed into it as a horse going to battle (v 6)
o All nature is conscious of its natural instincts and yields to them, but Israel is senseless to recognize that whatsoever a man sows that shall be also reap. All the birds know the time of their return in the spring, but Israel does not know of the time to return to God to avoid judgment (v 7) p The Jews prided themselves on being the wisest nation on earth because they had the law, but from God's standpoint this was all vain; and multiplying copies by the pen of the scribe was also vain if they would not obey it or profit by it (v 8)
q This shows that there was a certain class of men called scribes that devoted themselves to the study and transmission of the law of Moses, and proves that the law was in existence then as an authoritative guide. Scribes are mentioned 56 times in the O.T. and 66 times in the N.T. - but only in the 4 gospels and Acts. The first mention of one was in the days of David (2 Sam. 8:17; 20:25)
r The reason the wise men were ashamed and dismayed was because of the judgments that were coming upon the very people who had the Word of God which guaranteed them divine protection (v 9). They failed to recognize, like many today, that men can reject the Word of God and be cursed. They failed to see the many conditions related to blessings - conditions they had not met or kept

l Cutting off the hair was a sign of disgrace and ruin (Ezra 9:3; Neh. 13:25; Ezek. 5:1; 16:7). Even cutting the beard was a great disgrace to men in Israel (41:5; 2 Sam. 10:4-5) m 19th prophecy in Jer. (7:32-8:4, fulfilled). Next, 8:10

a 20th prophecy in Jer. (8:10, fulfilled). Next, v 12

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will give your wives unto others (8:10)

2 I will give your fields to your enemies who shall inherit them

b This again gives the reason for judgment upon Judah - it was because of perpetual sin (note m, v 6)

c See note r, 6:14

d Question 58. Next, v 14

e 21st prophecy in Jer. (8:12-22, fulfilled). Next, 9:7

18 predictions-fulfilled:

1 They shall fall among them that fall (8:12)

2 In the time of their visitation they will be cast down

3 I will surely consume them (8:13)

4 There will be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the trees, and the leaf will fade

5 The things that I have given them will pass away from them

6 You will flee to the defenced cities in silent waiting for war (8:14)

7 God will put us to silence and give us water of gall to drink

8 We will look for peace and health, but will see trouble (8:15)

9 The invasion will come from Dan on the north (8:16)

10 The whole land will tremble because of them (the invaders)

11 They will devour the whole land

12 They will devour the city and all that dwell therein

13 I will send serpents and cockatrices among you (8:17)

14 They will not be charmed

15 They will bite you

16 People from a far country will make My people cry (8:19)

17 The harvest will be past and yet they will not be saved (8:20)

18 There will be no remedy for the judgment coming upon Judah (8:22)

f The time of visitation is the same as the harvest and the summer of v 20. This time or year is found 8 times (v 12; 10:15; 11:23; 23:12; 46:21; 48:44; 50:27; 51:18). Such visitation is found elsewhere only in Isa. 10:3; Hos. 9:7; Mic. 7:4; Lk. 19:44. God had given them a definite time in which to repent; and they would not do so; therefore, judgment had to fall. It would be the time when all grapes would be reaped and none left on the vine, when there would be no figs on the trees because of the host of invaders. All that God had given them would be swept away (v 13)

g Question 59. Next, v 19

h This is the cause of all trouble and calamity on earth (v 14-15)

i A picture of the invading army of Nebuchadnezzar coming from the north to make the land desolate (v 16-17)

j The invaders are pictured here as snakes and cockatrices that will not be charmed but will destroy with poisonous bites (v 17)

k Questions 60-64. Next, 9:7

l The opportunity of salvation from Babylon is past, the winter of judgment is here, and we are not delivered (v 20)

m This refers to mourning in sackcloth and ashes; it does not mean that Jeremiah was a black man (v 21)

n Judah was past mercy; there was no remedy for the apostasy; so judgment had to come, and that without fail (v 22)

22 comparisons of Israel (6:2):

1 An harlot (3:1; Isa. 1:21) 1)
2 The daughter of Zion (6:2; Isa. 16:
3 The wife of Jehovah (Isa. 54:5; Hos. 2:16)
4 A woman forsaken (Isa. 54:6)
5 Sister harlots (3:6-10; Ezek. 16)
6 A comely, delicate women (4:30-31; 31:22)
7 The daughter of My people (8:11)
8 Backsliding daughter (31:22)
9 A widow (Lam. 1:1)
10 A princess (Lam. 1:1)
11 Two women (Ezek. 23)
12 Sunclothed woman (Rev. 12)
13 A travailing woman (4:31; 6:24)
14 A menstrous woman (Lam. 1:17)
15 An imperious whorish woman (Ezek. 16:30)
16 The lewd woman (Ezek. 16:44)

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

*7 eTherefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; ffor how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.

(14) Sevenfold judgment

9 ¶ gShall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none can pass through them; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled; they are gone.

11 And I will make Jĕ-rų'sâ-lĕm heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Jū'dah desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ hWho is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

(15) Five sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

13 And the LORD saith, 'Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein;

14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after jBā'al-ĭm, which their fathers taught them:

(16) Fivefold judgment

a A lodge in the wilderness perhaps refers to the temporary lodging places for travellers in the open country, which private charity or municipal law sometimes provided, in the East; or, to temporary hospitality extended to strangers, as a religious duty. Jeremiah's idea was that such a place was better than the places where his people lived, and that hospitality of strangers was better than the society of the wicked. He expressed a desire to leave his people for a lodging in the wilderness where he could be at peace and where men were not in total rebellion against Jehovah (v 2) b 20 sins of Judah:

1 They are all adulterous (v 2)
2 The whole assembly is treacherous
3 They bend their tongues like bows to tell or shoot out lies (v 3)
4 They are not valiant for truth
5 They commit one evil after another
6 They are ignorant of God
7 Every man is a cheater (v 4)
8 They walk with slanders
9 They all deceive each other (v 5)
10 None will speak the truth
11 They train others to lie
12 They bend every effort to sin
13 They refuse to know God (v 6)
14 They speak deceit (v 8)
15 They plot against each other
16 They have forsaken the law (v 13)
17 They have not obeyed God's voice
18 They have not walked in God's ways
19 They have walked after the imagination of their own heart (v 14) 20 They have walked after Baalim

c 15 commands in Jer. 9:

1 Take heed of your neighbors (v 4)
2 Do not trust in any brother
3 Consider, and call mourning women
4 Send for cunning women to come (v 17)
5 Let them make haste (v 18)
6 Take up a wailing for us
7 Hear the word of the Lord you women (v 20)
8 Let your ear receive the word of His mouth
9 Teach your daughters wailing
10 Teach lamentations to neighbors
11 Speak (v 22)
12 Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom (v 23)
13 Let not the mighty man glory in his might 14 Let not the rich man glory in his riches
15 Let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understands and knows Me (v 24)

3 I will be avenged on this nation
4 I will weep and wail for the mountains (9:10)
5 I will take up lamentations for the inhabitants of the wilderness, because they are burned up
6 The cattle, beasts of the field, and fowls will be destroyed
7 I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons (9:11)
8 I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without inhabitant
9 The land will perish and be burned up like a wilderness (9:12)
10 None will pass through it i Again, God gives the reason for the coming judgments. 5 sins listed here (note b, above)

j Baalim is the plural of Baal, and expresses his supposed manifold powers (v 14; 2:23; Judg. 2:11; 3:7; 8:33; 10:6, 10; 1 Sam. 7:4; 12:10; 1 Ki. 16:18; 2 Chr. 17:3; 24:7; 28:2; 33:3; 34:4; Hos. 2:13, 17; 11:2)

18 Wife of whoredoms (Hos. 1:2; 2:1-23)
19 The married wife (Isa. 54:1)
20 A treacherous wife (3:20)
21 An adulterous wife (Ezek. 16:32)
22 The virgin of Israel (18:13)

a 23rd prophecy in Jer. (9:15-26, fulfilled). Next, 10:10

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will feed them with wormwood (9:15)
2 I will give them water of gall to drink
3 I will scatter them also among the heathen (9:16)
4 I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them
5 A voice of wailing will be heard in Zion, because the land is made desolate and we are cast out (9:17-19)
6 Death will come up into our windows and enter our palaces to cut off the people in the streets (9:20-21)
7 The carcases of men will fall as dung upon the open field (9:22; 8:1-4)
8 No man will gather them for burial
9 I will punish all that are circumcised (the Jews) with the uncircumcised (the Gentiles, 9:25)
10 I will punish Egypt, Edom, Ammon, and Moab (the uncircumcised) that dwell in the utmost corners and the wilderness, with Judah (the Jews, 9:26)

b Wormwood - a plant of which there are several species, all being destinguished for intense bitterness and some being very harmful. The word is used a number of times in the same sense as gall and hemlock - to denote what is offensive and injurious (v 15; 23:15; Dt. 29:18; Pr. 5:4; Lam. 3:15, 19; Amos 5:7; Rev. 8:11). To be forced to use wormwood as food expresses extreme suffering (v 15; 23:15; Lam. 3:15, 19)

c Gall - an animal fluid of exceedingly bitter taste, secreted by the liver. Allusion is made to it in Job 16:13; 20:14, 25; Lam. 2:11. It is also referred to as the extraction of a very bitter herb (note p. Dt. 29:18)

d Many are the predictions of God which refer to the scattering of Israel among the nations, even before the division of Israel into 2 kingdoms (Lev. 26:23; Dt. 4:27; 28:64; 30:3; 32:26), as well as after this division (v 16; 13:24; 18:17; 23:1; 30:11; 49:32, 36; Ezek. 11:16-17; 12:14-15; 20:23, 24, 41; 22:15; 28:25; 29:13; 34:5-12; 36:19; Joel 3:2). We see then that the whole 13 tribes were to be scattered, and not Judah only

e Judah was to be judged until they were consumed out of the land of their fathers (v 16)

f See Call to mourning, p. 773

g The handful refers to a little bundle of wheat which the reaper gathered with a few strokes of his sickle and laid on the ground. Behind the reaper came one whose duty it was to gather several of these small bundles and bind them into a large one. Death was to strew the ground with corpses as thickly as these handfuls of grain that was reaped and laid on the ground (v 22)

h This lesson which follows the prediction of death reaping the land is of universal application. Death will prove to man how vain he has been in his worldly pursuits

3 things which men boast of (v 23):

1 The wise man glories in his wisdom
2 The mighty man glories in his might
3 The rich man glories in his riches

None in any of these 3 classes should boast and glory in their blessings; all should glory in essential and eternal things

3 things men should glory in (v 24):

1 That they understand and know God
2 That God exercises lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness in earth
3 That these things delight God instead of human wisdom, power, and riches i Knowing God is the basis of all blessings of life, here and hereafter. It is the condition of trust in God; one who is unknown cannot be trusted at all. Want of this knowledge led to universal corruption of the Gentiles (Rom. 1:28), and to Israel's fall and dispersion (Isa. 1:3; Lk. 19:42-43). The future blessings of men will depend upon knowing God (31:34; Isa. 1:9; 54:13). This is why we are given the written Word of God (2 Tim. 3:15-17)

j 3 things God exercises in the earth:
1 Lovingkindness (v 24; Ex. 34:6)
2 Judgment
3 Righteousness

k God's delight and pleasure in the earth would be for all men to exercise the above 3 things (v 24) 26)

l 5 nations to be judged together (v 25-

*15 aTherefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el; Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with bwormwood, and give them water cof gall to drink.

16 I will dscatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword after them, etill I have consumed them.

(17) Call for lamentation: sevenfold reason

●17 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and fcall for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for cunning women, that they may come:

●18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zi'ŏn, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out.

●20 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

●22 Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the ghandful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.

(18) God's delight stated

●23 ¶ hThus saith the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches:

●24 But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and iknoweth me, that I am the LORD which jexercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for kin these things I delight, saith the LORD.

(19) Both Israel and Gentiles to be punished alike

25 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish lall them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised;

26 E'gypt, and Jū'dah, and E'dom, and the children of Am'mŏn, and Mō'ab, and all that are in the utmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Is'ra-el are uncircumcised in the heart.

CHAPTER 10 755

(20) Eightfold vanity of idols

HEAR ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto byou, O house of Is'ra-el:

●2 Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the cway of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the dsigns of heaven; for the heathen are dismayed at them.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the ax.

4 They edeck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

(21) Eighteen proofs of God

6 Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O LORD; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 f[Who would not fear thee, gO King of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are altogether brutish and foolish: hthe stock is a idoctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from [Tär'shish, and gold from kū'phăz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

*10 l[But the LORD mis the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.

●11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

(22) Stupidity of idolaters

14 nEvery man is obrutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Ja'cob is not like them: for he is the former of all things; and Is'ra-el is the rod of his inherit-a 5 commands in Jer. 10:

1 Hear the Word (v 1)
2 Learn not the way of the heathen
3 Be not dismayed at the signs of heaven as the heathen are (v 2)
4 Thus you shall say to them (v 11)
5 Gather up your wares out of the land (v 17)

b The ones addressed here were of the kingdom of Judah, called house of Israel because of being the whole house of Israel that was left. The 10-tribe kingdom had been destroyed more than 93 years before this; and since the kingdom of Judah was made up of many from all the 13 tribes, it was rightfully called the house of Israel (v 1)

c 11 facts about the heathen, p. 794

d These signs were extraordinary appearances, such as eclipses, or comets, and they were taken by the heathen as indications of calamities on earth (v 2) e They covered it with plates of silver and gold, and fastened it with nails so that it would not fall over when set up (v 4). This making of an idol is the same as described in Isa. 41:7; 44:13-17 where it is plainly stated that they made gods out of the trunks of trees. No such thing as a modern Christmas tree is here described

g Jehovah is not only the national God of the Jews, but also the Sovereign of Gentiles (v 7; Ps. 22:28). He is the everlasting King (v 10)

h The tree trunk of v 2-5 made into a pillar was an upright god, an image of a man carved in it and covered with silver and gold plates (v 2-5, 8-9; Isa. 41:7; 44:13-17)

i The teaching was that the idol made of a tree trunk and covered with silver and gold was the true god and the one to protect the nation. It was a doctrine of vanities, for every detail of the teaching about the idol was vain (v 8)

j See note on 1 Ki. 10:22

k Uphaz (v 9; Dan. 10:5). Perhaps the same as Ophir (Gen. 10:29; 1 Ki. 9:28; 10:11; 22:48; 1 Chr. 1:23; 29:4; 2 Chr. 8:18; 9:10; Job 22:24; 28:16; Ps. 45:9; Isa. 13:12)

1 His wrath will cause the earth to tremble (10:10)
2 The nations will not be able to abide His indignation
3 The false gods will perish from the earth (10:11)

m 15 facts about God in Jer. 10:
1 Instructor of Israel (v 1-5)
2 None like Him (v 6-7)
3 He is great (v 6)
4 His name is great in power
5 King of the nations (v 7)
6 Cannot be compared to an idol made with hands (v 8-10)
7 He is the true God (v 10)
8 He is the living God
9 He is the everlasting King (v 10, 24)
10 He is judge of the nation (v 10)
11 Creator of heavens and earth (v 11-12)
12 He has established earth (v 12)
13 Established the social system
14 Regulates times and seasons (v 13)
15 He is the Lord of Hosts (v 16)

n These verses (14-16) show the contrast between idols and their makers (of v 2-5, 8-9), and God and His acts, as in note m, above

12 facts about idols:

1 The work of the hands of men (v 3)
2 Tree cut down by an axe
3 Plated with silver and gold (v 4)
4 Nailed to prevent falling
5 Cannot move
6 Cannot speak (v 5)
7 Have to be carried by man
8 Cannot do good or evil
9 Images-graven and molten (v 14)
10 Have no breath of life
11 Are vanity (v 8, 15)
12 A work of many errors (v 15)

a 25th prophecy in Jer. (10:17-25, fulfilled). Next, 11:8

14 predictions-fulfilled:
1 You are to gather up your wares to go out of the land (10:17)
2 I will cast out the inhabitants of the land at once (10:18)
3 I will distress them
4 Woe is me for my hurt (10:19)
5 My wound is grievous
6 My tabernacle is spoiled (10:20)
7 All my cords are broken
8 My children are gone forth from me into captivity
9 There is none left to stretch my tent and set up my curtains
10 The pastors will not prosper (10:21)
11 Their flocks will be scattered 12 The rumor is come (10:22)
13 A great commotion comes from the north country
14 They (the invaders) will make the cities of Judah desolate and a den of jackals

b This means to gather a few necessary articles to be carried by hand into exile. The inhabitants of the fortress (Jerusalem) were to be taken captive out of the land, and be in great distress (v 17-18)

c A figurative expression denoting violent ejection of the people from the land (v 18; Isa. 22:18)

d At this once, or at this time. Previous invasions had terminated in deliverance or only temporary misfortune, but now God's patience had come to an end, and Judah was to be destroyed, fulfilling the many prophecies that had been given from the days of Moses to Jeremiah's time (note d, 9:16)

e I will distress them with a siege and they will know that I have determined this suffering for their sins (v 18)

f Jeremiah seemed to take up the cry in the Spirit of Judah, who was to suffer this great distress, hurt, wound, and grief (10:19)

g See note a, above for extent of judgment upon Judah

h The shepherds or rulers of Judah (v 21)

i Bruit, rumor (v 22)

j Dragons, jackals (v 22)

k It is not in man to direct his steps, or establish his ways (v 23)

l Correct me with judgment, but not while You are angry, lest You bring me to nothing. The word judgment here means measure, so the plea is: Correct me in measure, but not fully, and not in anger that I might be spared (v 24) m The request here is for judgment to fall upon the enemies of Judah who would destroy them and make their land desolate (v 25). God promised to do this after He had used them as a means of chastening upon the Jews (25:11-29) n Jeremiah's 4th commission (11:1-7. Cp. 1:4-10, 17-19; 6:27-30)

o 8 commands in Jer. 11:
1 Hear the words of the covenant (v 2)
2 Speak to Judah and Jerusalem
3 Say this to them (v 3)
4 Obey My voice (v 4)
5 Do My commandments
6 Proclaim all these words (v 6)
7 Hear the words of the covenant and do them
8 Obey My voice (v 7)

p The men of Judah and Jerusalem were the only Jews or Israelites left in the land, therefore, since Jeremiah was commissioned to prophesy to them they were the Israel of these prophecies (v 2, 6, 9-10, 12-13, 17)

q This title occurs 14 times in Jer. (11:3; 13:12; 21:4; 23:2; 24:5; 25:15; 30:2; 32:36; 33:4; 34:2, 13; 37:7; 42:9; 43:2). The word Israel is still used of Judah who represents all Israel. See Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367

r 6 curses in Jeremiah:
1 Cursed is the man that obeys not the words of this covenant (11:3)
2 Cursed is the man that trusteth in man and makes flesh his arm (17:5)
3 Cursed is the day of my birth (20:14)
4 Cursed is the man that brought the tidings of my birth to my father (20:15)
5 Cursed is he that does the work of the Lord deceitfully (48:10)
6 Cursed is he that keeps back the sword from shedding blood (84:10)

(23)Twelve judgments: reasons (cp. Isa. 1:28, refs.)

★17 ¶ [p]Gather up thy [b]wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the fortress.●

18 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will [c]sling out the inhabitants of the land [d]at this once, and will [e]distress them, that they may find it so.

19 ¶ [f]Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it.

20 My tabernacle is [g]spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the [h]pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of [i]the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Jū'dah desolate, and a den of [j]dragons.

23 ¶ O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: [k]it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O LORD, [l]correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 [m]Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jā'cob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

756 CHAPTER 11

III Signs - prophecies (11:1-19:15). 1 Jeremiah's fourth commission (1:4-10, 17-19; 6:27-30)

THE word that came [n]to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

●2 [o]Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Jū'dah, and to [p]the inhabitants of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm;

●3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith [q]the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el; [r]Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words [s]of this covenant,

●4 Which I [t]commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, from the [u]iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: [v]so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:◂

▸5 That I may perform the oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a [w]land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered I, and said, [x]So be it, O LORD.

●6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and [a]do them.

●7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

2 Eight sins of Judah (Isa. 1:4)

★8 [b]Yet they [c]obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Jū'dah, and among the inhabitants of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm.

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Ĭs'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

3 Tenfold judgment on Judah (cp. Isa. 1:28, refs.)

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then shall the cities of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.

13 For [d]according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Jū'dah; and according to the number of the streets of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Bā'al.

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.

15 [e]What hath my [f]beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? [g]when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

16 The LORD called thy name, A[h]green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Ĭs'ra-el and of the house of Jū'dah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Bā'al.

4 First plot against Jeremiah: by his own brethren (cp. 18:18; 20:1; 26:8; 37:11)

18 ¶ And the LORD [i]hath given me knowledge of it, and I know a Do them is the most important part. Twice here God spoke of His agreement with Israel at Sinai, their responsibility being: Obey My voice (v 4, 7)

6 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant (11:8; Lev. 26; Dt. 28)
2 I will bring evil upon them, which they will not be able to escape (11:11)
3 I will not hear them when they cry unto Me
4 In their desperation they will cry to their gods for deliverance (11:12)
5 The gods will not save them in any time of trouble
6 I will not hear them in the time that they cry to Me in trouble (11:14)

c 16 sins of Judah:
1 They obeyed not (v 8)
2 Inclined not their ear
3 Walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart
4 Did not do the words of the covenant
5 Conspired against God (v 9)
6 Turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers (v 10)
7 Went after other gods to serve them
8 Broke God's covenant (v 10)
9 Offered incense to other gods (v 12)
10 Set up gods in every city (v 13)
11 Altars in every street of Jerusalem to burn incense to Baal
12 Wrought lewdness with many (v 15)
13 Rejoiced in iniquity
14 Provoked God to anger (v 17)
15 Devised plans against Jeremiah to cut him off in death (v 19-21)
16 Forbad the bringing of God's message to them (v 21)

d Another way of saying that the whole country was given over to idolatry and that in all streets of Jerusalem men worshipped Baal (v 13)

2 Without understanding-ignorance
3 Blindness-wilful turning from truth
4 Deafness-wilful refusal to hear truth
5 No fear of God (v 22)
6 Revolting and rebellious heart (v 23)
7 Rebellion and backsliding
8 No desire to fear God (v 24)
9 Many iniquities and sins (v 25)
10 Tolerate wicked men among them
11 Lay wait to cause men to sin
12 Set traps to catch men in sin
13 Fulness of deceit (v 27)
14 Commit sin for personal gain
15 Grow fat and glory in sin (v 28)
16 Pass over the deeds of the wicked
17 Do not judge the cause of orphans
18 Do not judge the cause of the poor
19 Prophets prophesy falsely (v 31)
20 Priests bear rule by the false prophecies of the false prophets a This was by the Holy Spirit revealing the facts in the same way that other revelations came to prophets. It could have been by vision or by imparting the actual knowledge to his heart and mind (v 18)

b Instead of being exalted over receiving a revelation of the sins of Judah he, like all other godly men, felt a deep humility and compassion for the people, even his enemies (v 19) c Jeremiah was like a tame lamb that is allowed around the household, never suspecting that the time would come when he should be killed. He was brought up at Anathoth as one of the family, and now he learned that they had plotted to kill him (v 19)

5 I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation

g Jehovah is righteous, and all His ways are righteousness and truth. The prophet, after ascribing righteousness to God, brought up some puzzling questions, in view of this:
1 Why do the wicked prosper? (v 1). This is truly a perplexing problem to those who are under the impression that God rules the earth and everything that happens comes from Him. Asaph was puzzled about the same thing in his day (Ps. 73:2-17). The answer is that Satan is the god of this world system, the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that works in the children of disobedience (2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 2:1-3; Rev. 12:9). Many times he helps the wicked to prosper and hinders the righteous who have not yet learned to seek and get the help of God in business. Thus, if a wicked man prospers the Christian should not stumble over the fact. He, himself could prosper more than all the wicked if he would be led of God and appropriate the promises to his own life
2 Why are those who deal treacherously so happy? The answer is that their enjoyment is in wickedness and material gain which they can get through deceit and ungodly dealings (v 1)
3 Why were the conspirators of Anathoth prospering in the plotting of his life when he had been faithful to prophesy for God? Jeremiah could not seem to reconcile this fact with his faith in the righteousness of God (v 1-2). He did not doubt the ultimate justice and punishment of the wicked, but he wanted immediate action of dealing with his enemies (v 1-3). They were seemingly planted by God and not cursed by Him (v 2), while the prophet seemed to be uprooted and driven out (v 3-13)
4 How long would the land be plundered and robbed by wicked men? (v 4). It seemed that all this could be corrected by a special judgment of God. The Lord rebuked the prophet for this line of reasoning, and showed him by two proverbial sayings that there were still greater trials ahead for him (v 5-13)

it. [a]Then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 [b]But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O LORD of hosts, [d]that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, [e]let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

5 Judgment on the plotters

*21 [f]Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of An'a-thōth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophesy not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:

23 And there shall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of An'a-thōth, even the year of their visitation.

CHAPTER 12 757

6 Jeremiah's prayer (18: 19-23)

[g]RIGHTEOUS art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: [h]Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O LORD, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end.

7 God's answer: Jeremiah warned; sevenfold judgment

*5 ¶ [i]If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jôr'dan?

6 [k]For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee; yea, they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, [l]I have left mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest; it crieth out against me: therefore have I hated it.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a [m]speckled bird, the birds round about are against her; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.

10 Many [n]pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.

12 [o]The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the [p]sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.

13 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your revenues because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

8 Judgment and conditional restoration to Judah's enemies

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD against all [q]mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Is'ra-el to inherit; Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Jū'dah from among them.

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have [r]plucked them out I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring them [s]again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of [t]my people, to swear by my name, The LORD liveth; as they taught my people to swear by Bā'al; then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

17 But [u]if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the LORD.

j 2 proverbs rebuking Jeremiah, p. 794 k Here God explained that the prophet's brethren had dealt treacherously with him, having caused a multitude to turn against him; so he was not to believe them even though they spoke soft words trying to turn him away from prophesying a Soft girdles made of linen or silk were worn by the upper classes. Some were embroidered (Dan. 10:5; Rev. 1:13; 15:6) b On the road to Babylon the Euphrates would be reached first at Carchemish which was then held by the Egyptians (46:2). The reason he was to make the long journey to this river was that it was beyond it that the judgment upon Judah would come. The entire trip from Jerusalem to the Euphrates and back would be about 600-800 miles (v 4-7). It is held that Jeremiah departed from Jerusalem and remained away for 7 years, appearing again in the last days of Jehoiakim (or about 12 years before the final destruction of Jerusalem), wearing his black robe of camel's hair, mildewed and water stained as a symbol of the pitiable state of Judah which had been rejected of God. If true, then his place of refuge could have been near the Euphrates; and he could have remained there while the girdle was becoming marred. The record does not say that he made two full trips from Jerusalem to the river, so v 6-7 could simply mean that he went from his place near the Euphrates to dig up the girdle

c This would be the best place to hide the girdle so that it would be marred normally by age and not by water, or burial in dirt (v 4) d How long the many days lasted is not known, but it was long enough to mar the girdle so that it was fit for nothing (v 6-7). The term many days as used in Hos. 3:4-5 means a much longer period, for over 2,600 years have already passed

e This was the lesson to be learned from taking the linen girdle to the Euphrates, hiding it, and going back after it again. Just as the girdle was marred in its long stay in the hole of the rock, so God would mar the pride of Judah and Jerusalem (v 8-9); and as the girdle would cleave to the man who put it on, so God planned to cause the children of Israel to cleave to Him (v 11)

f 13 sins of Judah in Jer. 13:
1 Great pride (v 9)
2 Refusing to hear God's words (v 10)
3 Walking in the imagination of their hearts
4 Walking after other gods to serve and worship them
5 Refusing to be interested in becoming the people of God any longer (v 11)
6 Drunkenness (v 13)
7 Natural and perpetual evil (v 23)
8 Forgetting God (v 25)
9 Trusting in falsehoods (idols)
10 Adulteries (v 27)
11 Covetousness of opposite sex
12 Lewdness of whoredoms
13 Idolatrous abominations upon the hills and in the fields

g Here we have a second symbol-every bottle filled with wine (v 12). The application to Judah was that God would permit drunkenness to come upon all the inhabitants of the land like every bottle being filled with wine-drunkenness even to the kings, priests, and prophets as well as to other classes of men (v 13-14). This is symbolic drunkenness, the people being compared to bottles and the wine symbolizing the wrath of God against them. It evidently refers to confounding them, filling them with plans of defence, and causing them to war among themselves, reeling about the jostling one another like many drunken men. It could not be that God deliberately made them drunk, for he is not a party to such sin. That it refers to confusion seems very evident, for the passage (v 15-17) speaks of the same proud people as stumbling in darkness

h Question 77. Next, v 20

i Here God commanded Israel to hear and give Him glory or certain judgments would come (v 15-17)
1 God will cause darkness (v 16)
2 Your feet will stumble upon the dark mountains
3 While you are looking for light He will turn your darkness into the shadow of death ness
4 He will make the darkness gross dark-
5 You will go into captivity, to another land (v 17)

●4 Take the [a]girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, [b]go to Eū-phrā'tēş, and hide it there in [e]a hole of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by Eū-phrā'tēş, as the LORD commanded me.

(3) The marred girdle

●6 And it came to pass [d]after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Eū-phrā'tēş, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Eū-phrā'tēş, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

10 Application to Israel

●8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the LORD, [e]After this manner will I mar the pride of Jū'dah, and the great pride of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm.

10 This evil people, which [f]refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Iş'ra-el and the whole house of Jū'dah, saith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.

11 Sign of the bottles

●12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word; Thus saith the LORD God of Iş'ra-el, [g]Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, [h]Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

12 Application to Judah

●13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon Dā'vid's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, with drunkenness.

14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, but destroy them.

13 Warning to the proud

●15 ¶ [i]Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken.

●16 Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and, while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

17 [c]But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the LORD's flock is carried away captive.

14 Warning to the rulers

●18 Say unto the [b]king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them: [c]Jū'dah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold [d]them that come from the north: [e]where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee: shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?

22 ¶ And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.

23 Can the Ê-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an change his skin, or the leopard his spots? [f]then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the LORD; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.

26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.

27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm! wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

15 Message on the drought. (1) Tenfold desolation of Judah

THE word of the LORD that [g]came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah concerning the [h]dearth.

2 Jū'dah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish; they are black unto the ground; and the cry of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters: they came to the pits, and found no water; they returned with their vessels empty; they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is [i]chapt, for there was no rain in the a God made Himself very clear in dealing with His people, declaring in language they could understand that if they would obey Him they would be blessed and protected, and that if they did not, they would be punished. Whole chapters are devoted to the details of blessings and cursings; there are no excuses for misunderstanding (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). Here it is plainly repeated again: If you will not hear you will go into captivity (v 17-19). Many today, like Judah in Jeremiah's time, are lulled to sleep by the idea that God cannot and will not curse and damn the soul of one who backslides and lives in sin. For proof that this is fallacy in the extreme see Backsliding in Index

b This was Jehoiakim and the queen-mother who were to sit down and come down, even to the surrender of the crown of their glory (v 18). This language pictures slavery and captivity; and it was fulfilled in them (2 Ki. 24:12-15)

c Judah, the only kingdom of Israel left, would go into captivity; it was fulfilled about 12 years after this (v 19)

d The Babylonians were to come from the north into Palestine (v 20; 1:13-15; 3:12, 18; 4:6; 6:1, 22; 10:22; 13:20; 16:15; 23:8; 25:9, 26; 31:8; 46:6-24; 47:2; 50:3-9, 41; 51:48)

e Questions 78-84. Next, 14:8

f This expresses the idea that Judah had gone so far into apostasy that it was now impossible for her to give up sin and therefore, impossible for her to do good-as impossible as it would be for an Ethiopian to change his skin or the leopard to change his spots (v 23). It not being possible for Judah to change or do the right thing, because of stubbornness, they must then be scattered among the nations like stubble and chaff passing away in a strong wind (v 24). This was the nation's lot because they forgot God and trusted in falsehood (v 25); they had to be punished for their sins (v 26-27)

g 30th prophecy in Jer. (14:1-6, fulfilled). Next, v 10

10 predictions-fulfilled
1 Judah mourns, men sit in black on the ground, and they cry to God (14:2)
2 There is no water in the pits, so they return with their vessels empty
3 They are ashamed and confounded
4 They cover their heads (14:5)
5 The ground is dried (14:4)
6 There is no rain
7 The plowmen are ashamed
8 The plowmen cover their heads
9 Animals leave their young in the fields, because there is no grass (14:5)
10 The wild asses snuff the air like dragons (jackals) because there is no grass (14:6)

h Many times drought has been the means of God to bring men to their senses. This one was upon Judah, such being promised many centuries before this IF Israel went into sin (Lev. 26:19; Dt. 28:23). It caused one of 13 famines in Scripture (see p. 11)

i Chapt-cleft; cracked; open in slits (v 4). Only here

Tophet (7:32)

Tophet, called the valley of slaughter here and in 19:6, because it was in this valley of the son of Hinnom, and at Tophet in particular, where many of Israel would be killed and left in the open fields for the birds and beasts eat (v 32-34), where the bones of kin... and others would be spread before the planets they had worshipped (8:1-4), and where the counsel of Judah would be made void (19:4-13). Jeremiah even went to Tophet to deliver one message on this subject (19:14-15). See note n, Isa. 30:33

Oriental marriages (7:34)

Marriages in East were celebrated by processions of friends thronging the streets and giving demonstrations of their joy. Singers and musicians accompanied them; and the shouts and music could be heard afar off. It was predicted that all such sounds of joy would be stopped in the streets of Judah's cities because they would go into captivity for their sins and the land would become desolate (v 29-34)

a Plowmen, nobles, people in general, grass, and all other living things were affected (v 1-6) b Jeremiah identified himself with his people in confession of sins. He did not pray or intercede for God to save them from destruction, for he had already been commanded not to pray after this manner (v 7-9, 11; 7:16; 11:14)
c This is proof, not only of the fact that men can backslide, but that their backslidings can be many (v 7)
d Jehovah is the hope of Israel and the Gentiles, the whole world-their Saviour in all times of trouble (v 8)

3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will not hear them (14:12)
2 I will not accept them
3 I will consume them by the sword, famine, and pestilence i The false prophets predicted that they would not see the sword or famine, but peace in Jerusalem (v 13). This was the direct opposite to what God's true prophet, Jeremiah, was saying, as recorded in v 12 and elsewhere, so the conflict between true and false prophets had begun. This is manifested more and more as the book unfolds (v 13; 20:1-18; 23:1-40; 27:1-28:17)

j 8fold estimate of God regarding false prophets:
1 They prophesy lies in My name (v 14)
2 I sent them not (v 14-16)
3 I did not command them to prophecy (v 14)
4 I did not speak to them
5 They prophesy false visions and divinations
6 They prophesy a thing of nought
7 They prophesy deceit of their own heart
8 They contradict Me (v 15 with 13)

8 predictions-fulfilled:
1 The false prophets will die by the sword and famine which they predict will not come (14:15)
2 The people to whom they prophesy will be cast out into the streets of Jerusalem, because of the famine and sword (14:16)
3 They will have no one to bury them
4 I will pour out their wickedness upon them-they will reap what they have sowed
5 My people will be broken with a great and grievous blow (14:17)
6 The slain will be scattered over the open fields (14:18)
7 In the city there will be the sick from the famine
8 All the prophets and priests will go into captivity, into a land that they do not know

4 Desolation of the land
5 Complete captivity (v 9)

earth, the [a]plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons; their eyes did fail, because there was no grass.

(2) Jeremiah's confession

7 ¶ O LORD, though [b]our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake: for our [c]backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee.

8 O [d]the hope of Iṣ'ra-el, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, [e]why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not.

(3) God's answer: judgment

*10 [f]Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them; he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

*11 Then said the LORD unto me, [f]Pray not for this people for their good.

*12 [h]When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

(4) Jeremiah's complaint

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, [i]the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place.

(5) God's answer: judgment

14 Then the LORD [j]said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

*15 [k]Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land; By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them; [l]Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the prophet and the priest go about into a land that they know not.

(6) Jeremiah's confession

19 [b]Hast thou utterly rejected Jū'dah? hath thy soul [c]loathed Zī'ŏn? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? [d]we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble!

20 We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21 [e]Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among [f]the vanities of the Gĕn'tīles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made [g]all these things.

CHAPTER 15 760

(7) God's answer: judgment

THEN [h]said the LORD unto me, Though [i]Mō'sĕs and Săm'u-el stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, [j]Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD; Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, [k]because of Mā-nās'seh the son of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, for that which he did in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

5 For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?

6 Thou [l]hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; [m]I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I a Jeremiah was commanded to give this message to Judah-that tears should be permitted to run from his eyes day and night without ceasing, for the calamity that was to come upon them (v 17). Wherever he would go he was to see the dead in the open fields, and sickness caused by famine, in the city (v 18). The prophets and priests would go into captivity, into a land they did not know i This suggests that both Moses and Samuel stopped God from destroying the people. Now, however, His mind was made up-the people were to be cast out, and even Moses and Samuel, if they stood before Him seeking to spare them, would not change His plans (v 1) m I am weary with changing My mind concerning Judah; it is made up, and she must be judged (v 6-9)

22 sins of Judah (7:8):
1 Trust in lying words (v 8)
2 Steal (v 9)
3 Murder
4 Commit adultery
5 Swear falsely
6 Burn incense to Baal
7 Walk after other gods
8 Claim obligation to sin (v 10)
9 Refuse to answer God (v 13, 27)
10 Make cakes to the queen of heaven
11 Pour out drink offerings of other gods to provoke Jehovah to anger
12 Refuse to hear God (v 24, 26, 27)
13 Walked after the counsels and imaginations of their evil hearts (v 25)
14 Went backward, not forward
15 Hardened their neck (v 26)
16 Obey not God's voice (v 28)
17 Will not receive correction
18 Rejected truth (v 30)

20 Set abominations in God's house
21 Built high places of Tophet (v 31)
22 Burn sons and daughters in the fire will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 She that hath borne seven languisheth: she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD.

(8) Jeremiah's complaint

10 Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth curse me.

(9) God's answer: remnant spared; wicked judged (cp. (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

11 The LORD said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

(10) Jeremiah's intercession

15 ¶ O LORD, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?

(11) God's answer: Jeremiah to be preserved in trouble

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

761 CHAPTER 16

16 Sign of the unmarried prophet (16:1-18). (1) Five prohibitions; ten reasons

THE word of the LORD came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land:

4 They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented; neither shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even lovingkindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them:

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el; Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

(2) Application to Judah: ten sins; judgment (Isa. 1:4)

10 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers

a God did not fail to make it clear that judgment was coming because of sin and their refusal to turn from their own ways and become converted (v 7)

b Widows would be increased because of the husbands being killed in the coming war. Mothers were to be judged by losing their sons in the war (v 8). A woman with 7 warrior sons would languish-she would not escape calamity (v 9). Numerous offspring and valiant warriors would not save the nation from judgment; even the remnant of warriors left would be delivered to the sword of their enemies

c Jeremiah lamented being the center of strife because of his prophecies; he did not deserve the hatred shown him, for there had been no crooked or wicked dealings on his part (v 10)

d The remnant here would not be of the army, but the poor of the land that would be left after the others had been destroyed or taken into captivity (v 11; 39:1-18; 41:1-18; 2 Ki. 25:22-26)

e Question 97. Next, v 18

f The iron here is no doubt symbolic of the weakness of Judah in seeking to break the power of Babylon, which is compared to steel (v 12)

g Judah's substance was to be given over to the Babylonians, because of sins in all parts of the land. They were also to be taken captive into the land of their enemies (v 13-14)

h Jeremiah prayed for God's vengeance upon his persecutors, reminding Jehovah that it was for His sake that he was suffering (v 15)

i The prophet here revealed his love for the words of God. He ate them, so to speak, like wonderful food, and rejoiced in heart because of them (v 16)

j This simply means that Jeremiah was consecrated to God's service, being ordained a prophet by the name of Jehovah (v 16)

k Jeremiah's prophecies were given among an assembly of mockers; and when he saw their mocking at what had been revealed to him regarding the sins of his people, he was filled with indignation against them (for not heeding the words of God (v 17)

l Questions 98-99. Next, 16:10

m 35th prophecy in Jer. (15:19-21, fulfilled). Next, 16:1

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 If you return to Me, I will bring you again, and you will stand before Me (15:19)

2 If you take forth the precious from the vile, you will be as My mouth

3 I will make you unto this people a defenced wall (15:20)

4 They will fight against you but they will not prevail against you

5 I am with you and will save you and deliver you from them

6 I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked and out of the hand of the terrible (15:21)

These statements were made to Jeremiah, assuring him of protection from his enemies and promising preservation through all that he was to endure for the sake of Jehovah

12 titles and symbols of Nebuchadnezzar (6:26):

1 The destroyer of the Gentiles(4:7)
2 The spoiler (6:26)
3 The king of Babylon (so-called 79 times in Jeremiah alone, 21:4, 7)
4 My servant (27:6)
5 A king of kings (Dan. 2:37)
6 The head of gold (Dan. 2:38)
7 Lion (49:19)
8 Eagle (49:22)
9 Hammer (50:23)
10 Destroying mountain (51:25)
11 Burnt mountain (51:25)
12 Dragon (51:34)

Jehovah the Speaker (12:7)

The speaker here was Jehovah, not Jeremiah, as proved by God's answer (v 5-17). Note the following statements:

1 My house (v 7)
2 My heritage (v 7-9)
3 Dearly beloved of My soul (v 7)
4 My vineyard (v 10)
5 My pardon
6 My pleasant portion
7 My evil neighbors (v 14)
8 My people Israel (v 14, 16)
9 My name (v 16)

a God finally advised the prophet to let them come to him if they wanted to hear any more truth, and told him not to return to them or force his message upon them (v 19). The Lord predicted a fight between Jeremiah and the rulers and people in which he would be like a brazen wall which they could not overcome; furthermore, He promised to save His servant from all the wicked and terrible men who were his enemies (v 20-21)

b 36th prophecy in Jer. (16:1-21. V 1-13 fulfilled; v 14-21 unfulfilled). Next, 17:1

14 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Fathers, mothers, sons, and daughters will die grievous deaths (16:1-4)
2 They will not be lamented (16:4, 6)
3 They will not be buried, but be as dung upon the face of the earth
4 They will be consumed by the sword and famine (16:4)
5 Their carcases will be meat for the the fowls of heaven and the beasts of earth
6 Both the great and small will die in this land (16:6)
7 Men will not lament their deaths, cut themselves, make themselves bald, or tear themselves for them in mourning (16:6-7)
8 No cup of consolation will be drunk for father or mother (16:7)
9 You will not go into the house of feasting to sit with them and eat and drink (16:8)
10 I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, all joy and happiness (16:9)
11 Men will question you as to your stern prophecy (16:10)
12 You will then tell them that it was because your fathers forsook Me, walked after other gods, served them, worshipped them, and kept not My law (16:11)
13 Therefore, I will cast them out of the land into another that they know not (16:13)
14 There they will serve other gods day and night; and I will not show them favor (16:13)

8 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The days will come when it will no more be said, The Lord liveth, that brought the children out of Egypt, but, The Lord liveth that brought Israel from all lands where they dispersed (16:14-16)
2 I will bring them again into their land that I gave their fathers (16:15)
3 I will send fishers and hunters who will search them out of all places on earth (16:16)
4 First, I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double (16:18)
5 Gentiles will come unto you from the end of the earth (16:19)
6 They will confess that their fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things of no profit
7 I will cause them to know My hand and My power (16:21)
8 They will know that My name is the Lord

c Jeremiah was told not to marry and have children in Jerusalem, for the city would not stand long enough for a family to be brought up in it (v 2-4)

d God had already taken away the peace of Jerusalem as well as His lovingkindness and mercies, so destruction would soon come upon all the land by the Babylonians who were to fulfil every detail of this stern prophecy of v 1-13

e 6 practices-at death of loved ones:

1 Lamentation (note I, 9:17)
2 Cutting themselves (v 6; Lev. 19:28). It was customary to scratch the arms, hands, and face as a token of mourning for the dead
3 Making themselves bald (v 6; Dt. 14:1). It was also customary to shave the hair off
4 Tearing themselves (v 7), or mutilating their bodies in some way
5 Passing the cup of consolation (v 7). Upon the death of a relative the mourners would fast; then, after awhile the friends and neighbors would come to comfort them and urge them to eat and drink
6 Feasting after a few days of fasting and mourning (v 8)

f Questions 100-102. Next, v 20

g Again, God gave the reason for judgment (v 11-12)

have [a]forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

12 And ye have done worse than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers; and [b]there shall ye serve other gods day and night; where I will not shew you favour.

★14 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Is'ra-el out of the land of É'gÿpt;

15 But, The LORD liveth, [c]that brought up the children of Is'ra-el from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will send for many [d]fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And [e]first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, [f]my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, [g]the Gĕn'tiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, [h]Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 [i]Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is The LORD.

CHAPTER 17 762

(3) Judah's sin indelible

THE [k]sin of Jū'dah is written with a [l]pen of iron, [m]and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your [n]altars;

2 Whilst their children [o]remember their altars and [p]their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 O [q]my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and [a]I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for [b]ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

(4) False and true trusts (Isa. 8:9, 13, refs.)

5 [c] Thus saith the LORD; [d]Cursed be the man [e]that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

▸6 For [f]he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 [g]Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

▸8 For [h]he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 [i] The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: [j]who can know it?

10 [k]I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 [l]As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 ¶ A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

(5) Jeremiah's prayer

13 [m]O LORD, the hope of Is'ra-el, [n]all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, [o]and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

14 [p]Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 [q] Behold, they say unto me, [r]Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.

16 As for me, I [s]have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee: neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 [t]Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.

a 9 sins of Judah in Jer. 16, p. 765

b Since you have been so determined to serve other gods I will force you into captivity, then into service to such gods day and night, without My favor (v 13). The object of this seems to have been to make them so sick of gods that could not help them that they would be broken of such idolatry. It did work out this way to a great extent, for we do not have idols in Israel mentioned as much after the captivities as before. They were not once mentioned by Christ in His ministry (in the four gospels), or by the apostles in connection with the Jewish people (in Acts and the epistles); the only reference to them has to do with the practice among the Gentiles (Acts 15: 29; 17:16; Rom. 2:22; 1 Cor. 5:11; 6: 9; 8:1-10; 10:7, 14, 19, 28; 18:2; 1 Th. 1:9)

c This regathering refers to the present and future time when all Israel will be brought back to their own land. It will be accomplished mainly at the 2nd advent of Christ (Mt. 24:31). See Isa. 11:10-12, notes

d Just as many fishers and hunters soon catch all the fish and slay all the animals in places which are not replenished, so the angels and Gentiles (Mt. 24:31; Isa. 66:19-21) will find all the Jews on earth and send them back to their own land to become an eternal nation under the Messiah (v 16; Isa. 11:10-12, notes)

e God's first work in the restoration of eternal Israel is to punish them double for their sins, making them sick of them, so they will be willing to turn to Him with a whole heart (v 18). This will be fully accomplished in the future tribulation when 2/3 will be destroyed, leaving the 1/3 to be willing to accept Christ as the Messiah, repent, and turn to God (Zech. 12:10-13:1, 9; 14:1-15; Rom. 11:25-29)

f 3 things God is In the day of affliction:
1 My strength (v 19)
2 My fortress
3 My refuge

g It is noticeable that, in their books, many of the prophets spoke of the Gentiles as being blessed with Israel in the day of their final restoration under the Messiah (v 19; Isa. 11:10; 42:1, 6; 49:6, 22; 54:3; 60:3-5, 11, 16; 61: 6-9; 62:2; 66:12, 19; Mal. 1:11)

h Gentiles as well as Israelites will finally have to acknowledge that their fathers led them astray regarding things of no profit and in the serving of idols (v 19; Rom. 1:18-32). They will get to know Jehovah along with Israel (v 21)

i Question 103, Next, 17:9

j 30th prophecy in Jer. (17:1-12, fulfilled). Next, v 21
5 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will give you substance and all your treasures to the spoil (17:3)
2 I will give your high places of sin to the spoil throughout all Israel
3 You will be driven from your heritage that I have given you (17:4)
4 I will cause you to serve your enemies in the land which you do not know
5 I will give every man according to the fruit of his doings (17:10)

k Judah's sin was carved and graven, as with a pen of iron and the point of a diamond, upon 2 places:
1 The table of the heart (v 1)
2 The horns of the altars

l An iron chisel used in cutting inscriptions upon tables of stone, indicating the stony hearts of the people (v 1) m This shows that the ancients knew full well the cutting power of the diamond n Not the one altar of Jehovah, but the many altars to idols. Josiah had destroyed all these but Jehoiakim permitted them to be built again during the 11 years he reigned (1 Ki. 23:37)

o Perhaps these children remembered the horrible sacrifices of other children in the fire to Molech-something which would be indelibly stamped upon their memory. See Molech and Moloch in Index

p See Asherah, col. 4, p. 106

q A reference to Jerusalem. Cp. 21:13, and v 3 with Isa. 39:4-7 a Because of sin Israel reverted to the slavery they were delivered from when they came out of Egypt (v 4) b Note that God accused Israel of kindling the fire of hell which would burn eternally (v 4; Dt. 32:22; Isa. 33:14). All wicked men, Satan, and fallen angels go to the place of their own choosing-hell, which is prepared for rebels (Mt. 25:41). See Hell in Index

c See note r, 11:3

d 3 characteristics of a cursed man:
1 Trusts in man (v 5)
2 Makes flesh his arm (power or trust)
3 His heart departs from God

e 3 results if one puts trust in man:
1 He is like the heath in the desert (v 6)
2 He does not see when good comes 3 He will inhabit the parched places in the wilderness

f 2 characteristics of a blessed man:
1 He trusts in the Lord (v 7)
2 Hopes in the Lord

g 6 results if one puts trust in Jehovah:
1 Like a tree planted by waters (v 8)
2 Spreads out roots by the river
3 Shall not see when heat comes
4 Leaves will be green
5 Not careful in the year of drought
6 Never ceases to bear fruit

h 2 facts about the natural heart:
1 Deceitful above all things (v 9)
2 Desperately wicked

i Question 104, Next, v 15

j This is the answer to the question of v 9, God alone knows the heart because:
1 He searches it (v 10)
2 He tries the reins for the purpose of distributing rewards according to the ways and doings of each man

k The partridge builds its nest on the ground where it is exposed to being trampled on and destroyed; thus her eggs are sometimes not hatched. So the man who accumulates riches by dishonest means will leave them in the midst of his days and end life as a fool (v 11)

l The second time God is called the hope of Israel (v 13; 14:8. Cp. 50:7)

m 8 sins of Judah in Jer. 17:
1 Forsaking God (v 13)
2 Questioning the Word of God (v 15)
3 Persecuting God's prophets (v 18)
4 Bearing burdens on the sabbath (v 21)
5 Refusing to obey God (v 23)
6 Not inclining the ear to God
7 Making the neck stiff
8 Refusing to bear and receive instruction

n Backsliders are referred to as having their names written in the earth, a contrast to having them written in heaven. Written in the earth means their names will quickly disappear (v 13)

o Twin blessings of the gospel (v 14):
1 Bodily healing-Heal me and I will be healed
2 Salvation-Save me and I will be saved. Cp. Mt. 13:13-15; Jas. 5:14-16

p Question 105, Next, 18:6

q 4fold personal testimony:
1 I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow You (v 16)
2 I have not desired the woeful day of judgment upon Judah
3 You know what my lips say before You 4 You are my hope in the day of evil (v 17)

r 9 requests to Jehovah:
1 Heal me (v 14)
2 Save me
3 Be not a terror unto me (v 17)
4 Let them be confounded that persecute me (v 18)
5 Let me not be confounded
6 Let them be dismayed
7 Let me not be dismayed
8 Bring upon them the day of evil
9 Destroy them with double destruction

s 8 commands in Jer. 17:
1 Go, stand in the gate and preach (v 19)
2 Hear the word of the Lord all the kings and people (v 20)
3 Take heed to yourselves (v 21)
4 Bear no burden on the sabbath
5 Do not bring burdens into Jerusalem (on the sabbath)
6 Do not bring a burden out of your houses on the sabbath (v 22)
7 Do not work on the sabbath
8 Hallow the sabbath day

t This was perhaps the main gate of the city leading up the temple entrances; or it could have been the principal entrances to the temple court, where there are always much traffic, as in Christ's time (v 19) a As to gates, there were 12 to the city after the captivity, and we suppose that it was restored with the same number as before. In that case, Jeremiah's duty was to go to each of the 12 and prophesy, perhaps on different days (v 19). See 12 gates, Neh. 2:13, note

b 3 classes of people here (v 20):
1 Kings and rulers
2 All Judah living outside Jerusalem
3 Inhabitants of Jerusalem

c 38th prophecy in Jer. (17:21-27. V 27 fulfilled; v 21-26 unfulfilled). Next, 18:1

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will kindle a fire in the gates of Jerusalem (17:27)
2 The fire will devour the palaces of the city

4 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 There will enter into the gates of Jerusalem kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David (17:25)
2 Traffic will be normal and peace will reign among all the people
3 This city will remain forever
4 They will bring sacrifices from all parts of the nation to worship Me in My temple in Jerusalem (17:26)

This prophecy is another clear conditional one, the blessings being based upon meeting certain conditions (v 24-26), and judgment to fall upon Jerusalem if they would not obey (v 27). This last verse has been fulfilled because of disobedience; and v 24-26 will yet be fulfilled when Israel comes to repentance under the Messiah (Isa. 9:6-7; 59:20-31; Zech. 12:10-13:1; 14:1-21; Acts 15:13-18; Rom. 11:25-29; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)

d See note s, v 19 for these commands

e From Ex. 16 and 20 on through the law of Moses Israel was commanded to keep the sabbath, and periodically new references about it had to be made, even by the prophets (v 21-27; Isa. 58:2, 6, 13; Ezek. 20:12-24; 22:8, 26; 23:38). Finally, God decided to do away with all sabbaths (Hos. 2:11). That is why there is no passage in the N. T. requiring the keeping of any sabbath day in particular; each person may do as he pleases on this question (Rom. 14:5-6; Gal. 4:9-10; Col. 2:14-17)

f See note m, v 13 for these sins

g Stiff neck is found 3 times in connection with Israel (v 23; Dt. 31:27; Ps. 75:5). Stiffened is found once (2 Chr. 36:13), stiffhearted once (Ezek. 2:4), and stiffnecked 9 times (Ex. 32:9; 33:3-5; 34:9; Dt. 9:6-13; 10:16; 2 Chr. 30:8; Acts 7:51). This trait of Israel was manifest in the average sinner of all races in all ages

h 4 conditions of blessing (v 24):
1 Diligently hearken to Me (God)
2 Bring no more burdens through the gates of the city on the sabbath
3 Hallow the sabbath day
4 Do not work on the sabbath

i Then, when all conditions have been met and Israel is a righteous nation instead of one of idolaters and rebels against God, there will be eternal kings, princes, peace, prosperity, and normal living (v 25-26; Isa. 2:2-4; 9:6-7; 59:20-21; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

j Jerusalem will be an eternal city when it is built at the 2nd advent of Christ as the capital city of all the earth (v 25; Isa. 2:2-4; Ezek. 48:30-35)

k 6fold source of worshippers, p. 765

l Sacrifices and offerings will be brought to God in the Millennium (v 26; Isa. 56:7; Ezek. 45:17; Zech. 14:16-21) and even in the New Earth period (Isa. 66:22-24; Ezek. 46:14)

m Here are the reasons for cursing Israel instead of blessing them. If they would obey, then they would be blessed (v 24-26), but if they would not obey, then judgment would come (v 27)

n 39th prophecy in Jer. (18:1-11, fulfilled). Next, v 15. The one prediction was: I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you (v 11)

o Potter's workshop. The clay field where potters exercised their craft lay south of Jerusalem beyond the valley of Hinnom (v 2; Zech. 11:13; Mt. 27:10) of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Jū'dah come in, and by the which they go out, and in [a]all the gates of Jē-rụ'sā-lēm;

●20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, [b]ye kings of Jū'dah, and all Jū'dah, and all the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, that enter in by these gates:

★21 [c]Thus saith the LORD; [d]Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jē-rụ'sā-lēm;●

●22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, [e]as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they [f]obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their [g]neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

(2) Six conditional blessings (cp. Isa. 1:19, refs.)

24 And it shall come to pass, [h]if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein;

25 [i]Then shall there enter into the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Jū'dah, and the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lēm: [f]and this city shall remain for ever.

26 And [k]they shall come from the cities of Jū'dah, and from the places about Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, and from the land of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, [f]bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the LORD.

(3) Threefold judgment

★27 [m]But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jē-rụ'sā-lēm on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAPTER 18 763

18 Sign of the potter's house (1) The potter's work

THE [n]word which came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

2 Arise, and go down to the potter's [o]house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought a work on the [p]wheels.

4 And the vessel that he made of clay was [q]marred in the hand of the potter: so he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

(2) Application to Judah. A Sovereignty of God

■5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

6 O house of Ĭs'ra-el, [r]cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O [b]house of Ĭs'ra-el.

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it;

8 [c]If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it;

10 If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them.

B Chance to avert judgment

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Jē-rụ'sā-lĕm, [d]saying, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

C Refusal: judgment

12 And they said, There is no hope: but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

●13 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Ĭs'ra-el hath done a very horrible thing.

14 [r]Will a man leave the snow of Lĕb'a-non which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

★15 [f]Because my people [s]hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not cast up;

16 To make their land desolate, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

19 Second plot against Jeremiah: by Judah (cp. 11:18, refs.)

18 ¶ Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jĕr-e-mī'ah; for the law shall a Question 106. Next, v 14. In the previous prophecy the nation was offered mercy with an opportunity to avert judgment, to have a long line of kings reigning in Jerusalem, and to have the city inhabited forever (17:24-26). This mercy was offered as long as it seemed there was a possibility for the reformation under Josiah to be followed; but when Jehoiakim became king and went into all kinds of sins that had been practiced before him (2 Ki. 23:37), this apparently settled the national fate. The present prophecy (18:1-11) still offered mercy as a final opportunity if it would be accepted on the terms of Jehovah moulding the nation again, like a potter moulding the vessel broken in his hand; but Israel rejected it. They claimed there was no hope and stated they would walk after their own devices, and after the imaginations of their evil hearts (v 12). Thus they made their final choice; and the next prophecy which followed was to the bottle being broken to picture judgment and destruction of the nation (19:1-15). In this message at the potter's house Jeremiah was first called to observe the work of the potter as he wrought on the wheels, and see how a vessel was marred and made over again. Then, the application was spoken to Judah assuring them that it was not yet too late to be made over again into a wonderful nation, but they would have to become as clay in Jehovah's hands (v 6-11)

b The house of Israel in this case refers to the kingdom of Judah to whom Jeremiah was prophesying. The 10 tribes had been destroyed over 100 years before this and were not a nation anymore. Many from the 13 tribes were in Judah and helped to make up the only kingdom of Israel - the subject of this prophecy. Cp. v 6 with v 11 where the house of Israel is called the men of Judah

c Here God revealed His mercies and judgments upon all nations, as Sovereign of the entire earth - not upon Israel only (v 7-8)

d The lesson learned in the potter's workshop were now applied to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. God pronounced evil against them and invited them to return to Him to avert that evil (v 11). But Israel's decision was not to repent and change their ways, so judgment had to fall (v 12; 19:1-13) - a decision unheard of among the heathen. God called the choice a very horrible thing (v 13)

e Questions 107-108. Next, v 20. The idea here is that it would be foolish for a man to leave a land so blessed by the snows and waters of Lebanon for a barren rock; so it was stupid of Judah to forsake the living God for the worship of idols made with hands (v 14-17)

f 40th prophecy in Jer. (18:15-17, fulfilled). Next, 19:1

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The land will be a perpetual hissing (18:16)
2 Everyone that will pass by it will be astonished and wag his head
3 I will scatter them before the enemy as before the east wind (18:17)
4 I will show them the back and not the face in the day of calamity plate of wood, on which he laid the clay to be moulded with his fingers as the wheel revolved rapidly

q When a vessel was marred it was not thrown away; the clay was crushed together and returned to the wheel, and the work begun again. This continued until the clay took on the shape the potter intended. This is what God declared He had power to do with Israel (v 4-6) a This was the second plot against Jeremiah by his enemies (v 18)

b Jeremiah took his case to Jehovah and reminded Him that he had only obeyed Him in seeking to turn wrath away from them, and now that he was recompensed evil for good, they should be judged accordingly (v 19-20)
c Question 109. Next, 20:18
d 14 requests of Jeremiah:
1 Give heed to me (v 19)
2 Hear their threats
3 Remember that I stood before You to speak to them, to turn away Your wrath from them (v 20)
4 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine (v 21)
5 Pour out their blood by the sword
6 Let their wives be bereaved of their children
7 Let their wives be widows
8 Let their men be put to death
9 Let their young men be slain by the sword in battle
10 Let a cry be heard from their houses when You bring a troop suddenly upon them (v 22)
11 Forgive not their iniquity (v 23)
12 Neither blot out their sin from Your sight
13 Let them be overthrown before You
14 Deal thus with them in the times of Your anger
It would seem that Jeremiah was a very hardhearted man to make such a prayer of destruction for his people, but not so; he just knew full well how apostate they were and how impossible it was to save them from the judgment he had been predicting upon them. He had been praying, making intercession in their behalf, suffering heart pains for them to be saved, and weeping much over them (4:10, 19; 9:18, 21; 10:10). Now he simply submitted to the will of Jehovah in bringing judgment on such rebels. The prayer here (v 19-23) is more of a confirmation of what God had inspired him to predict thus far in his many prophecies. Instead of a show of personal hatred because of their opposition to him, it was like saying Amen to the divine decisions
e 41st prophecy in Jer. (19:1-15, fulfilled). Next, 20:3
14 predictions fulfilled:
1 I will bring evil upon this place which will cause the ears of everyone who hears of it to tingle (19:3)
2 This place will no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter (19:6)
3 I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place (19:7)
4 I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of those who seek their lives
5 Their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of heaven and the beasts of the earth
6 I will make this city desolate, and an hissing (19:8)
7 Everyone that passes by shall be astonished and hiss because of the plagues thereof
8 I will cause them to eat their own sons and daughters, and their best friends because of the straitness of the siege of Jerusalem (19:9)
9 I will break this people and this city as one breaks a potter's vessel so that it cannot be whole again (19:11)
10 They shall bury them in Tophet till there is no place to bury 11 Thus will I do to this place, to the inhabitants thereof (19:12)
12 I will make this city as Tophet
13 The houses of Jerusalem will be defiled like Tophet (19:13) 14 I will bring upon this city and upon all Israel's towns the evil that I have pronounced (19:15)
f 6 commands in Jer. 19:
1 Go, get a potter's bottle (v 1)
2 Take the elders and priests into the valley of the son of Hinnom
3 Proclaim there the words that I will tell you (v 2)
4 Say, Hear the word of the Lord (v 3)
5 Then break the bottle in the sight of those who are with you (v 10)
6 Say to them, Even so I will break this people and city (v 11) not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

20 Jeremiah's prayer (12:1-4)

19 [b]Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 [c]Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. [d]Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

●21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows; and let their men be put to death; let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

764 CHAPTER 19

21 Sign of the potter's bottle. (1) The sign: six sins; tenfold judgment on Judah (cp. Isa. 1:28, refs.)

[a]THUS [e]saith the LORD, [f]Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests;●

●2 And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hin'nom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Jū'dah, and inhabitants of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm; Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4 [g]Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Jū'dah, and have filled this place with blood of innocents;

5 They have built also the high places of Bā'al, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Bā'al, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind:

6 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be [h]called Tō'phet, nor The valley of the son of Hin'nom, but The valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Jū'dah and Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 [d]Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

(2) Application to Judah: fivefold judgment; reasons

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tō'phet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tō'phet:

13 And the houses of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, and the houses of the kings of Jū'dah, shall be defiled as the place of Tō'phet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

22 Message in the temple court

■14 [b]Then came Jĕr-e-mī'ah from Tō'phet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD's house; and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

765 CHAPTER 20

IV Prophecies against Israel's leaders (20:1-23:40). 1 Against Pashur (20:1-18). (1) Jeremiah's third persecution: by Pashur (11:18)

[a]NOW [c]Pāsh'ūr the son of Im'mēr the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the LORD, heard that Jĕr-e-mī'ah prophesied these things.

2 Then Pāsh'ūr [d]smote Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Bĕn'ja-min, which was by the house of the LORD.

(2) Twentyfold prophecy

a Then - after you have gone into Tophet and the valley of the son of Hinnom, and have prophesied to the elders and priests (v 1-2), you shall break the bottle in their sight and make the application to them and to Judah (v 10-13). It being an earthen bottle broken this shows that all bottles of the East in ancient times were not made of skins. Bottles of earthenware were of various sizes and shapes as seen in museums today. The symbolic action of breaking the bottle pictured the utter destruction of Judah as a nation and Jerusalem as a city. In those days it was the custom to break a jar if one wanted to show utmost detestation of another. He came up behind or near the despised person and smashed the vessel to pieces, thus imprecating upon him a like hopeless ruin. The application to Judah is plainly worded in v 11-13. God was to break this people and this city like the earthen bottle broken by Jeremiah. The breaking would be so complete that they could not be made whole again; they would be so utterly destroyed that people would be buried in Tophet until there would be no place to bury anyone else. The city was to become like Tophet with all the houses of the kings and people becoming defiled. The reason given was the burning of incense upon the housetops to the host of heaven and the pouring out of drink offerings to other gods b Then - after Jeremiah had taken the elders and priests into Tophet and made the prophecy before them, he left that place and returned to Jerusalem and stood in the court of the Lord's house, making a final prophecy of this series concerning the destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (v 14-15). The reason given for this last prediction was that the people had hardened their necks, and rebelled against keeping the words of God
c Pashur, staying on. 4 Pashur's:
1 Son of Immer the priest (20:1-b)
2 Son of Melchiah, prince of Judah (21:1; 38:1)
3 Son of Malchijah, head of a priestly family (1 Chr. 9:12; Ezra 2:38; 10:22; Neh. 7:41; 11:12)
4 A priest that sealed the covenant (Neh. 10:3)
Pashur is the first person named in the book of Jeremiah other than king Jehoiakim and the prophet himself. This is not the Pashur of Jer. 21, in the latter part of Zedekiah's reign, which was 19 years after this Pashur who was chief governor under Jehoiakim. This incident took place about the 3rd year of Jehoiakim, just before Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem for the first time (2 Ki. 24:1) d This was Jeremiah's third persecution and the first time bodily harm was done to him (v 1-2). The prophecy in Tophet and back in Jerusalem (of Jer. 19) so incensed the rulers that they could not tolerate his predictions any longer. Roused to anger by the sight of listening crowds, Pashur, the deputy high priest, caused Jeremiah to be scourged by the legal 40 stripes save one, and made him pass the night in the stocks, exposed to the jeers of scoffers, at the most public gate of the temple (v 2). Apparently this was Jeremiah's last public prophecy in Jehoiakim's reign; and it was this prediction perhaps which made it unsafe for him to visit the temple anymore (36:5) a 42nd prophecy in Jer. (20:3-6, fulfilled). Next, 21:3

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will make you a terror to yourself, and to all your friends (20:4)
2 Your friends will fall by the sword of their enemies
3 Your eyes will behold it
4 I will give Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon
5 He will carry them captive to Babylon
6 He will slay them with the sword
7 I will deliver all the strength of this city, all the labors thereof; and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies (20:5)
8 They will spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon
9 You (Pashur) and all that dwell in your house will go into captivity (20:6) 10 You will come to Babylon, die there, and be buried there with all your friends

b This shows that Jeremiah was in stocks all night (v 2-3) c Magor-missabib, terror-round-about, or fear-on-every-side (v 3) d The first of 97 times the king of Babylon occurs in Jeremiah

e First prophecy of this in Isa. 39

f 10fold complaint of Jeremiah:

1 Lord, you have deceived me, and I was deceived (v 7)
2 You are stronger than I, and You have prevailed
3 I was in derision daily
4 Everyone mocks me
5 Since I spake, I cried out violence and spoil (v 8)
6 God's word was made a reproach to me, and a derision daily
7 I determined not to speak the word of the Lord anymore in His name; but it was in my heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones; and I could not keep from speaking out (v 9)
8 I heard the defaming of many (v 10)
9 Fear was on every side
10 All my familiars watched for me to quit speaking, thinking they would prevail against me and get revenge

g Jeremiah, like many other men who have been tested by suffering, failed God and laid blame on the Almighty for his insults and bodily sufferings. He had been scourged with 39 stripes and been in the stocks a night, mocked by the multitude. Not being told this would happen when he was called by the Lord, he therefore accused Jehovah of deceiving him (v 7). The Heb. pathah for decieved here could mean induced, or persuaded in a better sense than deceit. It is trans. persuaded in Pr. 25:15; and allure in Hos. 2:15. It seemed to Jeremiah that he had made an utter failure and his labor was in vain, so he was crushed at spending his life for nothing. He determined to quit speaking the word of the Lord; but it became as a fire shut up in his bones and he was weary of holding it back (v 9)

h Defaming here refers to the whisperings of two's and three's plotting against him. The people were determined to report him to the king and get vengeance on him (v 10)

i 9fold confidence of Jeremiah:

1 The Lord is with me as a mighty terrible One (v 11)
2 My persecutors will stumble
3 They will not prevail
4 They will be greatly ashamed
5 They will not prosper
6 Their everlasting confusion will never be forgotten
7 The Lord tries the righteous and sees the reins and the heart (v 12)
8 Unto You have I opened My cause
9 Sing to the Lord, for He has delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers (v 13)

fruit of your doings (21:14)
12 I will kindle a fire in the forest and it will devour all things

Such a bold prophecy would naturally turn the Jews against Jeremiah; it would be considered traitorous and unpatriotic to say the least; but God had spoken and the divine decree would be carried out against Pashur and Judah

*3 [c]And it came to pass [b]on the morrow, that Păsh'ŭr brought forth Jĕr-e-mī'ah out of the stocks. Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Păsh'ŭr, [c]but Mā'gôr–mis'sa-bîb.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Jū'dah into the hand of [d]the king of Băb'ў-lon, and he shall carry them captive into Băb'ў-lon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the [e]treasures of the kings of Jū'dah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Băb'ў-lon.

6 And thou, Păsh'ŭr, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Băb'ў-lon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

(3) Jeremiah's tenfold complaint

7 ¶ [f]O LORD, [g]thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and spoil; because the word of the LORD was made a reproach unto me, and a derision, daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 ¶ For I heard the [h]defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. All my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

(4) Jeremiah's tenfold confidence

11 [i]But the LORD is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not prosper: their everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

●13 Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.

(5) Jeremiah's tenfold curse (cp. Isa. 1:28, refs.)

14 ¶ [g]Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man [b]who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide;

17 Because he slew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.

18 [c]Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

CHAPTER 21 766

2 Against Zedekiah (21:1-22:9). (1) Inquiry of Zedekiah

THE [d]word which came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, when king Zĕd-e-kī'ah [e]sent unto him Păsh'ŭr the son of Mĕl-chī'ah, and Zĕph-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah the priest, saying,

2 Enquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; for Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon maketh war against us; if so be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

(2) Threefold answer: A Sixteenfold judgment

*3 ¶ [f]Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zĕd-e-kī'ah:

4 Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Băb'ў-lon and against the Chăl-dē'ans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

a 10fold curse of Jeremiah:

1 Cursed be my birthday (v 14)
2 Let it not be blessed
3 Cursed is the man who brought my father the announcement of my birth (v 15)
4 Let him be as the cities which the Lord overthrew, and repented not (v 16)
5 Let him hear the cry in the morning
6 Let him hear shouting at noon
7 Because he slew me not from the womb
8 Because I died not in my mother's womb (v 17)
9 Why came I from the womb to see labor and sorrow? (v 18)
10 To see days consumed with shame?

b The birth of a son in the East was considered a special cause for congratulation to the father; it made him very glad. In Persia it was associated with particular ceremonies; and the one who bore such an announcement was expected to be the receiver of a special gift from the father

c Question 110. Next, 21:13

d With the last verse of Jer. 20 we have the ending of prophecies in the reign of Jehoiakim until ch. 25. What we have in chs. 21-24 was uttered to Zedekiah, the last king of Judah before the captivities, in his 9th year - about 3 years before the final destruction of Jerusalem and Judah by Nebuchadnezzar. The occasion of these prophecies was the Ambassadors sent to Jeremiah by Zedekiah to ask his prayers when the Babylonians were coming against Jerusalem. He could not hold out any hope to Zedekiah because of the conduct of the royal house (21:1-22:20) and that of the prophets and priests of Judah (23:1-40), so he spoke of the destruction of the city and nation (24:1-10). In his writing, the prophet then recorded what he had received from God as to the destruction in the days of Jehoiakim (25:1-27:11). The order is: first the reign of Jehoiakim and that of Zedekiah (21:1-14); then the reigns of the 2 previous kings (22:1-20). Next there is a reference to the reign of Jehoiakim (chs. 25-27), and Zedekiah again, and the final end of Jerusalem (ch. 28). The order is logical and more important than chronological, for the severity of ch. 21 is shown to the justified in the chapters that follow

e Not the Pashur of ch. 20, about 19 years before this, in the 3rd year of Jehoiakim. These messengers came to Jeremiah from Zedekiah asking his prayers for deliverance from Nebuchadnezzar (v 1-2). Zephaniah mentioned here is referred to in 29:25; 37:3; 52:24

f Then - after the messengers from Zedekiah came to Jeremiah asking for prayer, the prophet gave his reasons showing why he could not pray for victory and why Judah should be destroyed (21:3-23:40)

4 I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast, and they will die of great pestilence (21:6)
5 After this, I will deliver Zedekiah and his servants and people, and all that are left after the pestilence, sword, and famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar and their enemies (21:7)
6 He will smite them with the edge of the sword
7 He will not spare them, nor have pity or mercy on them
8 I set before you the way of life and death. He that remains in the city will die by the sword, famine, and pestilence, but he that goes out to surrender to the Chaldeans will live (21:8-9)

21 predictions-fulfilled:

1 If you obey, then kings will continue on the throne of David in Jerusalem; but if you will not obey, I swear by Myself that his house (the king's house) will become a desolation (22:1-5). This is another conditional prophecy, and the last part was fulfilled
2 I will make you a wilderness (22:6)
3 The cities will be made desolate
4 I will prepare destroyers against you, every one with his weapons (22:7)
5 They will cut down your choice cedars and burn them with fire
6 Many nations will pass by this city and inquire why Jehovah has done this (22:8)
7 Their answer will be that it is because the Jews have broken their covenant with the Lord, worshipped other gods, and served them (22:9)
8 He that goeth away (king Jehoahaz) will not return anymore, nor see his native country again (22:10-11)
9 He will die in the place where they have led him captive (22:12; 2 Ki. 23:30-34)
10 They will lament for Jehoiakim (22:18)
11 He will be buried with the burial of an ass that is cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem (22:19)
12 All your lovers are destroyed (22:20)
13 The wind will eat up all your pastors (22:22)
14 Your lovers will go into captivity
15 Then you will be ashamed and confounded for your wickedness
16 Pain will come upon the inhabitant of Lebanon as a woman in travail (22:23)
17 I will pluck you from here though Coniah (Jeconiah or Jehoiachin, king of Judah) be the signet upon My right hand (22:24)
18 I will give you into the hand of your enemies (22:25)
19 I will cast you and your mother into another country (Babylon) and there you will die (22:26)
20 They (the king and his mother) will not return to their land again (22:27)
21 No man of his seed will prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling anymore in Judah

i 5 commands to kings of Judah (v 3):
1 Execute judgment and righteousness
2 Deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor
3 Do no wrong
4 Do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, or the widow
5 Do not shed innocent blood in this place

9 other commands in Jer. 22:
1 Go down to the king's house and speak this word (v 1)
2 Hear the word of the Lord (v 2)
3 Weep not for the dead (v 10)
4 Neither bemoan him
5 Weep sore for the captives
6 Go up to Lebanon and cry (v 20)
7 Lift up your voice in Bashan
8 Cry from the passages
9 Write this man childless (v 30)

j Obedience would bring continued peace, prosperity, and kingship to Judah, but disobedience would cause the king's house to be made desolate (v 4-5)

B The way of life and death

8 ¶ [a]And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this city shall [b]die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chăl-dē'ans that besiege you, [c]he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey.

10 For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon, and he shall burn it with fire.

C Commands to Zedekiah

11 ¶ And touching the house of [d]the king of Jū'dah, say, Hear ye the word of the LORD;

12 O house of Dā'vid, thus saith the LORD; [e]Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the LORD; which say, [f]Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the LORD: [g]and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it.

CHAPTER 22 767

(3) God will yet spare Judah: eight conditions to meet (cp. Isa. 1:19, refs.)

THUS [a]saith the LORD; Go down to the house of the king of Jū'dah, and speak there this word,■

●2 And say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Jū'dah, that sittest upon the throne of Dā'vid, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:

●3 Thus saith the LORD; [i]Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For [j]if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

(4) Otherwise seven judgments

5 But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the LORD unto the king's house of Jū'dah; Thou art Gĭl'e-ăd unto me, and the head of Lĕb'a-non: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare [a]destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall [b]say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, [c]Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them,

3 Against Shallum (Jehoahaz, 2 Ki. 23:30-34; 1 Chr. 3:15)

●10 ¶ Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for [d]him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the LORD touching Shăl'lum the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, which reigned instead of Jō-sī'ah his father, which went forth out of this place; He shall not return thither any more:

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

4 Against Jehoiakim (2 Ki. 23:34-24:5; 2 Chr. 36:5-8)

13 ¶ [e]Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work;

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 [f]Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar? did not [g]thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the LORD.

17 [h]But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it.

18 [i]Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah; They shall not lament for him, saying, [j]Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory!

19 He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

5 Planning in pride for a large house
6 Cutting out windows, ceiling his house with cedar, and painting it with vermillion. This, in itself, was not wrong; it was the pride in which such a house was planned that was wrong
It was customary to make ceilings with beautiful interlaced patterns often painted in brilliant colors-red, blue, gold, and green. Panels and doors were also richly painted

g Josiah, a godly king (2 Ki. 22:1-23:34)
h Note the contrast between father (Josiah) and son (Jehoiakim) in v 15-17:
2 good deeds of Josiah the father:
1 Did judgment and justice (v 15-16)
2 Judged the cause of the poor and needy
4 sins of Jehoiakim the son:
1 Eyes and heart full of covetousness
2 Shed innocent blood (v 17)
3 Oppressed the people (v 3, 13, 17)
4 Did violence to his subjects (v 3, 17)
i Here we have judgment pronounced upon Jehoiakim for the sins of v 3, 13-17. Men would not take up a lamentation for him as they would for a beloved king. His sins were so many that the people would be glad for his death. He would die like an ass thrown in the open field for the wild animals to eat. Nothing is said about the fulfillment of this, but it is significant that he was the only king of Judah whose burial was not recorded (v 18-19; 36:29-30; 2 Ki. 24:6). The prediction was evidently literally fulfilled
j These words were repeated over and over again in lamentations for a brother, sister, or other relative who had died; but in the case of Jehoiakim not a relative or mourner made such lamentation

9 sins of Judah in Jer. 16 (16:11):
1 They have forsaken Me (v 11)
2 Walked after other gods
3 Served them
4 Worshipped them
5 Have not kept My law (v 12)
6 Have done worse than their fathers
7 Walked after the imaginations of their evil hearts so as not to listen to Me
8 Defiled My land (v 18)
9 Filled My inheritance with carcases of detestable and abominable things

6fold source of worshippers (17:26):
1 From the cities of Judah (v 26)
2 The places around Jerusalem
3 The land of Benjamin
4 The plain-Philistia, between Jerusalem and the Mediterranean
5 The mountains
6 The south
To this could be added the Gentiles from all parts of the earth (16:19; Isa. 2:2-4; 11:10; 60:3-16; 66:12-21; Zech. 14:16-21)

10 sins of Judah in Jer. 18 (18:15):
1 Unbelief-there is no hope (v 12)
2 We will walk after our own devices
3 We will walk every one to do the imagination of his evil heart
4 A very horrible thing-choosing evil instead of good (v 13-15)
5 Forgot God (v 15)
6 Burned incense to idols ways
7 Caused men to stumble from God's 8 Devised devices against God's man (v 18)
9 Slandering God's messenger
10 Refusing to give heed to God's Word

a 3 places to go to and prophecy (v 20):
1 Lebanon in north Palestine
2 Bashan on the east of Jordan
3 The passages-Abarim, the mountain range east of Jordan running down south into Moab (Num. 27:12; 33: 37-38; Dt. 32:49)

b The nations in whom they trusted for protection from Babylon instead of God

c 10 sins of Judah in Jer. 22, p. 767

d Pastors or rulers of all kinds. The wind of judgment was to take them away, and their lovers or nations in whom they trusted were to go into captivity

e Judah was to be ashamed of her wickedness after calamity had come upon her, and Lebanon was to be in travail like a woman with child (v 22)

f Coniah was Jehoiachin (meaning Jehovah establishes); also called Jeconiah (1 Chr. 3:16) and Jechonias (Mt. 1:11-12). He reigned in Judah only 3 months before Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem and took him and the upper classes of the land into captivity (2 Ki. 24:3-16). Zedekiah was then made king by Nebuchadnezzar (2 Ki. 23:17-20). The leaving off of Je (the abbreviation of Jehovah in his name indicated that God had left Coniah (Je-coniah) and that he would be cut off. Even though he were "the signet of My right hand," God declared He would pluck him from thence (v 24). The king and his mother were to be taken captive and die in Babylon (v 25-27)

g Questions 117-119, Next, 23:18

h Heb. esteb, an earthen vessel. Is he a despised earthen vessel in which the potter has no pleasure, and therefore breaks it? This is a lamentation over Jehoiachin's fate, and that of his seed (v 28)

i The word earth here is repeated 3 times for great emphasis on what was to take place concerning Jehoiachin (v 29)

j The curse upon Jehoiachin or Coniah was that he should be childless as far as having a son to reign on the throne of David was concerned. No man of his seed was ever to reign in Judah anymore. Thus the Davidic line of kings came to an end in him; and yet, the Messiah, the eternal king of David's seed and of the royal family came to be King of the Jews and this He will be at His 2nd advent. How would Christ succeed Jeconiah as King of the royal line if no man of that seed could ever reign anymore in Jerusalem and Judah? The answer is simple: Joseph, the husband of Mary of whom the Christ was born, was of the seed of Coniah or Jehoiachin and the direct heir to the throne of David which a son of his own begetting could not occupy, because of the curse. However, Christ who was not begotten of Joseph but of God through Mary (who herself was of another line of David-Nathan's line) could rightfullly in the reckoning of both God and man, occupy the throne (Mt. 1:1-16; Lk. 1:23-38). See note k, Mt. 1:6. Coniah had 7 sons and his descendants continued until Joseph, the foster father of Christ was born, and also thereafter (1 Chr. 3:17-18; Mt. 1:1-16). So childless here could only mean as far as the throne was concerned k 45th prophecy in Jer. (23:1-8, V 1-2 fulfilled; v 3-8 unfulfilled). Next, v 12

1 prediction-fulfilled:

1 I will visit upon you the evil of your doings (23:1-2)

14 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all countries whither I have driven them (23:3)
2 I will bring them again to their folds
3 They will be fruitful and increase
4 I will set up shepherds over them which will feed them (23:4)
5 They will fear no more
6 They will never be dismayed
7 They will never lack
8 I will raise unto David a righteous Branch (23:5)
9 A King shall reign and prosper
10 He will execute judgment and justice in the earth
11 In His days Judah will be saved, and Israel will dwell safely (23:6)

6-16; 25:27; 2 Chr. 36:9)

●20 ¶ [g]Go up to Lĕb'a-non, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bā'shān, and cry from the passages: for all thy [b]lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, [c]I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

22 The wind shall eat up all thy [d]pastors, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely [e]then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23 O inhabitant of Lĕb'a-non, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!

24 As I live, saith the LORD, though [f]Cō-nī'ah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence;

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon, and into the hand of the Chăl-dē'ans.

26 And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 [g]Is this man Cō-nī'ah a despised broken [h]idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O [i]earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

●30 Thus saith the LORD, [j]Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, and ruling any more in Jū'dah.

CHAPTER 23 768

6 Against the pastors (Ezek. 13; 22; 34; Dt. 13). (1) Woe to faithless pastors: 4 sins

WOE [k]be unto the [l]pastors that [m]destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD.

2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Iş'ra-el against the pastors that feed my people; Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

(2) Fourteenfold restoration of remnant under Messiah (cp. Isa. 1:9, refs.)

★3 And I will [n]gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up [a]shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.

5 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto Dā'vid a righteous [b]Branch, and a [c]King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 In his days Jū'dah shall be saved, and Iş'ra-el shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be [d]called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.

7 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, The LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Iş'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gўpt;

8 But, The LORD liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Iş'ra-el out of the north country, and from all countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

(3) Eight sins of the prophets

9 ¶ [e]Mine heart within me is broken because of the prophets; all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the LORD, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 [f]For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD.

★12 [g]Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

13 And I have seen folly in the prophets of Sā-mā'rĭ-ā; they prophesied in Bā'al, and caused my people Iş'ra-el to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sŏd'om, and the inhabitants thereof as Gō-mŏr'rah.

(4) Judgment on the prophets

★15 [h]Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm is profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [i]Hearken not unto the a The shepherds here are the same as the pastors-the rulers of the people. The coming rulers over all Israel in the Millennium will be:

1 Jesus Christ, King of kings (v 5-8, Ps. 2; Isa. 9:6-7; 32:1-5; 42:1-6; Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14; Zech. 6:12-13; 14:9; Mt. 25:31-46; Lk. 1: 32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)
2 David under Christ, over all the tribes (30:9; Ezek. 34:24; 37:24-28; Hos. 3:4-5)
3 The 12 apostles over one tribe each (Mt. 19:28; Lk. 22:29-30)
4 Earthly, natural kings will also rule Israel under the resurrected rulers (Ezek. 43:7; Rev. 21:24)
5 Resurrected saints will reign over all Gentile nations eternally (Dan. 7: 18, 22, 27; Ps. 149:4-9; 1 Cor. 4:8; 6:2; Rom. 8:17; Eph. 2:7; 2 Tim. 2:12; Rev. 1:6; 2:25-27; 5:9-10; 11:18; 12:5; 20:4-6; 22:4-5)
6 Earthly, natural kings will also be over Gentile nations, under the resurrected saints (Rev. 21:24)

b A Branch from the root of David, not from some other branch (v 5; 33:15; Isa. 11:1; 53:2; Zech. 3:8; 6:12)

c David's family was to be dethroned temporarily, and the royal line through Coniah was never again to have a man on the throne from the time of Coniah forward. Christ inherited the throne rights through His foster father, Joseph, but not as the seed of David through Solomon and Coniah; He was begotten of God as the Seed of the woman (Mary who was of another line of David-Nathan's line). He was therefore rightful heir to the throne of David and He will reign over his kingdom eternally when He comes again-at the 2nd advent (v 5-6; Isa. 9:6-7; 32:1; Ezek. 43:7; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 6:12-13; 14:9; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11: 15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

2 In the latter days you will consider it perfectly

i This is the only command in Jer. 23. In previous chapters there have been as many as 8 to 16 commands

12 His name will be called, The Lord our righteousness
13 The days will come when they will say, The Lord liveth which brought Israel out of all countries where they were dispersed, and not, the Lord liveth that brought them out of Egypt (23:8) 14 They (all the 13 tribes of Israel) will dwell in their own land

l The rulers of various kinds

m 4 sins of the rulers or pastors (v 1-2):
1 Destroy the sheep
2 Scatter them
3 Drive them away
4 Do not visit them

n The regathering of all Israel, not just Judah, is the subject of scores of scriptures. They will be brought out of all countries where they are scattered today. See p. 444 a 3 sources of revelation:

1 The human spirit (v 16-17, 20, 26, 23; Isa. 44:20; Ezek. 13:17; Heb. 3:10)
2 Demon and satanic spirits (1 Sam. 18:8-10; 1 Ki. 22:21-24; Acts 16:16; 1 Tim. 4:1; 1 Jn. 4:1-6)
3 The Holy Spirit (Acts 3:21; 1 Cor. 12:1-11; 2 Tim. 3:15-17; 2 Pet. 1:21)

b In detecting false spirits from the true, one should realize that any doctrine which denies, or in any way causes doubt and unbelief concerning anything taught in Scripture is demon inspired. Furthermore, any power, influence, or doctrine which causes one to become passive, inactive, submissive, and unresisting to all supernatural workings seeking to control the life contrary to Scripture, is not of God

c One of the chief tests by which a false prophet can be detected is to determine whether his predictions violate the laws of morality. Here the prophets were promising peace to the wicked and no evil to come upon those who walked after the imagination of their own hearts (v 17)

d Questions 120-121. Next, v 23

e Here Jeremiah declared that judgment from Jehovah had already gone forth and that it would fall grievously upon the head of the wicked; thus the promise of peace and prosperity to the wicked was directly contradicted (v 17-20)

f See 14 end-time expressions, p. 236 of N. T.

g Note the possibility of right teaching. Judgment would have been averted because people would have followed righteousness (v 23)

h Questions 122-128. Next, v 33

i False prophets prophesied lies in the name of Jehovah by claiming to have received a dream (v 25). God often used dreams, and this being easy to counterfeit it would be easily used by wicked men seeking the audience of the people in an effort to cause them to forget God. The superstition which attaches importance to all dreams keeps God as much out of the minds of men as idolatry, as illustrated here by the fathers forgetting God and going after Baal (v 26-27). Dreams should be tested to prove whether they are inspired of God as well as prophesyings (see 1 Cor. 14:29; 1 Jn. 4:1)

j A dream may be but a dream and should be told as such, but God's Word is to be spoken of as certain and absolute truth (v 28)

k 2 symbols of the Word of God (v 29):
1 Like a fire, a great purifier which destroys all that is false and leaves only the genuine metal
2 Like a hammer which rouses and strengthens the life and conscience, crushing everything that is evil within the heart. See note p, Heb. 4:12

l 3 things God is against:
1 I am against the prophets that steal My words from their neighbor (v 30)
2 I am against the false prophets that use their tongues to claim I have spoken by them (v 31)
3 I am against the prophets who prophesy false dreams to cause My people to err by their lightness (v 32)

m 48th prophecy in Jer. (23:30-40, fulfilled). Next, 24:1

7 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will forsake you (23:33, 39)
2 I will punish that man and his house (23:34)
3 Every man's word will be his own burden (23:36) (23:39)
4 I, even I, will utterly forget you
5 I will forsake your city
6 I will cast you out of My presence
7 I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which will not be forgotten n 3 main characteristics of false prophets:

1 Steal from people-rob them of truth by substituting false words as from God (v 30)
2 Misuse their tongues in slander, and false teachings, boasting of divine calling (v 31)
3 Lightness, vanity, empty and cheap talk, boasting (v 32)

o Heb. pashazuwth, frivolity; lightness; reckless boasting (v 32) words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a[a]vision of their own heart, and[b]not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 [c]They say still unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.

18 [d]For who hath stood in the counsel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 [e]Behold, a whirlwind of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

*20 The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the [f]latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.

(5) Six sins of the prophets

21 I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22 [g]But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 [h]Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off?

24 Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD.

25 I have heard what the prophets said, that [i]prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name for Ba'al.

(6) Judgment on the prophets

28 The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the LORD.

29 [j]Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

*30 Therefore, behold, [k]I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that [l]steal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that use their tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by [m]their lightness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore [n]they shall not profit this people at all, saith the LORD.

33 ¶ And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, [o]What is [p]the burden of the LORD? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the LORD.

34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken?

36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's word shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the LORD spoken?

38 But since ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD; Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD;

39 Therefore, behold, I, even I, will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence:

40 And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAPTER 24 769

V Prophecies of the Babylonian captivity (24:1-29:32). 1 Sign of the figs. (1) Two baskets of figs - good and bad

THE [q]LORD shewed me, and, behold, [r]two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon had carried away captive Jĕc-o-nī'ah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah, and the princes of Jū'dah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and had brought them to Bāb'-ў-lon.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

3 Then said the LORD unto me, [s]What seest thou, Jĕr-e-mī'ah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

(2) Application of the good figs

4 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, a Anyone not sent of God will not profit, especially if he practices and teaches what these false prophets did (v 32)

b Questions 129-134. Next, 24:3

c The word burden was used often by Isaiah, but not by Jeremiah of his prophecies. It means an oracle of judgment, something weighty. The false prophets used it of Jeremiah's prophecies, turning solemn realities into mockery (v 33). For this God promised to punish the prophets, priests, and people (v 34). They were to be judged with heavy punishment until their very words would become a burden to them (v 35-36) - they were to be a burden to themselves because of perverting the words of God. They would be sent into captivity and perpetual shame and disgrace (v 37-40)

d 49th prophecy in Jer. (24:1-10. V 5-7 unfulfilled; v 8-10 fulfilled). Next, 25:8

10 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 I will acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Judah (24:5)
2 I will set My eyes upon them for good (24:6)
3 I will bring them again to this land
4 I will build them
5 I will not pull them down
6 I will plant them
7 I will not pluck them up
8 I will give them an heart to know Me (24:7)
9 They will be My people and I will be their God
10 They will return to Me with their whole heart

2 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will give Zedekiah, his princes, and others of Jerusalem that remain in the land, and those that dwell in Egypt, to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth to their hurt, to be a reproach, a proverb, a taunt, and a curse, in all places where I will drive them (24:9)
2 I will send the sword, famine, and pestilence among them till they are consumed off the land that I gave their fathers (24:10)

e After the better inhabitants of the land had gone into captivity, Jeremiah was shown two baskets of fruit. One contained very good figs and the other very bad. The application to Judah was that the good people would eventually be restored and blessed (v 5-7), while the wicked would be destroyed (v 8-10). The prophecy was really the outcome of what had gone on before. When Jeconiah was carried to Babylon, Zedekiah and those left with him congratulated themselves upon being spared such a fate, but in reality it was a testimony that they were not fit to be taken; and they never would have been taken later if they had not rebelled

f 4 classes deported to Babylon (v 1):
1 The king of Judah
2 The princes of Judah
3 The carpenters
4 The smiths

g Question 135. Next, 25:29

10 sins of Judah in Jer. 22 (22:21):
1 In justice and unrighteousness (v 3, 13)
2 Oppression (v 3, 13, 17)
3 General wrong-doing (v 3, 13)
4 Violence to lower classes (v 3, 17)
5 Murders
6 Robbery of servants (v 13)
7 Pride (v 14-15)
8 Covetousness (v 17)
9 Refusal to hear God (v 21)
10 Disobedience to God and His law

18 sins of prophets in Jer. 23 (23:10):
1 Adultery (v 10, 14)
2 Swearing (v 10)
3 Wickedness (v 11)
4 Folly (v 13)
5 False prophecies
6 Cause people to err (v 13, 32)
7 Walk in lies (v 14)
8 Strengthen hands of sinners
9 Make the people vain (v 16)
10 Speak visions of their own hearts
11 Encourage despisers of God (v 17)
12 Encourage those who walk after the imaginations of their hearts
13 Prophesy lies in God's name (v 25)
14 Live in deceptions (v 26)
15 Cause people to forget God (v 27)
16 Forget God's name for Baal
17 Steal God's words from others (v 30)
18 Prophesy false dreams (v 32)

a As one would recognize and admire very good figs, so Jehovah would finally acknowledge the good people of the captives of Judah, bring them back to their own land, and bless them eternally (v 5-7)
b See 10 good things God promised Judah, p. 814
c Just as the bad figs had to be rejected because of being too rotten and spoiled for any use, so Zedekiah, his princes, other remaining people of Jerusalem, and the Jews that fled to Egypt were to be rejected by the Lord, given into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, and dispersed among the kingdoms of the earth (v 9) d This refers to the few Jews that were taken to Egypt with Jehoahaz (2 Ki. 23:31-34). Neither they, nor the ones taken to Babylon would share in the blessings of v 5-7 in the latter days e 4 things Israel to be among Gentiles:
1 A reproach (v 9) 3 A taunt
2 A proverb 4 A curse
f 3 methods of judgment on Judah:
1 The sword
2 The famine
3 The pestilence
g The 4th year of Jehoiakim was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar (v 1). In Dan. 1:1 it says the 3rd year of Jehoiakim. The discrepancy vanishes when we recognize that Nebuchadnezzar started out from Babylon in the 3rd year of Jehoiakim but did not reach Palestine until the 4th year of his reign. Jeremiah did not prophesy what is recorded in this chapter until the time Nebuchadnezzar reached Palestine. Jehoiakim was defeated and Daniel was taken captive. The king served Babylon for 3 years and then rebelled (2 Ki. 24:1-7). Nebuchadnezzar, being occupied in wars did not proceed against Jehoiakim until the 11th year of his reign (2 Ki. 23:36-24:7). Judah was again defeated and many more Jews were taken captive to Babylon (24:1). Jehoiachin reigned 3 months, when Zedekiah reigned for 11 years before the final deportation (24:8; 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36) h Jeremiah had been a prophet from the 13th year of Josiah (1:2; 25:3) until now, about 23 years (v 3). He declared he had risen up early through the years and yet Judah would not hearken. He reminded Jehoiakim that God had also sent His servants, the prophets, but they and their messages had been rejected. All preached the same message of turning again to God, for by doing so they would remain in the land. Otherwise, they would go into captivity and the nation would be totally destroyed (v 4-11)
i Many times God frankly told them the terms for remaining in the land forever (v 5-11)

back to their own land after the 70 years (v 8; Isa. 45:1) c Quoted in Rev. 18:23. Cp. 7:34; 16:9; 33:11. Therefore, this must have a double fulfillment-once in the nations past and again in the future Babylon f This was the whole length of the captivity of Jews to Babylon. After this Babylon was to be overthrown and the Jews were to return to their own land (v 11-12; 29:10; Dan. 9:2; Zech. 7:5). See note h, Isa. 23:15-17
g See fulfillment in Dan. 5 h Babylon has been in ruins for a long time, but it will be rebuilt temporarily and destroyed again, then remain desolate eternally (v 12; Isa. 13:19-21, notes). See Babylon in Index i God's judgment on the nations in Jeremiah's time is symbolized by a cup of wine, called the wine cup of fury. All nations were to drink of it and be moved to madness because of the sword coming into their midst (v 15-17)
j See list of 20 or more nations in note b, v 19 k Jerusalem and the cities of Judah were to be a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse first (v 18, 27-29); then the other nations were to be punished also (v 19-26)

5 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el; [a]Like these good figs, so [b]will I acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Jū'dah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chăl-dē'ans for their good.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

(3) Application of the bad figs

*8 ¶ And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil; surely thus saith the LORD, [c]So will I give Zĕd-ĕ-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah, and his princes, and the residue of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, that remain in this land, and [d]them that dwell in the land of Ē'gypt:

9 And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a [e]reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, /till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

770 CHAPTER 25

2 Prophecy of the seventy years captivity (29:10; Dan. 9:2; Zech. 1:12; 7:5). (1) Sevenfold rebellion of Judah (cp. Isa. 1:2, refs.)

THE word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah concerning all the people of Jū'dah in the [g]fourth year of Jĕ-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, that was the first year of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ȳ-lon;

2 The which Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet spake unto all the people of Jū'dah, and to all the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, saying,

3 [h]From the thirteenth year of Jō-sī'ah the son of A'mon king of Jū'dah, even unto this day, that is the three and twentieth year, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear.

●5 They said, 'Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever:

●6 And 'go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and [a]I will do you no hurt.

7 [b]Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.

(2) Twelvefold judgment

*8 ¶ [c]Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar the king of Băb'ȳ-lon, [d]my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 Moreover [e]I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Băb'ȳ-lon /seventy years.

(3) Judgment on Babylon (Isa. 13:1)

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass, [f]when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Băb'ȳ-lon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chăl-dē'ans, and will make [h]it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jĕr-e-mī'ah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

3 Sign of the wine cup of fury. (1) All nations to drink it

●15 ¶ For thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el unto me; Take the [i]wine cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me:

servants, apostasies, and many revivals of the ancient faith. It was in this temple that Jeremiah suffered his hardest trials in seeking to be true to God by giving the people the truth. Here the priests, other prophets, and people in general plotted to take his life. However, the princes who received their accusations heard his message and concluded he was not worthy of death (v 8-16), considering the past when some prophets were killed and others were not, for giving messages in the name of the Lord (v 16-24). The more recent attitude was to kill the prophets who made predictions against the temple and the beloved city. Jehoiakim had but recently put one prophet to death for this reason (v 20-24). The last prophets the Jews sought to destroy in a later temple on this same spot were Jesus Christ and the 12 apostles.

771 CHAPTER 26

4 Message in the temple court. (1) Conditional mercy offered (cp. Isa. 1:19, refs.)

IN the a beginning of the reign of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah came this b word from the LORD, saying, ■

●2 Thus saith the LORD; c Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto all the cities of Jū'dah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them; diminish not a word:

3 d If so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, e that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD; f If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, but ye have g not hearkened;

6 Then will I h make this house like Shī'lōh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.

(2) Jeremiah's audience

7 So the i priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jĕr-e-mī'ah speaking these words in k the l house of the LORD.

(3) Message rejected: Jeremiah's fourth persecution: by priests and people (cp. 11:18, refs.)

a At Armageddon bodies will be left all over Palestine, and it will take 7 months to clean up the land (Ezek. 39: 12-21)
b Rulers of all kinds were to cry and howl and wallow in ashes, for the days of slaughter and dispersion were at hand (v 34). All of the last three rulers of Judah had experienced miserable ends:
1 Jehoiakim died and had no burial or lamentation made for him (22:18; 36:30; 2 Ki. 23:34-24:6)
2 Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon a captive (2 Ki. 24:6-16)
3 Zedekiah had his sons slain before his eyes, then had his eyes put out, and was taken to Babylon (2 Ki. 25:7) c The strong ones; the noble ones; the substance of the nation (v 34)
d They will be broken in pieces like a vessel of value, and will become as worthless as such when it is destroyed (v 34)

2 predictions-fulfilled:
1 If you will not hearken to Me, to walk in My law... to the words of the prophets, then I will make this temple like Shiloh (26:4-6)
2 I will make this city as a curse to all nations of the earth (26:6)
i This takes us back to 22 years before the Babylonian captivity (v 1; 2 Ki. 23:36; 24:18)
j All prophecy is not necessarily a prediction of future events, for 1 Cor. 14:3 defines prophesying as speaking unto men "to edification, and exhortation, and comfort." Such prophesying may never have the prophetic element of prediction in it in any definite way. Generally, however the sermons of the prophets had that element in them, revealing to the people the judgments of blessings of God for the future, according to their obedience or disobedience to His will (v 2-4)

1 Stand in the court of the temple (v 2)
2 Speak to all the cities of Judah, which come to worship (v 2)
3 Amend your ways and your doings (v 13)
4 Obey the voice of Jehovah
m God knew they would not hear, but He was desirous of offering mercy as long as He possibly could this side of the dead-line for judgment (v 3-6). Men today are offered mercy as long as they are alive. With them the dead-line is death, and after this the judgment without any more mercy (Heb. 9:27) n This proves that God would turn at the last moment from judgment to mercy if the people would repent and turn to Him (v 3). The only requirement was to repent, quit sin, and obey God (v 3, 13)
o If you will not, then judgment will come, but if you will, then mercy will be shown (v 3-6, 13). Men in all ages have been blessed or cursed, depending upon their choice in obeying or disobeying God; and so it will always be. See many conditions, p. 284 of N. T.

a Jeremiah had been persecuted before by priests and prophets, but now the people in general rose up against him to put him to death for predictions against the temple and their beloved Jerusalem (v 8). When people reach a place like this it shows the utter corruption of a nation; and judgment is bound to come

c There was such a great mob against Jeremiah that the princes had to intervene and hear what the commotion was about. They sat down in the new gate to listen to the charges against the prophet (v 10-11)

d Then-when Jeremiah was accused by the priests, false prophets, and people for predicting judgment against the temple and Jerusalem, he defended himself by stating that the Lord had sent him to prophesy and that he had spoken only what God had inspired him to say against the city and the temple (v 12). To this he added commands to amend their ways and obey the voice of God, for He would yet repent and turn away His judgments pronounced against them (v 13)

e Jeremiah submitted to their judgment to do with him as they saw fit, but they were to know for certain that if they put him to death they would be committing murder and would be going further into the very sins for which judgment was threatened (v 14-15)

f Then-when Jeremiah had finished defending his actions and statement that God had sent him to make these predictions, the princes declared that he had done nothing worthy of death, for he had spoken to them in the name of the Lord their God (v 16)

g Then-after the aquittal of Jeremiah of any wrong-doing, by the princes, certain elders of the land spoke to the mob of Micah's prophecy in the days of Hezekiah, when Israel repented and God turned away His wrath (v 17-19); and also of Urijah's prophecy in their own day when Jehoiakim and Israel refused to repent, and put him to death (v 20-23). After this Jeremiah was rescued through the influence of Ahikam (v 24)

k These elders concluded that if they put Jeremiah to death they would procure judgment against themselves (v 20)

l This incident is not recorded elsewhere in Scripture; all we have is what is stated here. Though little is said, it is clear that this prophet was in perfect accord with Jeremiah in that judgment was to come to Judah and Jerusalem (v 20). God always gives His messages through two or three witnesses, so that the prophecies may be established as coming from Him and not from man. The subject of Urijah's prophecy was this city and this land-the same as Jeremiah's. Just when this prophesying took place in the reign of Jehoiakim is not known, except that it was in the beginning of his rule pagan kings-one said to be coming from Jehovah. As to the message itself, it was clear enough that their countries would be defeated by Babylon and if any would not submit to Nebuchadnezzar they would be destroyed (v 4-6)

i 3 kings of Babylon here (v 7):

1 Nebuchadnezzar (v 6, 8, 20)
2 Evil-Merodach, son of Nebuchadnezzar
3 Nebonidus, son of Evil-Merodach, in whose 17th year Babylon was taken by Cyrus and Darius (Dan. 5)

j This means that after Babylon was used to chasten other nations she would be overthrown by the great kings of Medo-Persia (v 7)

all the people took him, [e]saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 [b]Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shi'lōh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? And all the people were gathered against Jĕr-e-mī'ah in the house of the LORD.

10 ¶ When the princes of Jū'dah heard these things, then they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD, and sat down in the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

(4) Jeremiah's answer

12 ¶ [d]Then spake Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.

●13 Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

14 [e]As for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof; for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

(5) Contention over Jeremiah

16 ¶ [f]Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets; This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.

17 [g]Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

*18 [h]Mī'cah the Mō'ras-thīte prophesied in the days of Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and spake to all the people of Jū'dah, saying, [i]Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Zī'ŏn shall be plowed like a field, and Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

19 [j]Did Hĕz-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah and all Jū'dah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and besought the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus might [k]we procure great evil against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, [l]Ū-rī'jah the son of Shĕm-a-ī'ah of Kĭr'jath-jĕ'a-rĭm, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jĕr-e-mī'ah:

21 And when Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death: but when Ū-rī'jah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and [m]went into Ē'gўpt;

22 And Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the king sent men into Ē'gўpt, namely, Ĕl'na-thăn the son of Ăch'bôr, and certain men with him into Ē'gўpt.

23 And they fetched forth Ū-rī'jah out of Ē'gўpt, and brought him unto Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the king; who slew him with the sword, and [n]cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.

24 Nevertheless the hand [o]of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan was with Jĕr-e-mī'ah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAPTER 27 772

5 Sign of the yokes. (1) Yokes sent to six nations: prophecy

[a]IN the [b]beginning of the reign of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō'sī'ah king of Jū'dah came this word unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying, ■

●2 Thus saith the LORD to me; [c]Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,

●3 And [d]send them to the king of Ē'dom, and to the king of Mō'ab, and to the king of the Ăm'mon-ītes, and to the king of Tўr'us, and to the king of Zī'dŏn, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm unto Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah;

4 And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; [e]Thus shall ye say unto your masters;

5 I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me.

●6 And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar the king of Bă'bў-lon, my servant; and the beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him.

(2) All nations to serve Babylon for three generations (25:11; Dan. 5:2, 7, 11, 13, 16, 18, 29)

7 And all nations shall [f]serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the very time of his land come: [g]and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him.

(3) Warning to the nations

8 And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar the king of Bă'bў-lon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the 4 Israel as a nation (Ex. 2-12)

12 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I have given Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyrus, and Zidon into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar (27:1-6)
2 The beasts of the field have I given into his hand (27:6)
3 All nations will serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the day of the deliverance of Palestine (27:7)
4 After this many nations and great kings will make him their servant
5 The nations that will not serve him (Nebuchadnezzar) will I punish (27:8)
6 The nations that submit to him and serve him will remain in their own land (27:11)
7 Bring your (Judah's) necks under the yoke of Babylon and you will live (27:12-15)
8 Your prophets prophesy a lie in My name, that I might drive you out, and that you might perish with the false prophets that prophesy to you (27:14-15)
9 Serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city be laid waste (27:17)
10 The vessels of the temple which the king of Babylon has not yet taken will be carried to Babylon (27:18-22)
11 There will they be until the day that I visit them (27:22)
12 Then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place

e This chapter, like ch. 26, was given to Jeremiah at the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim, but the prophecy was not made known to Zedekiah until the 9th year of his reign, for it concerned this particular time in its fulfillment, which was about 20 years after it was received by Jeremiah (2 Ki. 23:36; 25:1). The yokes were made and sent to the various nations by messengers from these nations who came to visit Zedekiah in the 9th year of his reign when he rebelled against the king of Babylon (v 2-4). These visitors were perhaps discussing a common defence with Judah against what they all felt would be an invasion from Babylon

f 10 commands in Jer. 27:

1 Make you bonds and yokes (v 2)
2 Put them upon your neck
3 Send them to Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyrus, Zidon, and Judah (v 3)
4 Command them to say to their masters: I have given all these lands to Nebuchadnezzar (v 6)
5 Hearken not to your prophets, diviners, dreamers, enchanters, or sorcerers which predict that the king of Babylon will not conquer you (v 9)
6 Bring your necks under the yoke of Babylon (v 12)
7 Serve him and his people
8 Hearken not to the words of the false prophets saying: You shall not serve Babylon (v 14)
9 Hearken not to the words of your prophets saying that the vessels of the Lord which have been carried to Babylon will shortly come again from Babylon (v 16)
10 Hearken not to them; serve the king of Babylon (v 17)

g 6 nations receiving the yokes (v 3):

1 Edom 4 Tyrus
2 Moab 5 Zidon
3 Ammon 6 Judah

h It would be interesting to know how such a message was received by these

a The three methods of punishing the nations were: by the sword, by famines, and by pestilences (v 8)

b 5 classes of deceivers in Judah (v 9):
1 False prophets
2 Diviners
3 Dreamers
4 Enchanters
5 Sorcerers
This shows how far the Jews were from obedience to the law, which made it a death penalty to use enchantment, sorcery and the like (note b, Lk. 12:29)

c By listening to lies from false prophets they were helping to destroy the nation, for God had promised that the ones which would not serve Nebuchadnezzar would be destroyed (v 8, 11, 15)

d Remaining in the land was the privilege of any nation providing it would submit to Nebuchadnezzar and not rebel (v 11). Judah rebelled and had to go into captivity (2 Ki. 25:1)

e Here we have the sign of the yokes applied to Judah. If they would bring themselves under the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar and serve him they would live; but if they rebelled they would, like other nations, perish by the sword, famine, and pestilence (v 12-13)

f Question 140. Next, v 17

g The vessels that were taken away by Nebuchadnezzar in the reigns of Jehoiakim and Jehoiachin (2 Ki. 24:13; 2 Chr. 36:7-10; Dan. 1:1-2). The false prophets were predicting that they would soon be brought back from Babylon, so there was no fear of the rest of Judah being taken into captivity (v 16)

h Question 141. Next, 29:27

i God, Himself challenged the test of answered prayer to prove whether a man was of God or not (v 18). This is a good test for all generations. If God is with a man he will be blessed and receive answers. Jesus, the apostles, and others confirmed their call and commission by miracles; there were many divine manifestations (Lk. 4:16-21; Jn. 2:11; 3:2; 5:30-47; 14:11; Acts 2:43; 5:12-13; 8:6; 15:4, 12; Rom. 1:11; 15:18-19, 29; Heb. 2:3-4)

Judah the ruling tribe (Isa. 40:9)

Judah was the ruling one of the 13 tribes of Israel, and it always will be, for the Messiah came through this tribe, and He will be the King of all Israel in Palestine (v 9; 9:6-7; 52:7; Gen. 49:10; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15). Judah will be one of the names of the kingdom of Israel which will include all the tribes when they are gathered back in the promised land, in the future (v 9; 11:10-12; Jer. 30-31; Ezek. 36-37)

The ends of the earth (Isa. 41:5)

The ends of the earth is an expression used 28 times (v 5, 9; 40:28; 43:6; 45:22; 52:10; Dt. 33:17; 1 Sam. 2:10; Job 28:24; 37:3; 38:13; Ps. 22:27; 48:10; 59:13; 65:5; 67:7; 72:8; 98:3; 135:7; Pr. 17:24; 30:4; Jer. 10:13; 16:19; 25:31; 51:16; Mic. 5:4; Acts 13:47). The ends of the world is used in Ps. 22:27; Rom. 10:18; 1 Cor. 10:11. The end of the world is used 8 times to mean the inhabited earth (62:11; Ps. 19:4), the end of the age (Mt. 13:39-40, 49; 24:3; 28:20), and the end of the ages or junction of the ages (Heb. 9:26). The term end of the earth in the sense of the literal earth coming to an end is not found in Scripture; for the earth is eternal (Ps. 104:5; Eccl. 1:4). As used here in v 5 it simply means the countries threatened by Cyrus and not literally all parts of the earth, for many lands in those days never did hear of Cyrus, just as many today have never heard of Jesus Christ. The same expression in v 9 refers simply to Chaldea

8 promises and commands to Israel (Isa. 41:10):

1 Fear not, for I am with you (v 18, 13, 14)
2 Be not dismayed, for I am your God
3 I will strengthen you
4 I will help you
5 I will upbold you with the right hand of my righteousness
6 I will hold your right hand (v 13)
7 I will hear them - the poor and needy (v 17)
8 I will not forsake them

king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.

(4) Warning to Judah

●9 Therefore hearken not ye to your [h]prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon:

10 For [e]they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish.

(5) Conditional blessing (cp. Isa. 1:19, refs.)

11[d]But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the LORD; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

6 Sign of the yokes continued to Zedekiah. (1) Commands

●12 ¶ I spake also to Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah according to all these words, [e]saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and serve him and his people, and live.

13 [f]Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon?

●14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon: for they prophesy a lie unto you.

15 For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, yet they prophesy a lie in my name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.

(2) Commands to all Judah

●16 Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, [g]the vessels of the LORD'S house shall now shortly be brought again from Bāb'ȳ-lon: for they prophesy a lie unto you.

●17 [h]Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and live: wherefore should this city be laid waste?

(3) Remaining riches of the temple go to Babylon (52:17)

18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, [i]let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Jū'dah, and at Jĕ-ry'sā-lĕm, go not to Bāb'ȳ-lon.

19 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts [a]concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city,

20 Which Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'-zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon took not, when he carried away captive Jĕc-o-nī'ah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm king of Jū'dah from Jĕ-ry'-sā-lĕm to Bāb'ȳ-lon, and all the nobles of Jū'dah and Jĕ-ry'sā-lĕm;

21 Yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Jū'-dah and of Jĕ-ry'sā-lĕm;

22 They shall be carried to Bāb'ȳ-lon, and there shall they be until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

CHAPTER 28 773

7 A prophetical contest. (1) False prophecy of Hananiah

[b]AND it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hăn-a-nī'ah the son of Ā'zur the prophet, which was of Gĭb'e-on, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, saying, [c]I have broken the yoke of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon.

3 Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD'S house, that Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon took away from this place, and carried them to Bāb'ȳ-lon:

4 And I will bring again to this place Jĕc-o-nī'ah the son of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm king of Jū'dah, with all the captives of Jū'dah, that went into Bāb'ȳ-lon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon.

(2) Jeremiah's answer

5 ¶ Then the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto the prophet Hăn-a-nī'ah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'-ah said Ā-mĕn': the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD'S house, and all that is carried away captive, from Bāb'ȳ-lon into this place.

●7 Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people;

8 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied both against a This shows what parts of the temple and vessels were not taken to Babylon. The pillars, the brazen sea, the bases, and other fixtures were left when Jeconiah was taken captive with all the nobles and chief men of Judah (v 19-20). Now the prediction was that all the vessels would be taken to Babylon to remain there until God would visit the Jews and bring them back to Palestine (v 21-22). This was to be at the end of 70 years when Nebuchadnezzar, his son, Evil-Merodach, and his grandson, Nebonidus, would have reigned in Babylon (v 7; 25:11-14)

b This controversy between false and true prophets took place in the 4th year of Zedekiah, the year he rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (v 1). This rebellion was caused for 2 main reasons:
1 Judah provoked the anger of the Lord to the point that He had to destroy them (2 Ki. 24:20)
2 The false prophets predicted that there would be no more defeat of Judah and those already taken to Babylon would return within 2 years (28:1-4). This emboldened Zedekiah and Judah to rebel

c This prophecy was proved false within 2 years - that was the time in which it was to be fulfilled (v 2-4). Fulfillment is the test of any prophecy. Not one detail of this prediction was fulfilled - it was bad guesswork in its entirety

d Then - when Jeremiah had heard the false prophecy of Hananiah, he made his reply regarding whether he thought it was a true prediction (v 5-9). He was more than willing for it to be fulfilled, if such could be possible; he and all Judah would welcome what had been thus predicted to come to pass (v 6). He referred to the prophets of old who had prophesied against kingdoms, predicting war, evil, and pestilence, and who had been opposed by false prophets foretelling peace; and he reminded the people that if his predictions came to pass it would be known he was sent of God (v 8-9). This did not end the contest however; it merely caused Hananiah to persist in his false prophecy and Jeremiah to give another true one of further success of Babylon and to predict that Hananiah would die that year - and it came to pass (v 10-17)

Reasons for God's dealings (Isa. 41:20):

This verse gives the reasons for the 8 promises and commands, and the 24 predictions of v 10-19:

1 That they might see God's eternal love for them (v 20)
2 That they might know that it is God who provides, protects, and supplies the riches of life here and hereafter
3 That they might consider their ways and be grateful for the providence of God
4 That they might understand, as a whole that God has planned and created all things for the highest good of all. Cp. Rev. 4:11

7 purposes of prediction (Isa. 41:26):

1 That the end might be known from the beginning (v 26; Acts 15:18; Eph. 1:10; 2:7; 3:10-11)
2 That these things might be known beforehand (v 26; 42:8-9)
3 That men might know God is righteous (v 26)
4 That Jehovah might be recognized as the only true and living God - being the only one capable of making the future known
5 That such predictions might be known as coming from God, and not idols or their prophets (v 27)
6 That man might see how absolutely powerless he is to reveal the future (v 28)
7 That idols may be proved less capable of foretelling the future than man (v 29)

a Then-when Jeremiah had answered him regarding his prophecy of peace to Judah, Hananiah took the yoke off Jeremiah's neck and broke it, predicting a second time that the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar would be broken from the neck of all nations within 2 full years (v 10-11)

b Evidently Jeremiah had put a yoke upon his own neck when he delivered the prophecy concerning the yokes of Nebuchadnezzar being placed upon all nations (27:1-8)

c Then-when Hananiah had broken the yoke that was upon Jeremiah's neck and made his second prediction that the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar would be broken off the necks of all nations within 2 full years, Jeremiah gave his first and only prophecy in this prophetic contest (v 12-17)

d 54th prophecy in Jer. (28:12-16, fulfilled). Next, 29:1

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 You have broken the yoke of wood, but yokes of iron will be made in its place, for I will put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all nations that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (28:13-14)

2 They will serve him (28:14)

3 I have given him the beasts of the field also

4 I will cast you (Hananiah) from off the face of the earth. This year you will die, because you have taught rebellion against the Lord (28:15-16)

e Then-when Jeremiah had given his prophecy concerning Babylon, he uttered one concerning the death of Hananiah (v 15-16)

f By this, the death of Hananiah, the prophecy of Jeremiah (v 12-16) was confirmed to be true; and the words of Hananiah, of v 1-11, were proved to be false (v 17)

g 55th prophecy in Jer. (29:1-14, fulfilled). Next, v 17

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Build houses in Babylon and dwell in them; plant gardens and eat of them; take wives and beget sons and daughters; take wives for your sons and give your daughters to husbands; have grandchildren; seek the peace of the land of your captivity; pray for it, for if it has peace you will have peace-you will be 70 years in captivity (29:4-10)

2 After the 70 years of captivity I will visit you, and perform the good word toward you, in causing you to return to your homeland (29:10)

3 Then you will call upon Me, and I will hear your prayers (29:12)

4 You will seek Me, and find Me when you search for Me with all your heart (29:13)

5 I will be found of you (29:14)

6 I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all nations

7 I will bring you again into your land

h Jeremiah wrote a letter to the captives in Babylon advising them what to do in view of the long captivity of 70 years. They were not to live unsettled in Babylon, expecting to go back to Palestine soon as false prophets of Judah were predicting in Jerusalem. It would not be sensible to remain in uncertainty and live temporary lives in view of 70 years there. They could build houses, plant gardens, bring up their own families and those of their children before they would possibly be permitted to return to their homeland (v 4-7). All this Jeremiah wrote to the captives in Babylon, but it was contrary to other letters being sent to them by false prophets; so they were confused as to which course to follow. Hananiah, for instance, had predicted that all captives would return within 2 full years, so many did not have the heart to build up homes and business on a permanent basis (28:1-11). There were some in Babylon who even wanted to cause rebellion there. Instead of submitting to foreign rule, Jeremiah sought to impress upon them that this was the wrong policy. He stated that if they would pray and work for peace in Babylon, they would have peace, but if they worked for war that is what they would have (v 7). Jeremiah's advice would eventually be heeded, for many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.

9 The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.

(3) False prophecy of Hananiah

10 ¶[a]Then Hăn-a-nī'ah the prophet[b]took the yoke from off the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hăn-a-nī'ah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Even so will I break the yoke of Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah went his way.

(4) True prophecy of Jeremiah

*12 ¶[c]Then [d]the word of the LORD came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, after that Hăn-a-nī'ah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

●13 Go and tell Hăn-a-nī'ah, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Thou hast broken the yokes of wood; but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

●15 ¶[e]Then said the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto Hăn-a-nī'ah the prophet, Hear now, Hăn-a-nī'ah; The LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the LORD.

(5) The test of true prophecy

17 [f]So Hăn-a-nī'ah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

CHAPTER 29 774

8 A letter to the Jews of the first captivity. (1) Settle down: tenfold exhortation

[a]NOW [g]these are the words of [h]the letter that Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet sent from Jē-rў'sā-lĕm [i]unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar had carried away captive from Jē-rў'sā-lĕm to Băb'ў-lon;

2 (After that Jĕc-o-nī'ah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Jū'dah and Jē-rў'sā-lĕm, and the carpenters, and the smiths, were departed from Jē-rў'sā-lĕm;)

3 [a]By the hand of Ĕl'a-sah the son of Shā'phan, and Gĕm-a-rī'ah the son of Hĭl-kī'ah, (whom Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah sent unto Băb'ў-lon to Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon) saying,

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jē-rў'sā-lĕm unto Băb'ў-lon;

●5 [b]Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them;

●6 Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; [c]that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

●7 And [d]seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

(2) Trust not in false prophets

●8 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed.

9 For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: [e]I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

(3) Ninefold restoration after seventy years (25:11, refs.)

10 ¶ For thus saith the LORD, That [f]after seventy years be accomplished at Băb'ў-lon [g]I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.

12 Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, saith the LORD: and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

(4) Ninefold judgment of their brethren in Judah: reasons

15 ¶[h]Because ye have [i]said, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Băb'ў-lon;

16 Know that thus saith the LORD of the king that sitteth upon the throne of Dā'vid, and a The letter of Jeremiah was sent by the hand of these 2 ambassadors from Judah to Babylon (v 3). What business they had with Nebuchadnezzar is not known unless it concerned the fact that Zedekiah and Judah did not intend to submit to Babylon any longer. This was in the 4th year of Zedekiah, about 7 years before the destruction of Jerusalem (28:1)

b See 12 commands to captives, p. 792

c God wanted them to multiply while in captivity and not be diminished (v 6). He had further use for the nation, so it must not be exterminated

d It was God's will for the captives to become a part of the nation where they sojourned, adding to the public welfare by praying and working for peace, for it was only by the nation's peace that they could have peace. This is God's will for any people. Christianity demands that every Christian add to the betterment of the society in which he lives, so as to make the world a better place (v 7; Rom. 13)

e God does not send false prophets, deceivers, and unloyal citizens to any land. He expects His people to be consecrated to the best good of all wherever they are-to be good subjects of government (v 9; Rom. 13)

f After, not before 70 years. This was the allotted time for the Jews to be in Babylon before being restored to their own land again (v 10; 25:11-14)

g 9fold restoration after the 70 years:

1 I will visit you (v 10)
2 I will perform My good word to you
3 I will cause you to return to your own land and place
4 I have good thoughts toward you, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you an expected end (v 11)
5 You will call upon Me and will pray to Me, and I will hear you (v 12)
6 You will seek Me, and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart (v 13)
7 I will be found of you (v 14)
8 I will turn away your captivity, and will gather you from all nations where I have driven you 9 I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away

h 5 "because's" alternated with judgment:

1 Because you have said, The Lord has raised up prophets in Babylon (v 15-18)
2 Because they have not hearkened to My words (v 19-22)
3 Because they have committed villany, and adultery, and lied in My name in Israel (v 23)
4 Because you (Shemaiah) have taught rebellion (v 25-32)
5 Because Shemaiah has prophesied unto you, and I sent him not (v 31-32)

i Judah was being led astray by false prophets in Palestine as well as the exile. They depended more on these than the true prophets because they held out hope of immediate restoration of the captives from Babylon and declared that the rest of Judah would not have to go into captivity. Hananiah was only one of such prophets, but mentioned in particular in ch. 28 because of his bold opposition against Jeremiah, the true prophet in Judah. In Babylon where Ezekiel was prophesying to the captives as a true prophet of God, the false prophets were seeking to counteract what he also was saying. Jeremiah and Ezekiel were in perfect agreement in everything they foretold even though separated-living in distant lands from each other. They prophesied at the same time and of the same things. False prophets are mentioned in Jer. 2:8, 26, 30; 4:9; 5:13, 31; 13:13; 14:13-15; 23:9-21; 26:11, 16; 27:9-18; 29:1, 8; 37:19; and in Ezek. 13:2-16; 22:25, 28 in 2 years all could see that the prophecy of Hananiah was false i 8 classes Jeremiah's letters sent to:

1 Elders (v 1)	5 Princes
2 Priests	6 Eunuchs
3 Prophets	7 Carpenters
4 King and Queen	8 Smiths

a 56th prophecy in Jer. (29:17-18, fulfilled). Next, v 20

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence (29:17)
2 I will make them like vile figs that cannot be eaten
3 I will persecute them with the sword, famine, and pestilence (29:18)
4 I will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach

b Because-giving again reasons for the coming destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (v 19)

c 10 sins of Judah in Jer. 29:

1 Tolerating false prophets and diviners contrary to the law (v 8; note b, Lk. 12:29) (v 9)
2 Prophesying falsely in God's name
3 Trusting in false prophets as being raised up by God (v 15)
4 Refusing to hear God's words (v 19)
5 Prophesying lies in My name (v 21)
6 Committing villany (v 23)
7 Committing adultery
8 Sending letters containing false statements (v 25)
9 Causing people to trust in lies (v 31)
10 Teaching rebellion (v 32)

d 57th prophecy in Jer. (29:20-22, fulfilled). Next, v 32)

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will deliver them (Ahab and Zedekiah, false prophets) into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar (29:21)
2 He will slay them before your eyes
3 They will be a curse by all the captives in Babylon (29:22)

e This was not king Ahab (of many years before Jeremiah's time), but a false prophet who, with another false prophet named Zedekiah (not king Zedekiah) was burned in the fire by Nebuchadnezzar (v 21-22)

f In this verse we have reference to some more sins which caused judgment to be brought upon Judah, called Israel here (v 23)

g Folly, in the sense of lewdness, or vileness in worshipping idols and committing adultery and prophesying lies in the name of God (v 23)

h This man seems to have been the leader of the false prophets. He was punished for his sins and for sending letters from Babylon seeking to have Jeremiah put into prison and in stocks (v 25-27). He is called the Nehelamite, which could mean simply a dreamer (v 24)

i This false prophet claimed Jeremiah was making himself a prophet, and stated that for this he should be put into prison (v 26-27)

j Question 142. Next, 30:6

Call to mourning (9:17)

Here God called for mourning throughout the land in view of coming destruction. The reference is to paid mourners-persons hired to attend funerals. These skilled mourners were called cunning because of their training to do this kind of work (v 17-18). They would dishevel the hair, tear their clothes, daub paint and dirt on their faces and mingle their singing with shrill screams and loud wailing, distorting the limbs frightfully, swaying the body to and fro in a kind of melancholy dance to the thumping of tambourines. At funerals they spoke of the virtues of the dead, calling them by affectionate names and asking why the deceased had left his family and friends. Some mourning continued for 7 days with rows of mourners backed up against opposite walls, facing each other. They would clap hands and strike their breasts in monotonous melody while the bereaved ones would kneel and sway back and forth joining in the wild cries. Exhausted mourners would fall to the floor and be replaced by others (2 Chr. 35:25; Eccl. 12:5; Amos 5:16; Mt. 9:23; Mk. 5:38). In the case of the women referred to here they were to mourn because the people were to be spoiled, confounded, and cast out (v 19). God even asked the mourning women to train their daughters in the wailing art, and to teach all the people how to lament, emphasizing the fact that death would enter the land and cut off men and children whose carcases would be left in the open fields unburied (v 20-22) of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

●17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them:

19 [b]Because [c]they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which I sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD.

(5) Judgment on the false prophets in Babylon: reason

●20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm to Bāb'ў-lon:

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, [e]of A'hāb the son of Kŏl-a-i'ah, and of Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name; Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon; and he shall slay them before your eyes;

22 And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Jū'dah which are in Bāb'ў-lon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zĕd-e-kī'ah and like A'hāb, whom the king of Bāb'ў-lon roasted in the fire;

23 [f]Because they have committed [g]villany in Is'ra-el, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them; even I know, and am a witness, saith the LORD.

(6) The sin of Shemaiah

●24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to [h]Shĕm-a-i'ah the Nĕ-hĕl'a-mīte, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and to Zĕph-a-ni'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jĕ-hoi'a-dā the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and [i]maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in prison, and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore [j]why hast thou not reproved Jĕr-e-mī'ah of Ăn'a-thōth, which maketh himself a prophet to you?

28 For therefore he sent unto us in Bāb'ў-lon, [a]saying, This captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zĕph-a-nī'ah the priest read [b]this letter in the ears of Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet.

(7) Judgment on Shemaiah

●30 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

●31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD, concerning Shĕm-a-i'ah the Nĕ-hĕl'a-mīte; Because that Shĕm-a-i'ah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie:

●32 [c]Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will punish Shĕm-a-i'ah the Nĕ-hĕl'a-mīte, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the LORD; because he hath taught rebellion against the LORD.

775 CHAPTER 30

VI Prophecies of the restoration from captivity (30:1-33:26). 1 Regathering of Judah and Israel to Palestine

THE [d]word that came to Jĕr'e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

●2 Thus speaketh the LORD God of Is'ra-el, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

3 For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that [e]I will bring again the captivity of my people Is'ra-el and Jū'dah, saith the LORD: [f]and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

2 The great tribulation (Dan. 9:27; 12:1-7; Mt. 24:15-31; Rev. 12:1-20:6; Ezek. 20:33; 22:17; 36-37)

4 ¶ And these are the words that the LORD spake [g]concerning Is'ra-el and concerning Jū'dah.

5 For thus saith the LORD; We have heard [h]a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.

6 [i]Ask ye now, and see whether a [j]man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of [k]Ja'cob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it.

3 Fifteenfold regathering of Israel under the Messiah (Isa. 11:11, refs.)

8 For it shall come to pass [l]in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves

a This was predicted by Jeremiah (v 5) b The letter from Shemaiah in Babylon was received and read to Jeremiah by the priest, Zephaniah (v 29). This gave God an occasion to prophesy through Jeremiah of the judgment that would come upon the writer of the letter. He was not to have a man left of all his seed to dwell among the Jews or see the good which God had planned for His people (v 30-32)

c 58th prophecy in Jer. (29:32, fulfilled). Next, 30:1

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will punish Shemaiah and his seed (29:32)
2 He will not have one male heir
3 He will not live to see the good that I will do for My people

d 59th prophecy in Jer. (30:1-31:40. V 15 partly fulfilled; the other verses unfulfilled). Next, 32:1. See 86 predictions, p. 798

e No less than 16 times in this prophecy God speaks of the final and complete regathering of all the tribes of Israel from all other lands to their own land where they will become an eternal nation under their Messiah (v 3, 10, 18; 31:4-6, 8-10, 12, 16-17, 23, 28). See scriptures on the regathering of Israel, p. 444

f Not only is it clear that Israel will be gathered from all other lands, but that they will be gathered to their own land which God gave to their fathers-Palestine (v 3-5; 32:17, 23; Ezek. 37)

g Israel and Judah are two terms used of the two sections of the kingdom while it was divided, and also since the captivities sometimes, to make it clear that the whole house of Isreal is referred to and not just a part, as is taught by some who say prophecy is being fulfilled today with England and America. It must be remembered that this prophecy of Jeremiah was given after the 10-tribe kingdom had been destroyed over 100 years, actually 133 years at the time of the final defeat of Judah in Zedekiah's time, and both terms were used to show that all the tribes will be involved in the fulfillment of these prophecies in the last days. Here, Jeremiah predicted things that will happen to all Israel in the future tribulation days; no tribe will be excluded from the one people that will be brought back from all nations in the last days. The two terms are sometimes used together, and sometimes Judah is used separately, but both of the same people (31:23-24)

h A voice of war, not peace (v 5)

i Questions 143-144. Next, v 15

j Men with their hands on their loins as a woman in travail always pictures the most horrible tribulation upon a nation (v 6-7; 4:31; 6:24; 13:21; 22:23; 49:24; 50:43; Mic. 4:9-10; 5:3; Ps. 48:6; Isa. 13:8; 21:3; 42:14; 66:7-8; Rev. 12:2). Most of these passages refer to the travail of Israel in the future tribulation or in some other trouble in the past. The sorrows are the same as the ones referred to in Mt. 24:8. There are to be 2 travails of Israel in the future:

1 When the manchild is born (v 6-7; Isa. 66:7-8; Dan. 12:1; Mic. 5:3; Rev. 12:1-6, 14)
2 When the nation is born in a day at the 2nd advent of Christ, when it is delivered from almost sudden extinction (v 6-7; Isa. 66:7-8; Zech. 12:10-12:1; 14:1-15; Mt. 24:15-22; Rom. 11:25-29)

k The time of Jacob's trouble will be the last 3 1/2 years of this age, the last half of Daniel's 70th week, and the time when Antichrist will enter Palestine and take over the temple as his capital building, to be worshipped there as God (Dan. 7:27; 11:40-45; 12:1-7; Mt. 24:15-31; 2 Th. 2:1-12; Rev. 12:1-20:6)

l In that day, the 2nd advent of Christ, God will break the yoke of Antichrist off the neck of Israel and he will come to an end (v 8)

a 8 proofs David will rule as king:
1 This is what it says in every passage on the subject. Here Jeremiah says, David their king, not Christ their king. Christ has never ruled as king of Israel and never will do so until He comes again to re-establish the throne and kingdom of David, and to rule over him and Israel (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 16:13-18; Rev. 11:15). King David is the only person Jews would understand as fulfilling the simple prediction here
2 Jeremiah says that God will raise up David unto them to rule (v 9). If this is ever to be fulfilled it means raise up by resurrection as will be true of all the dead (Dan. 12:2; Jn. 5:28-29)
3 Ezek. 34:23 says: I will raise up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even My servant David. God calls David His servant many times, but not once is Christ called My servant David; so it is obvious that king David is the one predicted here to be raised up as the shepherd of Israel under the Messiah, just as the 12 apostles are to be shepherds over the 12 tribes one apostle for each tribe, under the Messiah (Mt. 19:27; Lk. 22:30)
4 My servant David will be prince among them (Ezek. 34:24). Christ will be King of kings and Lord of lords-not under others, or as one among others but over all others
5 David My servant shall be king over them; and they shall have one shepherd (Ezek. 37:24)
6 My servant David shall be their prince for ever (Ezek. 37:25)
7 Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the Lord their God, and David their king; and shall fear the Lord and His goodness in the latter days (Hos. 3:4-5). To make this and like scriptures apply to Christ is a violation of truth and forced interpretation
8 Christ is never called David, but always the son of David (Mt. 1:1; 9:27; 12:23; 15:22; 20:30-31; 21:9, 15; 22:42); David's Lord (Mt. 22:45); the seed of David (Rom. 1:3; 2 Tim. 2:8); the Root of David (Rev. 5:5); and the root and the offspring of David (Rev. 22:16)

b The terms Jacob, Israel, and Judah are used interchangeably throughout this prophecy (v 3-4, 7, 10; 31:2, 7, 10, 21, 23)

c Jews will be gathered from all lands where they have been dispersed; then they will find rest, quietness, safety, restoration and other eternal blessings in their own land (v 10-11)

d God does not say here that He would make a complete end of all nations, but rather that if He had to do it He would not do so to Israel. All nations are eternal and will be ruled by God and Christ throughout eternity (Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 22, 27; Rev. 11:15; 21:24; 22:4-5)

e God never did intend to make a full end of Israel, but only to correct them sufficiently to bring them to repentance and eternal submission (v 11). The present generation of Jeremiah's day was about past correction and had no healing medicines for their rebellion (v 12-15); but in other generations to come it will be different (v 16-17)

f Question 145, Next, v 21

g Again and again God plainly states His reasons for chastening (v 15)

h Eventually, as in many times during the past, the devourers of Israel will be devoured; their adversaries will be captured; their spoilers will be spoiled; those who prey upon them will become a prey; and Israel, herself will be restored to her land, be redeemed, and healed (v 16-17)

i This will be literal (v 17; Isa. 30:26; 33:24; 35:5-6)

j This not only predicted the destruction of Jerusalem but also the rebuilding of the city upon its own heap, or original site-even before the destruction (v 18; 31:38-39). This refers to the rebuilding of the city at the 2nd advent of Christ, as also predicted in Ezek. 48:30-35

k Out of Jerusalem and the fortress of v 18 will come joy and gladness (v 19)

l God will multiply Israel in all coming ages, glorify them as a great nation,

of him:
9 [e]But they shall serve the LORD their God, and Dā'vid their king, whom I will raise up unto them.
●10 ¶ Therefore fear thou not, O my servant [b]Jā'cob, saith the LORD; neither be dismayed, O Iṣ'ra-el: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed [c]from the land of their captivity; and Jā'cob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.
11 For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: [d]though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: [e]but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.
12 For thus saith the LORD, Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.
13 There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines.
14 All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not; for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity; because thy sins were increased.
15 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity: [f]because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.
16 Therefore [h]all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.
17 For I will [i]restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD; because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zī'ŏn, whom no man seeketh after.

4 Rebuilding of Jerusalem

18 ¶ Thus ● ith the LORD; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jā'cob's tents, and have mercy on his dwelling-places; and [j]the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

5 Twelve blessings of Israel

19 And out of [k]them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry: and I will [l]multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.
20 Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and [m]I will punish all that oppress them.
21 And their [n]nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: [o]for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me? saith the LORD.
22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

6 The great tribulation

23 Behold, the [a]whirlwind of the LORD goeth forth with fury, a continuing whirlwind: it shall fall with pain upon the head of the wicked.
24 The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it.

CHAPTER 31 776

7 Conversion of Israel (Rom. 11:26-29; Isa. 66:7-9; 59:20)

[b]AT the same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Iṣ'ra-el, and they shall be my people.

8 Fourteenfold restoration

2 [c]Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness; even Iṣ'ra-el, when I went to cause him to rest.
3 The LORD hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee.
4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Iṣ'ra-el: thou shalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.
5 Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of [d]Sā-mā'rī-ā: the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.
6 For [e]there shall be a day, that the watchman upon the mount Ē'phrā-ĭm shall cry, Arise ye, and [f]let us go up to Zī'ŏn unto the LORD our God.
●7 For thus saith the LORD; Sing with gladness for Jā'cob, and shout among the chief of the nations; publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Iṣ'ra-el.
8 Behold, [g]I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither.
9 They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Iṣ'ra-el, and Ē'phrā-ĭm is my firstborn.

9 Ten blessings of Israel

●10 ¶ [h]Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Iṣ'ra-el will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

a The whirlwind in such passages as this always pictures divine judgment (v 23; 23:19; 25:32; Ps. 58:9; Pr. 1:27; 66:15; Zech. 7:14; 9:14). Here the judgment upon the wicked relates to the battle of Armageddon at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 23-24; Isa. 63:1-6; Ezek. 38-39; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 19:11-21). It was to come in the latter days when they would consider it (v 24)

b At the same time-the time Israel is regathered (v 3-5), the great tribulation is ended (v 6-7), the yoke of Antichrist has been broken off the neck of Israel (v 8), the time Israel serves God and David is raised up as their king again (v 9), when Israel is saved and blessed (v 10-11), Jerusalem is rebuilt and restored (v 18-20), the nations has a king from their own people (v 21), and Armageddon is over (v 21-22), I will be a God to the families of Israel and they shall be My people (v 1; 30:22)

c In v 2-3 God calls attention to Israel and how those who did not rebel found grace in His sight and were blessed. He promises (in v 4-9) to rebuild them again when they come to obedience

d Samaria was the capital of the northern or 10-tribe kingdom; and it is here referred to again as part of the kingdom of Israel under the Messiah. This proves again that all the 13 tribes of Israel will be gathered from all nations to become one nation again eternally (v 5). Ephraim is also mentioned here, and this confirms the same fact, for this was the name of the northern kingdom, as found in many scriptures (v 6, 9; 7:15; Isa. 7:8-9, 17; 11:13)

e There will be a day when:
1 Watchmen in Ephraim will cry, Arise, let us go up to mount Zion (in Judah) to the Lord our God (v 6). This indicates the personal and visible presence of God in their midst. (Isa. 2:2-4; 52:7; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 14:16-21)
2 Men will sing with gladness of Jacob (v 7)
3 Men will shout among the nations
4 Praise to God will be published
5 God's people will be saved, even the remnant of Israel
6 The rest of Israel will be gathered from all lands (v 8)
7 They will come with weeping and supplication to Zion (v 9)

f This is the proof that all the tribes of Israel will be united as one nation again when God reigns in Zion. When the people of Ephraim (the 10-tribe kingdom) cry out with joy to go to Zion there will be no more division of Israel; all will recognize Jerusalem as the capital of the whole of Israel

g This pictures all classes of the remnant of Israel returning to Palestine (v 8). They will come weeping and repenting, seeking the Lord their God and David their king (v 9; 30:9; Hos. 3:4-5)

h Here is the call for all the Gentiles to take part in the regathering of Israel (v 10; Isa. 66:19-21)

and they will not be anymore a small, despised, downtrodden people (v 19). Their children will be blessed as in days of old, and the congregation will be eternally established before God (v 20)

m This is the same as the original Abrahamic covenant (v 20 with Gen. 12:1-3) n The nobles of the nations, their governor, and other great men will be from among themselves and not from the Gentiles who have lorded it over them for many centuries. The times of the Gentiles will be ended (v 21; Lk. 21:24; Rom. 11:25-29). The Heb. here could be trans., Their Prince shall be one of themselves, their Ruler shall be native born. I will grant him access to My presence, and he shall approach Me; for who else has boldness on his own initiative to approach Me? Then you shall be My people, and I will be your God (v 21-22). This either refers to David of v 9, or to the Messiah who will be over David and all resurrected saints in the coming ages

o Question 146, Next, 31:20

a This refers to the future redemption of Israel when this prophecy will be fulfilled; therefore, it is spoken of as if it had already happened (v 11)

b This stronger one than Jacob could refer to two persons who will then be in league with each other to annihilate Jacob:
1 Satan who will give his power to the Antichrist to help in the effort to destroy completely every Jew on earth (Rev. 13:1-18; Dan. 8:24-25; 11:40-45)
2 Antichrist who will receive power from Satan, drive Israel out of their land for 3 1/2 years, and surround Jerusalem in battle the day Christ comes to earth to set up His kingdom (Dan. 8:24; 11:37-39; Zech. 14; 2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:2; 16:13-16; 19:11-21; 20:1-3) c After the Jews are delivered from Satan and Antichrist at Armageddon they will come and sing in Zion, flow together to the goodness of the Lord, and be blessed materially and spiritually. In fact, their soul will be like a watered garden never to sorrow again. The old and young will live happily together. The souls of the priests will be made fat, and all the people will be satisfied with the goodness of God (v 12-14)

d This verse is quoted in Mt. 2:18 of the lamentation of the parents of the infants who were killed by Herod in seeking the life of the baby Jesus; but it will have another and more complete fulfillment in the future weeping and lamentation of Israel when 2/3 of the nation will be destroyed in the coming tribulation (Isa. 66:7-8; Dan. 12:1; Zech. 13:10-13:1, 9; Rom. 11:25-29). Here Rachel, the mother of 3 tribes-Benjamin, Manasseh, and Ephraim-might be considered the mother of the whole of Israel with Benjamin representing the southern kingdom and Ephraim the northern kingdom. Rachel's work was that of bearing children, and by death she was deprived of the joy for which she labored; but in the resurrection with her children restored to her, she will receive her wages. She had pined for children all her life and died in sorrow when Benjamin was born; so his name was called Benoni, the son of my sorrow (Gen. 35:18-19). She was buried at Ramah (1 Sam. 10:2). Here she is represented as weeping for her children, then being comforted by the promise of restoration of all Israel under the Messiah. Her seed is to come forth from the enemy and all will have hope in the end when Israel returns to her own land (v 15-17). In the next verses Ephraim, who came from Rachel through Joseph and whose name is used of the northern kingdom of 10 tribes, is seen bemoaning himself and praying to God for restoration, being ashamed of the past life of sin (v 18-19). Then in the next 2 verses (20-21) we see the yearning of God for Ephraim as a parent yearning for his child. In all of God's cursing of Ephraim for his sins, He still had fond memories of him, and promised to have mercy upon him again (v 20)

e Questions 147-148. Next, v 22

f The waymarks and high heaps are signposts or pillars to point the way of the highway on which men travel (v 21)

g Question 149. Next, 32:27

h Any interpretation of this verse must be in harmony with this condition of being a new thing (v 22)

i The woman referred to here is the virgin daughter of Israel, as in the previous verse (v 21). Israel is often called a woman (Isa. 54:6; Rev. 12), a virgin (v 21), a daughter (v 22), and referred to as one married to Jehovah (Isa. 54:5), so the identification of this woman is clear

j Heb. cabab, to revolve around; surround; be on every side; beset; cause to come about; circuit; compass about or around; beset round about; enclose; turn back to. It is trans. compass (v 22, 39; 52:21; Josh. 6:3-7; etc.); beset (Judg. 19:22; 20:5; Hos. 7:2); and turn back to (1 Sam. 22:17-18)

11 For the LORD [c]hath redeemed Já'cob, and ransomed him [b]from the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12 [c]Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zi'ón, and shall flow together to the goodness of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14 And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD.

10 Fourfold admonition to cease weeping

15 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; [d]A voice was heard in Rā'mah, lamentation, and bitter weeping; Rā'hel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

●16 Thus saith the LORD; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.

11 Repentance of Israel

18 ¶ I have surely heard É'phrā-ĭm bemoaning himself thus; Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God.

19 Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 [e]Is É'phrā-ĭm my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

●21 Set thee up [f]waymarks, make thee high heaps: set thine heart toward the highway, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Iş'ra-el, turn again, to these thy cities.

22 ¶[g]How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a [h]new thing in the earth, A [i]woman shall [j]compass a [k]man.

12 Ten blessings of Israel

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iş'ra-el; As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Jú'dah and in the cities thereof, [a]when I shall bring again their captivity; The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness.

24 And there shall dwell in Jú'dah itself, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

27 ¶ Behold, [b]the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Iş'ra-el and the house of Jú'dah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the LORD.

29 In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

13 Ten blessings of the New Covenant (Isa. 59:20, refs.)

31 ¶ Behold, [c]the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make [d]a new covenant with the house of Iş'ra-el, and with the house of Jú'dah:

32 [e]Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of É'gўpt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD:

33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Iş'ra-el; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

14 Israel confirmed as eternal as the solar system (Ps. 72:5; 89:29, 36, 37)

35 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, which [f]giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar; The LORD of hosts is his name:

36 If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the a When Israel will be completely gathered to Palestine, then they will pronounce a blessing on their land and nations-called the habitation of justice and mountain of holiness here (v 23). At this same time husbandmen will lead flocks out of the cities of Judah and there will be rest and happiness to every soul (v 24-25)

b The days come that:
1 I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and beast (v 27); that is, men and beasts will be greatly multiplied
2 God will watch over them to build and plant, as He has watched over them to pluck up, break down, throw down, destroy, and afflict because of sin (v 28)
3 They will say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. But every man will die for his own sin-the man that eats the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge (v 29-30)
These days to come are clearly those of the Millennium when God will send Jesus Christ to build up Zion and reign for the purpose of putting all rebellion down (1 Cor. 15:24-28). Sin will continue along with other conditions, but it will be judged and men will pay for their own crimes; their parents or others will not be blamed for them. Death will be the penalty for sin (v 29-30) c The days come that:

1 I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah (v 31; Heb. 8:6-13)
2 After those days, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts (v 33)
3 I will be their God, and they will be My people
4 They will teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they will all know Me, from the least to the greatest of them; I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more (v 34)

d The new covenant is what we call the New Testament of the Bible, made by Christ to take the place of the law of Moses (Isa. 42:6; 49:8; 55:3; 59:21; 61:8; Heb. 8:6-13; 10:16; 12:24; 13:20)

e The new covenant was not to be the same as the old, but an entirely new contract to take the place of the law of Moses. To say that the new is the same as the old covenant, the only difference being that the one was written on tables of stone while the other was written on tables of the heart, is erroneous to the extreme. An old contract written anew on some other material does not make it a new contract. It is the contents that makes a difference, not the place where it is written. Here it states plainly that the new contract was not to be the same as the old one made by Moses-"Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them. . . out of Egypt" (v 32). The two contracts could never be the same because of the differences in their terms, conditions, and blessings. See 65 contrasts, p. 201 of N. T.

f 7 great truths:
1 God gave the ordinance of the sun to give light by day (v 35; Gen. 1:14-19)
2 He gave the ordinances of the moon and stars for light by night (v 35)
3 He divided the sea and gave a decree that it should never cover the earth (v 35; Gen. 1:9-13; Job 38:11)
4 He made the ordinances of the sun, moon, and stars to be eternal (v 36; Ps. 72:5, 17; 89:29, 35-37)
5 The infinity of the heavens (v 37)
6 The unsearchableness of earth
7 The eternity of Israel's union with Jehovah (v 37; Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33)
These truths are repeated time and time again, and should be accepted as common and eternal facts

15 Jerusalem confirmed as an eternal city

38 ¶ Behold, [d]the days come, saith the LORD, that the [e]city shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hă-nan'e-el unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the measuring line shall yet go forth over against it upon the hill of Gā'rĕb, and shall compass about to Gō'ăth.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kid'ron, unto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, shall be[f]holy unto the LORD; it shall not be plucked up, [g]nor thrown down any more for ever.

CHAPTER 32 777

16 Sign of kinsman redemption. (1) Question of Zedekiah

THE word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah[h]from the LORD in the [i]tenth year of Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, which was the eighteenth year of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar.

2 For then the king of Băb'-y-lon's army besieged Jĕ-ru'-să-lĕm: and [j]Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Jū'dah's house.

3 For Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'-dah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, [k]Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Băb'y-lon, and he shall take it;

4 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'-dah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chăl-dē'ans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Băb'y-lon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

5 And [l]he shall lead Zĕd-e-kī'ah to Băb'y-lon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD: though ye fight with the Chăl-dē'ans, ye shall not prosper.

(2) Kinsman redemption fulfilled (Lev. 25:25-34; Ruth 3-4)

[m]¶ And Jĕr-e-mī'ah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hă-nam'e-el the son of Shăl'lum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in An'a-thŏth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hă-nam'e-el mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in An'a-thŏth, which is in the country of Bĕn'ja-min: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine; [n]buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

9 And I bought the field of Hă-nam'e-el my uncle's son, that was in An'a-thŏth, and weighed him the money, [o]even seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was [p]sealed according to the law and custom, and that which was open:

12 [q]And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto [r]Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah, the son of Mā-sē'iah, in the sight of Hă-nam'e-el mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

★13 ¶ [s]And I charged Bā'ruch before them, saying,

●14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el; Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue [t]many days.

(3) Application to Judah

15 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el; Houses and fields and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

17 Prayer of Jeremiah: sixteenfold greatness of God

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying,

17 Ah Lord GOD! behold, thou[u]hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is [v]nothing too hard for thee:

18 Thou shewest lovingkindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the LORD of hosts, is his name,

19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

20 Which hast set [w]signs and wonders in the land of E'gypt, even unto this day, and in Is'ra-el, and among other men; and hast made thee a name, as at this day;

21 And hast brought forth thy people Is'ra-el out of the land of E'gypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a a Then-if and when the planets ever fail to give light and regulate times and seasons, the seed of Israel will cease being a nation before God (v 36). This certainly refers to the eternal nation of the future under the Messiah

b See Solar system in Index
c There is no method for searching out the foundations of the earth or measuring the vast heavens; even so there is no way for God to cast off Israel for their sins, for in those days there will be no sin in them (v 37; Isa. 66:7-8; Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29; Heb. 10:17)
d The days come that:
1 The city of Jerusalem will be built to the Lord from Hananeel (the north-east corner) to the gate of the corner (the northwest corner), then upon the hill of Gareb; and it will compass about to Goath (toward the southwest, called the hill of the lepers). It will take in the whole valley of dead bodies and all the fields to the brook Kidron and to the corner of the horse gate toward the east. All this will be holy to God (v 38-40)
2 I will never be plucked up again or destroyed and thrown down anymore forever (v 40)
e This definitely refers to the rebuilding of the city of Jerusalem at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 38-40). The measurements of the city are given in Ezek. 48:30-35. When Christ sets His feet on the mount of Olives and it is divided, half going to the east and the other half to the west, there will be a very great valley (Zech. 14:1-5). At the same time the earthquake will kill 7,000 men in Jerusalem alone (Rev. 11:13). Jerusalem will be divided into three parts and much of it will be destroyed (Rev. 16:19). Thus it will need to be completely rebuilt to become the capital of the Messiah's kingdom over all nations forever. The name of the city from that day and forward will be The Lord will be there (Ezek. 48:35)
f Not only will the city itself be holy to God, but on every pot and pan in Jerusalem, and even on the bells of the horses will be Holiness unto the Lord (Zech. 14:20-21)
g Many scriptures speak of Jerusalem being an eternal city (v 40). See Jerusalem in Index
h 50th prophecy in Jer. (32:1-5, fulfilled). Next, v 6
7 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will take it (32:3)
2 Zedekiah the king will not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans (32:4)
3 He will surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon
4 He will speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes will behold his eyes
5 He will lead Zedekiah to Babylon
6 There he will be until I visit him (32:5)
7 Though you fight against the Chaldeans, you will not prosper
i This was about one year before the fall of Jerusalem and the final captivity of Jews to Babylon (v 1; 2 Ki. 25:1-2)
j How long Jeremiah had been in prison is not known; he was being detained because of his prophecies (v 1, 3, 8, 12; 33:1) k This prophecy had been given on several occasions (v 3-5; 21:3-7; 24:8-10; 25:8-29). This was literally fulfilled as in 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36
l Here Jeremiah predicted that Zedekiah would be taken to Babylon (v 5). Ezekiel predicted that he would not see Babylon, though he would die there (Ezek. 12:13). All statements are true, for he was taken to Babylon and died there, but he did not see it because his eyes were put out (2 Ki. 25:6-7) m 61st prophecy in Jer. (32:6-7, fulfilled). Next, v 13. It was here predicted that Hanameel, his cousin, would come to Jeremiah wanting him to buy his field that was in Anathoth, for it was his by right of redemption. He soon came to the prophet in the court of the prison, as God had foretold (v 8). Hanameel had evidently mortgaged this field and could not buy it back again so, according to the law, the nearest of kin had the right to redeem it and use it until the year of release a Jeremiah was asked by his cousin to buy the field for himself, which was what God had predicted he would do (v 7). Then Jeremiah knew that the prophecy was of God, because it was confirmed by fulfillment. He bought the field from Hanameel for 17 shekels of silver ($10.88), completing the transaction before proper witnesses, sealing it, and paying the money in cash (v 9-11)

b 17 shekels at 64¢ each-$10.88
c It is supposed that one of these documents was a duplicate of the other. It may have been customary to seal one copy carefully and deposit it in a safe place, perhaps in a jar buried on the property described in the document, and to leave the other one unsealed in some public place, where all interested persons could have access to it whenever they desired. Inasmuch as the city was to be destroyed, the prophet was directed to have both copies put in an earthen vessel for preservation (v 12-14)
d Jeremiah gave the evidence of the purchase to Baruch in the sight of Hanameel, in the presence of the witnesses who subscribed the book of the purchase, and before all the Jews who sat in the court of the prison. He charged Baruch to say to Israel that these documents will continue in the earthen vessel many days as a sign that after many days (the 70 years of 25:9-14) the Jews will return to Palestine and its fields and vineyards again (v 12-15)
e Baruch, blessed. See Index
f 62nd prophecy in Jer. (32:13-15, fulfilled). Next, v 26. The prediction here is that after many days the Jews would return to their land and possess houses, fields, and vineyards as before

h 16fold greatness of God:
1 You have made heaven and earth by Your great power, and Your stretched out arm (v 17)
2 There is nothing too hard for You
3 You show lovingkindness to thousands (v 18)
4 You recompense the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them
5 God is Great
6 He is a Mighty God
7 The Lord of hosts is His name
8 Great in counsel (v 19)
9 Mighty in work
10 Your eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings
11 He has set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, and in Israel, and among other men, as it is this day (v 20)
12 He has made a name for Himself, as it is at this day
13 He has brought forth His people out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders with a strong hand, with a stretched-out arm, and with great terror (v 21)
14 He has given them this land, which He swore to their fathers to give them (v 22)
15 He has caused all this evil to come upon them for disobedience (v 23)
16 He has caused the invaders to fight against Jerusalem which is given into their hands, to fulfil what He has spoken (v 24-25)
i If men could only believe this and trust God for His many blessings there would be untold benefits coming to them which they now go without because of unbelief and ignorance of His will. If nothing is too hard for Him, and He has promised men all their needs and lawful wants in life, here and hereafter, then there is no excuse for lack of supply. Cp. v 27; Gen. 18:14
j These signs and wonders are not the great pyramids in Egypt, as sometimes taught, but the many miracles He wrought in Egypt (the 10 plagues of Ex. 3-12), those He wrought in Israel (see Miracles in index), and those among other men in all ages (v 20). That those in Egypt were performed to deliver them from Egypt is stated in v 21 when it would revert to its original heirs. This incident became another occasion for a prophecy from God through Jeremiah to Judah (v 8-15) a 3 reasons for Israel's destruction:

1 They obeyed not Your voice (v 23)
2 They did not walk in Your law
3 They have done nothing of all that You commanded them to do b This refers to the heaping up of earth by the enemy to overtop the walls and get into the city (v 24; 6:6; 33:4) c 3 things that caused the city to fall:

1 The sword (v 24)
2 The famine
3 The pestilence

d God's prophecies have always come to pass, and they always will, for He is able to cause nothing to fall which He has predicted. There is no guesswork in true prophecy. The greatest power of the universe is back of His own spoken word, and He will see to it that it will always be fulfilled

e It was puzzling to Jeremiah that he should be told to buy the field since the city was to be taken by the Babylonians, but he obeyed even though the only benefit might be using the experience in his prophecy to signify that houses, fields, and vineyards would be possessed by the Jews again after many days-70 years (v 25 with v 15, 43-44)

f 63rd prophecy in Jer. (32:26-44. V 26-36 fulfilled; v 37-44 unfulfilled). Next, 33:1

3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans and Nebuchadnezzar, and he will take it (32:28)
2 They will come and set the city on fire, and burn the houses upon whose roofs they have offered incense to Baal and poured out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke Me to anger (32:29)
3 It will be delivered to the king of Babylon by the sword, the famine, and the pestilence (32:36)

12 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 I will gather them out of all countries whither I have driven them in My anger, My fury, and My great wrath (32:37)
2 I will bring them again to this place
3 I will cause them to dwell safely
4 They will be My people, and I will be their God (32:38)
5 I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear Me forever, for the good of them, and of their children after them (32:39)
6 I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from doing them good (32:40)
7 I will put My fear in their hearts, so that they will not depart from Me
8 I will rejoice over them to do them good (32:41)
9 I will plant them in this land assuredly with My whole heart and My whole soul
10 As I have brought all this great evil upon them, so will I bring upon them all this good that I have promised them (32:42)
11 Fields will be bought in this land, whereof you say, It is desolate and is given into the hands of the Chaldeans (32:43)
12 Men will buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, in all places about Jerusalem, in all the cities of Judah, in all the cities of the mountains, in all cities of the valley, and in all cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return (32:44)

h See v 17, 27; Gen. 18:14

i 7 sins of Israel:
1 They have done evil from their youth (v 30)
2 Provoked Me to anger with the work of their hands (idols)
3 Turned their back to Me (v 33)
4 Not listened to instruction
5 Set their abominations in My house to defile it (v 34)
6 Built high places to Baal (v 35)
7 Caused their sons and daughters to pass through the fire to Molech in the valley of the son of Hinnom

j All Israel, not just a few of the tribes, had constantly provoked God to anger by their sins, so the blame could not be laid upon Judah only. All classes had sinned-kings, princes, priests, prophets, and other men of Israel (v 30, 32) stretched out arm, and with great terror;

22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey;

23 And they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: [a]therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them:

24 Behold [b]the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anş, that fight against it, [c]because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou [d]hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it.

●25 And [e]thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses; for the city is given into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anş.

18 Answer of God. (1) Ninefold judgment: tenfold reason (cp. Isa. 5:5, refs.)

✱26 ¶Then came the word of the LORD unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: [f]is there any thing [g]too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anş, and into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon, and he shall take it:

29 And the Chăl-dē'anş, that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Bā'al, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Iş'ra-el and the children of Jū'dah have only [i]done evil before me from their youth: for [h]the children of Iş'ra-el have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For this city hath been to me as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face,

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Iş'ra-el and of the children of Jū'dah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Jū'dah, and the inhabitants of Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm.

33 And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they set their abominations in the house, which is called by my name, to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Bā'al, which are in the valley of the son of Hin'nom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto [g]Mō'lech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Jū'dah to sin.

36 ¶ And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Iş'ra-el, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

(2) Fifteenfold regathering of Israel (Isa. 11:11, refs.)

✱37 [b]Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely:

38 And they shall be my people, and I will be their God:

39 And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them:

40 And I will make an [c]everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith the LORD; Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anş.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and in the places about Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, and in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

19 Davidic kingdom to be restored. (1) Desolation first

✱MOREOVER the word of the LORD [d]came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah the [e]second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD the maker thereof, the LORD that formed it, to establish it; the LORD is his name;

▶3 Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

d 64th prophecy in Jer. (33:1-18. V 1-5 fulfilled; v 6-18 unfulfilled). Next, v 19

3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 The houses of the city and those of the kings of Judah will be thrown down by the mounts, and the sword (33:4)
2 The dead bodies of those who fight the Chaldeans will fill the houses of this city (33:5)
3 I will cause them to be slain in My anger and My fury, because of the wickedness of the city

21 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 I will bring health and cure to the city of Jerusalem (33:6)
2 I will cure them
3 I will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth
4 I will cause the captivity of Judah and Israel to return (33:7)
5 I will build them as at the first 6 I will cleanse them from all their iniquity and sins (33:8)
7 I will pardon their iniquities whereby they have sinned
8 It will be to Me a name of joy, a praise and an honor before all nations of the earth (33:9)
9 They will fear and tremble for all the goodness and prosperity that I procure unto it
10 Again the voice of joy and happiness will be heard in this place (33:10-11)
11 They will say, Praise the Lord of hosts: for the Lord is good; for His mercy endures forever (33:11)
12 I will cause the captivity of the land to return, as at the first 13 Again in this place, which is desolate, without man and beast, and in all cities thereof, will be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down (33:12)
14 In all cities of Judah flocks will pass again under the hand of him that tells them (33:13)
15 The days come that I will perform that good thing which I have promised the whole house of Israel (33:14)
16 In those days, and at that time, I will cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David (33:15)
17 He will execute judgment and righteousness in the land
18 In those days the house of Judah will be saved, and Jerusalem will dwell safely (33:16)
19 She will be called, The Lord our righteousness
20 David will never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel (33:17)
21 Neither will the priests and Levites want a man before Me to offer burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually (33:18)

e In this second message (given while the prophet was shut up in prison), the former predictions about the destruction of the city of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans, are confirmed again. The future restoration of Israel to her own land, the blessing of all Israel under their Messiah, and the eternal restoration of the Davidic throne and kingdom as well as the priesthood and sacrifices are also confirmed, as seen by the above unfulfilled predictions. These many prophecies reflect what is in the heart of God-He longs to see His people, Israel, blessed and restored to the full, as a great nation, the head of all other nations under the Messiah. He longs to see the whole world at peace, with men praising Him and living happy lives in prosperity. He is determined to save Israel as an eternal nation, restore the kingdom of David, and place eternal kings over His eternal program that should have been carried out from the time of creation until now. He plans that the priests and Levites will continue eternally offering the various sacrifices before Him as a memorial of the sacrifice of Christ, so that all coming generations might have an outward program demonstrating the price of redemption through Him (v 18). See notes on Ezek. 40-48 a The prophecies of v 4-5 are fulfilled, having been fulfilled about 616 B.C. when Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, destroyed Judah and Jerusalem and took the kingdom of Israel into captivity. The following verses (6-16) speak of restoration of Israel from all nations in the latter days and the establishment of the eternal kingdom of the Messiah-all yet to be fulfilled

b The mounts were made of earth, rocks, and trees and used to help men get into a walled city to attack it. If these could be built to the top of the wall there was no way to keep an invader out except to defeat him on the wall (v 4) c This refers to the many dead bodies of men slain in all the houses of the city. The prophecy given stated that all who would flee from the city would be spared, but those remaining in it to fight would be killed (21:9). The reason for such slaughter was the sins of the people (v 5)

d For a list of these predictions, see note d, v 1

e God will build them as at the first, that is, restore them to full possession of the land again (v 7, 11). Isaiah speaks of the restoration of their judges as at the first (Isa. 1:26)

f All the cities of Judah were to be desolate of man and beast as pictured here. This was literally fulfilled two times: first, following the destruction of Jerusalem, 616 B.C., and again, following the destruction of Jerusalem, 70 A.D. In the future restoration the land will be filled with men and flocks (v 12-13)

g 22 blessings in the restoration:
1 Health and cure (v 6)
2 Abundance of peace and truth
3 Rebuilding of the nation (v 7)
4 Cleansing from iniquity (v 8)
5 Full pardon of all sins
6 Joy, praise, and honor before all nations of the earth (v 9)
7 Abundance of goodness
8 Prosperity for all
9 Joy and gladness of all classes (v 11)
10 Worship of God in the temple
11 Return from captivity (v 7, 11)
12 Flocks in all places (v 12-13)
13 Personal reign of the Messiah (v 15)
14 Judgment and righteousness
15 Salvation of Judah and Jerusalem
16 Dwelling in safety (v 16)
17 David's throne and eternal kingship over his kingdom (v 17-21)
18 Eternal priesthood and sacrifices (v 18-21) 21)
19 Eternal covenant with David (v 20-20 Eternal day and night (v 20)
21 Eternal generations of natural people (v 21)
22 Eternal nation of Israel (v 24-26)

h That good thing was the coming Messiah and full redemption and restoration under Him (v 14-16, 20-21, 24-26)

m See note a, next page, on this verse

4 commands to Jeremiah (35:2):

1 Go to the house of the Rechabites
2 Speak to them
3 Bring them into one of the rooms of the temple
4 Give them wine to drink

On the surface it would seem that God and Jeremiah were enticing men to do wrong by tempting them to drink wine, but in the light of the whole story this is not so. The purpose was merely to teach Judah certain lessons. God knew that the Rechabites would not drink and thereby break their vows and manner of life for generations; and He also knew that Judah had done this very thing for generations. He wanted to point out to Judah the steadfastness of these nomad people, and show the great contrast between them and the Rechabites who had strictly obeyed their earthly father whereas Judah had not obeyed their God, who has been so good and merciful to them regardless of their sinfulness (v 12-19)

4 For thus saith the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el, [a]concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Ju'dah, which are thrown down by the [b]mounts, and by the sword;

5 They come to fight with the Chăl-dē'anş, but it is to [c]fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

(2) Sixteenfold restoration

★6 Behold, [d]I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And I will cause the captivity of Ju'dah and the captivity of Is'ra-el to return, and [e]will build them, as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

9 ¶ And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus saith the LORD; Again there shall be heard in this place, which ye say shall be desolate without man and without beast, even in the [f]cities of Ju'dah, and in the streets of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast,

11 The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the LORD of hosts: for the LORD is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the LORD. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the LORD.

12 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Again in this place, which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and in the places about Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and in the cities of Ju'dah, shall the [g]flocks pass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.

(3) Reign of Messiah: Davidic and Levitic covenants confirmed

14 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that [h]good thing which I have promised unto the house of Is'ra-el and to the house of Ju'dah.

15 ¶ [a]In those days, and at that time, will I cause [b]the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto Dā'vid; and [c]he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 [d]In those days shall [e]Ju'dah be saved, and Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, [f]The LORD our righteousness.

17 ¶ For thus saith the LORD; Dā'vid [g]shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Is'ra-el;

18 Neither [h]shall the priests the Lē'vites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

(4) Davidic covenant confirmed as eternal as the solaric covenant (31:35-40; Gen. 1:14-19)

19 ¶ [i]And the word of the LORD came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

20 Thus saith the LORD; [j]If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season;

21 Then may also my covenant be broken with Dā'vid my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Lē'vites the priests, my ministers.

22 As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of Dā'vid my servant, and the Lē'vites that minister unto me.

(5) Israel confirmed as eternal as the solaric covenant

★23 [k]Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

24 [l]Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the LORD; If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth;

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jā'cob, and Dā'vid my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of A'brā-hăm, Ī'şaac, and Jā'cob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

779 CHAPTER 34

VII Prophecies of the Babylonian captivity (34:1-39:18). 1 Zedekiah's twelvefold overthrow and captivity

THE [m]word which came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, when Něb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king a For a list of these prophecies see note d, v 1 b The Branch of righteousness is none other than Jesus Christ who will come from heaven to fulfil the many prophecies uttered by the prophets since the world began. He is referred to as the Branch in v 15; 23:5; Isa. 4:2; 11:1; Zech. 3:8; 6:12 c The prediction here of a king reigning in righteousness and executing judgment and justice in the earth is the same as in Isa. 32:1

d In those days:
1 Judah will be saved (v 16)
2 Jerusalem will dwell safely

e Note that Judah and Jerusalem are still dealt with, not Israel and Samaria, proving that Judah was representative of all Israel. Sometimes if two different terms are used it is to make clear beyond a doubt that all Israel will share in the restoration of the whole nation to their own land in the latter days (Ezek. 37)

f This will be but one name of the city of Jerusalem (v 16). See 14 future names of Jerusalem, p. 440

g Jesus Christ will be the eternal King of the house of David (Isa. 9:6-7, Lk. 1:32-33). David will also be an eternal king of Israel under the Messiah (note a, 30:9)

h There will be eternal priests and Levites offering up sacrifices and offerings eternally (v 18, 21). See notes on Ezek. 40-46)

i 65th prophecy in Jer. (33:19-22, unfulfilled). Next, v 23

3 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 My covenant with David will never be broken-that he should have a son to reign upon his throne eternally. If My covenant with day and night and with the seasons can be broken, then My covenant with David can also be broken (33:19-21)

2 There will be eternal priests and Levites as My ministers (33:21)

3 I will multiply the seed of David, and the Levites that minister to Me until they cannot be numbered any more than the host of heaven and the sand of the sea (33:22)

Thus a second time in this chapter and many times throughout the Bible, God promises an eternal kingdom, throne, seed, priests, Levites, sacrifices, and generations of natural people (v 15-18, 20-21, 24-26). See Eternal in Index

j If God's covenant with the sun, moon, and stars that regulate day and night and eternal seasons can be broken so that there will never be any more day and night or seasons on earth, then God's covenant with David can also be broken. Since one is eternal, the other is also eternal. If one can fail, the other can fail. God promised that the Solaric covenant would be eternal. Seedtime and harvest, summer and winter, cold and heat, and day and night will not cease as long as the earth exists (Gen. 4:14-19; 8:22). Here it is taken for granted that they are eternal, and so the fact that David will have an eternal throne in God's kingdom, and a Son sitting on it is an eternal doctrine of prophecy (v 20-21, 25-26). David has no throne now, but after the church is raptured God will rebuild the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down and will set it up eternally (Acts 15:13-18). Then Christ will reign over the kingdom of David and establish it forever (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5) k 66th prophecy in Jer. (33:23-26, unfulfilled). Next, 34:1

3 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 If My covenant ceases to exist with day and night and the appointed ordinances of heaven and earth, then will I cast off the seed of Jacob and David, My servant, and I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. In other words: My covenant with David and his seed will be eternal (33:23-26)

2 I will cause their captivity to return (33:26)

3 I will have mercy on them

This is the third time in this chapter that the eternal seasons, throne of Da-

a 67th prophecy in Jer. (34:1-5, fulfilled). Next, v 8

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon (34:2)
2 He will burn it with fire
3 You will not escape out of his hand, but will surely be taken, and delivered into his hand (34:3)
4 Your eyes will see the eyes of the king of Babylon
5 He will speak to you mouth to mouth
6 You will go to Babylon
7 You will not die by the sword (34:4)
8 You will die in peace (34:5)
9 They will burn incense for you at your death as they have done for your fathers, the former kings
10 They will lament you saying, Ah lord

b The burning was perhaps of spices or incenses added to wood as a special honor (v 5) c It was the custom, in wailing for the dead, to repeat over and over again something to call attention to the deceased one. Here it was Ah lord! because he was a lord. If a relative died the lament would be the appropriate one - Ah sister! Ah brother! Ah mother! or Ah father! for instance (v 5; 22:18)

d Lachish and Azekah were fortified cities in the plain toward Egypt, so had to be taken before Jerusalem, lest the Egyptians join Judah and fight against the Babylonians - something which Zedekiah and Judah hoped would take place. Just before Nebuchadnezzar's time Egypt had ruled all the country up to the river Euphrates. Nebuchadnezzar had defeated the Egyptians at the battle of Carchemish on the Euphrates when he came to the throne, so it was entirely possible that they would help Judah against him

e 68th prophecy in Jer. (34:8-22, fulfilled). Next, 35:16

9 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I proclaim a liberty for you - to the sword, the pestilence, and the famine (34:17)
2 I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth (34:18)
3 I will give the men that have transgressed My covenant into the hand of their enemies and those who seek their life (34:18-20)
4 Their dead bodies will be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven and the beasts of the earth (34:20)
5 Zedekiah, king of Judah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and those who seek their life, and into the hand of Babylon's army (34:21)
6 I will command them to return to this city (34:22)
7 They will fight against it and take the city
8 They will burn it with fire
9 I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant

f Zedekiah did not have to make such a covenant, for he was already under covenant obligation to God to do this (Lev. 25:10, 39-46; Dt. 15:12). The covenant was made and obeyed and broken again; and this is what caused the prophecy of this chapter regarding judgment from God (v 10-11, 17)

g Here God called attention to the covenant He had made with Israel when He brought them out of Egypt. Israel did not keep it; and this was why they were in their present trouble, and going into captivity (v 12-22)

Future destruction of Babylon (Isa. 43:14)

Isaiah spoke as if God had already done this, but the actual fulfillment will be when Babylon is destroyed under the 7th vial and the shipmen will lament the destruction of this great city in one hour (v 14; Rev. 16:19; 18:1-24)

5 proofs - future destruction of Babylon:

1 No cry of men in ships went up when Babylon was taken by Cyrus, but such is predicted to happen sometime (Rev. 18:15-19)
2 God will become the actual King of Israel at the 2nd advent of Christ (v 15; 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth of his dominion, and all the people, fought against Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, and against all the cities thereof, [c]saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īs'ra-el; Go and speak to Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and he shall burn it with fire:

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Bāb'ȳ-lon.

4 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah; Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burn [b]odours for thee; and they will lament thee, saying, [c]Ah lord! for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.

6 Then Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet spake all these words unto Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah in Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm,

7 When the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon's army fought against Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, and against all the cities of Jū'dah that were left, against [d]Lā'chish, and against Ā-zē'kah: for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Jū'dah.

2 Zedekiah's righteous decree. (1) Ineffectual

8 ¶ [e]This is the word that came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, after that the king Zĕd-e-kī'ah had [f]made a covenant with all the people which were at Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hē'brew or an Hē'brew-ĕss, go free; that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people, which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.

11 But afterward they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

(2) God's commendation

12 ¶ Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īs'ra-el; [g]I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, out of the house of bondmen, saying,

14 [a]At the end of seven years let ye go every man his brother an Hē'brew, which hath been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And [b]ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name:

(3) God's condemnation: fourteenfold judgment

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, [c]I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they [d]cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,

19 The princes of Jū'dah, and the princes of Jĕ-rȳ'sā-lĕm, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon's army, which are gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Jū'dah a desolation without an inhabitant.

780 CHAPTER 35

3 Sign of the Rechabites. (1) Obedience of the Rechabites

THE word which came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD in the [e]days of Jĕ-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, a See Lev. 25:10, 39-46; Dt. 15:12

b The covenant was entered into for their own advantage, and when it proved to be against them, they broke it. Nebuchadnezzar's siege against Jerusalem was in the 9th year of the reign of Zedekiah who made the covenant with the people to let the slaves go free. When the army came through the country the wealthier people fled to Jerusalem with their households, and the presence of these families with slaves may have given offence to the stricter classes in the city, where the Mosaic law was probably observed more than elsewhere. Furthermore, it was hoped that the slaves, being freed, would help more heartily in resisting the enemy; and so, the agreement was made to avert coming judgment. In the summer of the same year - when the siege was made, the Egyptians advanced to the rescue of Jerusalem; so Nebuchadnezzar withdrew to meet their attack (v 21). The Jews at once forced the slaves back into service, when the Chaldeans had left the city. Then, God sent Jeremiah with His message of rebuke and prediction that the Chaldean army would return to complete the destruction of Jerusalem

c This was a harsh prophecy, but this one act of Israel in breaking God's law regarding slaves was not the only cause of a curse. They had been breaking God's commandments - every one of them - from the day they left Egypt until now, and for all these sins they were to be punished and removed into all the kingdoms of the earth (v 17)

d This was a very ancient method of making a covenant. The two contracting parties slaughtered a victim, cut the body into two parts, and passed between them. The idea was that if one of the parties broke the covenant the same fate awaited him, that of being cut into two pieces - like the calf (v 18). In this instance at least the ones who had passed between the pieces were to be delivered into the hand of the Babylonians and their dead bodies would be eaten by the fowls and beasts (v 19). The city was to be completely destroyed (v 21-22)

e This chapter takes us back at least 10-20 years, to the days of Jehoiakim who reigned 11 years before Zedekiah (v 35; 2 Ki. 23:34-37)

3 No army was destroyed by God when Cyrus took Babylon, but such is predicted by fire and other means at the battle of Armageddon (v 17; Ezek. 38:17-21; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Rev. 19)

4 Verses 19-20 will be literally fulfilled the first time in the Millennium when Christ comes (35:1-7; Ezek. 47; Zech. 14:8)

5 Israel has not yet shown forth God's praise as predicted in v 21

Father Abraham (Isa. 43:27)

This could not refer to Adam who was the father of the whole race, not of the Jews only. It could only refer to Abraham whom the Jews consider the father of their race (Mt. 3:9; Jn. 8:33,39). It would have been out of order to refer to Adam's sin in this case, for the prediction concerned the destruction of the nation of Israel, their city and temple (v 28). To say that Abraham was always righteous and faithful to God and could not be referred to as a sinner is erroneous

7 sins of Abraham in Scripture:

1 Sin in general (Rom. 3:23)
2 Idolatry (Josh. 24:2)
3 Unbelief in leaving the land in time of trial (Gen. 12:10)
4 Unbelief in thinking the Egyptians would kill him when God had sworn that he was to have seed by Sarah. God was obligated to protect him in order to bring this about (Gen. 12:11-13)
5 Deceit (Gen. 12:13, 18-20)
6 Unbelief in seeking to obtain seed through Hagar (Gen. 20:2, 12)
7 Deceit again (Gen. 20:2, 12)

saying,
●2 [d]"Go unto the house of [b]the Rē'chab-ītes, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into [c]one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 [d]Then I took [a]Jā-ăz-a-nī'ah the son of Jĕr-e-mī'ah, the son of Hăb-a-zĭ-nī'ah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rē'chab-ītes;

4 And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hā'nan, the son of Ĭg-da-lī'ah, [a]a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the [g]chamber of [h]Mā-a-sē'iah the son of Shăl'lum, the keeper of the door:

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rē'chab-ītes pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they said, [i]We will drink no wine: for Jŏn'a-dăb the son of Rē'chăb our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever:

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jŏn'a-dăb the son of Rē'chăb our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters;

9 Nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed:

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jŏn'a-dăb our father commanded us.

11 But it came to pass, when Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm for fear of the army of the Chăl-dē'anș, and for fear of the army of the Sўr'ĭ-anș: so we dwell at Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm.

(2) Application to Judah: sins (cp. Isa. 5:7, refs.)

■12 ¶Then came the word of the LORD unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,
●13 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iș'ra-el: Go and tell the men of Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm, [k]Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD.

14 The words of Jŏn'a-dăb the son of Rē'chăb, that he commanded his sons not to drink wine, are performed; for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: notwithstanding I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking; but ye hearkened not unto me.
▸15 I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, [c]Return ye now every man [b]from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: [c]but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.

(3) Judgment on Judah

★16[d]Because the sons of Jŏn'a-dăb the son of Rē'chăb have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them: but this people hath not hearkened unto me:

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Iș'ra-el; Behold, I will bring upon Jū'dah and upon all the inhabitants of Jĕ-rў'sā-lĕm all the evil that I have pronounced against them: [c]because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.

(4) The Rechabic covenant

■18 ¶ And Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto the house of the Rē'chab-ites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iș'ra-el; [f]Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jŏn'a-dăb your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:

19 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iș'ra-el; Jŏn'a-dăb the son of Rē'chăb shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

CHAPTER 36 781

4 Jeremiah's scroll to Jehoiakim (cp. 29:1; 30:2).
(1) The book of judgments written

[h]AND [e]it came to pass in the [h]fourth year of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, that this word came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,
●2 Take thee a [i]roll of a book, and write therein [j]all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Iș'ra-el, and against Jū'dah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, [k]from the days of Jō-sī'ah, even unto this day.

3 [l]It may be that the house of Jū'dah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; [m]that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

4 Then Jĕr-e-mī'ah called Bā'rŭch the son of Nē-rī'ah: and [n]Bā'rŭch wrote from the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

a 4 commands to Jeremiah, p. 778
b The Rechabites were descendants of Hobab, the brother-in-law of Moses, a Kenite tribe who migrated with Israel to Canaan. See Num. 10:29 with Judg. 1:16; 4:11-17; 5:24; 1 Sam. 15:6. They were proselytes to Israel's God and religion and had settled in the wilderness south of Judah (1 Sam. 27:10; 30:29). They persisted in leading the free desert life and in the determination they were finally confirmed by the influence and authority of Jonabab, who lived in Jehu's reign. He was a jealous adherent of Jehovah (2 Ki. 10:15-17), and evidently also a reformer. It is plain that the tribe continued their allegiance to Jehovah, for here God paid them the highest compliment and used them for a lesson to Judah (v 16-19). The object of Jonabab in endeavoring to preserve the nomad habits of his race was probably 2fold:
1 He wished to maintain among them the purer morality and higher standard of desert life as contrasted with that of the city
2 He wanted to maintain their ancient freedom and complete obedience to tribal authority (v 14)
c There were many large rooms in the temple for various purposes (v 3-4; 46:10; 1 Ki. 6:5; 1 Chr. 9:27)
d Then - after Jeremiah had received the commands from God to carry out this program of teaching to Judah, he took Jaazaniah, the son of Jeremiah (another Jeremiah, one of the Rechabite rulers), all his sons, his brethren, and all the house of Rechab and brought them into the room in the temple, and set pots of wine before them, telling them to drink (v 3-5). They refused to drink and told the prophet why (v 6-11). The prophet then applied this information to Judah (v 12-19) men:
e Jaazaniah, Jehovah does hearken. 4
1 A chief Rechabite who brought the Rechabites to Jerusalem for fear of the Babylonian armies (v 11)
2 Son of Maachathite, a Jewish captain who swore allegiance to Gedaliah (2 Ki. 25:23). See Jezaniah (40:8)
3 Son of Shaphan (Ezek. 8:11)
4 Son of Azur (Ezek. 8:11)
f See Man of God, p. 326
g From this we gather that there were rooms in the temple for various ones of the ruling classes, those who needed to maintain offices there. There are 3 such rooms mentioned in this verse (v 4), one being a chamber of the sons of Hanan, identified as Hanani (2 Chr. 16:7). The sons of Hanon could have been his disciples. If so, we can suppose that there was a religious school being held in one of the rooms of the temple. The Hananites were friendly with Jeremiah, and lent him the hall for the purpose of testing the Rechabites (v 4-11). The chamber of princes was perhaps a council-room in which civil rulers met to transact business h Maaseiah was deputy to the high priest at that time (v 4; 21:1; 29:25; 37:3; 52:24; 2 Ki. 25:18). There were really 3 doorkeepers for the outer and inner courts, and the entrance to the temple itself. They were officers of high rank in Israel i 9fold answer of Rechabites:
1 We will not drink wine (v 6)
2 We are under commandment never to drink wine
3 Neither shall we build houses (v 7)
4 Nor sow seed
5 Nor plant vineyards
6 Nor own any vineyards
7 But dwell in tents all our days
8 We have obeyed the voice of our father not to drink wine all our days, and not to build houses, plant vineyards, or sow seeds, but to dwell in tents all our days (v 8-9)
9 We have not stayed in our land because of the armies of the Chaldeans and the Syrians; we have come to Jerusalem to live for a time (v 11)
j Then - after the 9fold answer of the Rechabites regarding strict obedience to their fathers and the tribal customs, Jeremiah gave this message to Judah (v 13): The Rechabites have obeyed the commandments of their father, and even in temptation they would not yield to take wine, but you have not obeyed My voice through My servants, the a God here invited and commanded Judah to return to Him so as to avert the coming judgment, the destruction of their nation (v 15). This shows that up to the last minute He would have delivered them from their enemies if He could see genuine repentance on their part 15):

b 3 requirements to avert judgment (v
1 Turn from your evil way
2 Amend your doings
3 Go not after other gods to serve them
c 2 things Judah would not do:
1 Incline the ear (v 15, 17)
2 Hearken to God
d 69th prophecy in Jer. (35:16-19, fulfilled). Next, 36:27
2 predictions fulfilled:
1 I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them (35:17)
2 Rechab will not want a man to stand before Me forever (35:19)
e This is a repetition of v 15, showing 2 things Judah would not do to avert judgment. They would not hear or obey (note c, above)
f Because of obedience God promised the Rechabites an eternal house (v 18-19). Where they are today is not known, but we can depend on it that they are still here under the providence of God, if they did not become sinful and corrupt since then, like Judah. In that case God would not be under further obligation to them, for His promises and covenants, without exception, have always been and always will be based upon meeting the conditions of righteousness. This Judah and the Rechabites knew full well, and they would naturally accept fulfillment only upon their meeting the terms of obedience (v 18-19). If the Rechabites did continue in obedience then we can expect them to be made known in the days of the Messiah when Israel will come to full obedience and blessing. Travellers bear witness to the existence of a large tribe who claim to be descendants of the Rechabites. In 1913, 25,000 families were found in Bassurah who made this claim g Chs. 36-44 contain mostly historical events connected with a few predictions of Jeremiah. The section gives the history of the prophet before and after the fall of Jerusalem h The 4th year of Jehoiakim takes us back to about 18 years before the destruction of Jerusalem. The date of chs. 32-34 was the 10th year of Zedekiah, about 1 year before the fall of the city (32:1). The message of ch. 35 was also in the days of Jehoiakim, and may have been in the same year of this message in ch. 36, which no doubt was given at the end of the year. The capture of Jerusalem took place early in the 4th year before the writing of Jehoiakim's roll. The humiliation of the king seems to have sunk deep into his heart, and when Jeremiah prophesied extended dominion for Babylon (v 29), his anger knew no bounds. Jeremiah collected his predictions into one volume and sent it to the king in an effort to persuade him to be a true subject of Babylon; but he rejected it and burned it, so another scroll larger than the first book was written (v 4, 10-32)
i A parchment roll, consisting of several skins sewed together, and cut in one breadth, with a piece of wood at each end on which to roll it up (v 2)
j That is, all the prophecies that concerned the king and his kingdom in connection with Babylon k From the 13th year of Josiah to the 4th of Jehoiakim, about 22 years of predictions (v 1; 1:1) l It may be that Judah will now listen and obey - but she did not, for the scroll was burned in the fire (v 20-26). There was nothing else to do, but send judgment m Forgiveness here is shown to be based upon asking God for it and turning from evil (v 4). This is genuine repentance (2 Cor. 10:7; 1 Jn. 1:9) n Baruch was Jeremiah's scribe or secretary who wrote at his direction (v 4) prophets, when I sent them to you to turn you from your sins so as to avoid judgment (v 14-15)

k Question 152. Next, 36:17

a Jeremiah was shut up in the court of the prison (33:1) and could not go into the house of the LORD (v 5), so he sent Baruch, his secretary, to take the newly written scroll to the people in the temple on the fast day (v 6). There would be a great crowd gathered to worship on a day like that and he could get the message to many

b Note the hope of Jeremiah-It may be that the people in the temple will hear the prophecies, present their supplication before Jehovah, and return every one from his evil way, for great is His anger which He has pronounced against this people (v 7) c Baruch obeyed Jeremiah and read all the newly written scroll of prophecies in the Lord's house. This was done in the 5th year and in the 9th month when the people had come out of all the cities of Judah to worship (v 8-10). This was about a year after the scroll was begun; perhaps it took this long to get all the prophecies collected together and in one scroll (v 1, 9). The 9th month would be our December. Jerusalem had been taken by Nebuchadnezzar about a year before and Jehoiakim was subject to Babylon

d He was brother of Ahikam (26:24), and not the Gemariah of 29:3, who was Hilkiah's son

e Shaphan was the scribe in Josiah's day (2 Ki. 22:3-12). At his time Elishama was scribe (v 12, 20-21) unless there was more than one scribe at a time

f Michaiah, the son of Gemariah, heard all the words and saw the effect upon the people. He went down to the king's house where the princes were gathered and told them all the words of the prophecies (v 11-13)

g The princes sent a messenger to Baruch requesting him to bring the scroll and read it to them; and this he did (v 12-15). When they heard the prophecies they inquired as to how he got them; and he explained that he had written them as Jeremiah gave them. The princes then advised him and Jeremiah to hide and let no man know of their hiding place (v 14-19); but (it may be added), how could Jeremiah hide when he was shut up in the court of the prison?

Commands to Israel (Isa. 56:1)

Reference is here made to certain requirements of Israel-things necessary for them to be saved and have a part in the Messiah's kingdom when He comes. Blessing is pronounced on all who keep these commands

6 commands to Israel and others:

1 Keep judgment (v 1)
2 Do justice
3 Keep from polluting the sabbath (v 2)
4 Keep the hand from doing evil
5 Do not let strangers that are joined to Me slander Me (v 3)
6 Do not let the eunuchs complain of their sterility

Messiah's call (Isa. 55:5)

Thou-You (the Messiah) will call a nation that You did not know as You knew Israel; and nations will run to You because of Your God and Your glorification. This refers to the calling and salvation of the Gentiles (v 5; Mt. 21:33-45; Jn. 10:16). Some versions read: King and Lawgiver of the nations; Chief and Lawgiver; Ruler and Leader of the nations; etc.

Rebuilding of Jerusalem (Isa. 54:11)

This evidently refers to the rebuilding of earthly Jerusalem in the Millennium, which city, according to Ezek. 48:30-35 will be over 10 1/2 miles square, with a wall containing 3 gates on each side-a miniature of the heavenly city, New Jerusalem, which will be 1,500 miles square (Rev. 21:9-21). The earthly city will be the eternal city and also the eternal capital of the whole earth, which will be ruled by the Messiah and His saints. It will be made of:

1 Building stones of fair colors (v 11)
2 Foundations of sapphires
3 Windows of agates (v 12)
4 Borders of pleasant stones shut up; [a]I cannot go into the house of the LORD:

6 Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD'S house upon the fasting day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Jū'dah that come out of their cities.

7 [b]It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.

8 And [c]Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah did according to all that Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S house.

9 And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jē-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and to all the people that came from the cities of Jū'dah unto Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm.

10 Then read Bā'ruch in the book the words of Jĕr-e-mī'ah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of [d]Gĕm-a-rī'ah the son of [e]Shā'phan the scribe, in the higher court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house, in the ears of all the people.

(3) Effect upon Michaiah

11 [f]¶When Mi-chā'iah the son of Gĕm-a-rī'ah, the son of Shā'phan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD,

12 Then he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Ē-lĭsh'a-mà the scribe, and Dĕl-a-ī'ah the son of Shĕm-a-ī'ah, and Ĕl'na-thăn the son of Ach'bôr, and Gĕm-a-rī'ah the son of Shā'phan, and Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Hăn-a-nī'ah, and all the princes.

13 Then Mi-chā'iah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Bā'ruch read the book in the ears of the people.

(4) Effect on the princes

14 [g]Therefore all the princes sent Jĕ-hū'dī the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah, the son of Shĕl-e-mī'ah, the son of Cu-shī, unto Bā'ruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Bā'ruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Bā'ruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.

17 And they asked Bā'ruch, saying, Tell us now, [a]How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Bā'ruch answered them, [b]He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with [c]ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Bā'ruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jĕr-e-mī'ah; and let no man know where ye be.

(5) Effect on Jehoiakim: the book destroyed

20 ¶ And [d]they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Ē-lĭsh'a-mà the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king sent Jĕ-hū'dī to fetch the roll: and he took it out of Ē-lĭsh'a-mà the scribe's chamber. And Jĕ-hū'dī read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king sat in the winterhouse in the ninth month: and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to pass, that when Jĕ-hū'dī had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 [e]Nevertheless Ēl'na-thăn and Dĕl-a-ī'ah and Gĕm-a-rī'ah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jĕ-räh'me-el the son of Hăm'-me-lĕch, and Sĕr-a-ī'ah the son of Az'rī-el, and Shĕl-e-mī'ah the son of Ab'de-el, to take Bā'ruch the scribe and Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.

(6) The book rewritten with added judgments: Jehoiakim sentenced

27 [f]¶Then [g]the word of the LORD came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Bā'-ruch wrote at the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the king of Jū'dah hath burned.

29 And thou shalt say to Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm king of Jū'dah, Thus saith the LORD; Thou hast burned this roll, saying, [h]Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Băb'y-lon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm king of Jū'dah; He shall have none to sit upon the throne of Dā'vid: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and a Question 153. Next, v 29

b Here is an example of the prophet speaking and the scribe writing as he heard it direct from the prophet's mouth. These words were a repetition in part of what had been uttered before this for 22 years (v 2), as well as many new prophecies

c The ink of the ancients was made of lampblack or soot, and pulverized charcoal, prepared in gum and water. It was sold in small particles or grains. When needed as ink some of the grains were put into the inkhorn and mixed with water until the substance became like our modern writing fluid. It retained a glossy black color for ages, but could be easily obliterated with sponge and water (v 18)

d After hearing it read, the princes went to Jehoiakim and told him all the words of the book, but left the scroll itself with the scribe (v 20). Jehoiakim then sent a messenger for the scroll and had him read it in his hearing and before the princes with him (v 21). The king sat in his winter house with a fire burning in the fireplace before him; and so, after 3 or 4 leaves were read he took a penknife and cut them in pieces and threw them into the fire. He continued thus until the whole was consumed (v 22-23). This shows the stubborn rebellion of the king and his princes. They paid no more attention to the words of God than they would to the words of a slave e Three men interceded with the king not to burn the scroll, but to no avial (v 25). He was so incensed against the writer and scribe who gave and wrote these prophecies on the scroll that he sent three men to arrest them; but the Lord hid them (v 26)

f Then-after the king had cut up the prophesies with a penknife and burned them in the fire, the word of God came to Jeremiah to rewrite the scroll and add judgment after judgment (v 27-32)

g 70th prophecy in Jer. (36:27-31, fulfilled). Next, 37:6

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 As written in the roll you have burned, the king of Babylon will come and destroy this land and cause both man and beast to cease from it (36:29)

2 You will have none to sit upon the throne of David (36:30)

3 Your dead body will be cast out in the heat of the day and the frost of the night-left unburied in the open field (36:30; note i, 22:19)

4 I will punish him and his servants for their iniquity (36:31)

5 I will bring upon him and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them

h Question 154. Next, 37:17

Returning to the Lord (Isa. 55:7)

Returning to the Lord implies that all men are backsliders and were one time in harmony with the Lord. When? When the whole race was in grace before Adam fell. Adam and Eve were the whole race and when they sinned it backslid; now it must return to God (as individuals) to be saved. The Heb. word for return is shuwb, to turn back with the idea to return to the starting point. It is often trans. again, which further confirms the fact of doing something a second time and not the first. Its first use shows that man came from the dust and will return to dust in death (Gen. 3:19). So here, man came from God and should return to Him in repentance to be reconciled to Him again. Note the use of the word in reference to returning or coming again to a former state (Gen. 16:9; 31:3, 13; Dt. 30:2-3, 8)

Future of Israel (Isa. 54:17)

Here God speaks of creating the smith who makes weapons of war and also the waster who uses such weapons; but He promises that in the restoration of Israel and Jerusalem under the Messiah no weapon formed to destroy them will prosper. Not even a tongue speaking against them in judgment will prosper, but they shall condemn and subdue all their enemies (v 16-17)

a Then-after he was commanded to write another scroll to replace the writing Jehoakim burned in the fire, Jeremiah made one and gave it to Baruch, the scribe, who wrote in it from the mouth of the prophet, all the words of the first one besides many other curses (v 32)

b Chs. 37-39 cover the whole length of the reign of Zedekiah, 11 years. This king was favorable toward Jeremiah but he feared the princes who wanted to kill him. He did, however, manage to protect the prophet. Chs. 37-38 deal mainly with the time during the siege of Jerusalem, and ch. 39 with the overthrow of the city. Chs. 40-45 deal with events after the destruction of the city

c Coniah, Jeconiah or Jehoiachin, son of Jehoiakim, reigned only 3 months in Jerusalem before he was taken captive to Babylon; then Zedekiah reigned for 11 years before the final captivity (v 1; 2 Ki. 24:6-20). Coniah is so-called in v 1; 22:24, 28

d The reign of Coniah was one of wickedness, as was that of his father, Jehoiakim. Neither listened to the word of the Lord through Jeremiah (v 2)

e Zedekiah took a different attitude toward Jeremiah from that of the two preceding kings. He sent messengers to the prophet asking for his prayers. This was at a time before Jeremiah was shut up in prison (v 3-4). The king expected Jeremiah to pray for the city to be spared as Isaiah had done (Isa. 37:6), but this was not the will of God

f This verse reveals the only ray of hope for Judah during Zedekiah's reign. Pharaoh-Hophra came to help Zedekiah during the siege of Jerusalem (Ezek. 17:15-17); and Nebuchadnezzar withdrew from the city to fight with the Egyptians. Then Israel had a temporary relief, but miserably abused it (v 5; 34:11). Pharaoh was defeated by Nebuchadnezzar and Egypt was subdued. Then Nebuchadnezzar came back against Jerusalem, in the 9th year of Zedekiah, as warned and predicted by Jeremiah (v 5-14)

g Then-when the Babylonians had raised the siege of Jerusalem and the city had experienced temporary relief, Jeremiah uttered this prophecy (v 6-10)

h 71st prophecy in Jer. (37:6-10, fulfilled). Next, v 17

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Pharaoh's army which is come out of Egypt to help you will return to their own land (37:7)

2 The Chaldeans will come again, and fight against this city and take it

3 They will burn it with fire (37:8)

4 The Chaldeans will not depart from you permanently until you are destroyed (37:9)

5 Even though Pharaoh had smitten the whole army of Chaldeans fighting with you, and there remained but the wounded, yet they would rise up against you, destroy you, and burn this city with fire (37:10)

2nd advent of Christ (Isa. 54:10)

This will be fulfilled literally, for the mount of Olives will be split and removed along with other mountains and hills at the 2nd advent of Christ and when God makes an outlet to the Dead Sea (v 10; Ezek. 47; Zech. 14:1-5). The idea seemingly expressed here is: Although the mountains and hills be removed, My kindness shall not be removed from Israel, neither shall the covenant of peace be removed from them (v 10)

Israel the wife of God (54:5)

Israel is often spoken of as a women and as the wife of Jehovah (v 4-6). The church is never spoken of as a woman or the bride of Christ. The church is referred to as a man (Eph. 2:14-15; 4:13) and part of the bride of Christ, which is the heavenly city, New Jerusalem (Rev. 21:2, 9, notes). This wife of Jehovah is the woman of Rev. 12. Here God speaks of forsaking her for the moment because of her sins; but He will again bring her back to Himself to remain thus forever (v 4-10). This is a truth that is greatly enlarged upon in Hosea, which see in the night to the frost.

31 And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and upon the men of Jū'dah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them; but they hearkened not.

32 ¶ Then took Jĕr-e-mī'ah another roll, and gave it to Bā'ruch the scribe, the son of Nē-rī'ah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah all the words of the book which Je-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

782 CHAPTER 37

5 Reign of Zedekiah (37:1-39:18). (1) Accession and character

AND king Zĕd-e-kī'ah the son of Jō-sī'ah reigned instead of Cō-nī'ah the son of Je-hoi'a-kim, whom Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'y-lon made king in the land of Jū'dah.

2 But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah.

(2) Zedekiah requests prayer

3 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king sent Je-hū'cal the son of Shĕl-e-mī'ah and Zĕph-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah the priest to the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us.

4 Now Jĕr-e-mī'ah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

(3) Chaldeans depart Jerusalem

5 Then Phā'raōh's army was come forth out of E'gўpt: and when the Chăl-dē'anş that besieged Je-ru'sā-lĕm heard tidings of them, they departed from Je-ru'sā-lĕm.

(4) Prophecy of their return

6 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el; Thus shall ye say to the king of Jū'dah, that sent you unto me to enquire of me; Behold, Phā'raōh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to E'gўpt into their own land.

8 And the Chăl-dē'anş shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the LORD; Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chăl-dē'anş shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chăl-dē'anş that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

(5) Jeremiah's fifth persecution (cp. 11:18). A Falsely accused and arrested

11 ¶ And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chăl-dē'anş was broken up from Je-ru'sā-lĕm for fear of Phā'raōh's army, 12 Then Jĕr-e-mī'ah went forth out of Je-ru'sā-lĕm to go into the land of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Ī-rī'jah, the son of Shĕl-e-mī'ah, the son of Hăn-a-nī'ah; and he took Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chăl-dē'anş.

14 Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah, It is false; I fall not away to the Chăl-dē'anş. But he hearkened not to him: so Ī-rī'jah took Jĕr-e-mī'ah, and brought him to the princes.

B Cast into a dungeon

15 Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jĕr-e-mī'ah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jŏn'a-than the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 ¶ When Jĕr-e-mī'ah was entered into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jĕr-e-mī'ah had remained there many days;

C Jeremiah released

17 Then Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king sent, and took him out: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jĕr-e-mī'ah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Bāb'y-lon.

D Jeremiah pleads for mercy

18 Moreover Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto king Zĕd-e-kī'ah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Bāb'y-lon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jŏn'a-than the scribe, lest I die there.

E Confined to the prison court

21 Then Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king commanded that they should a Then-when the Chaldeans had lifted the siege of Jerusalem for fear of the army of Egypt, Jeremiah went out of the city hoping to go into the land of Benjamin to get away from the people who had been persecuting him (v 11-12). A certain captain seeing him accused him of going out to the Chaldeans (v 13). Though Jeremiah denied it he was taken before the princes who smote him and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan, the scribe, where he remained many days (v 14-16)

b Then-when Zedekiah knew of the imprisonment of Jeremiah, he took him out of the prison and brought him secretly to his palace, and inquired of him the word of the Lord (v 17)

c Questions 155-157. Next, 38:15

d 72nd prophecy in Jer. (37:17, fulfilled). Next, 38:2. The one prediction was that Zedekiah would be delivered to the king of Babylon; and it was truly fulfilled (2 Ki. 25:4-10)

e Jeremiah plead for his life (v 18-20), and was granted the privilege of being transferred from the prison in the house of Jonathan to the court of the prison (v 21)

Jeremiah's prison experiences:

1 Put in prison on false charges (37:11-15)

2 Released, but confined to the court of the prison (37:21)

3 Imprisoned again in a miry dungeon (38:1-6)

4 Released again as before (38:13-28)

5 Carried away in chains by Nebuchadnezzar (40:1)

6 Released from chains in Ramah (40:1-4)

4 things Messiah will be to Israel (Isa. 55:4):

1 Covenant maker (v 3; 42:6; 49:8; Mt. 26:28; Heb. 8:6)

2 Witness (v 4; Jn. 5:31-37; 8:18; Rev. 1:5)

3 Leader (v 4). The Heb. nagid means commander; one who occupies the front; a civil, military, and religious leader; captain; chief; governor; noble; prince; chief ruler

4 Commander (v 4). The Heb. tsayah means to constitute; enjoin; appoint; bid; give charge; command; set in order; send a messenger. Here it refers to the Messiah being the chief governor, the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, and having complete oversight and responsibility over all things on earth and over all His people

3 commands to the wicked (Isa. 55:7):

1 Forsake his wicked ways (v 7)

2 Forsake his unrighteous thoughts

3 Return to the Lord

These things consitutue genuine repentance, the kind that needs not to be repented of (2 Cor. 7:9-10). As long as one continues in his wicked ways and unrighteous thoughts he is still in rebellion and sin and is not returning to God with the whole heart. He still commits sins that have the death penalty and therefore continually incurs such penalty of the broken law, living under the death sentence (Mk. 6:19-21; Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21)

When God cannot be found (Isa. 55:6):

This suggests a time when God cannot be found

6 times sinners cannot find God:

1 When they turn their hearts away from Him and will not hear (Dt. 30:17-18; 1 Sam. 28:6; 1 Chr. 10:13-14; Jer. 11:10-12; Ps. 95:7-11; Mt. 13:13-15)

2 When they mock God and scorn at His dealings until calamity comes (Pr. 1:23-31)

3 When they become too proud and stubborn to humble themselves before Him (Num. 16)

4 When they neglect to settle all matters with Him until judgment falls (Acts 5:1-11)

5 When they die in sin (Heb. 9:27)

6 When they blaspheme the Holy Spirit (Mt. 12:31-32)

a Then-when Jeremiah had made another prophecy and the princes had heard it, they demanded his life (v 1-4) b 73rd prophecy in Jer. (38:2-3, fulfilled). Next, v 17

1 He that remains in the city will die by the sword, famine, and pestilence (38:2)

2 He that goes forth to the Chaldeans will live

3 This city will surely be given to the army of the king of Babylon (38:3) c The argument of the princes was that Jeremiah's predictions of the city being taken by Nebuchadnezzar only weakened the resistence of the defenders, and they were right; but this was the divine will, because of their many sins. They looked on Jeremiah as being unpatriotic and demanded the death penalty; but this even being granted could not stay the doom of Judah. Putting the prophet to death would only hasten the doom and make it more bitter for those who were reaping what they had sowed. Jeremiah loved his people as much as anyone else; he had wept over them and poured out his very soul in seeking to avert judgment; but the people, not Jeremiah, were the ones to avert it by turning to God. If this price was too high, then judgment had to come-and it did. God could no longer tolerate them and their rebellion and multiplied sins

d Then-upon the demand of the princes to kill Jeremiah, the king submitted and turned him over to them, pleading, like many other weak rulers that the king is not one "that can do anything against you" (v 5)

e Then-when Jeremiah was turned over to them to die, they cast him into the miry dungeon of Malchaiah which was in the court of the prison. They let him down with ropes and left him to sink into the mire (v 6). From Jeremiah's standpoint it was better to sink into this kind of mire than into the mire of sin that the princes were sunk in f The dungeon was no doubt a large cistern such as dug in connection with every house. Jerusalem was well supplied with such places so that water was never a problem in any siege. They were so large that when empty they could be used as prisons (Zech. 9:11). Jeremiah was put into the nearest cistern to die of starvation

g Ebed-melech, the king's slave, an Ethiopian, heard of Jeremiah's plight and plead with the king to rescue him. Being moved to act in spite of his past weakness he gave the slave 30 men to get Jeremiah out of the cistern. Perhaps he expected opposition, and this was the reason for so many (v 7-13)

A modern fallacy (Isa. 55:6)

One of the modern fallacies is that men are not required to seek the Lord; that they are not required to repent, pray, call upon God, confess, or do anything else besides believe in order to be saved from sin. The truth is that all these terms are used many times in Scripture to tell men what they must do to find God, as in the following:

1 Seek (v 6; Dt. 4:29; 1 Chr. 16:11; 28:9; 2 Chr. 7:14; 15:2; Amos 5:6; Mt. 6:33; Acts 15:17; 17:27; Heb. 11:6)

2 Repent (Mt. 3:2; 4:17; Mk. 1:15; 6:12; Lk. 13:1-5; Acts 2:38; 3:19; 17:30; 26:20; 2 Cor. 7:8; Rev. 2:5, 16)

3 Call upon God (v 6; Joel 2:32; Zeph. 3:9; Acts 2:21; Rom. 10:9-14)

4 Confess (Pr. 28:13; Mt. 3:6; Mk. 1:5; Rom. 10:9-10; 1 Jn. 1:9)

5 Pray (2 Chr. 7:14; Lk. 18:10-14; Acts 8:22 (see point 3, above)

6 Humble self (2 Chr. 7:14; Mt. 18:3-4; 23:12; Lk. 14:14; Jas. 4:10)

7 Hear (Mt. 10:14; 11:15; 13:13-15; Jn. 12:47; Rom 10:9-14)

8 Obey (Rom. 2:4-8; Gal. 3:1; 5:7; 2 Th. 1:8; Heb. 5:9; 1 Pet. 4:17)

When one truly believes it means that he does these and all the other things required by the gospel (Rom. 10:9-10) commit Jĕr-e-mī'ah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jĕr-e-mī'ah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAPTER 38 783

F Jeremiah accused by the princes: death penalty demanded

THEN Shĕph-a-tī'ah the son of Măt'tan, and Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Pāsh'ūr, and Jū'cal the son of Shĕl-e-mī'ah, and Pāsh'ūr the son of Măl-chī'ah, heard the words that Jĕr-e-mī'ah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 *b*Thus saith the LORD, He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chăl-dē'anş shall live; for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes *c*said unto the king, We beseech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.

G Delivered to the princes: is cast into a second dungeon

5 *d*Then Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 *e*Then took they Jĕr'e-mī'ah, and cast him into the dungeon of Măl-chī'ah the son of Hăm'me-lĕch, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jĕr-e-mī'ah with cords. And in the *f*dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jĕr-e-mī'ah sunk in the mire.

H Rescued by an Ethiopian: kept in the prison court

7 ¶ Now when *g*Ē'bed-mĕ'lech the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jĕr-e-mī'ah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Bĕn-ja-mĭn;

8 Ē'bed-mĕ'lech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ē'bed-mĕ'lech the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 *a*So Ē'bed-mĕ'lech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jĕr-e-mī'ah.

12 And Ē'bed-mĕ'lech the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an said unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jĕr-e-mī'ah did so.

13 So they drew up Jĕr-e-mī'ah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jĕr-e-mī'ah remained in the court of the prison.

I Private conference with Zedekiah: pleads for mercy

14 ¶ *b*Then Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king sent, and took Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

15 *c*Then Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto Zĕd-e-kī'ah, If I declare it unto thee, *d*wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king sware secretly unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

J Prophecy of conditional mercy (cp. Isa. 1:19, refs.)

17 *e*Then said Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto Zĕd-e-kī'ah, *f*Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Iş'ra-el; If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the king of Băb'ў-lon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house:

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Băb'ў-lon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anş, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 And Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king said unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chăl-dē'anş, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.

20 But Jĕr-e-mī'ah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me:

22 And, behold, all the women that are left in the king of Jū'dah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Băb'ў-lon's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away a The method of rescue here was the same as would be used today under like circumstances. Old clothes were put for padding under his arms so the rope lifting him out would not hurt him unduly. He remained in the court of the prison where he had been before (v 11-13)

b Then-when Jeremiah had been rescued by the Ethiopian and had been cleaned up, the king sent for him to come into the third entry in the house of the Lord. He asked the prophet to tell him the truth and all the truth (v 14). This was exactly what he had been doing all the time, so it was an easy task

c Then-upon the request of Zedekiah, Jeremiah told the facts and made him swear not to kill him for telling the truth. To this Zedekiah agreed (v 15-16)

d Questions 158-159. Next, 40:14

e Then-when Zedekiah had vowed to spare his life if he told the truth, Jeremiah told Zedekaih the word of God and gave him the only advice that would have saved the king and many people from the deaths and suffering they had to endure later for not following the instructions (v 17-23)

f 74th prophecy in Jer. (38:17-23, fulfilled). Next, 39:15

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 If you will not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then this city shall be given into their hands (38:17-18)

2 They will burn it with fire (38:18)

3 You will not escape

4 All the women that are left in your house will be brought forth to the princes of the king of Babylon (38:22)

5 The women will say, Your friends have set you on, and have prevailed against you; your feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back

6 They will bring out all your wives and your children to the Chaldeans (38:23)

7 You will not escape out of their hand, but will be taken by the king of Babylon

8 You will cause this city to be burned with fire

There were some other predictions here that would have been fulfilled if Zedekiah had obeyed the word of the Lord, but since he did not, only those above are fulfilled. Had he gone out to the king of Babylon he would have avoided blindness, the city would not have been burned with fire, his sons would not have been killed, he and all his house would have lived (v 17), the Jews that had already surrendered to Babylon would not have delivered him up, and it would have been well with him (v 20). Surely surrender would have been the wise choice. Instead his resistence was so stubborn that it enraged the Babylonians and made them determine to take vengeance on the king and his household and to burn the city

God of the Messiah (Isa. 55:5)

Note here that Jehovah is mentioned as the God of the Messiah, so they could not be the same person, even though the Messiah is also called Jehovah in other places (Gen. 19:24; Ps. 110:1, 5). Jesus called Jehovah My God (Jn. 20:17). Thus repeatedly two and three distinct persons are referred to as God

14 facts about Jehovah (Isa. 57:15):

1 He is longsuffering and patient with those in rebellion (v 11)
2 He is faithful to warn men of evil results of rebellion (v 12)
3 He predicts blessings upon those who trust in Him (v 13-19)
4 He is the High and lofty One (v 15)
5 He inhabits eternity
6 His name is Holy
7 He dwells in a high and holy place
8 He also dwells with the contrite and the humble
9 He promises to revive them
10 He will not contend forever (v 16)
11 He is not always angry
12 He retires from wrong-doing
13 He created the souls of men
14 He will heal, revive, restore comforts, and create peace in the righteous, but permit the wicked to suffer loss of these things (v 18-21)

a This was to be fulfilled on condition that he would not go out to the Chaldeans. Should he go out before they became incensed by the stubborn resistence of the city their lives would be spared and the city not burned (v 17-23)

b Then-after Jeremiah had told the king the truth about what was to happen and how he could avoid much of the trouble coming upon his people and the city of Jerusalem, Zedekiah appealed to the prophet to keep these words to himself so that his life would be spared. He told Jeremiah what to say to the princes should they ask what the two had talked about (v 24-26); and so, when they came asking about the matter, the king's advice was followed and it was not known (v 27)

c This measure of truth Jeremiah told the princes; and no lie was told (v 26-27). They seemed satisfied with the answer, so instead of demanding his life they were content to allow him to be shut up in the court of the prison, thus sparing him from being put back into the cistern to die (v 28)

d In the 10th month of the 9th year of the reign of Zedekaih, Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem to besiege it. This was after he had left the city temporarily because of the Egyptian army coming to oppose him. He had now conquered Egypt and come back to complete the conquest of Judah, Moab, Ammon, Edom and other countries. In the 4th month of the 11th year of Zedekiah the city was taken. The last siege lasted 16 months(v 1-2). A more complete date is given in 54:4-6-the 10th day of the 9th year; and the 9th day of the 4th month of the 11th year the city was broken up e 4 princes of Babylon named (v 3):

1 Nergal-sharezer
2 Samgar-nebo
3 Sar-sechim, Rab-saris (the last word meaning Chief of the Chamberlains)
4 Nergal-sharezer, Rabmag (the last word meaning Chief of the Physicians or Chief of the Magi)

f How many other princes there were is not stated, but all came into the city and sat in the middle gate (v 3). When Zedekiah saw them and all the men of war from Babylon inside Jerusalem, he and his men fled by night by the way of the king's garden and went toward the plains (v 4). The Chaldean army pursued them, and being on swift horses overtook them in the plains of Jericho (v 5)

Election (Isa. 45:4)

In Scripture there is not the slightest reference to an election of God whereby one person is chosen to be saved and another is not. There is no teaching that a man is saved because of God's choice alone; there must also be the choice of the individual to meet God's terms of salvation. It is the plan of God that is elected, chosen, foreknown, and predestined -not the individual or national choice of man to conform to that plan. The plan is the same for all alike; and everyone is invited, chosen, elected, foreknown, and predestined to salvation, without exception on the sole basis of the individual's choice and total conformity to the gospel, to the end of life; otherwise, one will be lost, and there is no exception, nor can there be an exception to this, the divine plan. God's part in salvation for all men has been completed, and whoever meets His terms will be saved. The whole program of salvation is simply that of becoming born again-becoming a new creature in Christ (Mt. 18:3; Jn. 3:1-8, 14:18; 2 Cor. 5:17-18), and of living soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world ever afterward (Gal. 5:18-21, 24; Tit. 2:11-14; 1 Jn. 1:7; 2:29; 3:5-10; 5:1-4, 18). If one commits sin after becoming born again he must repent and turn from sin again or he incurs the death penalty like all other rebels (1 Jn. 1:9; 2:1-2). No man who lives or dies in sin will be saved (Mt. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:29-32; 8:1-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:

23 [a]So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chăl-dē'anş: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Băb'ў-lon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

K Zedekiah fears the princes

●24 ¶[b]Then said Zĕd-e-kī'ah unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.
●25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king said unto thee:
26 Then thou shalt [c]say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jŏn'a-than's house, to die there.
27 Then came all the princes unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

L Jeremiah's continued imprisonment until the captivity

28 So Jĕr-e-mī'ah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jĕ-ru̯sā-lĕm was taken: and he was there when Jĕ-ru̯sā-lĕm was taken.

CHAPTER 39 784

(6) The final captivity of Judah (52:4-17; 2 Ki. 25:1-7; 2 Chr. 36:17-21).

A Jerusalem taken

[d]IN the ninth year of Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the tenth month, came Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon and all his army against Jĕ-ru̯'sā-lĕm, and they besieged it.
2 And in the eleventh year of Zĕd-e-kī'ah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.
3 And all the princes of the king of Băb'ў-lon came in, and sat in the middle gate, [e]even Nĕr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Sām'gär-nĕ'bō, Sär-sĕ'chim, Răb'-sa-rĭs, Nĕr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Răb'-măg,/with all the residue of the princes of the king of Băb'ў-lon.
4 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain.

B Judgment on Zedekiah

5 But the Chăl-dē'anş' army pursued after them, and overtook Zĕd-e-kī'ah in the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō: and when they had taken him, [e]they brought him up to Nĕb-u-chad-nĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon to Rĭb'lah in the land of Hă'math, where he gave judgment upon him.
6 [b]Then the king of Băb'ў-lon slew the sons of Zĕd-e-kī'ah in Rĭb'lah before his eyes: also the king of Băb'ў-lon slew all the nobles of Jū'dah.
7 Moreover he put out Zĕd-e-kī'ah's eyes, and bound him with chains, to [c]carry him to Băb'ў-lon.

C Jerusalem destroyed

8 ¶ And the [d]Chăl-dē'anş burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jĕ-ru̯sā-lĕm.

D Final deportation (52:28-30)

9 [e]Then Nĕb'u-zär-ā'dan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Băb'ў-lon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.

E A remnant left (cp. Isa. 1:9, refs.)

10 But Nĕb'u-zär-ā'dan the captain of the guard left of [f]the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Jū'dah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

F Jeremiah spared (15:11)

11 ¶ Now Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon gave [a]charge concerning Jĕr-e-mī'ah to Nĕb'u-zär-ā'dan the captain of the guard, saying, ●12 Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.
13 So [h]Nĕb'u-zär-ā'dan the captain of the guard sent, and Nĕb-u-shăs'ban, Răb'-sa-rĭs, and Nĕr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Răb'-măg, and all the king of Băb'ў-lon's princes;
14 Even they sent, and took Jĕr-e-mī'ah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

G Message to the Ethiopian

●15 ¶Now the word of the LORD came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying, ●16 Go and speak to Ē'bed-mĕ'lech the Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-an, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iş'ra-el; Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.
17 But I will deliver thee in a A fulfillment of seeing the king of Babylon eye to eye and speaking to him mouth to mouth, as predicted in 32:4; 34:3

b This slaying of his sons and the nobles of Judah would not have taken place if Zedekiah had obeyed the word of the Lord through Jeremiah which predicted that if he would surrender, all would be spared. Had he co-operated thus the city would not have been burned and he would not have been made blind (38:17-23)

c It had been predicted that he would be taken to Babylon, but he would not see Babylon (34:3; Ezek. 12:13)

d All this destruction came about because of one man's stubbornness and rebellion against the word of the Lord (v 8 with 38:17, 23)

e Then the others besides the ones that were to die with the sword, the famine, and the pestilence were taken captive to Babylon to fulfil the many predictions of the prophets (v 9)

f The extremely poor, those not considered fit to be taken captive, or those who owned nothing at all in Judah, were left in the land and given vineyards and fields to support them (v 10)

g Jeremiah received special treatment from his captors. Nebuchadnezzar charged the captain of the guard to take him, do no harm to him, look well to him, and do all that he requested (v 11-12)

h Here we have another list of the princes of Babylon (v 13. Cp. with v 3). These took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison and committed him to Gedaliah to take him home and to be permitted to live among the people left in the land (v 14)

i 75th prophecy in Jer. (39:15-18, fulfilled). Next, 42:9

6 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will bring upon this city all the evil that I have pronounced (39:16)
2 My words shall be accomplished in that day before you
3 I will deliver you (Ebed-melech the Ethiopian) in that day (39:17)
4 You will not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid
5 I will surely deliver you (38:18)
6 You will not fall by the sword, but your life will be a prey to you

19-21; Col. 3:5-10). See Backsliding in Index

The word election is used in connection with Israel as a chosen nation with but one exception (1 Th. 1:4). In Rom. 9 it deals with the choice of God in Jacob over Esau; and all such individual choices of God are based upon the disposition and attitude of the individual in conforming to Him and His will. Not even Jacob would have been chosen if he had behaved as Esau toward God. One becomes a special subject of God's dealings when he chooses to be and as long as he chooses to be. As long as one rebels against the choice all must make to be saved, no benefits of the election of God can be made manifest to him

The word elect also refers to Israel as the chosen nation of God in all scriptures other than Lk. 18:7; Rom. 8:33; Col. 3:10; Tit. 1:1; 2 Jn. 1, 13 where it can be understood as pertaining to all Jews and Gentiles who conform to the predestined plan of God. Thus, Scripture makes it clear that only those who meet the terms of such a plan become the elect of God to share the blessings thereof; and those who choose not to conform to it will receive the predestined curses of rebellion. These simple facts should answer all questions on election, predestination, foreknowledge and like subjects. Truly God is just and the justifier of him that believeth, and the judge of him that believeth not, as stated in Scripture (Mt. 16:15-16; Lk. 13:1-5; Jn. 3:16-18; 1 Tim. 2:4-5; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17; etc.). See Election and Predestination in Index

a This shows how God rewards those who put their trust in Him, and repays for showing kindness to His prophets, as did this Ethiopian (v 18; 38:13)

b The word of God to men is more than predictions of things to come, as clearly demonstrated here. Even prophecy, as explained in 1 Cor. 14:3, is speaking to men to edification, exhortation, and comfort. These chapters (40-44), containing messages to the remnant left in the land, very few predictions in them, but what is written is as much the word of the Lord as the predictions. The Jews regarded history as the word of the Lord also, when written by an inspired prophet; and so their historical books are called the early prophets. Actually, inspiration guarantees the genuineness and authenticity of the history of the Bible as well as prophecy and all should be considered the Word of God

c Jeremiah was, according to this, led away captive along with all other prisoners in chains to Ramah where the captives were collected and examined (v 1). He was singled out and separated from all the others because of his predictions against Judah and Jerusalem which were favorable to the king of Babylon in this war (v 2) d Note this speech of Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard. He spoke of the predictions which God had given and how they had been fulfilled to the letter because of sin (v 2-3). He took the chains off Jeremiah and invited him to go to Babylon with him and assured him he would be well treated there, if he saw fit to do so; otherwise he made the prophet free to go to Gedaliah and remain with the remnant in the land, or go elsewhere if he wished. After giving Jeremiah food and reward, he let him go (v 4-5), and he chose to remain among the remnant in the land (v 6)

e Evidently several captains in the army of Zedekiah had escaped the Chaldeans and now they were coming to Gedaliah, the new governor of the land. Five captains are named and there were others unnamed. They and their men were welcomed by Gedaliah and encouraged to settle in the land and be subject to Babylon (v 7-10). One of them -Ishmael, proved to be a betrayer and a murderer of the governor, fulfilling a plot of Baalis, king of Ammon (v 14; 41:1-2)

Jeremiah (1:1)

Jeremiah - Jehovah is high, Jehovah raises up or launches out. 6 Jeremiah's:
1 The prophet (name used 131 times in this book compared to 16 times Isaiah is used in his book)
2 A man of Libnah (2 Ki. 23:31; 24:18; Jer. 52:1)
3 A Rechabite (Jer. 35:3)
4 A man of Manasseh (1 Chr. 4:24)
5 A Benjamite (1 Chr. 12:4)
6 A man of Gad (1 Chr. 12:10)

1st prophecy in Jeremiah (1:4-12)

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 You will go to all that I will send you to (1:7)
2 Whatsoever I command you will speak
3 I will deliver you (1:8)
4 I have put My words in your mouth (1:9)
5 I have this day set you over the nations and over kingdoms, to root out, pull down, destroy, throw down, build, and plant (1:10)

2nd prophecy in Jeremiah (1:13-19)

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Out of the north an evil will come that will break forth upon the inhabitants of the land of Judah (1:14)
2 I will call all the kingdoms of the north and they will come and set their thrones in the gates of Jerusalem and against the cities of Judah (1:15)
3 I will utter my judgments against them because of all their wickedness, and because they have forsaken Me, have burned incense to other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands (1:16)

VIII Prophecies to the remnant (40:1-45:5; 2 Ki. 25:22-26; Isa. 1:9, refs.).

1 Jeremiah liberated

THE word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, after that Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard had let him go from Rā'mah, [c]when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm and Jū'dah, which were carried away captive unto Băb'ў-lon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jĕr-e-mī'ah, and said unto him, [d]The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Băb'ў-lon, come; and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Băb'ў-lon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, whom the king of Băb'ў-lon hath made governor over the cities of Jū'dah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jĕr-e-mī'ah unto Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam to Mĭz'pah; and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

2 Regathering of the Jews

7 ¶Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Băb'ў-lon had made Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Băb'ў-lon;

8 Then they came to Gĕd-a-lī'ah to Mĭz'pah, even Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah, and Jō-hā'nan and Jŏn'a-than the sons of Kā-rē'ah, and Sĕr-a-ī'ah the son of Tăn'hu-mĕth, and the sons of Ĕ'phāi the Nĕ-tŏph'a-thīte, and Jĕz-a-nī'ah the son of a Mā-ăch'a-thīte, they and their men.

9 And [a]Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chăl-dē'ans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Băb'ў-lon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mĭz'pah, to serve the Chăl'dē'ans, which will come unto us: but ye, [b]gather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 [c]Likewise when all the Jews that were in Mō'ab, and among the Am'mon-ites, and in Ĕ'dom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Băb'ў-lon had left a remnant of Jū'dah, and that he had set over them Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan;

12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Jū'dah to Gĕd-a-lī'ah, unto Mĭz'pah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

3 Plot against Gedeliah

13 ¶Moreover Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gĕd-a-lī'ah to Mĭz'pah,

14 And said unto them, [e]Dost thou certainly know that [f]Bā'a-lis the king of the Am'mon-ites hath sent Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah to slay thee? But Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam believed them not.

15 Then Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah spake to Gĕd-a-lī'ah in Mĭz'pah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant in Jū'dah perish?

16 But Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam said unto Jō-hā-nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ish'ma-el.

CHAPTER 41 786

4 Plot successful

NOW it came to pass in the [g]seventh month, that Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah the son of Ĕ-lĭsh'a-mā, of the seed royal, and the princes of the king, even [h]ten men with him, came unto Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam to Mĭz'pah; and there they did eat bread together in Mĭz'pah.

2 Then arose Ish'ma-el the son of Nĕth-a-nī'ah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Ă-hī'kam the son of Shā'- a Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, had evidently opposed the war and rebellion of Zedekiah against Nebuchadnezzar. For this he was rewarded by being trusted as governor of the land, after Babylon had fully destroyed Jerusalem and broken the power of Judah. He advised these captains and all the other Jews to remain in the land and serve Nebuchadnezzar that it might be well with them (v 9). He made his headquarters at Mizpah located north of Jerusalem near Anathoth (v 10; 41:5-9; Josh. 18:26; 1 Sam. 7:16; 10:17; 1 Ki. 15:22). This place was the scene of many events in Israel. Asa's fortress was here (41:9-10); and it was here where Sennacherib, king of Assyria, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and Titus, the Roman conqueror of Jerusalem, got their first view of the city

b The few Jews left in the land had the best of the vineyards and fields and other things in Judah, and gathered wine, summer fruits, and oil in abundance (v 10) c The Jews also that had fled to Moab, Ammon, and Edom, come back to Judah and helped make up the remnant which had the entire land to themselves. According to prophecy given by God, through Jeremiah, they would be blessed abundantly, delivered out of the hand of the king of Babylon, and made the nucleus around which the Jews would gather at the end of the captivity, if they would remain in the land and be satisfied to serve Babylon for the 70 years Judah was to be under the Chaldeans before being permitted to return to the homeland (41:9-22) d The captains who came to Gedaliah, as in v 7-9, except Ishmael, came to him at Mizpah and warned him of the plot against his life, but he believed them not. One even volunteered to kill Ishmael, but was forbidden to do so, for the governor trusted him completely (v 13-16)

f Baalis, king of Ammon, was behind the plot to kill Gedaliah (v 14). What he hoped to gain by this is not stated. As an ally of Zedekiah, he may have had spite against the family of Ahikam for opposing alliance of Zedekiah with Ammon (27:3). Ishamael's motive may have been envy and spite at seeing a Jew who had always opposed the war with Babylon, now vested with power in place of the royal family. Being of the family of David, perhaps he thought he, himself should rule (41:1)

g Gedaliah's governorship lasted only about 3 months, for he was killed in the 7th month. Jerusalem was destroyed in the 4th month (52:4-6; 2 Ki. 25:25)

h Gedaliah should have been somewhat suspicious, at least when he saw Ishmael coming to him with 10 men fully armed; but evidently trust blinded his eyes, for he made no preparation to preserve his life, and dined with his murderers until it was time for the crime to be committed (v 1-2)

1 Killed Gedaliah, the governor (v 2)
2 Slew all Jews with him (v 3)
3 Slew the Chaldeans
4 Slew the men of war in Mizpah
5 Slew 70 worshippers of Jehovah (v 5-8)
6 Deceived men by weeping (v 6-7)
7 Carried the rest of the people and the king's daughters captive (v 10)

b Ishmael, God hears. 6 Ishmael's:
1 Son of Abraham (20 times, Gen. 16: 11-16; 17:18-26; 25:9-17; 28:9)
2 Ancestor of Zebadiah (2 Chr. 19:11)
3 Son of Azer (1 Chr. 8:38; 9:44)
4 Son of Jehohanan (2 Chr. 23:1)
5 Son of Pashur (Ezra 10:22)
6 Son of Nethaniah (v 8-16; 21:1-18). This Ishmael was a treacherous man; and for his awful deeds the fast of the 7th month was instituted (Zech. 7:5; 8:9)

c It was a very ancient custom in many parts of the East to store again in large pits or cisterns dug out of the ground for this purpose. In Syria these were sealed at the top with plaster, and covered with a deep bed of dirt to keep out vermin. They were cool and tight and dry. Among the Moors the custom was to have a thick layer of straw on the bottom and a lining of straw on the sides. They covered the mouth with a stone and sometimes built a small pyramid of earth to shed the rain. Some coverings were made so skillfully with sod that none but the informed could tell where a pit was. One writer speaks of 200-300 pits together in a place, the least one holding 400 bushels. Among some people it is said that the practice was to make a pit at the birth of each child and open it only when he became an adult or was married. Such storage places are no doubt what is referred to here as treasures in the field (v 8). In like manner containers of oil were buried in the ground as well as jars of honey. Cp. Mt. 13:44

9th prophecy in Jeremiah (4:1-31)

22 predictions-fulfilled:

1 If you will return to Me; and if you will put away your abominations out of My sight, then you will not remove-go into captivity (4:1)
2 Then you will swear that the Lord liveth, and the nations will bless themselves in Him, and in His glory (4:2). Note: All prophecies like this and the prediction above could be classed as conditional prophecies because of their fulfillment depending upon certain conditions
3 I will bring evil out of the north, and a great destruction (4:6)
4 The land will be invaded; the destroyer of the Gentiles will come and make the land desolate and the cities waste-without inhabitant (4:5-7)
5 In that day the heart of the king and princes shall perish (4:9)
6 The priests will be astonished
7 The prophets will wonder
8 At that time a full wind will come from the high places of the wilderness, and he (the destroyer of v 7) will come up as clouds, and his chariots will be as a whirlwind with horses swifter than eagles to spoil us (4:11-13)
9 Watchers will come from a far country and give their voice against the cities of Judah (4:16)
10 They will compass her about as keepers of the field (4:17)
11 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled
12 Suddenly are the tents spoiled, and the curtains in a moment
13 The whole land will be desolate; yet I will not make a full end (as in the case of the original earth of v 23-26; 4:27)
14 The earth will mourn (4:28)
15 The heavens above will be black 16 I will not repent or turn back from My purpose in this 17 The whole city will flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen (4:29)
18 They will go into thickets and climb upon the rocks
19 Every city will be forsaken; no man will dwell therein
20 Your lovers will despise you (4:30)
21 They will seek your life
22 Zion will be in travail as a woman bringing forth her first child (4:31)

phan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Bab'y-lon had made governor over the land.

3 [a]Ish'ma-el also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Ged-a-li'ah, at Miz'pah, and the Chal-de'ans that were found there, and the men of war.

4 And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Ged-a-li'ah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from She'chem, from Shi'loh, and from Sa-ma'ri-a, even four-score men, having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6 And Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah went forth from Miz'pah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Ged-a-li'ah the son of A-hi'kam.

7 And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them that said unto [b]Ish'-ma-el, Slay us not: for we have treasures [c]in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbare, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ish'ma-el had cast all the dead bodies of the men, whom he had slain because of Ged-a-li'ah, was it which A'sa the king had made for fear of Ba'a-sha king of Is'-ra-el: and Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Ish'ma-el carried away captive all the residue of the people, that were in Miz'-pah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Miz'pah, whom Neb'u-zar-a'dan the captain of the guard had committed to Ged-a-li'ah the son of A-hi'kam: and Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Am'mon-ites.

5 Johanan becomes leader

11 ¶ But when Jo-ha-nan the son of Ka-re'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah had done, 12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gib'e-on.

13 Now it came to pass, that when all the people which were with Ish'ma-el saw Jo-ha'nan the son of Ka-re'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ish'-ma-el had carried away captive from Miz'pah cast about and returned, and went unto Jo-ha'nan the son of Ka-re'ah.

15 But Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah escaped from Jo-ha'nan with eight men, and went to the Am'mon-ites.

16 Then took Jo-ha'nan the son of Ka-re'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah, from Miz'pah, after that he had slain Ged-a-li'ah the son of A-hi'kam, even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gib'e-on:

17 And they [a]departed, and dwelt in the habitation of Chim'ham, which is by Beth'-le-hem, to go to enter into E'gypt, 18 Because of the Chal-de'-ans: for they were afraid of them, because Ish'ma-el the son of Neth-a-ni'ah had slain Ged-a-li'ah the son of A-hi'kam, whom the king of Bab'y-lon made governor in the land.

CHAPTER 42 787

6 The Jews inquire of Jeremiah

THEN all the captains of the forces, and Jo-ha'nan the son of Ka-re'ah, and Jez-a-ni'-ah the son of Ho'sh-a-i'ah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,

2 And said unto Jer-e-mi'ah the prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us:)

3 That the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

7 Jeremiah inquires of God

4 Then Jer-e-mi'ah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you.

8 The Jews promise obedience

5 Then they said to Jer-e-mi'ah, The LORD be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

9 God's message to the remnant (cp. Isa. 1:9, refs.)

a The remnant of Judah were afraid of the Chaldeans-afraid of being destroyed for the slaying of Gedaliah and the Chaldeans at Mizpah. They intended to go into Egypt (v 16-18)
b The remnant had a general conference with all the people to decide what to do (v 1). The appeal to Jeremiah was that he would make supplication to God for them, that He might show them what to do (v 2-3). The prophet agreed to pray for them and faithfully give the message he would receive from Jehovah (v 4); and they all promised obedience to the will of God that would be revealed through Jeremiah, whether it seemed good or bad to them (v 5-6)

19 sins-why Jerusalem destroyed (6:6):

1 Wholly given to oppression of the poor and helpless (v 6)
2 Casts out (or spues out) wickedness like a fountain casting out water (v 7)
3 Full of violence and spoil
4 The Word of God a reproach to the people (v 10)
5 They have no delight in it
6 All men given to covetousness (v 13)
7 Prophets and priests deal falsely
8 They lead the people to rely upon religious reforms (2 Ki. 23) and not on change of heart (v 14)
9 Hardened and unashamed to commit sin (v 15)
10 Rebelled against walking after God (v 16)
11 Refused to hear-change lives in view of judgment (v 17)
12 Rejected God's law (v 19)
13 Hypocrisy (v 20)
14 Stubborn and grievous rebellion (v 28)
15 Walking in slanders
16 Hard-heartedness
17 Corrupters of others
18 Wicked not separated from the good (v 29)
19 Reprobates (v 30)

14th prophecy in Jeremiah (6:1-30)

24 prophecies-fulfilled:

1 Evil will come from the north, and a great destruction (6:1)
2 Shepherds (kings) with the flocks (armies) will come to Jerusalem and pitch their tents round about her (6:3)
3 They will feed every man in his place (6:4)
4 They will make war against her
5 They will plan to attack at noon
6 The plan will be changed to night instead of noon (6:5)
7 They will hew down trees and cast a mount against Jerusalem (6:6)
8 They will take away the remnant of Israel as one takes the last grapes from the vine (6:9)
9 They will return and take the remaining few, as one would go over the vines again in gathering grapes
10 I will pour out My fury upon people of all classes (6:11)
11 Their houses, fields, and wives will I give to others (6:12)
12 I will bring evil upon this people (6:19)
13 I will lay stumblingblocks before them (6:21)
14 The fathers and sons will fall upon them
15 Neighbors and friends will perish
16 A great nation will come from the north country (6:22) (6:23)
17 They will lay hold on bow and spear
18 They will have no mercy
19 Their voice will roar like the sea
20 They will ride upon horses set in array as men of war against Jerusalem
21 Israel will wax feeble and be in pain and anguish as a woman in travail because of fear of them (6:24)
22 People will be locked up in the city for fear on every side (6:25)
23 Bitter lamentation because the spoiler will suddenly come upon us (6:26)
24 I will send them to know and to try My people (6:27)

a After 10 days of prayer and waiting on God for a message to the remnant of the Jews left in the land, the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah (v 7). He called for Johanan, the present leader, and for all the other captains, and the people (v 8), then gave them the message of Jehovah (v 9-22)

b 76th prophecy in Jer. (42:9-22, fulfilled). Next, 43:8

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 If you will stay in this land, then I will not pull you down or pluck you up, but build you, deliver you from the king of Babylon, and show you mercies; but if you refuse to dwell in this land, and go down to Egypt to sojourn there, then the sword, and famine will overtake you there and you will die (42:13-16)

2 This will be the end of all the men that set their faces to go down into Egypt to sojourn there (42:17)

3 They will die by the sword, famine, and pestilence

4 None of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them

5 As My anger has been poured out upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so My fury will be poured out upon you, when you enter Egypt (42:18)

6 You will be an abomination, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach

7 You will see this land no more

8 Because you have not obeyed My command not to go into Egypt, know certainly that you will die by the sword, famine, and pestilence, in the place where you desire to sojourn (42:20-22)

c God first gave a prophecy of blessing if they would continue to live in Judah and not go down into Egypt

10fold promise upon obedience:

1 I will build you (v 10)
2 I will not pull you down
3 I will plant you
4 I will not pluck you up
5 I will repent of the evil that I have done to you
6 I will save you from the king of Babylon (v 11)
7 I will deliver you out of his hand
8 I will show you mercies (v 12)
9 He (the king of Babylon) will have mercy upon you 10 He will cause you to return to your own land

d After making promises for obedience, He then promised many curses upon them if they would not obey (v 13-22). See note b, above

e This kind of rebellion God was accustomed to by now, for He had often seen Israel do this very thing

5fold rebellion of Israel:

1 We will not (v 13)
2 Neither will we obey the voice of the Lord
3 No! (v 14)
4 We will go into Egypt
5 There we will dwell

f 3 things expected in Egypt:
1 No war (v 14)
2 No sound of a trumpet
3 No hunger for bread

g Then-when you wholly rebel and set your faces to go to Egypt, these curses will come upon you (v 16-22)

h All the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there, will die in Egypt (v 16-17). Whether this applied to Jeremiah, Baruch, and others who were forced to go into Egypt with the remnant is not stated. Although a small number were to leave Egypt and live in Judah again, we have no authority to say that Jeremiah or any of Zedekiah's daughters left Egypt (44:28)

i God compared the fury of His wrath which would come upon the Jews going into Egypt to that manifested upon Judah and Jerusalem in the final overthrow. The majority would never see the land of Judah again (v 18)

j God became very plain with the remnant and commanded them not to go into Egypt, but to remain in the land if they wanted His blessings (v 19) k Only God could know that the remnant rejected Him and rebelled against Him in their hearts. It had not yet come to light by the time Jeremiah uttered this, but God made it plain what their choice would be (v 20)

(1) Blessing: condition

7 ¶ And it came to pass[a] after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah.

8 Then called he Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 [b]And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Ĭs'-ra-el, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him;

10 [c]If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Băb'ў-lon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And I will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

(2) Cursing: condition

13 ¶ But if ye say, [c]We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God,

14 Saying, No; but we will go into the land of Ē'gўpt, [f]where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell:

15 And now therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Jū'dah; Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Ē'gўpt, and go to sojourn there;

16 [g]Then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye feared, shall overtake you there in the land of Ē'gўpt, and the famine, whereof ye were afraid, shall follow close after you there in Ē'gўpt; and there ye shall die.

17 So shall it be with [h]all the men that set their faces to go into Ē'gўpt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; [i]As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jē-rų'sa-lĕm; so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Ē'gўpt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.

19 ¶ The LORD hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Jū'dah; [j]Go ye not into Ē'gўpt: know certainly that I have admonished you this day.

20 [k]For ye dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you; [a]but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and to sojourn.

788 CHAPTER 43

10 Rebellion of the remnant (cp. Isa. 1:2, refs.)

AND it came to pass, that when Jĕr-e-mī'ah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 [b]Then spake Ăz-a-rī'ah the son of Hŏsh-a-ī'ah, and Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Ē'gўpt to sojourn there:

3 But Bā'rųch the son of Nē-rī'ah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chăl-dē'anș, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Băb'ў-lon.

4 So Jō'hā-nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Jū'dah.

11 Their flight to Egypt

5 [c]But Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Jū'dah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Jū'dah;

6 Even men, and women, and children, and the [d]king's daughters, and every person that Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard had left with Gĕd-a-lī'ah the son of Â-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, and Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, and Bā'rųch the son of Nē-rī'ah.

7 So they came into the land of Ē'gўpt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: thus came they even to Täh'pan-hēș.

12 First prophecy in Egypt: (1) Sign of the hidden stones

8 ¶ [e]Then came the word of the LORD unto Jĕr-e-mī'ah in Täh'pan-hēș, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brickkiln, which is at the entry of Phā'raōh's house in Täh'pan-hēș, in the sight of the men of Jū'dah;

(2) Application of the proa God knew when they declared their obedience to Him that they would not obey. He predicted that they would not (v 20)

b Then-when Jeremiah had ended his prophecy and the Jews saw that is was not what they wanted, the proud men immediately accused him of making a false prophecy. They even accused Baruch of urging Jeremiah to prophesy against going into Egypt (v 1-3). They flatly rebelled against doing what they promised, thus manifesting the same spirit as those who would not listen to Jeremiah before Judah and Jerusalem were completely destroyed

c Here we have the record of the final action. All the remnant were taken into Egypt contrary to their promise and the will of God (v 5)

d The king's daughters are not identified here so we do not know which king is referred to. If they were the daughters of Zedekiah, as some teach, they had no throne rights through David, for such rights for any of the royal line ended in Coniah (22:24-30, notes). Hence, the theory that the kings and queens of England are heirs to the throne of David, and that David's line has been ruling for centuries is merely speculation contrary to Scripture. Many passages, as Hos. 3:4-5; Amos 9:11-12; Acts 15:13-18 and others would be untrue if the rulers of England were David's seed fulfilling the Scriptures regarding the continuation of David's kingdom in this age. Never since the overthrow of Judah by Babylon has there been a king or queen from David's line on the throne and over his kingdom, and there never will be until the Messiah comes-at the 2nd advent (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). Furthermore, genealogies are never passed down through daughters; and Zedekiah was not in the kingly line, as proved in Mt. 1:1-18. Therefore, if these daughters were Zedekiah's it would mean nothing as far as the throne and kingdom of David are concerned. There is no biblical proof or even historical proof that Jeremiah and Zedekiah's daughter or daughters came out of Egypt, one of them a queen to carry on the Davidic line of kings. Even if it could be proved that the queen of England is a descendant of Zedekiah this could not relate to the fulfillment of prophecy, for it was predicted that there would be a destruction of David's throne and kingdom until Christ comes to build and set it up again (22:24-30)

e 77th prophecy in Jer. (43:8-13, fulfilled). Next, 44:7

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, My servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid (43:10)

2 He will spread his royal pavilion over them

3 When he comes he will smite the land of Egypt, and put some to the sword and lead others captive (43:11)

4 I will kindle a fire in the house of the gods of Egypt (43:12)

5 He will burn their houses

6 He will take their gods captive

7 He will array himself with the land of Egypt like a shepherd putting on his garment

8 He will go forth from thence in peace

9 He will break the images of Beth-shemesh that is in Egypt (43:13)

10 He will burn the houses of the gods of Egypt with fire

This predicts a third defeat of Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar, the 3 defeats being:

1 When Egypt was defeated on the river Euphrates at Carchemish during the reign of Jehoiakim (46:2)

2 When the Egyptian army approached to help Jerusalem, when the Chaldeans laid siege to the city during the reign of Zedekiah (37:5-10)

3 After the fall of Jerusalem when Nebuchadnezzar entered Egypt and conquered the whole land (43:8-13; 46:13-26)

Thus, prophecies uttered by the prophets long before their fulfillment, predictions that have since been fulfilled, confirm the fact that the Bible is the revelation of God to man d Here Jeremiah addressed the Jews in Egypt, boldly rebuking Israel for the idolatry that seems to have grown all the stronger during their tribulations. The address was perhaps at some festival. The Jews lived in the hope of being able to return to Judah soon, yet they were spread over the whole of Egypt, and came to hear Jeremiah as representatives of the communities of Migdol, Tahpanhes, Noph, and Pathros (v 1)

phecy to kingdom of Judah

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el; [a]Behold, I will send and take Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar the king of Bāb'ў-lon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

11 And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and deliver such as are for death to death; and such as are for captivity to captivity; and such as are for the sword to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Ĕ'gўpt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Ĕ'gўpt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also [b]the images of [c]Bēth-shĕ'mesh, that is in the land of Ĕ'gўpt; and the houses of the gods of the Ĕ-gўp'tians shall he burn with fire.

789 CHAPTER 44

13 Second prophecy in Egypt. (1) Desolation of Judah: cause

THE word that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, which dwell at [c]Mĭg'dol, and at [f]Täh'pan-hēs, and [g]at Nōph, and in the country [h]of Păth'ros, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el; Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, and upon all the cities of Jū'dah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 [i]Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Jū'dah and in the streets of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.

(2) Incrimination of the Jews

★7 [j]Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el; [k]Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, out of Jū'dah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourselves off, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9 [a]Have ye forgotten the [k]wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Jū'dah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed [c]in the land of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm?

10 They are not humbled [l]even unto this day, [c]neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

(3) Twelvefold judgment

★11 ¶ [m]Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el; Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Jū'dah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Jū'dah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Ĕ'gўpt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Ĕ'gўpt; they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

13 For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, as I have punished Jē-rų'sā-lĕm, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Jū'dah, which are gone into the land of Ĕ'gўpt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Jū'dah, to the which they have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.

(4) Renewed rebellion (cp. Isa. 1:2, refs.)

15 ¶ [n]Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, [h]a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, in Păth'ros, answered Jĕr-e-mī'ah, saying,

16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-rų'sā-lĕm: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were

2 Refusal to walk in God's law
3 Refusal to walk in My statutes
f 79th prophecy in Jer. (44:11-14, fulfilled). Next, v 26

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will set My face against you for evil, and to cut off Judah (44:11)
2 I will take the remnant of Judah that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt, and there they will be consumed and fall by the sword and famine (44:12)
3 They will die, from the least to the greatest of them, by the sword and famine
4 They will be an abomination, an astonishment, a curse, and a reproach
5 I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I punished Jerusalem, by the sword, famine, and pestilence (44:13)
6 None of the remnant of Judah, which came into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, will escape or remain, that they should return to Judah (44:14)
7 Only a few will escape

g Then-when the great religious gathering had taken place among the Jews of the land of Egypt, and after Jeremiah had given the message of God condemning all classes, the men of Israel decided to reject the words of the prophet (v 15-19)
h This appeal of the prophet was made at some religious festival at which time all classes, men and women, were present. They had gathered to worship the moon-goddess, the queen of heaven, and pay vows to her (v 17). Here we have the formal committal of Israel in Egypt to the moon-goddess instead of Jehovah. They told God's prophet in plain terms that they would not hearken to the message from God, but would certainly pay their vows to the queen of heaven, burn incense to her, pour out drink offerings to her, as their fathers, kings, princes, and they, themselves had done in the cities of Judah. Their excuse was: Then we had plenty of food, good health, and saw so evil; but since we have ceased to burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her, we have wanted for all things, and have been consumed by the sword and famine (v 16-19)

8th prophecy in Jeremiah (3:14-25)

12 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 I will take you-one of a city, and two of a family-and bring you to Zion (not Samaria; 3:14)
2 I will give you pastors according to My heart (3:15)
3 They will feed you with knowledge and understanding
4 You will not talk about, think of, remember, or visit the ark of the covenant of the Lord any more (3:16)
5 At that time Jerusalem will be called the throne of the Lord in reality (and there will be no need for an ark as a symbol of His presence; 3:17)
6 All nations will be gathered to Jerusalem to the name of the Lord (3:17; Isa. 2:2-4; Zech. 14:16-21)
7 No more will they walk after the imagination of their evil hearts (3:17)
8 In those days the house of Judah will walk with the house of Israel, and they will come together to the land of their fathers (3:18)
9 I will give you a pleasant land, a goodly heritage among the nations (3:19)
10 You will call Me, My father
11 You will not turn away from Me
12 I will heal your backslidings when you return to Me (3:22)

a These backslidden people were either so ignorant or so rebellious that they accepted the idea that all their calamities had come upon them because they had left off worship to the queen of heaven-the moon goddess (v 17-18)
b The women answered the accusation of the prophet by telling him that they had the backing of their men in the worship of the queen of heaven (v 19). It would be necessary for Jeremiah to discuss the matter with their husbands
c Question 164. Next, v 21
d Then-when the prophet was answered by the congregation of Jews worshipping the queen of heaven, and told that they would continue such worship, he replied that the cause of their calamities was not leaving off worship of the queen of heaven, but their sins and idolatry-their disobedience to Jehovah (v 20-23)
e Question 165. Next, 45:5
f This was the reason calamities had come to them, not the discontinuance of their worship of the queen of heaven. Jehovah could no longer bear their sins and rebellion (v 22-23)
g It is a rare instance in Scripture to address women in particular, but these had been accused of being the leaders in the worship of the queen of heaven; and they had claimed the backing of their husbands in such worship (v 15, 19). Therefore, the prophet answered them in particular (v 24-25)
h 80th prophecy in Jer. (44:26-30, fulfilled). Next, 45:2

7 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I have sworn by My name, that My name will be named no more in the mouth of any man of Judah in Egypt saying, The Lord liveth (44:26)
2 I will watch over them for evil, and not for good (44:27)
3 All the men of Judah in Egypt will be consumed by the sword, and famine, until there be an end of them
4 Yet a small number that escape the sword will return out of Egypt into the land of Judah (44:28)
5 All the remnant of Judah that have gone into Egypt to sojourn will know whose words will stand, Mine or theirs
6 This will be a sign to you that My words will surely stand against you for evil (44:29)
7 I will give Pharaoh-hophra into the hands of his enemies and those that seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah into their hand (44:30)

i Men of Judah in Egypt would never say this or honor the name of God, but they could blaspheme His name (v 26)
j A small number were to be spared and return to Judah, but whether Jeremiah did so, or any daughters of Zedekiah, is a matter of guesswork and nothing else

28 They will cut down the Egyptians as woodsmen cut a forest (46:23)
29 The invaders will be numberless like grasshoppers covering the land
30 Egypt will be confounded
31 She will be delivered into the hands of the people of the north 32 I will punish the multitude of No
33 I will punish all who trust in Pharaoh
34 I will deliver them into the hands of their enemies that seek their lives

8 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Egypt will again be inhabited as in the days of old (46:26)
2 I will save you (Judah) from afar off, and your seed from the lands of their captivity (46:27)
3 Jacob will return
4 He will be in rest and at ease
5 None will make him afraid
6 I will make a full end of all nations whither I have driven you, but I will not make a full end of you
7 I will correct you in a measure
8 I will not leave you wholly unpunished (46:28)

g The first prophecy against the Gentiles is against Egypt, perhaps because the Egyptians sought to hinder God's chastening upon Judah by sending an army to fight Nebuchadnezzar who was forced to raise the siege of Jerusalem (v 2; 37:6-17). This prophecy was given before Pharaoh-necho was defeated at Charchemish by Nebuchadnezzar h These verses (3-4) predict the call to battle of the opposing armies well, and [a]saw no evil.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And [b]when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, [c]did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, without our men?

14 Third prophecy in Egypt. (1) Desolation of Judah: cause

20 ¶ Then Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 The incense that ye burned in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jĕ-rū'sā-lĕm, ye, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and [c]came it not into his mind?

22 [f]So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

(2) Sixfold judgment

24 Moreover Jĕr-e-mī'ah said unto all the people, and [a]to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Jū'dah that are in the land of Ĕ'gўpt:

25 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el, saying; Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.

*26 [k]Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Jū'dah that dwell in the land of Ĕ'gўpt; Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Jū'dah in all the land of Ĕ'gўpt, saying, [l]The Lord GOD liveth.●

27 Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good; and all the men of Jū'dah that are in the land of Ĕ'gўpt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28 Yet a [j]small number that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt into the land of Jū'dah, and all the remnant of Jū'dah, that are gone into the land of Ĕ'gўpt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine, or theirs.

29 ¶ And [a]this shall be a sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil:

30 Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will give Phā'raōh-hŏph'rā king of Ĕ'gўpt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

790 CHAPTER 45

Parenthesis: prophecy to Baruch: belongs with 36:1-32

THE [a]word that Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet spake unto Bā'rŭch the son of Nē-rī'ah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jĕr-e-mī'ah, in the fourth year of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying,

*2 [c]Thus saith the LORD, the God of Ĭs'ra-el unto thee, O Bā'rŭch;

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow; I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest.

4 ¶ Thus shalt thou say unto him, The LORD saith thus; Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And [d]seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

791 CHAPTER 46

IX Prophecies [e]against twelve Gentile powers (46-21; Isa. 13-23; Ezek. 25-32; Amos 1-2; Zeph. 2). 1 Against Egypt (46:1-28; Isa. 19). (1) Call to battle

THE word of the LORD which came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet against the Gĕn'tĭles;■

●2 [f]Against Ĕ'gўpt, against the army of Phā'raōh-nē'chō king of Ĕ'gўpt, which was by the river Ū-phrā'tēs in Căr'che-mĭsh, which Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon smote in the fourth year of Jĕ-hoi'a-kĭm the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah.

3 [h]Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.

●4 Harness the horses; and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

a The sign indicating that the Jews in Egypt would be destroyed was that Pharaoh-hophra would be delivered into the hands of the king of Babylon (v 29-30). When this happened they were to know that their judgment was also at hand b This prophecy is not in order chronologically, belonging to a time about 18 years before the destruction of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar (v 1; 2 Ki. 23:36; 24:18) c 81st prophecy in Jer. 45:2-5, fulfilled). Next, 46:1. This was Jeremiah's last prophecy to Israel in particular; the remaining predictions of his book concern Gentile nations primarily

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 That which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even the whole land (45:4)
2 I will bring evil upon all flesh, but your life will I give for a prey in all places where you go (45:5)

This is the second man God gave the personal promise of protection to, in this manner (v 5 with 39:18)

34 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Egypt will be defeated by the river Euphrates at Carchemish (46:1-2)
2 The battle will be ordered between the two opposing armies (46:3-4)
3 Egypt will be dismayed and turn back (46:5)
4 Their mighty ones are beaten down and are fled apace
5 Fear will be round about
6 They will fall by Euphrates (46:6)
7 Egypt will make a great boast of overflowing the country like a flood, confident of victory (46:7-8)
8 The Lord will be avenged upon the mercenaries of Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia (46:9-10)
9 The sword will devour and be made drunk with blood (46:10)
10 Egypt will be defeated and have no healing medicines to cure her (46:11)
11 Nations will hear of her defeat and shame, and her cry that will fill the land, for the mighty will fall in battle (46:12)
12 Babylon will come and smite the land of Egypt (46:13)
13 Tidings of war will be published in all large cities of Egypt (46:14)
14 The sword will devour round about you and the valiant men will be swept away
15 They will not stand because the Lord is not with them (46:15)
16 Babylon will make many fall upon one another (46:16)
17 The mercenaries will flee to the land of their nativity from the oppressing sword of Babylon
18 Pharaoh will be called only a noise because he did not use the appointed time (46:17)
19 He is as sure to come as Tabor is in the mountains and Carmel by the sea (46:18)
20 Egypt will go into captivity (46:19)
21 Noph will be waste, without an inhabitant
22 Destruction will come upon Egypt from the north (46:20)
23 Her hired mercenaries will live off the fat of Egypt, but will turn back in time of battle (46:21)
24 All will flee away together
25 They will not stand, because it is the time of their visitation
26 The voice of Egypt will go away like a serpent before the axe of the woodsman (46:22)
27 The Chaldeans will come against her with battle axes, as hewers of wood

a Question 167. Next, v 7
b Jeremiah, by the spirit of prophecy, saw the dismay of Egypt over their defeat at the hands of Nebuchadnezzar (v 5-6). It was an unexpected blow in view of their preparations and boastfulness, as described in v 7-8
c Question 168. Next, v 15
d Here we have the second call to battle - the Egyptians, Ethiopians, and Libyans against the Chaldeans (v 9)
e This sounds like the great day of the Lord, but it is not. It is simply the day of the Lord's vengeance on Egypt for interfering with His program to punish Israel (v 10). It has nothing to do with the battle of Armageddon, for that is to be in Palestine, surrounding Jerusalem (Zech. 14), whereas the battle referred to here was on the Euphrates. Furthermore, the one here was God's vengeance on the Egyptians, and the other will be His vengeance on Antichrist and his vast armies of many nations (Rev. 19:11-21; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14)
f In these verses (11-12) we have the record of the fall of Egypt in the battle of Carchemish on the Euphrates g This section predicts the actual invasion of Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar. Here he was called to smite the land of Egypt, and this he did sometime after his conquest of Judah and the destruction of Jerusalem. He fought the battle of Carchemish with Egypt in the 4th year of Jehoiakim and in his own first year as king of Babylon (25:1). This was 18 years before the destruction of Jerusalem. About 2 or 3 years before its destruction, or about 15 or 16 years after the battle of Carchemish the king of Egypt came against Nebuchadnezzar with a great army, during his siege of Jerusalem; so he left the city temporarily to fight the Egyptians, Being victor he soon came back against Jerusalem (37:1-10). After taking the city he returned to Babylon for awhile, then fulfilled this prophecy by making war on Egypt. He conquered the whole of it in this war, which gave him the greatest of world empires up to this time (Dan. 2:37-42; 7:4) h The prophet here declared the coming defeat of Egypt-the fact to be published in all the great cities of that country (v 14)
i Question 169. Next, 47:5
j The Egyptian army was composed mainly of mercenaries from Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia, so after losing the battle they proposed to return to their homes in their native lands (v 16) k They called the king of Egypt but a noise, because of his having passed the appointed time of prosperity at the beginning of his reign and having misused those years (v 17). Nothing was left for him now but ruin

Camels (Isa. 60:6)

Camels-unclean animals, the chief means of travel in the East in Isaiah's time. They have feet that do not sink in the sand, and possess many little cells to be filled with water which make them suitable for desert travel. The cells can be filled at one drinking in 15 minutes, they say, and this gives such animals a water supply for 20-30 days. They eat coarse food-leaves, twigs, and thistles. They can carry a burden of 600-800 lbs. and can travel about 30 miles a day, generally speaking. One species can travel 100 miles a day. On short trips they can carry up to 1200 lbs. Camel flesh and milk are used for food and the hair for making garments (Mt. 3:4). The Bactrian camel has two humps on the back, and the dromedary only one. Called land-ships, they live 30-50 years. See v 6; 31:7; 30:6; Gen. 12:16; 24:1-68; 30:43; 31:17; 32:7, 15; 37:25; Ex. 9:3; Lev. 11:4; Dt. 14:7; Judg. 6:5; 7:12; 1 Sam. 15:3; 27:9; 30:17; 1 Ki. 10:2; 1 Chr. 5:21; 12:40; 27:30; 2 Chr. 9:1; 14:15; Ezra. 2:67; Neh. 7:69; Esther 8:10, 14; Job 1:3, 17; 42:12; Jer. 49:29, 32; Ezek. 25:5; Zech. 14:15; Mt. 19:24; 23:24

(2) Dismay of Egypt

5 [c]Wherefore have [d]I seen them dismayed and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the LORD.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Eū-phrā'tēş.

(3) Boast of Egypt

7 [c]Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?

8 Ē'gўpt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers; and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.

(4) Call to battle: future

●9 [d]Come up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men come forth; the Ē-thi-ō'pi-anş and the Lĭb'ў-anş, that handle the shield; and the Lўd'ĭ-anş, that handle and bend the bow.

10 For [e]this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord GOD of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Eū-phrā'tēş.

(5) The fall of Egypt

●11 [f]Go up into Gĭl'e-ăd, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Ē'gўpt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines; for thou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

(6) Judgment from Babylon

■13 ¶ The word that the LORD spake to Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet, [g]how Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon should come and smite the land of Ē'gўpt.

14 [h]Declare ye in Ē'gўpt, and publish in Mĭg'dol, and publish in Nōph and in Tăh'pan-hēş: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee; for the sword shall devour round about thee.

15 [i]Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them.

16 He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they said, [j]Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt is [k]but a noise; he hath passed the time appointed.

(7) Captivity and desolation

18 [l]As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, Surely as Tā'bōr is among the mountains, and as Cär'mel by the sea, so shall he come.

19 [k]O thou daughter dwelling in Ē'gўpt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Nōph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.

20 Ē'gўpt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh; it cometh out of the north.

21 Also [c]her hired men are in the midst of her like fatted bullocks; for they also are turned back, and are fled away together: they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like a serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Ē'gўpt shall be confounded; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Iş'ra-el, saith; Behold, I will punish the multitude of Nō, and Phā'raōh, and Ē'gўpt, with their gods, and their kings; even Phā'raōh, and all them that trust in him:

✶26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ў-lon, and into the hand of his servants: and [d]afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

(8) Israel to be restored

●27 ¶ But fear not thou, O my servant Jā'cob, and be not dismayed, O Iş'ra-el: for, behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jā'cob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jā'cob my servant, saith the LORD: for I am with thee; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure; yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

792 CHAPTER 47

2 Against Philistia, Tyre, Zidon, and Caphtor (Crete, 47:1-7; Isa. 14:28-32; 23:1-18; Ezek. 25:15-28:26; Amos 1:6-10). (1) Invasion by Babylon

THE [c]word of the LORD that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭneş, before that Phā'raōh smote Gā'zā.

a God vowed that Nebuchadnezzar would come and conquer Egypt, declaring that just as surely as Tabor is among the mountains and Carmel by the sea, he will come (v 18)
b Here Egypt is pictured as a woman going into captivity, Noph becoming a waste and being desolate, without an inhabitant (v 19). The nation is also compared to a fair heifer that is helpless to stop a storm from the north (v 20) c This refers to the mercenaries of Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia (v 9). They received wages and food, and waxed fat like bullocks, but fled away together at the approach of Nebuchadnezzar with his mighty army of Chaldeans and other nations with him. They did not stand in the day of battle, because it was their day of calamity and the time of their visitation from God (v 21). The prophecy was: the voice of Egypt shall go like a serpent fleeing from the wood cutters; they (the Chaldeans) will march with an army, and come against Egypt with axes like hewers of wood (v 22); they will cut down the Egyptians as men cut down a forest; they are many as the grasshoppers (v 23); Egypt will be confounded; she will be delivered to the people of the north (v 24); the multitude of No will be punished with the rest of Egypt and their gods (v 25); they will be delivered into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar and his servants
d Beginning here and through v 28 we have unfulfilled predictions of Egypt being inhabited in the latter days as of old (v 26), of the regathering of Israel to peace and security (v 27), and of punishing Israel, but not making a full end of her, as with other nations-if necessary (v 28)
e 83rd prophecy in Jer. (47:1-7, fulfilled). Next, 48:1

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Waters will rise out of the north and be an overflowing flood over the land of Philistia (47:2)
2 It will overflow the city and all that dwell therein
3 Then man will cry and all the inhabitants of the land will howl
4 At the noise of the army the fathers will look back to their children in feebleness of hands (47:3)
5 The Philistines and all in Tyre and Zidon will be cut off (47:4-5)
6 The Lord will spoil them (47:4)

24 sins of Israel (Isa. 59:3):

1 Hands defiled with blood (v 3)
2 Fingers defiled with iniquity-murders, thefts, and idol making
3 Lips that have spoken lies
4 Tongue that has muttered perverseness-evil, discontent, and malice
5 Injustice in every man-no person daring to seek justice in the courts (v 4)
6 Truth forsaken by all-none pleading for truth, but using cunning falsehood for gain
7 They trust in vanity-evasions of truth instead of justice
8 Speak lies (utter vanities for gain)
9 Conceive mischief-form plans of evil against others and execute them in fraud and deceit
10 Bring forth iniquity when plans have ripened enough to execute them
11 Hatch cockatrice's eggs (note n, 11:8)
12 Weave spider's web to catch unsuspecting victims to be devoured (v 5)
13 Cause death to all who eat of their eggs-those who partake of their sins
14 They spread sin like hatching vipers
15 Trust in their webs of self-righteousness, reasonings, and traditions (v 6)
16 Seek to cover their sins by works
17 Their works are those of iniquity
18 Violence is in their hands
19 Their feet run to evil (v 7)
20 They are quick to shed innocent blood
21 Their thoughts are those of iniquity
22 Wasting and destruction are in their paths-they leave trails of sin
23 There is no judgment (justice or righteousness) in their goings (daily life, v 8)
24 They make crooked paths

44 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Woe is Nebo, for it will be spoiled (48:1)
2 Kiria-thaim will be confounded and taken
3 Misgab will be confounded and dismayed
4 There will be no more praise of Moab (48:2)
5 In Heshbon they will plot the destruction of Moab as a nation
6 The sword will pursue the inhabitants of Madmen
7 There will be a great crying from Horonaim, spoiling, and great destruction (48:3, 5)
8 Moab will be destroyed (48:4)
9 Her little ones will cause a cry to be heard
10 There will be continual weeping going up to Luhith (48:5)
11 Moab will be taken (48:7)
12 Chemosh will go into captivity with his priests and princes
13 The spoiler will come upon every city, and none will escape (48:8)
14 The valley and plain will also perish and be destroyed
15 Moab will flee and the cities will all be desolate (48:9) (48:10)
16 The deceitful worker will be cursed 17 The coward will be cursed
18 I will send upon Moab wanderers that will cause him to wander and empty his vessels and break their bottles (48:12)
19 Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh (the national idol of protection), as Israel was ashamed of the golden calf at Bethel (48:13)
20 Moab will be spoiled and gone from their cities (48:15)
21 The chosen young men will be killed
22 The calamity of Moab is near, and his affliction comes fast (48:16)
23 The inhabitants of Dibon and their glory will be humbled
24 The spoiler of Moab will come upon Debon and destroy her strong holds (48:18)
25 Refugees from Moab will pass by Aroer and inquire of the battle (48:19)
26 Moab will be confounded and broken down (48:20)
27 Judgment will come upon the plain country, Holon, Jahazah, Mephaath, Dibon, Nebo, Beth-diblathaim, Kiriathaim, Beth-gamul, Beth-meon, Kerioth, Bozrah, and upon all the cities of Moab, far and near (48:21-24)
28 The horn of Moab will be cut off, and his arm broken (48:25)
29 Moab will wallow in his vomit, and be in derision (48:26)
30 I will howl, mourn, and weep for Moab with the weeping of Jazer (48:31-32)
31 The spoiler will fall upon your summer fruits and vintage (48:32)
32 Joy and gladness will be taken from the plentiful field, and the land of Moab (48:33)
33 I will cause her wine to fail from the winepresses and none will tread them shouting 34 The idolatry of Moab will be destroyed (48:34-35)
35 My heart will sound like pipes because all the riches of Moab are perished (48:36)
36 Moab will go into mourning in the streets and on the housetops (48:37-39)
37 Moab will be a derision and a dismaying to all about him (48:39)
38 The invader will fly as an eagle, and spread out his wings over Moab (48:40)
39 Moab will be taken and the hearts of the mighty men will be made weak as the heart of a woman (48:40-41)
40 Moab will be destroyed from being a people (48:42)
41 Fear, the pit, and the snare will

2 Thus saith the LORD; [a]Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.
3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall not look back to their children for feebleness of hands;
4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Phĭ-lĭs'-tĭnes, and to cut off from Tȳ'rus and Zĭ'dŏn every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, the remnant of the country of Căph'tôr.
5 Baldness is come upon Gă'zà; Ăsh'ke-lŏn is cut off with the remnant of their valley: how [b]long wilt thou cut thyself?

(2) Purposed of God

6 O thou [c]sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard, rest, and be still.
7 How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given it a charge against Ăsh'ke-lŏn, and against the sea shore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAPTER 48 793

3 Against Moab (48:1-47; Isa. 15:1; Ezek. 25:8; Amos 2:1; Zeph. 2:8). (1) Invasion by Babylon

[d]AGAINST [e]Mō'ab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; Woe unto Nē'bō! for it is spoiled: Kĭr-ĭ-a-thā'im is confounded and taken: Mĭs'gāb is confounded and dismayed. ■
2 There shall be no more praise of Mō'ab: [f]in Hĕsh'bŏn they have devised evil against it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shalt be cut down, O Măd'men; the sword shall pursue thee.
3 A voice of crying shall be from Hŏr-o-nā'im, spoiling and great destruction.
4 Mō'ab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.
5 For in the going up of Lŭ'hĭth continual weeping shall go up; for in the going down of Hŏr-o-nā'im the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

(2) Flight of Moab

●6 Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness.
7 ¶ For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and [g]Chĕ'mōsh shall go forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.
8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.
9 Give wings unto Mō'ab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.
10 [c]Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

(3) Desolation of Moab

11 ¶ [b]Mō'ab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been [c]emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.
12 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him [d]wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.
13 And Mō'ab shall be ashamed of Chĕ'mōsh, as the house of Ĭs'ra-el was [e]ashamed of Bĕth'-el their confidence.
14 ¶ How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?
15 Mō'ab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the [f]King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.
16 The calamity of Mō'ab [h]is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.
17 All ye that are about him, bemoan him; and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!
18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dī'bŏn, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Mō'ab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.
19 O inhabitant of Ăr'ŏ-ēr, stand by the way, and espy; ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, [i]What is done?
20 Mō'ab is [j]confounded; for it is broken down: howl and cry; tell ye it in Ăr'nŏn, that Mō'ab is spoiled, 21 And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Hō'lŏn, and upon Jā-hā'zah, and upon Mĕph'a-ăth, 22 And upon Dī'bŏn, and upon Nē'bō, and upon Bĕth-dĭb-la-thā'im, 23 And upon Kĭr-ĭ-a-thā'im, and upon Bĕth-gā'mul, and upon Bĕth-mē'on, 24 And upon Kĕ'rĭ-ōth, and upon Bŏz'rah, and upon all the cities of the land of Mō'ab, far or near.
25 The [k]horn of Mō'ab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

(4) Ten reasons for judgment

●26 ¶ Make ye him [l]drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Mō'ab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

a The idea here seems to be that those called to be God's instrument of chastening upon Moab were to be blessed in their work if they did it honestly and boldly; but if they did it half-heartedly and cowardly they would be cursed (v 10)
b From the time they took the land from the giant Emims (Dt. 2:9-10), Moab had retained it and prospered; but they had not learned to trust in Jehovah or order their lives in righteousness (v 11) c It was customary to pour wine from one vessel into another to improve the quality and separate the liquid from the dregs. The implication here is that Moab had been at ease so long that she had become stale. She had not learned the many lessons she would have learned if she had been invaded and humbled more often (v 11)
d Tilters who will tilt him; and they will empty his vessels and break his pitchers in pieces (v 12) e Jeroboam made a golden calf in Bethel and one in Dan, declaring that these were the gods of Israel. Such idolatry and other sins led the 10 tribes into an apostasy which made it necessary for them to be destroyed as a nation. Their calves did not deliver them from the Assyrians who took them captive 749 B.C. (2 Ki. 17); and now, the gods of Moab would be just as helpless (v 13)

be upon Moab (48:43)
42 He that flees from the fear will fall into the pit, and he that gets out of the pit will be taken in the snare, for I will bring upon Moab the year of their visitation from the Lord (48:44)
43 A fire will come out of Heshbon and devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones (48:45)
44 Woe to Moab! The people of Chemosh will perish, for thier sons and daughters will be taken captive (48:46)

1 prediction-unfulfilled:

1 I will bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days (48:47). Many other predictions regarding Moab are recorded in Isa. 15-16, which see e Moab was always hostile to Israel, and for this reason, as well as others, she had to be judged (Gen. 12:1-3). See Judg. 3:12, 28; 1 Sam. 14:47; 2 Sam. 8:2; 2 Ki. 1:1; 3:4-27; 13:20. The Moabites joined the Chaldeans in the time of Jehoiakim and yet this was the same power that was to destroy them

f The Chaldeans were encamped in Heshbon and used it as headquarters in attacking Moab (v 3, 45)
g Chemosh was the national god of Moab (v 7, 13, 46; Num. 21:29; Judg. 11:24; 1 Ki. 11:7, 33; 2 Ki. 23:13)

2 His loftiness
3 His arrogance
4 The haughtiness of his heart
d 6fold mourning for Moab:
1 I will howl (v 31)

3 My heart will mourn for the men of Kirheres
4 I will weep for you (v 32)
5 My heart will sound like pipes for Moab
6 My heart will sound like pipes for the men of Kirheres (v 36)
e There is no explanation regarding what the weeping of Jazer was about. Evidently there was a great slaughter there, perhaps when Moab was defeated by Sihon. A reference to such weeping is made in both Isaiah and Jeremiah (v 32; Isa. 16:8-9). See Jazer in Num. 32:1-3; Josh. 13:25; 21:39; 2 Sam. 24:5; 1 Chr. 6:81; 26:31

20 Babylon will sink, and rise no more from the evil that I will bring upon her (51:64)
21 They will be weary

27 [a]For was not Iṣ'ra-el a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, [b]thou skippedst for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Mō'ab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.

29 We have heard the [c]pride of Mō'ab, (he is exceeding proud) his loftiness, and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the LORD; but it shall not be so; his lies shall not so effect it.

(5) Lamentation for Moab

31 Therefore [d]will I howl for Mō'ab, and I will cry out for all Mō'ab; mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-hĕ'rĕṣ.

32 O vine of Sĭb'mah, I will weep for thee with the [e]weeping of Jā'zēr: thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of Jā'zēr: the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.

33 And [f]joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Mō'ab; and I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting; their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Hĕsh'bŏn even unto Ē-le-ā'leh, and even unto Jā'hăz, have they uttered their voice, from Zō'ar even unto Hŏr-o-nā'im, as an heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Nĭm'rim shall be desolate.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Mō'ab, saith the LORD, him [g]that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Mō'ab like [h]pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-hĕ'rĕṣ: because the riches that he hath gotten are perished.

37 For every head shall be bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.

38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all [i]the housetops of Mō'ab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Mō'ab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down! how hath Mō'ab turned the back with shame! so shall Mō'ab be a derision and a dismaying to all them about him.

(6) Babylonian invasion: reason

40 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, [j]he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Mō'ab.

41 Kĕ'rĭ-ŏth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the mighty men's hearts in Mō'ab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Mō'ab [a]shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.

43 Fear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Mō'ab, saith the LORD.

(7) Flight of Moab

44 [b]He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Mō'ab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 They that fled stood under the shadow of Hĕsh'bŏn because of the force: but a fire shall [c]come forth out of Hĕsh'bŏn, and a flame from the midst of Sī'hŏn, and shall devour the corner of Mō'ab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.

46 Woe be unto thee, O Mō'ab! the people of Chĕ'mōsh perisheth: for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives.

(8) Restoration of Moab

*47 [d]Yet will I bring again the captivity of Mō'ab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Mō'ab.

CHAPTER 49 794

4 Against Ammon (49:1-6; Ezek. 21:28; 25:1; Amos 1:13; Zeph. 2:8-11). (1) Invasion by Babylon

[a]CONCERNING the Am'monites, thus [b]saith the LORD; Hath Iṣ'ra-el no sons? hath he no heir? why, [c]then doth their king inherit Găd, and his people dwell in his cities? ■

2 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause [d]an alarm of war to be heard in Răb'bah of the Am'monites; and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Iṣ'ra-el be heir unto them that were his heirs, saith the LORD.

(2) Mourning for Ammon

●3 Howl, O Hĕsh'bŏn, for Ā'ī is spoiled: cry, ye daughters of Răb'bah, gird you with sackcloth; lament, and run to and fro by the hedges; for their king shall go into captivity, and his priests and his princes together.

(3) Judgment: reason

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts, from all those that be about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth; and none shall gather up him that wandereth.

a Moab shall be destroyed from being a people (v 42). This has been literally fulfilled from that time until now. The Moabites were taken captive by the Babylonians, and perhaps only a few came back, not enough to establish the nation again. Their captivity is spoken of as being brought again in the latter days (v 47). Just how and to what extent this will be done remains to be seen b This verse simply teaches that Moab would be destroyed in various ways-by flight, falling into a pit, or being taken in a snare (v 44)
c This verse refers to the fact that the headquarters of Nebuchadnezzar was at Heshbon; from there the invaders scattered out destroying the whole of Moab (v 45. Cp. v 2) d In the whole of 47 verses concerning Moab, this is the only prediction regarding the future from our time. It foretells the regathering of Moab in the latter days, which suggests that the children of Lot-Moab and Ammon-will be blessed together under the Messiah (v 47; 49:6) e 85th prophecy in Jer. (49:1-6. V 1-5 fulfilled; v 6 unfulfilled). Next, v 7

10 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will cause an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites (49:2)
2 It shall be a desolate heap
3 Her daughters will be burned with fire
4 Then will Israel be heir unto them that were his heirs
5 There will be weeping for Ammon (49:3)
6 Their king will go into captivity, with the priests and princes
7 I will bring a fear to you from all those that be about you (49:5)
8 Every man will be driven out
9 None will gather the wandering remnant 10 Afterward I will bring again the captivity of Ammon (no doubt in the latter days, v 6. Cp. v 39; 48:47)

f Questions 177-181. Next, v 7
g The idea here is: Why do the Ammonites occupy the land of Gad if there are any sons and heirs in Israel? Ammon had wanted this land as far back as the days of Jephthah (Judg. 11). The gradual pushing back of the Gadites had to be during the periods of the kings after David and Solomon. It no doubt happened when the Assyrians carried away the Gileadites (2 Ki. 15:27-31; 17:1-41)
h This prophecy, except v 6, was fulfilled when Nebuchadnezzar conquered Palestine and Egypt, after the fall of Judah (37:1-10)

5 commands to Jer. 25 (25:6):
1 Go not after other gods to serve and worship them (v 6)
2 Provoke Me not to anger with the work of your hands
3 Drink you, and be drunken, spue, fall, and rise no more because of the sword I will send among you (v 27)
4 Howl, you shepherds, and cry (v 34)
5 Wallow yourselves in the ashes make with them. After those days I will put My law in their inward parts and write it in their hearts (31:33)

78 I will be their God and they will be My people
79 They will no more teach each other, for all will know Me, from the least to the greatest of them (31:34)
80 I will forgive their iniquity
81 I will remember their sin no more
82 The house of Israel will never cease being a nation before Me forever (31:35-36)
83 It will be as impossible for Me to cast off Israel as it would be to measure the heavens, and search out the foundations of the earth (31:37)
84 The days come that Jerusalem will be built to the Lord from the tower of Hananeel to the gate of the corner, and the measuring line will go forth to Gareb, and compass about to Goath (31:38-39)
85 The whole valley of dead bodies will be holy to Jehovah (31:40)
86 The city will never be plucked up again, nor thrown down anymore forever a Both Moab and Ammon will be restored in the latter days (v 6; 48:47)

b 86th prophecy in Jer. (49:7-22, fulfilled). Next, v 23

22 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will bring calamity upon Esau (49:8)
2 I will make Esau bare (49:10)
3 He will not be able to hide himself
4 His seed will be spoiled
5 His brethren and neighbors will be destroyed
6 I will preserve the orphans (49:11)
7 Edom will surely drink of the cup of punishment (49:12)
8 Bozrah will become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse (49:13)
9 All cities of Bozrah will become perpetual wastes
10 The heathen will come against her and rise up in battle (49:14)
11 I will make Edom small among the heathen, and despised among men (49:15)
12 I will bring you down even though you dwell in the heights like an eagle (49:16)
13 Edom will be a desolation (49:17)
14 All who pass by Edom will be astonished and hiss at her plagues
15 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighboring cities, so no man will abide in you (49:18)
16 He (Nebuchadnezzar) will come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong (49:19)
17 He will make such a swift conquest of Edom he will suddenly go away to other conquests
18 He will make their habitations desolate (49:20)
19 The earth will be moved at the noise of their fall (49:21)
20 The noise will even be heard in the Red Sea
21 He will come up as an eagle and spread his wings over Bozrah (49:22)
22 In that day the hearts of the mighty men of Edom will be as the heart of a woman in travail

c Edom was stretched out along the south of Judah from the border of Moab on the Dead Sea to the Mediterranean and the Arabian desert; and it held the same relation to Judah as Moab and Ammon did to the northern kingdom. Being long bitter enemies of Israel they rejoiced over the destruction of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans, and showed great cruelty to Jews who fled to them for refuge
e Teman-a part of the land of Edom on the northeast. Its inhabitants were famous for their wisdom, their skill in proverbs and dark sayings (v 7, 20)
f The Dedanites were descendants of Abraham through Keturah (Gen. 25:1-3). Here they were warned of the coming judgment on Edom and told to leave the country and turn back from the invaders (v 8) g 2 things referred to here as not destroying everything in their incursions (v 9):
1 Grasshoppers leave a gleaning
2 Thieves will only take what they want, and leave the rest
The Chaldeans however, would make the land of Edom bare of man and valuable things (v 10)

h His secret places were in the mountains of Seir-Petra and other mountain strongholds (v 10) i His seed refers to the many nations joined to Edom (v 10). Cp. Gen. 36 j His neighbors-Dedan, Tema, Buz and others in the great Arabian desert k God promised especially to protect the orphans and widows, but the mighty men of war would be killed (v 11-12)
l Bozrah was to become an eternal desolation (v 13). See notes on Isa. 34. It may be that this will be one of the places where hell is to open to the view of earth's inhabitants, in the new earth (Isa. 66:22-24; Rev. 14:9-11). How many such places there will be is not known, but it would seem appropriate to have one or more in the vicinity of God's eternal headquarters of His kingdom on earth, to show the contrast between the doom of the ungodly and

(4) Restoration of Ammon

6 And afterward ᵃI will bring again the captivity of the children of Am'mon, saith the LORD.

5 Against Edom (49:7-22; Ezek. 25:12-14; 32:29; 35:1-15; Amos 1:11-12; Isa. 34; Lam. 4:21; Mal. 1:1; Oba. 1-18; Num. 20:14).
(1) Immediate desolation

7 ¶ᵇConcerning ᶜE'dom, thus saith the LORD of hosts; ᵈIs wisdom no more inᵉTe'man? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?
8 Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan: for I will bring the calamity of E'sau upon him, the time that I will visit him.
9 ᶠIf grapegatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy till they have enough.
10 But I have made E'sau bare, I have uncovered ʰhis secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: ⁱhis seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his ⁱneighbours, and he is not.
11 Leave thy ᵏfatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me.
12 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have assuredly drunken; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

(2) Future desolation (Isa. 34)

13 For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that ˡBoz'rah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

(3) Invasion by Babylon

14 ᵐI have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.
15 For, lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

(4) Reason for judgment

16 Thyⁿterribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in ᵒthe clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

(5) Future desolation (Isa. 34)

17 Also E'dom shall be ᵖa desolation: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.
18 ᵍAs in the overthrow of Sod'om and Go-mor'rah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

(6) Invasion by Babylon

19 Behold, ʰhe shall come up like ᵃa lion from the swelling of Jor'dan against the habitation of the strong: ᵈbut I will suddenly make him run away from her: ᵉand who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?
20 Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against E'dom; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Te'man: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely ᶠhe shall make their habitations desolate with them.
21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall, at the cry the noise thereof was heard in the Red sea.
22 Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Boz'rah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of E'dom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

6 Against Damascus (49:23-27; Isa. 17:1-14; Amos 1:3-5). (1) Dismay and weakness

23 ¶ʲConcerning Da-mas'cus. Ha'math is confounded, and Ar'pad: for they have heard evil tidings: they are faint-hearted; there is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet.
24 Da-mas'cus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her, as a woman in travail.

(2) Invasion by Babylon

25 How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy!
26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.
27 And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Da-mas'cus, and it shall consume the palaces ᵏof Ben-ha'dad.

7 Against Kedar and Hazor (49:28-33). (1) Command to invade

28 ¶ˡConcerning Ke'dar, and concerning the kingdoms of Ha'zor, which Neb-u-chad-rez'zar king of Bab'y-lon shall smite, thus saith the LORD; Arise ye, go up to Ke'dar, and spoil the men of the east.
29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Fear is a The Lord compared the overthrow of Edom to that of Sodom and Gomorrah. Certain places in Edom will be eternal desolations, such as Bozrah (v 13). Babylon will also become desolate in the day of the Lord (Isa. 13:19)

b Nebuchadnezzar (37:1-10; 48:40) c Edom will be attacked by Nebuchadnezzar like a lion being driven out of its lair by the flood of Jordan to the higher ground (v 19)

d The sense here seems to be that the conquering of Edom would be accomplished very quickly, and the Chaldeans would pass on to other conquests (v 19)
e Questions 187-190. Next, 50:44

f Nebuchadnezzar will make the country desolate of flocks and men, and their cry will be heard in the Red Sea (v 20-21). He is symbolized by a lion (v 19; Dan. 7:2), and an eagle (v 22; 48:20; Ezek. 17:3, 7). The mighty men of Edom will become faint and like a woman in travail (v 22)

g 87th prophecy in Jer. (49:23-27, fulfilled). Next, v 28

10 predictions-fulfilled:
1 Hamath and Arpad will be confounded because of the evil tidings (49:23)
2 They will be faint-hearted
3 The hearts of men will be greatly agitated, and incapable of being quiet
4 Damascus will wax feeble and turn herself to flee (49:24)
5 Fear will take hold of her
6 Anguish and sorrow will take hold of her as a woman in travail
7 Her young men will fall in the streets (49:26)
8 All the men of war will be cut off in that day (49:27)
9 I will kindle a fire in Damascus
10 It will consume the palaces of Benhadad

h This was the official title of the kings of Syria (v 27; 1 Ki. 15:18; 2 Ki. 13:3, 25)
i 88th prophecy in Jer. (49:28-33, fulfilled). Next, v 34

12 predictions-fulfilled:
1 Nebuchadnezzar will smite Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor (49:28)
2 They (the Chaldeans) will take away their flocks and tents (49:29)
3 They will take to themselves their curtains, all the vessels, and their camels
4 They will cry unto them
5 Fear will be on every side
6 Nebuchadnezzar will take counsel against you; he has conceived a purpose against you (49:30)
7 Your camels will be a booty (49:32)
8 Your cattle will be a spoil
9 I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners
10 I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof

the glorious state of the righteous living in everlasting joy and happiness m Here we have the call to battle-for the Chaldeans (v 14). Edom was to be small among the heathen and despised among men after this destruction (v 15)

n This refers to the Edomite Asherah, to a monstrous idol god, or if could possibly refer to the terror such gods inspire in others (v 16)

o Petra was a secure place for Edom for many centuries; now it has been desolate for many centuries. It will become a hiding place for the Jews in the days of Antichrist. See Petra and Sela in Index p This predicts the utter destruction and desolation of Edom (v 17-18) a Kedar and the kingdom of Hazor were very wealthy and lived without defences, trusting that their peaceful ways would be respected by others (v 31). Kedar was the name of the Bedouin living east of Palestine. They dwelled in tents so would be an easy prey to an army like that of the Chaldeans. Hazor was located near the Euphrates and the Persian Gulf

b 89th prophecy in Jer. (49:34-39, V 34-38 fulfilled; v 39 unfulfilled). Next, 50:1

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might (49:35)

2 I will bring upon Elam the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and I will scatter them toward all those winds (49:36)

3 Elam will be scattered among all nations

4 I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies and them that seek their life (49:37)

5 I will bring evil upon them, even My fierce anger

6 I will send the sword after them till I have consumed them

7 I will set My throne in Elam (49:38)

8 I will destroy from thence the king and the princes

1 prediction-unfulfilled:

I will bring again the captivity of Elam in the latter days (49:39) c Elam was a country east of the Tigris river. It was subjected by Nebuchadnezzar as well as all other countries round about Babylon (v 34-39; 25:25; Dan. 2:37-38)

d This prophecy was given 11 years before Jerusalem was destroyed; the conquest of Elam could have been after Judah fell (v 34; 2 Ki. 24:16; 25:2-3)

e Evidently the Elamites depended mainly upon their skill with the bow to protect themselves (v 35)

f The term four winds is used several times in a symbolic sense to represent the four directions (v 36; Dan. 7:2; Mt. 24:31)

g The word evil is often used in the sense of judgment or punishment for sin. What sins Elam had been guilty of is not stated but we can suppose that they were the same as those which caused other nations of their time to be punished (v 37)

h The throne of Nebuchadnezzar is spoken of here as God's throne because it was God who was giving the kingdom and greatness of the Babylonian kingdom to Nebuchadnezzar (v 38; Dan. 2:37-38; 4:17)

i Elam is another of several nations God has promised to restore in the latter days:
1 Elam (v 39)
2 Moab (48:47)
3 Ammon (49:6)
4 Israel (23:20; 30:24; Dt. 4:30; Hos. 3:5; Acts 15:13-19)

11 facts about the heathen (10:2)

1 They are dismayed at the signs of heaven (v 2)
2 They cut down a tree of the forest with an axe (v 3)
3 They deck it with silver and gold (v 4)
4 They stand it upright and fasten it with nails, so that it cannot fall over (v 4-5)
5 They pray to it but it cannot answer them (v 5). If they want it moved they must move it themselves, for it cannot go
6 They fear the tree trunk they form into a god which cannot do evil or good (v 5)
7 They are brutish and foolish (v 8,14)
8 They teach a doctrine of vanities
9 They are ignorant (v 14)
10 They are confounded (v 14) 15)
11 They are false and erroneous (v 14-

This passage is sometimes taken to mean the modern Christmas tree, but the truth is that the tree referred to had no branches left on it at all. This refers to a tree trunk being made into an idol - something carved out of the wood then covered with silver and gold, and set upright like other pillars or idols. See Asherah, p. 106 on every side.

(2) Command to flee

●30 ¶ Flee, get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hā'zôr, saith the LORD; for Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

(3) Command to invade

●31 Arise, get you up unto [a]the wealthy nation, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners; and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the LORD.

(4) Desolation of Hazor

33 And Hā'zôr shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever: there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.

8 Against Elam. (1) Destruction and dispersion by Babylon

●34 ¶[b]The word of the LORD that came to Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet against [c]Ē'lām [d]in the beginning of the reign of Zĕd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying,

35 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will break [e]the bow of Ē'lām, the chief of their might.

36 And upon Ē'lām will I bring the [f]four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Ē'lām shall not come.

(2) Dismay: judgment

37 For I will cause Ē'lām to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring [g]evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:

38 And I will set [h]my throne in Ē'lām, and will destroy from thence the king and the princes, saith the LORD.

(3) Restoration of Elam

●39 ¶ But it shall come to pass [i]in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Ē'lām, saith the LORD.

9 Against Babylon (50:1-51:64; 25:11-14; Isa. 13:1-14:27; 21:1-10; 47:1-15; Dan. 5:1-31). (1) Invasion by Medo-Persia

THE [a]word that the LORD spake against Bāb'ȳ-lon and against the land of the Chăl-dē'ans by Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet.

●2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Bāb'ȳ-lon is taken, [b]Bĕl is confounded, [c]Mĕ-ro'dăch is broken in pieces; her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 For [d]out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.

(2) Regathering of Israel

4 ¶In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Ĭs'ra-el shall come, they and the children of Jū'dah together, going and weeping: they shall go, and seek the LORD their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zī'ŏn with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us join ourselves to the LORD in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 [f]My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their restingplace.

7 All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, [g]We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.

(3) Invasion

●8 [h]Remove out of the midst of Bāb'ȳ-lon, and go forth out of the land of the Chăl-dē'ans, and be as the he goats before the flocks.

9 ¶ For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Bāb'ȳ-lon [i]an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty expert man; none shall return in vain.

10 And [j]Chăl-dē'a shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.

11 [k]Because ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown fat as the heifer at grass, and bellow as bulls;

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded; she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

●13 Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Bāb'ȳ-lon [l]shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

●14 [m]Put yourselves in array a 90th and last prophecy in Jer. (50:1-51:64. 50:1-12, 14-16, 21-38, 41-46; 51:1-4, 9-25, 27-35, 38-61 fulfilled; 50:13, 17-20, 39-40; 51:5-8, 26, 36-37, 62-64 unfulfilled). See 130 predictions, p. 800

b The word Bel is a contraction of the Aramaic form - Baal. This was the name of the national god of Babylon (v 2; 51:44; Isa. 46:1) c Merodach - another national god of Babylon. These idols - Bel and Merodach - were to be broken together (v 2) d The Medes and Persians made war on Babylon from the north, after having conquered other nations north of Babylon (v 3). Media was northeast of Babylon

e In those days - when Babylon is taken by the Medes and Persians, the children of Israel and Judah (both kingdoms of Israel) will return together from Babylon and make a nation in their (one) land again (v 4-7). This does not predict that Judah only would return to make a nation again in the promised land before the first coming of the Messiah; the 10 tribes were to come with the 2 tribes and the Levites, and all were to make one nation again in that land. This very clearly refutes the Anglo-Saxon theory of only Judah returning and the 10 tribes wandering north and west of Palestine to find a new promised land in England and America. No passage in the Bible hints of a new home land for any of the tribes. See Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 387; note a, Acts 13:16

f Both Judah and Israel of v 4 are called My people, so one has not been cast off any more than the other. None of the tribes are fulfilling the covenants made with their fathers at this time; all are on the same footing and totally scattered among the nations alike (v 6)

g The heathen who were used as instruments of chastening of Israel actually were commissioned by God to punish them; and they thought that they did not offend Jehovah in doing so. Sometimes though they went too far - overstepped their commission and thus incurred the judgment of God (25:9-26; Isa. 10:4-12; 37:36-38; 41:25; 44:28; 45:1-4, 13; Ezra 1:1-3; etc.)

h God wanted His people to leave Babylon before it was totally destroyed, so commanded them, as here, to leave (v 8)

i The Medes and Persians and other nations were leagued together against Babylon, and did come down from the north country against her (v 9)

j The spoil of Chaldea was enough to satisfy the greed of the invaders - all that spoiled Babylon were fully satisfied (v 10)

k 2 reasons God was to punish Chaldeans:
1 Because they were glad when Israel was destroyed (v 11)
2 Because they waxed fat, lazy and proud like heifers made fat on good pasture and bulls becoming mean and fat

l Babylon was to be so utterly destroyed and become so desolate that all men would hiss at her plagues in many generations (v 13)

m Here the invading armies of the Medes and Persians were commanded to form for battle against Babylon, for her time of judgment had come (v 14-16)

2 proverbs rebuking Jeremiah (12:5):

1 If you have run with footmen who wearied you, then how can you contend with horses? That is, if you are overcome and make bitter complaints about your own countrymen showing minor opposition to you, what will you do when the king, princes, priests, and prophets in Jerusalem inflict sufferings upon you?

2 If, in the land of peace where you have been secure and trust to have peace, men have wearied you, then how will you get along in the swelling of the Jordan? That is, if in times of peace you have had no peace, what will be your peace and security when war comes and the enemy sweeps over the whole land?

a 51 commands in Jer. 50-51: 2) 1 Declare you among the nations (50: 2 Publish and conceal not 3 Set up a standard Ion (50:9) 4 Remove out of the midst of Baby- 5 Go forth out of Chaldea 6 Put yourselves in array against Bab- ylon round about (50:14) 7 Shoot at her, spare no arrows 15) 8 Shout against her round about (50: 9 Cut off the sower and reaper (50:16) 10 Go up against the land (50:21) 11 Waste and utterly destroy after them 12 Come against her (50:26) 13 Open her storehouses 14 Cast her up as heaps 15 Destroy her utterly 16 Let nothing be left 17 Slay all her bullocks (50:27) 18 Let them go down to the slaughter 19 Call together the archers (50:29) 20 Camp against it round about 21 Let none thereof escape work 22 Recompense her according to her 23 According to all that she has done, do unto her 24 Hear the counsel of the Lord (50:45) 25 Spare not her young men (51:3) 26 Destroy utterly her host 27 Flee out of the midst of Babylon (51:6) 28 Deliver every man his soul 29 Be not cut off in her iniquity 30 Howl for her (51:8) 31 Take balm for her pain 32 Forsake her, and let every man go to his own country (51:9) 33 Make bright the arrows (51:11) 34 Gather the shields 35 Set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon (51:12) 36 Make the watch strong 37 Set up the watchman 38 Prepare the ambushes 39 Set up a standard in the land (51:27) 40 Blow the trumpet among the nations 41 Prepare the nations against her 42 Call together against her the king- doms 43 Appoint a captain against her 44 Cause the horses to come up 45 Prepare against her the nations with the kings, captains, and rulers of the Medes (51:28) 46 Go out of the midst of her (51:45) 47 Deliver every man his soul from the fierce anger of the Lord 48 Go away, stand not still (51:50) 49 Remember the Lord afar off 50 Let Jerusalem come into your mind 51 Bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates

b Israel-all Israel, not 10 tribes or 2 tribes only, are as a scattered sheep (v 17). All were scattered alike and all were gathered alike under Ezra, Nehemiah and others at the end of the Babylonian captivity (v 4-5). That all Israel is referred to here is clear from the fact that the kings of Assyria and of Babylon are both spoken of as scat- tering them. Assyria took the 10-tribe kingdom captive (2 Ki. 17), and Baby- lon took the 2-tribe kingdom (2 Ki. 23-25). The kings of both were to be punished (v 18), and the same peoples scattered by both were to be gathered again to their habitation in Palestine (v 19). Israel and Judah are thus in- cluded in the Israel of this passage and they were to be redeemed from all iniquity (v 20) c In those days-when both Israel and Ju- dah will be gathered in final restora- tion they will be fully cleansed from all sin (v 20; Zech. 12:1-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29). This passage (v 19-20) re- fers to the final restoration in the last days, as proved by the fact that they will not have any sins at that time; but the gathering of v 4-5 refers to the one after the Babylonian captivity

d 3 symbolic names of Babylon: 1 Merathaim, double rebellion. So- called because the empire was founded in a double rebellion (v 21) 2 Pekod, visitation. So-called be- cause Babylon was to be visited with judgment (v 21; Ezek. 23:23) 3 Sheshach. This name was used twice by Jeremiah (25:26; 51:41). The meaning is not clear

e Nebuchadnezzar is here symbolized as a hammer breaking the many nations before him (v 23), the hammer itself was to be broken and totally destroyed in due time (v 21-32). This is yet to be completely fulfilled. See Babylon in Index against Băb'ȳ-lon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.

●15 [a]Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her.

●16 Cut off the sower from Băb'ȳ-lon, and him that han- dleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppress- ing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

(4) Babylon punished: Israel restored to Palestine

17 ¶ [b]Ĭs'ra-el is a scattered sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-a hath devoured him; and last this Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'- zar king of Băb'ȳ-lon hath broken his bones.

★18 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'- ra-el; Behold, I will punish the king of Băb'ȳ-lon and his land, as I have punished the king of Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-a.

★19 And I will bring Ĭs'ra-el again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Cär'mel and Bā'shăn, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ē'phrā- ĭm and Gĭl'e-ăd.

20 [c]In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniq- uity of Ĭs'ra-el shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Jū'dah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I re- serve.

(5) Command to destroy Babylon

★21 ¶ Go up against the land [d]of Mĕr-a-thā'ĭm, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pē'kŏd: waste and utterly de- stroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.●

22 A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruc- tion.

23 How is the [e]hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Băb'ȳ-lon be- come a desolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Băb'ȳ-lon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD.

25 The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his in- dignation: for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts in the land of the Chăl-dē'anş.

●26 Come against her from the utmost border, open her store- houses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

●27 Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visita- tion.

28 The voice of them that flee and [d]escape out of the land of Băb'ȳ-lon, to declare in Zī'ŏn the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Băb'ȳ-lon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: [b]recompense her ac- cording to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

30 [c]Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord GOD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

32 And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

(6) Israel and Judah oppressed together by Babylon

33 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [d]The children of Ĭs'ra-el and the children of Jū'dah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.

34 Their Redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is his name: he shall throughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the in- habitants of Băb'ȳ-lon.

(7) Immediate judgment

35 ¶ A [e]sword is upon the Chăl-dē'anş, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Băb'ȳ-lon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.

36 A sword is upon the liars; and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men; and they shall be dismayed.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled peo- ple that are in the midst of her; and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures; and they shall be robbed.

38 A [f]drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of grav- en images, and they are mad upon their idols.

(8) Future judgment (Isa. 13:19-22; 14:4-23; Rev. 14: 8; 18:1-23)

★39 [g]Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 [h]As God overthrew Sŏd'om

a A remnant of Jews were to be saved from the destruction of Babylon and declare in Zion, that the great city had fallen (v 28)

b Babylon was to reap what she had sowed. She had destroyed Jerusalem and Judah and now she was to be destroyed-the empire would pass into history (v 29)

c In these verses (30-32) we have the utter destruction of Babylon foretold. The young men, the men of war, all the proud, and all the cities of Baby- lon were to be destroyed

d Here we have another of the scores of proofs that both houses of Israel were to be made captives in the same lands, be oppressed together by the same peo- ple, and then be redeemed together from captivity (v 33-34). The way they were oppressed together in the same land by the same people began with the 10 tribes being taken into captivity by Assyria and then the 2 tribes by Baby- lon. In the period of 133 years between the two captivities, the Babylonian empire arose and overthrew the As- syrian. This made the 10 tribes already captive to Babylon at the time the 2 tribes were carried away by the em- pire. When Medo-Persian overthrew Babylon this made all the tribes in the same empire again. Then when Cyrus permitted any and all who wanted to return to their homeland, to go back from all the tribes of Israel, many from the entire 12 (and the Levites) did go back and form the nation in Palestine to fulfil Scripture in con- nection with the first advent of the Messiah. All Israel then witnessed the ministry of the Messiah when He came, and had the same responsibility in re- ceiving or rejecting Him as their Sa- viour-and all tribes shared alike in the last dispersion in 70 A. D. It should be noted that the terms Jews, Israel, house of Israel, the house of Jacob, and the house of Judah are used interchange- ably of the same people in the N. T. (Mt. 2:2; 10:6; Lk. 1:33; Jn. 20:19; Acts 2:5, 10, 36; Heb. 8:8-10). See note a, Acts 13:16

e The swords of the Medes and Persians were to destroy the Chaldeans, the in- habitants of Babylon, the princes, the wise men, the liars, the mighty men, the horses, the mingled people, and all classes (v 35-37)

f This perhaps refers to the turning of the waters of the Euphrates from the regular channel from going under the great gates of the city to a large lake bed and lowlands outside the city, so that the invaders could get into the city by the river channel (v 38)

g These two verses predict the final, com- plete, and eternal destruction of Bab- ylon in the day of the Lord and under the 7th vial (v 39-40; Isa. 13:6, 9, 19- 22; Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24). When it is destroyed in the final day it will never be inhabited again; so since Bab- ylon will be a great city again in the future this prophecy must refer to the future

h Babylon has never yet been destroyed like Sodom and Gomorrah and will not be until its sudden and complete destruction by God in one hour by the earthquake of Rev. 16:17-21; 18:1-24

22 sins of Judah (8:6):
1 Loved the planets as gods (v 2)
2 Served the host of heaven
3 Walked after their gods
4 Sought after idolatry Creator
5 Worshipped creation instead of the 6 Fell morally and refused to rise (v 4)
7 Turned away from God
8 Refused to turn back to God (v 4-5)
9 Perpetual backsliding (v 5)
10 Holding fast to deceit (idolatry)
11 Spoke falsehood (v 6)
12 Impenitence
13 Went their own ways in sin
14 Ignored judgment of God (v 7)
15 Claimed wisdom because of possess- ing the law (v 8)
16 The scribes made it vain
17 Rejected the Word of God (v 9)
18 All given to covetrouness (v 10)
19 All dealing falsely
20 Prophesied peace when there was none shame
21 Committed abominations without 22 Provoked God to anger through graven images and strange vanities (v 19)

a The people from the north were the Medes and Persians (v 21; 51:11; 28; 25:25; Isa. 13:17; Dan. 5:28)
b This was literally fulfilled (Dan. 5) c The second time this expression is used. In 49:19 it referred to Nebuchadnezzar; here it refers to Medio-Persia, or their leader, Cyrus (v 44). Just as a lion is driven out of his lair, by the flooding of Jordan, to be more inhabited high places, so Cyrus was to come up on Babylon d Questions 191-194. Last questions in Jeremiah e The counsel of God is settled and Babylon must be destroyed and made waste (v 45)
f Babylon was so strong and impossible to conquer that the announcement of her fall was one of the outstanding things which had taken place among the nations for many years. It is no wonder then, that Cyrus was hailed as a great conqueror by all nations in that day (v 46)
g 7 symbols of the Medes and Persians:
1 A lion (50:44)
2 A destroying wind (51:1)
3 Fanners or winnowers (51:2)
4 Caterpillers (51:14, 27)
5 Spoilers (51:53-56)
6 Battle axe (51:20)
7 Weapons of war (51:20)
h Fanners-winnowers; fan-winnow (v 2)
i These verses (5-8) have a future fulfillment, when Babylon will be suddenly destroyed. God assured Israel and Judah that they had not been forsaken; they were still His people and He would yet fulfil the covenants and promises with them (v 5). The way He plans to do this is by permitting the future king of Babylon, the Antichrist, to break his 7-year covenant with them, take over their land, and later seek to exterminate them as a people. They will be forced to turn to God in the time known as Jacob's trouble, and they will then be converted so that He can justly fulfil His obligations with them (Zech. 12:10-13:1, 9; Rom. 11:25-29). See notes on Dan. 9:24-27; Mt. 24:15-22

5 proofs this was the original earth (4:24):

1 The only time the earth has ever been without form, and void was before the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25 when it was made chaos through the fall of Lucifer and the pre-Adamites - when God brought the first great universal flood upon the earth to destroy all life (Gen. 1:2; 2 Pet. 3:5-8). The statement without form, and void means desolate and empty. See Gen. 1:2, notes; and 18 proofs of a pre-Adamite world, p. 54

2 The only time when the sun, moon, and stars of heaven were forbidden to give light on the earth was in the period before the 6 days of re-creation, as in Gen. 1:2. There had been light on the earth when it was first created - in the beginning (Gen. 1:2), and there has been light ever since the first day of Gen. 1:3-31; so the period of such darkness took place on the earth sometime after the beginning and before the restoration to a second habitable state in the 6 days of Gen. 1:3-2:25. Permanent and eternal laws were given to the sun, moon, and stars at this time, as proved in 31:35-36; Gen. 1:14-19; Ps. 72:5, 17; 89:35-37

3 The mountains and hills have been moved and will yet be moved by earthquakes, but there never has been a time since Adam to this day, nor will there ever be a time from our day into all eternity that the earth has been or will be without a man, bird, or fruitful place, as seen by Jeremiah, and referred to in v 25. Therefore, we are required by facts to associate 4:23-26 with the same time as that of Gen. 1:2; and we are made to realize that there were men, birds, and fruitful places on the earth before Adam's time who were destroyed by the flood of Gen. 1:2; 2 Pet. 3:5-8

4 The earth was created to be inhabited (Isa. 45:18); and it was inhabited from the beginning by man who lived in cities (v 25-26), by nations (Isa. 14:12-14), and a social system, the members of which were mortal and therefore capable of being drowned and Gō-mŏr'rah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

(9) The immediate invader: Medo-Persia (Isa. 13:17; 44:28; Dan. 5)

41 [a]Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel, and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array, like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Băb'ў-lon.

43 The king of Băb'ў-lon hath heard the report of them, and his hands [b]waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, [c]he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jôr'dan unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: [d]and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear ye [e]the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Băb'ў-lon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chăl-dē'ans: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 [f]At the noise of the taking of Băb'ў-lon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAPTER 51 796

THUS saith the LORD; Behold, I will raise up against Băb'ў-lon, and against them that dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, [a]a destroying wind;

2 And will send unto Băb'ў-lon [b]fanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine: and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chăl-dē'ans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

(10) Judah and Israel still God's chosen people

5 [c]For Ĭs'ra-el hath not been forsaken, nor Jū'dah of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Ĭs'ra-el.

(11) Future destruction

(Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24)

6 [d]Flee out of the midst of Băb'ў-lon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the LORD's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence.

7 Băb'ў-lon hath been [e]a golden cup in the LORD's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations are mad.

8 Băb'ў-lon is [f]suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

(12) Immediate destruction

9 We would have healed Băb'ў-lon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

10 The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zĭ'ŏn the work of the LORD our God.

11 Make bright the arrows; gather the shields: the LORD hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Mēdes: for his device is against Băb'ў-lon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set up the standard upon the walls of Băb'ў-lon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Băb'ў-lon.

13 O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness.

14 The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers; and they shall lift up a shout against thee.

15 [g]He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding.

16 When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

17 Every man is brutish by his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

18 They are vanity, [h]the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

(13) Jacob's portion

19 [i]The portion of Jā'cob is not like them: for he is the former of all things: and Ĭs'ra-el is the rod of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.

a This refers to the same thing that Rev. 18:4 does (v 6) b See Rev. 17:4, notes
c See Rev. 18:8, 17, 19; 16:17-21
d 7 fold greatness of God (v 15-16):
1 He has made the earth by His power
2 He has established the world by His wisdom
3 He has stretched out the heavens by His understanding
4 There is a multitude of waters from the heavens when He utters His voice
5 He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth
6 He makes lightnings with rain
7 He brings forth the wind out of His treasures
e The idols were the vanities of man and the work of errors, as here (v 17-18)
f The God who is the portion of Jacob is not like the idols made with the hands of men (v 19)

(2 Pet. 3:5-6); they were beings Adam could replace, for he was commanded to replenish the earth (Gen. 1:27-28). It is clear that the earth became desolate and empty after its original habitation of Gen. 1:1, that is was cursed as in Gen. 1:2, and later restored to a second habitable state and replenished as in Gen. 1:3-2:25; and so, it is only logical to associate 4:23-26 of this book with Gen. 1:2 and agree that it was the original earth referred to in both passages

5 One thing is certain - 4:23-26 could not apply to the time of Noah, for at that time the heavens had lights, and there were men, birds, and fruitful places left on the earth after the flood whereas, in the case of the curse brought upon the original earth, none of these things remained

Therefore, if we rightly divide the Word of Truth we should associate 4:23-26 with Gen. 1:2 and 2 Pet. 3:5-6, recognizing that there had been light, fixed mountains and hills, men, birds, fruitful places, and cities on the earth before this curse, and before Adam and the 6-day work of restoration to a second habitable state as in Gen. 1:3-2:25

The purpose of God is showing Jeremiah the total destruction of life on the earth in 4:23-26 was to reveal how the land of Judah would be destroyed, and to make a comparison between the two times. In the original judgment on the whole earth all life had been destroyed, but in Judah God was to make an exception; He declared He would not make a full end as on the original earth (v 27)

Prayer under law of Moses (11:20)

This kind of prayer, made under the law of Moses, can also be prayed by a Christian in this age. The truth is that every time one prays for the will of God to be done in earth as it is in heaven he is actually praying that God and Christ will come with the armies of heaven to defeat the armies of earth and take over the rule of the nations - an operation which will take millions of lives, as revealed in Scripture (Isa. 63:1-6; Joel 2-3; Zech. 14; Mt. 25: 31-46; 2 Th. 1:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 11:15; 19:11-21)

10 commands to Jeremiah and Judah (7:2):

1 Stand in the gate of the Lord's house, and proclaim this word (v 2)
2 Say: Amend your ways and your doings (v 3)
3 Trust not in lying words (v 4)
4 Pray not for this people, neither make intercession to Me for them (v 16)
5 Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh (v 21)
6 Speak all these words unto them (v 27)
7 Call also unto them
8 Cut off your hair (v 29)
9 Cast it away
10 Take up a lamentation on high places a Here again God referred to Cyrus, His battle axe and weapons of war whom He would use in punishing Babylon and releasing His people to return to their own land (v 20; Isa. 44:28; 45:1-6). Battle axes were of different types. That of the Egyptians was 2-3 ft. long with a single blade of bronze or steel. The Persian battle axe had a short handle and a large head. Some others had two heads

b 10 things Cyrus was to break for God:
1 The nations (v 20)
2 Kingdoms
3 The horse and his rider (v 21)
4 The chariot and his rider
5 Man and woman (v 22)
6 The old and the young
7 The young man and the maid
8 The shepherd and the flock (v 23)
9 The husbandman and his oxen
10 The captains and rulers

c God is spoken of as rendering on Babylon all that they had done to Zion. He did give the commandment to Cyrus, though He was a direct or personal agent who fulfilled this (v 24; Isa. 44:28; 45:1-6) d Nebuchadnezzar is spoken of as a destroying mountain destroying others; now he was to be destroyed and become a burnt mountain (v 25)

e This verse has not yet been fulfilled, but will be in the destruction under the 7th vial (v 26; Rev. 14:8; 16:17-21; 18:1-24). Many stones in the past have been taken from the site of ancient Babylon and used in other buildings nearby, but when it is destroyed like Sodom (50:40) not one will be taken from the place where Babylon was located

f These verses (27-33) are another call for the immediate destruction of Babylon by the Medes and Persians

g This shows the weakness of the mighty men of Babylon - as if paralyzed by fear (v 30-32). This would have to be brought about by the supernatural

h Herodotus says that the Babylonians retired to the city and remained in their holds, as predicted here (v 30). The warriors of Cyrus, having turned the waters of the Euphrates out of their channel, entered at both ends of the city by the river bed, and took it i The palace was a strong fortification in the heart of the city, so the messengers thus met one another (v 31)

j The ferries were seized or occupied. Historians say that when Cyrus captured the city his troops moved down the river bed and occupied all these ferries, finding the gates left open at each one of them. There was a wall on each side of the river with gates facing it; and these should have been closed to keep invaders out of the city, then they could have been easily defeated; but through negligence they were left open k The marshes around the city formed an important part of the defenses of Babylon. They were dried up by the invaders and the reeds burned so that they could have good access to the city from all directions (v 32)

10fold cause of judgment (Isa. 59:12):
1 Multiplied transgressions (v 12)
2 Many sins
3 Knowledge of transgressions without seeking to be rid of them
4 Iniquities known but not repented of and cleaned out of the life
5 Transgressing and lying against God
6 Departure from God (v 13)
7 Speaking oppression
8 Speaking revolt
9 Conceiving falsehood
10 Uttering falsehood from the heart

8 commands to God's watchman (Isa. 62:6):
1 Keep not silence (v 6)
2 Give the Lord no rest till He makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth (v 7)
3 Go through, go through the gates (v 10)
4 Prepare the way of the people
5 Cast up, cast up the highway
6 Gather out the stones 11)
7 Lift up a standard for the people (v
8 Say to Zion, Behold your salvation cometh; behold His reward is with Him, and His work before Him

(14) Cyrus God's rod of chastening on Babylon

20 [a]Thou art my battle axe and weapons of war: for with thee will I [b]break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms;

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider;

22 With thee also will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces old and young; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid;

23 I will also break in pieces with thee the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.

24 And [c]I will render unto Bāb'ȳ-lon and to all the inhabitants of Chăl-dē'ā all their evil that they have done in Zī'ŏn in your sight, saith the LORD.

25 Behold, I am against thee, O [d]destroying mountain, saith the LORD, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.

(15) Babylon to be desolate forever (Isa. 13:19-22; Rev. 18)

✱26 [e]And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the LORD.

(16) Immediate judgment

✱27 [f]Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ar'a-răt, Mĭn'nī, and Ash'che-năz; appoint a captain against her; cause the horses to come up as the rough caterpillers. ●

✱28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Mēdes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for every purpose of the LORD shall be performed against Bāb'ȳ-lon, to make the land of Bāb'ȳ-lon a desolation without an inhabitant.

30 [g]The mighty men of Bāb'ȳ-lon have forborn to fight, they have [h]remained in their holds: their might hath failed; they became as women: they have burned her dwellingplaces; her bars are broken.

31 [i]One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon that his city is taken at one end, 32 And that [j]the passages are stopped, and the [k]reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.

33 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Ĭs'ra-el; [a]The daughter of Bāb'ȳ-lon is like a threshingfloor, it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.

(17) Israel's complaint

34 Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon hath devoured [b]me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath cast me out.

35 The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Bāb'ȳ-lon, shall the inhabitant of Zī'ŏn say; and my blood upon the inhabitants of Chăl-dē'ā, shall Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm say.

(18) God avenges Israel

✱36 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry.

37 And Bāb'ȳ-lon shall become heaps, a dwellingplace for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.

✱38 They shall roar together like lions: they shall yell as lions' whelps.

39 In their heat I will make their feasts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the LORD.

40 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he goats.

41 How is [c]Shē'shăch taken! and how is the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Bāb'ȳ-lon become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come up upon Bāb'ȳ-lon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

43 Her cities are a desolation, a dry land, and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.

44 And I will punish Bēl in Bāb'ȳ-lon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up: and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Bāb'ȳ-lon shall fall.

(19) Command to leave Babylon

✱45 [d]My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.

46 And lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the [e]rumour that shall be heard in the land; a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.

(20) Reason: judgment

a Babylon is compared to a threshing floor and her judgment to a harvest being threshed on the floor (v 33)

b Israel complained that Nebuchadnezzar had crushed them (me, here and in v 35, reads us in the Heb. text); that he had made them like an empty vessel, swallowed them up like a dragon (crocodile), filled himself with their treasures, and had cast them out (v 34-35). For this mistreatment of Israel God promised to punish Babylon (v 36-44)

c A symbolic name for Babylon (note d, 50:21)

d The 4th command for God's people to leave Babylon so that they would not partake of her judgment (v 45-46). Cp. v 6, 9, 45, 50; 50:8

e Before the fall of Babylon there were many rumours, internal strifes, and much unrest as indicated here (v 46)

Watchmen upon walls (Isa. 62:6)

Setting watchmen on walls was an ancient custom for the purpose of warning of the approach of an enemy. Here the idea is that God's prophets and ministers were like watchmen who could not hold their peace or give Him rest day or night until prophecy was completely fulfilled in the full restoration of Jerusalem and Israel in their land (v 6). Ministers are often called watchmen (21:11-12; Ezek. 3:17; 33:7)

Liberty (Isa. 61:1)

Liberty is the very essence of the gospel. God did not give laws commanding slavery, but He did give a few regulating it as a custom tolerated by Him and practiced universally by men. In other words, if men were determined to have slaves during their ignorance of the gospel and truth, He wanted them to be properly treated as servants and not as abused slaves. He made laws proclaiming liberty to all throughout the land (Lev. 25; Jer. 34:8-17; Ezek. 46:17. Cp. Ex. 21:1-11; Lev. 22:10; Dt. 15:17-18; 24:14). If Christianity would be followed wholly there would be no slaves or oppressed people of earth, for every man would be consecrated to the highest good of all. To enslave men, oppress and keep them in ignorance, force them against their free will, deprive them of their hire, prevent proper home life and training of children, fetter the intellect, make some dependent on others and promote any unequality in rights contrary to the laws of God are entirely un-Christlike. The word bruised is used in Lk. 4:18 instead of captives as here, and it means those completely crushed and shattered in life, those oppressed and broken in body, soul, and mind so that there is no aim even to live. The idea here seems to be that of captives to Satan, sickness, disease, weakness, failure, and bondage to sin and evil habits that destroy the body, soul, and mind, now and forever (v 1). This could also refer to the captives in paradise, as in Mt. 12:40; Lk. 23:43; Eph. 4:8-10; Heb. 2:14-15

The grave (Isa. 65:4)

Heb. qeber, tomb, grave, sepulchre, or burying place; not sheol, the place of departed spirits. They did not remain among hells, but among tombs. They frequented graves to practice necromancy and divination, to seek communication with the dead. The theory of necromancy was that the departed spirits were acquainted with future events, the state of the dead, and the secret invisible world where they live, and that such spirits could impart this knowledge to the living. It was believed that acquaintance with departed spirits could best be brought about by dwelling among the tombs and monuments. Tombs were cut in the sides of the mountains and many were large enough to house several people (Mt. 8:28; Mk. 5:3). Such places made convenient homes for cave-dwellers - those too poor to own property and build more suitable homes. In Palestine, in Bible days there were many such habitations, as seen in the above passages in Isaiah and in the Gospels a The days come in which Babylon will fall and suffer the same kind of fall and destruction which Jerusalem experienced at her hands (v 47-49)

b A renewed entreaty for the Jews of all the tribes of Israel to flee from Babylon just as soon as Cyrus would give them permission (v 6, 9, 45, 50; 50: 8; Ezra 1:1-2) c The days come in which judgment will come upon Babylon for her mistreatment of Israel as in v 34-35, 50-51 (v 52-58)
d Herodotus says that the walls of Babylon were 50 cubits thick and 200 cubits high. This would be 104 ft. 2 in. thick and 416 ft. 8 in. high, counting each cubit as 25 in.
e Each side of Babylon had 25 great brazen gates (v 58)
f Seralah was the brother of Baruch, the secretary of Jeremiah. He evidently accompanied Zedekiah to Babylon to renew his vows of allegiance to Nebuchadnezzar. Cp. 27:1; 28:1

8 acts of God (Isa. 59:16):

1 He saw no man (v 16)
2 Wondered why there was no intercessor
3 Brought salvation
4 Sustained Himself (v 17)
5 Put on righteousness as a breastplate
6 Put on a helmet of salvation
7 Put on garments of vengeance
8 Clad Himself with zeal (jealousy) as a cloke

God's governor (Isa. 59:16)

There was no man qualified to govern, lead, and bring about the necessary reformation that would save the nation, and no man to pray, whom God would hear. Therefore, God decided to intervene to bring the nation to its senses and save those that would submit to His program. To do this He would take the armour of righteousness and salvation, and the garments of zeal and vengeance (v 17). In the fulfillment of this saying of the nation God will have to judge those worthy of judgment and save those worthy of salvation, as well as punish the enemies of Israel according to their deeds (v 18). This will bring about the salvation of Israel, and the fear of and glory to God's name in all parts of the earth (v 19). That this is yet future is clear from the fact that it has not happened and that it was to be accomplished at the 2nd advent of the Messiah (v 20-21)

5 things Christ will do at 2nd advent (Isa. 59:20):

1 Come to Zion-Jerusalem (not London, Washington, or any other place on earth, v 20; Zech. 14:4)
2 Come to them that turn from sin in Jacob or Israel (v 20; Zech. 12:10-31:1; 14:1-5, 14; Rom. 11:25-29)
3 Make a new covenant with them in that day (v 21; 42:6; 49:8; 55:3; 57:6; 61:8; Jer. 31:31; Heb. 10:16)
4 Pour out the Holy Spirit upon them (v 21; 32:15; 34:16; 44:3; Joel 2:28-32; Zech. 12:10-13:1)
5 Put the words of God in their mouths and in the mouths of eternal generations to come (v 21)

Salvation of Israel (Isa. 59:20)

Those that will turn from transgression in Israel, in that day, will be the one-third of the nation who will come through the tribulation alive, the two-thirds being killed (Zech. 13:9). They will be the ones to say, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord (Mt. 23:39) - the ones that will be born again in a day and make the nucleus around which the others from all the tribes will be gathered in the Millennium (11:10-12, notes). They are the all Israel of Rom. 11:25-29, and the Judah of Zech. 14:14

4 blessings at the 2nd advent (Isa. 60:5):

1 Then they will see (v 5)
2 They will flow together; that is, all the tribes will be one nation again, in their own land (v 2; Ezek. 37:16-24)
3 They will fear God (v 5)
4 They will be enlarged and blessed with riches of the earth (v 5-7)

47 Therefore, behold, [a]the days come, that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Bāb'ȳ-lon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Bāb'ȳ-lon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD.

49 As Bāb'ȳ-lon hath caused the slain of Iṣ'ra-el to fall, so at Bāb'ȳ-lon shall fall the slain of all the earth.

(21) Command to return to Zion

●50 [b]Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD afar off, and let Jē-ru'sā-lĕm come into your mind.

51 We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD's house.

(22) Reason: judgment on Babylon; her captivity ended (25:11-14)

52 Wherefore, behold, [c]the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images: and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 Though Bāb'ȳ-lon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54 A sound of a cry cometh from Bāb'ȳ-lon, and great destruction from the land of the Chăl'dē'anș:

55 Because the LORD hath spoiled Bāb'ȳ-lon, and destroyed out of her the great voice; when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Bāb'ȳ-lon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken: for the LORD God of recompenses shall surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [d]The broad walls of Bāb'ȳ-lon shall be utterly broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

(23) Sign of the book

59 ¶ The word which Jĕr-e-mī'ah the prophet commanded Sĕr-a-ī'ah the son of Nē-rī'ah, the son of Mā-a-sē'iah, when he went with Zĕd-e-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah into Bāb'ȳ-lon in the [e]fourth year of his reign. And this Sĕr-a-ī'ah was a quiet prince.

60 So Jĕr-e-mī'ah[b] wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Bāb'ȳ-lon, even all these words that are written against Bāb'ȳ-lon.

61 And Jĕr-e-mī'ah said to Sĕr-a-ī'ah, When thou comest to Bāb'ȳ-lon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words;

62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.

(24) Signification: fall of Babylon

63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Eū-phrā'tēș:

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Bāb'ȳ-lon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jĕr-e-mī'ah.

797 CHAPTER 52

X Captivity of Judah (52:1-34; 39:1-18; 2 Ki. 25; 2 Chr. 36). 1 Rebellion of Judah

ZĔD-E-KĪ'AH was [a]one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm. And his mother's name was Hā-mū'tal the daughter of Jĕr-e-mī'ah of Lĭb'nah.

2 And [e]he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jē-hoi'a-kĭm had done.

3 For through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jĕ-ru'-sā-lĕm and Jū'dah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zĕd-e-kī'ah rebelled against the king of Bāb'ȳ-lon.

2 Fall of Jerusalem

4 ¶ And it came to pass in [f]the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Bāb'ȳ-lon came, he and all his army, against Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zĕd-e-kī'ah.

6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chăl-dē'anș were by the city round about:) and they went by the way of the plain.

3 Judgment on Zedekiah

a This was the year that Seraiah and Zedekiah went to renew vows of allegiance to Babylon. Soon after returning home though, Zedekiah broke his vows and rebelled against the king of Babylon (v 59; 2 Ki. 24:17-20) b Jeremiah wrote all the prophecies against Babylon in a book and sent it to that city by the hand of Seraiah, with instructions to read the predictions to the Jews already in captivity (v 60-61). After reading them he was to say a prayer confirming the prophecies which declared that none would inhabit Babylon again, neither man nor beast, and that it would remain desolate forever (v 62). Then, he was to bind the book to a stone and cast it into the river Euphrates, signifying that Babylon would sink and never rise again (v 63-64)
c In ch. 52 we have a historical appendix to the book of Jeremiah, giving details of the capture of Babylon which are additional to those contained in ch. 39. The last words of ch. 51 might be taken to affirm that Jeremiah was not the author of this last chapter, which is like 2 Ki. 24:17-25:30. If so, the one who added this no doubt had other valuable documents, for he made several modifications, the principal one being the account of those led away captive by Nebuchadnezzar (v 28-30)
d Zedekiah was 21 years old when he began to reign. He ruled 11 years in Jerusalem and was the last king of Judah to reign (v 1). The predictions of Hosea uttered over 135 years before, have been literally fulfilled-For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without a teraphim (Hos. 3:4). The next King will be the Messiah or Christ at His 2nd advent. From the time of Zedekiah until Christ, Himself comes to reign Israel has not been ruled nor will she be ruled by a law-heir to the throne. Even from Coniah's day there has been no king of the royal line, nor was there to be one until the coming of Christ who became the legal heir to the throne of David by being the foster son of Joseph and the firstborn of the virgin, Mary, who became the wife of Joseph. The throne rights belonged to Joseph and he passed them on to Jesus Christ who, when He comes again, will take the throne of David and establish David's kingdom eternally (Isa. 9:6-7; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 15:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10) e This was the usual pattern for the kings of Judah, and the pattern for the kings of the 10 tribes without exception (v 2-3). It was the reason Judah and Ephraim went into captivity-their rulers and the people themselves did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord
f In this year Judah rebelled against Babylon, in the 10th day of the 10th month. The city was taken and the rebellion was crushed in the 11th year, the 4th month, and the 9th day (v 4-6). The city finally surrendered because of the sore famine which prevailed. The men of war followed by the soldiers of Nebuchadnezzar; and all were taken except a very few (v 7-11; 2 Ki. 25)

No modern airplane (Isa. 60:8)

This is not a prophecy of a modern airplane, as some suppose, but a reference to the ships with their sails coming up over the horizon, as seen in the next verse. The prediction concerns the regathering of Israel and their coming in ships from the far ends of the earth (v 8-9; 11:10-12, notes). Gentiles will help in this regathering and the restoration of Palestine (v 10-11). The reference to clouds and doves to their windows is appropriate in view of the ancient custom in the East, of building special cotes for the birds. In Egypt, Persia, Syria, and other lands large, round, tall towers were built for them-hundreds crowned with spires having holes for nests, the purpose being to collect dung for fertilizer and fuel. Pigeons and doves were many in number; whole flights of pigeons would appear as a cloud at a distance, and darken the sun

a 14fold judgment of Zedekiah:
1 Slew his sons before his eyes (v 10)
2 Slew the princes of Judah
3 Put his eyes out (v 11)
4 Bound him with chains
5 Carried him to Babylon captive
6 Put him in prison until death
7 Burned the temple (v 13)
8 Burned the king's house
9 Burned all the houses in Jerusalem
10 Burned all the houses of the great men of the city (v 14)
11 Broke down the walls of Jerusalem
12 Carried the people away captive except a very few for vinedressers and husbandmen to care for the land (v 16)
13 Broke all the brass pillars and vessels, and carried them to Babylon (v 17-18)
14 Took all the gold and silver vessels to Babylon (v 19)

59th prophecy in Jer. (30:1-31:40)

86 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 The days will come that I will bring again the captivity of My people Israel and Judah (30:3)
2 I will cause them to return to the land which I gave to their fathers
3 They will possess it
4 We have heard the voice of war, and not of peace (30:5)
5 I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned to paleness (30:6)
6 That day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble (30:7)
7 He will be saved out of it
8 In that day I will break his (Antichrist's) yoke from off your neck (30:8)
9 I will burst your bonds
10 Strangers will no more serve themselves of him (the Antichrist)
11 They will serve the Lord their God
12 They will serve David their king, whom I will raise up unto them (30:9)
13 I will save you from afar, and your seed from the land of their captivity (30:10)
14 Jacob will return and be quiet and at rest. This is one of the many instances where the word Jacob refers to all Israel who will be gathered back to their own land. Anglo-Saxons will not fulfill this
15 None will make him afraid
16 Though I make a full end of all nations among whom you have been scattered, yet I will not make a full end of you (30:11)
17 I will correct you in measure, and will not leave you altogether unpunished
18 All that devour you will be devoured (30:16) 19 Your adversaries will go into captivity spoil
20 All that spoil you will become a 21 All that prey upon you will become a prey
22 I will restore health unto you (30:17)
23 I will heal your wounds
24 I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents (30:18)
25 I will have mercy on his dwelling-places heap
26 The city will be built upon her own
27 The palace will remain after the manner thereof
28 From you will proceed thanksgiving and happiness (30:19)
29 I will multiply them
30 There will be many of them
31 I will glorify them and they will not be a small nation
32 Their children will be as they used to be (30:20)
33 Their congregation will be established before Me
34 I will punish all that oppress them
35 Their nobles shall be of themselves and not of the Gentiles (30:21)
36 Their governor will be from their midst and not a foreigner
37 I will cause him to draw near, and he will approach Me

8 ¶ But the army of the Chăl-dē'ans pursued after the king, and overtook Zĕd-e-kī'ah in the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō; and all his army was scattered from him.

9 Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Băb'ў-lon to Rĭb'lah in the land of Hă'math; where he gave judgment upon him.

10 [a]And the king of Băb'ў-lon slew the sons of Zĕd-e-kī'ah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Jū'dah in Rĭb'lah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zĕd-e-kī'ah; and the king of Băb'ў-lon bound him in chains, and carried him to Băb'ў-lon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

4 Jerusalem destroyed

12 ¶ Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'ў-lon, came Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan, captain of the guard, which served the king of Băb'ў-lon, into Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm,

13 And burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm, and all the houses of the great men, burned he with fire:

14 And all the army of the Chăl'dē'ans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm round about.

5 Final captivity of Judah

15 Then Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Băb'ў-lon, and the rest of the multitude.

6 A remnant left (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

16 But Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard left certain of the poor of the land for vinedressers and for husbandmen.

7 Temple riches taken (27:18-22)

17 Also the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the LORD, the Chăl-dē'ans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Băb'ў-lon.

18 The caldrons also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the basons, and the firepans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Sŏl'o-mon had made in the house of the LORD: the brass of all these vessels [a]was without weight.

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar [b]was eighteen cubits; and a fillet of [c]twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was [d]four fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of brass was upon it; and the height of one chapiter was [e]five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of brass. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side; and all the pomegranates upon the network were an [f]hundred round about.

8 Execution of priests and princes

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard [g]took Sĕr-a-ī'ah the chief priest, and Zĕph-a-nī'ah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door:

25 He took also out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war; and seven men of them that were near the king's person, which were found in the city; and the principal scribe of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.

26 So Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Băb'ў-lon to Rĭb'lah.

27 And the king of Băb'ў-lon smote them, and put them to death in Rĭb'lah in the land of Hă'math. Thus Jū'dah was carried away captive out of his own land.

9 Three deportations

28 This is the people whom Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar [h]carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty:

29 In the eighteenth year of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar he carried away captive from Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm eight hundred thirty and two persons:

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar Nĕb'u-zăr-ă'dan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

43 At the same time I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they will be My people (31:1)
44 Again I will build you, and you will be built (31:4)
45 You will again be adorned with your tabrets, and will dance and be merry
46 You will plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria (31:5)
47 The planters will plant and eat them as common things
48 There will be a day when watchmen on mount Ephraim will cry, Arise, let us go up to Zion to the Lord our God (31:6)
49 I will bring you from the north country and from all parts of the earth, the infirm and the healthy; a great company will return (31:8)
50 They will come with weeping (31:9)
51 I will lead them with supplications (31:9; Zech. 12:10-13:1)
52 I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in the straight way, in which they will not stumble (31:9)
53 He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd does a flock (31:10)
54 Jehovah has redeemed Jacob from one stronger than he (31:11)
55 They will come and sing in the height of Zion (31:12)
56 They will flow together to the goodness of the Lord, for many material blessings 57 Their soul will be like a watered garden all 58 They will not sorrow anymore at all
59 Then the young and old will rejoice and dance together (31:13)
60 I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them
61 I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness (31:14)
62 My people will be satisfied with My goodness
63 A voice of lamentation... Refrain from weeping, for your work will be rewarded (31:15-16)
64 They will come again from the land of the enemy (31:16)
65 There is hope in your end, that your children will come again to their own border (land, 31:17)
66 Ephraim will bemoan himself and pray to Me and promise to return (31:18-20)
67 I will surely have mercy upon him
68 A woman will compass a man (31:21-22)
69 They will yet use this speech in the land of Judah and in her cities when I bring her captivity again (31:23)
70 Husbandmen will dwell again in Judah and her cities, and they that go forth with flocks (31:24)
71 I have satiated the weary soul, and replenished the sorrowful soul (31:25)
72 The days come that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and beast (31:27)
73 As I have watched over them, to pluck up, break down, destroy, and afflict, so will I watch over them to build, and to plant (31:28)
74 In those days they will no longer say, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge (31:29)
75 Everyone will die for his own sin
76 The days come that I will make a new covenant with both houses of Israel (31:31-32)
77 This is the covenant that I will

130 predictions - fulfilled:

1 Babylon will be taken (50:2)
2 Bel will be confounded
3 Merodach will be broken in pieces
4 The idols of Babylon will be broken
5 Out of the north will come a nation against her (50:3)
6 They will make her land desolate, and none will dwell therein
7 Both man and beast will depart
8 In those days the children of Israel will return to their land together with the children of Judah (50:4)
9 They will go weeping back to their own land, seeking the Lord
10 They will ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward (50:5)
11 They (both houses of Israel) will say, Come, let us join ourselves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that will not be forgotten
12 I will raise up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country and they will set themselves in array against her (50:9)
13 From thence she will be taken
14 Their arrows will be as of a mighty expert man
15 None will return in vain - they will hit the mark
16 Chaldea will be a spoil (50:10)
17 All that spoil her will be satisfied
18 You will be punished because you rejoiced over the fall of Israel, and because you have become lazy and careless (50:11)
19 Your mother will be sore confounded (50:12)
20 She that bore you will be ashamed
21 The hindermost of the nations will be a wilderness and a desert
22 Her enemies will surround Babylon, will shout against her, and shoot at her (50:14-15)
23 Her foundations will fall (50:15)
24 Her walls will be thrown down
25 The farmers will be cut off from Babylon (50:16)
26 They will flee every one to his own land because of the invaders
27 I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished Assyria and her land (50:18)
28 The inhabitants of Merathaim and Pekod will be destroyed (50:21)
29 The invaders will do as I commanded 30 The sound of battle and great destruction will be heard in the land (50:22)
31 The hammer of the whole earth (Babylon) will be broken (50:23)
32 Babylon will become a desolation among the nations
33 I have laid a snare for you and you will be taken (50:24)
34 You will not be aware of the time you will be taken (50:24; Dan. 5)
35 You will be found and caught, because you have striven with Jehovah (50:24)
36 The Lord will open His armoury and bring forth the weapons of His indignation in the land of the Chaldeans
37 They will come against her from the utmost borders (50:26)
38 They will open her storehouses
39 They will cast her up as heaps 40 They will destroy her utterly and leave nothing of her 41 Her bullocks will be slain (50:27)
42 Her day of visitation will come 43 Men will escape from Babylon and declare in Zion the vengeance of God upon her (50:28)
44 Archers will camp against Babylon round about, so that none will escape
45 She will reap what she has sowed, for she has been proud against God (50:29)

Summary of Jeremiah

Date and place: written in Palestine about 685-616 B.C.

Author: Jeremiah (1:1, 11; 7:1; 11:1; 14:1; 18:1; 19:14; 20:1-3; 21:1-3; 25:1-2, 13; 26:7-12, 20-24; 27:1; 28:5-15; 29:1, 27-30; 30:1; 32:1-6, 26; 33:1, 19-23; 34:1-12; 35:1-18; 36:1-32; 37:2-21; 38:1-28; 39:11-15; 40:1-6; 42:2-7; 43:1-8; 44:1, 15-24; 45:1; 46:1, 13; 47:1; 49:23; 50:1; 51:59-64; 52:1)

Proof of authorship: the above scriptures throughout the book of Jeremiah prove that he was the author. This is the first book in the Bible which critics have not attacked regarding authorship

Theme: the prophecy of Jeremiah might be considered the great book on backsliding and the dangers of apostasy. Apart from this only one other book even mentions the word backsliding (Hos. 4:16; 11:7; 14:4). Jeremiah uses it 13 times (2:19; 3:6-22; 5:6; 8:5; 14:7; 31:22; 49:4). He was the first prophet having continuous open warfare with his people. His theme seems to be that of judgment without mercy for those who become apostates and defy God. His messages repeatedly refer to the immediate Babylonian captivity, the return of Israel after 70 years, another worldwide dispersion, a final regathering of Israel at the end of this age, and the reign of Messiah over Israel forever (3:14-25; 7:1-7; 16:14-21; 17:21-26; 23:3-8; 30:1-31:40; 32:37-33:26)

Purpose: to make clear to Israel the consequences of sin and apostasy; to reveal to them their own future in the plan of God for man; and to emphasize the fact that the destiny of every man is determined by his conformity or lack of conformity to God and His plan

Statistics: 24th book of the Bible; 1, 364 verses; 42, 659 words; 680 verses of history; 1, 002 predictions; 666 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 180 verses of unfulfilled prophecy; 779 fulfilled predictions; 223 unfulfilled predictions; 194 questions; 303 commands; 16 promises; 62 messages from God (1:4, 11, 13; 2:1; 3:6; 7:1; 11:1; 13:1, 3, 6, 8; 14:1; 16:1; 17:19; 18:1, 5; 19:1, 14; 20:1; 21:1; 22:1; 23:1; 24:1; 25:1; 26:1; 27:1; 28:1; 29:1, 30; 30:1; 32:1, 6, 26; 33:1, 19; 34:1, 8; 35:1, 12, 18; 36:1, 27; 37:6; 38:17, 20; 39:15; 40:1; 42:9; 43:8; 44:1, 24; 45:1; 46:1, 13; 47:1; 48:1; 49:1, 7, 23, 28, 34; 50:1)

58 They will hold the bow and lance 59 They will be cruel and without mercy of the sea
60 Their voice will be like the roar
61 They will ride upon horses, every one in array, to battle you
62 The king of Babylon will hear of the report of them, and his hand will wax feeble (50:43; Dan. 5)
63 Anguish will take hold of him as a woman in travail (50:43)
64 He will come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan (50:44)
65 The conquest will be quickly over and the invader will suddenly pass on 66 He will make their habitation desolate (50:45)
67 The earth will be moved at the taking of Babylon (50:46) nations 68 The cry will be heard among the 69 I will raise up a destroying wind against Babylon and those against Me (51:1)
70 Fanners will come and fan her and make her land empty (51:2)
71 In the day of trouble they will be against her round about 72 Her host will be destroyed (51:3)
73 The slain will fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets (51:4)
74 Babylon will be forsaken and everyone will flee to his own country (51:9)
75 The Lord will bring forth our righteousness (51:10)
76 The Lord will raise up the spirit of the Medes to destroy Babylon and avenge His temple (51:11-12)
77 The end of Babylon will come (51:13)
78 I will fill you with men as with caterpillars, and they will lift up a shout against you (51:14) (51:18)
79 The graven images will perish
80 I will break the nations in pieces with you (Cyrus) and will destroy kingdoms (51:20)
81 With you will I break in pieces the horse and his rider, and the chariot and its rider (51:21)
82 I will break in pieces man and woman, old and young, servants and maids, captains and rulers (51:21-23)
83 I will render unto Babylon and all the inhabitants of Chaldea their evil that they have done to Zion (51:24)
84 I will stretch out My hand upon you, roll you from the rocks, and make you like a burnt mountain (51:25)
85 A standard will be set in the land and a trumpet will be blown among the nations to appoint a captain against Babylon (51:27)
86 The horses will come up against her as the rough caterpillars
87 The nations will be prepared against her with kings of the Medes and their captains and rulers (51:28)
88 The land will tremble with sorrow, for Babylon will become a desolation without an inhabitant (51:29)
89 The mighty men of Babylon will forbear to fight (51:30)
90 They will remain in their holds 91 Their might will fail
92 They will become weak as women
93 They will burn her dwelling places
94 They will break her bars
95 One messenger will run to meet others to show the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end, that the passages are stopped, the reeds burned with fire, and the men of war afraid (51:32)
96 In a little while the time of the harvest of Babylon will come (51:33)
97 Israel will complain: Nebuchadnezzar has crushed me and made me like an empty vessel; he has swallowed me like a dragon and filled his belly with my delicacies; and he has cast me out (51:34)
98 Babylon will be repaid for what she has done to me (51:35)
99 They will roar together like lions, and yell like lion's whelps (51:38)
100 In their heat I will make their feasts
101 I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake (51:39). Cp. v 57
102 I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter (51:40)

An Elegy for Fallen Jerusalem - Five Great Laments of Jeremiah over the Fall of Jerusalem and Israel

798 CHAPTER 1

I The first lamentation. 1 Thirty-twofold judgment on Judah and Jerusalem

HOW [b]doth the city [c]sit [d]solitary, that was full of people! how is she become as a widow! she that was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary!

2 She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her [f]lovers she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her [f]enemies.

3 [g]Jū'dah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her [h]persecutors overtook her between [i]the straits.

4 The [j]ways of Zī'ŏn do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in [k]bitterness.

5 Her adversaries are [l]the chief, her enemies prosper; for the LORD hath afflicted her [m]for the multitude of her transgressions: her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zī'ŏn [n]all her beauty is departed: [o]her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adversaries saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.

2 Six reasons for judgment

8 [q]Jĕ-rų'să-lĕm hath grievously sinned; [q]therefore she is removed: all that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness; yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness is [r]in her skirts; she remembereth not her last end; therefore [s]she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter. O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon [t]all her pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen [u]entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, they seek bread; they [v]have given their pleasant things for meat to relieve the soul: [w]see, O LORD, and consider; for I am become vile.

3 Call to passers-by to see her sorrow: twelve judgments

12 ¶ [p]Is it nothing to you, [b]all ye that pass by? behold, and see [c]if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them: [d]he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 [e]The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, [f]the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The [g]Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: the Lord hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Jū'dah, as in a winepress.

16 For these things [h]I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 [i]Zī'ŏn spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning [j]Já'cob, that his adversaries should be round about him: [k]Jĕ-rų'sa-lĕm is as a menstruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The [l]LORD is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my [m]lovers, but they deceived me: [n]my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

4 Jeremiah's tenfold distress

20 Behold, O LORD; [o]for I am in distress: my bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh: there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 [p]Let all their wickedness come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my a How or Alas! An exclamation of pain and grief; a wailing cry like the howl of a jackal or a wolf Used by 3 prophets:

1 Moses because of the heavy burden placed upon him-having to bear the complaints of so many people (Dt. 1:12)
2 Isaiah because of the dissipation and depravity of Judah and Jerusalem (Isa. 1:21)
3 Jeremiah because of the total desolation and destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (v 1)

b The poem of ch. 1 is divided into two main parts: v 1-11 describe the misery which had befallen the Jews; v 12-22 show Jerusalem lamenting over her sufferings

c In v 1-2 we have a picture like the image appearing on the well-known medal to Titus, struck to celebrate his triumph over Jerusalem in 70 A. D. A woman sits weeping beneath a palm tree, and below it is the legend, Judea capta

d 32fold lament for Jerusalem, 817

e Lovers-her allies whom she preferred to Jehovah (Jer. 2:17, 27, 36-37; 4:30; 22:22; Ezek. 23; 29:6-7, 16)

f Especially the Edomites, Ammonites, Moabites, and Philistines (v 2)

g Again, Judah is the main subject of this book as in both Isaiah and Jeremiah (v 3, 15; 2:2, 5; 5:11)

h Persecutors-pursuers or enemies

i She is driven like an animal into a place where there is no escape (v 3. Cp. Ps. 116:3; 118:5)

j The people in the roads leading to Zion mourn because her solemn feasts are forsaken. There are no gatherings in her gates. The priests sigh and the virgins that used to enjoy the great national gatherings of Israel are afflicted, and Zion, herself is in bitterness (v 4)

k Bitterness instead of festal joy (Jer. 7:34; 16:9; 25:10; 31:13; 33:11)

l Judah is so crushed that her invading enemies need not take precautions against any resistance on her part (v 5) m Her many rebellions are the reason for her total destruction (v 5) n Instead of her natural beauty she is now desolate and despised (v 6)

o The princes of Judah have been caught by the pursuer and are executed like harts that are caught and without pasture (v 6) p The pleasant things that were so greatly desired in days of old are now gone. The days of misery and want are upon her. She has found herself without lovers to fight for her; and her enemies mock at her sabbaths which she, herself profaned (v 7; Jer. 17:21-23; Ezek. 22:8, 26; 23:38)

q 6 reasons Jerusalem judged:
1 She has grievously sinned (v 8)
2 Her nakedness
3 Her shame from which she now sighs
4 Her many backslidings
5 Her filthiness (v 9)
6 Her unconcern for sin that would lead her to ruin and a bitter end

r Her defilement is no longer hidden under-meath her skirts (Jer. 13:22)

s Jerusalem once enthroned as a princess (v 1) is now dethroned and sits as a despised slave on the ground (v 9)

t Mainly treasures and sacred vessels of the temple (2 Chr. 36:10)

u Enemies who were not allowed in the congregation are now entered into the temple; and they have robbed it of all that is sacred and valuable (v 10)

v They have become willing to give their most valuable possessions for only a common meal (v 11)

w This is the kind of prayer Judah and Jerusalem never would have prayed before their pride was crushed and trampled in the dirt. Now they could say the humble prayer of a sinner. Note the brevity of this petition; it is almost as short as the publican's prayer. Cp. Lk. 18:13

b 20fold lament because of judgment:
1 There is no sorrow like mine (v 12)
2 The Lord has afflicted me in the day of His fierce anger
3 He has sent fire into my bones, and it has prevailed against them (v 13)
4 He has spread a net for my feet
5 He has turned me back
6 He has made me desolate and faint all the day
7 The yoke of my transgressions is bound by His hand, and placed as a wreath around my neck (v 14)
8 He has made my strength to fall
9 He has delivered me helpless into the hands of my enemies
10 He has trodden under foot all the mighty men that protected me (v 15)
11 He has called an assembly against me to crush my young men
12 He has trodden the virgin daughter of Judah, as one treads a winepress
13 The comforter that should relieve my soul is far from me (v 16)
14 My children are desolate because the enemy has prevailed 17) 15 There is none to comfort Zion (v
16 He has sent the adversaries of Jacob around him among them
17 Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman
18 My virgins and young men are gone into captivity (v 18)
19 I have been deceived by my lovers
20 My priests and elders died in the city longing for meat to satisfy their souls (v 19)

c This is the normal opinion of anyone in trouble-there is no trouble like mine (v 12)

d Judah, like a hunted animal, endeavors to escape, but finds every path blocked by nets and snares, so recoils from them in terror with a sense of hopelessness and despair (v 13)

e The plowman binds the yoke upon the neck of the oxen, but God compels Judah to bear the punishment of her sins like wearing a yoke or wreath around the neck (v 14). Judah's sins were like cords by which the yoke was fastened to the neck so that it would not fall off or be shaken off. A yoke bound thus would cause strength to diminish; one might waver and fall beneath the load (v 14; Jer. 27:2)

f Heb. Adonai, Head, Lord, or Ruler of the earth. Used 14 times (v 14-15; 2:1-5, 7, 18-20; 3:31-37, 58). In their punishment the people felt the lordship more and His covenant-love less

g Adonai has destroyed the mighty men, crushed the young men, and trodden down the virgin of Judah as one treads the winepress (v 15)

h The prophet wept-water ran down from his eyes, because of the destruction of his people and the beloved city (v 16)

i Zion is here pictured as a woman holding out her hands in prayer; but her prayers are in vain (v 17). She had sinned until she was past help, so had to reap and be brought to her senses. Praying when judgment is over is not the time to call upon God to avert such punishment. One can stop trouble, but to avert that which has already happened is impossible

j Here Jacob is used as synonymous with Judah and Zion (v 3, 6, 15, 17). The term Israel is used of the same people (2:1, 3, 5) k Jerusalem, the pride of all nations to come, is here pictured as despised and untouchable as a menstruous woman (v 17). It was necessary for her to go through her period of uncleanness and judgment and become purified before she would be acceptable again

l Jerusalem finally confessed that the Lord was righteous in His dealings with her, for she had rebelled against Him

m See note e, v 2

n In pouring out His judgment God did not show any respect of persons

1 I am in distress (v 20)
2 My bowels are troubled
3 My heart is turned within me a This 2nd poem is also divided into two sections; v 1-10 describe the punishment which had fallen upon Zion; v 11-22 are a lamentation and a prayer

b 32fold judgment on Judah and Jerusalem, 818

c The beauty of Israel is Jerusalem, as stated in v 15

d The earth is God's footstool (Isa. 66:1)

e Here again the terms Jacob, Judah, Israel, and Zion are used of the same people -the Jews (v 1-5)

f The horn of Israel refers to the king of Israel. See Horn in Index

g His right hand is a symbol of His great power. Here He is pictured as drawing it back to permit the enemy to destroy His people (v 3). In v 4 He is seen using their power on His people to destroy them and their city and temple

h He turned to be their enemy when they continually provoked Him to anger through their idols and sins of all kinds (v 5; Isa. 63:10)

i He has violently destroyed His temple, as one would destroy a booth in a garden when its usefulness is past (v 6)

j All feasts and sabbaths were destroyed, as well as other rituals and parts of the Mosaic worship (v 6; Isa. 1:13). God promised to do away with all sabbaths along with other parts of the Jewish program of worship (Hos. 2:11); and He did this completely when Christ was on the cross (Col. 2:14-17). Now no Christian is under obligation to keep any particular sabbath as a matter of commandment (Rom. 14:5-6; Col. 4:9-10). The 4th commandment was left out of the new covenant entirely. See Sabbath in Index

k The heathen soldiers went into the holy place and most holy place where only the priests were allowed to go, and no judgment came to them, because they were under orders from Jehovah to destroy the whole temple and city (v 7-9)

l After describing the destruction of the city and temple, the prophet turned to the subject of the people, beginning with the king and princes, then proceeding to the prophets and elders (v 9-10)

m The law came to an end when it no longer had any local habitation. Its enactments were essentially those of a local and national people; they were not universal-for all peoples. The restoration of the temple and the nation made the law effective again. A material temple was indispensable to its continued existance and enforcement. That is why, as far as Jews are concerned, it is not in force today or since 70 A.D. when the nation and temple were destroyed. For Israel it will take on some authority again when they build another temple, and also when the millennial temple is built. See notes on Ezek. 40-48 n The elders of Judah are pictured as sitting upon the ground, casting dust on their heads, and being clothed in sackcloth, as a sign of mourning and fasting. Even the virgins of Judah have their heads down to the ground in national mourning over the fall of Jerusalem (v 10). The prophet's own eyes were continually wet with tears, his bowels of compassion moved with trouble, and his liver seemingly poured out upon the earth because of the destruction of Israel and the fainting of children and babies in the streets (v 11). The Jews regarded the heart as the seat of the intellect and the liver as the seat of the emotions. By the pouring out of his liver upon the ground the prophet meant that his feelings had entirely given way under the strain of sorrow and he could no longer control them

They failed to recognize that this was the hour of judgment though, not ordinary times (v 20) p All classes-priests, prophets, virgins, young men, and others fell by the sword of God's anger for sin (v 20-22). Sin is no respector of persons, and neither is judgment when justice is administered. God promised to curse for disobedience as well as to bless for obedience; and here was an example of the fulfillment of His Word regarding this heart is faint.

CHAPTER 2 799

II The second lamentation.

1 Thirty-twofold judgment

HOW[a] hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zi'ŏn with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from heaven unto the earth [c]the beauty of Iṣ'ra-el, and remembered not his[d] footstool in the day of his anger!

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of [e]Ja'cob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Ju'dah; he hath brought them down to ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the[f] horn of Iṣ'ra-el: he hath drawn back[g] his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Ja'cob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zi'ŏn: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as[h] an enemy: he hath swallowed up Iṣ'ra-el, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Jū'dah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath[i] violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden: he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the LORD hath caused the solemn[j] feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zi'ŏn, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; [k]they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zi'ŏn: he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languished together.

2 Twelvefold humiliation

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars: [l]her king and her princes are among the Gĕn'tiles:[m] the law is no more; her prophets also find no vision from the LORD.

10[n] The elders of the daughter of Zi'ŏn sit upon the ground and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because the children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, [o]Where is corn and wine? [b]when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mothers' bosom.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zi'ŏn? for thy[c] breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy [d]prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee: and they have not discovered thine iniquity,[e] to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee[f] false burdens and causes of banishment.

3 Sixfold taunt to Jerusalem

15 All that pass by[g] clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, saying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it.

4 Sixfold judgment on Judah

17[h] The LORD hath done that which he had devised; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded[i] in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath set up the[j] horn of thine adversaries.

5 Jeremiah's seven admonitions for Judah to pray

18[k] Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zi'ŏn, let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyself no rest; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

6 Jeremiah's prayer for God to consider the ruin of Judah

●20 ¶[l] Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom thou hast done this. [m]Shall [n]the women eat their fruit, and children of a span long? shall [o]the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the LORD?

21[p] The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword; thou

a Questions 2-7. Next, v 20

b This would be hard for any parent to go through-seeing his own sons and daughters dying in a famine and swooning in the streets for lack of food. Yet Israel was brought to this-some to the point of becoming cannibals and eating their own sons and daughters, on several occasions, because of their sinfulness against Jehovah (v 12-13; 4:10; 2 Ki. 6; 28-32). This was predicted by Moses (Lev. 26:29; Dt. 28:53)

c 12fold humiliation of Jerusalem:
1 Her gates are sunk into the ground (v 9)
2 The bars are broken and destroyed
3 Her kings and princes are captives among the Gentiles
4 The law is no more
5 Her prophets have no vision from the Lord
6 The elders sit on the ground (v 10)
7 They are speechless
8 They cast dust upon their heads
9 They are clothed in sackcloth
10 The virgins bend low to the ground in humiliation and despair
11 The people are destroyed (v 11)
12 The children and babes die of hunger

d The false prophets had visions prompted by their own imagination, and were led into vain theories of deception (v 12; Dt. 13; Jer. 23; Ezek. 12:24; 13:1-16, 23; 21:29; 22:28; 34:1-31)

e According to this, the prophets warning the people of sin, and the people obeying God would have averted captivity (v 14)

f The word burden here is used in the same way as in Isa. 13-23 - in the sense of prediction. The false burdens were part of the causes for the dispersion of Israel among the nations (v 14)

g 6fold taunt of Jerusalem:
1 All that pass by clap their hands at her destruction (v 15)
2 They hiss and wag their heads at her
3 They say, Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?
4 All your enemies have opened their mouth against you (v 16)
5 They hiss and gnash the teeth
6 They say, We have swallowed her up: this is the day that we looked for; we have found and seen it h 6fold judgment on Judah (v 17):

1 The Lord has done that which He devised
2 He has fulfilled His word that He commanded in days of old
3 He has thrown down
4 He has not pitied
5 He has caused the enemy to rejoice over you
6 He has set up the horn of your adversaries

i Moses warned of these days a number of times (Dt. 4:25-31; 30:1-10; 31:29). Zion's ruin was the fulfillment of God's determination to punish for the abundance of sin committed j Horn refers to kingship and power of any people. See Horn in Index k The hearts of the inhabitants of Jerusalem are called the wall of the daughter of Zion. The prophet admonished the wall, as representative of the people, to shed floods of tears day and night in behalf of the city. Broken up by the enemy it could no longer be a protection to them, but by its ruins the wall could still cry out to God in behalf of the people (v 18). Constant crying at the beginning of the watches means that all the night through the people were to weep and pour out their hearts like water before God, lifting up hands toward Him for the lives of the many dying children who were fainting from hunger (v 19)

l The third prayer in this book (v 20-22; 1:11, 22)

m Questions 8-9. Next, 3:37

n Lev. 26:29; Dt. 28-53; 2 Ki. 6:28-32

o Perhaps the priests and prophets fled to the temple, thinking that God would surely not permit the enemies to kill them in the place which He, Himself commanded to be holy-a place for the special ministers of the temple only.

a Many times God is spoken of as doing certain things, when in reality He only allows or decrees them to be done. Proper agents always carry out the divine will. Then again, others do things without God being responsible in will or decree; and yet, He gets the blame. One should be very careful about charging God with performing various acts, making certain decrees or causing things to be done simply because He did not supernaturally stop the procedure. It should be realized that God allows sin, rebellion, sickness and the like on earth-things that He does not will or decree. If God had His way all these would be removed at once; but since Satan, fallen angels, demons, and unconverted men also have wills they do certain things of themselves, which are not in harmony with Him. The purpose of the coming Millennial reign will be to make an end of all such rebellion and enemies of God. Regarding the statement here-"thou hast killed, and not pitied"-it was time for Jehovah to punish for the long-time disobedience of His people and so He decreed their destruction. The invaders, ungodly men, carried out the actual destruction. God only predicted it, allowed it, and gave permission for the laws of sowing and reaping to be normally applied (Gal. 6:7-8)

b Cp. Jer. 6:25; 20:3, 10; 46:5; 49:29

c This 3rd poem or lament contains 66 verses, 3 times as many as the other two. It is the most elaborate in form and most sublime in ideas of all the five poems which compose the book. It represents the deepest sufferings, contains a confession of sin, an acknowledgement of God's justice, and a prayer of faith for forgiveness. It proposes to show how the Jews should behave in their sufferings by showing how the prophet behaved in his tribulations; hence, the change from singular to plural pronouns in v 22, 40-47. Each stanza in the Heb. consists of 3 lines, each line beginning with the same letter of the alphabet. Beginning with the first letter in the first 3 lines, the stanzas continue thus until all 22 letters of the alphabet have been used. This literary form of the Heb. is obscured by the Eng. translation. It is an acrostic dirge, the lines arranged in triplets

d The prophet, being representative of the nation, spoke in the name of the whole (v 1-21). The pronouns change from the singular to the plural in v 22-23, back to the singular in v 24-39, again to the plural in v 40-47, then once more back to the singular in v 48-66

e 32fold suffering of Jeremiah:
1 I have seen affliction by the rod of His wrath (v 1)
2 He has led me into darkness, but not into light (v 2)
3 Against Me is He turned (v 3)
4 He turns against me all day

CHAPTER 3 800

III The third lamentation.

1 Thirty-twofold suffering

[c]I AM the man [d]that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned; he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision to all my people; and their song all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, he hath covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgat prosperity.

18 And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD:

19 Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

2 Eightfold character of Jehovah

21 This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 ¶ It is of the [f]LORD's mercies that [g]we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The LORD is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The LORD is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 [a]It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.

27 It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the dust; if so be there may be hope.

30 He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproach.

31 For the [b]Lord will not cast off for ever:

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most High, 36 To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.

37 ¶ [c]Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?

3 Jeremiah's confession and repentance for Zion

39 [d]Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 [e]Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the LORD.

41 Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 [f]We have transgressed and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.

43 Thou hast covered with anger, and persecuted us: thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.

45 Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies have opened their mouths against us.

47 Fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction.

48 [g]Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission, 50 Till the LORD look down, and behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye [h]affecteth mine heart because of all the daughters of my city.

4 Jeremiah's prayer for vengeance on his enemies

52 [i]Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, without cause.

53 They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.

a 10 things good for man:
1 Remembering sufferings of life (v 19)
2 Letting them make him humble instead of bitter (v 20)
3 Having hope in God (v 21, 24, 26)
4 Waiting for God's salvation (v 25-26)
5 Seeking God (v 25)
6 Bearing the yoke in youth (v 27)
7 Silently submitting to the yoke (v 28) 29)
8 Lying prostrate before Jehovah (v 9 Refusing to retaliate (v 30)
10 Lifting heart and hands of God in surrender and worship (v 41)

b 6 things God will not do:
1 Cast off forever, if men repent (v 31)
2 Refuse to have compassion on those whom He chastens if they turn to Him (v 32) 33)
3 Afflict and grieve men willingly (v
4 Mistreat prisoners of war (v 34)
5 Deny men their rights (v 35)
6 Approve injustice in any case (v 36)
7 Make false predictions (v 37)
8 Render both good and evil to any man (v 38)

c Questions 10-12. Next, 5:20

d No man has a right to murmur and complain because of punishment for his sins. As long as God spares his life why should he murmur? The chastisement is really for his good. Let him profit by it and he will be thankful in the end (v 39)

e In view of our sins, the prophet's exhortation is for men to search out their own faults and amend their ways (v 40-42)

f 9fold judgment upon impenitent Judah:
1 He has not pardoned (v 42)
2 He has covered them with anger (v 43)
3 Persecuted them
4 Assigned them to death without pity
5 Refused to hear their prayers (v 44)
6 Made them the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people (v 45)
7 Permitted their enemies to slander them (v 46)
8 Permitted fear and a snare to overtake them (v 47)
9 Sent desolation and destruction

g Here the prophet again referred to his weeping spirit over Israel's sins and judgments. He spoke of his eyes running down with rivers of tears, not even stopping for an intermission (v 48-49). He expected to continue weeping until God did look down from heaven and answer him (v 50)

h My eye causes pain to my soul, that is, my weeping causes me great heartache (v 51)

i Returning to the subject of his personal trials, Jeremiah revealed how his enemies had chased him sore, like a bird, without cause. They put him in a dungeon with a stone upon the mouth so he would die (v 52-53; Jer. 37:15; 38:6-13). Waters flowed over his head and he concluded that his end had come (v 54). He called upon the name of the Lord out of the low dungeon and He heard him, delivering him in the day that he called. God told him not to fear (v 55-57), and redeemed his life from the dungeon (v 58). This was a practical example of experiencing an answer from God in keeping with one of the most wonderful promises in the book of Jeremiah (33:3)-Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not. Thus Jeremiah not only recorded promises, but also received the benefits

29 I forgot prosperity
30 My strength as my hope perished from the Lord (v 18)
31 I remember my affliction, misery, wormwood, and gall (v 19) 32 My soul is humbled and I have hope in remembrance (v 20-21)

f 8fold character of Jehovah:
1 Merciful (v 22, 32)
2 Compassionate
3 Faithful (v 23)
4 Good (v 25)
5 Deliverer (v 26)
6 Just and righteous (v 31)
7 Longsuffering (v 33)
8 Kind

g Here the prophet spoke as the representative of all the suffering Israelites, pointing them to the character and good dealings of Jehovah (v 21-38)

54 Waters flowed over mine head; then I said, I am cut off.
55 ¶I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the low dungeon.
56 Thou hast heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.
57 Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.
58 O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life.
59 O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong: judge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their imaginations against me.
61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginations against me;
62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.
63 Behold their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their musick.
64 ¶ Render unto them a recompence, O LORD, according to the work of their hands.
65 Give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.
66 Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the heavens of the LORD.

801 CHAPTER 4

IV The fourth lamentation.
1 Twenty-twofold judgment

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.
2 The precious sons of Zī'ŏn, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!
3 Even the sea monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.
4 The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.
5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that are brought up in scarlet embrace dunghills.
6 For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sŏd'om, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.
7 Her Năz'a-rītes were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:
8 Their visage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.
9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.
10 The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children: they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.
11 The LORD hath accomplished his fury; he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zī'ŏn, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.
12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm.

2 Reasons for the judgment

13 ¶For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her,
14 They have wandered as blind men in the streets, they have polluted themselves with blood, so that men could not touch their garments.

3 Judah's treatment by the nations during her dispersion

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye; it is unclean; depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.
16 The anger of the LORD hath divided them; he will no more regard them: they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

4 Judah's vain hope for any earthly help

17 As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.
18 They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come.
19 Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.
20 The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

5 Judgment on Edom

21 ¶Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Ē'dom, that dwellest in the land of Ūz; the cup also shall pass through unto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

6 Final restoration of Judah

22 ¶ The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zī'ŏn; he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Ē'dom; he will discover thy sins.

CHAPTER 5 802

V The fifth lamentation.
1 Prayer: twenty-eightfold ruin (cp. Isa. 1:7, refs.)

REMEMBER, O LORD, what is come upon us: consider, a See note f, v 52 for notes on v 52-58

b The 4th prayer in this book (v 59-66; 1:11, 22; 2:20-22)
c 3 things God had seen (v 59-60):
1 The injustice and wrongs against Jeremiah
2 Their seeking vengeance on him
3 All their imaginations
d 7 requests of Jeremiah:
1 Judge my cause (v 59)
2 Behold their sitting down and rising up (v 63)
3 Render to them recompense (v 64)
4 Render to them according to the work of their hands
5 Give them sorrow of heart (v 65)
6 Give them your curse
7 Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the heavens (v 66)
e 4 things God had heard (v 61-62):
1 Their reproach
2 All their imaginations against Jeremiah him
3 The lips of those that rose up against 4 Their device against him all day
f All the imaginations, devices, and vows to take vengeance of the men of Anathoth who sought Jeremiah's life, were seen and heard of God; and He did answer the prayers of Jeremiah and judge these men in particular. They had plotted long and hard against the prophet, made speeches against him, and even composed songs with him as the subject (v 59-63). All the sorrows of Jeremiah only qualified him though as a better prophet to his people. In this long poem of suffering he sought to comfort them and lead them back to God. In his haste he had said, My hope from the Lord is perished (v 18), but he was brought to a better judgment by calling to mind the never failing mercies of God (v 21-22). There is no better remedy for despondency than to remember the gracious character of Jehovah and that His faithfulness is ever great (v 22-23). The prophet was brought to the conclusion that the Lord was his portion and hope (v 24), that He is always good to them that wait for His salvation (v 25-26), and that all grief and suffering are just for a time (v 32) g This 4th poem, like the first two and the 5th, is composed of 22 verses, each (in the Heb.) beginning with a letter of the Heb. alphabet. The 3rd one, as we have seen, has 3 times as many verses (ch. 3), each triplet beginning with a new letter of the alphabet. Each poem, like the 119th Psalm, is an acrostic. The poem here is divided into 3 parts: the miseries that have befallen Judah (v 1-11); causes for the judgment of Judah (v 12-20); a prophecy of the punishment of Edom and the final restoration of Israel, to go into captivity no more (v 21-22) lem:
h 22fold judgment on Judah and Jerusa-
1 The gold is become dim (v 1)
2 The fine gold is changed
3 The stones of the sanctuary are torn down and scattered everywhere
4 The precious sons of Zion, comparable to gold, are esteemed of no more value than earthen pitchers made by man (v 2)
5 Even sea monsters give suck to their young, but the young of My people have no food (v 3-4)
6 The daughter of my people has become cruel (v 3)
7 They neglect their children like ostriches in the wilderness
8 The tongue of the sucking child cleaves to the roof of its mouth for thirst
9 The young children ask for bread, and no man brings it to them (v 4)
10 They that had plenty of food are now desolate in the streets (v 5)
11 They that are brought up in scarlet now embrace the dunghills
12 The punishment of the iniquity of My people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom (v 6)
13 Here Nazarites that were so pure, white, and more ruddy in body than rubies, are now blacker than coal (v 7-8)
14 They are not known in the streets
15 Their skin cleaves to their bones (because they are so thin for want of food)
16 It (the skin) is withered and is become like a stick

a 7 reasons for judgment:
1 The sins of the prophets (v 13)
2 The iniquities of the priests
3 The shedding of innocent blood
4 Spiritual blindness and darkness (v 14)
5 Defiling themselves with blood
6 Their uncleanness (v 14-16)
7 Trusting in the heathen instead of God, for help (v 17-20)
b The heathen among whom the Jews were scattered mistreated them, driving them from one place to another (v 15). They did not regard them, respect their religion and their priests, or favor the elders of Israel (v 16) c We long looked for help from our allies, but none came. Our look was in vain; and they could not have saved us, for the invaders were swifter than eagles; and they pursued us in the mountains and in the wilderness and caught us in snares and pits (v 17-20)
d 1st and only prophecy in Lamentations (4:21-22). V 21 was fulfilled when Nebuchadnezzar conquered and destroyed Edom, as also predicted in Jer. 49:7-22. Part of v 22 was also fulfilled then but the other part, concerning the final restoration of Israel when she will never again be taken captive, remains to be fulfilled in the future. A section of Israel will go into captivity at the battle of Jerusalem just prior to the 2nd advent of Christ, so this part of the prophecy cannot be fulfilled until after that (v 22; Zech. 14:2) e The 5th lamentation or poem also contains 22 verses like those of chs. 1, 2, and 4, being 1/3 as many as in the poem of ch. 3, and furthermore, being the same number as the letters in the Heb. alphabet. The poem here is divided into two parts; v 1-16 speak again of the ruin of Judah and Jerusalem; v 17-22 are Jeremiah's plea for mercy. V 1-16 are a prayer requesting the Lord to remember, consider, and see the ruin of Judah and Jerusalem; and v 17-22 continue the prayer for His mercy on them. This is the 5th prayer in the book (v 1-22; 1:11, 22; 2:20-22; 3:59-66)

⟶ Cont. from column 1

17 The slain with the sword are better off than those slain with hunger (v 9)
18 The hands of the pitiful women have boiled their own children (v 10)
19 Their children were their meat in the siege of Jerusalem
20 The Lord has accomplished His fury and poured out His fierce anger (v 11)
21 He has kindled a fire in Zion that has devoured the foundations 22 The kings of the earth, of all the inhabited world, would not have believed that the enemies of Israel should have entered the gates of Jerusalem (v 12)
i This means that the temple was completely torn down by the Chaldeans (v 1)
j Human life became so cheap that it was no more valuable than an earthen pitcher which is easily broken and thrown away (v 2) k Heb. tannin, serpent, dragon, whale, crocodile, monster (note q, Ex. 7:9) l Whatever creature is referred to here, it gave suck to its young. The Heb. for young ones means whelps, a term applied only to dogs, lions, and the like. It could apply to whales m Most people would become cruel under the circumstances of such a siege as Jerusalem went through (v 3, 4, 10)
n For her carelessness about her eggs, and her lack of attention to her young, the ostrich is proverbial (v 3)
o The destruction of Sodom was short, but the dying of men, women, and children in Jerusalem was long and tormenting (v 9) p Note the contrast of the well, healthy, perfect Nazarites of v 7 with the same persons as in v 8-9 q Boiled. The famine was so severe and the people so depraved some even ate the flesh of their own children (v 10). This is understandable only when we realize that the nation had gone into great depths of idolatry, even to the offering of sons and daughters in the fire to Molech (2 Ki. 22:6; 23:10) a 28fold ruin of Judah and Jerusalem:

1 See our reproach (v 1)
2 Our inheritance is turned over to strangers (v 2)
3 Our houses are turned over to aliens
4 We are orphans (v 3)
5 Our mothers are widows
6 Our own water is sold to us (v 4)
7 Our own wood is sold to us
8 Our necks are under persecution (v 5)
9 We labor and have no rest
10 We have given the hand to the Egyptians (v 6)
11 We have also given our hand to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread
12 Our fathers have sinned and have been destroyed for it (v 7)
13 We bear our iniquities
14 Servants have ruled over us (v 8)
15 There is no deliverer
16 We got our bread with peril of our own lives (v 9)
17 Our skin was black like an oven because of the famine (v 10) (v 11)
18 They ravished the women of Zion
19 They ravished the maids in all the cities of Judah
20 Princes of Judah were hanged by their hands (v 12)
21 The faces of the elders were not honored
22 They took the young men to grind (v 13)
23 They took the children to cut wood
24 Elders ceased to sit in the gate (v 14) music
25 The young men ceased playing
26 Joy has gone from the heart (v 15)
27 The dance is turned into mourning
28 The crown is fallen from our head (v 16)

Messiah a prisoner (Isa. 53:8):

Christ was never kept in prison, nor did He have a fair trial; so the idea here is that He was cut off, justice and judgment being denied Him. Who will be able to declare the wickedness of His generation? He was considered too wicked to be given a fair trial. Though He was declared innocent by His judge and others (note n, Mt. 27:4), He was denied freedom by His enemies. They brought pressure to bear upon His judge who then thought it best to turn Him over to them that he might save himself from being accused of treason to Caesar. See notes on Mt. 26-27

16 things done for men in His sufferings (Isa. 53:8):

1 Endured all the indignities of note u, above without complaint (v 7-8)
2 Bore their sicknesses (v 4-5)
3 Suffered being stricken, smitten, and afflicted of God for them (v 4)
4 Was slain for their sins (v 5)
5 Bruised for their iniquities (v 5, 10)
6 Chastised for their peace (v 5)
7 He endured stripes for their healing
8 Bore all their iniquities and sins (v 6, 11-12)
9 Suffered injustice for them (v 8)
10 Was cut off in death for their transgressions (v 8, 12) 10) 11 Was put to grief by God for them (v
12 Offered His soul as a sin-offering 13 Travailed in soul for them (v 11)
14 Purchased justification
15 Was numbered with transgressors in their place (v 12)
16 Made intercession for them (v 12)

Messiah buried with criminals (Isa. 53:9)

Jesus Christ was buried along with the criminals who were crucified with Him, but He was put in a rich man's tomb (v 9; Mt. 26:57-60; Mk. 15:43-46; Lk. 23:50-56; Jn. 19:38-42). In Jewish cemeteries, criminals were buried in a separate place from the others. The true meaning of the verse is that the Jews appointed Him a grave with criminals, but at the last moment Joseph, a rich man, begged the body of Jesus so he could put it in his own tomb, as predicted. The words He made in the Heb. means He was appointed. It was the Jews who appointed Him such a place, but when Joseph begged His body for burial this appointment was changed. Thus, the Jews even wanted to deny Him an honorable burial, but their purpose was defeated

12 rewards of the Messiah for suffering (Isa. 53:10):

1 He will be exalted above all (52:13; Eph. 1:20-23; Phil. 2:9-11; 1 Pet. 3:22; Rev. 11:15; 20:4-6)
2 Became the Saviour of many nations (52:15)
3 Became the wonder of kings
4 Became the healer of all (53:4-5; Mt. 8:16-17; 1 Pet. 2:24)
5 Became an example to all (52:9; 1 Pet. 2:2-22)
6 He will produce a spiritual and an eternal seed (53:10)
7 Prolonged eternal days
8 Prosperity of God's pleasure in seeing all creation redeemed
9 The satisfaction of seeing the travail of His soul in the restoration of all things to God (53:11; 1 Cor. 15:24-28)
10 Justification of many (53:11)
11 Greatness above others (53:12; Eph. 1:20-23; Col. 1:15-18; 1 Pet. 3:22)
12 A portion with the great and conquest of the strong (53:12) and behold[a] our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; our wood is sold unto us.

5 Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

6 We have given the hand to the Ĕ-gyp'tians, and to the Ăs-sȳr'ĭ-ans, to be satisfied with bread.

7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not; and we have borne their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was black like an oven because of the terrible famine.

11 They ravished the women in Zī'ŏn, and the maids in the cities of Jū'dah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their musick.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!

2 Jeremiah's plea for mercy

17[a] For this our heart is faint; for these things our eyes are dim.

18 Because of the mountain of Zī'ŏn, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O LORD, remainest for ever; thy throne from generation to generation.

20[b] Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and[c] forsake us so long time?

21[d] Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

22 But thou hast utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth against us.

Summary of Lamentations

Date and place: written in Palestine just after the destruction of Jerusalem, about 616 B. C.

Author: Jeremiah the weeping prophet

Proof of authorship: there is no author named in the text, but uniform ancient tradition ascribes the book to Jeremiah. The Septuagint reads, "And it came to pass after Israel had been taken captive and Jerusalem had been laid waste, that Jeremiah sat weeping, and uttered his lamentation over Jerusalem and said, " The Vulgate ascribes it to Jeremiah

Theme: the book is made up of 5 poems of lamentation expressing the deep suffering of Jeremiah because Israel and Jerusalem were destroyed

Purpose: to express in poetry the ever increasing sufferings of the people of Jerusalem during the siege, their horrors of bitterness, and captivity to a pagan people incensed at the stubbornness of resistence

Statistics: 25th book of the Bible; 5 chapters; 154 verses; 3,415 words; 2 verses of prophecy (4:21-22, fulfilled except part of v 22); 13 questions; 3 commands; no promises; 2 predictions; no distinct messages from God

Reward of the Messiah (Isa. 53:12):

This verse means that God will account the Messiah among the great, and He (the Messiah) will divide the spoils of the strong (v 12). The Sept. reads, "divide the spoils of the strong," referring to His mighty victory over Satan and all supernatural powers against God. If it does refer to dividing the spoils with the strong, then it means that He shares the blessings of victory with His followers who become joint-heirs with Him (Rom. 8:17-18)

Messiah made sick (Isa. 53:10):

Heb. chalah, to be rubbed or worn; weak; sick; afflicted; to grieve; make sick; suffer a stroke; be diseased; have infirmity; put to pain; be wounded. It is trans. sick 34 times (33:24; 38:1, 9; 39:1; Gen. 49:1; 1 Sam. 19:14; 30:13; 2 Sam. 13:2-6; 1 Ki. 14:1, 5; 17:17; 2 Ki. 1:2; 8:7, 29; 13:14; 20:1, 12; 2 Chr. 22:6; 32:24; Neh. 2:2; Ps. 35:13; Pr. 13:12; 23:35; Song 2:5; 5:8; Ezek. 34:4, 16; Dan. 8:27; Hos. 7:5; Mic. 6:13; Mal. 1:8, 13); diseased (1 Ki. 15:23; 2 Chr. 16:12); infirmity (Ps. 77:10); pain (Jer. 12:13); wounded (1 Ki. 22:34; 2 Chr. 18:22; 35:23); grief (v 10; 17:1); grieved (Amos 6:6); and grievous (Jer. 10:19; 14:17; 30:12; Nah. 3:19). This should literally read: He has made Him sick. This, of course, refers to the time Christ took our infirmities and bore our sicknesses (v 4-5, 10; Mt. 8:16-17; 1 Pet. 2:24). See notes on v 3-5

10 statements about the body:

1 That the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin. For he that is dead to sin is free from sin (Rom. 6:6-7)

2 Who walk not after (according to) the flesh, but after the Spirit (Rom. 8:1-4)

3 If Christ be in you the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is life because of righteousness (Rom. 8:10)

4 We are debtors not to the flesh, to live after (according to) the flesh. For if you live after the flesh, you shall die: but if you through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, you shall live (Rom. 8:12-13)

5 Present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service (Rom. 12:1-2)

6 The body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body (1 Cor. 6:13)

7 Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost... Therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit (1 Cor. 6:19-20)

8 Know you not that you are (your body is) the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? if any man defile the temple of God (the body), him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple you are (1 Cor. 3:16-17)

9 I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway (1 Cor. 9:27)

10 You are circumcised... without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh (Col. 2:11)

These and other statements about the body and flesh emphasize the will of God concerning the body. It is clear that God wants the body as well as the soul and spirit of man to be redeemed. Why would He want the body to be sinful, sick, diseased, and infirm if He is to dwell in it? Why would He want it unclean, depraved, and helpless? It cannot be that He would rather dwell in such a body, or prefer it to a clean, healthy, sinless one. This explains the purpose of Christ in bearing our sins, sicknesses, and infirmities, and shows why atonement includes the cleaning up of the body, soul, and spirit from all sin, disease, and corruption. If God provided healing for Israel, made covenants to heal them until there was not one feeble person in all their tribes (Ps. 105:37; 107:20); if He gave promises of physical healing and health (Ps. 91; 103:3; Isa. 53:4-5; 58:1-12); and then made a better covenant by Christ, it should be understood as including all these blessings and more (Heb. 8:6). If, as stated, Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever (Heb. 13:8), this alone should be proof of such provision and that He will heal today as He did in the days of His life on earth a After stating facts about the ruin of the city of Jerusalem and the people, Jeremiah concluded his lamentations with a plea for God's mercy, a plea for Him to turn back to them and restore them again (v 17-22). The prophet's own heart was faint, his eye dim, because of the desolation of Zion

b Question 13. Last one in Lamentations

c Jeremiah did not know for how many centuries after his day his people would be forsaken of God. They had been forsaken of Him because they had forsaken God; and they could find Him any time they would seek Him with the whole heart. This was His promise to them. In this age, because of rejecting the Messiah they have been out of harmony with Him for about 1900 years (Lk. 21:20-24). They will be converted or changed at the 2nd advent of Christ (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29) d This request to turn Israel back to God will produce miracles when it can be done, that is, when they will allow Him to do so-when they become willing to fulfil the requirements of being blessed. This is the only way He can fulfil the everlasting covenants made with their fathers. God cannot bless any person or nation who continues in rebellion and sin. His grace is granted only on the condition of meeting His righteous requirements in repentance, faith, and obedience to the gospel. When Israel does turn back to Him, God will renew them as in days of old, as predicted by all the prophets (Isa. 11:10-12, notes)

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL

Sermons - History - Persecutions - Fulfilled and Unfulfilled Prophecies During the Babylonian Captivity

a This perhaps refers to the 30th year of Ezekiel's age (v 1). It was the same age as that of John the Baptist and Christ when they began their ministries (Lk. 1:26, 36; 3:23)
b All the days referred to in the book of Ezekiel are the days of the month, not days of the week (v 1; 8:1; 20:1; 24:1; 26:1; 29:1; 30:20; 31:1; 32:1; 40:1) c The Jewish captives that had already been taken from Judah to Babylon. Ezekiel, himself was taken when Jehoiachin was (v 2; 2 Ki. 24:6-17)
d Chebar, now Khabour, which flows into the Euphrates about 200 miles north of Babylon (v 1, 2; 3:15, 23; 10:15-22; 43:3)
e In vision he saw the heavens opened and a chariot drawn by cherubim coming out of them to the place where he was dwelling in a Jewish settlement on the river Chebar (v 1) f Visions of God literally means that God gave him visions from heaven (v 1). Cp. Ex. 24:10; Isa. 6; Dan. 7:9; Rev. 4:2) g This identifies the 30th year of v 1 with the 5th year of Jehoiachin's captivity to Babylon. If this refers to Ezekiel's age, then he was taken captive when he was 25 years of age; but if the 30th year refers to another date, then it could only be to the 30th year after the covenant Josiah made in the 18th year of his reign (2 Ki. 22:3). Josiah reigned 31 years, or 13 years after the making of this covenant. Jehoiakim reigned 11 years, and Jehoiachin 3 months; then he was taken captive (2 Ki. 24:6-17). The 5th year of his captivity would make 30 years, taking into account the month of the 18th year of Josiah h In very deed, or in reality to Ezekiel i Both Ezekiel and Jeremiah were priests called to the prophetic office j An expression in prophecy used to denote the power or constraining influence of the Holy Spirit operating through men as they yielded to God's will (v 3) k 5fold vision of the cloud (v 4):
1 A whirlwind came from the north
2 A great cloud
3 A fire infolding
4 Brightness was about the cloud
5 Out of the cloud and out of the fire came a color of amber l 4 whirlwinds of Scripture:
1 Elijah taken to heaven in one (2 Ki. 2:1, 11)
2 The Lord answered Job out of one (Job 38:1; 40:6)
3 Ezekiel saw one (v 4)
4 The Lord will come to the earth in one (Isa. 66:15; Zech. 9:14)
m This is the direction that judgment upon Judah and Jerusalem was coming from (v 4; 26:7; Jer. 1:13-15; 3:12, 18; 4:6; 6:1, 22; 10:22; 13:20)
n Fire infolding itself means that it was travelling in a circle, flames following one another in rapid succession as the framework of the vision (v 4) o 42fold description of the cherubim:
1 The likeness of 4 living creatures (v 5)
2 The likeness of a man
3 Each had 4 faces (v 6)
4 Each had 4 wings, one on each side (v 6, 8)
5 They had straight feet (v 7)
6 The soles of the feet were like the feet of calves
7 They sparkled like the color of burnished brass
8 They had hands of a man under their wings on their 4 sides (4 hands, v 8)
9 Their wings were joined one to another
10 They turned not when they went, but went straight forward (v 9, 12)
11 One face was like that of a man in front (v 10)
12 One was like the face of a lion on the right side
13 One was like the face of an ox on the left side
14 One was like the face of an eagle in the back
15 Their wings were stretched forward
16 2 wings of each were joined to another (v 11)

803 CHAPTER 1

I Vision and commission (1:1-3:23. Cp. Isa. 6; Jer. 1; Dan. 10; Rev. 1:4). 1 Title, author, subject, and historical background (2 Ki. 23:34-25:30; 2 Chr. 36)

NOW it came to pass in the [a]thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the [b]fifth day of the month, as I was among [c]the captives by the river of [d]Chĕ'-bär, that [e]the heavens were opened, and I saw [f]visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month, which was the [g]fifth year of king Jĕ-hoi'a-chin's captivity,

3 The word of the LORD [h]came expressly unto Ē-zĕ'kĭ-el [i]the priest, the son of Bū'zī, in the land of the Chăl-dē'ans by the river Chĕ'bär; and [j]the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

2 First vision of God's glory (1:4-28. Cp. 3:12, 23; 8:2; 9:3; 10:4; 11:22; 43:2; 44:4).

(1) Fivefold vision of the cloud (Ex. 40:34)

4 ¶ [k]And I looked, and, behold, a [l]whirlwind came [m]out of the north, a great cloud, and a [n]fire infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

(2) Forty-twofold description of the cherubim (10:8-22)

5 [o]Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the [p]likeness of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side: and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the [q]living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: and they turned not when they went.

18 As for their [r]rings, they were [s]so high that they were dreadful; and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go; and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.

(3) The firmament

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

(4) Fourfold description of the cherubim (10:8-22)

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was [t]a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

(5) Fivefold description of God (Isa. 6; Dan. 7:9-13; 10:5-10; Rev. 4:3)

26 And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the a The rims of the wheels (v 16)

b This should read: They were high and dreadful; and the four rims were full of eyes round about (v 16). The rim of a wheel having many eyes all moving and looking in one or more directions would seem dreadful to a man who had never seen such things before c This was the voice of God, Himself This was God's throne which was set above the firmament over the heads of the cherubim (v 26-28)

17 2 covered each body
18 Their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like lamps (v 13)
19 The fire went up and down among them
20 The fire was bright
21 Out of the fire went forth lightning
22 They ran forward and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning (v 14)
23 One wheel was upon the earth by each side of the living creatures (v 15)
24 The appearance of the wheels and their work was like the color of beryl 16)
25 The 4 wheels had one likeness (v
26 Their appearance and their work was also like a wheel in the middle of a wheel
27 When they went they travelled upon all 4 sides (v 17)
28 The outer rims of the wheels were high and dreadful (v 18)
29 The rims of the 4 wheels were full of eyes all around 30 When the living creatures went, the wheels were close by them (v 19)
31 When the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the 4 wheels were also lifted up
32 Where the spirit went the wheels went for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels (v 20-21)
33 There was a likeness of a firmament stretched over the heads of the living creatures, the color of transparent crystal (v 22)
34 2 wings of the living creatures under the firmament were straight, one toward another, and 2 other wings covered their bodies (v 23)
35 When they went I heard the noise of the wings, like the noise of the Almighty, and the voice of the host 36 When they stood still they let down their wings
37 There was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads (v 25)
38 Upon the firmament over the heads of the living creatures was a likeness of a throne, like the appearance of a sapphire stone (v 26)
39 Upon the throne was the likeness of a man upon it
40 There was the color of amber, as the appearance of fire and brightness round about within it, from the loins downward
41 The brightness round about the throne was like a rainbow (v 28)
42 This was the appearance of the glory of the Lord. When I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spoke with me p These living creatures are called cherubims in 10:1, 3, 5-9. See all 4 descriptions of God's glory (1:4-28; 3:12-13; 8:2-4; 10:1-22)

q Their bodily frame was like a man having one face like a man and 3 additional faces on the head (v 5-11). The hands were like those of a man; and there were 4 hands instead of 2 (v 8). The feet were different from a man's -like a calf's feet (v 7). Their 4 wings were where the 4 hands were- one on each side. When the creatures went forward their wings were stretched forth; when they stood still they were lowered (v 9, 25)
r Much symbolism is made out of this plain, literal description of these angelic beings, called cherubims, but such has no foundation in Scripture or any value in teaching the gospel or biblical doctrine. They do not represent the 4 gospels, different parts of creation, or the nature of man any more than other creatures described in Scripture

a A sapphire-clear heavenly blue b God's body is like that of a man, for man was created in His likeness and His image bodily (Gen. 1:26, notes; also note, Jn. 4:24). Here He is described as being like a man from His loins downward (v 26-27; 8:2). In 8:3 He (the person on the throne) is referred to as putting forth a hand like that of a man, taking the prophet by the hair of the head, lifting him up between heaven and earth, and bringing him to Jerusalem. In 10:20 the person sitting on the throne is called the God of Israel. This entire description is one of the literal chariots of God on which He rides from place to place when He chooses. That He does ride upon the cherub is stated in 2 Sam. 22:11; Ps. 18:10. God also has many other means of travel and goes from one place to another bodily as all other beings in existence. He is omnipresent, but not omnibody. See God in Index
c This is a literal bow and not a symbol (v 28; Gen. 9:12-17; Rev. 4:3; 10:1) d As stated this was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord, and not merely a symbolism for us to differ over (v 28)
e Son of man. Heb. ben adam, son of Adam. This term is used of Ezekiel 100 times, always without the definite article. In the N. T. it is used of Christ, by Himself 86 times, and by John 2 times (Jn. 12:34), making 88 times in all, and always with the definite article. Without it the term denotes a human being, a natural descendant of Adam; with it, it means the second Man, the last Adam, taking the place of the first Adam, dispensationally, in the plan of God (the place he forfeited by sin), and succeeding to the universal dominion over the earth, which was committed to Adam (Gen. 1:26; Ps. 8:4-8). Apart from the four gospels, the term son of man is not used in the N. T.; and apart from Ezekiel it is found only in Dan. 8:17
f 20 commands commissioning Ezekiel:
1 Stand upon your feet (2:1)
2 You shall say to them, Thus saith the Lord God (2:4)
3 Be not afraid of them (2:6)
4 Be not afraid of their words
5 Be not dismayed at their looks
6 You shall speak My words to them (2:7)
7 Hear what I say to you (2:8)
8 Be not rebellious like them
9 Open your mouth and eat what I give you
10 Eat what you find; eat this roll, and go to the house of Israel (3:1)
11 Cause your belly to eat, and fill your bowels with this roll (3:3)
12 Go, get you to the house of Israel
13 Speak My words to them (3:4)
14 Go, get you to them of the captivity, to the children of your people (3:11)
15 Speak to them and tell them
16 Hear the word at My mouth, and give them warning from Me (3:17)
17 Arise, go forth into the plain (3:22)
18 Go, shut yourself in your house (3:24)
19 You shall not go out among them (3:25)
20 You shall say to them (3:27)
g The Holy Spirit entered into Ezekiel in the same sense He comes into men in N. T. times, so the theory that O. T. saints did not have the Spirit in them only upon them temporarily, is erroneous. See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T. h Note the position of the prophet in receiving the message from God. He was commanded to stand upon his feet-not kneel down or fall prostrate (v 1); he was already prostrate when God spoke to him (1:28)
i 8 things happened to Ezekiel:
1 Saw the vision of glory (1:4-28)
2 Fell prostrate before God (1:28)
3 Was commanded to stand up (2:1)
4 The Spirit entered into him (2:2)
5 The Spirit spoke to him
6 The Spirit set him upon his feet
7 He heard the Spirit speak
8 He was commissioned (2:3-3:27)
j 4 commissions to Ezekiel:
1 First commission (2:3-3:3)
2 Second commission (3:10-16)
3 Third commission (3:10-16)
4 Fourth commission (3:17-27)

CHAPTER 2 804

3 Ezekiel's commission.

(1) Ezekiel prostrate: raised by the Spirit

AND he said unto me, eSon of man, fstand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

(2) Filled with the Spirit

2 And thegspirit entered hinto me when he spake unto me, and ‘set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

(3) First commission: fivefold character of the people

■3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Is'ra-el, kto a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

●4 For they are impudent children and stiffhearted. I do send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD.

5 And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

(4) Ezekiel encouraged

●6 ¶ And thou, son of man, be not afraid of their words, neither be afraid of their words, though briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

●7 And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious.

(5) The book: reception of his prophecies (Jer. 15:16; Rev. 10:8)

■8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and ‘eat that I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me; and, lo, a[a]roll of a book was therein;

10 And he spread it before me; and it was[b]written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

805 CHAPTER 3

MOREOVER he said unto me, Son of man, ceat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Is'ra-el.

2 dSo I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

■3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth eas honey for sweetness.

(6) Second commission: fivefold character of the people

■4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, fgo, get thee unto the house of Is'ra-el, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art gnot sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Is'ra-el;

6 Not to many people of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

●7 hBut the house of Is'ra-el will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Is'ra-el are impudent and hardhearted.

(7) Ezekiel encouraged

8 Behold, iI have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

(8) Third commission: the people

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, jall my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

●11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; kwhether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

(9) Second vision of glory (1:4): obedience; transportation

12 lThen the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a mgreat rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

a The book was the ancient kind-written on skins sewed together to make a long piece which was rolled up from each end. The writing was usually on one side, but in this case it was on both sides-within and without, as if running over, to express the abundance of the lamentations, mourning, and woes with which the roll or scroll was filled (v 9-10)
b Cp. with Rev. 5:1; 10:2-10 c To eat the book signifies he was to be thoroughly acquainted with its contents so as to give out what was written in it (v 1) d In vision Ezekiel ate the roll, took it into his belly, and filled his bowels with it. Literally, he did not eat all the skins on which the book was written, but through the Spirit he digested its contents-they became written on the fleshly tables of his heart and filled his mind to overflowing (v 2-3)
e The book, after this symbolic action, became sweet to his taste, indicating that the reception of God's revelation is always sweet. The contents becoming bitter after being digested, as in John's case (Rev. 10:9), only indicates something hard to give out to the people, like lamentations, reason for mournings, and woes upon them
f Note that this commission is repeated several times in various ways (2:4, 7; 3:1, 4, 11, 17, 22, 27)
g You are not sent to a strange and barbarous people, but to your own beloved people who have become apostate and rebellious. Others would have heard you had I sent you to them, but not this people (v 5-7)
h 1st prophecy in Ezek. (3:7-9, fulfilled). Next, v 25
3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 The house of Israel will not hearken unto Me (3:7)
2 I have made (will make) your face strong against their faces, and your forehead against their foreheads (3:8)
3 I will make your forehead as an adamant (diamond, 3:9)
i God equipped Ezekiel for the hard work before him. He would have to be bold, hard, stubborn, and unyielding to be able to cope with these hard and stiff-hearted people. God compared the prophet to adamant harder than flint (v 8-9). The adamant was a diamond-the hardest of stones (Jer. 17:1). He should be able to cut the hard hearts to the core j In the experience of every true prophet the words of God must be received into one's own heart in order to give them out effectively to others. If the word of the preacher comes only from the intellect it will only appeal to the intellect, and fall short of reaching the hearts (v 10) k This expression occurs 3 times in these commission chapters for the sake of emphasis and to express God's knowledge of their reception of His message (v 11; 2:5, 7)
l Then-after he had been commissioned 3 times to go to Israel, the Spirit took him up and away to the captives that dwelled in a settlement on the river Chebar (v 12-16)
m 4 great noises heard in his flight:
1 A great voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the Lord from this place (v 12)
2 The noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another (v 13)
3 The noise of the wheels that were over against them
4 The noise of a great rushing of the cherubim

k 8fold description of Israel: 2:7 1 A rebellious house (2:3, 6; 3:9, 26-27)
2 A sinful house (2:3)
3 Impudent children (2:4; 3:7)
4 Stiffhearted (2:4)
5 Briers and thorns (2:6)
6 Scorpions (2:6)
7 Most rebellious (2:7)
8 Hardhearted (3:7)
l Ezekiel was commanded to eat a scroll on which were written within and without lamentations, mourning, and woe (v 8-10). This was similar to what John did as in Rev. 10, and with the same effect a This can be taken literally, as the experiences recorded in Acts 8:39-40; 2 Cor. 12:4; Rev. 1:10; 4:1

b The prophet was angry at seeing the condition of his people and their attitude against Jehovah and His message. He was filled with righteous indignation, which God inspired against the sins he was called to denounce (v 14)

c This means that he was strengthened by divine power for his mission, which at the easiest point would be difficult and hard on him (v 14, 22; 1:3; 8:1; 33:22; 37:1; 40:1)

d He sat down among the captives astonished for 7 days, at the end of which the word of the Lord came to him (v 16. Cp. Job 2:13). The Lord guarded both Ezekiel and his countrymen from dwelling exclusively on the national character of his mission. In the midst of general judgments each person was to stand alone before his God and give account of himself according to his own works (v 17-27; 18:1-23; 33:1-20)

e 4 things God "made" Ezekiel, p. 809

f Watchman -one who looks out or sees from a height, with the view to warning of impending danger or to give any information, good or bad (v 17; 33:2-7; 1 Sam. 14:16; 2 Sam. 18:24-27; 2 Ki. 9:17-20; 17:9; 18:8; Song 3:3; 5:7; Ps. 127:1; Isa. 21:6-12; 52:8; 56:10; 62:6; Jer. 6:17; 31:6; 51:12; Hos. 9:8; Mic. 7:4). Priests and prophets of the Lord were often called watchmen. Ezekiel was especially distinguished with this title (v 17; 33:7). The duties of a watchman were 3fold:
1 To wait and watch for what God would command and give, in warning (v 17-21)
2 To watch over and superintend the people (v 17-21; Isa. 56:10)
3 To warn the people for God (v 17-21)

g Referring to the death penalty for sin. No sinner escapes this penalty unless he repents and is forgiven of God (Mk. 16:15; 1 Jn. 1:9). Death was the penalty for original sin (Gen. 2:17); and it is the present penalty for sin under grace as it always was under the law (Rom. 1:29-32; 8:12-13; Gal. 4:19-21). When one sins he immediately incurs the penalty of the broken law, and sincere repentance and forgiveness are necessary to avoid the penalty. There is no automatic work of grace offering forgiveness without repentance and putting the sin away by faith in the blood of Christ. Any other way would be a mock of sin and give one a license to continue in it if he wanted to do so. Every time one commits a death-penalty sin it will have the same effect on him. This is why Ezekiel was told to warn the wicked to meet the conditions of grace, or they would be lost (v 17-21; 18:1-32; 33:1-20)

h 12 great truths here:
1 Death is the penalty for sin, all sin, every sin, regardless of who the person is or what connection with God he used to have (v 18. Cp. Gen. 2:17; Rom. 1:29-32; 6:14-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21)
2 If the prophet does not warn the wicked man and he dies in his sin, his blood will be required of the prophet (v 18)
3 If the wicked man is warned and he repents and turns from sin, his life will be saved (v 18)
4 If the prophet warns the wicked man, and he does not turn from sin, then the prophet is clear from his blood, and all responsibility (v 19)
5 If a wicked man who is warned or not warned does not turn from his sin he will die in sin-be lost (v 19)
6 If a righteous man turns from his righteousness, commits sin again, and God lays a stumblingblock before him, and he dies in his sin, all his righteousness which he has done will not be remembered (v 20; 18:24-26; 33:12-13; Rom. 8:12-13)
7 If the prophet has warned the righteous man and he remains in righteousness, both he and the prophet will be saved (v 20-21)
8 If the prophet has not warned the righteous man and he turns from his righteousness to live in sin again, the prophet will be held repsonsible for his being lost (v 20)

(11) Fourth commission: made a watchman to Israel (18:1; 33:1; Isa. 21:6-7)

17 Son of man, [e] I have made thee a [f] watchman unto the house of Iş'ra-el: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

▸18 When I say unto the wicked, [g] Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him[h] not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, [i] to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood [j] will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

▸20 Again, When a righteous man doth turn from his[k] righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, [l] he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

▸21 Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul.

e The prophet was to set the tile a distance from himself and go through the stages of a siege against a real city, all around the tile (v 2). Then he was to set up an iron pan to represent a wall between himself and the city thus portrayed, set his face against it, and throw rocks and other things at the tile back of the iron pan until it was destroyed. This pantomime symbolized the coming siege of Jerusalem and the complete destruction of Judah and the city (v 2-3, 7-8, 16-17)

9 If the righteous man turns from his righteousness to live in sin again, he will be lost if he dies in his sin whether he has been warned or not (v 20-21; 18:24-26; 33:12-13; Rom. 8:12-13; Gal. 5:19-21)
10 The righteous man can and will die in his sins if he goes back into them again and does not repent again (v 20-21; 18:24-26; 33:12-13; Rom. 8:12-13)
11 The righteous man who does die in his sins will be as much lost as he would have been had he never turned from them (v 20-21; Rom. 6:14-23; 8:12-13; Gal. 5:19-21)
12 The only way a righteous man can be saved is by continuing in his righteousness instead of sin (v 20-21)

i To save his life the wicked man must turn from his sins and ask forgiveness (v 18-19)

j To save himself from responsibility of having the blood of a lost man on his hands, the prophet must warn the wicked (v 18)

k See Righteousness defined, p. 811

l To continue to live the righteous man must not return to sin or die in sin (v 20-21)

m See note c, v 14, above

n The third vision of the glory of God (1:4; 3:12-13, 22-23)

o He fell on his face 6 times (v 23; 1:28; 9:8; 11:13; 43:3; 44:4) p The Spirit entered into him again (v 24; 2:2) a In this pantomime Ezekiel made bread of wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and fitches. He lay upon his side 390 days, then 40 days eating this bread by weight and drinking water by measure. All his working was over a fire made of dung. This would make the food unclean, the purpose being to teach Israel that they would eat defiled bread among the Gentiles (v 9-13)

b Lentils - a species of pulse, something like peas in appearance. Still a common food in Egypt, they are cooked into a pottage like beans, or stewed with garlic and oil for seasoning (v 9; Gen. 25:34; 2 Sam. 17:28; 23:11)

c Millet - a plant resembling wheat and rye, the stalk of which grows about 3 ft. tall and bears a great number of grains. Chiefly used as animal food (v 9). The word occurs only here in Scripture

d Fitches - a vegetable resembling common peas (v 9; Isa. 28:25-27). The word trans. fitches here is trans. rye in Ex. 9:32

e Making bread of a mixture of all these indicated there would be a scarcity of food; and the weighing of food daily emphasized this. People had to live on what they could possibly get together from all sources, during the famine. Wheat and barley were commonly used in the making of bread but not beans, lentils, millet, and fitches

f 20 shekels weight of bread daily would be about 10 ounces (v 10)

g One-sixth of an hin would be 1 quart

h Bake it upon dung. The custom was to use cow-dung burned to ashes without an oven. The prophet objected to human dung, so God permitted him to substitute cow-dung (v 12, 14-15)

i This was the lesson taught by the eating of the kind of bread described and cooked with dung. The Jews were to eat defiled bread among the Gentiles where they would be driven by God (v 13)

j The prediction here was that God would cut off the supply of food in Jerusalem during the siege, and all the Jews in the city would eat bread by weight, and drink water by measure and with astonishment, until they were consumed by their sins (v 16-17). During the siege the famine was so severe that some even killed and cooked their children to keep alive (5:10; note b, Lam. 2:12)

8 Sign: eating unclean food indicating Israel will eat defiled bread in captivity

●9 ¶Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and [b]lentiles, and [c]millet, and [d]fitches, and put them in one vessel, and [e]make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

●10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by [f]weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

●11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the [g]sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

●12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it [h]with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the LORD said, [i]Even thus shall the children of Is'ra-el eat their defiled bread among the Gen'tiles, whither I will drive them.

9 Sign: eating unclean food by measure indicating famine for Jerusalem

14 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, [j]I will break the staff of bread in Je-ru'sa-lem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonied one with another, and consume away for their iniquity.

807 CHAPTER 5

10 Sign: barber's razor: (1) Destruction of Judah

AND thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, and cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.●

●2 Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them.

●3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts.

●4 Then take of them again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof shall a fire come forth into [a]all the house of Is'ra-el.

(2) Reason for judgment: sins

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; This is Je-ru'sa-lem: I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.

6 And she hath [b]changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you;

(3) Extreme punishments just

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and [c]will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD; Surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.

(4) Three methods of destruction: fire, sword, and captivity

12 ¶ A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

(5) Complete destruction determined

13 Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

14 Moreover I will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round a Note here, as in many other places, the term all the house of Israel is now limited to Judah, which included some of all the tribes. Judah was truly representative of all Israel after the destruction of the 10-tribe kingdom (v 4) b 4 sins of Jerusalem (v 6):

1 The people have changed My judgments into wickedness more than other nations
2 They have changed My statutes more than the countries round about 3 They have refused My judgments and statutes
4 They have not walked in them

7 things Ezekiel to do in pantomime:

1 Take a barber's razor and shave your head and beard (v 1)
2 Take balances and weigh and divide the hair (v 2)
3 Burn a third in the fire in the midst of the city when the siege is completed
4 Cut a third part with a knife
5 Scatter a third part in the wind; and I will draw a sword after them
6 Take a few in number and bind them in your skirts (v 3)
7 Then take the few again and cast them into the midst of the fire and burn them (v 4)

4 things God "made" Ezekiel (3:17):

1 I have made your face strong against their faces (3:8)
2 Your forehead strong against their foreheads
3 As an adamant harder than flint have I made your forehead (3:9)
4 I have made you a watchman (3:17)

40 years (4:6):

The 40 years were to be a part of the 390 years and both periods were to end with the fall of Judah and Jerusalem. The 40 years would take us back to the 13th year of the reign of Josiah, the year that Jeremiah began making the predictions in Palestine regarding the coming judgment on Judah and Jerusalem (Jer. 1:1). Subtracting the 13 years from Josiah's 31-year reign would leave 18 years of his rule extending into the 40-year period. Excluding the 3-month reign each of Jehoahaz and Jehoiachin, the 40 years would be made up as in the following, ending with the destruction of the city of Jerusalem, as predicted in v 1-3, 7-8, 16-17

40 years made up of:

1 Years of Josiah's reign (Jer. 1:2; 2 Ki. 22:1)	18
2 Jehoiakim's reign (2 Ki. 23:36)	11
3 Zedekiah's reign (2 Ki. 24:18)	11
Total years	40

40 years iniquity of Israel (4:5)

The iniquity of the house of Israel must refer to all Israel and not to any one portion only, whereas the particular mention of Judah bearing iniquity 40 years (In v 6) must refer to all of Israel represented by the kingdom of Judah after the 10 tribes had been destroyed. The two terms, the house of Israel and the house of Judah are used interchangeably throughout, of the one people. While the 2 kingdoms existed they were recognized as all of Israel, but after the captivity of the 10 tribes, Judah, including people from all the 12 tribes and Levi who became a part of Judah, were considered representative of all Israel. In prophesying to the captives of Judah, Ezekiel used the term Israel of these Jews 185 times; and Jeremiah, who prophesied at the same time, used it 128 times, referring to them. Jeremiah used the term Judah 185 times of the same Jews, but Ezekial only used it 15 times. There were 2 houses of Israel during most of the 390 years of v 5; and even after the 10 tribes were taken captive they continued to bear their iniquity to the time the other house (Judah) also bore the same iniquity at the same time. Judah is singled out as bearing a special 40 years of iniquity because of committing greater sins than the 10 tribes during this additional 40 years; for this they were also finally taken captive

1 I will bring a sword upon the mountains, hills, rivers, and valleys (6:3)
2 I will destroy your high places
3 Your altars will be desolate (6:4)
4 Your images will be broken
5 I will cast down your slain men before your idols
6 I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their idols (6:5)
7 I will scatter your bones round about your altars
8 In all your dwelling places the cities will be laid waste (6:6)
9 The high places will be laid waste and made desolate
10 Your altars will be laid waste and made desolate
11 Your idols will be broken and cease to be worshipped
12 Your images will be cut down
13 Your works will be abolished
14 The slain will fall in the midst of you (6:7)
15 You will know that I am Jehovah
16 Yet I will leave a remnant that you may have some that will escape the sword and be scattered among the nations (6:8)
17 They that escape will remember Me among the nations where you will be carried away captive, because I am broken with their whorish heart, which has departed from Me (6:9)
18 They shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations
19 They will know that I am Jehovah
20 They will know that I have not said in vain those things which I said would come upon them (6:10)

b Ezekiel was commanded to set his face toward the mountains of Israel and prophesy against them, as he would speak to living things (v 2). The main burden was against the seats of idolatrous worship which God had so hated in Israel for centuries, and which He was determined to stamp out before blessing them in the eternal program He had in mind for them (v 1-7)

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images shall be broken: and I will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Iṣ'ra-el before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwellingplaces the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

(2) A remnant to be saved (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

8 ¶ Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

12 Sign: smiting hands and stamping feet to call attention to Judah of certain judgment

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the evil abominations of the house of Iṣ'ra-el! for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.
12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, more desolate than the wilderness toward Dib'lăth in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 7 809

13 Prophecy to the land of Israel: (1) Fivefold judgment twice repeated (Cp. Gen. 41:32)

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
2 Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Iṣ'ra-el; An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.
5 Thus saith the Lord GOD; An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come: it watcheth for thee; behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come unto thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity:

a For a list of all these predictions see note b, v 1

b The word rod here is used of Judah; it had blossomed into proud luxuriance. The rod of v 11 is one of punishment for wickedness. God found it necessary to raise up a rod of an oppressor to punish the people for pride and rebellion. The furious Chaldeans became the instrument of His wrath; and the destruction was so complete that few were left to make lamentation over the destroyed ones (v 10-11)

c The sword, pestilence, and famine are the three methods mentioned in many of these prophecies which would destroy Judah and Jerusalem (v 15). They did destroy until very few were left (v 16; 2 Ki. 24-25; 2 Chr. 36). Those who escaped were to be like lonely doves mourning over the past and the great destruction upon their people and country (v 17-19). They would have plenty of silver and gold but lack food; and they would have no help from God in the day of His wrath (v 19)

d Causing baldness in mourning was forbidden the Israelites, but it seems that in later years they took up some of the habits and customs of the heathen regarding this and other things (v 18. Cp. Isa. 22:12)

e The stumblingblock of their sin was the making of idols (v 19. Cp. 3:20)

which caused Jehovah to be jealous (v 2, 5). It was set up in the door of the inner gate (v 3). This was the gate to the inner court or holy place. It led from the outer court of the temple to the inner one, the court of the priests or gate of the altar (v 5). It was from this side that the priests approached the brazen altar. The glory of God was not in the holy of holies as usual; it had left that place and was resting over the place where this image of jealousy was to bring judgment before the glory left the temple completely (v 4)

j Questions 1-2. Next, v 12

Righteousness defined (3:20):

Some argue that this righteousness is not personal holiness of obedience to the gospel, but mere legal righteousness - the righteousness of the law - and that it does not prove a man to be saved from sin, or born again. However, this is but human theory. If it was the righteousness of the law, that is what must be fulfilled in born-again ones (Rom. 6:1-4). Whatever the kind of righteousness it was something that:

1 One could turn away from (v 20)
2 If he did turn from it he committed iniquity or sin
3 He died if he left it and went into sin (v 20; 18:24-26; 33:13, 18)
4 It would not be remembered if he did turn from it to commit sin (v 20)
5 It gave him life as long as he kept it and did not turn from it to commit sin (v 21; 18:24)
6 He had it until he did sin (v 21)
7 It would not deliver him from death if he left it; but if he kept it he lived (33:12)

We have to conclude that if it had the power of life and death in it, depending on whether one kept it or not, then the kind of righteousness here is that which God demands of born-again ones in the N. T. (Mt. 6:33; Acts 10:35; Rom. 4:3-22; 8:13-20; 6:4; 1 Pet. 2:24). We have no authority to make this righteousness different from what God has always demanded, in both testaments. God requires us to fulfil the righteousness that the law demanded (Rom. 8:4), so if a person was righteous under the law for keeping it and one is righteous under grace for keeping it, then what is the difference? If all have been required to live by it, in either testament, then all must have it, or be lost (v 20; 18:24-26; 33:12-13; Jer. 22:3; 33:15; Hos. 10:12)

I will recompense thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth.

(2) Three methods of judgment: sword, pestilence, and famine

10 [a]Behold the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth; the[b]rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of theirs: neither shall there be wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The[c]sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

(3) A remnant to be saved (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

16 ¶ But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.

18 They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and [d]baldness upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it is the [e]stumblingblock of their iniquity.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

14 Sign of a chain signifying captivity: fifteenfold judgment

23 ¶ Make a chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be defiled.

25 Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; then shall they seek a vision of the prophet; but the [b]law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 8 810

III Visions - prophecy of restoration (8:1-11:25). 1 Fourth vision of glory (1:4). Transported in vision to Jerusalem to see the sins of Judah

AND it came to pass in the [c]sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the[d]elders of Jū'dah sat before me, that [e]the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me.

2 Then [f]I beheld, and lo [g]a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire; and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.

3 And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jĕ-rų'sā-lĕm, to the door of the inner gate that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.

4 And, behold, the glory of the God of Ĭs'ra-el was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.

2 Profanations of the temple (8:5-17). (1) Image of jealousy

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this [i]image of jealousy in the entry.

(2) Announcement: greater sins

4 Their holy places will be defiled
5 Destruction will come (7:25)
6 They shall seek peace, and there will be none

12 The prince will be clothed with desolation
13 The hands of the people of the land will be troubled 14 I will do to them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them
15 They will know that I am Jehovah

b The law was the special realm of the priest (Dt. 17:8-13; 33:10), the vision was that of the prophet, and the counsel of wisdom that of the elders (v 26. Cp. Jer. 18:18)

3 25th year-Abib or Nisan (Apr. 10, 40:1-48:35)
4 27th year-Abib or Nisan (Apr. 1, 29: 17-21)

Because of a Jewish month being different from ours-taking in sections of two of our calendar months, the particular days of months, as given above are approximate dates. Furthermore, some of Ezekiel's prophecies are undated, but they are listed above-the undated ones between dated ones in proper order so that we can have some idea concerning the time they were given d The elders of Judah (v 1) are called the elders of Israel in 14:1; 20:1, 3. They were the elders of the Jewish community at Tel-abib (3:15)

e This means that the power of God fell upon him again. Ten times the hand of the Lord was upon him, or fell upon him (1:3; 3:14; 8:1; 14:9; 16:27; 25:7, 16; 37:1; 40:1)

f The 4th time he saw the vision of the glory of God (1:4-28; 3:12-14, 22-23; 8:1-4)

g 4fold description of God's glory:

1 A likeness as the appearance of fire (v 2)
2 The appearance of God from His loins downward was like fire
3 The appearance from His loins upward was brightness, the color of amber
4 The glory of the God of Israel according to the vision I saw in the plain (v 4). See ch. 1 h Then-after I had been brought to Jerusalem, I lifted up my eyes toward the north and saw the image of jealousy at the gate of the altar of the temple (v 5)

i This image of jealousy was an image of Tammuz (v 14) set up in the temple, what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Is'ra-el committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.

(3) Chamber of imagery

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Is'ra-el, and in the midst of them stood Ja-az-a-ni'ah the son of Sha'phan, with every man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

(4) Announcement: greater sins

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Is'ra-el do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

(5) Women weeping for Tammuz

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD'S house which was toward the north; and, behold, there sat women weeping for Tam'muz.

(6) Announcement: greater sins

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

(7) Sun worshippers

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD'S house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east.

(8) The greatest sin of all: the branch (Heb., Asherah, idol before which sex orgies were held)

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Ju'dah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger; and, lo, they put the branch to their nose.

3 Judgments for these sins (8:18-9:11). (1) Announced

18 Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

811 CHAPTER 9

(2) Judgment commanded: righteous marked for deliverance (Cp. Rev. 7:1-8; 9:4; 14:1)

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand. ● ■

2 And, behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lieth toward the north, and every man a slaughter weapon in his hand; and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side: and they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was gone up from the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side;

4 And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity:

6 Slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

(3) Judgment executed: Babylon to have angelic help in overthrowing Judah (Dan. 10:13-11:1, notes)

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass, while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Is'ra-el in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Je-ru'sa-lem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Is'ra-el a The abominations of Israel were great, so much so that they caused the complete destruction of Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, and almost the total destruction of all Jews in the kingdom of Israel. These sins are listed many times in the books of Isaiah, Jeremiah, and other prophets. God promised to show Ezekiel even greater abominations than what he had heard about or seen in Israel (v 6). Such was the purpose of this trip to Jerusalem where he was shown many secret sins of the leaders of Israel (v 6-18)

b Here again God, as many times before, in the prophets, used the term the house of Israel when speaking of the Jews in the kingdom of Judah at Jerusalem. This was about 133 years after the 10 tribes had been destroyed and taken captive, so there could be no reference here to them at all. This applies exclusively to what was going on in Jerusalem at that time and not to the destroyed 10 tribes (v 6)

c This gives the reason for God going far off from the temple-even abandoning it to destruction (v 6). After these visions of chs. 8-11 the glory of God did depart from the temple, not to return until the millennial temple is built. Cp. 11:22-25 with 43:1-6, referring to a time after the building of the future and eternal temple, as described in 40:1-42:20

d 4 greater sins of Israel:
1 Worship in chambers of images and all kinds of clean and unclean beasts (v 8-11)
2 Women weeping for Tammuz (v 14)
3 Sun worshippers in the temple (v 16)
4 Sex orgies to the Asherah (v 17)

e The rooms with painted walls picturing every kind of creeping thing, abominable beasts, and images of idol gods were called chambers of imagery (v 10, 12). The tombs in Egypt were painted thus, as well as ancient temples of the heathen. The apostate Jews painted the abominable things on the walls of the temple of Solomon and offered incense to them. Here 70 elders of Israel offered incense to these pictures and images (v 10-12)

f Question 3. Next, v 15

g 4 sins and mistakes of Israel:
1 Offering incense before images and pictures painted on walls (v 10-12)
2 Honoring and worshipping unclean animals as gods
3 Saying the Lord does not see, because of worshipping in the darkness (v 12)
4 Saying that Jehovah has forsaken the earth

h Then-after he had seen the chambers of imagery, he was shown a still greater sin-women weeping for Tammuz (v 14). Tammuz was a Phoenician deity, the Adonis of the Greeks. Originally he was a Sumerian or Babylonian sun-god, called Dumuzu, the husband of Ishtar who corresponded with the Aphrodite of the Greeks. The worship of these gods was introduced into Syria in very early times under the designation of Tammuz and Ashtarte. They appear in the myths of the Greeks as Adonis and Aphrodite; and as Osiris and Isis of the Egyptians. The Babylonian Dumuzu or Tammuz was represented as a beautiful shepherd slain by a wild boar, the symbol of winter. Ishtar long mourned for him and descended into the underworld to deliver him from the embrace of death. This mourning for Tammuz was celebrated in Babylon by women on the 2nd day of the month which thus acquired the name of Tammuz. In the Jewish calendar it was the 4th month, and about the same as our July. The center of this worship was Gebal, Syria, and in the famous temple of Venus or Aphrodite in south Phoenicia. There arose, in connection with this worship the immoral rites which rendered it so infamous that it was suppressed by Constantine the Great. The death of Tammuz was supposed to typify the long, dry summer of Syria and Palestine, when vegetation perished; and his return to life symbolized the rainy season when the dry land was revived. His death also symbolized the cold, winter season, and his return to life the beautiful and fruitful spring. The greater sin above that of offering incense as in v 10-12 was the disgrace-

8 My eye will not spare (9:7-10)
9 Neither will I have pity (9:10)
10 I will recompense their way upon their head

d It was customary in the East to put into the girdle the case containing writing implements. The inkhorn consisted of two parts: a receptacle for the pens, and a box for the ink. It was made out of ebony, hardwood, brass, copper, or silver, and of beautiful workmanship. It was about 10 in. long, 1 1/2 or 2 in. wide, and 1/2 in. deep. The hollow shaft contained pens of reed and a penknife, and had a lid (v 2)

e The 5th time the glory was seen (1:4-28; 3:12-14, 22:23; 8:1-4; 9:3)

f This mark was to be put on the faithful ones for their protection when the faithless were to be destroyed. It showed that they belonged to God. It was an ancient custom in Egypt that a runaway slave was freed from his master if he went to the temple and gave himself up to the god of that place, receiving certain marks upon his person to denote his consecration to the deity he worshipped. Romans marked their soldiers in the hand and their slaves in the foreheads. It is clear from Rev. 7:3; 9:4; 14:1 that in the future, 144,000 Jews from all tribes of Israel, except Dan, will have a mark in their foreheads as a sign for protection. It will be the name of God (Rev. 14:1). All the redeemed will be so marked in the next life (Rev. 3:12; 22:4). The followers of the beast will also be marked in the foreheads or hands (Rev. 13:16-17; 14:9; 20:4)

g This illustrates 1 Pet. 4:17-18

h Question 7. Next, 11:13

i Here the term the house of Israel and Judah is used, so it is clear that Judah was, after the destruction of the 10-tribe kingdom, representative of all Israel whose capital was Jerusalem (v 9)

⟵ Cont. from column 1

ful and immoral rites practiced in the temple of Solomon by the women (v 14)

i Question 4. Next, v 17

j The greater abomination than the women weeping for Tammuz was the worship of the sun by men who turned their backs on the holy of holies and the ark and faced the east like the fire-worshippers. The image representing the sun was set up and worshipped by the elders of Israel (v 16. Cp. Job 31:26-27; Dt. 17:3; 2 Ki. 23:11-12)

k Questions 5-6. Next, 9:8

a 5 reasons Jerusalem to be destroyed:
1 Judah's sin is exceeding great (v 9)
2 The land is full of blood
3 The city is full of perverseness
4 They say, The Lord has forsaken the earth
5 They say, The Lord does not see our sins
b 6 times a similar expression is used (5:11; 7:4, 9; 8:18; 9:10; 24:14) c 37fold description of the cherubim:
1 Above the heads of the cherubim was a firmament (10:1)
2 A throne colored like a sapphire stone was above the firmament
3 The wheels were under the cherubs
4 They stood on the right side of the temple facing it (10:3)
5 The cloud filled the inner court
6 The glory of God went up from the cherubim and stood over the threshhold
7 The cloud filled the house (10:4)
8 Brightness filled the court
9 The sound of the cherubim's wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of Almighty God (10:5)
10 There was fire between the wheels and between the cherubim (10:6)
11 One cherub stretched forth his hand between the cherubim into the fire and took thereof, and put it into the hands of a man (10:7)
12 They had the hands of a man under their wings (10:8)
13 Each one had a wheel by him, making 4 wheels in all (10:9)
14 The wheels appeared like the color of a beryl stone
15 All 4 cherubim had one likeness, as if a wheel had been within a wheel (10:10)
16 When they went, they went upon their 4 sides (10:11)
17 They turned not as they went 18 Which way the head looked they went 19 Their whole bodies, backs, hands, wings, and wheels were full of eyes round about (10:12)
20 A voice cried to the wheels (10:13)
21 Each of the cherubim had 4 faces: the face of a cherub (ox, 1:10), of a man, a lion, and an eagle (10:14)
22 They were lifted up (10:15)
23 When they went the wheels went with them (10:16)
24 When they lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth the wheels turned not from beside them
25 When they stood the wheels stood 26 When they were lifted up the wheels were also lifted up (10:17)
27 The spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels
28 The glory of the Lord departed from off the threshhold of the house and stood over the cherubim (10:18)
29 They lifted up their wings and mounted up from the earth (10:19)
30 When they went out, the wheels also were beside them
31 Every one stood at the door of the east gate of the temple
32 The glory of God was over them above
33 Every one had 4 faces (10:21)
34 Every one had 4 wings
35 They had the hands of a man under their wings
36 The faces on them were alike (10:22)
37 They went straight forward
d 3 commands from the throne of God:
1 He (God who sat on the throne) spoke to the man clothed with linen saying, Go in between the wheels under the cherub (10:2;6)
2 Fill your hand with the coals of fire from between the cherubim
3 Scatter them over the city (v 2) e The 6th vision of the glory of God (1:4-28; 3:12-14, 22-23; 8:1-4; 9:3; 10:1-22)
f The coals of fire were scattered over Jerusalem (v 2, 6). This indicated judgment on the city. Cp. Rev. 8:5
g Fire evidently has no power over this kind of beings. Nothing is said about tongs as in Isa. 6, so it would be as stated here-taking up coals with his bare hands (v 7)
h They are like a man in general bodily form, and only difference being in the feet, wings, number of hands, number and Jū'dah[a] is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not.

10 And as for me also, [b]mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And, behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAPTER 10 812

(4) Fifth vision of glory: Altar fire on Jerusalem

THEN I looked, and, [c]behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubims there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and [d]said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then [e]the glory of the LORD went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the sound of the cherubims' wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, [f]Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and [g]took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

5 Thirtyfold description of the cherubim (1:5-22, 23-25)

8 ¶ And there appeared in the cherubims the [h]form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a [i]beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 [a]And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for [b]the wheels, it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up. [c]This is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chē'bär.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

18 [d]Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD's house; and the glory of the God of Iş'ra-el was over them above.

20 This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Iş'ra-el by the river of Chē'bär; and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chē'bär, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER 11 813

6 Prophecy against the princes. (1) Twenty-five wicked counselors: false security

MOREOVER the spirit lifted [e]me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD's house, which looketh eastward: and behold at the door of the gate [f]five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jā-ăz-a-nī'ah the son of Ă'zur, and Pĕl-a-tī'ah the son of Bĕ-nā'iah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Which say, [g]It is not near; let us build houses: this city is a To us these creatures with their whole body, backs, hands, wings, and wheels full of eyes would appear as very peculiar. In ch. 1 the rims of the wheels were referred to as full of eyes, but here other parts of their bodies are so described (v 12)

b The wheels either had the ability to hear, or they have been personified thus (v 14)
c The prophet assured us that they were the same living creatures whom he saw before, as in ch. 1 (v 15, 20, 22)
d See note e, v 4
e 3 times the Spirit lifted the prophet up (3:14; 8:3; 11:1); once carried him (37:1); and 4 times took him up (3:12; 8:3; 11:24; 43:5) f These could have been the same 25 men mentioned in 8:16 (v 1). They were the leaders of the people in wickedness (v 2)
g The destruction of Jerusalem and the fall of Judah being predicted by Jeremiah in the city and Ezekiel in Babylon (v 3)

Ancient records (4:1):

Assyrian and Babylonian records were kept on sculptured slabs of stone and on pottery. There were also cylinders, some barrel-shaped, and some hexagonal or octagonal. These were hollow, made of fine, thin, strong terra cotta, and from 1 1/2 to 3 ft. high. They were covered with close writing which was often in such small letters that it required a magnifying glass to read it. They were placed at corners of the temples, which is where many have been discovered; and the writing, which was done in columns, contained histories of the kings who reigned when the temples were built. In addition to these, clay tablets of various sizes were made, and covered entirely with writing and pictorial representations. This, no doubt, was the kind of tile Ezekiel used, as here (v 1). The characters were likely marked on the clay in its moist state, and while still in the frame, with a sharp edged bronze stylus about a foot long, and then the clay was baked. Such was the perfection of manufacture of this kind that many of them have been preserved for us to this day without decay, some being 3,000-4,000 years old. They vary in color either because of varying length of time they were in the kiln, or perhaps because colors were mixed with the clay. Some are bright brown, others pale yellow, pink, red, or a very dark tint-nearly black. Some are unglazed, others coated with a hard white enamel

390 days (4:4)

Ezekiel here was to lie upon his left side daily for 390 days and bear the iniquity of the house of Israel (v 4). How long during each day he did this is not stated, but no doubt at least long enough and in the same place so that the captives among whom he lived could see his daily acting. The 390 days represented 390 years, as explained in v 5. This does not give prophetical scholars the authority to make every day equal to a year, or every year equal to a day in all places in prophecy where the words days and years are found. Unless we have divine authority in any one passage, then we are to take days to mean days and years to mean years. In the pantomine here God simply wanted to express, by the prophet's symbolic action, that Israel was to bear their iniquity for 390 years. He was to lie down part of a day for 390 days and then teach God's purpose to Israel. See The year-day theory foolish, p. 875

4 You have not executed My judgments
5 You have done after the manners of the heathen round about you d 12th prophecy in Ezek. (11:14-21. V 14-16 fulfilled; v 17-21 unfulfilled). Next, 12:1 1 prediction-fulfilled:

Although I have cast them off among the heathen, and scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them a little sanctuary in the countries where they will come (11:16)
8 predictions-unfulfilled:
1 I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered (11:17)
2 I will give you the land of Israel
3 They will be gathered to their own country and will take away from it the detestable things and all the abominations (11:18)
4 I will give them one heart (11:19)
5 I will put a new spirit within you
6 I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and give them a heart of flesh
7 They will be My people, and I will be their God (11:20)
8 I will recompense the way of the wicked upon his own head (11:21)

e God was to serve as their sanctuary while they were scattered among the nations, which indicated that they would abide many days without a sacrifice or temple, as predicted in Hos. 3; 4-5

f See Isa. 11:10-12, notes

5 acts in besieging a city (4:3):
1 Building a fort against the city (v 2). These were really watch-towers, and many were built before a besieged city for the purpose of watching and harassing the inhabitants (17:17; 21:22; 26:8; 2 Ki. 15:1; Jer. 52:4)
2 Casting up a mount against the city (v 2). The mount was an inclined road built up to a castle or a wall so the attackers could bring their engines of war closer, work to greater advantage, and possibly get to the top of the wall and enter the city. Every available material was used for this -earth, trees, stones, etc. Mounts are often called banks in Scripture (2 Sam. 20:15; Isa. 37:33), and bulwarks (Dt. 20:20; 2 Chr. 26:15; Eccl. 9:14; Isa. 26:1)
3 Setting up camp against the city (v 2), that is, establishing various positions around the city
4 Setting battering rams against the city (v 2). These were engines of war with beams of wood suspended on chains and generally in moveable towers that could be placed against a wall to batter it until it weakeded or until a hole was made through it (21:22; 26:9; 2 Sam. 20:15; 2 Chr. 26:15)
5 Setting up a wall of iron or a shield of protection as close to the city as possible so that archers could be protected while shooting at the city or the people on the walls (v 3) the caldron, and we be the flesh.

(2) Fivefold judgment announced

4 ¶Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man. ■
5 And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak; Thus saith the LORD; Thus have ye said, O house of Is'ra-el: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.
6 Ye [b]have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.
■7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.
8 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.
9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.
10 Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the border of Is'ra-el; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.
11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Is'ra-el:
12 And ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.
13 ¶ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pĕl-a-ti'ah the son of Bĕ-nā'iah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD! [c]will thou make a full end to the remnant of Is'ra-el?

(3) True security in dispersion

14 [d]Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Is'ra-el wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm have said, Get you far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.
■16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a [e]little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

(4) A remnant restored (Isa. 1:9)

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will [f]even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and [d]I will give you the land of Is'ra-el.
18 [b]And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.
19 And [c]I will [g]give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:
20 [e]That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.
21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their [f]detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

(5) Departure of the glory from Jerusalem until the Millennium (43:2-5; Isa. 4:5. Cp. 1 Ki. 8:5-11)

22 ¶Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and [h]the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was over them above.
23 And the glory of the LORD [i]went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city.
24 ¶ Afterwards the spirit took me up, and [j]brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chăl-dē'ā, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me.
25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

814 CHAPTER 12

IV Signs - prophecies of Babylonian captivity (12:1-17:24). 1 Sign: (1) Moving

1 [k]THE word of the LORD also came unto me, saying, ■
2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.
■3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.
■4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.
5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.
■6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Is'ra-el.
7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captiv-a This certainly speaks of a future time when Israel is fully restored to her own land-the land of Israel, not England and America, as some suppose (v 17). Such prophecies are beginning to be fulfilled now and will continue so until the final fulfillment in the Millennium under the Messiah. The term the land of Israel is found 15 times in the book of Ezekiel (11:17; 12:19, 22; 13:9; 18:2; 20:38, 42; 21:3; 25:3, 6; 33:24; 36:6; 37:12; 38:16, 19). Cp. unto the land (7:2; 21:3) b The gathering of Israel in fulfillment of this prophecy has not progressed this far yet-to the place where all the detestable things and the abominations have been removed from the land of Israel (v 18). This will not be completed until after the 2nd advent of Christ to the earth-when all Israel will be saved (Zech. 12:10-13:1; 14:1-21; Rom. 11:25-29)

c See 36:25-27; Jer. 32:39

d 6 things Jehovah will do for Israel:
1 Gather them from all countries where they are scattered (v 17)
2 Give them the land of Israel
3 Give them one heart (v 19)
4 Put a new spirit within them
5 Take the stony heart out of their flesh
6 Give them a heart of flesh

e 4 blessings of conversion (v 20):
1 Walk in My statutes
2 Keep and do My ordinances
3 They will be My people
4 I will be their God

f The detestable things and the abominations are partially listed in 8:5-17

g Then-after Ezekiel had been shown all the sins committed in the temple (8:4-17), after judgment upon the people of Judah and the total destruction of the city of Jerusalem and the temple had been predicted (8:18-9:11; 11:4-13), and after a latter-day restoration of Israel had been revealed (11:17-21), the glory departed from the doomed city and temple, not to return until the millennial temple is built at the time of the 2nd advent of Christ (v 22-25 with 43:1-7)

h 7th vision of the glory of God (1:4-28; 3:12-14, 22-23; 8:1-4; 9:3; 10:1-22; 11:22-25)

i This and many other passages make it clear that God goes from place to place like other beings, as far as His body is concerned. No scripture teaches the omni-body of God, but many passages teach His omnipresence (v 23; Gen. 3:8; 17:22; 18:2, 33; etc.)

j This completed his round trip from Babylon to Judea and back again (8:3 with 11:24); it was accomplished in vision, which he made known to his people (v 24-25) k 13th prophecy of Ezek. (12:1-6, fulfilled). Next, v 8. This was a pantomime but the acts were prophetic, so they are listed as predictions in the following:

9 predictions-fulfilled:
1 Prepare your stuff for moving (12:3)
2 Remove by day in their sight
3 Remove from your place to another in their sight
4 Bring forth your stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing (12:4)
5 Go forth at even in their sight, as they that go into captivity
6 Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your stuff out thereby (12:5)
7 You shall bear it upon your shoulders in their sight (12:6)
8 Carry it forth in the twilight
9 You will cover your face and not see the ground, for all these actions are prophetic of the captivity of Israel

10 good things God promised Judah (Jer. 24:5):
1 To acknowledge them (v 5) 6)
2 Set His eyes upon them for good (v
3 Bring them again to their own land
4 Build them a great nation
5 Not pull them down
6 Plant them permanently
7 Not pluck them up again 7)
8 Give them a heart to know Him (v
9 Make them His people
10 Cause them to return to Him with the whole heart. This is the kind of return to God that He always demands of any who seek Him (Dt. 4:29) a 14th prophecy in Ezek. (12:8-16, fulfilled). Next, v 17. This burden concerned the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel (v 10)

11 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Like as I have done, so shall it be done to them (12:10-11)
2 They will go into captivity
3 The prince that is among them will bear upon his shoulder in the twilight and go forth (12:12)
4 They will dig through the wall to carry out thereby
5 He will cover his face, that he will not see the ground
6 My net also will I spread upon him, and he will be taken in a snare (12:13)
7 I will bring him to Babylon, yet he will not see it, though he will die there
8 I will scatter all that are with him to the four winds (12:14)
9 They will know that I am Jehovah when I scatter them among the nations and disperse them into the countries (12:15)
10 I will leave a few from the sword, famine, and pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen where they go (12:16)
11 They will know that I am Jehovah

b Question 9. Next, v 22
c Zedekiah, king of Judah (2 Ki. 24:17)
d This refers to Zedekiah being made blind and carried to Babylon to die there without seeing the place of his captivity with his eyes (v 12-13; 2 Ki. 25:7)
e The army of Zedekiah was scattered and destroyed, all but a very few (v 14-16; 2 Ki. 25:4-7)
f The regrettable thing is that they would not recognize Jehovah before the nation was totally destroyed and gone into captivity (v 15-16)
g 15th prophecy in Ezek. (12:17-20, fulfilled). Next, v 21. This was another prophetic pantomime, one wherein Ezekiel was to eat his bread with quaking, and drink his water with trembling and carefulness (12:17)

3 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The inhabitants of Jerusalem and the land of Israel shall eat bread with carefulness, and drink water with astonishment, that their land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein (12:19)
2 All the cities that are inhabited will be laid waste, and the land made desolate (12:20)
3 They will know that I am Jehovah

homes among the ruins of cities, so these prophets found profit in the ruin of their country (v 4)

l Breaches in the walls or defences. The idea is that in the time of siege when gaps were made in the walls, it was the duty of the leaders to go up and defend their country, by filling in the gaps to stop the inroad of the enemy. Instead of encouraging the people to repent and turn to God in the time when He was making a breach in Israel, the false prophets would not stand in the gap thus and seek to turn to cause the people to hope in things which would bring the judgment of God and the ruin of the nation (v 5)

j By sin the people had stripped themselves of the protection of God; and they lay exposed to the foe. The false prophets were responsible for the nation being encouraged in rebellion against God and their enemies whom He had sent to chasten them (v 5) k They have seen vanity. This means believed their own lies and tried to confirm their own predictions (v 6)

l Question 11. Next, v 12

m Bold judgment on false prophets:

1 I am against you (v 8)
2 My hand will be upon the prophets that see vanity and divine lies (v 9)
3 They will not be in the assembly of My people
4 They will not be written in the writing of the house of Israel
5 They will not enter into the land of Israel
6 They will know that I am Jehovah God

ity, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

(2) Signification: captivity

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Iṣ'ra-el, the rebellious house, said unto thee, b What doest thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; This burden concerneth the c prince in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and all the house of Iṣ'ra-el that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall d cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Bāb'ў-lon to the land of the Chăl-dē'anș; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will e scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the LORD, f when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

(3) A remnant saved (Cp. Isa. 1:9, refs.)

16 But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

2 Sign: (1) Eating and drinking

17 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness;

(2) Signification: desolation

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD of the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and of the land of Iṣ'ra-el; They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

3 The proverb: speedy fulfillment of judgment

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, g what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, h The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Iṣ'ra-el; but say unto them, The days are at hand and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Iṣ'ra-el.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass; it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

4 The saying: immediate fulfillment of prophecy

26 ¶ i Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

27 Son of man, behold, they of the house of Iṣ'ra-el say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 13 815

5 Prophecy against the prophets and prophetesses (Jer. 23; Ezek. 22 and 34).

(1) Ten sins of prophets

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Iṣ'ra-el that prophesy, and say thou unto them j that prophesy out of their own hearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD:

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe unto the k foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing!

4 O Iṣ'ra-el, thy prophets l are like the foxes in the deserts.

5 Ye have not gone up into the m gaps, neither made up j the hedge for the house of Iṣ'ra-el to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.

6 They have l seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 j Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it; albeit I have not spoken?

(2) Their sixfold judgment

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; n Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against a 16th prophecy in Ezek. (12:21-25, fulfilled). Next, v 26

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 What is that proverb in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision fails? Tell them therefore, I will make this proverb to cease, and they will no more use it as a proverb in Israel (12:22-23)
2 The days are at hand and the effect of the vision (12:23)
3 No more will there be any vain vision of flattering divination within the house of Israel (12:24)
4 I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass (12:25)
5 It will be no more prolonged
6 In your days will I say the word, and will perform it

b Question 10. Next, 13:7
c This statement was made so often in Israel, and was so firmly believed that it did become a proverb or common saying; yet it was the direct opposite to what Jeremiah and other prophets had spoken concerning the destruction of Judah and Jerusalem (v 22). God assured them that they would no longer be able to use it in Israel, for judgment was soon to come and the prophets He had sent would be vindicated in this generation (v 22-25)
d 17th prophecy in Ezek. (12:26-28, fulfilled). Next, 13:1. The vision concerned many days to come; and the prophecies were of the times far off (12:27)

2 predictions-fulfilled:

1 There will none of My words be prolonged anymore (12:28)
2 The word which I have spoken will be done

e 18th prophecy in Ezek. (13:1-23, fulfilled). Next, 14:2

22 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Woe to the foolish shepherds, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing (13:3)
2 My hand will be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies (13:9)
My people
3 They will not be in the assembly of
4 They will not be written in the writing of the house of Israel
5 They will not enter into the land of Israel
6 You will know that I am Jehovah God (13:9, 14, 21, 23)
7 An overflowing rain, great hailstones, and a stormy wind will rend your wall of untempered morter (13:11)
8 When it is fallen men will say, Where is the daubing wherewith you have daubed it? (13:12)
9 I will even rend it with a stormy wind in My fury (13:13)
10 There will be an overflowing rain in My anger
11 Great hailstones in My fury will consume it
12 I will break down the wall and bring it to the ground (13:14)
13 The foundation will be discovered and it will fall
14 You will be consumed in the midst thereof
15 I will accomplish My wrath upon the wall, and upon them that daubed it with untempered morter, and they will be no more (13:15)
16 Woe to the women that prophesy, that sew pillows to all armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls (13:18)
17 I am against your pillows, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go that you hunt to bring to your groves (13:20)
18 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver My people out of your hand (13:21)
19 They will no more be in your hand to be hunted 20 You will see no more vanity (13:23)
21 You will see no more divination
22 I will deliver My people out of your hand

2 Foolishness (v 3)
3 Slyness (v 4)
4 Irresponsibility (v 5)
5 Lying (v 6-9)
6 Seduction (v 10)

h Not only were the false prophets as sly as foxes, but like the foxes who find you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be[a] in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be[b] written in the writing of the house of Is'ra-el, neither shall they enter into the land of Is'ra-el; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

(3) Their symbolic wall: weak and ready to fall

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there was no peace; and [c]one built up a wall, and, lo, others daubed it with untempered morter:

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered morter, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be [d]said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered morter, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered morter, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Is'ra-el which prophesy concerning Jê-ru'să-lĕm, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

(4) Ten sins of prophetesses

17 ¶Likewise, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the women that [e]sew pillows to all armholes, and [g]make kerchiefs upon [h]the head of every stature [i]to hunt souls! [j]Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will [k]ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

(5) Their fivefold judgment

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [l]I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls to make them [m]fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly.

21 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

22 Because [n]with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life:

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 14 816

6 Prophecy to the elders (Ezek. 20). (1) Their inquiry of God

THEN came certain of the elders of Is'ra-el unto me, and sat before me.

2 [o]And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, [p]these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: [q]should I be enquired of at all by them?

(2) God's answer (14:4-11). A Their idolatry exposed

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Every man of the house of Is'ra-el that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may take the house of Is'ra-el in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [r]Repent, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Is'ra-el, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Is'ra-el, which separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will answer him by myself:

B Judgment on the idolaters

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

C Judgment on the prophets

9 And if the prophet be de-

a They will not be among the counsellors, the ruling body or elders of My people, or be honored with the leading men of Israel (v 9)

b This could have a 2fold meaning (v 9):
1 Be written in the register kept of all citizens of Israel
2 Be written as true prophets in the inspired writings of Israel

c This perhaps refers to the walls which were made of beaten earth rammed into molds or boxes to give it shape and consistence, then emptied from the molds on to the wall, layer by layer, so that it could dry as the work went on. Such walls could not stand the effects of weather, and houses built of this material soon crumbled and decayed. To protect them mortar was made to plaster the walls with so that water could not soften the hard, dried mud. If the morter was mixed with lime it answered a good purpose; if the lime was left out it was called untempered morter; and this kind was no protection from the elements (v 10-12)

d Question 12, Next, v 18

e See details of this prophecy, note e, v 1. The prophetesses were as guilty of fallacy and sin as the prophets, so this special section concerns them (v 17-23). On certain occasions God did pour out His Spirit upon women and they prophesied like the men who were anointed of Him. See 14 prophetesses, p. 111

f Some think these were pillows sewed for the divans-something to lean upon and make their consulters comfortable while the prophetesses pretended to give them revelations and guidance. Others think this refers to magic charms upon all wrists, for it is so trans. in some versions (v 18)

g False prophetesses put magic kerchiefs or veils over the heads of those who consulted them, as if preparing them to receive the answer or revelation they sought (v 18). The verse could read, Sew pillows for every elbow to rest upon and make coverings for the head of every age, to lead them astray

h The head of men of every age, old and young, great and small, if only they had the price to pay them (v 18)

i To hunt the souls of men who will consult them about their problems. Will you promise your victims life? (v 18)

j Questions 13-14, Next, 14:3

k You will pollute Me among My people for small amounts of barley and a few pieces of bread, thus killing the ones that should die, because of your lies you tell on your victims (v 19)

l 6fold judgment of false prophetesses:
1 I am against your pillows wherewith you entice men into your gardens or groves where you practice magical arts on them (v 20)
2 I will tear them from your arms, and liberate your victims
3 I will also tear your kerchiefs and deliver My people from you (v 21)
4 They will no more be in your hands to deceive and enrich yourselves
5 You will see no more vanity or divinations, for I will deliver My people from you (v 23)
6 You will know that I am Jehovah

14 Of binding Paul with his own girdle (Acts 21:10-13)
15 Of the great millstone being cast into sea (Rev. 18:21)

11 sins of false prophets (13:1):
1 Prophesy out of their own hearts (v 2)
2 Pretend that God is speaking His word through them
3 Follow their own spirit (v 3)
4 Have not gone up in the gaps to help Israel (v 5)
5 Have not made up the hedge to protect Israel and help her to stand against her enemies
6 Have seen vanity and lying divinations and claimed the Lord has spoken to them (v 6-7)
7 Made others to have hope that they would confirm their predictions (v 6)
8 Have spoken vanity (v 8-9)
9 Seen lies and uttered them
10 Seduced God's people, predicting peace when there is no peace (v 10, 16)
11 Built up a wall of hope of untempered morter (13:10)

a Heb. parach, to break forth as a bud; to bloom; to spread; to fly by extending the wings; to flourish. Here the idea seems to be that of ensnaring men like birds to get them in their hands and hold them captive to their spells of magic and divination (v 20). Or, it could possibly mean to hunt souls to promise them prosperity and blessing through their pretended revelations

b By lies you have turned the righteous aside from truth; and by promising life for a price you have made the wicked to feel secure without turning from their wicked ways (v 22)

c 19th prophecy in Ezek. 14:2-11, fulfilled). Next, v 12

9 predictions-fulfilled:
1 Every man of Israel that sets up his idols in his heart, puts a stumbling-block of iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet, I will answer him according to his idols (14:4)
2 Every one in Israel who separates from Me, setting up his idols in his heart, puts a stumblingblock of iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet to inquire of him concerning Me, I will answer him by Myself (14:7)
3 I will set My face against that man (14:8) verb
4 I will make him a sign and a pro-
5 I will cut him off from the midst of My people

7 I will stretch forth My hand upon the decieved prophet to destroy him from Israel (14:9)
8 They will bear their punishment for their iniquity (14:10) 9 The punishment of the prophet will be as the punishment of those who seek after them d Here is another example of God revealing to a prophet the sinful condition of the man who came to him (v 1, 3)

11 Of the prophet marrying a whore (Hos. 1:2-11)
12 Of pleading children (Hos. 2)
13 Of renewed love (Hos. 3)

a The method God uses to deceive a false prophet is to permit an evil spirit to take hold of him (2 Ki. 22:19-23), or let the prophet be lifted up in his pride and see visions of his own exalted heart (13:2-3, 17; Jer. 23:16, 25, 31-39). A man or woman who yields to either one of these has rejected God and His way of life, and lived in sin, and rebellion to the point of becoming the victim of a wrong spirit. The same principle is stated in Mt. 13:14-15; 2 Th. 2:8-12. God never deliberately deceives anyone, but when men will not listen to Him, then He withdraws and permits them to be deceived by demons (Rom. 1:18-32)

b The reason God can justly destroy such a man is that he is stubborn and rebellious, having refused to listen to Him or go His way to escape judgment. His destruction is because of his sins and becoming a tool of Satan, which things cause rebellion against God and His will (v 9; Rom. 1:18-32; 2 Th. 2:8-12). God's dealings with Israel in the days of Jeremiah and Ezekiel only prove His longsuffering in tolerating the rebellion until there could be no other remedy but judgment

c This is the ultimate purpose of God in dealing with men-not only Jews but Gentiles also, in every age. He wants to bring all men to full and eternal reconciliation and righteousness where they will go astray no more, and where they can be His people and He can be their God (v 11). This will be eventually realized in the new earth (Rev. 21:3-7; 22:3) d 20th prophecy in Ezek. (14:12-23, fulfilled). Next, 15:1

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 When the land sins against Me by trespassing grievously, then I will stretch out My hand upon it, and will break the staff of bread thereof, and send famine upon it. Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they could not deliver it (14:13-14) It
2 I will cut off man and beast from
3 If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass because of the beasts; though these three men were in it, they could not deliver it (14:15-16)
4 If I bring a sword through the land, so that I cut off man and beast from it; though these three men were in it, they could not deliver it (14:17-18)
5 If I send pestilence into the land, and pour out My fury upon it in blood, to cut off both man and beast; though these three men were in it, they could not deliver it by their own righteousness (14:19-20)
6 If they could not deliver it from only one of these judgments, how much less could they do so when I send all four judgments to cut off man and beast from the land (14:21)
7 I will leave a remnant that will be brought forth, both sons and daughters (14:22)
8 They will come forth to you, and you will see their way and doings
9 You will be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem
10 They will comfort you, when you see their ways and doings: and you will know that I have done it (14:23)

e God testifies here to the righteousness of these three-Noah, Daniel, and Job. This testimony confirms their final salvation (v 14, 16, 18, 20). All three prevailed in saving others:
1 Noah (Gen. 6:8-9:29; 1 Pet. 3:20)
2 Daniel (Dan. 2:5, 48-49. Cp. Ezek. 28:3). He was the only one of these men alive when Ezekiel wrote
3 Job (Job 42:8-10). Cp. Moses and Samuel as intercessors (Jer. 15:1)

f Question 18. Next, 15:1

g 4 Judgments upon Jerusalem (v 21):
1 The sword
2 The famine
3 The noisome beast
4 The pestilence

ceived[a] when he hath spoken a thing, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and[b] I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Is'ra-el.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him;

11 [c]That the house of Is'ra-el may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD.

7 Four judgments (14:12-20). (1) Famine: cause; no mercy

12 [d]The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 Though these [e]three men, Nō'ah, Dăn'iel, and Jōb, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD.

(2) Beasts: no mercy

15 ¶ If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:

16 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

(3) Word: no mercy

17 ¶ Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off man and beast from it:

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

(4) Pestilence: no mercy

19 ¶ Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 Though Nō'ah, Dăn'iel, and Jōb, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

(5) If no mercy in one plague, how much less in all four?

21 For thus saith the Lord GOD; [f]How much more when I send [g]my four sore judgments upon Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

(6) A remnant saved (Cp. (Isa. 1:9, refs.)

22 ¶ Yet, behold, therein shall be left[a] a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jē-rū'sā-lĕm, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their ways and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.

817 CHAPTER 15

8 Sign: (1) The vine tree consumed (Isa. 5:1-7)

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]What is the vine tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, [b]it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. Is it meet for any work?

5 Behold when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

(2) Signification: judgment

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jē-rū'sā-lĕm.

7 And I will set my face against them; they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 16 818

9 Sign of the child: (1) Birth

AGAIN the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, cause [a]Jē-rū'-sā-lĕm to know her abominations,

3 And say, thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jē-rū'sā-lĕm; Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of Că'năan; thy father was an Ăm'ôr-īte, and thy mother an Hīt'tīte.

4 And as for thy nativity, in the [b]day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to supple thee; thou wast not [c]salted at all, nor swaddled at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee;

a God has always saved a remnant to preserve the nation of Israel, so that He can carry out His covenants with them in the eternal future (v 22; Isa. 1:9). See Remnant in Index

b 21st prophecy in Ezek. (15:1-8, fulfilled). Next, 16:35

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem (15:6)
2 I will set My face against them (15:7)
3 They will go out from one fire, and another will devour them
4 You will know that I am Jehovah, when I set My face against them
5 I will make the land desolate, because they have committed trespass (15:8)

c Questions 17-21. Next, 16:21

d Here it is shown how useless wood of any tree can become if burned in the fire -not fit for work, to use as pegs, or anything else; so Judah and Jerusalem were to become useless (v 2-8)

e Jerusalem is the subject of the chapter, wherein God exposes her sins and abominations (v 1-2). Her birth or nativity was in Canaan; her father was an Amorite and her mother an Hittite (v 3). This refers to the founders of Jerusalem, not to Abraham and his seed. Jebus was a Canaanite city. Satan occupied it and the promised land in advance of Abraham for the purpose of thwarting God's purpose with the chosen race

f 7fold state at birth:
1 Your navel was not cut (v 4)
2 You were not washed in water to supple (cleanse) you
3 You were not salted (rubbed or washed with salt-the custom in Palestine)
4 You were not swaddled (wrapped) at all
5 No one pitied you to do any of these things to you (v 5)
6 No one had compassion on you
7 You were cast out into an open field, to the loathing of your person, in the day that you were born

g In ancient times new-born babes were rubbed with salt in order to harden their skin; this operation was supposed to make it dry, tight, and firm. It may have also been applied as an emblem of purity and incorruption (v 4)

32fold lament for Jerusalem (Lam. 1:1):

1 The city sits solitary that used to be full of people (v 1)
2 She is become a widow
3 She used to be great among the nations
4 Princess among the provinces
5 She has now become tributary
6 She weeps sore in the night (v 2)
7 Her tears are on her cheeks
8 There are no lovers to comfort her 9 She has no friends, for all of them have dealt treacherously with her 10 They have become her enemies
11 She is gone into captivity (v 3)
12 She is greatly afflicted
13 She has great servitude to others
14 She dwells among the heathen
15 She has no rest in her captivity
16 She has many persecutors
17 Her solemn feasts are forsaken (v 4)
18 Her gates are desolate
19 Her priests sigh
20 Her virgins are afflicted
21 She sits in bitterness
22 Her adversaries rule (v 5)
23 Her enemies prosper
24 She is afflicted by God
25 Her children are taken into captivity
26 Her beauty is departed (v 6)
27 Her princes are like harts without pasture
28 Their strength is gone and they cannot escape the huntsmen
29 She remembered her pleasant things while in her miseries (v 7)
30 She remembered her fall into the hands of the enemy
31 She had no one to help her
32 The adversaries saw her and mocked at her sabbaths

a Jehovah reveals His part in the continuation of Jerusalem, pictured here as a cast-off new-born babe and left to die by itself. He passed by and saw it polluted in its own blood and said to it, Live (v 6). This makes it clear that from the beginning God had planned to have this place as the capital of His kingdom on earth, as well as the capital of His chosen people through whom the Messiah and the written Word of God would come b Canaanite cities were founded in blood, by the offering of human sacrifices, so this could be the reference here (v 6)

c 20 things God did for Jerusalem:
1 Found her like a cast-off babe and said, Live (v 6)
2 Caused her to grow up to be a well developed young woman (v 7)
3 Courted and married her and she became His wife by covenant relationship (v 8)
4 Washed away her blood and anointed her with perfumes and oil (v 9)
5 Clothed her with broidered work (v 10)
6 Gave her beautiful badger skin shoes
7 Girded her with fine linen
8 Covered her with silk
9 Decked her with ornaments (v 11)
10 Put bracelets on her hands
11 Put a chain on her neck
12 Put a jewel on her forehead (v 12)
13 Put earrings in her ears
14 Put a beautiful crown on her head and made her His queen (v 13)
15 Decked her with gold and silver (v
16 Clothed her with the finest of clothes
17 Fed her with the best of food
18 Made her exceedingly beautiful
19 Made her a prosperous kingdom
20 Made her famous and perfect in beauty among all the nations (v 14)

d This was a symbolic act signifying that one was taking another under his own protection. It was a common symbol in the East for marriage (v 8)

e This is the only way God married Israel, and it is the only way the church is now married to Christ and God (v 8; Rom. 7:4)

f In the nose

g This refers to the great kingdom of David and Solomon when Israel was respected among the nations (v 13-14; 2 Sam. 5-8; 1 Ki. 1-11)

h 25 sins of Israel:
1 Trusted in her own beauty (v 15)
2 Played the harlot because of her fame
3 Poured out fornications on everyone that passed by-a lover to all 4 Decked high places of idol worship with different colors (v 16)
5 Played the harlot upon high places by all kinds of immoralities in worship to idols
6 Made images of her riches that God had blessed her with (v 17)
7 Committed whoredom with them, or in worship of them
8 Covered the idols with broidered garments (v 18)
9 Set God's holy oil and incense before their idols
10 Set before their idols, in sweet savour offerings, and best of food which God had blessed them with (v 19)
11 Sacrificed their sons and daughters in fire to their idols (v 20)
12 Considered their whoredoms a small matter and not sinful
13 Committed murders on God's children (v 21)
14 Forgot the days when she was naked, bare, and polluted in her own blood and did not remember how God rescued her and made her what she was (v 22) (v 24)
15 Built a brothel or an idol temple (v
16 Made high places in every street
17 Built high places in every road (v 25)
18 Made her beauty to be adhorred
19 Opened her feet to all who passed by, and multiplied her whoredoms
20 Committed fornication with the Egyptians and other nations (v 26)
21 Increased whoredoms to provoke God to anger
22 Played the whore with the Assyrians because of unsatisfied lusts (v 28)
23 Multiplied fornication from Canaan to Chaldea, and was yet unsatisfied (v 29)
24 Lived untrue to her husband (v 32)
25 Hired lovers to be with her (v 31-34)

but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the lothing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when [c]I passed by thee, and saw thee [d]polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live; yea, [c]I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

(2) Development into womanhood

7 I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

(3) Courtship and marriage

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and [d]I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and [e]entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine.

(4) Wealth, beauty and fame

9 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I throughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a [f]jewel on thy forehead, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou [g]didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

(5) Twenty-five sins of Judah

15 ¶ But thou [h]didst trust in thine own beauty, and [g]playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a [i]sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord GOD.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is [h]this of thy whoredoms a small matter,

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass after all thy wickedness (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord GOD;)

24 That thou hast also built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Ê-gŷp'tians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold, therefore [c]I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 Thou hast played the whore also with the Às-sŷr'ĭ-ans, because thou wast [j]unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Că'nāan unto Chăl-dē'a; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How [k]weak is thine heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an [l]imperious whorish woman;

31 In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, in that thou scornest hire;

32 But as a [m]wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband!

33 They give gifts to all whores: [h]but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hirest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredom.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a A term used of Mosaic sacrifices. It is not found outside the Pentateuch except in Ezekiel (6:13; 16:19; 20:28, 41). See notes on Lev. 1-3

b Question 22. Next, 17:9

c This was God's punishment of Israel and Jerusalem for their many sins-the only reference to punishment in this description and accusation down to v 35 (v 27)

d Unsatisfied (v 28)

e Israel is here compared to an extremely weak-willing woman who has given herself over to anyone who suggests committing sin with her (v 30)

f Domineering, arrogant, exacting.

g God considered Israel as His covenant wife (v 8, 32; Isa. 54:5)

h This shows how contrary to nature and custom Israel was in all her sins (v 33-34)

32fold judgment on Judah (Lam. 2:1):
1 Adonai has covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in His anger V 1)
2 He has cast down from heaven to earth the beauty of Israel
3 He has not remembered his footstool (the earth, Isa. 66:1) in the day of His fierce anger

8 He has polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof
9 He has cut off all the horn of Israel in His fierce anger (v 3)
10 He has drawn back His right hand from before the enemy
11 He has burned against Jacob like a flaming fire, which devours round about 12 He has bent His bow like an enemy (v 4) adversary

19 He has destroyed the strongholds
20 He has increased mourning and lamentation in the daughter of Judah
21 He has violently taken away His tabernacle (v 6)
22 He has destroyed His places of the assembly of His people
23 He has caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion
24 He has despised the king and priest in His indignation and anger

30 He has stretched out a line upon it
31 He has not withdrawn His hand from destroying it 32 He has made the rampart and the wall to lament, so that they languish together

Complete sacrifice (Isa. 53:10)

Himself-His entire self, not His personal soul only. It took His body, soul, and spirit to make a complete offering for sin and sickness. He was a complete substitute for man. Since the body, soul, and spirit of man had sinned and were under the sentence of death, it took the whole being of the Messiah to take man's place. The word soul is sometimes used of an individual (Gen. 12:5; 41:26). There is no such thing as sinning with the flesh and not with the soul and spirit, as taught by some. The flesh cannot be filthy and the soul and spirit holy. The body became sinful, depraved, and diseased by sin in the fall, and the body must be redeemed from these things if redemption is to be complete

23 You will not commit this lewdness above all your abominations
24 Everyone that uses proverbs will use this against you, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter (16:44)

c 5 basic sins bringing judgment:
1 Filthiness of fornication (v 36)
2 Abandonment to whoredoms with many men
3 Abominations of idolatry
4 Sacrificing children to idols
5 Not remembering the early days of God's dealings, but fretting Him in all things (v 43)

d Chafed at Me, because of My laws
e I will not allow this greatest evil by suffering it to go unpunished, and thus cause your daughter to sin (v 43-44; Lev. 19:29)
f By inspiration Ezekiel compared them to Samaria and Sodom and their daughters, charging Judah with even greater sinfulness. Since God did not spare those mothers and daughters, He could not spare Jerusalem and her daughters from punishment (v 46)

7 things Messiah suffered of God (Isa. 53:10):

1 He was stricken of God (v 4, 8)
2 Smitten of God (v 4)
3 Afflicted of God
4 God laid on Him the iniquity of us all (v 6, 11)
5 Bruised Him (v 10)
6 Put Him to grief-made Him sick
7 Made Him an offering for sin and sickness (v 4-5, 10)

Millennial riches (Isa. 66:11)

The abundance of the riches of Jerusalem under the Messiah, when all nations will shower gifts upon Israel to honor Him in His building up of the nations, in fulfillment of prophecy. Peace will flow like a river and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream (v 12). Jerusalem will be comforted as by a mother comforting a needy child (v 12-14)

5 New moons (v 23)
6 Sabbaths
7 All flesh
8 Eternal hell and punishment (v 24)

a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore e thou art contrary.

(6) Twenty-fourfold judgment

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD:
36 Thus saith the Lord GOD; f Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them;
37 Behold, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.
38 And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.
39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.
40 They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.
41 And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.
42 So will I make my fury toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.
43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast d fretted me in all these things; behold, therefore I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: and e thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

(7) The proverb: sinfulness of Judah

44 ¶ Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.
45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that lotheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which lothed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hit'tite, and your father an Am'or-ite.
46 And f thine elder sister is Sa-ma'ri-a, she and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sod'om and her daughters.

(8) Tenfold sinfulness of Judah (Cp. Isa. 5:7, refs.)

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but, g as if that were a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.
48 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sod'om thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, h as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.
49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sod'om, pride, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.
50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.
51 Neither hath Sa-ma'ri-a committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.
52 Thou also, which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

(9) Regathering of Israel (Isa. 11:11, refs.)

*53 i When I shall bring again their captivity, j the captivity of Sod'om and her daughters, and the captivity of Sa-ma'ri-a and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them:
54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.
55 When thy sisters, Sod'om and her daughters, shall return to k their former estate, and Sa-ma'ri-a and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

(10) Sins of Judah

56 For thy sister Sod'om was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of Syr'i-a, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Phi-lis'tines, which despise thee round about.
58 Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD.
59 For thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

(11) Restoration of Israel: the New Covenant made (Isa. 59:20, refs.)

*60 ¶ Nevertheless I will rea 10fold sinfulness of Israel:

1 Corrupt in all your ways more than Sodom (v 47-48)
2 Pride more than Sodom (v 49)
3 Fulness of bread and abundance of idleness more than Sodom (v 49)
4 No pity on the poor and needy
5 Haughtiness more than Sodom (v 50)
6 Committed abomination before God
7 More wicked than Samaria (v 51)
8 Multiplied abominations
9 Justified Sodom and Samaria and their daughters in sinning more than they did 10 Sins more abominable than Sodom and Samaria (v 52)

b Judah and Jerusalem had committed greater sins than Sodom and Samaria, so much so that these wicked cities which had already been destroyed could be considered righteous and justified, in comparison (v 48-52)
c 23rd prophecy in Ezek. (16:53-63. V 59 fulfilled; v 53-55, 60-63 unfulfilled). Next, 17:1

1 prediction-fulfilled:

I will even deal with you as you have done, which have despised the oath in breaking the covenant (16:59)

8 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 When I bring again the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then I will bring again the captivity of your captives in the midst of them (16:53)
2 When your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, and Samaria and her daughters return to their former estate, then you and your daughters will return to your former estate (16:55)
3 Nevertheless I will remember My covenant with you in the days of your youth (16:60)
4 I will establish unto you an everlasting covenant
5 Then you will remember your ways, and be ashamed, when you will receive your elder and younger sisters (16:61)
6 I will give them to you for daughters, but not by the covenant
7 I will establish My covenant with you (16:62)
8 You will know that I am Jehovah

d This could not mean that there were survivors in Sodom, Gomorrah, and other cities destroyed by fire as in Gen. 19:24, so the reference is to the Millennium when the Dead Sea will be healed and men will live in the vicinity again, even on the same sites of these destroyed cities (v 53; Ezek. 47)
e This again predicts the restoration of the places where the cities of the plain were located. They will again be inhabited under the Messiah, as explained in note d, above

Messiah's stripes (Isa. 53:5)

Heb. chaburah, a black and blue mark. Trans. stripe (v 5; Ex. 21:25); bruises (Isa. 1:6); hurt (Gen. 4:23); blueness (Pr. 20:30); wounds (Ps. 38:5); and spots (Jer. 13:23). Christ could have received as many as 468 stripes from scourging alone (note t, Mt. 27:26)

Our correction. (53:5)

Heb. mowsarah, correction. He did not sin, so any correction needful was ours. We had sinned and were estranged from God, so God sent Him to be chastised in our stead in order that we might become reconciled and have peace with our Maker again. What was necessary to reconcile God and man was placed upon Christ to Make peace again between them (v 5)

16 things done to Messiah (53:7):

1 Marred His visage (52:14; 53:2-3)
2 Marred His form (52:14)
3 Disbelieved in Him (52:1)
4 Despised Him (53:3)
5 Rejected Him
6 Hid faces from Him
7 Esteemed Him of no value
8 Esteemed Him as suffering justice for His own crimes (53:4)
9 Went astray from Him (53:6)
10 Ignored Him and went own ways
11 Oppressed Him (53:7)
12 Afflicted Him
13 Slew Him in anger (53:7-8)
14 Took justice from Him (53:8-9)
15 Buried Him with the wicked (53:9)
16 Classed Him as a criminal (53:12)

b Then - after God has made an everlasting covenant with them, Israel will be ashamed of her past sins and rebellion (v 61; 34:25; 37:26; Jer. 31:31-34)
c Sodom, Samaria, and Jerusalem are compared to sisters in v 44-52. Here the idea is continued, Samaria being the elder sister of Jerusalem, and Sodom the younger (v 46, 61). These sisters of Jerusalem were to become her daughters in the Millennium, but not by the covenant between God and Jerusalem (v 61)
d God's purpose in blessing Israel in the future, regardless of her past, is that she might remember, be confounded, and never again open her mouth because of being ashamed of her past (v 63). Such unheard-of mercy and eternal love and patience with such a sinful nation will produce a genuine gratitude and respect for God, so much so that she will never again murmur and complain, or utter words of rebellion against Jehovah
e I have accepted a propitiatory covering for all that she has done (v 63)

8 predictions - fulfilled:

1 A great eagle (Nebuchadnezzar) with great wings, longwinged, full of feathers, which had divers colors, came to Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar (Jehoiachin, 17:3; 2 Ki. 24:6-16). He cropped off the top of his young twigs (princes and best of the people, 2 Ki. 24:11-16), and carried them into the land of traffic (Babylon, 17:4, 12; 2 Ki. 24:15-16); and he set them down in the city of merchants (Babylon, 17:4; 2 Ki. 24:15-16). He also took the seed of the land (Zedekiah and Judah); and planted it in a fruitful field (17:5, 12; 2 Ki. 24:17-19). He placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree (17:5). It grew, became a vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him (Nebuchadnezzar), and the roots were under him (life was sustained through him); so that it brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs (17:6, 14)

2 There was also another great eagle (Pharaoh) with great wings and many feathers. This vine (Zedekiah and Judah) did bend toward him (Pharaoh), and shot out branches toward him (trusted in Egypt for help against Babylon, Jer. 37:6-11) that he might water it by the furrows (irrigation ditches) of her plantation (17:7, 15-21)

3 It was planted in a good soil by great waters (the Euphrates) that it might bring forth branches, bear fruit, and be a goodly vine (17:8)

4 It will not prosper in turning its roots and branches toward him (Pharaoh). He (Nebuchadnezzar) will pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof that it may wither (17:9, 15-21)

5 It will wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof (17:9, 15-21)

6 It will not prosper in looking toward Egypt (v 10, 15-21)

7 It will utterly wither when the east wind (Babylon) touches it (17:10)

8 It will wither in the furrows where it grew (17:10, 15-21)

removed and great changes in the physical surface of Palestine will be made (Zech. 14:1-5). Even the Dead Sea will be raised, and it will become fresh water for fish (Ezek. 47). The deserts will blossom as a rose and many other changes will take place at that time (Isa. 35)

l This tender Branch will grow to become a great tree, bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar. Under it will be sheltered all the birds and other creatures of earth (v 23-24). Thus the eternal kingdom of the Messiah is likened to a great tree. Nebuchadnezzar's kingdom is also spoken of as a tree sheltering all creatures (Dan. 2:37-38; 4:1-37)

819 CHAPTER 17

10 Parable of two great eagles. (1) First eagle: Nebuchadnezzar

[f]AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Is'ra-el;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [g]A great eagle with great wings, longwinged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Leb'a-non, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

(2) Second eagle: Pharoah

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

(3) Shall it prosper? Zedekiah's rebellion (Cp. 2 Ki. 24:17-20; 25:1-10)

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [h]Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

(4) Signification: A Jehoiachin's captivity (2 Ki. 24:6-19)

11 [i]Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, [j]Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Bab'y-lon is come to Je-ru'sa-lem, and hath taken the [k]king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Bab'y-lon;

13 And hath taken of [l]the king's seed, and [m]made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

B Zedekiah's rebellion: puts his trust in Egypt (2 Ki. 25)

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into E'gypt, that they might give him horses and much people. [n]Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Bab'y-lon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pha'raoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons:

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As I live, [o]surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Bab'y-lon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

C Restoration of the Davidic kingdom under Messiah (Isa. 9:6, refs.)

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also take of the [p]highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young twigs [q]a tender one, and will plant it upon an [r]high mountain and eminent:

23 [s]In the mountain of the height of Is'ra-el will I plant it; and [t]it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell

10 predictions - fulfilled:

1 The king of Babylon has come to Jerusalem and taken Jehoiachin and the princes to Babylon (17:21). He has taken the king's seed (Zedekiah) and made a covenant with him, and taken an oath of him; he has also taken the mighty of the land to Babylon, so that the kingdom might be base and not rebel, but keep the covenant (17:13-14). But he (Zedekiah) rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar in sending ambassadors to Egypt to secure their help against Babylon. This alliance will not stand, because he has not kept his covenant with Nebuchadnezzar (17:15-16)

2 Zedekiah will die in Babylon, in the land of the king whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he broke (17:16)

3 Pharaoh and his great army will not save him from Babylon (17:17)

4 He will not escape Babylon, because he has despised the oath by breaking the covenant with Nebuchadnezzar (17:18)

5 The oath and the covenant that he has despised will be recompensed upon him (17:19)

b Question 27. Next, v 15
c Jehoiachin (2 Ki. 24:6-16)
d Zedekiah (2 Ki. 24:17-25:7)
e Zedekiah freely agreed by covenant to rule Judah under Nebuchadnezzar. He took an oath to obey him, but rebelled after serving for several years (v 13-14). He turned to Egypt for help and for this God cursed him (v 15-21)
f Questions 28-30. Next, 18:2
g God considered the oath made to Nebuchadnezzar as one made to Him; it was no doubt made in the name of Jehovah and He expected Zedekiah to keep it as one made with Him (v 19). God was lowered in the eyes of Nebuchadnezzar when the oath made in His name was broken. Man is expected to keep his oaths even to his own hurt (Ps. 15:4) h The highest branch stands for the restoration of the kingdom of Israel and of David in the Messiah who will come again to rebuild the tabernacle of David which is fallen down, to set it up, and rule over the kingdom of David and the house of Jacob forever (Isa. 9:6-7; Jer. 30:9; Hos. 3:4-5; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 14:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10). Christ is called the Branch of the Lord (Isa. 4:2; 11:1; Jer. 23:5-6; 33:15; Zech. 3:8; 6:12)
i Christ is the tender One, the off-shoot from the root of Jesse (Isa. 11:1; 53:1-2), and not Zedekiah's daughter as some think. It is the Messiah's kingdom which will be in the height of Israel. See Anglo-Saxon theory, p. 367
j This refers to the mountain of the house of the Lord into which all nations will flow during the Millennium (v 22; Isa. 2:1-4; 54:1-17; Mic. 4) k In the highest mountain of Israel this kingdom will be placed. This does not mean that it will be some present high mountain in Israel; it refers to the highest one in Israel at the 2nd advent of Christ. The mount of Olives will be a If the one tree is symbolic of the kingdom of Messiah, then all the other trees refer to the other kingdoms of the world (v 24). They shall know 4 works of Jehovah:

1 Jehovah has brought down the high tree (v 24; Dan. 4; Lk. 1:52)
2 Exalted the low tree (v 24). This no doubt refers to the tree of v 23
3 Dried up the green tree (the present kingdom of Babylon, v 24)
4 Made the dry tree to flourish (again referring to the kingdom of the Messiah of v 23-24)

b Question 31. Next, v 13

c This proverb expresses the idea that the fathers are responsible for the sins of the children, but God proceeds to show that all men are equal, that no one man is responsible for the sins of another, that the soul who sins will die for his own sin, and that the soul who quits sin will live for his own righteousness, which naturally includes the will of God in salvation (v 3-32)

d This is the original death penalty expressed in other words (v 4; Gen. 2:17; Rom. 1:29-32; 5:12-21; 6:14-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21)

e 16fold righteousness of an holy man:
1 He is just (v 5, 9)
2 Does that which is lawful and right
3 Has not eaten upon the mountains (in idolatrous worship, v 6)
4 Has not lifted up his eyes to idols
5 Has not defiled his neighbor's wife
6 Has not come near a menstruous woman
7 Has not oppressed any man (v 7)
8 Has restored the pledge to the debtor
9 Has spoiled no man by violence
10 Has given his bread to the hungry
11 Has covered the naked with garments
12 Has not lent money on interest (v 8; Ex. 22:25; Lev. 25:36-37; Dt. 23:19-20) 13 Has not taken any increase
14 Has withdrawn his hand from iniquity
15 Has executed true judgment between man and man
16 Has walked in God's statutes, to deal truly in all things

f The man who practices all the above things is just, and he shall surely live (v 9); but this would be difficult for a man in himself, having no help from the Lord. One who accepts Christ and His salvation, becoming a new creature, does that which is lawful and right; and through grace and faith he conforms to the gospel readily. That men had the gospel in O. CHAPTER 18 820

V Sermons - prophecy of restoration (18:1 - 20:44)
1 Sermon on individual responsibility (18:1-32; 3:17; 33:1). (1) Text: proverb in Israel

THE word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 [b]What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Is'ra-el, saying, [c]The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

(2) All men are equal

■3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Is'ra-el.

▶4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: [d]the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

(3) Righteous father: sixteenfold righteousness of a just man; he shall live

5 ¶But if a man be just, and do that which is lawful and right,

6 And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menstruous woman,

7 And hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

8 He that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man,

▶9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly; [f]he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD.

(4) A wicked son of a righteous father: his twelve sins; he shall die

10 ¶If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and that doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, ▶13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall [g]he then live? [h]he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him.

(5) A righteous son of a wicked father: his twelvefold righteousness; he shall live

14 ¶ Now, lo, [i]if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; [d]he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

(6) His wicked father: he shall die for his own sins

▶18 [e]As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, [f]even he shall die in his iniquity.

(7) Individual responsibility in repentance and backsliding

▶19 ¶Yet say ye, [g]Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? [h]When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

▶20 [i]The soul that sinneth, it shall die. [k]The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

▶21 [l]But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

▶22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.

23 [m]Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord GOD: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?

▶24 ¶But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be

a Question 32. Next, v 19

b He shall not live... he shall surely die; his blood will be upon him (v 13). These three statements, made by God and not by man, truly mean that regardless of what is sometimes taught, the man who does these things, whether he has ever had an experience of salvation or not, will surely die, and not live. No condition is laid down here other than if a man does these things he will die, and if he does not do them he will live (v 5, 9, 10, 13) c 12 conditions of life:

1 If he has not eaten upon the mountains in idolatrous worship (v 15)
2 If he has not lifted up his eyes to idols of the house of Israel
3 If he has not defiled his neighbor's wife
4 If he has not oppressed any (v 16)
5 If he has not withheld the pledge from the debtor lence
6 If he has not spoiled anyone by vio-
7 If he has given his bread to the hungry
8 If he has covered the naked with a garment
9 If he has taken off his hand from the poor to relieve him (v 17)
10 If he has not received usury nor increase (from a brother. Cp. Ex. 22:25; Lev. 25:36-37; Dt. 23:19-20)
11 If he has executed My judgments
12 If he has walked in My statutes

d He will not die... he will surely live (v 14, 17). The passage means what it says - that if one commits these sins he will die, and if he refused to commit them he will live. See note b, above

e Every man-father or son, to die:
1 If and because he cruelly oppressed (v 18)
2 If and because he spoiled his brother by violence
3 If and because he did that which was not good among his people

f Even he will die in his iniquity - not live if guilty of the wickedness stated here and he does not repent and turn from his evil ways (v 18)

g Israel found it difficult to reconcile this revelation with the law of Moses which said that God would visit the iniquities of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation (Ex. 20:4; Dt. 5:9). They failed to get the message of the entire truth which said, of them that hate Me. If the children hated God as their father did, than sins would be passed upon children, not because of their being children of a wicked father, but because of their own personal sins and walking in the sins of the father. That is all God emphasized here. A righteous father will live by his own righteousness (v 5-9); a wicked father will die for his own sins (v 18); a righteous son will live for his own righteousness (v 14-17); and a wicked son will die for his own sins (v 10-13)

h Questions 33-34. Next, v 23

i Again God emphasizes the perfectly just fact that when the son has done that which is lawful and right - has kept all My statutes, and has done them, he shall surely live, and not die (v 19). God would be unjust if He destroyed a son who had met all these conditions, if He judged and sent him to eternal hell only because he had a wicked father; yet this is what Israel was questioning, as in v 19

j Still again God emphasizes the fact that the soul that sinneth it shall die, and not live (v 4, 20)

k As also expressed in other statements of the passage the conditions of life and death are made clear - who will die and who will live (v 20)

l After stating that the soul who sins shall die, the Lord promptly makes it clear that the sinner does not need to remain dead in trespasses and sins. He can live if he wants to mend his ways. If and when the wicked will turn from his sins that he has committed, keep all My statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. All the transgressions he has committed will be blotted out; they shall not be mentioned to him. In his righteousness which he has done since turning from sin he shall live (v 21-22). God has no pleasure that the wicked should die, but that he

a Israel complained that the way of the Lord was not equal and just, for how could a righteous man who had lived in righteousness many years become a sinner again and die because of sin? Why should he not continue to live if he had lived more in righteousness than in sin? Why would he not be rewarded for his many righteous deeds? Why should he die for committing only one sin? God took issue with this kind of reasoning and plainly revealed the fact that sin is sin wherever it is found and in whomsoever it is found. It is a deadly thing that will damn the soul. One sin is sufficient to kill; he who sins incurs the death penalty regardless of all else in his life; and one sin will damn a righteous man as quickly as a wicked man. Every soul that sins will die; but no one needs to die through sin, for all are privileged to be made alive again upon meeting certain conditions of getting rid of sin. The sole responsibility of death or life is with the individual, not with God; He only blesses or curses all alike upon meeting the conditions of life or death. Here God maintained His ways are equal because He deals with all alike, without respect of persons. The ways of man are unequal because of expecting justice when injustice has been done, expecting righteousness when sin has been committed, and expecting life when one kills himself by sin

b See 20 eternal principles of righteousness, p. 828

c Questions 38-39. Next, v 29

d Again it is plainly stated that if a righteous man turns to sin he dies the same as others (v 26). There is no exception; God is no respecter of persons

e For his iniquity he dies, and not for any other reason (v 26). If Adam had not sinned he would not have died, and so it is with all other men (v 4, 20). Death passes upon all men, for all have sinned (Rom. 5:12-21). Death is the penalty for sin; and because God is just every sinner must pay the penalty (v 4, 20; Gen. 2:17; Rom. 1:29-32; 6:14-23; 8:12-13; Gal. 5:19-21)

f Just as surely and as often as a righteous man commits sin he incurs the death penalty; and when the wicked man ceases to sin and does righteousness he is rewarded with life. There is no exception. It is like breaking civil laws-when one is guilty of breaking the law the penalty has to be paid (v 21-32). The only way of escape is through genuine repentance and turning from sin g The wicked man saves his soul when he does that which is lawful and right, which is the same as obeying the gospel (v 27-28). The righteous man loses his soul when he sins, which is also according to the gospel (Rom. 1:29-32; 6:14-23; 8:13-14; Gal. 5:19-21)

h To say that the death referred to in this chapter is physical death is completely unscriptural

7 proofs this death not physical:

1 Physical death was not the penalty for sin, but a result of it. See Penalty for sin, p. 619

2 It is stated here that only the soul that sins dies (v 4, 20); therefore, since the righteous die physically as well as sinners, physical death could not be the penalty referred to

3 All men have physical life regardless of sin committed or righteousness done; so physical death could not be the reference in this chapter (v 15-18)

4 The fact that a wicked man can turn from sin and death to live by righteousness proves that physical death is not the penalty for sin. One is just as much alive physically before he turns from sin as when he ceases to sin and receives life (v 21-32)

5 Righteous men do not die physically if they turn from righteousness to commit sin; they continue to live physically (v 24-28)

6 If physical death were the penalty for sin, then every wicked man, upon dying physically would pay his penalty and therefore be saved as much as the righteous man. God could not condemn him further or send him to hell, for the penalty would thus be paid; but it is declared here that the only way to live is by turning from sin to right-mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

(8) All men are equal

●25 [a]Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. [b]Hear now, O house of Iṣ'ra-el; [c]Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

▸26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and [d]dieth in them; [e]for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.

▸27 Again, [f]when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, [g]he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not [h]die.

(9) Judgment announced

29 Yet saith the house of Iṣ'ra-el, The way of the Lord is not equal. [i]O house of Iṣ'ra-el, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

●30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Iṣ'ra-el, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD.

(10) Conclusion: invitation

[j]Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

31 ¶ Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Iṣ'ra-el?

●32 For I have no pleasure in the death [k]of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye.

821 CHAPTER 19

2 Lamentation for the princes of Israel (2 Ki. 23:31-25:7). (1) The mother (2 Ki. 23:21-33; 24:17)

MOREOVER [l]take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Iṣ'ra-el,

2 And say, [m]What is [n]thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

(2) Jehoahaz (2 Ki. 23:31-33)

●3 And she brought up [o]one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey; it devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in [p]their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of E'gy'pt.

(3) Jehoakim (2 Chr. 36:5-7)

●5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took [q]another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, by the noise of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 And [a]they put him in ward in chains, and brought him to the king of Bāb'y-lon: they brought him into holes, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Iṣ'ra-el.

(4) Mother and "rods" taken into captivity (2 Chr. 36:1-7)

10 ¶ Thy mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered; the fire consumed them.

(5) Zedekiah (17:15; 2 Ki. 25)

13 And [c]now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER 20 822

3 Prophecy to the elders (ch. 14). (1) Their inquiry 14:1-3)

AND it came to pass in the [d]seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of [e]the elders of Iṣ'ra-el came to enquire of the LORD, and sat before me.

(2) God's answer: failures of Israel. A God's blessings: rebellion in Egypt

■2 [f]Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

●3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [g]Are ye come to enquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, [h]I will not be enquired of by you.

●4 Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? [i]cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

■5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day a Babylonians (2 Chr. 36:5-7)

b Still talking to Zedekiah, as in v 2. His mother, Hamutal, is compared to a vine planted by waters that is fruitful and full of branches. She had strong rods (Jehoahaz and Zedekiah) that bore her stature which was exalted among the thick branches; and she appeared in her height with her many other branches. She was plucked up in fury and cast down to the ground to be destroyed (v 10-12). This refers to her prosperity before she was taken into captivity with Zedekiah, and then to her hopes being dashed to the ground and destroyed

c Now refers to the days of this prophecy when she was taken captive. She is compared then to a vine planted in a desolate wilderness, a fire having gone out of her branches devouring her fruit and leaving her barren. This refers to Zedekiah who caused her hopes to be destroyed by his rebellion against Nebuchadnezzar. After this the kingdom of Judah ceased to be and she had a son no more to rule in Judah (v 13-14)

d 7th year of the captivity of Jehoiachin (note c, 8:1)

e These elders were of Judah, hence further proof that Judah was representative of all Israel at this time (v 1)

f Then-when the elders of Israel came to Ezekiel to inquire of the Lord (v 1-2). They were perhaps inquiring about the captivity and its length. God used the occasion to accuse them again of a long history of sinning and final apostasy (v 2-32). He then gave them a message of final restoration-not one about immediate return from captivity (v 33-44)

g Questions 43-44. Next, v 29

h I will not answer your inquiry. This He did not do, but predicted restoration from final dispersion among the nations (v 33-44)

i See list of their abominations (note d, v 8)

eousness, not by dying a physical death (v 5, 9, 21-32)

7 If physical death were the penalty for sin, then one would need to repent, turn from sin, cast away sins, and get a new heart and spirit in order to live physically (v 20-32)

j Questions 40-41. Next, 19:2

k The conditions of salvation given here are the same as in the N. T. (v 30-32 with Mt. 1:15; 16:15; Acts 2:38; 3:19; 26:18; Rom. 10:9-10; 2 Cor. 5:17-21; Gal. 5:19-21; 1 Jn. 1:7-9)

l Of him that dies, righteous or wicked

m In this chapter we have a lamentation concerning the princes of Israel, or Judah, whose princes alone were heirs of the Davidic and Messianic kingdom. Those of the 10 tribes were usurpers, being out of the Davidic line altogether. The lamentation warned Zedekiah that his fate would be the same as that of the captives who had already gone to Babylon (v 1-14)

n Question 42. Next, 20:3

o The mother of Zedekiah and Jehoahaz, wife of Josiah (2 Ki. 23:31; 24:18). The other son of Josiah, Jehoiakim, had a different mother (2 Ki. 23:36)

p Jehoahaz who reigned only 3 months and was taken captive to Egypt (v 3-4; 2 Ki. 23:31-33). Jeremiah also lamented his fate (Jer. 22:10-12)

q The reference here is the making of a pit to catch a lion or other wild beast. A hole was dug in the ground and the opening covered over with branches and sod. The animal treading on such a covering would fall into the pit and be taken (v 4; Ps. 7:15; 9:15; 35:7; 94:13; Pr. 26:27; Isa. 38:17)

r Jehoiakim, who fits the description here more than Jehoiachin who only reigned 3 months (v 5-9; 2 Ki. 23:36; Jer. 22:11-19)

5 sins of Judah (Isa. 5:7):

1 Your children have forsaken Me (v 7)
2 They have sworn by idols
3 They committed adultery
4 They assembled in troops in the houses of harlots
5 They were as fed horses, everyone neighing after his neighbor's wife

when I chose Iṣ'ra-el, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jā'cob,[a] and made myself known unto them in the land of Ĕ'gўpt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your God;

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Ĕ'gўpt into a land that I had espied for them, [b]flowing with milk and honey, which is [c]the glory of all lands:

●7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Ĕ'gўpt: I am the LORD your God.

8 But they [d]rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Ĕ'gўpt: then I said, [e]I will pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of [f]the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

B God's blessing: rebellion in the wilderness

9 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I caused them to go forth out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, [g]to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them.

13 But the house of [h]Iṣ'ra-el rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly polluted: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them.

C God's blessings; rebellion of the new generation

14 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands;

16 Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

●18 But I said unto [a]their children in the wilderness, [b]Walk ye not in the statutes [c]of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols:

●19 I am the LORD your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them;

●20 And [d]hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 [e]I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore [f]I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live;

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.

D God's blessings: rebellion of their fathers in Canaan (Cp. Isa. 1:2, refs.)

27 ¶ Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their sweet savour, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then I said unto them, [g]What is the high place whereunto ye go? And the name thereof is called [h]Bā'mah unto this day.

E Their own rebellion

■30 Wherefore say unto the house of Iṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Are ye polluted after the manner of your faa The new generation of Israel, after the one that was cursed to die in the wilderness. God appealed to them not to rebel as the old generation did, the one that came out of Egypt, but He got no response from them to obey. On the contrary, they rebelled as their fathers had done, and every following generation did likewise up to the very time of the last generation before that of Ezekiel (v 21-26). This took in all the period of the judges and the kings up to at least the reign of Hezekiah, when the old and new generations of Ezekiel's time came into being. See note e, v 13

b 14 commands of God in Ezek. 20:
1 Speak to the elders of Israel, and say, Thus saith the Lord God (v 3)
2 Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers (v 4)
3 Cast away every man the abominations of his eyes (v 7)
4 Defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt
5 Walk not in the statutes of your fathers (v 18)
6 Do not observe their judgments
7 Do not defile yourselves with their idols
8 Walk in My statutes (v 19)
9 Keep My judgments, and do them
10 Hallow My sabbaths (v 20)
11 Speak unto the house of Israel, and say, Thus saith the Lord God (v 27)
12 Set your face toward the south, and drop your word toward it (v 46)
13 Prophesy against the forest of the south field
14 Say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the Lord (v 47)

c This proves that the Jews made laws respecting idol worship to be observed instead of the law of Moses on this point. These were the laws they were commanded not to observe instead of the laws of Jehovah (v 18-19)

d See note e, v 12

e This expression is used 7 times in this chapter (v 5-6, 15, 23, 28, 42). It was a custom to raise the hand in making a vow or an oath

f The idea here is that God suffered their captors to make laws which were not good for them, and judgments for them to live by, not that His laws were not good for them (v 25)

g Questions 45-47. Next, v 48

h Bamah, meaning high place. God commanded only one place of sacrifice, but Israel set up places of worship on every high hill, and in groves where immoralities could be carried on in some privacy. The word Bamah became a by-word expressing the displeasure of Jehovah upon such places - a memorial of the guilt of the people

g The sabbaths are again stated to be for a sign between God and Israel - a sign of the covenant between them (v 12, 20. Cp. Ex. 31:12-18). Sabbaths of Israel were never a sign between God and the Gentiles, or God and the church; and this must be recognized if the whole truth is to be known. See Sabbath in Index

h 5 periods of Israel's rebellion:
1 In Egypt (v 2-8)
2 In the wilderness (v 9-13)
3 In Canaan from Joshua and Hezekiah (v 14-26)
4 Hezekiah to Josiah (v 27-29)
5 Ezekiel's generation (v 30-32)

9 things claimed by Israel (Isa. 63:19):

1 God's mercy was not manifest (v 15)
2 God was their Father and Redeemer (v 16)
3 God had permitted them to err (v 17)
4 God had permitted their hearts to be hardened until they did not fear Him
5 They had possessed their land but a very little while compared to its possession by others (v 18)
6 Their enemies had trodden down the sanctuary of God
7 They belonged to God (v 19)
8 God had never borne rule over their enemies
9 Their enemies had never been called by the name of God a 27 things God did regarding Israel:

1 Chose them (v 5)
2 Lifted up His hand to them
3 Made Himself known to them
4 Introduced Himself as Jehovah
5 Agreed to bring them out of Egypt (v 6)
6 Espied the good land for them
7 Commanded them to cast away all idols and all abominations (v 7)
8 Punished them in Egypt (v 8)
9 Worked to spare them and save His own name from being polluted before the heathen in Egypt (v 9)
10 Made Himself known to them in bringing them out of Egypt
11 Caused them to go forth from Egypt (v 10)
12 Brought them into the wilderness
13 Gave them statutes (v 11)
14 Showed them His judgments
15 Gave them sabbaths to be a sign between Him and them, so that they might know Him (v 12) 13)
16 Punished them in the wilderness (v
17 Worked to spare His name from being polluted before the heathen in the wilderness (v 14)
18 Lifted up His hand to them in the wilderness to bring them into the land of Canaan (v 15)
19 Spared them again from being destroyed in the wilderness (v 17)
20 Spoke to their children in the wilderness telling them to walk in His ways (v 18-20)
21 Punished them again, but withdrew His hand of judgment again, to spare them (v 21-22)
22 Vowed to scatter them among the heathen when they went into sin (v 23-24)
23 Permitted captors to give them laws that were not good (v 25-26)
24 Gave them the land of Canaan (v 28)
25 Rebuked them for their idolatry (v 29)
26 Refused to be inquired of by the captives to Babylon (v 31) 33-44) 27 Made predictions of the last days (v

b See Ex. 3:8, 17; 13:5; 33:3; Lev. 20: 24; Num. 13:27; 14:8; 16:13-14; Dt. 6:3; 11:9; 26:9, 15; 27:3; 31:20 c God, who sees the whole earth from heaven and knows all lands and their possibilities saw fit to choose Palestine and call it the glory of all lands (v 6, 15). It has been in ruins for many centuries because of His curse upon it, but it will again be one of the most fruitful of all places under the Messiah

d 22 abominations and sins of Israel:
1 Rebelled against God in Egypt (v 8)
2 Would not listen to God
3 Refused to cast away the abominations of their eyes
4 Refused to forsake the idols of Egypt
5 Rebelled against God in the wilderness (v 13)
6 Walked not in His statutes
7 Despised His judgments
8 Polluted His sabbaths
9 Their hearts went after their idols (v 16)
10 Their children rebelled against God
11 Walked not in His statutes (v 21)
12 Did not keep His judgments
13 Polluted His sabbaths
14 Did not execute His judgments (v 24)
15 Despised His statutes fathers 16 Eyes followed the idols of their 17 Offered their firstborn children in fire to idols (v 26)
18 Blasphemed God (v 27)
19 Committed a trespass against God
20 Established places of idol worship on every green hill and in the groves (v 28-32)
21 Offered sacrifices to their idols to provoke God
22 Committed whoredom in idolatrous worship (v 30-32)

e 3 times God determined to punish Israel:
1 When they were so rebellious in Egypt - but He spared them (v 8)
2 When they were so rebellious in the wilderness - but He spared them (v 13)
3 When they were so rebellious in the early days of Canaan - but He spared them again (v 21-22). This rebellion continued until God finally had to destroy them (v 23-32)

f Ezekiel mentions Israel in Egypt more than any other prophet. The word is used 8 times in this one chapter (v 5-10, 36)

a Question 48. Next, v 49
b This expression, As I live is used 16 times by Ezekiel (5:11; 14:16-20; 16:48; 17:16, 19; 18:3; 20:3, 31, 33; 33:11, 27; 34:8; 25:6, 11), and only 4 times by all the other prophets (Isa. 49:18; Jer. 22:24; 46:18; Zeph. 2:9). It is not found in any other section of the Bible; but As truly as I live occurs in Num. 14:28. The purpose of the expression was to emphasize the absolute truth of what was being spoken by God
c 26th prophecy in Ezek. (20:33-44, unfulfilled). Next, v 45

20 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 Surely with a stretched out arm, and a mighty hand, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you (20:33)
2 I will bring you out from the people and gather you out of the countries wherein you are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out (20:34)
3 I will bring you into the wilderness of the people (20:35)
4 There will I plead with you face to face
5 As I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you (20:36)
6 I will cause you to pass under the rod (20:37)
7 I will bring you into the bond of the covenant
8 I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against Me (20:38)
9 I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn
10 They will not enter into the land of Israel
11 You will know that I am Jehovah
12 In My holy mountain all the house of Israel will serve Me (20:40)
13 There will I accept them
14 There will I require your offerings, the first fruits of your oblations, with all the holy things
15 I will accept you with your sweet savour, when I bring you out from the countries wherein you have been scattered (20:41)
16 I will be sanctified in you before the heathen
17 You will know that I am Jehovah, when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up My hand to give to your fathers
18 There you will remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein you have been defiled (20:43)
19 You will loathe yourselves in your own sight for all the evils that you have committed 20 You will know that I am Jehovah, when I have wrought with you for My name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings (20:44)

d This is one of a number of simply stated scriptures on the flight of the sunclothed woman (of Rev. 12) into the wilderness where she will have a place reserved of God to protect her for 3 1/2 years, from the Antichrist. Israel is spoken of as going into the wilderness several times, but never the Gentiles, the church, or Christendom (v 33-44; Isa. 16:1-5; 42:11-13; Hos. 2:14-23; Rev. 12:6, 13-16). See col. 1, p. 907 of N. T.
e In this wilderness God will plead with Israel face to face as He did in the wilderness coming out of the land of Egypt (v 35-36). God sent Moses and Aaron to plead with them in those days, and in the future He will send the two witnesses, Enoch and Elijah, to plead with them in the coming tribulation (Rev. 11:3-11). He will bring Israel under the rod and into the bond of the covenant (v 37). At that time all rebels will be purged from them (v 38). In fact, Zech. 13:8-9 predicts that two-thirds of Israel will be destroyed, leaving only a third to accept Jesus Christ at His 2nd advent (Zech. 12:10-13:1; Rom. 11:25-29)
f To pass under the rod means that the ones who are not rebels will be counted in the flock, in that day. This was the manner of counting sheep-they were numbered as they passed under the shepherd's club (v 37; Jer. 33:13; Mic. 7:14) thers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day: [a]and shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Is'ra-el? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of E'gypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.
37 And I will cause you [f]to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant:
38 And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and they shall not enter into the land of Is'ra-el: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

G Incrimination

■39 [g]As for you, O house of Is'ra-el, thus saith the Lord GOD; Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

H Future restoration

40 For [h]in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Is'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Is'ra-el, all of them in the land, serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your [i]offerings, and the first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.
41 I will accept you with your sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be [k]sanctified in you before the heathen.
42 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Is'ra-el, [l]into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.
43 And [m]there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.
44 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Is'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD.

VI Signs - prophecies of Babylonian captivity (20:45-24:27). 1 Sign of fire in the forest of the south field: judgment

§45 ¶ [n]Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
●46 Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, [o]and prophesy against the forest of the south field;
●47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD; Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burned therein.
48 And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.
49 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! they say of me, [p]Doth he not speak parables?

CHAPTER 21 823

2 Sign of the drawn sword: complete destruction

[q]AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ■
●2 Son of man, set thy face toward Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Is'ra-el,
3 And say to the land of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.
4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh from the south to the north:
5 That all flesh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more.

3 Sign of convulsive sighing: sufferings

●6 Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.
7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, [r]Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings; because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall a There-in the land of Israel, the country I lifted up (sware) to give to your fathers-you will remember your ways, and all your doings wherein you have been defiled. There you will loathe yourselves in your own sight for all the evils you have committed; there you will know that I am Jehovah (v 43-44)

b 27th prophecy in Ezek. (20:45-49, fulfilled). Next, 21:1

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Set your face and drop your word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field... I will kindle a fire in you (20:46-47)
2 It will devour every green and dry tree in you (20:47)
3 The flaming flame will not be quenched
4 All faces from the south to the north will be burned therein
5 All flesh will see that I the Lord have kindled it (20:48)
6 It will not be quenched until it has burned out

c This prophecy of the south field being devoured by fire symbolizes the complete destruction of Judah and Jerusalem. The whole land was to be destroyed like a fire devouring the whole of the forest, leaving nothing but roots, stumps, and logs lying around. Judah would be destroyed, Jerusalem and other cities would be burned to the ground, dead bodies would be strewn all over the open fields, and all flesh would see and know that it was a supernatural power which caused Nebuchadnezzar to destroy such a strong country, formerly protected of God (v 45-49; 7:15; Jer. 9:22; 26:18)

e 28th prophecy in Ezek. (21:1-7, fulfilled). Next, v 8

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Set your face and drop your word toward Jerusalem and the holy places in the land of Israel... I am against you, and will draw forth My sword out of his sheath, and cut off from you the righteous and the wicked (21:2-3)
2 My sword will go forth out of his sheath against all flesh from the south to the north (21:4)
3 It will not return anymore until it has accomplished its mission (21:5)
4 It comes (the tidings of invasion) and every heart will melt (21:7)
5 All hands will be feeble
6 Every spirit will faint
7 All knees will be weak as water
8 It will come and will be brought to pass

f Question 50. Next, v 10

g Here we have divine irony-Go serve your idols now and hereafter if you do not want to hearken to Me, but do not pollute My holy name anymore with your gifts and idols (v 39)
h This refers to the mountain of the Lord's house that will be built when the Messiah comes. Israel will flow into it with all nations and be blessed in all eternity (v 40; Isa. 2:1-4; 54:1-7; 62:1-9; 63:17-25; 66:20-24; Mic. 4)
i Here is another reference to sacrifices and offerings being made again, in the Millennium and the New Earth period eternally-not to take away sins, for they did not actually do this in the past, but to serve as a memorial and a schooling for coming generations, teaching them the wonderful work of Christ on the cross (v 40-42). See notes on 40:5-48:34
j Again and again God predicts the regathering of Israel from all nations to fulfil the many prophecies of the eternal earthly kingdom of David and the Messiah (v 34-38, 41; Isa. 10:10-12, notes)
k Again, the meaning of sanctification is made clear. It simply refers to setting anything apart for holy and sacred use, or to be revered in the hearts of men, as in this case. It has no reference to cleansing from sin or dealing with a fallen nature (v 41). See Sanctification in Index
l Here again the often repeated fact is affirmed-that all the 13 tribes of Israel will be gathered back from the nations to occupy the original promised land of Palestine in all eternity (v 42; 37:11-14, 21-28; 49:1-35)

a 29th prophecy in Ezek. (21:8-17, fulfilled). Next, v 18

10 predictions-fulfilled:

1 A sword is sharpened and furbished to make a slaughter and to glitter (21:9-10)
2 It contemns the rod (sceptre) of Judah, as it does every tree (21:10)
3 It is given into the hand of the slayer (Nebuchadnezzar, 21:11)
4 Cry and howl, for it will be upon My people (21:12) Israel
5 It will be upon all the princes of 6 Terrors by reason of the sword will be upon My people Israel
7 It will enter into the private chambers of the great men and slay them (21:14)
8 It will be pointed toward all gates that their hearts may faint (21:15)
9 The ruins will be multiplied
10 It will strike on the right hand and on the left (21:16)

b Furbish-polish and brighten (v 9-10)
c Question 51. Next, v 13
d The sceptre of Judah, My son (v 10)
e Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon
f Smiting the thigh was a symbol of grief for men, as beating the breast was for women (v 12)
g It (Jehovah's sword) is tried, or proved, and what if it contemns (despises or scorns) the rod (sceptre) of Judah? It (the sceptre) will be no more until the Messiah comes whose right it is to rule (v 13). The Sept. reads, "Because its cause is just, what then? Must the tribe (of Judah) be cut off? That shall not be the case saith the Lord God. "The idea here is that though God's sword destroyed even the sceptre the tribe of Judah would not be completely cut off
h Question 52. Next, v 30
i Doubled three times expresses the violence and force of the sword (v 14)
j That is, the sword-cut to the right and then to the left wherever the edge is set or turned (v 16) k A symbol of judgment of God resting after it has been completed (v 17); or, it could be as the Sept. reads, "I will clap My hands and give vent to My wrath." Sometimes smiting hands was a sign of contempt (Job 27:23; Lam. 2:15); of anger (22:13; Num. 24:10); of sorrow (6:11); of triumph (25:6); and of a pledge or an oath (Gen. 14:22; Pr. 11:21). It was the same as our shaking hands to confirm an agreement l 30th prophecy in Ezek. (21:18-32, fulfilled, except v 27). Next, 22:2

16 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Appoint two ways that the sword of Babylon may come. The two ways will come forth out of one land. Set us a sign-post at the head of the ways. One road will lead to Ammon and the other to Judah in Jerusalem. The king of Babylon will stand at the parting of the ways and use divination (21:19-21)
2 At his right hand will be the divination of Jerusalem to make war on Judah and Jerusalem (21:22)
3 The divination will be to them (Zedekiah and the rulers of Jerusalem) a false divination (21:23)
4 Because you (Zedekiah and rulers of Jerusalem) have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, you will be taken with the hand (21:24)
5 Your (Zedekiah's) day is come when your iniquity will have an end (21:25)
6 Remove the diadem, and take the crown, for glory will be removed from both priest and king (21:26)
7 I will overturn the kingdom of Judah and it will be no more until He comes whose right it is to rule, and I will give it to Him (21:27). This first part has been and is still being fulfilled, but the last part will be fulfilled at the 2nd advent of Christ 28)
8 Ammon also will be destroyed (21:
9 The diviners of Ammon will divine and lie (predicting escape from the invasion by Babylon), but they will be destroyed and cast out with those that are slain, whose day is come and whose iniquity is at an end (21:29)
10 I will cause the sword to be put in its sheath when its work is over-destroying Judah and Ammon (21:30)
11 I will pour out My indignation upon you (21:31)
12 I will blow against you in the fire of My wrath be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord GOD.

4 Sign of the sharp sword: clean destruction

18 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
19 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD; Say, A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished:
10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter; it is furbished that it may glitter: should we then make mirth? it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.
11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that it may be handled: this sword is sharpened, and it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer.

5 Sign of howling and smiting: rulers destroyed

12 Cry and howl, son of man: for it shall be upon my people, it shall be upon all the princes of Is'ra-el: terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon my people: smite therefore upon thy thigh.
13 Because it is a trial, and what if the sword contemn even the rod? it shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

6 Sign of smiting hands: great gulf

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entereth into their privy chambers.
15 I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: ah! it is made bright, it is wrapped up for the slaughter.
16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.
17 I will also smite mine hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest: I the LORD have said it.

7 Babylon God's sword of judgment upon Judah. (1) The sword at the cross-roads

18 The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,
19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Bab'y-lon may come: both twain shall come forth out of one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.
20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rab'bath of the Am'mon-ites, and to Ju'dah in Je-ru'sa-lem the defenced.
21 For the king of Bab'y-lon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he made his arrows bright, he consulted with images, he looked in the liver.
22 At his right hand was the divination for Je-ru'sa-lem, to appoint captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.
23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, to them that have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

(2) Judgment on Judah: no king until Messiah (Acts 15:14-17; Hos. 3:4-5; Isa. 9:6, refs.)

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear: because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.
25 And thou, profane wicked prince of Is'ra-el, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end.
26 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.
27 I will overturn, overturn, overturn, it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.

(3) Judgment on Ammon next

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the Am'mon-ites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn: for the slaughter it is furbished, to consume because of the glittering:
29 While they see vanity unto thee, while they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.
30 Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.
31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, and skilful to destroy.
32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAPTER 22 824

8 Prophecy against Israel. (1) Her twenty sins

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

a See 3 ways of divining, p. 827
b Jerusalem was on the right hand road; and this was the place chosen by divination to be attacked before Ammon was (v 22). Zedekiah and the rulers of Israel considered this choice to be false divination (v 23) c This refers to the oaths and the covenant which Zedekiah and the elders of Israel had made with Nebuchadnezzar to rule Judah under Him, and not rebel (v 23). Zedekiah broke this covenant and for that God determined to destroy him and Judah (v 23; 17:11-21; 2 Ki. 24:20)
d Zedekiah was here personally addressed by the prophet and judgment was pronounced upon him and his kingdom (v 24-27)
e This was the mitre of the high priest; and the crown here refers to the headpiece of the king (v 26). Both the high priest and the king were to be removed and judged by Nebuchadnezzar; and this was literally fulfilled (2 Ki. 25:5-7, 18-21)
f Debase Zedekiah and the high priest and exalt Gedaliah over Judah (v 26; 2 Ki. 25:7, 18-24)
g The kingdom of Judah was to be overthrown and exist no more until the Messiah would come whose right it is; and it would be given to Him (v 27; Gen. 49:10; Isa. 9:6-7; 42:1; Jer. 23:5; 33:17; Hos. 3:4-6; Zech. 6:12-13; 14:9; Lk. 1:32-33; Acts 14:13-18; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10)
h After Jerusalem, Ammon was also to be destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar (v 28)
i See Jer. 49:1; Zeph. 2:8
j The Ammonites also divined and pronounced the divinaton of Nebuchadnezzar a lie; but theirs was a lie, for their necks were brought down with the other slain of the nations whose end had come (v 29-32)
k Question 53. Next, 22:2
l The sword was not to return to his sheath until it had fully accomplished its mission in destroying Judah, Ammon, and other nations round about. Ammon was to be destroyed in her native land (v 30). God's indignation was to be upon her, as well as on Judah. The fire of His wrath was to come upon the Ammonites and they were to be turned over into the hands of men who were brutish and skilful to destroy (v 31); they were to be fuel in the fire of God's wrath, and their blood was to be shed in the midst of the land. They were not to be remembered anymore (v 32)
m For a list of these predictions, see note a, v 2

13 I will deliver you into the hand of brutish men who are skilful to destroy 14 You will be for fuel to the fire (21:32)
15 Your blood will be in the midst of the land
16 You will be remembered

m Nebuchadnezzar is here pictured as standing at the entrance of the holy land, at the fork of two roads-one to the right leading to Judah, and the other to the left leading to Ammon-using divination to determine which road to take first. Judah was chosen first (v 22-27) before Ammon (v 28-32)

6 requests of Israel (Isa. 63:11):

1 Look down from heaven, Your habitation of glory and holiness (63:15)
2 Return for Your servant's sake (63:17)
3 Oh that You would rend the heavens and come down (64:1)
4 Be not wroth very sore (64:9)
5 Do not remember sin forever
6 See, we beseech You, we are Your people

10fold state of sinners (Isa. 64:6):

1 We have sinned (v 5)
2 Unclean, ceremonially and morally (v 6)
3 All righteousnesses are as filthy (menstruous) rags
4 Fade as a leaf
5 Taken away by sins like the wind takes away chaff
6 None calls upon God's name (v 7)
7 None stirs himself to take hold of God
8 God's face hidden from him
9 Consumed because of sin
10 Under God's wrath (v 5, 9)

a 31st prophecy in Ezek. (22:1-16, fulfilled). Next, v 17

7 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I have made you a reproach to the heathen, and a mocking to all countries (soon to be fulfilled, 22:4)
2 Those that be near, and those that be far from you, will mock you (22:5)
3 I will deal with you (22:14)
4 I will scatter you among the heathen and disperse you in the countries (22:15)
5 I will consume your filthiness out of you
6 You will take your inheritance (or forfeit your inheritance) in the sight of the heathen (22:16)
7 You will know that I am Jehovah

b Question 54. Next, v 14

c Jerusalem is called the bloody city, because of the many murders committed there, especially of the saints and prophets by the wicked rulers (v 2-4, 6, 12, 27)

d 20 sins of Judah and Jerusalem: 27)
1 Murders-bloody city (v 2-4, 6, 12,
2 Making idols (v 3)
3 Worship of idols (v 3-4)
4 Set light by (oppressed) father and mother (v 7)
5 Oppressed the strangers
6 Vexed orphans and widows
7 Despised My holy things (v 8)
8 Profaned My sabbaths
9 Slander-carry tales (v 9)
10 Eat upon mountains in idolatrous worship
11 Committed lewdness
12 Committed adultery with father's wife (v 10)
13 Humbled her that was set apart for pollution (or uncleanness)
14 Committed adultery with neighbor's wife (v 11)
15 Committed adultery with daughter-in-law
16 Committed adultery with sister, the father's daughter
17 Took bribe to murder (v 12)
18 Took interest for money lent
19 Extorted from neighbor
20 Forgot God

e Smiting the hands here was a sign of anger and contempt (v 13). See note k, 21:17

f Question 55. Next, 23:36

g 5fold judgment on Israel:
1 I will deal with you (v 14) (v 15)
2 I will scatter you among the heathen
3 I will disperse you in the countries
4 I will consume your filthiness out of you
5 You will take your inheritance (more literally trans., you will forfeit your inheritance) in the sight of all the heathen (22:16)

h 32nd prophecy in Ezek. (22:17-22, fulfilled). Next, v 31

5 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem, as they gather metals and put them in the midst of the furnace to blow fire upon them to melt them (22:18-20)
2 I will gather you in My anger and in My fury, and leave you there and melt you (22:20)
3 I will gather you and blow upon you in the fire of My wrath (22:21)
4 You will be melted, as metals are melted in the midst of a furnace (22:21-22)
5 You will know that I the Lord have poured out My fury upon you (22:22)

i Ezekiel used the term the house of Israel repeatedly in addressing the Jews at Jerusalem and those in captivity, so the Jews of the world today, as then, are the house of Israel (v 18; 19:1; 20:1; etc.). It was in the midst of Jerusalem, the capital of Judah, that this house of Israel was living and where it was to be punished (v 19). The people were compared to dross in the midst of a furnace. Lead put into a crucible with gold and silver causes the baser metals to retire, or form dross at the sides of the crucible, leaving the pure gold or silver in the middle. But here the silver itself became dross (v 19)

2 [a]Now, thou son of man, [b]wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge [c]the bloody city? yea, thou shalt shew her [d]all her abominations.
3 Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, The city shedeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself to defile herself.
4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed; and hast defiled thyself in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.
5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art infamous and much vexed.
6 Behold, the princes of Is'ra-el, every one were in thee to their power to shed blood.
7 In thee have they set light by father and mother: in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.
8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths.
9 In thee are men that carry tales to shed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.
10 In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was set apart for pollution.
11 And one hath committed [e]abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter.
12 In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD.

(2) Fivefold judgment

13 [f] Behold, therefore [g]I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.
14 [f]Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that [g]I shall deal with thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.
15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will consume thy filthiness out of thee.
16 And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

9 Sign of dross: punishment for sin

17 [h]And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
18 Son of man, [i]the house of Is'ra-el is to me become dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the dross of silver.
19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye are all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you [j]into the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem.
20 As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.
21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.
22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

10 Prophecy against Israel.
(1) 20 sins of four classes

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is [k]not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.
25 There is a [l]conspiracy [m]of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they have devoured souls; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.
26 Her priests have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.
27 Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.
28 And her prophets have daubed them with untempered morter, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.
29 The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully.

(2) No intercessor: judgment

30 And [n]I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.
31 [n]Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

11 Parable of Aholah (Samaria) and Aholibah (Jea The house of Israel of Ezekiel was in Jerusalem. It was therefore the same as the Jews, and that Judah was the true kingdom of Israel and representative of all the tribes (v 19)

b Not only was Jerusalem a bloody city, but the whole land of Israel was unclean through sin, for which God had withheld rain upon it (v 24). This was in fulfillment of promises made to Israel in the days of Moses (Lev. 26:19-20, 26, 33; Dt. 28:23-24)

c 4 classes to be judged:
1 The prophets (v 25)
2 The priests (v 26) 27)
3 The princes (including the king, v
4 The people (v 29)

d 20 sins of Judah:
1 Uncleanness (v 24)
2 Conspiracy against God (v 25)
3 Preying on innocent people
4 Robbery
5 Murders
6 Transgression of the law (v 26)
7 Profaned the holy things
8 Put no difference between the holy and the profane
9 Made no difference between the clean and the unclean
10 Polluted the sabbaths
11 Profaned Jehovah among the people
12 Rulers oppressed and murdered the people (v 27)
13 Covetousness
14 Gave people false hope (v 26; 13:11-17, notes)
15 Lived in vanity (v 28)
16 Divined lies
17 The people used oppressions (v 29)
18 Men in general were robbers
19 Vexed the poor and needy
20 Oppressed the stranger

e God has always sought for a man-even one man to stand in the gap and build a hedge to turn away His wrath from men, and has been disappointed in many generations and with many nations. Here He could not find a man with influence enough to turn the hearts of the people away from sin and back to Him, so judgment had to fall (v 30). Cp. 13:5; Jer. 5:1

f 33rd prophecy in Ezek. (22:31, fulfilled). Next, 23:22

3 predictions-fulfilled:
1 I have poured out My indignation upon them (22:31)
2 I have consumed them in the fire of My wrath
3 Their own way have I recompensed upon their heads

All these statements are in the past tense, but in reality they predicted things just about to happen to Jerusalem. From God's standpoint they had already taken place, because His word had gone forth declaring a speedy fulfillment

Meekness (Isa. 61:1)

Meekness is necessary in hearing and obeying the gospel (v 1)

8 blessings to the meek:
1 They will eat and be satisfied (Ps. 29:9)
2 Be taught the way (Ps. 29:9)
3 Inherit the earth (Ps. 37:11)
4 Be saved (Ps. 76:9)
5 Be lifted up (Ps. 147:6) 4)
6 Be beautified with salvation (Ps. 149:
7 Increase their joy in the Lord (29:19)
8 Hear good tidings (61:1)

8 facts about meekness:
1 It must be sought (Zech. 2:3)
2 Should characterize ministers (1Cor. 4:21; 2 Cor. 10:1; Gal. 6:1; Eph. 4:2; 2 Tim. 2:25; Tit 3:2; Isa. 3:13)
3 A fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:23)
4 Should be put on (Col. 3:12)
5 Should be followed (1 Tim. 6:12)
6 Should be used in dealing with all opposition by others (2 Tim. 2:25)
7 Should be demonstrated (Tit. 3:2; Jas. 3:13; 1 Pet. 3:15)
8 Must be used in receiving truth (Jas. 1:21)

Meekness is the quality of being patient in the reception of injuries; it stands opposed to malice and revenge

3 outstanding examples of meekness:
1 Moses (Num. 12:3)
2 Christ (Mt. 11:29; 21:5)
3 Paul (2 Cor. 10:1)

a The two sisters are symbolic of Samaria and Jerusalem (v 4). Both kingdoms of Israel were branches of the same stock (v 2); and both committed whoredom with Egypt, indicating the idolatry of Israel while in that land (v 3). They also committed whoredoms in their youth, indicating their idolatry before God made the Mosaic covenant with them and caused them to become His wife by covenant relationship (v 3; Isa. 54:5). While they belonged to God they were fruitful and bore children, sons daughters (v 4), but when they left Him they became unfruitful (v 5-21)

b Their names (v 4):
1 Aholah, or Samaria, was the elder sister. The Heb. shalah, means her own tent or tabernacle. So-named because the 10 tribes under Jeroboam set up their own worship to rival that in Jerusalem and to be distinct from Jehovah's worship (v 4; 1 Ki. 12:25-33)
2 Aholibah, or Jerusalem, was the younger sister. The Heb. shalibah means My tent is in her. So-named because God's temple and true worship were in Judah and Jerusalem, not in the 10-tribe kingdom and Samaria (v 4)

c Aholah, or Samaria, is first dealt with as playing the harlot when she belonged to God. She doted on her lovers, the Assyrians (v 5). They are described and her whoredom with them in v 6-7. Her whoredom with Egypt is next stated (v 8). God delivered her from Egypt and she began to commit whoredom with the Assyrians (v 9). They discovered her nakedness and took her sons and daughters into captivity, slaying many with the sword (v 10; 2 Ki. 17)

d Aholibah, or Judah, is next dealt with as seeing the whoredoms of Samaria, and becoming more corrupt than she ever was (v 11). Judah also doted on the Assyrians, her neighbors, who are again described (v 12). God saw that she was defiled by the Assyrians (v 13), and that she increased her whoredom by falling in love also with the Babylonians, who are described in v 14-15. She sent messengers to Chaldea to make a covenant with them (v 16); and the Babylonians came to her in a bed of love, defiling her with their whoredom. Thus Judah was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated (v 17); and she continued to multiply her whoredoms by calling to remembrance such sins of her youth with Egypt whom she began to long for again (v 18-21)

e The Assyrians were famous for their rich and costly apparel. The expression Assyrian garments became a term for all kinds of fine clothing. Different from the Egyptian and Persian clothes, they consisted of tunics or robes varying in length, of mantles of different shapes, of long-fringed scarfs, and embroidered girdles. Ornaments in profusion were put on the dresses, some of which appear to have been emblematic of certain dignities and employments

f Pictures of gods were painted on the walls in bright colors (v 14)

3 ways of divining (21:21):

1 Making the arrows bright, that is, shaking the arrows-a mode of divination used by the Arabians, but forbidden by the Koran. According to Jerome, in cases such as the one here, each arrow bore the name of some town to be attacked. After the arrows were shaken up in the quiver, they were drawn out one by one. The places were to be attacked in the order their names on the arrows were drawn out. As Jerusalem was the first in this instance, Nebuchadnezzar proceeded to make the siege on it. Another writer says that the arrows were thrown up to see which way they would fall, and in this manner the place to be taken was indicated. The Arabs generally used only three arrows. On one was written, My God hath bidden me; on the second, My God hath forbidden me; and the third was blank. If the blank was drawn the arrows were shaken up again and drawn rusalem, Ezek. 23:1-49. Cp. Ezek. 16:1-63; Dt. 32:10-44). (1) Harlotry of both in Egypt

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, there were[a] two women, the daughters of one mother:
3 And they committed whoredoms in Ĕ'gўpt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.
4 And the names of them were Ā-hō'lah the elder, and Ā-hŏl'ĭ-bah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were [b]their names; Sā'mā-rĭ-ā is Ā-hō'lah, and Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm Ā-hŏl'ĭ-bah.

(2) Harlotry of Samaria with Assyria: captivity (2 Ki. 15, 17)

5 [c]And Ā-hō'lah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-anş her neighbours,
6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.
7 Thus she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the chosen men of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-ā, and with all on whom she doted: with all their idols she defiled herself.
8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Ĕ'gўpt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.
9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-anş, upon whom she doted.
10 These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became famous among women; for they had executed judgment upon her.

(3) Harlotry of Judah with Assyria (2 Ki. 16:7-18)

11 And when her [d]sister Ā-hŏl'ĭ-bah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.
12 She doted upon the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-anş her neighbours, captains and rulers [e]clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

(4) Harlotry of Judah with Assyria and Babylon (2 Ki. 16, 20)

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,
14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men [f]pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chăl-dē'anş pourtrayed with vermilion,
15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Băb-ў-lō'nĭ-anş of Chăl'dē'ā, the land of their nativity:
16 And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chăl-dē'ā.
17 And the Băb-ў-lō'nĭ-anş came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated from them.
18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.
19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Ĕ'gўpt.
20 For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.
21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Ĕ-gўp'tians for the paps of thy youth.

(5) Thirty-twofold judgment

22 ¶ Therefore, O Ā-hŏl'ĭ-bah, thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will raise up thy [b]lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;
23 The Băb-ў-lō'nĭ-anş, and all the Chăl-dē'anş, Pē'kŏd, and Shō'ā, and Kō'ā, and all the Ăs-sўr'ĭ-anş with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.
24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.
25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy [c]nose and thine ears; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.
26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.
27 Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Ĕ'gўpt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Ĕ'gўpt any more.
28 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated:
29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy

14 They will strip you of your clothes (23:26)
15 They will take your fair jewels
16 I will make your lewdness to cease from you, and your whoredom which you brought from Egypt (23:27)
17 You will not lift your eyes to them
18 You will not remember Egypt anymore
19 I will deliver you into the hand of them whom you hate, and them from whom your mind is alienated (23:28)
20 They will deal with you hatefully (23:29)
21 They will take away all your labor
22 They will leave you naked
23 The nakedness of your whoredoms will be discovered
24 Both your lewdness and your whoredoms will be discovered
25 I will do these things to you (23:30)
26 I will give the cup of your sister (Samaria) into your hand (23:31)
27 You will drink of your sister's cup deep and large (23:32)
28 You will be laughed to scorn and be had in derision
29 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, and the cup of your sister, Samaria (23:33)
30 You will even drink and suck it out (23:34)
31 You will break the sherds thereof
32 You will pluck off your own breasts

b The lovers of these two symbolic women were the nations whom they trusted in instead of Jehovah-the Egyptians, Assyrians, Babylonians, and others (v 5, 8, 14-15, 17, 21, 23)

c These mutilations were common among the Chaldeans, Assyrians, and Persians. Among the Chaldeans, adulteresses were punished in this manner, which fact is perhaps the basis of this text until the arrow bearing the decided answer came forth. If it was the one forbidding the inquirer he waited a whole year before consulting the arrows again on the question

2 Consulting the teraphim, or the household gods worshipped as a family talisman to obtain directions concerning the future. Nothing is known regarding how the teraphim were consulted. The first mention of them in Scripture is the occasion of Rachel stealing them from her father in Haran (Gen. 31:19, 34). They were put away by Jacob (Gen. 35:4); set up by Micah as his gods (Judg. 17:4); and considered as idolatry (1 Sam. 15:23)

3 Looking at the liver. People judged what step to take by examining the liver of an animal that was sacrificed, to see whether it was good or bad. If the liver was healthy and the lobes inclined inward the omen was favorable, but if diseased, dry, spotted, of without the band between the parts the omen was unfavorable. This method of divination was used by many nations a Here cup, the cup of Samaria was total destruction as a nation and captivity for the remnant left alive (v 31; 2 Ki. 17)

b This word is a variation of shard, a fragment of brittle substance, as an earthen vessel (v 34)
c This simply means to destroy the occasions of their idolatry; or, more literally, it refers to the tearing at the breasts

20 eternal principles of righteousness (18:25):

1 All souls will give account to God on the same basis (v 4)
2 The soul that sins will die, whether he is a righteous or a wicked man (v 4, 20)
3 If a man is just and does that which is lawful and right, he will live (v 5-9)
4 If a righteous father has a wicked son the righteousness of the father will not save the son from death (v 10-13)
5 The wicked son will die for his own sin and be responsible for it (v 13)
6 A righteous son of a wicked father will live for his own righteousness (v 14-17)
7 The wickedness of a father will not be passed upon a righteous son because of human relationship. He will not die for the sins of his father
8 The wicked father will die for his own sins only (v 18)
9 The only time a son of a wicked man will bear the iniquity of his father is when he commits the same sins his father did (v 19)
10 The son will not bear the iniquity of the father, nor the father bear the iniquity of the son except they commit the same sins (v 20)
11 The righteousness of the righteous will be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked will be upon him
12 The wicked will live by having the death penalty cancelled in the day that he ceases to sin and turns to God with a whole heart (v 21, 27-28)
13 All the sins of the wicked man will not be mentioned against him or damn his soul in the day that he quits sin and commits righteousness (v 22)
14 God has no pleasure in the death of the wicked that he should die (v 23)
15 A righteous man who becomes a wicked man again dies by incurring the death penalty of the broken law in the day that he turns from his own righteousness to live in sin (v 24-26)
16 All the righteousness of the righteous will not deliver him from death in the day that he goes back into sin
17 All his righteousness that he has done will not be mentioned, for it cannot deliver him from death when he sins
18 The ways of God are always equal and just (v 25, 29-30)
19 All men will be judged according to their own ways as to whether they have or have not conformed to the ways of God (v 30)
20 God invites and commands all men:
(1) To repent (v 30)
(2) Turn from their transgressions so that sin will not damn them
(3) Cast away all their sins, wherein they have sinned (v 31)
(4) Make themselves a new heart and a new spirit by meeting God's terms of salvation and becoming new creatures in Christ
(5) Turn yourselves, and live (v 32)

whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her [c]cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Sa-ma'ri-a.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the [b]sherds thereof, [c]and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

■35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

(6) Eight sins of Aholah (Samaria) and Aholibah (Jerusalem)

¶36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me; Son of man, [f]wilt thou judge A-hō'lah and A-hōl'i-bah? yea, declare unto them [e]their abominations;

37 They that have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, [f]to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.

38 Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent; and, lo, they came: for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men of the common sort were brought Sa-bē'ans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then I said unto her that was old in adulteries, [g]Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto A-hō'lah and unto A-hōl'i-bah, the lewd women.

(7) Tenfold judgment on both

■45 ¶ [d]And the righteous men, they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD; I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and spoiled.

■47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 24 826

12 Prophecy against Judah.
(1) Parable of the boiling pot

[b]AGAIN [c]in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ■

●2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Băb'ў-lon set himself against Jĕ-ru'-sā-lĕm this same day.

●3 And utter [d]a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it:

●4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

●5 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.

(2) Signification: judgment

6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! [e]bring it out piece by piece; [f]let no lot fall upon it.

7 [g]For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the bloody city! [h]I will even make the pile for fire great.

●10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

●11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum

10 predictions fulfilled:

1 The righteous men will judge them after the manner of adulteresses and murderers, because they are adulteresses and murderers (23:45)
2 I will bring up a company upon them (23:46)
3 I will give them to be removed from their land and spoiled
4 Their enemies will stone them and kill them with their swords (23:47)
5 They will slay their sons and daughters
6 They will burn their houses with fire
7 I will cause their lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after their lewdness (23:48)
8 They will recompense your lewdness upon you (23:49)
9 You will bear the sins of your idols
10 You will know that I am Jehovah God

b 36th prophecy in Ezek. (24:1-14, fulfilled). Next, v 15. Another pantomine prophecy

10 predictions fulfilled:

1 Set on a pot and pour water into it
2 Gather the pieces of the sacrifice into it, even every choice piece, the thigh, the shoulder, and the choice bones (24:4)
3 Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under the pot, and make it boil full well; let them seethe the bones of it therein (24:5)
4 Woe to the bloody city, the pot whose scum is therein and not gone out of it (24:6)
5 Bring out piece by piece from the pot; let no lot be cast upon it
6 Her blood will be shed in the midst of her and will not be covered with dust (24:7-8)
7 Woe to the bloody city! I will even make the pile for fire great. Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, spice it well, and let the bones be burned. Then set the empty pot upon the coals that the brass may be hot and burn, and that the filthiness may be molted in it, that the scum of it be consumed (24:9-11)
8 Her scum will be in the fire (24:12)
9 You will not be purged from your filthiness anymore, till I have caused My fury to rest upon you (24:13)
10 I will do it and will not go back, or spare, or repent. According to your ways and your doings, they will judge you (24:14)

c This was the very day Nebuchadnezzar came against Jerusalem to destroy it completely (v 1-2). The siege began on this day and was finished in the 11th year, the 4th month, and the 9th day of the month (2 Ki. 25:2-4) d The parable is given in v 3-5, the application in v 6-14. Jerusalem here is compared to a great caldron, the fire around the pot and under it representing the great army of Babylon besieging the city, and the bones in the pot symbolizing the inhabitants of the city shut up within the walls. The choice pieces in the pot refer to the choice members of the community

e Bring forth the inhabitants one by one f This signifies that the city was to be destroyed, not divided by lot between conquerors (v 6). In the previous sieges under Jehoiakim and Jehoiachin, some were taken and others left; now all the people were to be removed

g The blood of Jerusalem was to be left in the open, not covered by dust (v 7-8)

h The destruction of the city was to be great like a great fire burning under a pot until nothing was left but the bones and dry burned flesh, with even the pot burned and melted (v 9-11) a The filthiness of Jerusalem will not be purged until God has completed His fury upon it, which suggests how He will bring Israel to repentance and complete surrender in the last days. The future tribulation will purge Israel of all rebels and bring the nation to repentance (Zech. 12:10-13:1, 8-9; Rom. 11:26-29). Here, in the Babylonian captivity days, God was to complete His punishment of them before He would restore them again to their own land (v 13-14). They were to reap what they had sowed (v 14), and so will it always be with all men (Gal. 6:7-8)

b 37th prophecy in Ezek. (24:15-27, fulfilled). Next, 25:1

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will take from you the desire of your eyes with a stroke (24:16)
2 I will profane My sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pities (24:21)
3 Your sons and daughters whom you have left will fall by the sword
4 According to all that Ezekiel has done you will do (24:21, 24)
5 When this comes you will know that I am the Lord God (24:24)
6 In the day that I take away their strength, the joy of their glory, and the desire of their eyes upon which they have set their minds, their sons and daughters, it shall be that he who escapes will come to you and tell you about it (24:25-26)
7 In that day your mouth will be opened to him that has escaped the destruction of Jerusalem, and you will speak and be dumb no more (24:27)
8 You will be a sign to them, and they will know that I am the Lord

c The desire of his eyes was his wife (v 16, 18). She died of a stroke, and he was commanded not to weep or show any other sign of mourning, so as to teach Israel the lesson that in the coming destruction of Jerusalem and the nation that they would be too stunned to mourn (v 16-17, 21-23). His wife was a symbol of the temple, the desire of the eyes of Israel (v 21)

d Question 58. Next, v 25-26

e The desire of the eyes of Israel-the temple, was to be destroyed like the desire of Ezekiel-his wife, whose death was a sign to the people (v 16-17, 21). Israel's sons and daughters were also to be destroyed; and yet they were not to mourn because of the calamities befallen them (v 21-23) f You (Jews) will do as I (Ezekiel) have done-not cry, mourn, cover the lips, eat food (v 22). Furthermore, you will tire your head, put shoes on your feet to go into captivity, pine away in your iniquities, then mourn one toward another (v 23)

g Question 59. Next, 26:15

h In that day when all this will happen you (Ezekiel) will receive the full report from those who escape the destruction; and I will open your mouth and you will not be dumb anymore as a sign to the house of Israel (v 26-27)

Sins of Judah (2:29):

Accusing Judah of universal transgression against Him, God mentions the many sins the people were guilty of here

16 sins of Judah:

1 Too stubborn to take correction (v
2 Killed the prophets 30)
3 Refused to come to God (v 31)
4 Forgot God (v 32)
5 Seek to love the idolatry of foreign nations (v 33)
6 Taught the wicked their ways
7 Killed the innocent (v 34) 35)
8 Claimed innocence after crimes (v
9 Claimed freedom from sin when many sins were being committed 10 Gadded about to change their way from Jehovah to idolatry (v 36)
11 Returned to former wives (3:1)
12 Played the harlot
13 Committed sin in high places of idolatry (3:2)
14 Polluted the land with whoredoms
15 Refused to be ashamed (3:3)
16 Spoke and did evil things as often as opportunity presented itself (3:5) of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, [c]till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

13 Sign: (1) No mourning

15 [d]Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee [e]the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down.

17 Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning: and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 ¶ And the people said unto me, [d]Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?

(2) Signification: judgment

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Speak unto the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, [e]the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And [f]ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 ¶ Thus Ê-zē'kĭ-el is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also, thou son of man, [g]shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters,

26 That he that escapeth [h]in that day shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be [e]no more dumb: and thou shalt be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 25 827

VII Prophecies against [a]seven Gentile powers (25:1-32; Isa. 13-23; Jer. 45-51; Amos 1-2; Jer. 49:1, refs.).

1 Against Ammon

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against the Am'mon-ites, and prophesy against them;

3 And say unto the Am'mon-ites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Is'ra-el, when it was desolate; and against the house of Jū'dah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make Răb'bah a stable for camels, and the Am'mon-ites a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

6 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Is'ra-el;

7 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

2 Against Moab (Isa. 15:1, refs.)

8 [b]Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because that Mō'ab and Sē'ir do say, Behold, the house of Jū'dah is like unto all the heathen;

9 Therefore, behold, I [c]will open the side of Mō'ab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, [f]the glory of the country, Bĕth-jĕsh'i-mŏth, Bā'al-mĕ'on, and Kir-i-a-thā'im,

10 Unto the men of the east with the Am'mon-ites, and will give them in possession, that the Am'mon-ites may not be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Mō'ab; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

3 Against Edom (Jer. 49:7, refs.)

12 [d]Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because that Ē'dom hath dealt against the house of Jū'dah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged a The reference here is no doubt to his being made dumb, and having his mouth opened only when God would speak through him to the house of Israel (v 24-27). We are to understand then that the dumbness continued until Jerusalem was completely destroyed; after that he was not to be such a sign to the house of Israel anymore (v 27)

b 7 Gentile powers to be judged:
1 Ammon (25:1-7)
2 Moab (25:8-11)
3 Edom (25:12-14)
4 Philistia (25:15-17)
5 Tyre (26:1-28:19)
6 Zidon (28:20-26)
7 Egypt (29:1-32:32)

c 38th prophecy in Ezek. (25:1-7, fulfilled). Next, v 8

12 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because you said, Aha against My sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity; therefore, I will deliver you to the men of the east for a possession (25:3-4)
2 They will set their palaces in you (25:4)
3 They will make their dwellings in you
4 They will eat your fruit
5 They will drink your milk
6 I will make Rabbah a stable for camels (25:5)
7 I will make the land of the Ammonites a couching place for flocks
8 Because you have greatly rejoiced in your heart with despite against the land of Israel; therefore, I will stretch out My hand upon you and give you for a spoil to the heathen (25:6-7)
9 I will cut you off from the people
10 I will cause you to perish out of the countries (25:7)
11 I will destroy you
12 You will know that I am Jehovah (25:5, 7)

d 39th prophecy in Ezek. (25:8-11, fulfilled). Next, v 12

4 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because Moab and Seir say that the house of Judah is like the heathen; therefore, I will open the side of Moab from the cities on his frontiers, the glory of the country, unto the men of the east with the Ammonites (25:8-10)
2 I will give them in possession that the Ammonites may be remembered among the nations (25:10)
3 I will execute My judgments upon Moab (25:11)
4 They will know that I am Jehovah

e I will lay the land of Moab open to attack from every quarter (v 9). Josephus tells us that Nebuchadnezzar conquered Ammon in the 5th year after the destruction of Jerusalem, and it was at this same time that Moab, Edom, and other countries also fell

f This refers to the wonderful pasture lands that belonged to Reuben, lands north of the river Arnon, which the Moabites had conquered in the latter days of the existence of Judah (v 9)

g 40th prophecy in Ezek. (25:12-14, fulfilled). Next, v 15

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because Edom has dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended, and revenged himself on them; wherefore, I will stretch out My hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it (25:12-13) (25:13)
2 I will make it desolate from Teman
3 They of Dedan will fall by the sword
4 I will take vengeance upon Edom by the hand of My people Israel (25:14)
5 They will do in Edom according to My fury
6 They will know My vengeance

Yearly pilgrimages (Isa. 66:18)

All nations will be gathered to Jerusalem year by year to worship the Lord and keep the feast of tabernacles (v 18; Zech. 14:16-21). How many other times all flesh will come to worship before Him is not stated, but no doubt one may do so any time he wants to visit Jerusalem where God and Christ will be reigning over earthly Israel and all the Gentile nations. This much we know-that there will be scheduled times at the new moons and on sabbaths when they will do this (v 22-24) a 41st prophecy in Ezek. (25:15-17, fulfilled). Next, 26:1

5 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, to destroy Judah for old hatred; therefore, I will stretch out My hand upon them (25:15-16)
2 I will destroy the Cherethims (25:16)
3 I will destroy the remnant of the sea coast
4 I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes (25:17)
5 They will know that I am Jehovah when I lay My vengeance upon them

b Only found here, but Cherithites are mentioned several times as chief of the warriors of David (2 Sam. 8:18; 15:18; 20:7, 23; 1 Ki. 1:38, 44; 1 Chr. 18:17). See also 1 Sam. 30:14; Zeph. 2:5

c 42nd prophecy in Ezek. (26:1-14, fulfilled). Next, v 15

30 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because Tyrus said Aha against Jerusalem, she that was the gates of the people is broken, she is turned unto me, I will be replenished, and now she is laid waste, I (Jehovah) am against you (Tyrus) and will bring many nations to come up against you, as the sea causes his waves to come up (26:2-4)
2 They will destroy the walls of Tyrus (26:4)
3 They will break down her towers

20 Your garrisons will be destroyed
21 They will make spoil of your riches
22 They will make prey of your merchandise (26:12)
23 They will break down your walls
24 They will destroy the pleasant houses
25 They will lay your stones, timber, and dust in the water
26 I will cause the noise of your songs to cease (26:13)
27 I will cause your harps to be heard no more 28 I will make you like the top of a rock (26:14)
29 You will be a place to spread nets upon 30 You will be built no more

d The 11th year after Jehoiachin's captivity (note c, 8:1). The month that Jerusalem fell in the 11th year was the 4th-about the same as our July (2 Ki. 25:3, 8). This prophecy began to be fulfilled then, but it took Nebuchadnezzar 13 years to overthrow the city of Tyre (Tyrus), according to Josephus. While besieging Jerusalem Nebuchadnezzar had driven Pharaoh back to Egypt. Tyre rejoiced over this and the fall of Judah; then, as in these prophecies, her own downfall was predicted

e Nations under Nebuchadnezzar (v 3, 7)

f Tyre was located on a promontory-a place extending out into the sea (v 5). The name Tyre means rock; and it was given to the city because of its position. The island rock section became the heart of Tyre, the part on the continent being the old town. It was rich himself upon them;

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also stretch out mine hand upon E'dom, and will cut off man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate from Te'man; and they of De'dan shall fall by the sword.
14 And I will lay my vengeance upon E'dom by the hand of my people Is'ra-el: and they shall do in E'dom according to mine anger and according to my fury; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.

4 Against Philistia (Isa. 14:28, refs.)

15 ¶Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because the Phi-lis'tines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, to destroy it for the old hatred;
16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Phi-lis'tines, and I will cut off the[b] Cher'e-thims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.
17 And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

CHAPTER 26 828

5 Against Tyre (26:1-28:19; Isa. 23:1-18; Jer. 47:1-7; Amos 1:9-10). (1) Destruction of Tyre: A The cause of judgment

AND it came to pass in[d] the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,
2 Son of man, because that Ty'rus hath said against Je-ru'sa-lem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

B Destruction by Nebuchadnezzar

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Ty'rus, and will cause [e]many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.
4 And they shall destroy the walls of Ty'rus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.
5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets[f] in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD: and it shall become a spoil to the nations.
6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword; and they shall know that I am the LORD.
7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold,[g] I will bring upon Ty'rus Neb-u-chad-rez'zar king of Bab'y-lon,[h] a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.
8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.
9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.
10 By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.
11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.

C Destruction by Alexander

12 And [a]they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the water.
13 And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.
14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon; thou shalt be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

D Nations lament Tyre's fall

15 ¶Thus saith the Lord GOD to Ty'rus; [c]Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?
16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.
17 And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!
18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.
19 For thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;
20 When I shall bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in a The change from the singular to the plural here-he to they could imply that what Nebuchadnezzar did was not all that happened to Tyre. V 12-14 were literally fulfilled by Alexander the Great who did make a causeway from the old town of the mainland. He took the city by this way, in about 7 months

b 43rd prophecy in Ezek. (26:15-21, fulfilled). Next, 27:1

20 predictions-fulfilled:

1 The Isles will shake at the sound of your fall (26:15)
2 Men will be wounded and slaughtered in your midst
3 Then all the princes of the sea will come down from their thrones (26:16)
4 They will lay away their robes and 5 They will clothe themselves with trembling
6 They will sit upon the ground
7 They will tremble every moment
8 They will be astonished at you
9 They will take up a lamentation for you (26:17)
10 The Isles will tremble in the day of your fall (26:18)
11 They will be troubled at your departure
12 I will make you a desolate city, like cities that are not inhabited (26:19)
13 I will bring up the water upon you
14 I will bring you down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time (26:20)
15 I will set you in the lower parts of the earth
16 You will not be inhabited
17 I will set glory in the land of the living
18 I will make you a terror (26:21)
19 You will be no more
20 You will never be found again and great under Persian, Greek, Roman, and Mohamedan rulers before its final ruin in 1291 A.D. by the sultan of Egypt

g Here God mentioned the first destroyer of Tyre. The name of this city is spelled Tyrus 14 times in this book (v 7; 29:18-19; 30:10, etc.)

h He was a king of kings, for many other kings submitted to him; but Christ will be The King of kings (1 Tim. 6:15; Rev. 17:14; 19:15-16)

Prophetic prayer of Israel (Isa. 64:10)

In v 10-11 we have a prophetic section of the prayer that will be prayed by the Jews at the end of the tribulation-at the 2nd advent of Christ. The stated conditions will be true at that time. Many cities of Israel will be destroyed; Jerusalem will be made desolate (houses rifled and women ravished, Zech. 14:1-5); the temple will be destroyed and the pleasant things laid waste. Christ will build the millennial and eternal temple after He comes, so the temple where Antichrist is to reign during the tribulation will be destroyed to make way for the future eternal one (v 11; Dan. 7:27; Mt. 24:15; Rev. 11:1-2)

18 sins of Israel (Isa. 65:2):

1 Rebellious (v 2)
2 Walk in a way that is not good
3 Walk after their own thoughts 3)
4 Provoke God to anger to His face (v
5 Sacrifice in gardens
6 Burn incense upon altars of brick (v 3, 7)
7 Remain among the graves (v 4)
8 Lodge in the monuments
9 Eat swine's flesh
10 Eat broth of abominable things
11 Brag on personal holiness (v 5)
12 Blaspheme God upon the hills (v 7)
13 Forsake the Lord (v 11)
14 Forget God's holy mountain
15 Prepare tables for idols
16 Furnish drink offering for them
17 Did evil in God's sight (v 12) in 18 Did not choose what God delighted a This phrase in contrast with the state of the dead occurs 11 times (v 20; 32:23-32; Job 28:13; Ps. 27:13; 14:5; Isa. 38:11)

(2) Lamentation for Tyre: A The pride and location of Tyre

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, ■

●2 Now, thou son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

●3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the[c] entry of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD; O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

B The navy of Tyre

5 They have made all thy ship boards of fir trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the isles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Egypt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail; blue and purple from the[e] isles of Elishah was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

C The army of Tyre

10 They of Persia and of Lud and of Phut were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have made thy[f] beauty perfect.

D The merchants of Tyre

12 Tarshish was thy [h] merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy[i] fairs.

13 Javan, [j] Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy market.

14 They of the house of [k] Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.

15 The men of [d] Dedan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present horns of ivory and ebony.

16 [g] Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and agate.

17 [c] Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of [d] Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of [e] Helbon, and white wool.

19 Dan also and Javan going to and fro occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of [f] Kedar, they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of [g] Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 [h] Haran, and [i] Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, [h] Asshur, and [i] Chilmad, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in all sorts of things, in blue clothes, and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

E The ruin of Tyre

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters; the east wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas.

27 Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin.

F Lamentation for Tyre

28 The suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast a Dedan. Two places so-called: the Hamite or Ethioplan Dedan, and the Shemite or Arabian Dedan (v 15, 20; Gen. 10:7) b Syria here refers to Aram and Babylonia. Babylon was famous for precious stones (v 16). Syria itself is referred to in v 18 under the word Damascus - the name of its capital c This term, Judah, and the land of Israel refers to all Israelites of all the tribes in Judah and Ephraim (v 17)

d A city in Ammon which was famous for wheat (v 17). The grain was carried through the land of Israel to Tyre

e Helbon was near Damascus (v 18)

f Kedar was representative of the pastoral tribe of northern Arabia (v 21)

g Sheba and Raamah were other parts of Arabia in the south near the Persian Gulf (v 22)

h Haran was in Mesopotamia (v 23)

i Canneh, probably Calneh on the Tigris river (v 23; Gen. 10:10)

j Asshur - Assyria between the Tigris and Euphrates (v 23)

k Eden, on the Euphrates (v 23) dad

l Chilmad, perhaps Kalwada near Bagm For a list of these predictions see note b, v 1

Most essential thing in prayer (Isa. 64:7)

Heb. uwr, to open the eyes; to awake. This is most essential in the prayer life - one must stir himself up to pray and lay hold of God; the person who does will be blessed of the Lord (v 7). No man rises to God without effort; and if one fails in this he sinks into sin and spiritual deadness which will take him to the lowest hell. The idea here is that of making an effort to rouse one's self when oppressed by a spirit of heavy slumber and extreme drowsiness. By this time the whole nation of Israel had sunk into a spiritual stupor

Great millennial and eternal changes (Isa. 65:17)

This could not mean that the former heavens and earth will never be recalled in any way whatsoever; the idea is that, comparatively speaking, the new ones will be so wonderful that people will not meditate on, long for, or regret the passing of the old ones (v 17). Mentioning the new heavens and the new earth here as an introduction to a passage about the Millennium (v 18-25) can be best understood in this light - that God's program concerning the new heavens and the new earth is His ultimate purpose in the work which he begins in the Millennium

15 millennial and eternal changes:

1 A new earthly and eternal Jerusalem will be created as the earthly and eternal capital of the whole earth (v 18; 2:2-4; Ezek. 48:30-35; Joel 3:16-
2 Eternal Israel (v 18) 20)
3 Eternal rejoicing of Israel for their eternal city lem (v 19)
4 God rejoicing eternally in Jerusa-
5 God rejoicing eternally in Israel
6 Eternal removal of all weeping and crying in Israel and Jerusalem
7 Eternal change in length of life - no more an infant of days nor an old man who will not fill his days (v 20). Men will live as long as trees (v 22) and eternally, in natural bodies (Mt. 25:46)
8 Change in the appointment of death for the righteous, who will not sin (v 20; Mt. 25:46)
9 Change in the economy - everyone building and possessing his own home, and planting and enjoying his own crops without fear of losing any through debts (v 21-22) (v 23)
10 Removal of the curse of hard labor
11 Eternal change in purpose and production of material goods - nothing will be produced for war and trouble (v 23; 2:2-4; Mic. 4)
12 God's eternal blessing upon all labor and business (v 23) (v 24)
13 Eternal change of results in prayer
14 Eternal change of animal natures (v 25; 11:6-9)
15 Eternal change in society - none to hurt or destroy in all God's kingdom (v 25) up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes:

31 And they shall make themselves[a] utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, [b]What city is like Tȳ'rus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee; thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt be any more.

CHAPTER 28 830

(3) Judgment on the earthly prince of Tyre: Ithobalas II.

A His pride

1 THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, say unto [c]the prince of Tȳ'rus, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:

3 Behold, [d]thou art wiser than Dăn'iel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee:

4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:

5 By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart[e] is lifted up because of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God;

B His judgment by Babylon

7 Behold, therefore [f]I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 [g]Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

(4) Lamentation for the angelic king of Tyre: Satan

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon [h]the [i]king of Tȳ'rus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [j]Thou sealest up the [k]sum, [l]full of wisdom, and [m]perfect in beauty.

13 Thou [n]hast been in Ē'dĕn the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou [o]wast created.

14 Thou art the [p]anointed cherub that covereth; and [q]I have set thee so: [r]thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; [s]thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast [t]perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, [u]till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of [v]thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will [w]cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, [x]from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 [y]Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: [z]I will cast thee to the ground, [a]I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled [b]thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the [c]iniquity of thy traffick; therefore [d]will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee [e]to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou [f]shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.

6 Against Zidon (Jer. 47:1-7). (1) Judgment and cause

20 ¶ [g]Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, set thy face against Zī'dŏn, and prophesy against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Zī'dŏn; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Iṣ'ra-el, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round a Some nations had a custom of making part of the head bald in mourning. The idea here is that total baldness would be made, expressing the fact of total mourning and extreme bitterness over the destruction of Tyre (v 31)

6 predictions-fulfilled:

1 Because your heart is lifted up, and you have said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet you are a man, and not God, though you set your heart as the heart of God; therefore, I will bring strangers upon you, the terrible of the nations: and they will draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom (28:2-7)

2 They will defile your brightness (28:7)

3 They will bring you down to the pit (28:8)

4 You will die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas

5 You will be a man and not God in the hands of him that slays you (28:9)

6 You will die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers (28:10)

d According to Josephus, he was Ithobalus II. He had such pride that he even claimed to be God and exalted his heart as the heart of God (v 2, 6, 9), making a suitable picture of the coming Anti-christ who will likewise exalt himself and claim to be God (2 Th. 2:4). Satan ruled the king of Tyre, as proved by the association of Lucifer with him in v 11-19, which see. Satan will also rule through Antichrist (2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:1-8)

e This does not mean that he was wiser than Daniel in reality -only wiser in his own eyes; and he thought that nothing could be hid from him (v 3). He did have wisdom and understanding enough to rule Tyre and oversee the fairs in that city for the purpose of making riches (v 4-5). His heart was lifted up because of his prosperity (v 5), as Lucifer's was lifted up in pride over his beauty and authority as sole ruler of the earth before the days of Adam (v 11-17)

2 No other nation round about Israel will be a grievous thorn in her sides

3 I will gather the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered (28:25)

4 I will be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen

5 They will dwell in their land that I have given My servant Jacob

Time of Lucifer's fall (28:15)

The time of his iniquity was when he rebelled against God to exalt his throne and kingdom from earth to heaven (Isa. 14:12-14, notes). The time of his corruption and sin was surely before the days of Adam, for Lucifer was already a fallen creature at the time he came to Adam's Eden (Gen. 2; 2 Cor. 11:4). See The pre-Adamite world, p. 54

h See The king of Tyre, p. 833

i The earthly king of Tyre was Ithobalus II (note d, v 2). The supernatural king of Tyre was Lucifer, who is mostly referred to in this prophecy (v 11-19), as proved by many statements that could not possibly apply to an earthly man

j 21 references to Lucifer, p. 835

k Heb. tokniyth, pattern. Only here and in 43:10 where it refers to the pattern of the millennial temple (v 12)

l This was and still is true of Lucifer in a special sense which could not be true of any earthly king of Tyre (v 12) m Lucifer was perfect in beauty, which could never be said of any fallen man. It was the cause of his pride and fall (v 17; 1 Tim. 3:6)

n See Pre-Adamite Eden, p. 54, 834

o Lucifer was a created angel (v 13, 15; Col. 1:15-18)

p Only Lucifer or some other angel could be an anointed cherub. No man could be one (v 14)

q God set this cherub over the earth to protect it, overshadow it, and rule it (v 14). He did not set the king of Tyre on his throne, for he merely succeeded his earthly father

r This cherub was upon the holy mountain of God; and this could not be said of any earthly king of Tyre (v 14). The mountain of God was the place where Lucifer had his kingdom and throne before Adam's time (Isa. 14:12-14). This was on earth as proved from the fact that it was even before the fall of this created angel (v 13-17)

s The walking up and down in the midst of the stones of fire was certainly before he sinned and before Adam's time (v 14)

t Being perfect in his ways (the laws God gave him to live by) was before his fall, for he was perfect in them and sinless up to the time of his iniquity or sin (v 15)

u Time of Lucifer's fall. See col. 1

v See Lucifer's slander, p. 833

w See Mountain of God, p. 834

x He, at this time, was cast out of the mountain of God and destroyed from the midst of the stones of fire (v 16)

y This gives the cause of the fall of Satan. His heart was lifted up because of his beauty, the brightness (splendor) or his kingdom, and his authority (v 17; 1 Tim. 3:6)

z Lucifer cast out of heaven, p. 835

a See Lucifer humbled, p. 834

b These sanctuaries were the ones he had in the pre-Adamite world where he and his subjects worshipped God. Here he put forth his greatest efforts to cause his subjects and those of Jehovah to rebel against Him (v 18)

c The iniquity of his traffic was that of slandering God to his subjects and gradually leading them and some of the angels to rebel openly against Him (v 18)

d This fire coming forth will bring Lucifer down to eternal torment (v 18; Mt. 25:41; Rev. 20:10)

e See Brought down like ashes, p. 834

f He was to be a terror to those who would behold him, and he would never be loose on earth again among men, to carry out his evil designs (v 19). Being a terror simply means that men who see him in hell will have a horror of such an end (Isa. 66:22-24; Rev. 11:9-11)

1 I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon (crocodile) that lies in the midst of his waters, which has said, My river is mine, and I have made it myself.
I will put hooks in your jaws (29:3-4)
2 I will cause fish to stick to your scales (29:4)
3 I will bring you up out of the midst of the rivers
4 All the fish of your rivers will stick to your scales
5 I will leave you thrown into the wilderness with all the fish with you
6 You will fall upon the open fields
7 You will not be brought together, nor gathered (29:5)
8 I have given you for meat to the beast of the field and to the fowls of heaven
9 All the inhabitants of Egypt will know that I am Jehovah (29:6, 9, 16)
10 I will bring a sword upon you, and cut off man and beast (29:8)
11 The land of Egypt will be desolate and waste (29:9)
12 I am against you, and your rivers, and will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate, from the tower of Syrene even to the border of Ethiopia (29:10)
13 No foot of man or beast will pass through it for 40 years (29:11)
14 It will not be inhabited for 40 years
15 I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate (29:12)
16 Her cities will be laid waste for 40 years
17 I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries
18 At the end of 40 years I will gather the Egyptians from the people where they are scattered (29:13)
19 I will bring again the captivity of Egypt (29:14)
20 I will cause them to return to the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation
21 They will be there a base kingdom
22 It will remain there the basest of kingdoms (29:15)
23 It will never exalt itself above the nations
24 I will diminish them
25 They will rule no more over the nations
26 It will be no more the confidence of the house of Israel

c This prophecy was given in the 10th year of the captivity (v 1; note c, 8:1), about 6 months before Jerusalem fell

d His name was Pharaoh Hophra; called Apries by the Greeks. He besieged Gaza (Jer. 47:1), attacked Zidon, and encountered the prince of Tyre on the sea. This was the man Zedekiah relied upon for deliverance from Nebuchadnezzar; but he failed to help him e Heb. tannin, sea-serpent, crocodile (note q, Ex. 7:9). The crocodile was the proper symbol of Egypt, as found on coins

f 6 causes for the destruction of Egypt:
1 Because they have been a staff or reed to the house of Israel; that is, because Judah trusted in them instead of Jehovah (v 6, 16)
2 Because of betraying Judah when they did trust in Egypt (v 7)
3 Because Pharaoh said, The river is mine, and I have made it (v 9)
4 To be for a spoil for Nebuchadnezzar, for his service of God in punishing Tyre, Judah and others (v 19-20)
5 Because of pride (30:6; 31:10)
6 Because of idolatry (30:13)

The king of Tyre (28:12):

All that is said of the king of Tyre here must be understood as having a double reference-to the earthly king of Tyre, a man; and to the supernatural king, Satan or Lucifer, who ruled Tyre through the earthly monarch. Both the earthly and supernatural kings are referred to and addressed in this prophecy. State-about them that despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

(2) Restoration of Israel

■25 Thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall have gathered the house of Is'ra-el from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Ja'cob.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that despise them round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

CHAPTER 29 831

7 Against Egypt (29:1-32; 32; Isa. 19:1-20:6; 30:1-7; 31:1-3; Jer. 46). (1) Immediate judgment

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,■

■2 Son of man, set thy face against Phā'raōh king of E'gypt, and prophesy against him, and against all E'gypt:

■3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, [d]Phā'raōh king of E'gypt, the great [e]dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open fields; thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.

(2) Cause of judgment

6 And all the inhabitants of E'gypt shall know that I am the LORD, [f]because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Is'ra-el.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.

■8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of E'gypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

(3) Desolation for forty years

10 Behold, therefore I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I [g]will make the land of E'gypt utterly waste and desolate, from the tower of Sy-ē'ne even unto the border of Ē-thi-ō'pi-ā.

11 No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 And I will make the land of E'gypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be desolate [b]forty years: and I will scatter the E-gyp'tians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

(4) Restoration after forty years: never to be a world power again or the confidence of Israel

■13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord GOD; At the end of forty years will I gather the E-gyp'tians from the people whither they were scattered:

14 And I will bring again the captivity of E'gypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Path'ros, into the land of their habitation; and they shall be there a base kingdom.

15 [c]It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 [d]And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Is'ra-el, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

(5) Egypt to be given to Nebuchadnezzar for his wages

★17 ¶ [e]And it came to pass in the [f]seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'y-lon caused his army to serve a great service against Ty'rus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, for Ty'rus, for the service that he had served against it:

■19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will give the land of E'gypt unto Nĕb-u-chad-rĕz'zar king of Băb'y-lon; and he shall take her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of E'gypt for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

21 [g]In that day [h]will I cause the horn of the house of Is'ra-el to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

a See list of these predictions, note b, v 1 b These 40 years are to be understood literally (v 11-14). They were to be a part of the 70-year period when Israel would be in Babylonian captivity. Nebuchadnezzar did not conquer the Egyptians until a number of years after the fall of Jerusalem; so from the end of the war with them and the time it took to cause the desolations he made in Egypt to the completion of the 70 years of Israel's captivity was about 40 years. The invasion of Egypt of v 17 began about 16 years after the fall of Jerusalem or 27 years after the first captivity of Judah (note c, 8:1). No doubt Cyrus gave the Egyptians permission to return to their own land when he allowed Israel to go back to the promised land (Ezra 1:1-4) c The prediction here is that after the restoration of Egypt as a kingdom it would remain forever as the basest of kingdoms, never to have domination over nations as in times past. In the fulfillment of this it has been under Babylon, Persia, Greece, Rome, and other conquerors; only recently has it gained independence from Britian, Egypt will become only one of 10 kingdoms yet to be formed inside the old Roman Empire territory (Dan. 7:23-24). Syria will conquer Egypt after that and it will then be subject to Antichrist (from Syria) for the last 3 1/2 years of this age. At the 2nd advent it will be a kingdom along with Israel and other nations under the rule of Jesus Christ (Isa. 19:19-23, notes)

d Not only has Egypt become a base kingdom as predicted, but Israel has never again trusted in Egypt, the friendship even turning into bitter enmity

e 49th prophecy in Ezek. (29:17-21, fulfilled). Next, 30:1

8 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (29:19)
2 He will take her multitude
3 He will take her spoil
4 He will take her prey
5 It will be for wages for his army, for he worked for Me (29:19-20)
6 In that day I will cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth (29:21)
7 I will give you the opening of the mouth in the midst of them
8 They will know that I am Jehovah

f The 27th year of the captivity of Judah, about 3 years before the 40 years of v 11-14 began. It no doubt took Nebuchadnezzar at least this long to conquer and ravage all the land of Egypt (v 17)

g In that day-the day of the taking of Egypt, or the beginning of the war on Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar (v 17)

h This is not explained, but it could refer to some special favor being granted a leader of Israel in Babylon, or a favor being shown all the Jews in Babylon. It could not refer to king Jehoiachin being released from prison, which was 10 years later (Jer. 51:31); neither could it refer to some special favor shown Daniel, as far as we know

ments that could refer to the human being must be understood as concerning him; and those that could not be spoken of a man must be recognized as referring to the supernatural being. Then, the passage will be clear. See Law of double reference, p. 42, col. 4

Lucifer's slander (28:16)

Heb. rekullah, traffic. It refers to Lucifer's walking up and down slandering God to his own subjects on earth, and to God's subjects among the angels, until he had all his earthly subjects rebelling against the Creator, as well as over one-third of the angels (Isa. 14:12-14; 2 Pet. 3:4-6; Rev. 12:4). Whatever it was, it is clear here that the behaviour resulted in violence; and Lucifer sinned and broke with God. This could not refer to an earthly king, as the ruler of Tyre, carrying on ordinary trade with the nations. It definitely concerns the traffic of a cherub, not a man. All the trade between nations in the entire world could not cause an angel to sin, as here (v 16) a 50th prophecy in Ezek. (30:1-19. V 1-9 unfulfilled; v 10-19 fulfilled). Next, v 20

28 predictions-fulfilled:

1 I will make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (30:10)
2 He and his people with him will be brought to destroy the land (30:11)
3 They will draw their swords against Egypt and fill the land with the slain
4 I will make the rivers dry (30:12)
5 I will sell the land into the hand of the wicked
6 I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers
7 I will destroy the idols (30:13)
8 I will cause their images to cease out of Noph
9 There will be no more a prince of the land of Egypt
10 I will put fear in the land of Egypt
11 I will make Pathros desolate (30:14)
12 I will set fire to Zoan
13 I will execute judgments in No
14 I will pour My fury upon Sin (30:15)
15 I will cut off the multitude of No
16 I will set fire to Egypt (30:16)
17 Sin will have great pain
18 No will be rent asunder
19 Noph will have distresses daily
20 The young men of Aven and Pi-beseth will fall by the sword (30:17)
21 The cities will go into captivity
22 At Tehaphnehes the day will be darkened (30:18)
23 I will break the yokes of Egypt
24 The pomp of her strength will cease
25 A cloud will cover her
26 Her daughters will go into captivity
27 I will execute judgments in Egypt (30:19)
28 They will know that I am Jehovah

20 predictions-unfulfilled:

1 How! you, Woe worth the day! For the day of the Lord is near (30:2-3)
2 It will be a cloudy day (30:3)
3 It will be the time of the heathen
4 The sword will come upon Egypt
5 Great pain will be in Ethiopia
6 The slain will fall in Egypt (30:4)
7 They will take away the multitude
8 Her foundations will be broken
9 Ethiopia, Libya, Lydia, all the mingled people, Chub, and the men of the land that is in league with them will fall by the sword (30:5)
10 They that uphold Egypt will fall (30:6) down
11 The pride of her power will come
12 From the tower of Syrene they will fall by the sword
13 They will be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate (30:7)
14 Her cities along with others will be wasted
15 I will set a fire in Egypt (30:8)
16 Her helpers will be destroyed
17 In that day (the day of the Lord of v 3) messengers will go forth from Me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid (30:9)
18 Great pain will come upon them, as in the day of Egypt
19 They will know that I am Jehovah
20 It will come

b The day of the Lord will begin at the 2nd advent of Christ and continue through the Millennium. See Day in Index

c Egypt will be overthrown by the Antichrist during the conquest of the 10 kingdoms inside the old Roman Empire territory, in the first 3 1/2 years of Daniel's 70th week; and it will be under him the last 3 1/2 years of that 7-year period (Dan. 7:23-24; 8:23; 11:40-45)

d Ethiopia and the Libyans will be at the footsteps of the Antichrist (Dan. 11:40-45), as well as the other countries listed here (v 4-5)

Pre-Adamite Eden (28:13)

No earthly king of Tyre was ever in Eden, as was this angel, nor does this Eden refer to Adam's Eden, although Lucifer was in it also (Gen. 3; 2 Cor. 11:3). The Eden here was a garden in the earth when he ruled in perfection and sinlessness-before he fell (v 13)

(6) In the day of the Lord (Isa. 2:10, refs.; 19:16)

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Howl ye, Woe worth the day!
